Fine Exhibit for Tots At Public Library

Direct from the land of Santa Claus with its ice, frost and snow, countless numbers of books, good for boys and girls to read, toys without number, and furniture to adorn the playroom as well as pictures of particular interest for children; but which even grown ups may take pleasure in studying, arrived in due time and have been arranged in the most interesting manner at the library clubrooms where they will be on display throughout the week—nationally observed as Children's Book Week.

Abounding with books for boys and girls of all ages, together with an airplane that flies, engine and string of varnished cars, jointed dolls, dolly's cedar chest, her complete outfit for the laundry, her tea table, building blocks, punching bags, boxing gloves, book racks, desk and countless other appurtenances for the entertainment and development of children, the clubrooms put one in mind of a fairy scene from the land of myths and this together with the atmosphere which bespeaks a treasure field for the best American literature holds for growing boys and girls.

Aside from these there is an assortment of posters designed particularly for this exhibit, each carrying its individual message and the whole conveying in condensed and very comprehensive form, very well worth while lessons for those interested in children, whether parents, friends or educators.

Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, Miss Mary Lucas, children's librarian, will give a talk on "Children's Reading." A talk of this nature will be repeated on the succeeding days of the exhibit.

The exhibit will open each morning at 9 a'clock and will continue through the day, to 9 p. m., excepting during the dinner hour, from 6 to 7 o'clock. It is the ambition of those in charge that every parent, every friend of the children, every teacher of small children, and every child in the city, will avail themselves of this excellent offering, designed to stimulate an interest for the best things for children that the nation may be happier, as a result of the future generation being educated to such reading as will produce a higher grade of intelligence and better morals.

Rural Women Help In Food Conservation

The following report on the food preservation in St. Louis county has been submitted by Mrs. Henry Pearson of Kelsey through Miss Mary Stilwell, county agent.

During the last season ninety-seven home demonstrations in canning took place, 103 women were taught methods of canning by rural leaders, and there were seventy-two regular rural classes, which were held in Alborn, Cook, Orr, Meadowlands and Floodwood.

Questionnaires regarding the amount of canning done were sent out to such women as had been registered for such work during the last three years. Only 20 per cent of them were returned, but from these it was estimated that 3,863 quarts of vegetables, 8,709 quarts of fruit besides a considerable amount of meat, fish and pickles were put up, making a total of 21,105 quarts, with a value, based on current prices, of $13,507.

Due to the fact that some of the canned foods included the wild berries, various kinds of wild greens and other home-grown articles there was a saving of about 50 per cent or $6,768. And according to the statement of the county agent that amount would more than cover the expense of the women who are hired by the county to teach the women in rural districts how to can properly.

Double-Barred Cross Copyrighted

The scarlet double-barred cross, for eighteen years the international emblem of the fight against tuberculosis, has been copyrighted and hereafter may be used in Minnesota only by the Minnesota Public Health association and affiliated health organizations in every county which are combatting the deadly white plague.

This cross, known the world over as the Cross of Victory in the fight against tuberculosis, is the official emblem of the National Tuberculosis association and 1,100 affiliated health agencies. Authorization for its use has been granted the Minnesota public health organiations.

"The double-barred cross stands for the control and elimination of tuberculosis," says a statement from Dr. C. J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis association. "In this sign, with organized community effort, tuberculosis will become practically unknown, instead of one of the most dreadful disease scourges of the ages as it is today."

The fight against the white plague and other preventable diseases in Minnesota is financed by the sale of Christmas seals and health bonds, which this year will be offered to the public in every community on Dec. 1.

Women Will Boost Sheppard-Towner Bill

Representatives of the leading organizations of women in this country will meet in Washington, Monday, Nov. 22, to confer on ways and means of having congress consider the Sheppard-Towner bill when it convenes in December. The bill affords protection for maternity and infancy.

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, chairman of the National League of Woman Voters, has called the committee of women together. It is representative of all of the big welfare organizations of women. Mrs. Park declares that if congress will consider the bill immediately after it goes in session, a sufficient number of votes can be mustered to insure its passage.

Members of the committee from the following organizations are: General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Edward Franklin White, Indianapolis; National Council of Women, Mrs. Philip North Moore, Washington, D. C.; National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' association, Mrs. Arthus C. Watkins, Washington, D. C.; Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Mrs. Raymond Morgan, Washington, D. C.; National Women's Christian Temperance union, Mrs. Ella A. Yost, West Virginia.

Other well known women who will attend the Washington meeting are Mrs. George Minor of Connecticut, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Florence Kelley of New York, representing the National Consumers' league.

Duluth Cellist Is To Play at Cloquet

Cloquet, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Women's Friday club will be held on the evening of Nov. 19, at the residence of Mrs. H. C. Hornby. A musicale will be given by Miss Ustnen of Minneapolis, vocalist, and Miss Wagner of Duluth, cellist.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK BEGINS: ENDS SATURDAY

Interest of Parents and Teachers Urged, for Development of Child's Taste for Reading and, Perhaps, Character May Be at Stake.

"There was a child went forth every day;
And the first object he look'd upon, that object he became;
And that object became part of him for the day, or a certain part of the day, or for many years, or stretching cycles of years."—Walt Whitman.

During the years of childhood, decisions and rules made by grown people surround a child pretty carefully. Certain kinds of food are best for him—they have been tested and proved best; certain studies are necessary; in well ordered households, fixed bedtimes and rising hours for the children are invariable. A certain code of manners for children has been worked out by fathers and mothers. This must be observed, for the sake of peace—if not for the sake of the future and society.

In fact, children have little chance for the exercise of individual choice except in their games and play, which are to them the most vital part of life. Games are indeed often taught by older people, or "led" by directors, but those that are most fun are really discoveries of the children themselves. Sliding down haystacks (a farmer usually stops this irately because of the destruction); playing hide-and-seek in a cornfield, where you almost get lost; if you are a city child, "catching" rides on sleighs, sometimes "hitching" with your sled and a rope, sometimes jumping on, both full of danger; skating on rubber ice under the bridge where the ice is thin. No grown-up could have watched your recklessness without at least flinging out a rope to save you from drowning.

But you didn't drown. You were pretty close to the edge, but children have an unaccountable sense of the line between the fun of a little danger and destruction. With plenty of out-of-doors, and a few restrictions in regard to playmates, most children can be trusted to discover the best fun for themselves.

Book Restrictions.

And so with reading. Books have unlimited possibilities as children's friends and as recreation. Children lucky enough to have many books around them, to hear stories, folklore, poetry, history, read aloud, grow up with this literature a part of them. Many children miss this experience either because they have not enough books, or because their reading is too closely limited by parents or teachers, and they do not have a chance to exercise their own choice, to develop and follow tastes of their own.

A mother may tire of reading "The Elephant's Child" over and over, to a 5-year-old boy, every evening for a months, but if she is wise she will sacrifice her impatience to the child's delight, realizing that he is sure to know when he has had enough of it, and that by that time appreciation of the fun, the exaggeration, the play of words, and caricature of youthful egotism in the story will have been absorbed by the listener. His sense of humor, his penetration of human psychology will be keener, though it will be many years before he calls his love of "The Elephant's Child" by any analytical terms. At 8 years old perhaps the "Swiss Family Robinson" for a few weeks completely obliterates all the myths, history stories, fairy tales, and poetry that are usually delightful. And this book may prove pretty tiresome to the parent who is reading aloud. But when its joy has been exhausted temporarily, another book of adventure is demanded, and parents must know what to suggest.

Child's Own Initiative.

When a boy starts to read to himself, he often will read nothing but modern "boy's stories." They are easier, less complex, perhaps, than books of biography or history. He'd rather you'd read aloud to him, from Sir Henry Newbolt perhaps, or some other author whose books you like too. You can't understand his interest in the stories that are to you, trivial. He tells you he likes them because all five books in the series are about "Jim and Dick," the twins, and he feels as if they were real boys.

But you are relieved at his zest for Palmer's Translation of the Odyssey. He makes you re-read many times the sentence "As the early rosy-fingered dawn appeared. * * * the men took places at the pins, and sitting in order smote the foaming water with their oars." He likes the sound of it. And you realize that he knows Odysseus and Penelope and Telemachus; they thrill him for more than "Jim and Dick." He knows them well because of the myths you read him when he was 7 and 8 and 9 years old.

In school, allusions to characters of myth and history have always been familiar to him; the stories are part of him. He has lived with them through all his boyhood. And he will go on into adult life with a feeling for good books, a sense that they belong to him.

Development of Taste.

A big responsibility this—that fathers and mothers and aunts and uncles and big brothers and sisters shall not only give children a chance to love books, but also surround them with a generous supply of a variety of books, so that the children may develop taste of their own.

Children's book week, held annually in November, is an opportunity to pay special attention to children's reading, especially to the books of the children around us. The bookstores are having special displays of the new books written for children, as well as beautiful editions of the older books, loved by children for generations.

The public libraries are holding exhibits of books recommended for gifts, and the children's librarians are offering their advice to all who would know more about books for children. The women's clubs are taking up the subject of children's reading at their November meetings, in many cases having discussions of the books children love.

Children's book week, Nov. 15 to 20, is, in short, an opportunity for grown-ups to understand better the books children like, and for grown-ups and children to understand each other better, through books.

Side Talks

THE ATTIC CURE.

I heard a good definition of an attic the other day—

"A place where we put the things we once felt we shouldn't be happy if we didn't have—after we get tired of them."

I felt the force of that definition last week when I helped clean out the attic of the house in which my childhood was spent.

Of course, there were a good many pieces of decrepit furniture retired to that home of old furniture to spend their declining years; there were trunks full of old letters, chests of old clothing and besides these there were a great many of "the things we thought we shouldn't be happy if we didn't have" thrust up there after we got tired of them—and completely forgotten until I hauled them forth and remembered what a bother I had made about possessing them once upon a time.

How I Did Want It!

An excellent example of the sort of thing I mean was The Nubian Girl's Head. Do you know that piece of art? It raged at about the time of the poster craze. It was the head of a negress done in red and brown pottery and intended to hang on the wall of a den. One of my girl friends had converted her dainty pink and white bedroom into a den with a couch, an art couch cover, posters on the wall, a hanging lamp of brass and colored glass and this Nubian head as the final touch of art.

I longed to do likewise and had encompassed the couch and the posters, but lacked the fine touches of the lamp and The Nubian Girl's Head. I never got the lamp, but the Nubian girl was put on my Christmas list and, to my unspeakable joy, arrived on Christmas morning after I had suffered the pangs of being without it some six months. I really approached about as near to perfect satisfaction as we mortals ever get when I hung that over my couch.

And The Nubian Girl's Head has now been in the attic I will not say how many years!

I Wonder If It Will End in Her Attic?

I gave it to the woman who helped me clean out the attic and she lugged it home in great triumph, along with a clothes basket full of other things, many of which I had once felt I could not be happy without possessing.

The desire for possession is one of the three or four most deeply implanted instincts in the heart of man. It ranks in its primitiveness next to the instinct of self-preservation and the instinct of reproduction. Presumably, then, it has some good reason for being. Indeed, I suppose the big structure of material civilization is built upon it. But like all instincts, it needs to be controlled and curbed. And could a better curb be put upon it than an occasional survey of some of these things we once thought we could not have happiness without!

Buy It If You Have a Right To.

We all know how the desire to possess some article of clothing, some piece of bric-a-brac, some piece of furniture, will seize upon us with an almost unendurable poignancy. We can't see how we can possibly get along without it. If it is right for one to have the thing—economically right, I mean—one might as well go ahead and get it. Even if it does end in the attic, one will have had one's moments of satisfaction out of it. But if it is economically wrong, try the attic cure. Maybe it won't help and then again maybe it will.

THE CARRIED SCHOOL LUNCH.

"Why don't you write upon the subject of the child's carried school lunch?" writes a reader of this column. "My children can generally get home for lunch, but when it is stormy I let them take their lunch to school. I believe such an article would be helpful to many women."

Another need! I rejoice every time a reader-friend makes a suggetsion of this sort. For I am running this column to help the readers of this paper and, naturally, I want to be of as much help as possible and want to write about the things that my readers wish to have dealt with.

It is a good plan for mother who must pack a school lunch basket, to have one drawer in the pantry or kitchen devoted to such supplies as paper napkins, paper plates, string, small food containers and waxed paper. A list of foods suitable for the child's carried lunch should hang nearby. I would suggest that the two following lists be cut out and pinned up:

Lunch Foods for Children Under 10.

Sandwiches: (The bread should never be fresh for young children). Hard-boiled egg filling finely minced; peanut butter filling softened with a little milk; dried fruit-paste filling; jelly or jam filling.

Fruit: An apple, an orange, stewed prunes in a small container with a cover, apple sauce also covered over, a pear, dates, a baked apple.

Beverage: Milk, fruit juices.

Lunch Foods for Children Over 10.

Foods in Containers: Baked beans, macaroni and cheese, rice and cheese, stuffed tomato salad, stuffed potato, baked corn, stuffed eggs.

Desserts: Layer cake, spice cakes, nut cookies, gingerbread, raisin pie, custard pie, steamed raisin pudding, as well as the simpler desserts mentioned in the list for a child under 10. A few squares of chocolate may also be included in this list (as sweet chocolate is concentrated protein, it is not good for very young children), and also an occasional handful of nuts.

Fruit: A banana, a peach, plums, as well as the fruits mentioned in the list for younger children.

Beverages: Cold cocoa, milk, fruit juices.

As will be seen, the list for children over 10 has one more section than that for children under 10—"Foods in Containers." This is because of the law of Nature that the nearer we are on the road to maturity, the more variety we can enjoy in regard to what we eat. The stomach of the very young child is not only more delicate than that of older children, but has not yet the gastric juices necessary to digest certain foods.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

TINKER BOB OFF FOR THE CAVE.

TINKER BOB went about trying to explain to Major and Lady Duck what it meant when a pack of wolves journeyed together through the forest. It was not easy for for them to understand because they did not know how Mr. Wolf and his friends work. Lady Duck said: "I know Mr. Wolf was telling me the truth when he said he wanted to see you, Oh King, in his cave."

"Indeed," said Tinker, "I knew that he wanted me to come to his cave, but you you don't understand why he wants me to come."

"Oh yes," said Lady Duck, "I know why he wants you to go to his cave, he told me when I asked him in the forest at midnight. He wants you to help him get his mate back again so he can be happy, that's all."

"I see," said the king, "you know very little about it. I know he wants to get his mate back, but he wants more than that, he wants to kill the king if he gets a chance, so that no one in the forest will know anything about it. You see he doesn't even think that I will go to his cave, and that is just the reason why he is getting his pack together; but we will watch him all the time from now on."

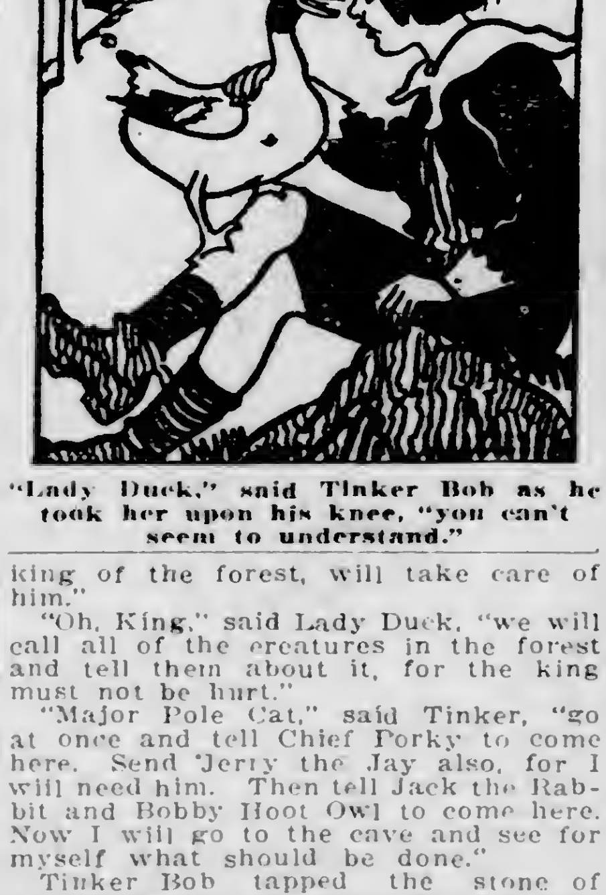
"You will be one of my messengers to see the movements of this forest terror. You will find where he has placed his workers and what they are going to do, then come and tell me at once."

Lady Duck could not understand how it was that this fellow was so much afraid of her and yet Tinker Bob thought he was planning to do him harm. "Oh King," said she, "why do you think that Mr. Wolf is such a vicious fellow? I thought he was a very timid creature."

"Lady Duck," said Tinker Bob as he took her upon his knee, "You can't seem to understand. This forest terror knows that when I am out of the way he can kill all of the forest creatures he wants to eat; but he is afraid all the time, for fear that I will catch him in some of his tricks and punish him. He is the most dangerous fellow in all the woodland. But Tinker Bob, king of the forest, will take care of him."



"Lady Duck," said Tinker Bob as he took her upon his knee, "you can't seem to understand."

"Oh, King," said Lady Duck, "we will call all of the creatures in the forest and tell them about it, for the king must not be hurt."

"Major Pole Cat," said Tinker, "go at once and tell Chief Porky to come here. Send Jerry the Jay also, for I will need him. Then tell Jack the Rabbit and Bobby Hoot Owl to come here. Now I will go to the cave and see for myself what should be done."

Tinker Bob tapped the stone of knowledge and the beautiful creature of his desire took him away quickly. Tomorrow he will tell us what he saw in the cave of Mr. Wolf.

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman in "The Actor's Wife," novelty playlet; other acts.

By JAMES WATTS.

ORPHEUM—Speaking about an actor's wife might conjure up a lot of things that would make interesting news for readers of Town Topics. But Emily Ann Wellman, playwright, actress and intellectual phenomenon, has ideas of her own regarding this beclouded personality. These she sets forth appropriately in "The Actor's Wife," described as a dramatic storm in ten flashes. Miss Wellman is the playwright, the leading woman, the director, and also the magnet around which radiates a constellation of lesser, yet brilliant stars.

As the exponent of the flash drama, Miss Wellman is in a class by herself and offers something novel and fascinating. The idea back of the whole thing went over the heads of a large number just as some of the new jokes go over less effectively than the old, but to the larger number, Miss Wellman's act is a brilliant dramatic effort as refreshing as a shower after a drouth. In attempting something different, Miss Wellman has not forgotten her characters. They are real human beings, and are given proper and natural settings. If you can forget for a moment the brilliant playwright you will see much to be admired in the work of Richard Gordon, the leading man; in Beth Elliot, the vamp, Nell Paul, the ingenue; Charles Stanton, the electrician, Ben La Mar, the carpenter; Joe Kelly, the stage manager.

The other big hit on the bill is Dave Harris, a master of syncopation, and an artist of varied talents. He seems equally proficient at the piano, with the traps, banjo and other instruments. The hit of his act was the singing of "Margie" in duet with a stunning young woman who sat in one of the boxes upstairs.

"Mrs. Wellington's Surprise," a comedy playlet, has the eternal triangle as its theme, but the setting is somewhat different and decidedly interesting and spicy. Jean Barrett as the maid scored a big comedy success in a character role along original lines. Pearl Hight is the sprightly young wife, Frederic Sumner, the husband, and Granville Bates, the third corner of the triangle.

Lillian Price is a saucy juvenile with a clever line of chatter and a gift for character singing, who joins with Bud Bernie in a diverting turn entitled "Tunes and Laugh Fashions for 1920." Ralph Bevan and Beatrice Flint are funmakers of the nut variety; Challen and Keke offer thrills on the tight wire, and Lillian's Comedy Pets open the bill.

The films and the concert orchestra are other interesting features.

NEW GRAND—In the old myths we read of Venus rising from the sea, but the modern Venus, now at the New Grand, rises from a fountain, and she is called The Dream Girl. It's just a fantastic novelty, which forms the central idea for a musical playlet in which five young men and a young woman make merry and sing cheerily. This clever little vehicle introduces Miss Anna Saunders, a saucy maid of the ingenue type; Freddie Walker, Harry Wagner, Hugo Delman and Ted Levy. The playlet is full of lively, tuneful music, wholesome comedy and has an attractive setting.

The large audiences of Sunday were more than pleased with the show as a whole and it averages up a little better than the usual run.

The favorite of the bill is Alf Grant, a fellow who sings, talks and has a good time with his audience. He has no make-up and his method of delivery is original, making his act somewhat different from that of the general run of monologists.

Charles Darby and Hazel Brown have a lively time in banter and cross-fire comedy that is diverting. Their jokes register and are not the least bit stagy.

Lou and Grace Harvey have something that all vaudeville followers en-

NEW GARRICK—It's a happy time New Garrick patrons are having the first half of the week with Tom Moore in the Cohan and Harris' farce comedy success, "Officer 666," as the feature and an especially interesting issue of the Garrick World Events, and a Screen Snapshots packed full of scenes which hold the attention, as well as other attractions. "Officer 666" is all about a millionaire, who on his return from Europe finds his apartment occupied by a girl who says she is going to marry the owner and then move all his belongings to some other place. A crook is impersonating him, and in his playing a game to catch this crook without mixing the girl up in the affair, he discovers she is innocently engaged, and loses his heart to her. Then the chase begins in the course of which he raises a gale of laughter in this screen interpretation of one of the funniest shows that ever made a hit on Broadway. The Garrick World Events, among other things, pictures of the Armistice day celebration in Minneapolis last week, also of the Harvard-Princeton football game and the arrival of Gen. Nivelle from France. Mary Miles Minter in "Eyes of the Heart" is to be the attraction starting Thursday.

NEW LYRIC—If any picture ever proved the right of Dorothy Phillips to be called "The Bernhardt of the Screen," surely it is "Once to Every Woman," the Allen Holubar success in which she will be seen today and tomorrow for the last times at the New Lyric. It is truly a human document which will appeal to the most hardened and send their thoughts scurrying back to the old home. The story is of a selfish daughter who lets all the household sacrifice for her to gain her ambition of becoming a great singer, and then forgets them until through a thrilling incident she loses her voice, and is deserted by all, with no alternative except to go home. There she finds what true happiness is, but not until called upon to herself make the gretest sacrifice of all. The picture is a "big" production in every sense. "Pipe the Penguin," a wonderful Outing-Chester, showing the famous penguin island just below South America, is an added attraction. The Lyric News Events among other things shows the Minneapolis Elks parading for their sixth annual minstrel show for the benefit of cripple children, and also the Harvard-Princeton football game.

ZELDA—One more day of "Drag Harlan," the William Farnum Western photodrama produced by William Fox. The engagement of that picture at Zelda theater will close tomorrow night. Rarely has a photodrama received such unqualified approval of critics and audiences as has this virile romance. "Drag Harlan" is peculiarly fascinating, depicting as its chief character a supposed outlaw, whose very name struck terror to the hearts of men, women and children alike. His gun hand was so speedy that it was said that "Drag" was putting his guns away before the other fellow got started. Jackie Saunders, leading woman, plays opposite the star.

STRAND—The Strand theater scored another success with the opening yesterday of a four-days' engagement of William Gillette's famous stage success, "Held by the Enemy." As a stage play this production has delighted audiences through three generations. Patrons of the Strand will be lifted out of their environment through this fine old play of the South, which is ever young. It tells a tale of a romance between a Yankee officer and a Southern girl, and attending this sentiment is an assortment of highly colorful situations which carry the utmost in appeal. An all-star cast with Jack Holt, Wanda Hawley, Agnes Ayres and Lewis Stone interprets it.

DULUTH BOY VIOLINIST SCORES AT SUNDAY CONCERT

Patrons of the Sunday symphony concerts at the New Garrick can always depend upon Conductor Charles Helmer to introduce something new and out of the ordinary. Yesterday afternoon the audience was given a surprise when Morris Kohn, boy violinist of Duluth, appeared as soloist. His work gave pleasure as well as surprise, for he can perform wonders with his violin.

His rendering of the difficult "Hejre Kati" by Hubay was done with the skill and confidence of a master. The applause was loud and sustained when he had finished, and he played as an encore the meditation from "Thais."

The other numbers on the program were varied and pleasing, and Mr. Helmer obtained some fine effects from contrasts. For instance, the prelude in "C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff was rendered just before "The Russian Rag," a popular number.

One of the most pleasing numbers was the overture "Zampa" by Herold. This selection paved the way nicely for the varied numbers that followed. Life and zest were injected into the program when the orchestra played popular airs from "Buddies," a current musical comedy.

Soft and beautiful effects were secured in the rendering of "Woodland Whispers" by Czibulka while "The Evolution of Yankee Doodle" showed the different airs that make up this famous patriotic number.

Probably no other program given by the symphony orchestra has created more favorable comment or given more real enjoyment to Garrick-goers.

CLEVELAND STREET CAR FARE BOOSTED

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 15.—A 6-cent street car fare or nine tickets for 50 cents and 1 cent charge for a transfer, the maximum allowed by the Taylor grant, under which the Cleveland street car system is operated, went into effect here yesterday. It is the highest rate paid on the Cleveland street cars in many years. Under the terms of the Taylor grant, the fare automatically goes up when the interest fund of the Cleveland Railway company drops below $300,000. When the interest fund goes above $300,000 the fare automatically drops again.

BODY ARRIVES FROM FRANCE; BURIED HERE

RAULIN CLARK.

The body of Raulin H. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark, 5809 Cody street, who died overseas while serving as a member of the A. E. F., arrived in Duluth late Saturday. He was taken sick with pneumonia almost on the day his unit was to embark for home and died at a hospital in Bordeaux, France, Jan. 21, 1919. The young man was graduated from Denfeld high school in 1916, enlisted in the medical corps in 1918 and was attached to the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth field artillery, of which his brother, Fred, was also a member. The two boys were separated by the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth's leaving for home and Fred was received by his family, who fully expected that the two boys would get home together. A short time afterwards they received word from the war department of Raulin's death.

The funeral services were held from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock and from Westminster Presbyterian church at 2:30. The services were conducted by Rev. W. L. Staub and were under the auspices of David Wisted post, American Legion. Interment was in Oneota. He is survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. D. E. MacFarland, Myrtle and Edna, all of Duluth, and two brothers, Fred and Vernon, also of Duluth.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

House Warming at "Y."

The residents of Fond du Lac will be guests of honor at a house warming at the Gary-New Duluth Y. M. C. A., 1107 Commonwealth avenue. This will be a party for the whole family and the committee is very anxious for the people of the vicinity to make it such. They want father, mother, brother and sister all out for this affair. There will be entertainment for all. This is the first of a series of parties that the "Y" will give for the residents of the various sections of that part of the city during the winter.

First Coasting Accident.

Andrew Gust, Gary, is the first victim of coasting this year, according to the police records. He was hurt yesterday afternoon when, in coasting across Thirteenth street in Gary, he collided with a car being driven by J. J. Atol, 319 West Third street. Gust was taken to a physician who said that his injuries were not serious.

U.S. SUPREME COURT TO PASS ON STATE LAW

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 15.—The question of the constitutionality of chapter 463 of the laws of 1917, known as the state sedition law, under which Joseph Gilbert, former Nonpartisan league organizer, was convicted in 1918 on a charge of discouraging enlistments, was taken under advisement by the United States supreme court on Thursday, Nov. 11, according to James E. Markham, assistant attorney general, who returned today from Washington.

Gilbert was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve a term in prison. He appealed to the Minnesota supreme court and the conviction was affirmed in December, 1918. it was taken to the United States supreme court on a writ of error, which charges that the Minnesota espionage law violates the provisions of the Federal Constitution, guaranteeing freedom of speech.

CLOQUET'S WINTER OUTLOOK PROMISING

Cloquet, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The industrial outlook for Cloquet this winter is very favorable right now. The Johnson-Wentworth mill will operate night and day, a crew will be engaged in overhauling the Cloquet Lumber company steam mill, another will be busy removing machinery from the "water power" mill, a full crew is slated for a busy winter's work on the building of the new Northern Lumber company mill. The steady operation at the box factory and paper mill and the additional work on the log landings and the railroad, in getting the logs down from the camps, make it appear that every man in the city will be able to have remunerative employment throughout the winter.

Camps Being Operated.

The companies have four large railroad camps opened on the Duluth & Northeastern and also one birch camp. The birch in the cuttings of the regular camps will also be logged and this will make an ample supply of this timber for the Berst Manufacturing company. These logs are expected to start coming in next week also, and the Berst factory will then start up for the winter. At first work will be confined to butter dishes and physicians' supplies, but as soon as machinery is installed and some alterations made, the factory will also be turning out clothespins and toothpicks.

Held on Liquor Charges.

When Officers Nystrom and Bailey saw a seedy looking individual stagger cheerily out of a house at 266 First avenue south about 7 o'clock last evening, they became suspicious. The result was they arrested Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lahti on a charge of selling moonshine. At the station, both put up $100 bail and promised to appear this morning. Mr. Lahti alone was present, however, his spouse having forfeited her bail. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for this afternoon.

A paralytic stroke suffered while testifying in the liquor conspiracy case in Federal court proved fatal to Charles Harlan, Minneapolis taxi driver, who died Saturday night at St. Mary's hospital. He had been only partially conscious ever since he was stricken a week before. His widow arrived here shortly before Harlan died. The body was shipped to Minneapolis for burial.

Exhibits at Fair in Iowa.

E. P. Gibson county agricultural agent, left today for Council Bluffs, Iowa, where he will have charge of the Northern Minnesota exhibits at the Middlewest Horticultural exposition. St. Louis county will have fifteen individual exhibits of potatoes, one of rutabagas, one of parsnips and two of carrots, Itasca county will have two potato exhibits, Lake county two potato exhibits and Koochiching county one exhibit. Last year St. Louis county exhibitors took several of the larger prizes at this show.

Increases Capital.

The capital stock of the Phelps-Drake company of Hibbing has been increased from $50,000 to $100,000, according to amended articles of incorporation filed Saturday afternoon with the register of deeds.

Plans for School Addition.

Plans are now being prepared by Croft & Boerner, Duluth school architects, for a two-room portable addition to the Stowe school at New Duluth and for alterations at the Central high school building. At the latter school one of the wash rooms will be enlarged and an additional room put in.

Mrs. W. R. Philbin Dead.

Mrs. Edna Mary Wright Philbin, aged 39, wife of William R. Philbin, Greysolon apartments, died at a local hospital this morning after an illness of four weeks of tubercular meningitis. She was a resident of Duluth for twelve years. Surviving her, besides her husband, are her mother, Mrs. Helen Wright of Chicago, who was present when the end came; a sister, Mrs. Thomas R. Philbin of Chicago, and a brother, Wilbur H. Wright of Forest Park, Ill. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the First Unitarian church, Eighteenth avenue east and First street, and interment will be in Forest Hill cemetery.

Injured by Auto.

Theodore Kamphaus, 703 West Fourth street, was struck by an automobile driven by John Murphy, 331 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, last night at Seventh avenue west and Superior street. Mr. Murphy immediately took the man to St. Mary's hospital where attendants today said that it is believed he is suffering from a fractured shoulder. Mr. Kamphaus is an elevator operator in the Sherman building.

John Nickles, aged 23, died Saturday night at Nopeming sanatorium. His home was at 1531 West Superior street. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Rivers and Harbors Meeting.

A call has been sent out for the sixteenth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress, which is to be held at Washington Dec. 8, 9 and 10. Several delegates from the Duluth Commercial club will attend the convention, it was announced today, although the list has not been given out. One of the most prominent questions that will be taken up by the congress at this convention will be the need of the country for a greater increase in transportation facilities. This will include a discussion of the Great Lakes-Tidewater project and it is expected that some concrete results will be obtained as a result of this discussion.

Lodge to Install Officers.

Officers of Zenith City lodge, No. 1015, Mystic Workers of the World, who were elected last week, will be installed at the first meeting of the lodge in January, according to Rose E. Bayer, secretary. The new officers are: William H. Perry; prefect; Katherine Moritz, monitor; Rose E. Bayer, secretary; Vera Logan, treasurer; Lillian Sandberg, marshal; Hannah Grattan, warder; Florence Miller, sentinel; supervisors, Archie Dennis, Lucille McInnis, Hannah Grattan.

Recount Begins Tuesday.

Attorneys and inspectors will start tomorrow at the city hall to recount the ballots cast for commissioner of the Third district. The recount was requested by Earl W. Griffin, who, according to the final count, received 3,128 votes or fifty-five less than Walter Swanstrom. The attorney for Griffin is J. B. Richards and C. E. Adams will act in the interests of Walter Swanstrom. The inspectors are Paul Quigley, W. M. Gravatt and Edward Slocum. It is expected that the recount will have been completed by Wednesday night.

Welfare Workers to Enlarge Plan.

Committees were appointed to make a special study of conditions and submit plans for the proposed removal of the Girls' Industrial home to the outskirts of the city at a meeting of the committee on correctional institutions of the Woman's Council assembled in a special meeting called this morning at the Commercial club.

The downward revision of prices will go on right along—watch our daily advertisements to keep posted on our doings.

The reason that the Columbia's business is running ahead all the time is that more people realize that low price is not the only characteristic of good merchandise, that quality must be there as well.

To purchase high class merchandise of prime quality and sell it at what is called "popular prices" has been an impossibility during the last few seasons. We have steadfastly refused to buy poor stuff in order to be able to flash cheap-looking prices in your face.

Many people who bought at cheap sales have found out to their sorrow that they often paid too much even if they paid little.

You can buy many of our quality wearables at lower prices now and quality wearables is what you should buy—the things that cost least per month or season of satisfactory wear.

DULUTH ACTRESS GETS DIVORCE SECOND TIME

Mrs. Minnie Adams Gives Husband Two Chances and He Fails.

Twice has Mrs. Minnie Adams, aged 30, movie actress of Long Beach, Cal., who was formerly Miss Minnie Ingersoll of this city, embarked on a matrimonial venture with James Adams, aged 31, actor, and twice has the experiment been a failure.

In district court here today she procured her second divorce from "Jimmy." She obtained the first divorce six years ago.

Although both Mrs. Adams and her husband are now in the motion picture business in California, she maintained her legal residence in Duluth and came here to get her divorce. She is a niece of Mrs. Jennie Elsey of this city and has made Duluth her home since she was a small girl.

She first met Adams ten years ago when she was traveling with a road show. Their first marriage took place on Sept. 14, 1910, but four years later, in December 1914, she procured a divorce from him at Waukesha, Wis., on the grounds of cruelty.

On Feb. 14, 1916, at Butte, Mont., they were remarried following a reconciliation. Mrs. Adams claims that she consented to remarry him on his promise to treat her differently. She testified in the second divorce case that he broke all of these promises and that he abused her and that while they were living at Los Angeles he drove her out.

BREAD DUE FOR ANOTHER DECLINE

The wholesale price of bread in Duluth, which was only recently shaved from 14½ cents to 13 cents, is due for another drop of a cent or so about the first of the year, according to a statement given out this noon by Harry Zinsmaster of the Zinsmaster Bread company.

The wholesalers are now getting 13 cents for a loaf that weighs between 21 and 22 ounces and 9 cents for a pound loaf. Some of the retailers are getting 16 cents for a pound and a half loaf, while others are charging 17 and some 18 cents. The universal price throughout the city is 18 cents.

Some of the retailer manufacturers are promising a lower cost to the consumers just as soon as they have used up some of the high priced flour which they are using at this time. Flour is cheaper now than at any time in the last four years; but, as Mr. Zinsmaster explained, the bakers stocked up on the high price flour in order to age it for from three to six months to make it fit for use. When this flour is exhausted and the breadmakers begin to use the cheaper priced flours the prices of bread will descend accordingly.

Labor is still high in the bakery business and the price of lard has gone down but little, the manufacturers explain. Flour and sugar are down and may go even lower, it is explained.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

POLK COUNTY BOY IS AGAIN WINNER

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ralph Finkenbinder, living near Crookston, won the grand championship in the baby beef contest at the Red River Valley Junior Livestock show and for the second time won the silver trophy offered by the Ninth District Bankers' association. If he wins again next year he will be given permanent possession of the cup.

The junior show, the first regional show of its kind to be held in Minnesota, closed Saturday with the announcement of the prize winners in the various events.

The grand champion winners in addition to Finkenbinder in the baby beef exhibit were Monica Zurn, Calloway, Becker county, dairy calf contest; Carl Lehrer, Red Lake Falls, pig contest, and Amos Casberg, Crookston, sheep contest. Nearly eighty contestants from the fourteen Northwestern Minnesota counties had exhibits at the show. They were the champions in the boys' and girls' club contests in their respective counties and will take their exhibits from here to South St. Paul where they will enter them in the state show.

Pigs—Market class, Edwin Rowan, Wadena; Berdis Olberg, Clearbrook; Elmer Sheddrup, Plummer; pure bred class, Carl Lehrer, Red Lake Falls; Edith Alexander, Lancaster; Raymond Anderson, Hendrum.

Sheep—Anna Kasberg, Crookston; Martin Anderson, St. Vincent; Evelyn Sheldrew, Grygla.

SIX SPENDTHRIFT MILL CITY BOYS ARRESTED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 15.—Six boys of East Minneapolis who have been buying lump sugar and have been seen feeding it to horses along East Hennepin avenue and throwing T-bone steaks to stray dogs in the alleys were placed in custody and will face a charge of forgery Monday in juvenile court.

Edward Powerde, 601 East Minneapolis avenue, who filed formal complaint, asserts that the lads have passed checks ranging from $10 to $60 and aggregating $1,000 on merchants.

WOOD ON PREPAREDNESS.

Army Officer Boosts It at Delafield, Wis., Cornerstone Laying.

Delafield, Wis., Nov. 15.—Charging that America was drawn into the World war by reason of its neglect of military training and using as a theme Theodore Roosevelt's famous epigram, "Speak softly but carry a big stick," Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood sounded a new note of preparedness here Sunday in an address at the ceremonies of laying of the cornerstone for the $200,000 victory memorial chapel that is to be erected in honor of graduates and former students of St. John's military academy who served in the World war.

The speaker defended the purpose of the military school, saying that "one can have ability and training in firearms without becoming a burglar or highwayman."

St. Paul Labor Applications.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 15.—Applicants for work exceed the demand for laborers by approximately 800 a week in St. Paul, according to estimates made by the Federal and state employment bureau here. Mr. Sorenson said the only demand for labor now is for woodsmen, coal miners and farm help, and these calls from Minnesota, Wisconsin and North Dakota.

HURLED THROUGH WINDOW.

Racine, Wis., Woman Catapulted When Struck by Automobile.

Racine, Wis., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Peter Rasmussen is at a hospital in a critical condition as a result of injuries received last night when she was struck by an automobile and hurled through the display window of a downtown store.

T. M. Christensen, building contractor, it is said, was driver of the automobile. Christensen attempted to avoid a collision with another automobile, skidded and struck Mrs. Rasmussen, who was awaiting a street car.

RURAL PLANNING BY WISCONSIN COUNTIES

Madison, Wis., Nov. 15.—Rural planning in Wisconsin has received attention by eleven Wisconsin counties during the past six months, D. G. Packer of the state department of agriculture points out in his biennial report. Although the legislature in establishing machinery for rural development in 1919 failed to appropriate funds to carry out the work there have been a number of accomplishments, the report shows.

Most of the counties have devoted their attention to providing camping sites for tourists while others have been active in securing historic spots of interest and in improving the scenic appearance of highways.

Montana Oil Strike.

Lewistown, Mont., Nov. 15.—Wyman Ellis of Helena, president of the Montacal Oil company, received a message from the superintendent of the Mosby field Sunday stating that the company's well had come in with a flow expected to approximate 2,000 barrels. The details of the latest strike will not be received until today, but the well will rank as one of the largest in the Mosby field.

MANY FOREIGN-BORN.

Practically Every European Nationality Among Gopher Soldiers.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 15.—Practically every nationality which can be found in Europe was represented among the Minnesota boys who fought in the World war, according to records on file in the Minnesota war records commission offices, St. Paul.

The list shows that twenty-two European nations are represented in the Minnesota lists as being the birthplace of the parents of Minnesota soldiers, while seven European nations are listed as being the birthplace of numerous boys who entered the Minnesota contribution of soldiers to the war.

The nations represented on the rolls of Minnesota service men follow: Finland, Denmark, Lithuania, Greece, Italy, Germany, Austria, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Russia, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Hungary, Poland, Luxemburg, Bohemia, Switzerland and France.

PENNINGTON BIRD SHOW ATTRACTING

Thief River Falls, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judging by nation-wide inquiries received there is more than local interest in the fourth annual show of the Pennington County Poultry association to be held here Nov. 22, 23 and 24, many requests for premium lists being received daily from points in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota and Southern Minnesota. A large number of exhibits are consequently expected from these points and thousands of people will observe the different breeds of birds on exhibition at this show, which will rival any held in the Northwest. City hotels are already making preparations to handle the large number of out-of-town guests. Ribbons and premiums are being offered daily, it being impossible to include these in the premium lists which are already being sent out.

The fourth annual show has reached the attention of the National Black Leghorn association with headquarters at Hempstead, Long Island, New York, their offer of a handsome special ribbon for the best male and one for the best female bird of that breed having just been received. The Minnesota State Poultry association offers handsome sweepstakes ribbons suitably lettered for the best pullet in the American, Asiatic, Mediterranean, English, Dutch and Bantam classes. The Minnesota State Poultry Breeders' association will also offer a silver medal awarded for the highest scoring pen. The American White Plymouth Rock club offers special ribbons at this exhibition, one each for best cock, best hen, best cockerel, best pullet and best pen.

NORTH SHORE INDIAN MAINTAINS MANY TRAPS

Grand Marais, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jim Geesick, Indian, said to be the only redskin of the Lutsen district, who spends his winters north of that place trapping near the Canadian border, while here after supplies a few days ago said that he would have out thirty miles of traps this winter. During the cold weather he tries to visit every trap at least once a week and the journey is fraught with no little danger as he often sleeps out of doors, despite the severity of the weather. For genuine outdoor exercise he puts his job ahead of any known in the north woods.

First Rhinelander Wage Cut.

Rhinelander, Wis., Nov. 15.—One of Rhinelander's largest industrial institutions, the Colling Lumber company, Saturday posted notices announcing a 10 per cent reduction of wages beginning today. It is the first concern here to announce a wage reduction.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bismarck, N. D.—The following Salvation Army officers have left here for Chicago to attend the conference called by Gen. Booth: Capt. J. C. Kelly and Lieutenant William Curtis of New Rockford; Capt. V. J. Hoffman and Mrs. Hoffman, also Lieutenant Ida Curtis of Bismarck, and Lieutenant Marian Wood of Mandan.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, Minn., author of the Babcock amendment for road building, which was adopted in Minnesota last election, will be the speaker at the Commercial club membership dinner complimentary to the Grand Forks county farm bureau to be held Dec. 9.

Bismarck, N. D.—Mrs. Lillian English of Kinney, Minn., has written state officials asking their aid in locating Clifford Ray Ferris, returned overseas man, who was last heard from about three months ago, while he was attending an auto school in Fargo.

Minot, N. D.—The Minot high school has entered the state high school debating league. Interclass debates are being arranged to try out the debaters. Final debaters will be chosen through a series of elimination debates.

Fargo, N. D.—Fifty employes of the Equity Co-operative Packing plant at West Fargo were laid off last week, due to the lull in business, according to officials of the company.

Bismarck, N. D.—Repeal of the personal property tax and the capital stock tax are recommended by George E. Wallace, tax commissioner, and Lyman A. Baker, secretary, in a report prepared for Governor Frazier. The report assails many features of present tax laws in North Dakota and recommendations.

Fargo, N. D.—Funeral services were held at Mapleton Saturday for J. K. Green, 72, of Mapleton, a resident of Cass county for the last forty-three years, who died at his home Thursday. Mr. Green came to Cass county in 1877, and took a homestead near Mapleton, upon which he lived until twelve years ago, when he retired from farming and moved into Mapleton.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Iron Mountain — Funeral services were held here Thursday for Edward Gello, about 40 years of age, employed at the J. W. Wells Lumber company's camp, four miles east of Sagola, who was killed while felling a tree.

Marquettte—Dr. John Lowe, head of the department of biology, Marquette Normal school, is making preparations for a survey of the fish resources and the conditions under which fish live in the waters of the Upper Peninsula. He will work in co-operation with the Upper Peninsula Development bureau.

Iron Mountain—Wahlstrom Bros. are already engaged in their logging operations. Their camp is at Kelso, where they are employing twenty men. The input of the camp is estimated at about 1,000,000. A portion of their timber is owned by Andrew Bjorkman of this city.

Sault Ste. Marie — Leonard Godfrey and Richard Hethington, about 12 years of age, are in jail here while the police are investigating several robberies with which they are said to be connected.

Escanaba—The Franklin cafe here which was deserted by the proprietor, Charles Franklin, probably will be sold to satisfy a mortgage of $300. Franklin left more than a score of checks, alleged to be worthless, when he and his wife left Escanaba.

Iron River—Emil J. Kassick, engineer, and H. O. Peterson, fireman, who sustained severe scalds, broken bones and many cuts and bruises when the boiler of their locomotive blew up at Iron River, Nov. 5, are reported to be resting comfortably at the Mercy hospital here and every hope is entertained for their recovery.

Hancock — The funeral of Frank Rogers of Franklin was held Thursday from the home, the Rev. W. E. Cross, pastor of Houghton Trinity church, officiating. Burial was in Forest Hill cemetery under Masonic auspices, the commandery serving as the funeral escort.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Fond du Lac—Mrs. Caroline Newell Nightingale, 92 years old, died at her home here after a lingering illness. The surviving relative is one son, Newell, of this city. The funeral was held here on Saturday.

Sheboygan—Chief of Police Henry C. Dehme and Sheriff William Brockmann, who recently returned from Sydney, Australia, with Edward Pooler, who, it is alleged, sought freedom there from the law after having robbed young Canisius of $800, filed an itemized statement of all expenses incident to the trip. The bill stands at $3,057.16.

Oshkosh — Eight Wisconsin cities were represented at the state meeting of the Yellowstone trail here. It was announced that the next year budget is $40,000, Wisconsin's quota, $6,250. There are 406 miles of trail in the state. It was declared that tourists from other states brought in $347,000 in business last year.

Madison—The state board of education program for educational advancement in Wisconsin is praised by Prof. H. V. O'Shea of the university in an article published in this month's Wisconsin Journal of Education. He says everyone in the state should be interested in the plans of Secretary E. A. Fitzpatrick.

Medford—Two boys were shooting at a mark, but missed it. The bullet passed through a window in the primary room of the Third ward school, struck the stove pipe, passed over the head of a boy who was eating his lunch, and then went through another window.

Stevens Point—Howard D. White, resident of this city for nineteen years, died of Bright's disease in a Fond du Lac hospital.

Merrill—The county board increased the salary of the school superintendent from $1,200 to $1,500. Supervisor T. J. Metcalf ridiculed the idea of a county paying its superintendent no more than some of the county teachers get. The county highway commissioner is paid $2,400 and expenses.

Ashland—At the meeting of the Ashland county board the budget, fixed at $257,104.18 by the budget committee, composed of C. A. Poundstone of Mellen, chairman; George Derringer of Glidden and M. H. Shrank of Ashland, was adopted.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Red Lake Falls—At the second monthly meeting of the Red Lake County Child Welfare board, held in the courthouse, arrangements were made for the care of several neglected, crippled and defective children. The board is doing good work in the county during the short time it has been in existence.

Aitkin—Miss Lyle Buyrnes of the United States public health service gave three lectures before the Aitkin schoolgirls above the sixth grade Thursday on "Keeping Fit" and Dr. B. W. Kelly spoke at the same time to the boys. Miss Buyrnes also lectures before the high schools of the county at Palisade, Hill City, Lawler and McGrath.

International Falls—Charles Arba Giles of Lovedale, Minn., and Miss Alice B. Morton of this city were united in marriage last week by Rev. C. E. Ireland.

Thief River Falls—An average of forty-eight coops of poultry per day have been shipped from Thief River Falls during the last thirty days. These are figures given by local officials of the American Railway Express company.

Red Lake Falls—The monthly dinners at the Lincoln hotel, followed by business meetings, will be continued by the Commercial club as the result of a unanimous vote taken at the November meeting of the organization. Some suggestion for abandoning the dinner had been made, but the members present at the last meeting believed that the monthly dinner would bring out a good attendance.

Barnum—The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Carlton County Agricultural and Industrial association will be held at Barnum Tuesday at 11 o'clock a. m.

Thomson—Harry Albertson and father, Eli Albertson, returned last week from Wycliffe, B. C., to their old home in Thomson. He expects his family to arrive in a day or two, and they will remain here for the winter.

East Grand Forks—Fire completely destroyed the house on the Albert Kovar farm, near Tabor, Minn., late Thursday night. It is thought that the fire started as the result of an overheated stove. Insurance will partly cover the loss. Tom Yancil, who rents the farm from Mr. Kovar, left the house early Thursday evening and upon returning at a late hour found the entire roof in flames.

St. Cloud—The Mississippi river is now frozen solidly across below the St. Germain bridge, the surest sign of all that winter is here. In 1919 the Mississippi closed with ice formations on Nov. 10.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

FOOTBALL MEN STILL HOPEFUL

Duluth and Superior Pro Teams May Meet Sunday at Superior.

Members of the Duluth and the Superior City football teams are still waiting for the weather in the hope of being able to play the final game of their series which was scheduled for yesterday at Superior, but which had to be put over on account of the frozen condition of the field.

"We will wait another week and if the weather is favorable, the Duluth and Superior pro elevens will get together at Hislop park in what will probably be the final contest of the season," said Art Olson, manager of the Superior eleven this morning. "We are holding our team together hoping for favorable conditions."

Manager Joe Feakes of the Duluth team says he will keep him men tuned up for another week in the hope of playing Superior and may accept a Thanksgiving day date at Minneapolis which has been offered him. He is none too hopeful that weather prospects for the Head of the Lakes will offer much promise of a game for next Sunday at Superior, but will have his men ready and waiting.

The Superior team is planning on meeting the Green Bay City eleven at Green Bay on Sunday, Nov. 28 in a contest which will decide the professional championship of Wisconsin. Superior's defeat of Ashland and Eau Claire gives the team across the pond the pro title of the northern part of the state. Green Bay, it is said, has defeated all of the leading contenders in the southern half of the state, and will have to beat Superior if it is to claim the state championship.

Coach Von of the Duluth eleven, in company with M. C. Gebert of the Kelley-Duluth Hardware company and Frank Seaman, well known baseball, football and hockey specialist, is stalking big game up in the Pokegema region of Itasca county and expects to be gone at least a week.

New Coach at Fordham.

New York, Nov. 15.—Orson Kinney, former Yale basket ball star, will coach the Fordham university team this winter, it was announced today by J. Mulcahy, graduate manager of athletics. Kinney was the highest individual scorer in the intercollegiate basket ball league in 1916.

DULUTH CENTRAL WINS EASY GAME

Red and White Grid Eleven Beats Nelson Dewey, 12 to 0.

Duluth Central won an easy victory over Nelson-Dewey last Saturday by a score of 12 to 0. The game was played at Hislop park, Superior. The field was about 60 per cent ice, which made it very hard for the teams to play. Right from the beginning of the game Central saw that they had an easy victory. The quarters were cut to ten minutes and no time was taken out for anything. The game was more of a practice game for Central. Anderson, Marshall and Gronseth starred for Duluth. Capt. Anderson made the two touchdowns for Central and a long run for forty yards.

The lineups follow:

Nelson-Dewey—		—Duluth.

MACHINE GUN CART TEAMS AT POLO SHOW

New York, Nov. 15.—A polo match and an exhibition of machine gun cart teams were innovations on the program of the thirty-fifth annual national horse show which opened today at Madison Square Garden with the largest number of entries in its history.

Polo teams of three players each will compete each night. The final match for the championship will be held Saturday.

The match guncarts were shown just as they go into actual action on the battlefield.

HIBBING ELKS WILL STAMPEDE

Antlered Ones of Iron Ore Fields to Have Big Athletic Show.

Comes an invitation from our old comrade, Chief Charles E. McIlharhey of the Hibbing fire department, to occupy a front pew at the Elks' stampede, which will be featured next Friday evening at Hibbing when a grand athletic and musical entertainment will be the offering. Elks from every city of Northern Minnesota will be in attendance. If there is any finer spot in this old pig iron world for a sports editor to thoroughly enjoy himself we are not aware of it

Associated with Chief Charley on the entertainment committee are Lawrence (Pal) Brown and Dr. Wilber J. Wring, both live wires and nicely proficient in the art of mapping out amusing features.

How well they have framed for the entertainment of their guests is shown by the excellence of the athletic card in which Johnny Nichols of St. Paul, rated as one of the best welterweight boxers in the Northwest, will meet Sammy Terrin of Minneapolis in a scheduled 10-round boxing bout. Tony Machefts, the ripping, slugging middleweight of Virginia, is booked to step through eight rounds with Billy Emke of St. Paul, the boy that Mike McNulty is piloting toward the title now held by Johnny Wilson. There will be two 3-round preliminaries in which local talent will take part. Harley Davidson, world famous as a skater and bicycle rider, will be the announcer.

Nichols and Terrin met in Hibbing about a year ago, when Nichols got the newspaper decision in a fast and furious fight, said to have been one of the best ever seen in the iron ore fields.

A. A. U. TO HEAR OLYMPIC REPORTS

New Orleans, La., Nov. 15.—The final report of Gus Kirby, president of the American Olympic committee on the Olympic games and the awarding of various 1921 athletic meets were the subjects of greatest interest before the Amateur Athletic union when it began its business sessions here today. Yesterday it was voted to award the 1921 national track and field championship meet to Los Angeles.

Three candidates were in the field to succeed Samuel J. Dallas of Philadelphia as president. The eastern division is backing Herman Obertu Blessing, the Western associations are supporting Robert S. Weaver of Los Angeles, and the Southern associations have put forward Harry W. Fitzpatrick of this city.

V. M. I. LEADING IN POINTS SCORED

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 15.—Virginia military institute, by virtue of Saturday's 98-to-0 victory over Catholic university, today led all Southern college football teams in points score. The V. M. I. eleven has scored 407 points to its opponents' 13, and has yet to suffer a defeat this year.

OHIO LEADS CONFERENCE

Final Contest With Illinois Will Determine Champion.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Ohio State now stands at the top of the Western conference football elevens, but must defeat Illinois next Saturday in order to have an undisputed claim to the championship. A defeat at the hands of the Illini would leave the race in a scrambled condition with possibly three teams claiming first honors.

Victory for Ohio State next Saturday would leave the Buckeyes, the only undefeated team. A defeat, however, and victory for Wisconsin over Chicago, would give Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio State a record of one defeat each and an equal claim to the championship on the comparative score, or "dope" basis. Illinois, however, would possess one more victory than either of her competitors and consequently mathematically would possess the best record and probably would be conceded the championship.

CARPENTIER IS HAILED AS HERO

Challenger Expresses Confidence in Ability to Beat Dempsey.

Paris, Nov. 15.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, returned from America richer by 1,000,000 francs and with a great respect for the fighting ability of Jack Dempsey, world titleholder.

The French fighter was greeted like a conquering hero. Carpentier, who was never boastful, before leaving France when he had not yet seen Dempsey, said on his return that Dempsey was considered in America to be a "superfighter," but that he would meet him with as much confidence as he did the British fighters, Wells and Beckett, whom he knocked out.

"The newspapers," Carpentier said, "reported Dempsey as saying he would lead me to the slaughter like an ox. I don't believe it. I have met Dempsey, who is really a very amiable gentleman. I even had one match with him which I won—but that was at golf. Dempsey's kind thought in sending me a wireless message when off Ntaucket wishing us God speed, was very gentlemanly."

The boastful remark attributed to Carpentier's manager, Descamps, at the Jersey City ball park, that Carpentier would beat the champion in two rounds, has now been modified to such expressions as:

"The difference in weight of fourteen pounds will be a great handicap," and "the man who lands the first blow will win."

Negro Lynched.

Bristol, Va., Nov. 15.—David Hunt, negro, 25, captured on a passenger train and held for an alleged assault on an aged woman, was taken from the jail at Wise, Va., early yesterday by a mob of about seventy-five men and hanged to a bridge near Kent Junction.

NEED NEW WAY IN RING COUNT

Referee Should Be Accurate in Tolling Off Seconds.

By HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Nov. 15.—The system of counting off the seconds by the referees in local clubs is so antiquated that it is most surprising that a more modern method has not been introduced. Very few of the current crop of arbiters can make the right count on a boxer when he is knocked down. This is a serious condition, especially if a championship title is at stake.

The writer remembers very well the night that this moss covered procedure cost George Chip his chance to regain the middleweight championship, which he had previously lost to Al McCoy, when the latter unbuckled a left-handed swing and robbed George of his crown in the very first round.

The men had scarcely squared off in that fight when McCoy picked one from the general direction of his heels and, dropping it on Chips chin, put the latter out cold and sneaked off with the championship.

Referee Delays Counting.

Chip begged for a return bout, which was arranged at the Broadway Sporting club in Brooklyn. In this fight Chip gave the accidental champion an awful beatng, and about the seventh round got his man, and shooting one to the old button, dropped McCoy like a log. The referee, before starting the count, shoved Chip back from the stricken McCoy, thereby losing a couple of seconds.

Then started the queerest count that ever was given in a prize ring. One two—and then another motion to Chip to get back further. The house was in an uproar, while the referee continued his count. In the midst of the excitement McCoy struggled to his feet just as the bell sounded the end of the round.

Declare Fifteen Seconds Passed.

The title was saved for McCoy, but Chip had been robbed of his chance to regain his lost laurels. Many of those at the ringside that night, who held watches when McCoy was floored, declare that he was down for at least fifteen seconds. The awkward left-hander managed to last the rest of the journey and Chip never got another chance at the title.

The same thing is likely to happen again, unless some provision is made to remedy the evil. An old timer at one of the fights here the other night suggested that the timekeeper be provided with a split second watch and that he call out the seconds whenever a boxer is knocked down. In this way a repetition of the McCoy-Chip fiasco would be prevented.

OVER 50,000 HUNTERS OUT

First Deer and Moose Carcasses May Reach Duluth Early.

With over 50,000 licenses issued in Minnesota to big game hunters the moose and deer must be having a grand gallop for their lives this bright autumn morning, the opening day of the big annual slaughter. In every forest of the North are thousands of hunters, red-capped and armed with high-powered rifles, drilling along the woodland trails in quest of big game.

Outgoing trains traveling through remote sections of Itasca, St. Louis, Lake, Cook, Carlton, Beltrami and Koochiching counties were burdened with hunters Saturday and yesterday and this was true in a great degree of the trains that left Duluth this morning.

With the army of hunters from Duluth alone that is out after big game it is expected that the first deer and moose carcasses will be brought to this city late today, when some of the successful hunters will return from the chase.

Most of the Duluth parties have made their plans for a week's stay and will enjoy a big outing without being worried about having to return in a hurry. C. F. Naughton, county commissioner; Henry Meining, John J. Lane and John Cullen are in camp up in the Vermilion country, where they will stay until Sunday. Roy Hewitt and another party are up near Tofte on the north shore, where they are enjoying life in a big army tent.

While the season runs to Dec. 5 it is believed that most of the hunters will have finished their annual chase of moose and deer by next Saturday and this is especially true of local hunters. Most of the hunting that will be done after the opening week of the season will be by non-resident nimrods.

Hunting conditions are said to be excellent with the single exception that the swamps are still open. There is enough snow in the woods to make it easy to track big game and for the hunters to get around wihout making so much noise as to frighten away the hunted animals when approaching them at a reasonable distance. The temperature is just cold enough to permit the nimrods to enjoy their hikes through the forests and to stay out long without fear of being chilled.

FRENCH TEAM INVITED TO PENN RELAY MEET

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—Dr. George W. Orton, manager of the University of Pennsylvania relay meet, announced today that he had sent a formal invitation to the athletic director at the University of Paris inviting a French track team to compete in the big relay meet at Franklin field next April.

Dr. Orton suggested that a complete team be sent, but should that prove impossible he urged the French institution to send relay teams for the one and two-mile events particularly, and for any other events it wished to enter. It is the first time a French team has been invited to compete in the meet.

Last year Cambridge and Oxford were represented at the meet by a combined relay team. The English runners set a new world's record in the two-mile event. Dr. Orton said tonight that although it has not definitely been decided, he hoped the same team would return for the games next April.

MORE WOMEN GO TO BASEBALL GAMES

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 15.—The growing interest which women are taking in baseball is evidenced by attendance figures for thirteen "Ladies' day" games here during the last season, which have just been made public by officials of the American league club. In all 11,886 women attended on the days when their only entry fee was the 10 cents war tax. In April, for two games, the total was 377; May, two, 621; and in June, August and September, with three games each, the respective attendance was 2,820, 2,849 and 5,219.

Prior to the war, officials say, the average attendance never was more than 700.

It also is noticeable, officials add, that many women now do their own scoring—a phase of the game to which they formerly paid little attention.

EIGHTEEN ENTERED IN PULITZER AIR RACE

New York, Nov. 15.—Application for entries in the Pulitzer trophy airplane race at Mineola, N. Y., on Thanksgiving day will not be considered after today it was announced by the contest committee of the Aero Club of America.

Eighteen planes from the army and navy air service have been entered as well as all the participants in the recent Gordon Bennett race in France.

Why Are Skin Diseases So Difficult to Overcome?

When your skin breaks out with itching eruptions, tetter, rash, eczema, psoryasis, or other terrifying disorders, very often the pain becomes so intense, and the discomfort so thoroughly unbearable that you are willing to try almost any remedy that you think will give some measure of relief from the torture.

But temporary relief will do you but little good, for soon all the itching and irritation breaks out afresh with renewed fury, and you soon realize that local remedies such as ointments, salves and similar treatment will never rid you of your trouble.

It will not be so difficult to rid yourself of skin diseases if you will but realize that these troubles originate in the blood, and if you expect real substantial relief you must treat them through the blood.

The best remedy for this purpose is S. S. S., the fine old blood remedy that purifies the blood of disease germs, and thus restores the skin to a normal and healthy condition.

Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case, and our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 820 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

HIBBING'S PROTEST IS BEING HELD UP

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Awaiting word from J. G. Arneson, chairman of the state tax commission as to the information he gave out Saturday that "there probably would be a general increase on tax valuations on all mining property on the Mesaba range," local citizens hold in abeyance their decision to enter a protest against an increase.

There is a feeling prevailing among the taxpayers to be entirely fair in the matter and not to enter any concerted protest until the mining valuations are definitely made known.

If the mining companies are compelled to pay increased taxes, individual property owners are not expected to protest strongly if their increase is not too high. On the other hand, local citizens feel that the increase should be equitable.

ITASCA JURY CASES HAVE ALL BEEN TRIED

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 15.—Judge Wright has concluded trial of civil actions in Itasca district court and excused jurors. He will be here tomorrow to try court cases. The jury found for the defendant in the case of G. H. Ebert, receiver for the failed Minneapolis concern, vs. G. B. Shull to recover stockholder's assessment, as the evidence disclosed Shull did not own the stock. A jury gave Peter Freemont judgment in full in his case against Butler Bros. to recover $178.63 bonus for work at the Majorca mine, Nashwauk. The defense claimed that Freemont had left a steam shovel, of which he was in charge, in bad condition, and that this was justification for withholding his bonus. Phile Stone of Hibbing was attorney for Freemont, and John M. Gannon of Hibbing represented the defendants.

Gordon Brown secured a verdict for $2,200 in his suit against Charles Sulin, Sr., and his three sons for injuries sustained by plaintiff's son when run over by a car driven by the Sulin boys in the Harrison location, Nashwauk. Johnson & Rustan of Nashwauk and Alfred L. Thwing of Grand Rapids appeared for the plaintiff, while O. J. Larson of Duluth was attorney for the defendants.

EVELETH POLICE FIND BOOZE DURING RAID

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local police searching for gamblers late last Friday night discovered about eight gallons of moonshine hidden under a shed in the rear of a hardware store on Grant avenue between Monroe street and Fayal road.

They suspected that a gambling game was being carried on in a pool hall adjoining the hardware store and as they were about to enter the building one of them discovered a funnel lying on the ground near a window in the pool hall. Picking it up the odor of moonshine was scented and they began a search for a supply of it.

A four gallon jug nearly full was first found and taken to police headquarters. This was locked in the safe at the station and the officers returned for further investigation. This time a two gallon jug, a gallon bottle and a half gallon jug partly full was discovered.

The officers declined to fasten ownership on any particular person or persons, although they said they knew just about what kind of a performance had been going on and would watch the place. It was apparent, they declared, that the liquor was being sold from a bottle carried on the person of the dispenser, who climbed through a window in the building each time his bottle became empty in order to refill it, in this way insuring himself against being found with a quantity of the liquor in his possession.

RANGER PRAISING DULUTH TUBER SHOW

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Pauley, superintendent of the Little Swan farm school, and Roy Michelson, in charge of the Oliver Iron Mining company gardens, claim that the late potato show at Duluth was one of the best ever held.

The Little Swan school was awarded the first prize for the best type of Cobbler shown which was photographed and will be sent over the country as a boost for the kind of potatoes raised in this part of Northern Minnesota. The Little Swan school won fourth prize for Cobblers.

Potatoes which won first place for St. Louis county over all of the counties of the state were contributed by pupils of the Little Swan school.

The mine displays under the direction of Roy Michelson made a decided hit at the potato show. From second to sixth place was won by the Oliver Iron Mining company employes in the display of Kings potatoes and sixth place was won for the best display of Burbanks.

Two Rangers' Names on Tablet.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The names of George A. McHardy of Hibbing and Albert S. Drew of Eveleth will appear on the huge memorial tablet to be placed on the walls of a victory memorial chapel to be erected by St. John's Military academy, Delafield, Wis., in honor of 700 graduates and former students of the school who served in the World war, the cornerstone of which was laid Saturday.

Winton Man Buried.

Winton, Minn., Nov. 15.—The body of Joseph Weed, 54, pioneer resident of Winton, who died last Monday of pneumonia, was taken to Ely, where burial was made by the Moose and Eagles lodges.

Less State Ore Shipped.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Further decrease in ore shipments from state-owned mines is noted in the state mine report for the week ending Nov. 6, showing that 141,233 tons of ore were shipped and 3,072 cars were used.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

INJURED VIRGINIA BOY IS RECOVERING

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Emegel, who was run over by an Oliver Iron Mining company's empty dump train last Thursday, is reported today to be recovering at More hospital, Eveleth. His brother Leo was buried this morning at 10 o'clock from the Polish Catholic church, Father Meger officiating. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

RANGE DEER ARE NOT EASILY FOUND

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eight hundred big game licenses had been issued here up to noon today. Many hunters are already in the field. First reports indicate deer hunting is poor as partridge hunters frightened deer into the wilds.

HIBBING WILL HEAR STEFANSSON, TAFT

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, who returned to this country in 1918 after spending five years "on the very top of the world," will lecture in Hibbing Dec. 6 on "My Five Years in the Arctic" under the auspices of the Hibbing Kiwanis club which has arranged for a series of two or more lectures by men prominent in national affairs. Former President Howard W. Taft will be the second speaker in January.

EVELETH TAX PROTEST COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Victor E. Essling, chairman of the mass meeting held last Friday evening to protest against the increase in taxes made by the Minnesota tax commission, has named the following committee to make formal protest against the raise: C. B. Hoel, chairman; George A. Whitman, Peter Peterson, Solomon Sax.

HIBBING WATER PLANT EXCEEDS GUARANTEE POINT

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lloyd Layne of the Layne & Bowler company of Houston, Tex., returned home last week after giving the final test to Hibbing's modern wells system of obtaining the water supply for the village. The plant, according to Mr. Layne, can now deliver 3,750,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours. The company guaranteed to deliver 3,000,000 gallons every twenty-four hours.

GRAND RAPIDS ITEMS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a meeting held jointly with the annual meeting of the American Legion the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion elected officers as follows: President, Mrs. H. E. Binet; vice president, Mrs. S. G. Benzing; secretary, Miss Theresa Hepfel, and treasurer, Miss Eveleen Burke.

Thomas Erskine, county auditor, reports an unprecedented demand for big game licenses. He states that his office has issued this season about 3,000 small game licenses, and that the sale of big game permits will probably be greater than for small game.

Leon E. Lumm, Duluth doctor, who has been making preparations to go to his hunting lodge on Wolf lake for a hunting expedition, was joined here by a party of Duluth business and professional men who will spend the hunting season there.

The local potato market continues very sluggish, and little or no stock is moving, the local warehouses taking in only an occasional load. The price offered this week was 75 cents a bushel. The farmers are holding for $1 a bushel or better.

Alvin V. Holsman and Miss Ida Caroline Magnuson of Bigfork were married Friday, Nov. 12, at the home of Rev John R. Parkes by the latter. The couple left on the afternoon train for Dayton, Ohio, where they will make their future home.

FAIR; RISING TEMPERATURE

Winter appears to have set in steadily but subdued, and the fair conditions appear to be fixed for a time at least. Today is fine and the prospect is for even better temperature. The sun rose this morning at 7:12 and will set this evening at 4:31, giving nine hours and twenty-two minutes of sunlight. Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours light snow fell over the Lake region states and Iowa, light to copious rains over East Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and the Texas coast, and light rains over Southwest Oregon and North California. Galveston, Tex., reported 1.22 inches rainfall. The barometer continues high over the plains states, and low pressures are centered over North Alberta and off the Oregon coast. A turn to somewhat colder occurred last night over Manitoba, the plains states and Upper Mississippi valley. Temperatures vary from zero in Wyoming and Southeast Montana to 5 and 10 above zero at most other points in the Northwest and plains region."

HIBBING GREENHOUSE MARVELOUS AFFAIR

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Bennet park greenhouse was thrown open to the public yesterday for the annual chrysanthemum show and general inspection. Sixty-five varieties of "mums" are on exhibition ranging from the smallest to the largest and Superintendent of Parks Conrad Wolf to whose enterprise the new structure is due, is being praised on all sides for the fine structure and the showing made.

After the "mums" are displayed a reasonable length of time they will be sent to local hospital and churches and will be sent to the sick. The new conservatories which include 12,000 square feet, all of this enclosed, is one of the finest buildings of its kind in the country. Lord & Burnham were the builders, while the Dohm building company erected the administration building and all the concrete work and walls. The conservatories include eight distinct divisions, all connected. There are two show houses, one tropical house, one rose house, one carnation house, one chrysanthemum house and two progating houses.

Have Tropical Plants.

The tropical house is where the ferns and tropical plants are on display and visitors enter it when coming in the main entrance. Show house No. 1 is on the left, while show house No. 2 is on the right as one enters the building.

The administration building, which was erected by the Dohm Contracting company, is the rear wing proper and is modern in every respect. There are offices for the park engineer, William Hooker; for the park board, and for Conrad Wolf, superintendent.

There is a room for the workmen and to provide for their comforts a bath has been installed, also toilets. The bulb room is downstairs in the basement, back of the furnace room. The furnace room has three boilers, able to provide heat for any cold weather. All three are hot water systems of heating. The ventilation in the conservatories is modern. Air can be admitted to the glass covered areas at any desirable time. The show houses are each 175 feet long.

WORRIED ABOUT RUE.

Former Range Editor With Gen. Wrangel in Russia.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anxiety over the safety of Larry Rue, formerly editor of the Hibbing Daily Tribune and now with Gen. Wrangel's forces in Russia as special correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, is felt by his relatives living in Fosston, Crookston and Virginia and his friends here.

Rue, as the only American correspondent with the Wrangel forces, was living in Wrangel's own special car when last word was received from him. He had interviewed the Russian general on many occasions and his articles were read widely throughout the country.

The correspondent is a former Fosston boy.

CAR ACCIDENTS BUT NO ONE IS INJURED

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several automobile accidents without serious injuries were reported to the police over the week-end. A Ford car near the Morton location turned turtle at "Death corner" Saturday afternoon, but the occupants did not receive a scratch. A Buick, skidding off a slippery road, ran onto a walk in the Pool location Saturday afternoon, but no one was injured. A street car, leaving Hibbing at 6 o'clock Saturday night, hit a Buick on the crossing near the Morris location, completely demolishing the automobile but no one was injured.

LIEUT. GOV.-ELECT IS ADRIFT ON LEECH LAKE

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roscoe Johnson of the state mining office here and Lieut. Governor-elect Collins had a thrilling experience on Leech lake, Walker, recently while duck hunting. In trying to reach shore through the ice their motorboat went "dead" and they drifted helplessly for hours amid loose ice till the motor got to working again and they finally reached Walker in tow of a lumber boat.

Range Lakes Being Stocked.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to Harry J. La Due, assistant state game and fish commissioner, sportsmen living in Northern Minnesota need not worry about enough trout in the streams in the years to come. Lake trout eggs are being taken from Lake Superior and will be used for the stocking of Minnesota lakes by the state game and fish commission.

GASOLINE PRICES REDUCED IN SOUTH

New York, Nov. 15.—Tank wagon prices of gasoline were reduced one cent a gallon today in states in which the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Standard Oil company of Louisiana operate, it was announced here by Walter C. Teagle, president of the New Jersey company.

States in which the reduction will be effective include New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and the District of Columbia, and Louisiana, Tessessee and Arkansas.

The reduction in price is not the result of lower costs, either of crude oil or labor, Mr. Teagle said; but is a movement on the part of the company to aid in lowering of prices as part of the general commercial adjustment.

Prices of tank wagon gasoline under the reduction will vary in the different states, it was explained, owing to difference in freight costs.

CONCESSIONS ON HEIGHT AND AGE

In order to accommodate many men who saw service in the army and navy, were discharged with "excellent" and "very good" character recommendations, but who do not quite come up to the old standard of sixty-four inches for minimum height, the United States marine corps has let down the bars on re-enlistment qualifications, according to an order received today by Sergeant Frank J. Buck, local recruiting officer.

The order authorizes the re-enlistment of men from the army, navy and marine corps at sixty-three inches in height and 18 years of age who are exceptionally physically qualified. Prospective recruits, however, must be otherwise desirable.

"This concession," Sergeant Buck explained, "is made with the idea that these young men will naturally increase in height with military training, but those who have other physical qualifications cannot be excepted. Recruiting officers have been instructed not to accept any young man 18 years of age or under 21 who has not the written and proper consent of his parents or guardians."

The marine recruiting office will also accept for original enlistment young men between the ages of 16 and 18 who have exceptional physique and who are at least sixty-three inches in height. Young men over 18 years of age will not be accepted for original enlistment under sixty-four inches.

From and including this date applicants may be accepted for first enlistment with the promise that, upon completion of their recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., they will be assigned to the Sixth regiment at Quantico, but men will be accepted in the Minnesota division for first enlistment only for assignment to the Sixth regiment. Men may be re-enlisted in any division for the Sixth regiment and transferred direct to Quantico.

Only re-enlisted men will be accepted for assignment to the Sixth machine gun battalion and the Tenth artillery regiment, both stationed at Quantico.

Every effort will be made by the recruiting service to accept for first enlistment and to re-enlist all men for general service without promise of any special assignment, and men will only be accepted and re-enlisted for special assignment after they have declined enlistment for general service.

DOES NOT LOOK FOR BIG PRICE DECLINES SOON

Denver, Colo., Nov. 15.—Doubt that any big price declines will come soon and that prices ever will reach prewar levels was expressed by Senator W. M. Calder of New York, chairman of the senate committee on reconstruction and production, which met here today to investigate housing conditions in Colorado and nearby states.

Senator Calder based his opinion on information gathered by the committee.

"There seems to be a fairly general opinion that prices on building materials eventually must decline," he said. "The committee has found a decline in only one building material, lumber, which sold for $30 a thousand, then advanced to $90, and has declined to $60."

SPENT $2.940 TO ELECT MISS ALICE ROBERTSON

Washington, Nov. 15.—Expenditures of $2,940 were made in the campaign of Miss Alice Robertson of the Second Oklahoma district, the second woman to be elected to congress, according to a report filed today with the clerk of the house of representatives. Miss Robertson is the only woman member of the incoming house.

Miss Robertson declared in her statement that "no pledges or promises were made" to obtain her election.

ASK FOR HEARING ON NEWBERRY CASE JAN. 3

Washington, Nov. 15.—The government today requested the supreme court to set next Jan. 3 for hearing arguments in the appeal brought by Senator Truman H. Newberry and sixteen others from convictions on charges of conspiracy to violate election laws in Senator Newberry's election in Michigan. Former Associate Justice Hughes, counsel for Mr. Newberry, concurred in the request.

Solicitor General Frierson declared the case was "one of public importance since it involved an attack upon the constitutionality of the corrupt practice act."

PLEECEMEN.

Pleecemen are out weather it rains or not,
They certeny deserve our pity.
They have to chase berglers if you ask them to,
Because theyre employed by the city.

We see them wawking along their beet
Looking free from all affliction,
But they may have a wife and family home,
Proving truth is stranger than fiction.

Pleecemen wear a uniform
So youll know what they are at a glants,
Consisting ferst of a helmet
And 2nd, coat and pants.

The coat has buttins all the way down
Made out of solid brass,
And no matter who you think you are
They wont take eny of your sass.

Yes their buttins are made of solid brass
But they look like pure gold in the sun,
And its wise to stay about a block away
If you feel like insulting one.

They stop baseball playing in daylite
And robbers and things in the dark,
And "All pleecemen have big feet"
Is a old but true remark.

GREAT INCREASE OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

Madison, Wis., Nov. 15.—The tremendous increase of public utilties is shown in the preliminary report of the railroad commission today.

During the past nine years the plant investment of electric utilities has increased from $30,886,269 to $93,959,495. The gas business during the same period of time increased its plant investment from $24,149,734 to $30,869,929.

In the electric business, operating revenues in 1910 amounted to $4,443,930, and in 1919 they had increased to $16,931,468. Operating revenues for the gas industry in 1910 were $4,009,205, and in 1919 they amounted to $7,896,525.

Between 1910 and 1919 the amount invested in the telephone business in the state about doubled. The increases were from an amount of $14,944,892 in 1910 to $29,342,772 in 1919. Operating revenues increased a little more than 100 per cent during this period, growing from $4,171,188 in 1910, to $9,176,576 in 1919.

The electric railway property and plant accounts in 1910 totaled $51,148,324 and in 1919 the total was $84,714,942.

The total operating revenues amounted to $8,823,096 in 1910 and to $5,784,993 in 1919.

WHEAT PRICE UP AT CLOSE

Market Strong in Absence of Selling Pressure; Flax Again Easy.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 15.—The wheat market was strong around the close. December spring closed 4c up at $1.74 bid, March 4c up at $1.75; December winter, 4c up at $1.73 nominally; December durum, 2½c up at $1.82 bid, and March, 2¾c up at $1.80¼ nominally.

Rye closed 5c up at $1.61 for spot; December, 5c up at $1.54 asked, and May, 4½c up at $1.43½ asked. Oats closed up at for spot, and barley 3c@4c off at 67c@88c for spot.

The wheat market braced up today after showing a weaker tendency at around the opening. Offerings were light, and that contributed to the better tone rather than any improvement in either domestic or export demand. It was noted that exporters did not show any more interest than had been the case during the last week. The British grain commission was said to be entirely out of the market, as it was announced that their requirements had been covered for some months ahead. Milling inquiry in this country was declared to be at the lowest for the season in several years.

December spring wheat advanced 1¼c to $1.71¼ up till the noon-hour, and March, 1¼c up at $1.72¼. December durum gained ¾c at $1.80, and March, 1c at $1.78½.

The market in rye was stronger in line with wheat. December rye gained 1c at $1.50, and May, 1½c at $1.40½. Barley sold unchanged within a range of 70@92c for spot.

The grain movement was light, there being on track for the two days 360 cars of all grains, including: Spring wheat, 32; durum, 158; oats, 17; rye, 82; barley, 31; flax, 23, and bonded spring, 14.

A slightly better movement of wheat was reported at some of the Southwest markets, Kansas City receiving 344 cars today, against 570 last year. Chicago, however, received only 11 cars of wheat.

Flax Easy.

Flaxseed was again off-color in the absence of crushers' interest, with a continued dull market in linseed oil. Light receipts was, however, a factor in preventing prices from receding to any extent. The Buenos Aires market was about steady, December opening there at $1.80.

November flax closed 1c off at $2.32 asked; December ½c off at $2.32½ bid; January ½c off at $2.35½ nominal, and May 1c off at $2.46 asked.

At Winnipeg, November flax closed 1c up at $2.34½, and December 1½c up at $2.30¾.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The German official crop report estimates the season's crop at 88,000,000 bu of wheat against 80,000,000 bu last year, and rye at 193,000,000 bu against 222,000,000 bu last year.

New York has reported the arrival of another boatload of frozen lamb and mutton from New Zealand.

A Broomhall cable says: "The next Indian wheat crop promises to be small. October was extremely dry, and a dry October means a reduced acreage and a poor start. An average wheat crop in India is 350,000,000 bu, and before the war exports averaged 38,000,000 bu, so it is shown that all but a small proportion of the crop is needed at home."

The Canadian National railway has removed the embargo against shipments of wheat from Northwest points to Duluth elevators. The freight car supply up there is said to have shown some improvement lately.

Simons, Day & Co. wired from Chicago: "Trade in wheat been very light so far today. The crowd offered it at the first tap at the opening, expecting a lower opening on the heavy stock market, but there was no wheat pressing for sale and it quickly rallied a cent or two."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Buying on the part of houses with export connections had a bullish effect today on the wheat market. Attention was also given to the fact that the end of lake navigation is only three weeks off and that declines of late have been the most severe since the reconstruction period after the Civil war. Besides, rural advices continued to indicate refusal of farmers to sell. Opening quotations, which ranged from ¾c decline to 1⅛c advance, with December $1.79 to $1.81½ and March $1.69½ to $1.71, were followed by many rapid changes, but at an average moderately above Saturday's finish.

The Bolshevik successes in Southern Russia had more or less of a strengthening influence on the market later, as it was surmised that there would be no exports of grain from Russia from now on. The close was firm, 3¾c to 5½c net higher, with December, $1.83¾ to $1.81¼, and March, $1.75¼ to $1.75¾.

Corn and oats were under aggressive selling pressure, and both touched the lowest prices yet this season. Wheat strength, however, led to rallies. Corn opened unchanged to 1c lower with December 74 to 74½c and underwent a decided general sag before beginning to recover.

The country offerings were light and sustained returns disappointing. Prices closed firm at the same as Saturday's finish to ¾c higher, with December at 74⅝c to 74¾c.

Oats, which started at ⅛c decline to 1½c advance, May 53¼ to 53½, weakened all around and then reacted somewhat.

Upturns in the value of hogs tended to give firmness to provisions.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 15.—Opening easy, wheat futures declined 1½c after Saturday's close but after a rally and a period of indecision there was a firmer tone. Prices rose 2⅛@2¼c over previous close and alternately dropped and regained half the rally. Premiums on spring wheat were 1c higher on top grades and 1@2c better on medium and lower grades today. Improved demand for cash wheat and a let-down in pressure on futures created a stubborn undertone in the market.

Coarse grains dragged early on the easy start in wheat, lower corn prices and scattered liquidation. Oats dipped ¾c but turned steady later and in the last hour went fractionally over Saturday's close. Rye eased a fraction early and came back with a 6-cent bulge. Barley weakened 2½c without support early, but rallied with the leader.

Corn generally was lower, although a few cars of new corn sold at unchanged prices. Flaxseed was unchanged.

SHARP BREAK IN ANACONDA STOCK

Quotations in mining stocks at New York slumped sharply today with liquidation as a result of the weak copper metal market. A break of $4.87 in Anaconda to $41 was a feature, but the stock later rallied to $42.12. Chino sold around the close unchanged at $21.25; Great Northern Ore, 37c up at $30.87; Inspiration, 87c off at $37.12; Kennecott, a shade off at $20.50, and Utah, 87c off at $52.37.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "The decline has been very severe, but at all times the short interest has furnished good support and at no time has there been a panic market. The selling seems to have come more out of strong boxes than from margin traders. The liquidation of high-grade securities has done more to shake confidence than the selling of speculative issues. The financial conditions do not yet show any marked improvement although the bank statement did show a small reduction in commercial loans and a reduction in note issues."

STOCKS ARE UNSETTLED

Prices Ease From the Top Levels in the Final Hour.

New York, Nov. 15.—Trading at the beginning of today's stock market session suggested a resumption of the previous fortnight's irregular movements, despite a strengthening of the local banking position. The constructive side was featured by rails, Northern Pacific and Reading scoring initial gains of 1¼ and 1¾ points, respectively. Crucible Steel and American Tobacco reacted 1 to almost 2 points and other industrials of the same class, also rubbers and tobaccos, were lower by fractions to 2 points. Further heavy gold imports were without effect on foreign exchange, the London rate holding at last week's final quotation.

Lowest prices of the current movement were made by a number of leaders during the very active first hour with further offerings traceable in part to impaired speculative accounts, which were thrown over almost regardless of values. Oils, steels, equipments and motor specialties were the principal sufferers, rails canceling their gains. A sharp rally soon set in, however, Mexican Petroleum rising four points, Southern Pacific 2 and Union Pacific 1, other favorites rebounding 1 to 1½. The money market seemed disposed to take cognizance of easier local bank conditions, call loans opening at 8½ per cent, the lowest initial quotation in nearly three weeks.

Shorts found it advisable to cover on the lower rate for demand loans, large sums evidently being available at the reduced quotations. Investment rails and the representative steels and equipments were well supported, holding at or near best prices of the noon rally.

Prices eased from top levels in the last hour on profit-taking although call money was offered at 7 per cent. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Liberty bonds closed: 3½s, 93.10; second 4s, 85.50; first 4¼s, 88.20; second 4¼s, 85.66; third 4¼s, 88.06; fourth 4¼s, 86.28; Victory 3¾s, 95.74; Victory 4¾s, 95.78.

MICHIGAN SLAUGHTER OF DEER COMMENCES

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.—Michigan's annual slaughter of deer started Saturday and judging by reports on the number of hunting licenses issued to both residents and nonresidents there will be some killing of the fleet-footed animals before the season closes. Last year 5,000 hunters came into the Upper Peninsula and so far over 3,000 licenses to hunt in Northern Michigan have been issued to people from outside points while local nimrods in each community have secured their permits, about 500 having been issued here up to Saturday noon and the end is not yet.

Prospective hunters are delighted at the fall of snow, and hope that the present cold spell will continue.

The fall of snow in Gogebic county has been particularly heavy. Many nonresident hunters started their hunting "spree" Saturday near Watersmeet and Marenisco.

Border City Fire.

International Falls, Minn., Nov. 15.—Fire Friday night caused damage of about $1,000 to the Kane building on Third street, occupied by the Jewett company. The fire originated from an overheated stove in the rear of the garage and reached the roof before it was extinguished.

The Herald prints today's news today.

Fortieth Death From Explosion.

New York, Nov. 15.—The fortieth death, resulting from the Wall street explosion on Sept. 16, occurred here yesterday when Francis B. Stoba, 34, of Bergenfield, N. J., died in the Broad street hospital. Mr. Stoba, an employe of a bank in the financial district, was passing the United States assay building when the explosion occurred. His skull was fractured.

THIEVES AFTER CADILLACS

This Make in Most Demand; One More Stolen Here.

The theft of another Cadillac automobile last night has strengthened Acting Police Chief Fiskett's belief that there is an organization of gangsters who are stealing Cadillacs throughout the country and shipping them to Europe.

The latest car to be stolen is owned by W. W. Crawford. It was taken at 10 p. m. last night from Fourth avenue west and First street. The license number is 316753. Other Cadillacs stolen belong to S. L. Yonce, W. A. Newcomb and J. W. Miller.

"My advice to all Cadillac owners is to lock their cars more securely," said Chief Fiskett today. "We have found that locks on the wheel are most effective. Usually they cannot be removed on the spot and attempts to smash such locks would draw attention. But a lock on the dashboard can easily be opened by an auto thief. Passersby will think it is the owner himself who is in the car."

Thieves Are Experts.

The thieves are, to all appearances, experienced auto mechanics, Chief Fiskett said. Every Cadillac stolen so far has been locked in some manner that has proved vulnerable to the attack of a thief working with a hairpin or similar tool.

Many cars have been stolen in Duluth but the police have succeeded in recovering practically all except the Cadillacs. Further proof of the conspiracy is contained in statements made by insurance agents to the effect that the same condition exists in the Twin Cities. A Michigan officer, here last week, also stated that a ship had been stopped in mid-ocean and sixteen used Cadillacs, consigned to Sweden, were taken off and shipped back to their owners in the United States.

BISHOP BLESSES BELL AT THE VILLA

With the ancient rituals that have come down since the earliest days of the Catholic church, Bishop J. T. McNicholas yesterday gave his blessing to the bell which will be placed in the new tower being built at the Villa Scholastica. In the absence of special dispensation by the pope, only a bishop is permitted to conduct such a ceremony.

The bell was dedicated for the holy purposes of calling people to church and particularly for the reception of the sacraments. On its exterior there are seven crosses to typify the seven sacraments. On the inside there are four crosses, typifying the fact that its voice is to be heard in the four corners of the world. The bell weighs 3,000 pounds.

A number of priests of the city were present at the ceremony. There was also a representative gathering of Catholic laymen.

Bishop McNicholas was at Cloquet on the morning, where he spoke to the Indians. Among the Indians in attendance was John Smith, who is believed to be 138 years, and the oldest living person in the world. Monsignor Buh, who has been a missionary among the Indians for more than sixty years, was also present.

NIGHT'S LODGING COSTS MELVIN TWO CASES

Sometimes hotel rates are quite reasonable, after all. For the best of hotels doesn't charge $20 a night.

So reasons Melvin Hestrom today. It cost Melvin exactly $20 for accommodations Saturday night. His bed consisted of the hard surface of Fifth avenue east somewhere between Fifth and Sixth streets. The curb served as a pillow.

Hestrom was discovered there, apparently dead to the world, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning by Fred Weinberg, who chanced to be passing by. He wore a light overcoat and his hat had blown away.

Realizing that Hestrom was likely to freeze to death, Mr. Weinberg tried to wake him. His efforts, however, were fruitless. To all appearance the man was already dead. Weinberg endeavored to obtain an ambulance at St Mary's hospital, but there was none available. He then summoned the police.

THEATERS TO KEEP UP PATRIOTIC WORK

Observance of Armistice day at Duluth theaters will bear a much more prominent part in the day's celebration than it has in the past. The special features put on at the playhouses operated by the Duluth Theater company last Thursday in honor of Gold Star mothers has suggested many possibilities for other features of interest, and plans are being formulated by former service men on the staffs of these theaters to make the observance a yearly affair and much more elaborate.

Before next season rolls around, these plans will be thoroughly worked out and a splendid program arranged. A large number of men on the staffs of the theaters here served in the army, navy or marines, and these will see that Armistice day is properly celebrated.

P. F. Schwie, resident manager for Finkelstein and Ruben, managers of the Duluth Theater company, was with the Three Hundred and Thirteenth engineers who marched on Metz. Roy Flaaten, orchestra director of the New Grand, was at St. Cierges, France, with a machine gun company of the Fourth anti-air craft. William C. Sutton, assistant manager of the New Grand, was a member of an ambulance corps and served in a base hospital in Savanay, France. Clifford Schwie of the New Astor served on a sub chaser, patroling the North sea. Howard Whelpley of the New Garrick was in the officers' training camp at McAllen, Tex. J. H. Kennedy of the New Lyric saw active service with the marine corp. Harry Segal of the New Lyric orchestra served with a naval band.

GO TO PITTSBURGH PLUS REHEARING

C. P. Craig, who has been the chairman of the base-price-for-steel committee of the Duluth Commercial club and kindred organizations, and T. T. Hudson, attorney to represent Duluth, left Saturday night for Washington to attend the rehearing before the Federal trade commission of the application to abolish the "Pittsburgh Plus" system of basing steel prices. The hearing opened at Washington today. H. G. Pickering and A. D. S. Gillett of Superior also went to Washington Saturday.

With proof that the Chicago and Duluth district mills make more steel than is sold in their natural trade territory, the opponents of "Pittsburgh plus" now contend that the commissioners' argument should cause them to reverse the tables and order steel sold on a "Chicago plus" or "Duluth plus" basis, giving the West cheaper steel than Pittsburgh instead of steel at much higher prices.

It is also alleged that the unfairness of the "Pittsburgh plus" system is enhanced by the increased freight rates. It is said that 35 and 40 per cent higher fictitious charges are added to steel made in Chicago and Duluth and sold in nearby cities. This increased charge narrows down the territory in which Western steel fabricators can compete on an equality with Pittsburgh fabricators to small sectors immediately to the west of the Western plants, while the Pittsburgh fabricators have the advantage in all other territory.

The resignation of W. B. Colver from the trade commission may have some effect on the result. Mr. Colver was one of the three members who voted against granting the complaint asked by the Western steel consumers.

Break Up S. A. Celebrations.

Tokio, Nov. 15.—Anti-Christian mobs twice broke up Salvation Army jubilee celebrations here yesterday. Salvation Army officials declare the disturbances were fomented by Buddhists.

One Hundred Investment Bargains in Railroad Bonds

In a circular prepared by one of the greatest bond authorities in this country, which we have just had printed, the bond situation is not only thoroughly covered, but there is a list of one hundred bargains in high grade railroad bonds yielding as high as

Ten Per Cent

Among this list are many unusual investment opportunities, and inasmuch as underlying factors are now favorable to rising bond prices, a selection of these bonds would unquestionably result in excellent market profits, in addition to an attractive income return.

The circular will be sent without obligation, together with a booklet describing a convenient method of purchasing the bonds.

In Memoriam

WHITNEY—In sad but loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Esther Elizabeth, who died one year ago today, Nov. 15, 1919.

Sad and lonely are our hearts today,
For you have passed away.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant which never can be filled.
We think of you in silence,
We cannot help but weep,
Dear Esther, as you sleep.
God has called you to eternal rest,
For He knows best.

FARM LANDS

THE GLAD HAND OF WELCOME

Will be extended to you by your old friends and neighbors now living at Rio Linda on our ten and twenty-acre poultry and fruit farms in the suburbs of beautiful Sacramento, California. You have planned for months and years that some time you would go to California to live and get away from the long, cold winters. Here is your opportunity. Our new book, "Poultry and Orchards," tells you all about these little farms and what our people are doing and about their daily cash income from their large flocks of white Leghorn hens. We will mail you this book on request if you will write and tell us when you plan to make the trip to California.

NOT TO ENCROACH UPON THE MONROE DOCTRINE

League of Nations Will Not Consider Any South American Questions.

Would Not Be Regarded at Washington as Any Encroachment.

Geneva, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—All danger that the assembly of the League of Nations may encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States, has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia and Peru for revision of treaties with Chile. Their requests were withdrawn yesterday, it having been Bolivia's purpose to gain access to the sea and Peru's to secure reconsideration of the vexing Tacna Arica question.

It is not expected that any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the assembly.

Six committees charged with dealing with all questions on the agenda, began work today. Each committee has forty-one members, all the nations having delegates at the meeting here being represented.

It is reported that South American delegates have agreed the League of Nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

Argentina is regarded as a strong candidate for representation on the council of the league, the four elective members of which will be chosen by the assembly after receiving the report of the committee on general organization.

The work of the assembly was well under way before noon. The report of the council of the league on the work that had been done since the league was organized was taken up by the delegates after completion of organization of committees.

Not an Encroachment.

Washington, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Consideration of the Tacna-Africa dispute between Chile, Peru and Bolivia by the League of Nations would not be regarded by the American government as an encroachment of the league on the Monroe Doctrine, according to state department officials.

It has been pointed out that settlement by such means would not be without precedent, as the king of England and the king of Spain have acted as arbiters in South American boundary questions in the past.

The administration's attitude with respect to the Monroe Doctrine has been based upon the literal interpretation providing against any territorial aggression in South America.

RAILROADS IN HARD LUCK

Trials of Rail Presidents Told to Railway Labor Board.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The trials of railroad presidents who preside over the destinies of the country's short lines are coming to light in the hearings being given here to more than 100 short lines whose employes have petitioned the United States railway labor board for increased pay.

One Texas road, built primarily to open up a route to some mineral deposit beds, has to date the champion hard luck tale, according to G. W. W. Hanger, member of the board. The president of the line explained he owned forty-one miles of track between two terminal cities. His fast passenger train covered the distance in two hours.

Bus and Truck Competitors.

But between the two cities is a hard surfaced highway, and enterprising auto owners have opened a bus line. The highway, on a direct route, is little more than twenty miles long, compared to the railroad's forty-one. The auto bus covers the distance in forty minutes, one hour and twenty minutes faster than the train, and charges the same fare.

The freight outlook he described as equally bad. A company operating motor trucks with two trailers to the truck hauls freight over the highway faster than the road can by train, delivers the goods at the merchant's store door, and charges the same tariff as the railroad. And on top of his other troubles it is now estimated that the mineral deposits which furnish the main remaining source of revenue will be exhausted within three years.

Alabama Road Losing Money.

The president of an Alabama short line whose principal source of revenue is hauling ore to Birmingham furnaces appeared to defend his company against six employes, all station agents, who had requested more money. Their present income is $95 a month.

The railroad president exhibited a personal knowledge of the affairs of each of his employes. One of the station agents, he said, owned a country store a few rods from the railroad station and had run his telegraph wire into the store so he could handle his duties as dispatcher and operator while waiting on customers. A second was described as the wife of a prosperous farmer. She had her telegraph line in the farm kitchen, the president said. Of the six operators only one was located in a town, and that was a village of 500 population. The president said his road paid no dividends and operated at a loss of $100,000 last year.

Hearing of the more than 100 short line cases, each of which is being taken up separately, is expected to continue for several weeks. Decisions in all cases will be handed down simultaneously.

PAYMENT OF INCOME TAX IS PROBLEM

Some Concerns Have Not Money to Pay Last Installment.

Congress Alone Can Authorize the Postponement of Payment.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Should corporations and manufacturing concerns which haven't the money to pay their last installment of income taxes on Dec. 15 be allowed to postpone payment until they have more cash on hand, or should Uncle Sam insist that the business houses which haven't saved up enough money to pay their taxes suffer the consequences of their mistake?

This question is being put up to the treasury department because of the fears of certain textile concerns that unless the government helps out by postponing the December payment on income taxes there will be bankruptcy proceedings in many large business establishments.

Congress Alone Can Act.

But the treasury department has no discretion in the matter, and officials there say congress alone can authorize the postponement of any payment on income taxes. Inasmuch as congress meets on Monday, Dec. 6, a new law would have to be passed immediately because the present law requires payment on Dec. 15 and provides penalties for failure to pay. It is doubtful whether any satisfactory measure could be jammed through in a week, for it opens up the whole subject of taxation. The most that might be accomplished is a simple amendment to existing revenue laws giving the treasury department temporary discretion to act in cases wherein the facts prove a postponement is absolutely essential to prevent ruin.

Officials who administer the income tax laws, however, are afraid of such a provision. They say it will require a huge staff and lots of money to determine what is a meritorious case. The income tax bureau has a hard time handling the present provisions of the law without new burdens, yet officials recognize the emergency and realize how serious the consequences may be to the public if many concerns are forced into bankruptcy. Income tax executives say they are losing men as fast as they employ new ones. Government salaries are not comparable to the attractive offers made by the business world. Yet the

NAVAL DESERTER IS HELD ON SUSPICION

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Harold Potter said to be a deserter from the Great Lakes naval training station, was arrested this morning as a suspect in connection with the murder of the two young women whose bodies were found in Grant park. Potter was found to have an empty vial, said by medical examiners to have contained poison.

The arrest was made following information obtained by the detective bureau that the two murdered actresses had been seen with a sailor prior to the murder.

Officials said that he would be questioned further today.

DESIRE IT CONTINUED

Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.—The Interchurch World Movement was "far from a failure" in the opinion of Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago, who today addressed the committee on conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church. He added that a plan was afoot "to bring all interdenominational Protestant forces together in a forward movement of larger proportion than any yet undertaken."

"The movement brought together the Protestant churches in a co-operation never before known to them, and actually resulted in the raising of $155,000,000," said Bishop Nicholson. "It has left a deepening conviction throughout the nation that there must be a perpetuation of the things for which that movement stood. As chairman of the reorganization committee, I can say that we have just completed in New York a three days' series of conferences with various interdenominational organizations. We found a universal desire for the reorganization and continuation of the Interchurch Movement, either under that or some other name.

"The meeting in New York last week convinced me more than ever before that the aims and ideals of the last three years are desirable, profitable and workable. We shall learn by our

UNITED STATES AT ODDS WITH WESTERN UNION

Washington, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The long standing controversy between the state department and the Western Union Telegraph company has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the department except upon prepayment of tolls.

The company's order was issued on Nov. 10, it was said today at the department, and ostensibly was to apply to all departments of the government. It was understood, however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the ruling.

The Western Union company is stated to have based its action on the delay by the department in making payments on cable messages previously handled. Department officials asserted today, however, that it was in their opinion a step in retaliation for the failure of the department to permit the landing of a cable at Miami, Fla., connecting at Barbadoes with a British cable from South America.

Permit Withheld.

Several months ago the Western Union applied for an executive permit to land the cable at Miami, but the state department was said to have demanded a copy of the contract between the Western Union and the British company owning the connecting South American cable line. The copy was not forthcoming and the permit was withheld.

Later a British cable ship chartered to lay the cable was ordered to Miami. The navy department sent destroyers there to keep the British ship outside the three-mile limit. The British embassy ordered the vessel's captain not to attempt to land the cable.

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, later became counsel for the Western Union company and department officers say he delivered to them a copy of the contract. It had been explained previously the department before issuing the permit desired to determine whether the contract between the American and British companies would strengthen the cable monopoly held by the British company on the east coast of South America.

Action Deferred.

The permit to land the cable still was withheld, it being explained action was being deferred until after the meeting of the international communications conference in session here.

A report reached the government last week that the Western Union was to make another attempt to land the cable and Secretary Daniels ordered the naval station at Key West to take the necessary steps to prevent it. The Western Union company denied it intended to land the line. Then the order refusing government cable messages except upon payment of cash in advance was issued.

In stating that its order was issued because of the failure of the state department to pay for messages, the Western Union company was said to

EAST PLANS TO GRAB RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS IF IT CAN

Washington, Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.—That the Eastern men and organizations opposed to the plan for deep waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, are planning to obtain control of the Rivers and Harbors congress, which will meet here Dec. 8, 9 and 10, is the belief of C. P. Craig and others from the West now attending the Federal trade commission's hearing on Pittsburgh plus here at present. The Eastern organizations opposed to the deep waterways plan are various but chief among them is the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which advocates the development of canals and coastwise waterways on the Atlantic coast. So far they have advocated nothing at the meetings that have been held to consider the problem, but have spent their time in attacking the lakes-to-ocean plan.

Effort Will Be Made.

"I was warned before leaving Duluth," said Mr. Craig today, "that these organizations would endeavor to capture the Rivers and Harbors congress when it meets here next month. It seemed reasonable so I investigated. I have found since coming here on this trip that that is the idea all right, and an effort will be made by the Atlantic Deep Waterways association to have a resolution adopted opposing the expenditure of the money derived from the people of the United States outside of the boundaries of the nation. Such a resolution will mean nothing technically but should it be adopted might have a bad effect on our project, and for that reason we propose to fight it with every weapon we can muster.

"To make a good fight we must have strong representation from every section that wants a lake-to-the-ocean connection. It will be much easier to get a crowd to the convention from the East than from the West, but we of the West and Northwest must make a special effort to get strong men and lots of them to the Rivers and Harbors congress. It is vital."

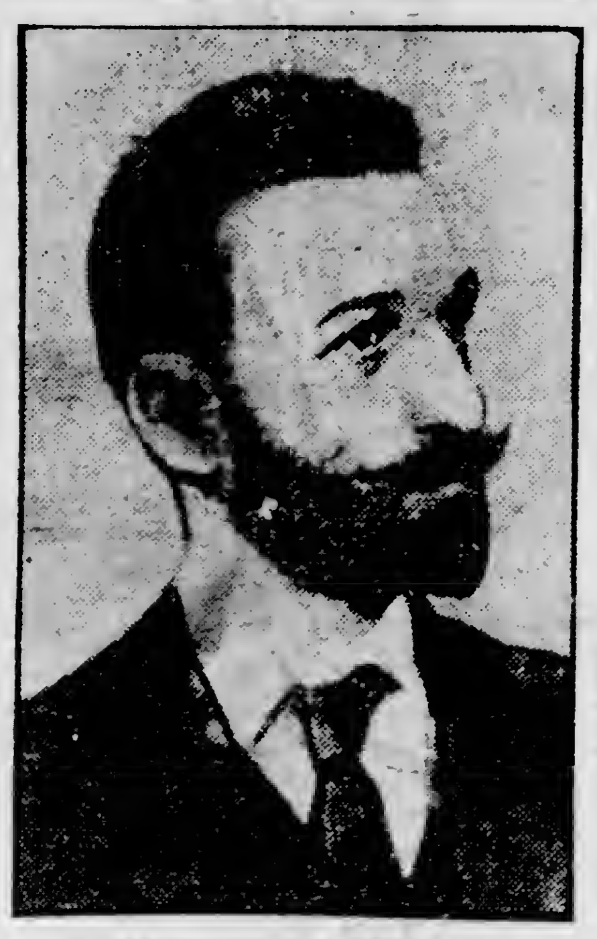
GIRL IS WOUNDED BY STRAY BULLET

Deer River, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first hunting accident has just been reported here. Dorothy Hansen, 11, was brought in from her home twelve miles distant, Monday, having been shot through the chest.

While playing in her yard at home at 10 o'clock the stray bullet of a hunter pierced the upper tip of her lung and passed out at the back shattering the shoulder.

Dr. Dumas says the wound is not fatal. Some hunters were seen, but who fired the shot is not known.

MAY BE CALLED UPON TO FORM NEW GREEK CABINET



DEMETRIOS GOUNARIS.

Paris, Nov. 16.—An Athens dispatch today said it had been announced the opposition leaders had decided to intrust the formation of a cabinet to George Rhallis, but as he had refused to undertake the task it was believed Former Premier Gounaris would head the new government.

HEARING ON STEEL RATES AT CAPITAL

Federal Board Hears Arguments for Elimination of Pittsburgh Plus.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Nov. 16.—Arguments in favor of eliminating Pittsburgh as the basing point of the nation for steel prices were made today before the Federal trade commission. They will probably last two weeks for the United States Steel corporation has an array of legal talent here to resist the arguments of northwestern cities for the change.

If the Pittsburgh plus is eliminated, said Attorney General Hilton, "undoubtedly the state of Minnesota would be many millions of dollars ahead within the next few years."

Mills at Duluth.

The attorney general dealt with the reasons for erection of mills at Duluth, pointing out that years ago great discontent grew from the policy of sending ore to Lake Erie ports, there to be manufactured into steel and the steel hauled back to the Northwest, thus requiring purchasers to pay two freight rate charges that were absolutely unnecessary.

Later on they awoke to the astounding fact that a Minnesota purchaser of steel at the Duluth mills was required to pay the same price as the Pennsylvania purchaser at the Pittsburgh mills. In addition thereto he now had to pay $9.90 per ton, the freight rate from Pittsburgh to Duluth, when no transportation was had and not one cent of freight paid.

Minnesota citizens, he said, had just cause for dissatisfaction then and even more so now on account of the increased freight rate. The arbitrary additional price is now $13.20 a ton. Not only is Minnesota interested as a purchaser of steel, said Attorney General Hilton, but every man, woman and child in the state is interested either directly or indirectly on account of the fact that a reduction in the price of steel will enure to the benefit of all.

HOBBY CALLS ON HARDING

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forced by wind and weather to abandon his vacation in Point Isabel, President-elect Harding turned his attention here today to some of the work that has piled up during his week of isolation.

He hoped to go out for a game of golf before the day was over, but first he cleared away some of his accumulated correspondence and worked on the address he is to deliver Thursday in New Orleans. He received his first callers since he came to Texas, Governor Hobby of Texas and Senator Fall of New Mexico being among them.

Governor Hobby made the trip here from Austin to extend formally the appreciation of Texas over Mr. Harding's visit and Senator Fall is understood to have discussed border conditions.

Senator and Mrs. Harding came to Brownsville from Point Isabel yesterday and will leave tomorrow for New Orleans, where they will go aboard a steamer for Panama. They spent the night at the home of R. B. Creager, a Brownsville lawyer, while most of their guests stayed on board the two private cars of the Harding train, side-tracked

GREEK PREMIER LOSES ELECTION AND RESIGNS

George Rhallis to Be Entrusted With Formation of New Ministry.

Athens, Nov. 16.—Premier Venizelos' cabinet resigned early today, and Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent of Greece, has sent for George Rhallis, to whom, it is expected, will be entrusted the formation of a new ministry.

The complete victory of the opposition seemed almost certain last night, although final results were still lacking. Even leaders of the elements opposed to Premier Venizelos in the elections held on Sunday were surprised by the showing their candidates had made in Salonica and Attica.

It is said M. Venizelos will leave the country and he has advised liberals to abide by the verdict of the people.

Policy Unchanged.

Demetrios Gounaris, leader of the opposition, has declared the foreign policy of Greece will not be changed.

Latest returns from the election give the supporters of M. Venizelos 118 deputies against 250 royalists. M. Venizelos, and all but two of his ministers were beaten. None of the Venizelist candidates were elected in Greece and Macedonia, with the exception of Epirus and the Aegean islands.

Two persons were killed by shots fired from houses facing the foreign office yesterday. It was declared that reactionary elements were responsible for the firing. Armed police rushed to the scene and a lively fusillade resulted. Further trouble was feared last night.

Rhallis for Premier.

London, Nov. 16.—George Rhallis, former Greek premier and minister of finance, has been asked by the regent to form a cabinet succeeding that of Eliphtherios Venizelos, which resigned this morning, says a Reuter's dispatch from Paris.

The bourse at Athens has been closed because of the fear of a panic, it is said.

M. Rhallis is 80 years old, his last public office being that of minister of finance in the Zaimis cabinet in 1916. Previous to that time he took a prominent part in Greek politics.

Unpleasant Surprise.

Paris, Nov. 16.—Reports that Premier Venizelos of Greece met defeat in the elections held on Saturday, came as an unpleasant surprise to Paris. Newspapers agree that England and probably France, will forbid the return of Former King Constantine to Greece.

Hope is expressed by "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, that even a compromise placing Prince George, the eldest son of Constantine on the throne, will not be sanctioned by the Entente. Most writers fear the result of the election, if it brings about the fall of Venizelos, will still further complicate the already difficult situation in the Near East.

Against Constantine's Return.

With defeat of Premier Venizelos regarded by the French foreign office as certain, it is said the position of France and Great Britain with regard to Former King Constantine is clearly against his return, and both powers are determined to do everything possible to prevent it.

Great Britain and France, it is indicated, will act together, but will await some indication of Constantine's intention to return. The question of the return of Former Crown Prince George had not been raised, it was added.

"The defeat of Premier Venizelos," a foreign office statement said, "may be termed a display of gross ingratitude by the Greeks for the man who brought the country to the Allies' side and greatly increased its size, power and influence, and this view is shared by the Allies. It was a great shock to the Allies."

TWO INVESTIGATIONS OF BUILDING TRUST

New York, Nov. 16.—New York today became the scene of two parallel investigations of the alleged "building trust" here. The joint legislative committee, with Samuel Untermyer as chief counsel, hereafter will confine its labors to efforts to expose graft in the city's private building enterprise, while the city administration will delve into reports of illegal acts in connection with contracts for public buildings, such as schoolhouses, courthouses and other structures.

Mr. Untermyer said the investigation by the legislative committee "has merely scratched the surface of a few small monopolistic combinations in the building situation," and that the large concerns would be attacked with the aid of Federal authorities.

NATIONAL FARMERS' UNION IN SESSION

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Establishment and extension of co-operative sales agencies to eliminate the middleman in the marketing of farm products was one of the principal subjects on the program of the convention of the National Farmers' union which opened here today. Delegates from twenty-eight states were present.

The organization, according to delegates, directs a co-operative farm business aggregating $500,000,000 annually and represents more than 800,000 farmers.

Satisfied With Settlement.

London, Nov. 16.—Great Britain, France and the United States have, through their ambassadors, expressed satisfaction with the settlement of the Ardiatic question reached at Rapallo, Italy, last week, Premier Giolitti of Italy announced at a cabinet meeting yesterday, says a dispatch from the Stefani News agency, a semi-official organization.

MEANS MANY NEW STREETS FOR DULUTH

Adoption of Amendment No. 4 Permits Levy on Railroads.

Numerous Improvements Here Made Possible by Passage of New Law.

"One of the biggest things that ever happened to Duluth," was the way J. A. Farrell, commissioner of public works, characterized the adoption of Amendment No. 4, which, it was announced yesterday, had been carried. This amendment provides that special assessments may be levied against railroads the same as against individual property owners, which has not been the case under the gross earnings law.

A conservative estimate, according to Mr. Farrell, will place the saving to the city, by the adoption of this amendment, at about $1,500,000. Where it was impossible to proceed with paving and the construction of sewers on streets adjoining railroad property, on account of either the property owners on one side of the street paying the entire assessment or the city paying the railroad's share, half of the cost of the improvement can now be assessed against the railroads.

Superior Street Paving.

East Superior street, which it was intended paving as far as Forty-fourth avenue east next year can now be paved as far as Lester river bridge, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad paying half of the cost from Forty-fourth avenue to Lester park. It will also allow the city to pave the street to the city limits, should there be a petition calling for that improvement. On this improvement alone there will be a saving to the city of $40,000 to $50,000 on East Superior street and if carried to the city limits, at least $200,000.

Michigan street, from Second avenue east to Fifth avenue east, can now be paved without added cost to the property owners on the north side of the street, as the railroad will now have to pay its share. Jefferson street, east of Twenty-second avenue east, can also be improved next year, according to Commissioner Farrell. This work was held up last year on account of the cost to property owners who would have had to pay the entire cost. Now the railroads will pay their half.

Sewers and West End.

Another feature of the new law will be that the city can assess the railroads for their share of the cost of sewers where it is proved they will be a benefit to the railroad property.

The new law has also made it pos-

FRENCH ARE PESSIMISTIC

Not Favorable to Further Military Movements in Russia Now.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The defeat of Gen. Wrangel, whose South Russian government had been recognized by France, does not mean that France is ready to consider recognition of the Russian soviet government, it was said at the foreign office today.

The French government is pessimistic regarding any further military movements in Russia at present, it was indicated.

Gen. Wrangel himself, the foreign office advices said, either had arrived at Constantinople on board the Russian cruiser Korniloff or was on the way to that city.

Desires Russian Trade.

London, Nov. 16.—Representatives of the Russian trade delegation in London, headed by Leonid Krassin, were in conference yesterday with the cabinet, discussing the preliminaries for the possible resumption of trade with Soviet Russia.

Some progress was made, but it is stated there is a sharp division of opinion in the British cabinet on the subject. Premier Lloyd George is reported to favor resumption, but several prominent cabinet members are opposing it.

Mr. Lloyd George is said to be supported by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons, and Sir Robert S. Horne, president of the board of trade.

The difficulty of the situation is made greater by the attitude of France, where general public opinion is reflected as against resumption. It is said Great Britain will not resume trade with the soviets without consent of the French cabinet.

Wrangel Leaves Sebastopol.

London, Nov. 16.—Gen. Baron Wrangel, head of the South Russian government, whose army has been virtually wiped out by the Bolshevik offensive in Crimea, left Sebastopol on a Russian cruiser filled with soldiers, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The cruiser was accompanied by three transports carrying 20,000 troops and another carrying wounded men, the fleet sailing for an unknown port.

Russian soviet forces had not reached Sebastopol before the city was evacuated, it is said. The United States destroyers Humphreys, Whipple and Edwards arrived at Constantinople with refugees yesterday.

ROBBERS GET ALL CASH IN INSTITUTION

Cashier, Clerks and Customers Forced to Lie on Floor.

One Bandit Goes Through Vault Securing $7,000 in Cash.

Four Men in Party Make Their Escape in an Auto.

What is feared may be only the first of a series of daylight bank robberies such as have terriorized Minneapolis and other cities of the country within the last few years, occurred this morning when the Superior State bank, 502 Becker avenue, Superior, of which B. Murray Peyton of Duluth is vice president, was held up and looted of virtually all of the cash in the institution, approximately $7,000.

Police at the Head of the Lakes, warned by similar robberies in other parts of the country, facilitated since the automobile has come into common use, have been expecting something of the kind for some time and have repeatedly warned banks hereabouts, especially those in the outlying districts of the two cities.

At 10:45 this morning, four men drove in a blue Cadillac car with a Minnesota license to within a couple of blocks of the Superior State bank, left one man in the car with the engine still running, and the other three men went to the bank, entered, held up the attendants and customers present and while one stood guard over those in the building and another stood guard at the door, the third went through the vault, taking virtually every piece of cash in sight.

Forced to Lie Down.

H. D. Erickson, cashier, and two assistants, Miss Nellie Mulligan and Miss Martha Nelson, were the only bank employes in the building.

"I heard someone yell," Erickson told the police, "and when I looked up I saw two revolvers staring me in the face. I started to close the vault when one of the robbers fired. He missed me."

One of the bandits then forced Erickson and the two girls to lie on the floor, face down. He stood guard over them with an automatic. A second robber forced several customers to lie down also. The third man ransacked the vault.

All four robbers then sped to their Cadillac and drove off towards Allouez. Later information received by the Superior police stated that the car had

STEAMER BRADLEY ON WAY TO DULUTH

The O. W. Blodgett steamer C. H. Bradley, reported missing since the storm on Lake Superior of last Saturday, is on her way to Duluth and is expected to arrive about midnight. She left the Portage canal at 9:45 this morning, headed this way. The Blodgett office in the Lyceum building gave the information this morning that there was never warrant for the report that the steamer was missing, as they have been in touch with her movements right along ever since she left the lower lake ports.

MILLER IN CHARGE OF WASHINGTON OFFICE

New York, Nov. 16.—The Republican national committee will abandon its headquarters here Dec. 1, Will H. Hays, chairman, announced today. The only office of the committee then will be in Washington, of which Clarence B. Miller, secretary of the committee, will be in charge.

THINK WIDLAR MAY BE SAVED

Crew Tells of Thrilling Experiences While Stranded on Shoals.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 16.—Capt. Arthur Forbes of the wrecked Francis J. Widlar and representatives of the Becker line, owners of the vessel, were planning today to undertake to salvage the freighter which was driven upon Pancake shoals in Lake Superior Friday night and had, up to noon yesterday, withstood the pounding of the heavy seas.

According to Capt. Forbes, with twenty-seven members of his crew who arrived here last night aboard rescue tugs, the steamer was not believed so badly damaged below the water line that she could not be saved.

The members of the crew recovered from their sixty hours' exposure on the stranded vessel, were preparing to leave for their homes.

Tell Thrilling Stories.

Members of the crew told thrilling stories of the long and stormy hours of the night when they felt they faced certain death on the sinking ship. Several members of the crew, ill from exposure, were taken to the hospital. All others were immediately fed and

League of Nations Will Not Consider Any South American Questions.

Would Not Be Regarded at Washington as Any Encroachment.

Geneva, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—All danger that the assembly of the League of Nations may encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States, has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia and Peru for revision of treaties with Chile. Their requests were withdrawn yesterday, it having been Bolivia's purpose to gain access to the sea and Peru's to secure reconsideration of the vexing Tacna Arica question.

It is not expected that any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the assembly.

The committees charged with dealing with all questions on the agenda, began work today. Each committee has forty-one members, all the nations having delegates at the meeting here being represented.

It is reported that South American delegates have agreed the League of Nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

Argentina is regarded as a strong candidate for representation on the council of the league, the four elective members of which will be chosen by the assembly after receiving the report of the committee on general organization.

The work of the assembly was well under way before noon. The report of the council of the league on the work that had been done since the league was organized was taken up by the delegates after completion of organization of committees.

Not an Encroachment.

Washington, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Consideration of the Tacna Arica dispute between Chile, Peru and Bolivia by the League of Nations would not be regarded by the American government as an encroachment of the league on the Monroe Doctrine, according to state department officials.

It has been pointed out that settlement by such means would not be without precedent, as the king of England and the king of Spain have acted as arbiters in South American boundary questions in the past.

The administration's attitude with respect to the Monroe Doctrine has been based upon the literal interpretation providing against any territorial aggression in South America.

RAILROADS IN HARD LUCK

Trials of Rail Presidents Told to Railway Labor Board.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The trials of railroad presidents who preside over the destinies of the country's short lines are coming to light in the hearings being given here to more than 100 short lines whose employes have petitioned the United States railway labor board for increased pay.

One Texas road, built primarily to open up a route to some mineral deposit beds, has to date the champion hard luck tale, according to G. W. W. Hanger, member of the board. The president of the line explained he owned forty-one miles of track between two terminal cities. His fast passenger train covered the distance in two hours.

Bus and Truck Competitors.

But between the two cities is a hard surfaced highway, and enterprising auto owners have opened a bus line. The highway, on a direct route, is little more than twenty miles long, compared to the railroad's forty-one. The auto bus covers the distance in forty minutes, one hour and twenty minutes faster than the train, and charges the same fare.

The freight outlook he described as equally bad. A company operating motor trucks with two trailers to the truck hauls freight over the highway faster than the road can by train, delivers the goods at the merchant's store door, and charges the same tariff as the railroad. And on top of his other troubles it is now estimated that the mineral deposits which furnish the main remaining source of revenue will be exhausted within three years.

Alabama Road Losing Money.

The president of an Alabama short line whose principal source of revenue is hauling ore to Birmingham furnaces appeared to defend his company against six employes, all station agents, who had requested more money. Their present income is $95 a month.

The railroad president exhibited a personal knowledge of the affairs of each of his employes. One of the station agents, he said, owned a country store a few rods from the railroad station and had run his telegraph wire into the store so he could handle his duties as dispatcher and operator while waiting on customers. A second was described as the wife of a prosperous farmer. She had her telegraph line in the farm kitchen, the president said. Of the six operators only one was located in a town, and that was a village of 500 population. The president said his road paid no dividends and operated at a loss of $100,000 last year.

Hearing of the more than 100 short line cases, each of which is being taken up separately, is expected to continue for several weeks. Decisions in all cases will be handed down simultaneously.

PAYM NT OF INCOME TAX IS PROBLEM

Some Concerns Have Not Money to Pay Last Installment.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Should corporations and manufacturing concerns which haven't the money to pay their last installment of income taxes on Dec. 15 be allowed to postpone payment until they have more cash on hand, or should Uncle Sam insist that the business houses which haven't saved up enough money to pay their taxes suffer the consequences of their mistake?

This question is being put up to the treasury department because of the fears of certain textile concerns that unless the government helps out by postponing the December payment on income taxes there will be bankruptcy proceedings in many large business establishments.

Congress Alone Can Act.

But the treasury department has no discretion in the matter, and officials there say congress alone can authorize the postponement of any payment on income taxes. Inasmuch as congress meets on Monday, Dec. 6, a new law would have to be passed immediately because the present law requires payment on Dec. 15 and provides penalties for failure to pay. It is doubtful whether any satisfactory measure could be jammed through in a week, for it opens up the whole subject of taxation. The most that might be accomplished is a simple amendment to existing revenue laws giving the treasury department temporary discretion to act in cases wherein the facts prove a postponement is absolutely essential to prevent ruin.

Officials who administer the income tax laws, however, are afraid of such a provision. They say it will require a huge staff and lots of money to determine what is a meritorious case. The income tax bureau has a hard time handling the present provisions of the law without new burdens, yet officials recognize the emergency and realize how serious the consequences may be to the public if many concerns are forced into bankruptcy. Income tax executives say they are losing men as fast as they employ new ones. Government salaries are not comparable to the attractive offers made by the business world. Yet the

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Harold Potter said to be a deserter from the Great Lakes naval training station, was arrested this morning as a suspect in connection with the murder of the two young women whose bodies were found in Grant park. Potter was found to have an empty vial, said by medical examiners to have contained poison.

The arrest was made following information obtained by the detective bureau that the two murdered actresses had been seen with a sailor prior to the murder.

Officials said that he would be questioned further today.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.—The Interchurch World Movement was "far from a failure" in the opinion of Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago, who today addressed the committee on conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church. He added that a plan was afoot "to bring all interdenominational Protestant forces together in a forward movement of larger proportion than any yet undertaken."

"The movement brought together the Protestant churches in a co-operation never before known to them, and actually resulted in the raising of $155,000,000," said Bishop Nicholson. "It has left a deepening conviction throughout the nation that there must be a perpetuation of the things for which that movement stood. As chairman of the reorganization committee, I can say that we have just completed in New York a three days' series of conferences with various interdenominational organizations. We found a universal desire for the reorganization and continuation of the Interchurch Movement, either under that or some other name.

"The meeting in New York last week convinced me more than ever before that the aims and ideals of the last three years are desirable, profitable and workable. We shall learn by our

UNITED STATES AT ODDS WITH WESTERN UNION

Washington, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The long standing controversy between the state department and the Western Union Telegraph company has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the department except upon prepayment of tolls.

The company's order was issued on Nov. 10, it was said today at the department, and ostensibly was to apply to all departments of the government. It was understood, however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the ruling.

The Western Union company is stated to have based its action on the delay by the department in making payments on cable messages previously handled. Department officials asserted today, however, that it was in their opinion a step in retaliation for the failure of the department to permit the landing of a cable at Miami, Fla., connecting at Barbadoes with a British cable from South America.

Permit Withheld.

Several months ago the Western Union applied for an executive permit to land the cable at Miami, but the state department was said to have demanded a copy of the contract between the Western Union and the British company owning the connecting South American cable line. The copy was not forthcoming and the permit was withheld.

Later a British cable ship chartered to lay the cable was ordered to Miami. The navy department sent destroyers there to keep the British ship outside the three-mile limit. The British embassy ordered the vessel's captain not to attempt to land the cable.

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, later became counsel for the Western Union company and department officers say he delivered to them a copy of the contract. It had been explained previously the department before issuing the permit desired to determine whether the contract between the American and British companies would strengthen the cable monopoly held by the British company on the east coast of South America.

Action Deferred.

The permit to land the cable still was withheld, it being explained action was being deferred until after the meeting of the international communications conference in session here.

A report reached the government last week that the Western Union was to make another attempt to land the cable and Secretary Daniels ordered the naval station at Key West to take the necessary steps to prevent it. The Western Union company denied it intended to land the line. Then the order refusing government cable messages except upon payment of cash in advance was issued.

In stating that its order was issued because of the failure of the state department to pay for messages, the Western Union company was said to

EAST PLANS TO GRAB RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS IF IT CAN

Washington, Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.—That the Eastern men and organizations opposed to the plan for deep waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, are planning to obtain control of the Rivers and Harbors congress, which will meet here Dec. 8, 9 and 10, is the belief of C. P. Craig and others from the West now attending the Federal trade commission's hearing on Pittsburgh plus here at present. The Eastern organizations opposed to the deep waterways plan are various but chief among them is the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which advocates the development of canals and coastwise waterways on the Atlantic coast. So far they have advocated nothing at the meetings that have been held to consider the problem, but have spent their time in attacking the lakes-to-ocean plan.

Effort Will Be Made.

"I was warned before leaving Duluth," said Mr. Craig today, "that these organizations would endeavor to capture the Rivers and Harbors congress when it meets here next month. It seemed reasonable so I investigated. I have found since coming here on this trip that that is the idea all right, and an effort will be made by the Atlantic Deep Waterways association to have a resolution adopted opposing the expenditure of the money derived from the people of the United States outside of the boundaries of the nation. Such a resolution will mean nothing technically but should it be adopted might have a bad effect on our project, and for that reason we propose to fight it with every weapon we can muster.

"To make a good fight we must have strong representation from every section that wants a lake-to-the-ocean connection. It will be much easier to get a crowd to the convention from the East than from the West, but we of the West and Northwest must make a special effort to get strong men and lots of them to the Rivers and Harbors congress. It is vital."

GIRL IS WOUNDED BY STRAY BULLET

Deer River, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first hunting accident has just been reported here. Dorothy Hausen, 11, was brought in from her home twelve miles distant, Monday, having been shot through the chest.

While playing in her yard at home at 10 o'clock the stray bullet of a hunter pierced the upper tip of her lung and passed out at the back shattering the shoulder.

Dr. Dumas says the wound is not fatal. Some hunters were seen, but who fired the shot is not known.

MAY BE CALLED UPON TO FORM NEW GREEK CABINET

DEMETRIOS GOUNARIS.

Paris, Nov. 16.—An Athens dispatch today said it had been announced the opposition leaders had decided to intrust the formation of a cabinet to George Rhallis, but as he had refused to undertake the task it was believed Former Premier Gounaris would head the new government.

HEARING ON STEEL RATES AT CAPITAL

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Nov. 16.—Arguments in favor of eliminating Pittsburgh as the basing point of the nation for steel prices were made today before the Federal trade commission. They will probably last two weeks for the United States Steel corporation has an array of legal talent here to resist the arguments of northwestern cities for the change.

If the Pittsburgh plus is eliminated, said Attorney General Hilton, "undoubtedly the state of Minnesota would be many millions of dollars ahead within the next few years."

Mills at Duluth.

The attorney general dealt with the reasons for erection of mills at Duluth, pointing out that years ago great discontent grew from the policy of sending ore to Lake Erie ports, there to be manufactured into steel and the steel hauled back to the Northwest, thus requiring purchasers to pay two freight rate charges that were absolutely unnecessary.

Later on they awoke to the astounding fact that a Minnesota purchaser of steel at the Duluth mills was required to pay the same price as the Pennsylvania purchaser at the Pittsburgh mills. In addition thereto he now had to pay $9.50 per ton, the freight rate from Pittsburgh to Duluth, when no transportation was had and not one cent of freight paid.

Minnesota citizens, he said, had just cause for dissatisfaction then and even more so now on account of the increased freight rate. The arbitrary additional price is now $13.20 a ton. Not only is Minnesota interested as a purchaser of steel, said Attorney General Hilton, but every man, woman and child in the state is interested either directly or indirectly on account of the fact that a reduction in the price of steel will enure to the benefit of all.

HOBBY CALLS ON HARDING

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forced by wind and weather to abandon his vacation in Point Isabel, President-elect Harding turned his attention here today to some of the work that has piled up during his week of isolation.

He hoped to go out for a game of golf before the day was over, but first he cleared away some of his accumulated correspondence and worked on the address he is to deliver Thursday in New Orleans. He received his first callers since he came to Texas, Governor Hobby of Texas and Senator Fall of New Mexico being among them.

Governor Hobby made the trip here from Austin to extend formally the appreciation of Texas over Mr. Harding's visit and Senator Fall is understood to have discussed border conditions.

Senator and Mrs. Harding came to Brownsville from Point Isabel yesterday and will leave tomorrow for New Orleans, where they will go aboard a steamer for Panama. They spent the night at the home of R. B. Creager, a Brownsville lawyer, while most of their guests stayed on board the two private cars of the Harding train, side-tracked

George Rhallis to Be Entrusted With Formation of New Ministry.

Athens, Nov. 16.—Premier Venizelos' cabinet resigned early today, and Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent of Greece, has sent for George Rhallis, to whom, it is expected, will be entrusted the formation of a new ministry.

The complete victory of the opposition seemed almost certain last night, although final results were still lacking. Even leaders of the elements opposed to Premier Venizelos in the elections held on Sunday were surprised by the showing their candidates had made in Salonica and Attica.

It is said M. Venizelos will leave the country and he has advised liberals to abide by the verdict of the people.

Policy Unchanged.

Demetrios Gounaris, leader of the opposition, has declared the foreign policy of Greece will not be changed.

Latest returns from the election give the supporters of M. Venizelos 118 deputies against 250 royalists. M. Venizelos, and all but two of his ministers were beaten. None of the Venizelist candidates were elected in Greece and Macedonia, with the exception of Epirus and the Aegean islands.

Two persons were killed by shots fired from houses facing the foreign office yesterday. It was declared that reactionary elements were responsible for the firing. Armed police rushed to the scene and a lively fusillade resulted. Further trouble was feared last night.

Rhallis for Premier.

London, Nov. 16.—George Rhallis, former Greek premier and minister of finance, has been asked by the regent to form a cabinet succeeding that of Eliphtherios Venizelos, which resigned this morning, says a Reuter's dispatch from Paris.

The bourse at Athens has been closed because of the fear of a panic, it is said.

M. Rhallis is 80 years old, his last public office being that of minister of finance in the Zaimis cabinet in 1916. Previous to that time he took a prominent part in Greek politics.

Unpleasant Surprise.

Paris, Nov. 16.—Reports that Premier Venizelos of Greece met defeat in the elections held on Saturday, came as an unpleasant surprise to Paris. Newspapers agree that England and probably France, will forbid the return of Former King Constantine to Greece.

Hope is expressed by "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, that even a compromise placing Prince George, the eldest son of Constantine on the throne, will not be sanctioned by the Entente. Most writers fear the result of the election, if it brings about the fall of Venizelos, will still further complicate the already difficult situation in the Near East.

Against Constantine's Return.

With defeat of Premier Venizelos regarded by the French foreign office as certain, it is said the position of France and Great Britain with regard to Former King Constantine is clearly against his return, and both powers are determined to do everything possible to prevent it.

Great Britain and France, it is indicated, will act together, but will await some indication of Constantine's intention to return. The question of the return of Former Crown Prince George had not been raised, it was added.

"The defeat of Premier Venizelos," a foreign office statement said, "may be termed a display of gross ingratitude by the Greeks for the man who brought the country to the Allies' side and greatly increased its size, power and influence, and this view is shared by the Allies. It was a great shock to the Allies."

TWO INVESTIGATIONS OF BUILDING TRUST

New York, Nov. 16.—New York today became the scene of two parallel investigations of the alleged "building trust" here. The joint legislative committee, with Samuel Untermyer as chief counsel, hereafter will confine its labors to efforts to expose graft in the city's private building enterprise, while the city administration will delve into reports of illegal acts in connection with contracts for public buildings, such as schoolhouses, courthouses and other structures.

Mr. Untermyer said the investigation by the legislative committee "has merely scratched the surface of a few small monopolistic combinations in the building situation," and that the larger concerns would be attacked with the aid of Federal authorities.

NATIONAL FARMERS' UNION IN SESSION

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Establishment and extension of co-operative sales agencies to eliminate the middleman in the marketing of farm products was one of the principal subjects on the program of the convention of the National Farmers' union which opened here today. Delegates from twenty-eight states were present.

The organization, according to delegates, directs a co-operative farm business aggregating $500,000,000 annually and represents more than 800,000 farmers.

Satisfied With Settlement.

London, Nov. 16.—Great Britain, France and the United States have, through their ambassadors, expressed satisfaction with the settlement of the Adriatic question reached at Rapallo, Italy, last week, Premier Giolitti of Italy announced at a cabinet meeting yesterday, says a dispatch from the Stefani News agency, a semi-official organization.

MEANS MANY NEW STREETS FOR DULUTH

Adoption of Amendment No. 4 Permits Levy on Railroads.

Numerous Improvements Here Made Possible by Passage of New Law.

"One of the biggest things that ever happened to Duluth," was the way J. A. Farrell, commissioner of public works, characterized the adoption of Amendment No. 4, which, it was announced yesterday, had been carried. This amendment provides that special assessments may be levied against railroads the same as against individual property owners, which has not been the case under the gross earnings law.

A conservative estimate, according to Mr. Farrell, will place the saving to the city, by the adoption of this amendment, at about $1,500,000. Where it was impossible to proceed with paving and the construction of sewers on streets adjoining railroad property, on account of either the property owners on one side of the street paying the entire assessment or the city paying the railroad's share, half of the cost of the improvement can now be assessed against the railroads.

Superior Street Paving.

East Superior street, which it was intended paving as far as Forty-fourth avenue east next year can now be paved as far as Lester river bridge, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad paying half of the cost from Forty-fourth avenue to Lester park. It will also allow the city to pave the street to the city limits, should there be a petition calling for that improvement. On this improvement alone there will be a saving to the city of $40,000 to $50,000 on East Superior street and if carried to the city limits, at least $200,000.

Michigan street, from Second avenue east to Fifth avenue east, can now be paved without added cost to the property owners on the north side of the street, as the railroad will now have to pay its share. Jefferson street, east of Twenty-second avenue east, can also be improved next year, according to Commissioner Farrell. This work was held up last year on account of the cost to property owners who would have had to pay the entire cost. Now the railroads will pay their half.

Sewers and West End.

Another feature of the new law will be that the city can assess the railroads for their share of the cost of sewers where it is proved they will be a benefit to the railroad property.

The new law has also made it pos-

FRENCH ARE PESSIMISTIC

Paris, Nov. 16.—The defeat of Gen. Wrangel, whose South Russian government had been recognized by France, does not mean that France is ready to consider recognition of the Russian soviet government, it was said at the foreign office today.

The French government is pessimistic regarding any further military movements in Russia at present, it was indicated.

Gen. Wrangel himself, the foreign office advices said, either had arrived at Constantinople on board the Russian cruiser Korniloff or was on the way to that city.

Desires Russian Trade.

London, Nov. 16.—Representatives of the Russian trade delegation in London, headed by Leonid Krassin, were in conference yesterday with the cabinet, discussing the preliminaries for the possible resumption of trade with Soviet Russia.

Some progress was made, but it is stated there is a sharp division of opinion in the British cabinet on the subject. Premier Lloyd George is reported to favor resumption, but several prominent cabinet members are opposing it.

Mr. Lloyd George is said to be supported by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons, and Sir Robert S. Horne, president of the board of trade.

The difficulty of the situation is made greater by the attitude of France, where general public opinion is reflected as against resumption. It is said Great Britain will not resume trade with the soviets without consent of the French cabinet.

Wrangel Leaves Sebastopol.

London, Nov. 16.—Gen. Baron Wrangel, head of the South Russian government, whose army has been virtually wiped out by the Bolshevik offensive in Crimea, left Sebastopol on a Russian cruiser filled with soldiers, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The cruiser was accompanied by three transports carrying 20,000 troops and another carrying wounded men, the fleet sailing for an unknown port.

Russian soviet forces had not reached Sebastopol before the city was evacuated, it is said. The United States destroyers Humphreys, Whipple and Edwards arrived at Constantinople with refugees yesterday.

ROBBERS GET ALL CASH IN INSTITUTION

Cashier, Clerks and Customers Forced to Lie on Floor.

What is feared may be only the first of a series of daylight bank robberies such as have terriorized Minneapolis and other cities of the country within the last few years, occurred this morning when the Superior State bank, 502 Becker avenue, Superior, of which B. Murray Peyton of Duluth is vice president, was held up and looted of virtually all of the cash in the institution, approximately $7,000.

Police at the Head of the Lakes, warned by similar robberies in other parts of the country, facilitated since the automobile has come into common use, have been expecting something of the kind for some time and have repeatedly warned banks hereabouts, especially those in the outlying districts of the two cities.

At 10:45 this morning, four men drove in a blue Cadillac car with a Minnesota license to within a couple of blocks of the Superior State bank, left one man in the car with the engine still running, and the other three men went to the bank, entered, held up the attendants and customers present and while one stood guard over those in the building and another stood guard at the door, the third went through the vault, taking virtually every piece of cash in sight.

Forced to Lie Down.

H. D. Erickson, cashier, and two assistants, Miss Nellie Mulligan and Miss Martha Nelson, were the only bank employes in the building.

"I heard someone yell," Erickson told the police, "and when I looked up I saw two revolvers staring me in the face. I started to close the vault when one of the robbers fired. He missed me."

One of the bandits then forced Erickson and the two girls to lie on the floor, face down. He stood guard over them with an automatic. A second robber forced several customers to lie down also. The third man ransacked the vault.

All four robbers then sped to their Cadillac and drove off towards Allouez. Later information received by the Superior police stated that the car had

STEAMER BRADLEY ON WAY TO DULUTH

The O. W. Blodgett steamer F. H. Bradley, reported missing since the storm on Lake Superior of last Saturday, is on her way to Duluth and is expected to arrive about midnight. She left the Portage canal at 9:45 this morning, headed this way. The Blodgett office in the Lyceum building gave the information this morning that there was never warrant for the report that the steamer was missing, as they have been in touch with her movements right along ever since she left the lower lake ports.

MILLER IN CHARGE OF WASHINGTON OFFICE

THINK WIDLAR MAY BE SAVED

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Nov. 16.—Capt. Arthur Forbes of the wrecked Francis J. Widlar and representatives of the Becker line, owners of the vessel, were planning today to undertake to salvage the freighter which was driven upon Pancake shoals in Lake Superior Friday night and had, up to noon yesterday, withstood the pounding of the heavy seas.

According to Capt. Forbes, with twenty-seven members of his crew who arrived here last night aboard rescue tugs, the steamer was not believed so badly damaged below the water line that she could not be saved.

The members of the crew recovered from their sixty hours' exposure on the stranded vessel, were preparing to leave for their homes.

Tell Thrilling Stories.

Members of the crew told thrilling stories of the long and stormy hours of the night when they felt they faced certain death on the sinking ship. Several members of the crew, ill from exposure, were taken to the hospital. All others were immediately fed and

ROLL CALL 100 PER CENT

Red Cross Workers Making Fine Progress; Enlist Entire Families.

"Here!—100 per cent."

This is the answer the Red Cross workers of the Duluth chapter are receiving from family groups and business houses in the Armistice-to-Thanksgiving roll call now actively in progress.

The roll call this year has become the greatest family affair in the history of the Red Cross and the workers are determined to make it one of the most important in the history of every family.

The head of every family in Duluth has been made a special roll call worker and is asked by headquarters to enroll every member of his or her family in the Red Cross this year. This will save the household the annoyance of solicitation and will help the Red Cross organization complete its work in much shorter time than otherwise would be required.

Head of Every Family.

"I would like to have the head of every family enroll the members of the family in the Red Cross this year and send the necessary memberships to J. W. Lyder, 507 Alworth building from whence the family certificate and buttons will be sent," said Chairman W. A. McGonagle today. "We are sure that the Red Cross has become the most important organization to which any family belongs. It is the only organization to which the family can belong as a whole. We want to see every family in Duluth enrolled this year. We have already heard from several families and we are making this roll call more a family affair than it has ever been before."

Headquarters at 507 Alworth building is becoming an exceptionally busy place these days, what with the getting out of supplies and the responding to inquiries. In connection with the family memberships it should be understood that each membership is one dollar and that a check for the entire family, sent to the Alworth building headquarters will be promptly acknowledged.

Stations Over Entire City.

Beginning tomorrow morning every downtown section of the city will be covered with roll call stations. Under the direction of Mrs. Fred Raisky, the woman's committee of the roll call organization has been unusually busy since Saturday afternoon and the establishment of the roll call stations, which is particularly the province of the woman's committee, was practically completed this morning. The workers and fittings have been asked to go on duty tomorrow morning.

These stations will include all the department stores and the various other public places. Each will be under the charge of at least two uniformed workers and they will be on duty all day to receive memberships.

CONDEMNATION CASES.

Judge L. S. Nelson of Worthington, Minn., who is here to assist local judges in the work of the November term calendar of the district court, presided this morning at the trial of the first of a number of condemnation cases instituted by George H. Nettleton, state fire marshal, against several buildings in various parts of the city, but chiefly located on Lake avenue south between the viaduct and the ship canal.

TWO MORE WITNESSES IN MOOSE LAKE FIRE CASES

Two more witnesses for the plaintiffs were on the stand this morning at the trial of the Moose Lake group of fire cases against the railroad administration, which have been engaging the attention of the five local district judges since Sept. 20 last.

Henry Maki, who lives on the east half of the northeast quarter of section 12, 46-20, and Victor Jacobson, who resides on the east half of the southwest quarter of section 7, 46-20, both testified that they fought the big forest fire on the afternoon and evening of Oct. 12, 1918.

Maki said that he assisted his neighbors in fighting the fires back and told of seeing the farm homes in that vicinity and a schoolhouse burn. Jacobson testified that he attempted to take his family to Moose Lake in a car, but that the automobile overturned within a mile of the village and that all managed to escape to the lake before the fire reached them.

To date, 113 witnesses have been on the stand for the plaintiffs. The case is expected to last well into the new year.

WILL ATTEND LEGISLATIVE GATHERING IN ST. PAUL

Representatives from St. Louis county to the coming session of the state legislature have been invited to attend a meeting of the members-elect throughout the state, to be held at the St. Francis hotel, St. Paul, next Friday afternoon to facilitate the organization of the next house. The call is signed by J. B. Pattison of Stearns county, Oscar A. Swenson of Nicollet county, R. A. Wilkinson of Washington county, Walter H. McLaughlin of Rice county, Otto C. Neuman of Traverse county, W. C. Briggs of Pipestone county, George C. Sudheimer of Ramsey county, George Wicker of Dodge county, John Kelly of Wright county, H. A. Putnam of Ottertail county, Elias Nordgren of Chisago county, Charles T. Murphy of St. Louis county, John G. Gerlich of Blue Earth county, and L. O. Teigen of Jackson county.

Most of the St. Louis county delegation plans to attend the meeting. W. I. Nolan of Minneapolis appears to be the favorite for speaker hereabouts.

WASHING THROUGH IS THE DAYLIGHT WAY

Daylight Makes Clean, Pure White Clothes

The Daylight Washing Machine

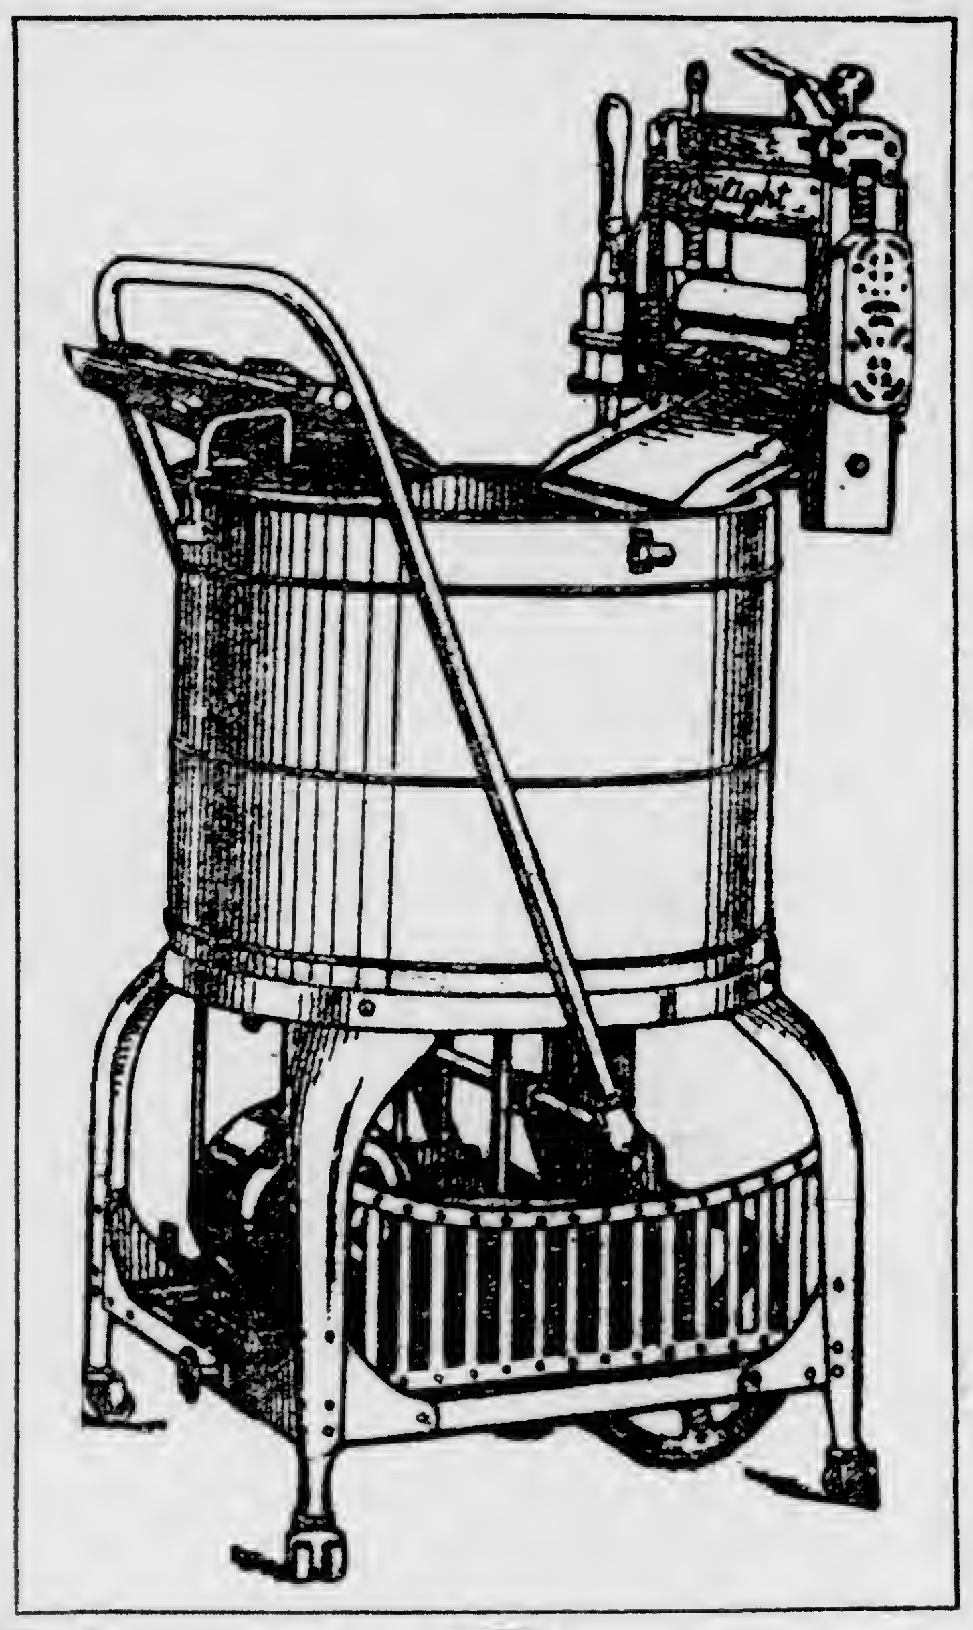
Washing

Through Means Washing Clean

The triple disc cones cover practically the entire surface of the washing tub. Each cone contains openings which allow air to escape in such a manner as to cause a pressure with the downward stroke, and a suction with the upward stroke. In this way aeration takes place, because the clothes are Air Cleaned, as well as Soap and Water Cleaned—thus we say "Washing through means washing clean."

Guaranteed

Every Daylight Washer is sold under an unconditional guarantee not only to be perfect in construction but to give satisfactory and continuous service.



The Daylight Washing Machine

Aerating

Better Than Rubbing

Aeration—the principle on which the "Daylight" washes—makes sure that both air and sudsy water are forced down through the fabric and then drawn up through again. This repeated action is what brings your clothes out white, fluffy, air-blown and thoroughly clean with no pull or strain on the fabrics. Compare blankets washed this way with those "matted" by other methods.

Easy Terms

The Daylight is sold on Easy Terms extending over a year's time. Phone us for a demonstration in your own home.

STATE-OWNED COAL MINE NOW SHIPPING

The Claremont mine was purchased last summer to insure state institutions against coal shortage. Fuel is furnished to the state normal school at Spearfish, the penitentiary at Sioux Falls, the school for blind at Gary, the school for deaf at Sioux Falls, the soldiers' home at Hot Springs, and other state institutions. Individuals may purchase coal at the mine.

The mine is located at Haynes, N. D., just over the line from Lemmon. The original owners began the grading for a spur railroad from the mine to Lemmon. The state of South Dakota is now building this railroad. It is estimated that when the line is finished the mine's output can be tripled.

Order From Alabama.

A prominent West End merchant received a mail order from Alabama in reply to one of his recent advertisements in the columns of The Duluth Herald. The fact that many merchants in Duluth are receiving orders from their Herald advertisements from all parts of the country illustrates the confidence that readers have for this newspaper of the homes. While The Herald secures mail orders for Duluth merchants from out-of-town readers, it also proves an aid in cutting down the number of mail orders that are sent out of Duluth by local residents. In answer to an advertisement of Bayha & Co. in a recent Saturday issue of The Duluth Herald a gentleman, who had previously made up an order with the intention of sending it to a Chicago mail order house, purchased his furniture in Duluth for less money. He, like many others, has learned through the advertising columns of The Herald that it is easier to purchase in Duluth and has found that there is no money saved in ordering from out-of-town sources and dealers.—Advertisement.

DEATH OF GOPHER WHO CAPTURED HIS CAPTOR

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 16.—Hanford Lennox Gordon, veteran of the First Minnesota, state senator from the St. Cloud district in 1867 and 1868, one time law partner of L. W. Collins, and register of the land office at St. Cloud from 1871 to 1874, died Saturday at his home in Los Angeles at the age of 84.

At the battle of Bull Run he was [illegible] by a Confederate, then turned the tables by capturing his captor and marching him into the Union lines. Mr. Gordon was known also as a writer. He was once postmaster at Clearwater and held many other positions of trust, moving to California in 1898.

PART OF WRECK OF PLANE IDENTIFIED

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 16.—Wreckage of a seaplane, picked up along the Lake Michigan shore near the White Lake coast guard station Saturday, was identified by W. P. Sullivan of the Great Lakes naval training station, as a part of the naval machine HS-21, which left the Great Lakes Wednesday and is believed to have been wrecked in a storm.

Search for the bodies of the three members of the crew has been without success.

Batchelor Brainerd Speaker.

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 16.—J. R. Batchelor, recreational director of Duluth, will speak here tonight at the high school on "The Child and His Leisure Hour."

Soon Get Their Deer.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 16.—Frank Trombly and Jack Smith, Jr., did not lose any time killing their allotted deer the first day the season opened. Mr. Trombly left Marquette at 9:30 a. m. Saturday for Pellissier's farm. By 11 o'clock he had killed a 200-pound buck, discovered within a quarter of a mile of the farm house. Mr. Smith, with a number of friends, went out in the morning to Morgan Heights, from which point they struck south. Only about a mile from the railway, it is claimed, Smith shot a 250-pound buck.

Badger Waterways Delegates.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Governor Phillpp Monday appointed eight Wisconsin representatives as follows to attend the convention of the Upper Mississippi Waterways association to be held today and tomorrow at Minneapolis: B. C. Everingham, La Crosse; A. L. Putnam, Chippewa Falls; O. A. King, Eau Claire; E. P. Davis, Black River Falls; F. J. Granville, Lancaster; D. E. Mowry, Madison; P. W. Ramer, River Falls; Charles Grelle, Prairie du Chien.

BANKERS' INSTITUTE HOLDS EFFICIENCY CONTESTS

Duluth chapter, A. I. B., held its first get-together meeting of the 1920-1921 year in the chamber of the American Exchange National bank Friday evening.

"Primarily, ours is an educational association built up by the American Bankers' association," explained President S. T. Strain in his opening address upon "Our Future," "to give us, who work hard every day, the opportunity and training that is essential to our advancement. To succeed, we must know. To know, we must sacrifice, making a more or less personal sacrifice. We must forego some of our pleasure time, and devote it to study and good reading. Profits from such a sacrifice are one hundred fold."

A glowing tribute to the institute work by Raymond B. Cox, former president of the American institute of banking, but who is now president of the Webster Atlas National bank of Boston, was read by Mr. Strain in pointing out the institute's potential item. Said Mr. Cox:

"I never let an opportunity pass, either privately or publicly, of expressing my obligation to the institute as a most influential factor in my banking experience. This organization which gave me my first inspiration impressed upon me the necessity for personal development, broadened me through contact with its other members, and gave me a training of thinking and acting for myself. What it has done for me it has done for others in the past and will do for thousands of others in the future, if they enter into the institute with an enthusiasm, patience, and determination. Hanging in my office is my institute certificate, received in 1910, of which I am justly proud, not because of any special information or intelligence which it indicates, but because it is the one tangible thing which identifies me with the organization."

The evening was devoted to efficiency tests and sociabilities of various kinds. An adding machine contest featured. Three prizes were offered by the Burroughs people through their local representative, J. A. Smith.

Raymond Jacobson of the City National took first prize. His time for the 100 checks was 1:55 minutes. The second prize was awarded to Howard Bernard of the Northern. Supremacy in accuracy took the second prize. The third prize was contested for by the swiftest of the incorrect, who were selected to run for finals. Arthur Blais from the American took this prize with a time of 1:50 1-5 minutes. The fastest time reported during the evening was 1:35 minutes.

Another interesting event of the evening was the recording of transit items. Five contestants, Miss Bennie Benson of the American, Miss Nicolayson of the First, Miss Ostby of the First and Miss Gladys O'Mally, also of the American, participated. Miss Benson took first prize which was a $10 gold piece offered by the Remington typewriter people. Miss O'Mally took second prize. The time was 4:43 and 5:07 minutes respectively.

The currency and coin counting contests were open to tellers only. Accuracy was paramount. Tom Johnson of the City won out in the coin counting, and George Jacobson of the First won in the currency run.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

This master body-builder will help you keep young in spirit and mental and physical action, because it will assist Nature in maintaining your vitality at par. It enriches the blood, restores worn-out tissues, soothes jangling and over-wrought nerves, induces sound refreshing sleep, sharpens the appetite, tones up the digestion—in short, will put new life, new vigor and new vim in every fibre of your body.

You will be surprised how much better you'll feel after taking a treatment of LYKO, if you are tired and worn out, nervously and physically exhausted. It's mildly laxative—keeps the bowels in fine condition. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

FROST CHECKS ORE SHIPPING

Movement Will Be Million Tons Shorter Than Was Expected.

Iron ore shipments for the season from the Lake Superior district are now being estimated at 56,000,000 tons. Had it not been for the turn to colder weather conditions last week necessitating the thawing out of ore at the docks, and the closing down of shipments for the season from some of the mines, it is thought the movement would have easily reached 57,000,000 tons.

Mine operators, with headquarters at Duluth, are generally hopeful regarding the outlook in spite of the industrial uncertainty reported in many quarters in the East. Arrangements are being made to maintain normal working forces at the mines during the winter in development work and stockpiling at the underground properties. An official of the Oliver Iron Mining company said yesterday that between 11,000 and 12,000 men will be employed at its properties in the Lake Superior district and that its stripping work program will be maintained as sufficient coal supplies to carry operations along have been arranged for.

Usual Winter Work.

Edward J. Maney, general mines manager of the Shenango Furnace company, asserted that winter work will be carried along with the usual crews at its four Mesabe range mines. He expressed the opinion that no labor trouble will be experienced during the winter on the ranges, and he asserted labor efficiency has improved materially during the last few weeks, attributable to more men offering for work and less inclination on the part of miners to move from one employment to another.

Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, in discussing steel conditions, is quoted as saying:

Public Mental Attitude.

"It would be useless to deny that the mental attitude of consumers who are expecting lower prices for commodities is causing a decided letup in the demand for steel. Price changes thus far represent the passing away of premium prices and the movement is towards levels maintained by the United States Steel corporation. I am not pessimistic regarding the outlook as there is a latent demand for steel existing and this must make itself felt."

The Bethlehem shipyards are booked full through 1921 and the steel works now are operating at about 80 per cent of capacity."

FIRMS AND INDIVIDUALS THANKED FOR SHOW AID

The agricultural committee of the Duluth Commercial club desires to thank the firms and individuals who made possible the recent potato show and industrial display held at the Armory. More than 100 delegates were here from every county in the state and the show was an unqualified success. Messrs. Fitch of Iowa, Millvan of Wisconsin and Brown of Minnesota, recognized as among America's foremost potato men, said it was the best all-around display they ever saw. Eight hundred and fifty dollars in cash prizes were given and every one who attended was more than satisfied, apparently. The committee's only regret is that more Duluth citizens did not take more interest, as the show admittedly was certainly entertaining and educational. Following are the firms and individuals whose generosity the committee wishes to acknowledge:

Stone-Ordean-Wells company, Simon Clark, F. A. Patrick company, Kelley-How-Thomson company, First National bank, City National bank, American Exchange National bank, Marshall-Wells company, Duluth Produce exchange, Northern National bank, National Iron company, Bridgeman & Russell company, Robert Whiteside, Rust-Parker company, Standard Oil company, land department, D. & I. ALLEGED MURDERER MAKES HIS ESCAPE BY JUMPING FROM TRAIN

Broken Bow, Neb., Nov. 16.—Denny Chester, being taken from Great Falls, Mont., to Kansas City for the alleged murder of Florence Barton, escaped from three detectives on a Burlington passenger train here last night.

Chester was in charge of Detectives Farrell, Beasley and Boyle of Kansas City and occupied a stateroom on the train. At the time of the escape Beasley and Chester were in the compartment and the other detectives were on the platform of the Pullman. The train had gone about a quarter of a mile from the depot when Chester plunged headlong through a window. He was unhurt and jumped to his feet immediately on striking the ground. He made his escape in the darkness.

The officer fired five shots at the fleeing man, but failed to stop him. One bullet is said to have knocked his hat from his head.

Sheriff Talbott of Custer county was notified and he and his deputies and a number of citizens formed a posse which joined in the chase. Chester was without a coat when he jumped from the car.

IMMEDIATE CUT IN PRICES OF CLOTHING

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Immediate cuts in wholesale prices of men's fall and winter suits ranging from 33 1-3 to 40 per cent were announced yesterday by nineteen Rochester clothing manufacturers who are members of the National Association of Manufacturing Clothiers. Spring lines of the same manufacturers opened today at prices 30 per cent lower than last year.

No statement was made by any of the manufacturers in explanation of the price decline, but factories are known to have on hand large stocks of unsold and returned winter suits.

Bowman Chosen Chancellor.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16.—Dr. John Gabbert Bowman, director of the American College of Surgeons, and formerly president of the University of Iowa, has been chosen chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, to succeed Dr. S. B. McCormick, it was announced yesterday. The resignation of Dr. McCormick was accepted when it became known that the state of his health made his many duties a burden.

"FINDERS, KEEPERS," COURT DECIDES IN THE CONTEST FOR MONEY

New Castle, Ind, Nov. 16.—Ownership of $1.300 in gold found buried on a farm near Greensboro, six months ago by Levi Todd, a 15-year-old boy, was settled yesterday in the circuit court here by Judge Gause deciding "finders are keepers."

While excavating for basement under an old house, Todd drove his pick into an earthenware jar containing the money, and then started a three-cornered fight for its ownership.

Mrs. Clara Freeman Vickerey claimed the money was part of her mother's estate, and John Hardin, present owner of the farm, sought an interest. The judge gave the money to its youthful finder, holding the evidence was insufficient to show Mrs. Vickerey's mother had buried it, and that Mr. Hardin's ownership of the land did not give him ownership of the money because he was ignorant of its existence.

"FARTHEST NORTH" WHEAT DISCOVERED

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 16.—A "farthest north" wheat, designated as "No. 10," which has been grown with success at the 66th parallel—"Higher up" on the globe than any wheat was raised before—has been "discovered" by the husbandry department of the Manitoba Agricultural college, it was announced yesterday. The new variety was said to be a cross breed of Manitoba and Australian wheats, and hardier than other grades.

Strong, Forceful Men With Plenty of Iron in Their Blood—

These are the Ones With the Power and Energy to Win

"Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York and The Westchester County Hospital.

"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron." It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

HOOVER IN CONFERENCE WITH LABOR

Makes Transcontinental Trip to Discuss Matters With A. F. of L.

Expects to Consult With Labor Leaders on General Conditions.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Questions of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former Federal food administrator and member of President Wilson's second industrial conference.

Mr. Hoover who came to the Federation of Labor at the request of President Gompers, said he had made the transcontinental trip from San Francisco to discuss "the whole industrial and employment situation."

Mr. Hoover said he had no definite program to offer, but that he expected to "advise and discuss" with the labor officials on general conditions.

Members Differ.

Differences appeared among members of the council as to the real purpose of Mr. Hoover's appearance. Prior to Mr. Hoover's arrival, William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, declared that the council would not go to any person to discuss the subject of industrial peace. He said that Mr. Hoover had come for a discussion of technical engineering questions, the nature of which he did not disclose.

When Mr. Hoover entered the council room, he had with him a sheaf of data to which he expected to refer in the discussions. This data is understood to include the results of the scientific investigation and research on questions of production. The meeting of the council was executive.

Means of Reducing Waste.

While Federation of Labor officials were reticent about the subjects to come before the council today, it was indicated that Mr. Hoover would be asked to discuss means of reducing waste in production. This was understood to include discussion of the question from both the labor and management viewpoint.

Labor leaders, while admitting that there are evils in the labor situation causing some production waste, are prone to place the blame, if any attaches, to inefficiency in management. They contend that many difficulties and controversies between labor and the employers have had their inception in inefficient subordinate plant officials.

Mr. Hoover was expected to be asked his opinions on this phase of conditions and whether he could offer a program which would result in an increase in production through correction of the alleged evils.

mistakes, but we shall go forward on large lines."

Bishop Nicholson advocated nationwide evangelistic campaigns and pleaded for continuation of missionary work in Korea.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the spread of Christianity among these Oriental peoples, who are naturally religious and who are deeply and mystically pious, is really a piece of world salvation. The church has it within its power to prevent what otherwise will be the world clash between Oriental and Occidental, between the white and yellow races."

New Missionaries.

The largest number of new missionaries ever sent to foreign fields in any one year in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church was reported today by Dr. Frank Mason North, corresponding secretary of the church's board of foreign missions. Dr. North said the largest previous year was 1917, when ninety-six foreign missionaries were appointed. In the fiscal year just ended, however, 275 new missionaries were sent out, 80 going to South America, 69 to China, 50 to India and Burma, 30 to Africa, 30 to Malaysia, 6 to Mexico, 5 to Japan, 2 to Korea and 2 to Europe.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church had receipts of $2,000,981, said the report of Mrs. Jennie Brown Sparth submitted today to the church council. Of this all except $13,493 came from the branches of the society. The greatest single amount, $115,217 came from the Northwestern branch, which covers Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. Next in order was the Cincinnati branch with $265,231. This branch covers Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi.

Republicans, being pledged to economy and the cutting down of governmental expenditures, are not in the mood to increase the government payroll.

Not Government's Fault.

As a matter of fact, it isn't the fault of the government that business houses have failed to accumulate a reserve wherewith to pay income taxes. Many corporations did make provisions for their December taxes, but the money market became so tight that they could not borrow funds to carry on the usual turnover of their work. So they borrowed from themselves—they used up money that should have been kept for income tax payments. Daniel C. Roper, former commissioner of internal revenue, who favors postponing payment of income taxes, insists that the government would be amply protected if it required an interest rate of 8 per cent on deferred payments. This would be higher than market rates of interest and would tend to discourage too much borrowing from corporation funds that should be set aside for income tax payments.

Yet the entrance of Uncle Sam into the commercial world as a lender of money to private business concerns is a new thing, and the chief difficulty about it all is the discrimination made necessary by such a step. Where can the line be drawn? Many an individula who pays a small income tax will want to postpone payment, especially since the rate of interest will not be a disturbing factor to him. The legislation will have to be broad enough to cover those who pay small as well as large income taxes. Treasury officials are not prepared to say what the effect upon government finance this postponement of revenue collection will make. The United States government has been counting upon collections from income taxes in order to pay its own obligations.

Excess Profits Tax.

Congress will be plunged into a discussion of the whole tax problem the moment the December session begins. The excess profits tax is bound to be repealed or modified. Even inside the government where this tax has been looked upon as a splendid money getter converts are being made daily to the view that the excess profits tax has outlived its usefulness. But what shall be put on in its place? The tax experts are far from unanimous in their suggestions. The demand of a few dozen concerns that they be permitted to postpone payment of December taxes is but a symptom of the intense agitation which is expected next month and throughout the remainder of the year on the subject of taxation. It will not be surprising if the tax question taxes even more time than the old controversies on the tariff which used to consume a whole session of congress, to the exclusion of other important legislative proposals. More individuals and more interests are affected by taxation than by all the tariff laws of history, and the sums to be raised nowadays are many times greater than the largest tariff law congress ever passed.

have pointed out the department had not made any payment since August, 1919. Department officers explained today that payment had been withheld because the company began to withhold the government rebate of 50 per cent on cable messages.

London Far Behind.

The Western Union was said to have explained that because of wartime congestion the international clearing house in London was far behind in payment of tolls to which the company was entitled for government messages and that no rebate to the government could be made until this balance had been paid by the clearing house.

Questions before the international communications conference also are said to be a part of the row between the Western Union and the state department. Negotiations begun by the American government to obtain one of the former German trans-Atlantic cables held by the British and thus give cable communications between the United States and Germany are said to have reached a successful termination and to have depended for final fruition only on the willingness of an American cable company to exchange one of its lines for the former German line, which extends from Halifax to Penzance.

It is understood that the state department was negotiating with the Western Union for the exchange of cables, but these negotiations are said to have been broken off as a result of other differences between the department and the company.

Operators Recalled.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 16.—The Western Union Telegraph company has recalled to New York the eighteen cable operators and test men who had been here since September, awaiting landing of the Miami-Barbadoes cable, which has been held up by the United States government. The employes said they understood the company now planned to land the cable at Havana, Cuba.

sible to assess the railroads for improvements on virtually every street on Rice's Point, on either side of Garfield avenue. It will release for improvement Traverse, or Second, street from Forty-first to Forty-ninth avenue west, certain parts of Le Sueur street, parts of Sherburn and Raleigh streets below the right-of-way of the Northern Pacific railroad from Seventy-second to Central avenue and any number of small stretches throughout the city. It will also make possible the paving of streets and construction of sewers in New Duluth, Gary and Fond du Lac, which the city had not even dreamed of improving for many years yet, according to Mr. Farrell.

Should Have Come Earlier.

Had the amendment been adopted before Railroad street was paved it would have meant a saving to property owners of $53,000. The cost of the improvement that would have been assessed against the railroads would have amounted to $64,000, but $11,000 of this amount, assessed against property owned by the Northern Pacific and not used for railroad purposes, was paid by this company. According to Commissioner Farrell, the Northern Pacific railroad has never paid any special assessment, but the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, the Duluth & Iron Range and the Soo Line have always paid their assessments, although not compelled to by law.

What this new provision will mean to the city cannot be estimated at this time, as, in the event of the deep waterway project going through, other railroads probably will enter Duluth. It has already been intimated that as soon as there is something definite on the St. Lawrence channel being deepened, the Grand Trunk and the Burlington will arrange to enter Duluth and construct terminals here. The Canadian railroads have also intimated that they will enlarge their holdings in the city in that event. These new lines will open up other streets to improvement, the cost of which these railroads will have to pay their share the same as individual property owners.

warmly clothed. None of them are overcome seriously enough to endanger their lives, it was said.

The escape from a watery grave was almost miraculous, according to stories told by members of the crew after landing here safely. All gave the greatest credit to Capt. Forbes, whose daring venture into the raging lake in a rowboat in an effort to attract help, resulted in their rescue by the steamer Livingstone.

"Didn't Seem a Chance."

"From the minute we hit the shoals early Friday night until help finally came, we all thought we were doomed," said Harry Ayres, wheelsman. "There didn't seem to be a chance that we would come through alive. A high gale was blowing and snow fell most of the night. The night was pitch black. The boat was rolling and pitching and smashing on the shoals and we thought surely she would go down under us any minute. The cold was terrible and we were continually being drenched by the waves and spray that rolled over us. We didn't have a thing to eat. All our food was astern and we couldn't get at it. Throughout the night we broke up the furniture and even broke down the hatches and started fires to attract the attention of passing ships. No help came, however. All night and all the next day we tried to keep up fires, but we were almost overcome with cold and lack of food. Saturday night was the same as the night before. We thought surely the boat was going to pieces but she stood up well.

To Search for Help.

"Sunday afternoon Capt. Forbes and five of the crew decided to put out in a lifeboat to search for help in the main channel. The sea was running high and when the little boat hit those waves we all cheered Capt. Forbes and the men, for we thought they were going to certain death. Once a huge wave rolled over them and we thought they were gone, but they bobbed up again.

"Then we managed to send a foraging party astern and they got hold of some meat and potatoes. We started a fire forward and Alexander Stevens, the steward, cooked us a meal. I don't think anything in the world ever tasted so good as that meal. We all thought, while we were eating it, that it was our last meal in this world."

The men also showered praises upon "Tootsie," a fox terrier, whose romping aided in keeping their spirits up.

The rest of the story was told by members of the crew who had gone with Capt. Forbes in the lifeboat. They told of having been sighted and picked up by the Livingstone which then wirelessed in to the Soo for help.

The tugs Iowa and the C. E. Ainsworth which reached the stricken ship Sunday took the rest of the crew off the Widlar. It was necessary to make three trips in lifeboats to take all the men off the Widlar into the rescuing tugs.

Trip by Automobile.

President-elect Harding yesterday made the trip by automobile, covering the twenty muddy miles across the desolate prairie in a little less than two hours. The dirt trail, pronounced impassable Monday, had improved overnight and except for a few detours and much harmless skidding, the journey was without incident.

The motor road was chosen although the narrow-gauge special train on which he made an unsuccessful attempt to depart Monday night, had been held ready for a renewed trip. The party of automobiles spent most of the forenoon picking a practical way to Point Isabel and Mr. Harding quickly accepted their offer to bring him in.

Just before the departure the sun broke through the clouds for the first time in nearly a week, but the stinging gale showed no signs of abatement.

From first to last, Mr. Harding's vacation, which began last Monday, has amounted to two fishing trips, one game of golf and many hours of hovering about the little wood fire with which he sought to keep warm.

Texans said the storm was the worst that locality had experienced in twenty years, but the look of relief on the faces of the Harding party seemed to belie any prediction that the Point ever would become the country's "winter capital."

BANDITS CLEAN OUT SUPERIOR STATE BANK

doubled in its tracks and was headed towards Duluth. This is doubted, as it is not believed the men would risk being bottled up in Duluth.

All four bandits wore caps, according to witnesses of the robbery.

Police Have Narrow Escape.

Acting Police Chief Fiskett and five officers escaped death in a manner almost miraculous when a street car smashed directly into their automobile and pinned its occupants up against the pillars of the Interstate bridge. The body of the car was completely wrecked, both running boards were ripped off, a wheel was hurled into the air, and the chassis was bent almost completely out-o-shape.

Chief Fiskett alone, however, was somewhat injured. His leg was caught between a door and the body of the car. He escaped with minor bruises. If the street car had been going more swiftly, he would probably have been crushed.

The call for assistance from Superior came at a time when Chief Fiskett and Patrolman Telford Hounold were alone in the station. Fiskett immediately ordered the Marmon made ready. Together with Telford he started toward the bridge in hope of stopping the bandits from crossing to Duluth. On the way, they picked up Sergeant Oscar, Patrolman Stanley Negoda, Patrolman Olson and Sergeant Berry.

Warnings to Banks.

Chief Fiskett has sent out repeated warnings to outlying banks in Duluth and to banks in nearby towns to avoid having any more cash on hand or out of the vault than is absolutely necessary. The numerous holdups in other cities have made the police here feel almost certain that some such event was bound to occur here.

All losses in the Superior State bank, however, were covered by insurance. Within an hour after the robbery, the bank was again open for business.

All four men were described as about five feet eight to five feet nine inches in height and weighing from 160 to 175 pounds. Two of them wore gray caps and dark gray coats.

NEARLY HALF HAWAII'S POPULATION JAPANESE

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Japanese population of Hawaii was announced today by the census bureau as 109,269 out of a total population of 255,512. The Japanese constitute 42.7 per cent of the 1920 population of the island.

The actual increase of Japanese on the island during the past decade was 29,594, or 37.1 per cent as against a percentage gain of 30.4 per cent made during the ten years 1900-1910.

NO CHANGE TO BE MADE IN WAGES

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 16.—Wages of the 35,000 operatives in the cotton mills here will remain at the scale that has been in force for the last six months, according to an agreement reached by representatives of the manufacturers and employes today.

Bodies of Missing Boys Found.

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 16.—The bodies of Clarence Johnson, 13, and Ralph Koplin, who have been missing since Sunday, were taken from Lake Michigan late yesterday by Two Rivers coast guards. The boys were playing on the pier, when it is thought one fell into the lake. The other lad, it is believed, tried to save him and both perished.

Big Bequest for Harvard.

New York, Nov. 16.—A bequest of $100,000 to Harvard university is made in the will of Lawrence E. Sexton, hunter and sportsman.

Plot to Steal Whisky.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Police in a raid on an alleged "blind tiger" here early this morning uncovered what they believed to be a plot to steal 200 cases of whisky from a dealer in Cleveland. A man giving the name of Clarence Roberts, 26 years old, of Cleveland was arrested in the raid and, on searching him, the police found letters from a man in Cleveland outlining the alleged plot.

Richardson Succeeds Dalrymple.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The appointment of Frank D. Richardson as supervising prohibition agent at Chicago, succeeding Maj. Alfred Dalrymple, resigned, is announced.

When Food Doesn't Digest

Give the Stomach a Rational Rest by Proper Aid, Not by Harsh Starvation Methods. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A sour stomach may indicate an acid condition that calls for an alkaline effect.

This you will get from one or two

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after a meal. Sour risings, gassiness, a heavy bloated feeling and such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia are usually only temporary. And yet they may lead to serious disorder. The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals reflects to a high degree the intelligent selection of preventative measures.

One cannot always select or inspect the quality of food to be eaten nor its method or manner of preparation. But it is possible to avoid the acidity that is so often the result. And it is a far better plan to eat without worry over what may happen, than to starve for fear it will happen. Many physicians recommend these tablets for stomach distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

They are sold by all druggists everywhere at 60 cents a box.

HOOVER IN CONFERENCE WITH LABOR

Makes Transcontinental Trip to Discuss Matters With A. F. of L.

Expects to Consult With Labor Leaders on General Conditions.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Questions of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former Federal food administrator and member of President Wilson's second industrial conference.

Mr. Hoover who came to the Federation of Labor at the request of President Gompers, said he had made the transcontinental trip from San Francisco to discuss "the whole industrial and employment situation."

Mr. Hoover said he had no definite program to offer but that he expected to advise and discuss with the labor leaders on general conditions.

Members Differ.

Differences appeared among members of the council as to the real purpose of Mr. Hoover's appearance. Prior to Mr. Hoover's arrival, William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, declared that the council would not go to any person to discuss the subject of industrial peace. He said that Mr Hoover had come for a discussion of technical engineering questions, the nature of which he did not disclose.

When Mr Hoover entered the council room, he had with him a sheaf of papers to which he expected to refer in the discussions. This data is understood to include the results of the [illegible] investigation and research on operations of production. The meeting of the council was executive.

Means of Reducing Waste.

While Federation of Labor officials were reticent about the subjects to come before the council today, it was indicated that Mr. Hoover would be asked to discuss means of reducing waste in production. This was understood to include discussion of the question from both the labor and management viewpoint.

Labor leaders, while admitting that there are evils in the labor situation causing some production waste, are prone to place the blame, if any attaches, to inefficiency in management. They contend that many difficulties and controversies between labor and the employers have had their inception in inefficient subordinate plant officials.

Mr Hoover was expected to be asked his opinions on this phase of conditions and whether he could offer a program which would result in an increase in production through correction of the alleged evils.

New Missionaries.

The largest number of new missionaries ever sent to foreign fields in any one year in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church was reported today by Dr Frank Mason North, corresponding secretary of the church's board of foreign missions. Dr. North said the largest previous year was 1917 when ninety-six foreign missionaries were appointed. In the fiscal year just ended however, 275 new missionaries were sent out, 80 going to South America, 79 to China, 50 to India and Burma, 20 to Africa, 30 to Malaysia, 8 to Mexico, 5 to Japan, 2 to Korea and 2 to Europe.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church had receipts of $2,000,581, said the report of Mrs. Jennie Brown [illegible] submitted today to the church council. Of this all except $13,493 came from the branches of the society. The greatest single amount, [illegible], came from the Northwestern branch which covers Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. have pointed out the department had not made any payment since August, 1919. Department officers explained today that payment had been withheld because the company began to withhold the government rebate of 50 per cent on cable messages.

Operators Recalled.

Miami, Fla., Nov 16.—The Western Union Telegraph company has recalled to New York the eighteen cable operators and test men who had been here since September, awaiting landing of the Miami-Barbadoes cable which has been held up by the United States government. The employes said they understood the company now planned to land the cable at Havana, Cuba.

sible to assess the railroads for improvements on virtually every street on Rice's Point, on either side of Garfield avenue. It will release for improvement Traverse, or Second, street from Forty-first to Forty-ninth avenue west, certain parts of Le Sueur street, parts of Sherburn and Raleigh streets below the right-of-way of the Northern Pacific railroad from Seventy-second to Central avenue and any number of small stretches throughout the city. It will also make possible the paving of streets and construction of sewers in New Duluth, Gary and Fond du Lac, which the city had not even dreamed of improving for many years yet, according to Mr. Farrell.

Should Have Come Earlier.

Had the amendment been adopted before Railroad street was paved it would have meant a saving to property owners of $53,000. The cost of the improvement that would have been assessed against the railroads would have amounted to $64,000, but $11,000 of this amount, assessed against property owned by the Northern Pacific and not used for railroad purposes, was paid by this company. According to Commissioner Farrell, the Northern Pacific railroad has never paid any special assessment, but the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, the Duluth & Iron Range and the Soo Line have always paid their assessments, although not compelled to by law.

What this new provision will mean to the city cannot be estimated at this time, as, in the event of the deep waterway project going through, other railroads probably will enter Duluth. It has already been intimated that as soon as there is something definite on the St. Lawrence channel being deepened, the Grand Trunk and the Burlington will arrange to enter Duluth and construct terminals here. The Canadian railroads have also intimated that they will enlarge their holdings in the city in that event. These new lines will open up other streets to improvement, the cost of which these railroads will have to pay their share the same as individual property owners.

warmly clothed. None of them are overcome seriously enough to endanger their lives, it was said.

The escape from a watery grave was almost miraculous, according to stories told by members of the crew after landing here safely. All gave the greatest credit to Capt. Forbes, whose daring venture into the raging lake in a rowboat in an effort to attract help, resulted in their rescue by the steamer Livingstone.

"Didn't Seem a Chance."

"From the minute we hit the shoals early Friday night until help finally came, we all thought we were doomed," said Harry Ayres, wheelsman. "There didn't seem to be a chance that we would come through alive. A high gale was blowing and snow fell most of the night. The night was pitch black. The boat was rolling and pitching and smashing on the shoals and we thought surely she would go down under us any minute. The cold was terrible and we were continually being drenched by the waves and spray that rolled over us. We didn't have a thing to eat. All our food was astern and we couldn't get at it. Throughout the night we broke up the furniture and even broke down the hatches and started fires to attract the attention of passing ships. No help came, however. All night and all the next day we tried to keep up fires, but we were almost overcome with cold and lack of food. Saturday night was the same as the night before. We thought surely the boat was going to pieces but she stood up well.

To Search for Help.

"Sunday afternoon Capt. Forbes and five of the crew decided to put out in a lifeboat to search for help in the main channel. The sea was running high and when the little boat hit those waves we all cheered Capt. Forbes and the men, for we thought they were going to certain death. Once a huge wave rolled over them and we thought they were gone, but they bobbed up again.

"Then we managed to send a foraging party astern and they got hold of some meat and potatoes. We started a fire forward and Alexander Stevens, the steward, cooked us a meal. I don't think anything in the world ever tasted so good as that meal. We all thought, while we were eating it, that it was our last meal in this world."

The men also showered praises upon "Toolsie," a fox terrier, whose romping aided in keeping their spirits up.

The rest of the story was told by members of the crew who had gone with Capt. Forbes in the lifeboat. They told of having been sighted and picked up by the Livingstone which then wirelessed in to the Soo for help.

The tugs Iowa and the C. E. Ainsworth which reached the stricken ship Sunday took the rest of the crew off the Widlar. It was necessary to make three trips in lifeboats to take all the men off the Widlar into the rescuing tugs.

Trip by Automobile.

President-elect Harding yesterday made the trip by automobile, covering the twenty muddy miles across the desolate prairie in a little less than two hours. The dirt trail, pronounced impassable Monday, had improved overnight and except for a few detours and much harmless skidding, the journey was without incident.

"The motor road was chosen although the narrow-gauge special train on which he made an unsuccessful attempt to depart Monday night, had been held ready for a renewed trip. The party of automobiles spent most of the forenoon picking a practical way to Point Isabel and Mr. Harding quickly accepted their offer to bring him in.

Just before the departure the sun broke through the clouds for the first time in nearly a week, but the stinging gale showed no signs of abatement.

From first to last, Mr. Harding's vacation, which began last Monday, has amounted to two fishing trips, one game of golf and many hours of hovering about the little wood fire with which he sought to keep warm.

Texans said the storm was the worst that locality had experienced in twenty years, but the look of relief on the faces of the Harding party seemed to belie any prediction that the Point ever would become the country's "winter capital."

doubled in its tracks and was headed towards Duluth. This is doubted, as it is not believed the men would risk being bottled up in Duluth.

All four bandits wore caps, according to witnesses of the robbery.

Police Have Narrow Escape.

Acting Police Chief Fiskett and five officers escaped death in a manner almost miraculous when a street car smashed directly into their automobile and pinned its occupants up against the pillars of the Interstate bridge. The body of the car was completely wrecked, both running boards were ripped off, a wheel was hurled into the air and the chassis was bent almost completely out-o-shape.

Chief Fiskett alone, however, was somewhat injured. His leg was caught between a door and the body of the car. He escaped with minor bruises. If the street car had been going more swiftly, he would probably have been crushed.

The call for assistance from Superior came at a time when Chief Fiskett and Patrolman Telford Honnold were alone in the station. Fiskett immediately ordered the Marmon made ready. Together with Telford he started toward the bridge in hope of stopping the bandits from crossing to Duluth. On the way, they picked up Sergeant Oscar, Patrolman Stanley Negoda, Patrolman Olson and Sergeant Berry.

Warnings to Banks.

Chief Fiskett has sent out repeated warnings to outlying banks in Duluth and to banks in nearby towns to avoid having any more cash on hand or out of the vault than is absolutely necessary. The numerous holdups in other cities have made the police here feel almost certain that some such event was bound to occur here.

All losses in the Superior State bank, however, were covered by insurance. Within an hour after the robbery, the bank was again open for business.

All four men were described as about five feet eight to five feet nine inches in height and weighing from 160 to 175 pounds. Two of them wore gray caps and dark gray coats.

NEARLY HALF HAWAII'S POPULATION JAPANESE

Washington, Nov. 16—The Japanese population of Hawaii was announced today by the census bureau as 109,269 out of a total population of 255,912. The Japanese constitute 42.7 per cent of the 1920 population of the island.

The actual increase of Japanese on the island during the past decade was 29,594, or 37.1 per cent as against a percentage gain of 30.4 per cent made during the ten years 1900-1910.

NO CHANGE TO BE MADE IN WAGES

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 16.—Wages of the 35,000 operatives in the cotton mills here will remain at the scale that has been in force for the last six months, according to an agreement reached by representatives of the manufacturers and employes today.

Bodies of Missing Boys Found.

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 16.—The bodies of Clarence Johnson, 13, and Ralph Koplin, who have been missing since Sunday, were taken from Lake Michigan late yesterday by Two Rivers coast guards. The boys were playing on the pier, when it is thought one fell into the lake. The other lad, it is believed, tried to save him and both perished.

Big Bequest for Harvard.

New York, Nov. 16.—A bequest of $100,000 to Harvard university is made in the will of Lawrence E. Sexton, hunter and sportsman.

Plot to Steal Whisky.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Police in a raid on an alleged "blind tiger" here early this morning uncovered what they believed to be a plot to steal 200 cases of whisky from a dealer in Cleveland. A man giving the name of Clarence Roberts, 26 years old, of Cleveland was arrested in the raid and, on searching him, the police found letters from a man in Cleveland outlining the alleged plot.

Richardson Succeeds Dalrymple.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The appointment of Frank D. Richardson as supervising prohibition agent at Chicago, succeeding Maj. Alfred Dalrymple, resigned, is announced.

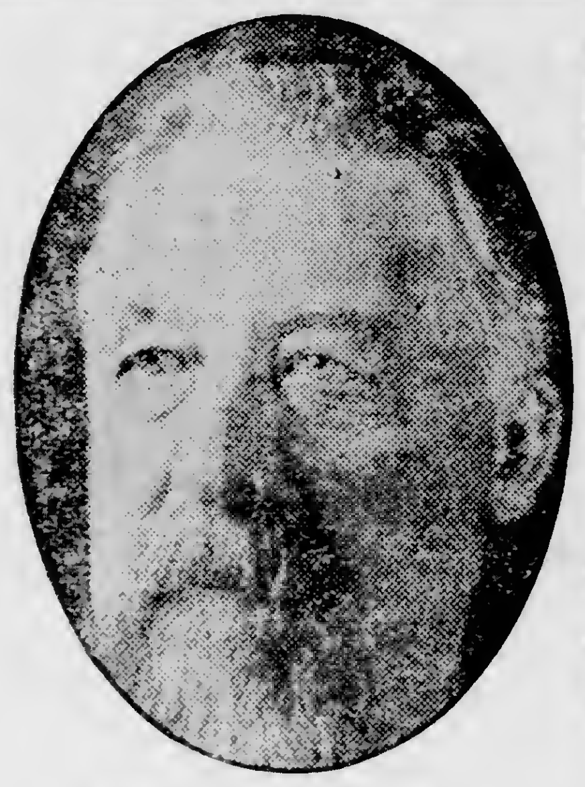
WELL KNOWN DULUTH PASTOR SUMMONED



REV. W. A. WEISS.

Rev. W. A. Weiss, pastor of the First German Methodist church, Fifth avenue east and Sixth street, died yesterday at his home following a year's illness. He was 65 years old.

Before coming to Duluth Mr. Weiss was pastor of the North German Methodist church of Minneapolis for sixteen years and later superintendent of the Minneapolis district for six years. He was a member of the German Methodist Northern conference for thirty-seven years.

He is survived by a widow, one son, William, and four daughters, Mrs. Coaker of Minneapolis, Mrs. Grace Halenbeck of Crosby, and Wilma and Faith of Duluth. The family home was at 517 Fifth avenue east.

Private services will be held at the home at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The body will then be taken to Minneapolis where services will be held Thursday afternoon in the North German Methodist church. Interment will be at Lakewood cemetery, Minneapolis.

PIONEER LUMBERMAN DIES.

John Fitzpatrick Succumbs Suddenly at Mobile, Ala.

John Fitzpatrick, pioneer lumberman of Duluth, died suddenly yesterday at Mobile, Ala., according to a telegram received here. He was 65 years old and lived at 4331 Laverne street.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was a resident of Duluth more than forty years. He left on a Southern business trip only a short time ago. Members of his family said today that he has always been in good health, and are unable to account for the sudden attack that resulted in his death. Mr. Fitzpatrick was a member of the Masonic order.

Surviving him are a widow and two sons, Roy and Edmund. The body will be brought to Duluth for burial.

MILWAUKEE FIREMEN INJURED FIGHTING FIRE

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—Six firemen were seriously injured here last night in a $100,000 fire which gutted a four-story building occupied principally by the Milwaukee Seed company. The firemen were injured when the rounds of an extension ladder collapsed as they were carrying a line of hose to the top of the building. Oscar Knoth, one of the firemen, plunged headlong from the top round of the ladder to the cement sidewalk four floors below.

Both arms were fractured and his legs and body painfully bruised. The other men suffered broken limbs. The fire was under control at midnight after a two-hour fight.

ST. CLOUD BREWERS HAVE BEEN INDICTED

Fergus Falls, Minn., Nov. 16.—The United States grand jury completed its work here yesterday and adjourned after returning thirty-two indictments. Among those indicted were George Smith, Fredelin Smith, Joseph Donzel and Florian Nicflin, proprietors of a St. Cloud brewery recently seized by Federal officers. Their trials will not occur until next spring. Their attorneys yesterday asked for an order for the return of the brewery to its owners, but no decision was reached. The matter will be taken up in Minneapolis next Monday.

Butte Booze Arrests.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 16.—Some twenty alleged violators of the prohibition law were gathered in a dragnet thrown out here last night by Federal agents. The raids were part of a program decided upon yesterday to break up numerous alleged Canadian whisky stores in this city. At a late hour the raids were continuing and the list of prisoners growing larger.

CLAIMS DANDRUFF WILL CAUSE BALDNESS

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't.

Dandruffy heads mean faded, brittle, scraggly hair that finally dies—new hair will not grow—then you are hairless and nothing can help you.

The sure way to abolish dandruff for goods is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, safely, and without risking a penny get from your druggist a bottle of Parisian Sage. This is guaranteed to banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair and stimulate a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to use and daintily perfumed.

If you want beautiful, soft, thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it, by all means try Parisian Sage. Don't delay—begin tonight—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.—Advertisement.

MILWAUKEE FIREMEN INJURED FIGHTING FIRE

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—Six firemen were seriously injured here last night in a $100,000 fire which gutted a four story building occupied principally by the Milwaukee Seed company. The firemen were injured when the rounds of an extension ladder collapsed as they were carrying a line of hose to the top of the building. Oscar Knoth, one of the firemen, plunged headlong from the top round of the ladder to the cement sidewalk four floors below.

Both arms were fractured and his legs and body painfully bruised. The other men suffered broken limbs. The fire was under control at midnight after a two-hour fight.

ST. CLOUD BREWERS HAVE BEEN INDICTED

Fergus Falls, Minn., Nov. 16.—The United States grand jury completed its work here yesterday and adjourned after returning thirty-two indictments. Among those indicted were George Smith, Fredolin Smith, Joseph Donzel and Florian Niedlin, proprietors of a St. Cloud brewery recently seized by Federal officers. Their trials will not occur until next spring. Their attorneys yesterday asked for an order for the return of the brewery to its owners, but no decision was reached. The matter will be taken up in Minneapolis next Monday.

Butte Booze Arrests.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 16.—Some twenty alleged violators of the prohibition law were gathered in a dragnet thrown out here last night by Federal agents. The raids were part of a program decided upon yesterday to break up numerous alleged Canadian whisky stores in this city. At a late hour the raids were continuing and the list of prisoners growing larger.

CLAIMS DANDRUFF WILL CAUSE BALDNESS

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't.

Dandruffy heads mean faded, brittle, scraggly hair that finally dies—new hair will not grow—then you are hairless and nothing can help you.

The sure way to abolish dandruff for goods is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, safely, and without risking a penny get from your druggist a bottle of Parisian Sage. This is guaranteed to banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair and stimulate a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to use and daintily perfumed.

If you want beautiful, soft, thick lustrous hair, and lots of it, by all means try Parisian Sage. Don't delay—begin tonight—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.—Advertisement.

A GREAT STROKE OF BUSINESS.

The people of Minnesota did themselves a long delayed act of justice when they ratified Amendment No. 4, requiring railroads to pay the share of the cost of local improvements due from their property.

Certainly it is a great stroke of business for Duluth, which because of its peculiar shape and the relation of many of its streets to railroad lines has been more heavily handicapped by the old situation than most communities and therefore will benefit more largely from the change.

Commissioner Farrell says that it is worth a million and a half to Duluth, and probably that's not stretching it a penny. It makes it possible to improve many streets that couldn't be improved, so long as the railroad property that parallels them was exempt from assessment, because it meant too heavy a burden upon private property. Details furnished by a local article elsewhere in The Herald tonight will make it clear what a boon this amendment is to the community.

And there is no injustice in it to the railroads, though it means new burdens of taxation to them. There never was any reason why railroad property should be exempt from assessments for local improvements except that the railroad tax law, contrived by and for the railroads and protected by a constitutional provision against change without a vote of the people, so provided. The change is an act of justice which has been too long delayed, and which strikes the shackles that have halted many very much needed improvements in this and other communities.

* * * *

The people showed keen discrimination in passing on the amendments, ratifying the good road amendment by a large majority, approving the amendment which gives judges of probate four-year terms like other county officers instead of two-year terms, and failing to approve the tax amendment.

While there is much to be said for a state income tax, and very much more to be said for abolishing the personal property tax, still Amendment No. 3, in authorizing special taxes on "occupations and privileges," would have given the legislature power too sweeping and too liable to abuse by ill-judged experiments in taxation.

ONE MAN'S GOOD WORK FOR GOOD ROADS.

The praise expressed for Senator P. H. McGarry's work for Amendment No. 1 by the Pine River Sentinel-Blaze in a paragraph reprinted on this page in the section devoted to "Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors" is not a particle too strong.

The measure ratified by the people Nov. 2 was, when it went through the legislature, the "McGarry bill," and into framing and passing this vitally important and historically momentous measure went the famous McGarry enthusiasm, which is tireless and dauntless. Not content with that service, Mr. McGarry devoted virtually his whole time to the campaign for ratification, and whether directing the fight at headquarters or stumping for it out through the state he was a host in himself.

Though others, notably State Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock and Senator Leonard H. Nord, have done splendid work in this great cause, we know of no one man more entitled to the gratitude of the state than Pat McGarry.

A VERDICT.

H. G. Wells, novelist, seer and Socialist, is contributing to the New York Times the observations he has recently made in Russia.

He paints a depressing picture, as all do who go there. That he does not paint it as anti-radical propaganda is made clear enough by his own socialistic beliefs and by the fact that after the picture is painted he declares his belief that the result is not due to communism, but to a natural reaction from the collapse of the old structure of tyranny which a war-born revolt brought about.

In life's small things be resolute and great
To keep thy muscle trained.
Knowest thou when Fate
Thy measure takes, or when she'll say to thee,
"I find thee worthy; do this deed for me?"
—Lowell.

But Bolshevism has been in power and all-powerful for more than two years. It could not be expected to effect perfection, even if perfection were humanly possible, in that time: but it should be expected to make at least a start toward the primary function, which is expected of any sort of social organization, of supplying the fundamental human needs of the people. And as to that this paragraph from Mr. Wells's report of Russia as he finds it is in itself a complete judgment of Bolshevism in operation, even though he disclaims that judgment as his own:

> But every class above the peasants, including the official class, is now in a state of extreme privation. The credit and industrial system that produced commodities has broken down, and so far attempts to replace it by some other form of production have been ineffective, so that nowhere are there any new things.

It would be unjust to ask the Bolsheviki to produce their heaven on earth in two years, out of the ruin which the collapse of czarism and capitalism created. But they should have been able to establish at least a beginning of production to meet the brute needs of humanity; and they haven't done it. After more than two years, "nowhere are there any new things," most of the old things that capitalism produced before it was slain are worn out, and everybody, except the peasants next the soil, "is now in a state of extreme privation."

To the pretty dreams of socialism, Russia with socialism in operation presents a shattering and awakening answer.

PANAMA CANAL TOLLS AGAIN.

The Republican platform declared for letting American vessels through the Panama canal free. Mr. Harding during the campaign reverted to that declaration with pleased approval. Mr. Harding soon will visit the canal zone, and it is said that he expects to get material there to help his plan of reopening that question.

It will be a pity if we have to have that fight over again, but it seems inevitable. A Republican congress passed a law letting American ships go through toll-free. President Wilson induced a Democratic congress to repeal that law, though he got very important Republican help.

The facts are familiar to everybody. America is bound by a solemn treaty to treat the vessels of ALL nations alike at the canal. That pledge was given to Great Britain for a valuable consideration—that country's surrender of certain important rights under former treaties. It was and remains as definite a business arrangement as could be imagined, and this country's honor is pledged to its fulfillment. It cannot decently evade its obligation; and evasion would be as dishonorable as though it had bought an article and, after getting possession, refused to pay for it.

The fact that there might be some material advantage in breaking its pledge does not warrant America in doing it. No material advantage can compensate for a broken pledge.

> Granting the shipping interests free use of a canal that was built with the money of the entire nation would be not only an unjust discrimination against other interests, particularly the railroads, but a form of subsidy obnoxious to the American people.

As Mr. Root, Mr. Lodge and other self-respecting Republicans pointed out when this issue was before the country last time, the Harding plan is trifling with dishonor for a small material advantage. America cannot afford to do it.

CONSISTENT?

Washington, it appears, is more worked up about whether there is to be an inaugural ball or not than about anything else. League of Nations, tariff, progress or reaction—everything of that kind pales into insignificance compared with the great question whether Mr. Harding will restore the inaugural ball which President Wilson did away with when he came in eight years ago.

At first thought there would appear to be no occasion for any doubt at all about this. Mr. Wilson didn't have any inaugural ball. Mr. Harding during the campaign said he would do everything differently from the way Mr. Wilson did it. The people voted for a change. Manifestly, then, there should be an inaugural ball.

But Washington hears, greatly to its unrest and perturbation, that Mr. Harding is not only opposed to an inaugural ball, but that he does not favor an inaugural parade, preferring to walk from the senate office building to the Capitol, and after having been sworn in and delivered his address, to go quietly to the White House without further pomp.

That's interesting. Perhaps, after all, when Mr. Harding set himself up as a man who was going to reverse every Wilson method, he did not intend to be taken quite literally.

PROHIBITIVE.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

Possibly because after you have bought your apples at current prices there is no money left to pay the doctor.

Disappointed

Answers, London: There was a load of bricks on the football ground in anticipation of some reconstruction work.

An aged supporter of the club came up one day, eyed the bricks, and knit his brows as if in deep thought.

When the secretary asked him what he was thinking about, he said quietly:

"Why didn't you get 'arf-bricks? They would have been much handier."

"Handier?" echoed the secretary. "Why, man, we couldn't build a pavilion with half-bricks!"

"Oh, a pavilion!" sighed the old man. "I thought they were for the referee!"

Nix on Baseball

Editorial in the Chicago Tribune.

Instead of trying to reorganize commercial baseball, why not bust it while it is feeble? Here is an amusement played by a lot of circus performers who, because they swat the pill instead of jumping through hoops and flying from the trapeze, because they slide on clay instead of sawdust, get money which would make a hootch thief willing to quit his profession for theirs.

If Ringlings had to pay such money to their sawdust athletes they would go broke, and if one man in the spangles sold out the rest of the team there would be a spill for which some one would be hanged, but the circus thrives on physical hardihood, agility, skill and honesty, and why have baseball as a competitor?

Why get Landis to resurrect a game which could not stay straight when its turnstiles were clicking with ready money day after day and when half the populace was so loony as to have expert knowledge only in batting averages?

When Babe Ruth was the only man in the country better known than Jack Dempsey, the players, making ten, fifteen and twenty thousand dollars a year when they were worth about $1.80 in the stockyards, made fish out of all the populace which thought they were on the square.

A game which could not stay honest when it was in its greatest prosperity, and had to be honest to continue to be prosperous, ought not to be saved. It ought to be scrapped.

We have deluded ourselves that it was a good, wholesome thing for the American people. It was a waste of time. It developed the worst sportsmanship of which the American people are capable. It was vicarious exercise and skill for thousands of soft, idle citizens who ought to have been hoeing beans and picking potato bugs.

If the men who took their baseball on a bench were scattered on a million lots and made to play the game themselves—a thing not one in a thousand could do—there might have been some national advantage in it. There would be more advantage if the citizenry were made to skip rope and barred out of baseball parks.

Before baseball developed into a circus, without the virtues of a circus, there were baseball teams which actually represented the towns whose names they bore. There was some sense in that game. The butcher might be pitcher and the undertaker catcher and the coroner umpire. It was local enterprise, but now it is a commercialized hippodrome, which gives the citizenry only one kind of exercise, and that kind it needs least, maxillary.

We're off baseball. We swear never to go to another game—until the Cubs or the Sox open in the spring of next year.

A Threat of War on Union Labor

New York World: The launching of its campaign against labor-unionism and President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was timed with great care by the Republican publicity association, of which Former Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., is chairman, with headquarters in Washington. A week ago it might have caused the Republican party, of which for years it has been a serviceable agency, serious embarrassment by proclaiming the need of establishing the "open shop" by legislative regulation. But with Senator Harding's sweeping victory and the certainty of large Republican majorities in both branches of the Sixty-seventh congress, in high political circles the occasion for a policy of extreme caution in dealing with the labor question may be thought to have disappeared. After all, no debts of gratitude to Mr. Gompers remain to be discharged by the Republican organization.

How far Mr. Bourne, in spite of his impressive title, is authorized to speak for the inner councils of his party is not always clear. More than once, when by his zeal or lack of discretion he has helped create an awkward situation, his utterances have been officially disavowed. But whatever happens he keeps on doing business at the old stand, ostensibly as the mouthpiece of a party organization that hesitates to father experiments in publicity of which he is ready to assume the authorship.

If the policy of the Republican party is to be to challenge labor-unionism on the issue of the "open shop," men better qualified to speak for it than the chairman of the Republican publicity association in Washington must soon come into the open and declare its intentions.

The Pilgrims of 1620

With westward prow the Mayflower sailed
A crowded ship, a hope forlorn
And ere New England's shore was hailed
A pilgrim died and a babe was born.

Bigot and tyrant left behind,
And homes too, that September morn,
She sailed upon an autumn wind
For lands where Freedom might be born.

She labored then through heavy seas,
With straining spars and canvas torn,
But ever on the wintry breeze
Was brighter inspiration borne.

O'er gulfs profound and trackless ways
By faith upborne, that sturdy band,
After a dreary hundred days,
Debarked upon a frozen strand.

What mattered! Here, no longer slaves,
All hated bondage now forsworn,
Though digging half a hundred graves
While waiting for the spring's return.

They delved, they span, they had their cares,
The leveled graves were green with corn,
And fervent their Thanksgiving prayers
For there was this Republic born.
—Rossiter Johnson in Boys' Life.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON.

Busy Men

Some of us are gifted speakers and we make the welkin sound, fading all the lesser shriekers who may argue and expound; and our grace you'll be allowing when we come before you bowing—but the farmer with his plowing makes the old world's wheels go round. Some of us are famous fighters, with our guns and butcher knives; and a lot of us, as writers, buy the fodder for our wives; others on the stage are playing, through the lines of "Hamlet" straying—but the farmer with his haying is the man who saves our lives. Some have all their lives devoted to the well-known public weal, and in congress, silver-throated, you may hear them ably spiel; and they have our admiration, our applause and adulation—but the farmer saves the nation, when he feeds the calves their meal. Some are painting gorgeous pictures destined to a deathless fame, and, despite the critics' strictures, they will get there just the same; some are preaching public morals, some are gaining singers' laurels—but the farmer with his sorrels, or his claybanks, plays the game. And the farmer isn't yawping as he goes his dusty way, and we do not see him stopping, yelping for a six-hour day; when the early dawn is breaking he goes briskly to his raking, and his honest bones are aching when at night he hits the hay.

Herding the National Wisdom

By Savoyard.

Washington, Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Cabot Lodge is happy, and yet he is not entirely without anxiety, as is observed when he beseeches the country "not to expect the millennium." But the country does expect the millennium and is defiantly resolved to put up with nothing short of the millennium. That would work admirably if Mr. Lodge and his party had a millennium in their possession to bestow on the country, but they have no such goods in stock and when they come in and are completely saddled with full responsibility that responsibility will be heavily laden with embarrassment.

There is the League of Nations that Harding "scrapped." The thing refuses to stay scrapped. It is given out that the president-elect intends to call in council "the wisdom" of the country to advise him about an "association" of nations. It is to be a non-partisan affair, and it is announced that Oscar Underwood and F. M. Simmons will be invited to supply the Democratic share of the "wisdom." Hi Johnson and Borah also will be consulted, as will Elihu Root, Charles E. Hughes and President Lowell. Of course, Hearst's yallers, the New York Tribune and Harvard college will attend the council with samples of their varied and antagonistic stores of wisdom.

The problem is how to become a party to an entangling alliance with Europe from which all that savors of Wilsonism is eliminated—even the name, for it is to be called an "association" instead of a "league." The chances are that Johnson, Borah, Hearst, La Follette and others will kick up a bobbery about it and that all will not be altogether lovely in the council. Harding and Root, together with the New York Tribune and Harvard college, demand that Europe scrap the miserable and un-American league, and accept a thoroughly and completely American association in all and singular particulars. That will be troublesome and expensive. If the present league is thoroughly "scrapped" Germany is sure to feel herself relieved of many burdens imposed on her in the treaty of peace. It is doubtful if Great Britain, France and Italy, the strong European powers now in the league, will readily assent to such scrapping of the league. In any event, if Hi Johnson, Borah, Hearst and company should assent to the "association"—and they will not—there will be much confusion, for it means another world congress at Versailles or elsewhere to agree upon and lick into shape the pact of the "association."

Little Holland is a member of the league. Those Netherlanders are a cautious and a sagacious folk and their vision penetrates as far into a mill stone as the sight of any other people adventures. Little Holland has faith in the league, and depending on it for her security, she has reduced her standing army one-half. Had we promptly entered the league, by this time practically all the nations of the world except lunatic Russia would have done what Holland has done. Europe would have gone to work, all except Russia, and Europe at work means reduction of the cost of living, a blessing that is not going to descend on the world until Europe does go to work and swell world production.

That young Napoleon of politics, Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee, is another happy man and he interprets the situation thus:

It would not be surprising if millions and millions of pauperized and miserable women and children of Europe are disagreed with Mr. Hays in his felicity. Nearly all the world is "all wrong," and wrong it will be until there is a combination of the nations to avert war and secure peace.

The famous duke of Wellington could have told young Hays that a great victory is an awful thing, oftimes a great and all too heavy burden.

Women's Hats

Edinburgh Scotsman: The mystery of women's mania for buying new hats is, I submit, a proper subject for official investigation. A man buys a new hat because he happens to be in need of one. He regrets the necessity, puts off the purchase till the last possible minute and dashes into a hatter's. The whole transaction is an affair of moments.

But women! Ask the next twenty women you meet why they bought their last new hat. Twenty different answers will be given you. "It was such a bargain." "I simply had to have it." "I hadn't a thing to wear with my new blue taffeta." "I had been looking for that shape for years." "I happened to have an hour to spare."

It is not all vanity. The queer thing is that many women buy hats which they never wear. I have known hats which were pronounced to be "perfect dreams" languish unseen in their tissue paper wrappings until they were out of fashion.

Milliners could, if they would, tell queer stories of the hats that are never worn, of stern featured, middle aged women customers succumbing to the lure of tulle, flower garlands, and flying streamers of 18, because "it is so pretty."

Half the domestic squabbles on money matters have the great hat problem as their starting point. Women who are models of economy in all other matters lose their heads when it comes to hats.

Why is it? Are the creations of our clever modern milliners too attractive for impressionable femininity, or is it perhaps because there is no closed season for new millinery fashions?

School Days in China

From "My Village of Facing Light," by Moon Kwan, in Asia: Our teacher, who had a face as stern as that of a magistrate and a character as gentle as that of a sage, had a great knowledge of books but very little practical sense. He always wore a pair of big horn spectacles, not to aid his sight, but to add to the dignity of his venerable prerogative. He sat gravely on a straight-backed chair by a big square table, with his right elbow resting on the table. In the right hand he held a tobacco pipe, and in the left, a bunch of reed-sticks. He would call us to recite our lessons thrice a day, and would give us a lash of reedsticks whenever we forgot a sentence. And he would swing one of his feet over his knee and waggle it incessantly during the whole recital.

He liked to make us study hard while he enjoyed being lazy. In the afternoon, after he had given us some characters to write or trace, he would go to his room adjoining the school and take a nap, and we would do all kinds of tricks to disturb him. When we heard him snoring, we would catch a fly and take off its wings, and one of us would sneak into his room quietly and put the fly on his face. It would run around and make him itch. This was a most successful trick. We never got caught, for we brought a book along, and if he woke up before we could get away, then we pretended to ask about lessons.

Persian Farewells

Harold Weston in Asia: We soon began our farewells. All the flowers of Persia were employed to embroider the language that accompanied the khan's salaams. He bowed and mumbled. Then we all bowed and mumbled in return. "May your nose grow fatter," murmured the khan. "May your shadow never decrease," we replied. "Your presence has made all Persia a garden," continued the khan in dulcet tones and we, finding no rejoinder sufficiently extravagant, ceased bowing for the moment, to look at him. He was smiling as if he really meant it.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

What Is Eczema?

Just as several diseases affecting joints were formerly confused by physicians and are often so confused by laymen today as "rheumatism," so many skin diseases were once called eczema which we now know are distinct conditions. For example, physicians frequently encounter cases of psoriasis, lupus (skin tuberculosis), scabies (the itch), and other skin diseases, mistaken for "eczema" by the complacent victims.

Were I as resolute now as I was five years ago I would clarify the question of the nature of eczema forthwith by assuring the reader that there is no such disease. I have settled the catching cold question and the rheumatism question by that simple method. And in truth there is no such disease as eczema. That is plainly evident in the cordial way in which all competent skin specialists clash on a definition of eczema. I have consulted all the present day authorities on the subject and I find that there is positively no such disease as eczema—at any rate there is no more tangible evidence of the occurrence of such a disease than there is of the occurrence of a "cold" or "rheumatism." Now please do not lose patience with me. What I am trying to explain is that eczema is not an entity—any schoolboy will instantly grasp my meaning now. It is no more an entity than "indigestion" is. There. Now I am sure to be understood, for everybody who has progressed beyond Dr. Bunkem's almanac knows that "indigestion" is just a vague name for discomfort, produced by all manner of diseases and difficulties and not a disease or definite condition of the body.

Some earnest dermatologists have attempted to characterize eczema as a skin inflammation, in some stage of which there is a watery exudation or weeping. That is fine, but unfortunately ivy poisoning is so characterized and we consider ivy poisoning a dermatitis rather than an eczema. Yet that doesn't get us anywhere, for what is dermatitis but skin inflammation (derma, skin; suffix itis, inflammation)?

The patient's own physician is the only one who can form an opinion as to the nature of the eczema and the remedial measures required.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Easy Running.

My boy, aged 5, swallowed a large sized ball bearing a week ago. I followed a suggestion you once made to feed plenty of such things as potatoes, bananas, etc., and no physic. But it has not come away, and the neighbors say I ought to give castor oil. (Mrs. C. J. B.)

Answer: Give nothing. Do nothing. Worry not. He will run all the better. The ball probably passed within the first forty-eight hours, maybe within the first eight hours. In the remote chance of any after affect, an X-ray picture would show whether the ball is in the alimentary tract. The one thing not to give in such cases is a physic. You managed the treatment correctly.

Ear Discharge.

A long time ago one of your readers told of some drops you had recommended for an ear discharge, which had cured his trouble. It was some acid, I believe. Please repeat that formula. I have had a discharging ear for over a year, and the doctors have treated it without success. (M. E. W.)

Answer: It was probably a solution of

Boric acid	20 grains
Alcohol	1 ounce

Drop two or three drops in the ear night and morning for several weeks. This will at least do no harm, and may clear up some such cases.

The Baby's Adenoids.

Our 3-year-old boy has large tonsils and adenoids. The doctor urged their removal. But a friend says a physician told her adenoids and tonsils always grow in again if removed in a child under 4 years of age. Is that true? (Mrs. S. C.)

Answer: No, mere gossip.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinius, the Sunshine Man, Dayton, Ohio.

Eternal God, I pray for the meekness which was in Christ Jesus my Lord. Deliver me from all pride and vanity. Let me walk in reverence before Thee all my days.

Most gracious Lord, wilt Thou give me a clearer view of Thy glory? Help me to move about in the sense of Thine encompassing presence. Let me feel as though I was engirt with the power of the Infinite. Let me move with the glorious liberty of the children of God.

Most gracious God, I pray that Thou wouldst enable me to make a new vow with the new day. Let my consecration be repeated every hour. Let no moment be common or unclean. Let the entire day be holy unto the Lord.—J. H. Jowett.

To the Thirty-one

Springfield Republican: The situation with regard to the league is now unmistakably up to Mr. Taft, Mr. Hoover, President Lowell of Harvard, Former Attorney General George W. Wickersham and the others of their group who, as friends of the league, placed themselves upon public record in urging voters to support Senator Harding as the best means of promoting the league. The now obvious fact that if these men had not made their appeal the result of the election would not have been changed does not absolve them from responsibility, nor are they of the type to evade responsibility on such grounds. What they can accomplish and how they can accomplish it are two questions not to be answered until after March 4. But if they are to accomplish anything they must set about it, for they may be very sure that Hiram Johnson and William E. Borah will not be idle in the meantime.

"The Wise Men of Gotham"

Detroit News: The phrase, "wise men of Gotham," came into being in a most peculiar manner. Gotham was a small town in Nottingham, far from the usual commerce of old England's highways. King John, at the head of a goodly company, decided one day to so journey that he would pass through the town. In those days the passage of a royal retinue through a village meant numerous hardships for the citizens. The king's guards demanded food for man and beast, and generally forgot to pay for it. In addition, horseshoers, carpenters and other tradesmen were called upon to do various work without any return. The citizens therefore devised a scheme to turn their king from his path.

When his majesty came within a mile or so of the hamlet he met various citizens engaged in the most outlandish pursuits. One was attempting to drown an eel, another attempting to drag the reflection of an early evening moon from a pond with the aid of a rope, another was building a fence around a cuckoo that had lit on a bush, and a fourth was attempting to sharpen a sword on a bit of cheese.

The king decided at once that the village was a gathering place of madmen, and ordered the route changed, and his troops and gentlemen passed around the supposed haunt of lunatics. From this came the local proverb: "More fools pass through Gotham than remain in it."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Pat McGarry's Good Work

Pine River Sentinel-Blaze: Senator P. H. McGarry is entitled to the greatest measure of praise that it is possible to award to any man in public life in the state of Minnesota today. His work and sacrifice in the interests of Amendment No. 1 has no parallel, and the tremendous vote which was cast for the good roads amendment is a tribute in itself that needs no further testimonial. Mr. McGarry set his heart on the work before him. He laid the foundation as a member of the Minnesota senate, and from the time of the adoption of the amendment by the legislature until the last minute before the polls opened on Tuesday he has been talking good roads and nothing else.

Not Wanted in America

Warroad Pioneer: The doctrine of hate and class prejudice, which had its greatest run in this country during the latter part of the war, and since, appears to have run its course. It was a war product. While it made a lot of noise it never had any substantial backing. The conservatives are very much a majority in the United States and refuse to get excited.

It'll Take a Lot of Plans

Carlton Vidette: Well, we want something done immediately about those robber brokers. We want laws passed that will prevent them from buying farmers' potatoes at 80 cents a bushel and later on retailing them at $4.50. If the next legislature doesn't stop that—well, we'll try some other plan.

May It Always Do So

Minneota Mascot: It will not do you a bit of good to be sore about election.

If it did not go to suit you it must have gone to suit the other fellow, and there must have been more of the other fellow—and the American principle is that the majority shall rule.

More Good Wishes for Clarence

Fairmont Sentinel: Ex-Congressman Clarence Miller of Duluth is said to be looked for governor of the Philippines, a job that connects up with eighteen thousand bones a year. We hope Clarence lands. He is one of the most likeable fellows on earth and when it comes to doing things for his friends he is in a class all by himself. If we should ever happen to be elected president we would select Clarence for our private secretary and political manager.

After the Bootleggers

Hibbing News: Federal Judge Page Morris, sitting in the booze-smuggling case at Duluth, stated that he is becoming weary of the ever increasing number of liquor cases that are appearing to clog up the courts.

Court leniency has something to do with it, too.

Judge Morris, and all other judges, could curtail the run materially if they would eliminate the fine and substitute therefor a straight jail sentence to those found guilty.

A Problem for Plutocrats Only

Redwood Gazette: We have been wondering as to which would be the cheaper method of getting our Thanksgiving turkey—obtaining one by the time-worn custom of buying it or purchasing an automobile and running over one.

Let Them Go to It

Wichita Eagle: Now that wheat has dropped, some folk want the privilege of sticking a pin through the tire of the pneumatic bread.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of This Date, 1900

With every county in Minnesota complete, except nine small precincts, Capt. Van Sant has 2,707 plurality over Governor Lind. The total now stands: Van Sant, 152,409, Lind, 149,702.

In a lecture before the University of Michigan Engineering society at Ann Arbor, Mich., Lyman E. Cooley, the Chicago engineer, said: "Eventually the interior cities of the country will be sapped of their trade unless the sea can be brought to their doors. Cheaper means of transportation and an independent sea footing, entirely free from New York, must be given these cities. The opening of a through deep sea way from the lakes to the ocean will accomplish this. The results will be greater than from an equal amount spent on railroads."

A Paris dispatch says that private but trustworthy information has been received there to the effect that King Oscar of Sweden is in a very low state of health. His recent brain attack, it is stated, deprived him of his memory and he seems unable to recuperate.

The czar of Russia, who has been suffering from an attack of influenza, now has typhoid fever, which is said to be running a satisfactory course.

A Washington dispatch says: The archives of Pekin have given up a secret that has balked every student of American archaeology since the Western hemisphere was first visited by Columbus. There have been found records in Pekin that prove conclusively that a landing was made on this continent by the Mongolians in 499 A. D., centuries before Columbus was born, and before the acceptance of the theory that the earth was a globe led the wise men of Europe to seek a new world in the West. The story is that five adventurous missionaries sailed from the eastern coast of China and landed in Mexico opposite the peninsula of Yucatan. Here a number of temples were erected in the name of their own god. There is little doubt that these same edifices are described by De Charnay in his book on "Buddhist Temples."

A. M. Marshall and family returned yesterday from a trip to Europe lasting several months.

J. H. Edmond and wife of Spirit Lake will leave within a few days for Fresno, Cal.

John C. Morrison, formerly of this city, has returned home after an absence of several years in Alaska and the Klondike. He is a brother of Mrs. Dorcas McDougall of Duluth. He is now located at Nome, and will return there after a short visit.

Gen. W. L. White, quartermaster general of the Michigan National Guard, who has been under indictment for the past year for complicity in the state military frauds, appeared before Judge Wiest at Lansing yesterday afternoon. Gen. White returned to Michigan the previous night, voluntarily, after an absence of almost a year. He stood mute before the judge and a plea of not guilty was ordered.

The ladies of the St. James parish at West Duluth have organized the St. Anthony's Charitable society with the following officers: President, Mrs. F. J. Lynch; secretary, Mrs. E. Dormedy; executive committee, Mrs. P. R. Haley, Mrs. D. O'Keefe, Mrs. V. R. Method and Miss E. Zech.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian, religious differences is barred. Letters must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

All letters must be written on one side of the paper only.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

HIGHER TELEPHONE RATES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I received a circular from the Duluth or Northwestern Telephone company this month indicating that it is laying the groundwork for another increase in telephone rates—provided it can get the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission to stand for it. About two years ago the concern swallowed up its only competitor here, curtailed the service by refusing to tell people the time, reduced its efficiency in other directions and then increased its rates about 33 per cent. Now when there is a tendency of wages and other things downward it would boost the rates again.

If all the "costs of upkeep" it quotes in its circular are as doubtful as the figures given on brass and copper, a revision may be in order. On both items peak prices during the past inflation period are quoted, when as a matter of fact the present brass market is very low and half the copper mines in the country are closing down.

Instead of the telephone company getting more money a movement should be started demanding a reduction to pre-war rates. SUBSCRIBER.

HINTS FOR YOUNG "IN-LAWS" TO PONDER

To the Editor of The Herald:

For some time past the Open Court has been practically filled with letters on the "Irish question" and letters of abuse of the mother-in-law. Far be it from me to enter the controversy on the Irish question, though I cannot see what good purpose will ever be served by such expressions of hatred as are written, both for and against, on the Irish question, but the mother-in-law letters are entirely different and it seems to me time for The Herald to refuse to print any more of those epistles.

Everybody knows that "in-laws" are not always easy to live with, but the daughter-in-law is in the same class with the mother, and I wonder what preparation these young women are making to be the mothers-in-law of the future?

The older women are the same now as they were fifteen or twenty years ago, and that ought to furnish some food for thought. The letters are all written by women who, while condemning the mothers of their husbands, invariably point to their own mothers as the mothers-in-law par excellence. It might be interesting to get the viewpoint of the other side of the family.

In any event, the woman who rushes into print on the faults of her household is lacking in reserve and in love and respect for her husband, and also laying a poor foundation on which to build respect for herself in the minds of her children. It would be much better now for these young women to cultivate in themselves the virtues they so desire in their mothers-in-law and it might be that in so doing they would become the daughters-in-law who would be most acceptable to the older women.

"NOT A MOTHER-IN-LAW."

THE IRISH QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If any people in the world have a right to be free and independent, then the Irish people have a right to be free and independent; if President Wilson spoke the truth when he said the American people had gone to war for no other purpose than to guarantee the freedom and the safety of every people on earth, great or small, strong or weak, then we are openly and publicly pledged to the whole world to support and to aid by every means in our power the Irish people's demand to be free and independent. No sophistry in the world, no cunning explanation that circumstances alter cases, can explain away the plain truth that we did solemnly pledge ourselves to make democracy and self-determination safe all over the world and that our people went to war in the enthusiastic and victorious way in which they did go because they believed that the president meant what he said, that he would insist upon our pledges being fulfilled and that the American people were strong enough to back him up and to see that their pledges were fulfilled, no matter who opposed them. What right the Polish people have to freedom and self-determination, what right the Czecho-Slovak people have to freedom and self-determination, what right the Jugo-Slavic people have to freedom and self-determination, that the Irish people do not have? The president, in one of those fine sentences which he so frequently utters, declared that our purpose in going to war was to destroy the rule of might and to set up the rule of right all over the world. Well, Ireland is part of the world, is it not; and Ireland is still governed by the rule of might and not by the rule of right, is it not? Why does the president's declaration apply to the peoples which were formerly ruled by the might of the German empire or the Austrian empire or the Russian empire or the Turkish empire and not apply to the peoples ruled by the might of the British empire? M. McDONAGH.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

TERENCE MACSWINEY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am sending you a clipping from a foreign paper. You would oblige by printing it in your paper. It is written by Walter E. Holloway.

JAMES McMAHON.

Duluth, Nov. 12.

Terence MacSwiney, take your place
Among the martyrs of your race,
Who gave the last that man can give
That Erin's liberty may live!
Aye, Britain's brutal force is broken,
For, by your dauntless death you've spoken
The word of doom to Britain's power
In Erin from this fateful hour.
No longer shall the tyrant reign—
MacSwiney shall not die in vain!

Terence MacSwiney, I am not
Your countryman, but you have brought
To me the fact that Erin's fight
Is a common struggle for the right—
The fight of all humanity
For Justice, Truth and Liberty,
America's foundation stone,
The heritage our fathers won—
And on this rock we, too, will stand
Till freedom comes to Ireland.

Terence MacSwiney, sleep the sleep
Of him whose loyal friends will keep Forever green his memory
As shamrocks in old Erin free.
Free soon, for Britain's force is broken,
Since by your dauntless death you've spoken
The word of doom to Britain's power
In Erin from this fateful hour.
No longer shall the tyrant reign—
MacSwiney has not died in vain!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person asking it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

H. B., Eveleth: A man who has his papers and is a citizen of this country goes to Canada and lives there about six years; while there several children are born to him and later all return to the United States. Are they still citizens of this country?

Ans.: H. J. Steel, executive secretary of the Americanization committee of Duluth, submits the following as the correct answer: "According to the naturalization laws and regulations, if 'H. B.' has lived in Canada for a period of five years or more and has failed to register with the United States consul during that time, he has forfeited his American citizenship. If 'H. B.' originally was a citizen of Canada, he would lose his rights of citizenship at the end of two years, providing, of course, he did not register with the United States consul in Canada. The important fact in this case is whether or not 'H. B.' had registered in the office of the United States consul during the six-year period of his residence in Canada. If he has never registered, he has lost all citizenship rights in the United States. Any children born to 'H. B.' while residing in Canada are not citizens if born after the time when he ceased to be a citizen of the United States."

J. E. V., Duluth: Please answer the following questions: (1) Names of the five city commissioners and the departments of which they are in charge? (2) What is the length of their terms of office?

Ans.: T. W. Hugo, mayor and department of public welfare; J. A. Farrell, commissioner of public works; Fred Voss, commissioner of finance; T. J. Phillips, public utilities, and W. E. Murnian, public safety. (2) Four years.

M., Virginia, Minn.: Will you kindly give me an answer to the following questions: Can a person shortly after obtaining a divorce in Minnesota go to the state of Wisconsin or Michigan and get married? (2) If so, can you come back and live in the state of Minnesota?

Ans.: The Minnesota law forbids those to whom it grants divorces from marrying in this state within six months, but it does not prevent their going to another state for the purpose. (2) Yes, the parties could come back and live here, but there would be a chance of legal entanglements later, involving property or other rights. These laws are framed in the interests of the society or a whole and there is always danger in ignoring them.

A. P., Chisholm, Minn.: Can a child be taken from its mother through annullment of the marriage?

Ans.: It would depend upon circumstances and is for a court to decide.

E. L. M., Superior, Wis.: (1) Would you kindly state in your Questions and Answers column how long a person has to be in Wisconsin before he can get his citizen papers? (2) Are the first papers good that were taken out in 1909, or does he have to get others? (3) Does an American woman have her rights to citizenship in the United States if she marries an alien? (4) Does she have to go with her husband to get papers?

Ans.: (1) He must have been a resident of the United States five years and of the state in which he makes application at least one year. (2) No, he will have to make a new application; first or application-for-citizenship papers expire in seven years from date issued. (3) No, she loses them. (4) Not necessarily.

Billiard Player, Duluth: (1) What was the relative standing at the finish in the championship billiard tournament held in New York city in October, 1919? (2) Who made the highest run?

Ans.: (1) The players finished in this order: Hoppe, Morningstar, Cochrane, Schaefer, Sutton, Yomeda and Slosson. (2) Cochrane, with 265.

Whitney Sentenced for Forgery.

Newport, N. H., Nov. 16.—William Whitney of Langdon, arrested at Richmond, Me., last night, on a charge of forgery, was sentenced to imprisonment for not less than a year and a day nor more than two years. Yesterday Whitney pleaded guilty to a charge of raising a check on the town of Langdon from $188 to $288.

Well Known Sculptor Dies.

New York, Nov. 16.—Thomas Shields Clarke, 60, internationally known sculptor and painter, died here yesterday. He had been ill a short time.

Woman Kills Three Children.

Gorin, Mo., Nov. 16.—Mrs. Grover Buford stabbed three of her four children to death with a butcher knife at their home yesterday, and then attempted to kill herself. Her condition is considered critical. The other child, a boy of 9, who witnessed the tragedy, ran to a neighbor for assistance. Mrs. Buford had been ill, it was said. The ages of the dead children ranged from 2 to 7.

Skin Blemishes

How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing rewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold.

In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

THE extravagant use of fur indulged in during the last few years has had to be curtailed on account of the shortage of pelts. If the designers had continued to use it as recklessly as in the past there would soon have been a tragic lack of fur-bearing animals on earth. But though fur is used sparingly now on most of the winter wraps, it is put on the garment in a way to show to greatest advantage.

In the cloak shown in one of the downtown shops the fur is used in a way to create the impression of great luxuriousness. There is no skimpiness in the becoming high collar, and the broad bands of fur on the sleeves give a look of warmth and richness to the garment. The material is sand-colored wool velour and the fur is kolinsky. The lower part of the cloak, on the left side, has a double row of large white beads, which are laced together with brown silk cord.

Invitations numbering 1,200 for the annual Charity ball for the Children's home, were received this morning by as many friends of that institution. The ball, which marks annually the chief social function of its nature, will be given at the Armory Tuesday evening, Nov. 23, and warrants a whirl of pleasurable entertainment from start to finish. Assisting Mrs. Barnett in mailing the invitations were Mesdames James Vivian, Adam Thompson, R. H. Parker and G. Herbert Jones. Persons wishing to attend and who have not received invitations may procure tickets by calling Mrs. Barnett.

Mrs. R. L. C. Helm, chairman of the supply committee for the home, announces that friends who intend donating delicacies for the Thanksgiving dinner at the home, will be conferring a great favor if they will telephone her at Hem. 3916, and in this way avoid duplication.

The biennial report of the Des Moines convention is being prepared for publication and the volume will be issued shortly, according to those in charge, and forwarded at once to all who subscribed during the Iowa meeting. Others may secure a copy from headquarters of the General Federation of Women's clubs. Delay has been caused by some of those giving reports at Des Moines not having sent them to the recording secretary, Mrs. Adam Weiss, Del Norte, Colo., whose duty it is to gather the material for publication.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

From Minneapolis comes announcement of the marriage of Miss Winnifred McDonald, formerly of this city, and Milo F. Flaten of Moorhead, which took place Nov. 16. Mr. Flaten is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and is now practicing law in Minneapolis, where he with his bride will be at home after Dec. 15 at The Buckingham, Fifteenth and Vine Place.

"Cash and Carry" Stores Being Investigated

An investigation of charges by the National Housewives' league that the "cash and carry" plan instituted during the war is now being manipulated by merchants so that consumer obtains none of its benefits and all of its disadvantages is being approved by Duluth women.

"I have frequently had experiences myself which bear out the allegations," said Mrs. Alfred Jaques, president of the Woman's Council. "Stores now apparently make no discrimination between the prices charged for cash purchases carried by the consumer and on charge amount when the goods must be delivered."

The "cash and carry" plan was instituted during the war as a method of economy. It attained great popularity and is still very largely practiced in Duluth and elsewhere. The merchants contended that they could thus afford to sell goods at lower prices because they were enabled to eliminate bookkeeping charges, delivery costs, and the risk of bad debts.

"The Housewives' League of Duluth has not been active for about three years," said Mrs. J. T. Watson, a former president of the organization. "We have no machinery to investigate the matter now. However, there is a committee connected with the Women's Council that might well ascertain the truth of the charges. I have frequently heard complaints to the same effect."

The Woman's Council has a membership in the National Housewives' league, Mrs. Jaques said, and a committee could well take up the work.

Will Ask Congress to Save Mothers and Babes

New York, Nov. 15.—Plans for creating public sentiment in favor of a bill to be submitted to the next session of congress providing for proper care of mothers and new born babies today occupied the attention of 200 women delegates to the first conference of the second region of the National League of Women Voters.

"Unless we can get the bill passed by this congress," declared Mrs. Maud Wood Park, chairman of the league, "more than 500,000 mothers and babies die every month for want of proper care during maternity and infancy.

Mrs. Park announced a conference of women to meet next Monday in Washington to discuss methods of promulgating the bill. Among them will be representatives from the General Federation of Women's clubs, Women's Trade Union league, Mothers and Parent Teachers' association, Council of Jewish Women, Consumers' League, Women's Christian Temperance union, Collegiate Alumnae association and the National Council of Women.

Visitors Throng to Book Week Observance

Eighty grown-ups and more children than the Pied Piper ever dreamed of following in the train of his magic music, visited the library clubrooms yesterday, the opening day of children's book week, being nationally observed Nov. 15 to 20. It would be hard for an observer to say which of the two groups took the keenest enjoyment from the exhibit; but it is safe to say that all who visited the clubrooms were agreeably surprised and received many valuable suggestions regarding things of interest to children.

So many interesting and wholly praiseworthy books are on exhibit that it would be doing an injustice to single out individual numbers to extol their praises; but taken collectively it would be hard to find a better selected, more educative or more interesting lot of books.

In one assortment is found a delicate bit of fantasy dealing with flower life and which introduced practically all the favorite garden and wild flowers, familiarizing the little people with flower-life and at the same time holding them in rapt attention. Another volume attracting attention was one set in splendid type and a collection of new thoughts and interpretations of Aesop's Fables. An attractive book for very small children is one telling the story of "Billy Bunny's Fortune," treating the story pleasantly and beautifully illustrated with colored lithographs.

For the more grown up children one of the loveliest and newest seen is Cooper's "The Last of the Mohicans," which has been brought out in a beautiful binding and illustrated. This tale, ever a favorite of boyhood, together with the Boy Scout series, very wholesome and a truly sit-on-the-edge-of-your-chair type, Old Indian Legends, King Arthur and His Knights and others of the famous group of legends and stories of chivalry, with those of history and its stories, in which are listed works by Kingsley, Mark Twain, Jane Porter and others of like standard, go to make a collection of nature books, books of history stories, biography and travel, children's books, French books and occupational books, well worth the attention of any person, young or old.

ABOUT PICTURES.

"Sometimes," writes a letter-friend, "I would like to destroy most of the pictures in our home. They lack inspiration. For instance, a brook in winter and the companion piece, one in summer with a fried-egg sun, and ditto moon.

"And don't you hate staring family portraits? We have scads of them. Pictures of beautiful or interesting people are O. K. (in artistic dress) but who could be romantic in basque and bustle? Old albums are dandy though. One can look back on the family line in them without papering the wall with faces interesting only to oneself."

I quote that passage both because of its terse and amusing character and because the lady touches on two or three of my hobbies.

Is the Living Room the Place?

First, that the living room walls are not the place for family pictures—except of course, old portraits, which are usually interesting enough to stand on their own merits without the prop of relationship. Pictures of children are delightful, but unless they are artistic photographs of an individual figure with an appeal of beauty as well as interest, I do not think they make good living room pictures. I know a home in which the living room is lined with strips of pictures of the five children taken at various stages of their development. There are several of each child. I think these are delightful things to have, but not to paper one's living room with. It seems to me that the mother's or father's chamber or a little private room, such as den or sewing room, is the place for such pictures.

Bring Back the Family Album.

An equally desirable place—and think of the money you save in frames—is a photograph album. There are some styles of which one can well say that nothing in their existence becomes them like their going out of existence. But the passing of the old photograph album leaves one with no such sense of satisfaction. This is my second hobby. I cannot see why we ever let it go and I welcome the movement to bring it back.

Or Something Like This.

A big box of some sort in which to keep all sorts of photographs and snapshots is a next best substitute for the album. We have one which is a relic of the burnt wood craze, and which has been so useful that it has made me almost ready to forgive some of the monstrosities committed in the name of art during that mania. It is the greatest fun in the world to haul this out on a rainy Sunday afternoon and go over its contents.

Sometimes we have guests, too, who like to do the same. For my part, I love to look at other people's family albums even when I only know a few of the faces. I love to have people show them to me with bits of gossip about them. "That's Aunt Susie—she was married three times and would have been married a fourth time when she was 74 only her children prevented it." I love to study Aunt Susie's face and see what made her so wildly attractive. I even like to look family albums over just by myself and try to guess something about the inmates from their faces, though, of course, that isn't so much fun if one never finds out whether one guessed right or not.

Another hobby of mine which my letter-friend touches on, is the subject of artistic dress. Why can't people realize—but alas, I've ridden my other two hobbies so far that I'll have to save this gallop for another day. I hope there are some reader-friends who have feelings on that subject so they will enjoy the ride with me.

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Troubled Housekeeper—"How can I get fleas out of my large parlor rug? I am so ashamed and afraid someone will come to call and see them, yet cannot afford to buy a new rug. I have no animal pelts, so cannot understand how they got there."

Answer—Try to catch what adult fleas you can and destroy them. Keep the rug scrupulously clean and wash the floor beneath it frequently with a strong soapsuds, also fill up any floor cracks. Sprinkle the rug with benzine or gasoline (do not use these substances near flame) or sprinkle with alum, either powdered or in solution. Repellents are oil of pennyroyal, boughs and chips of pine, naphthaline crystals and pyrethrum. I would advise you to rub some of these repellents on the floor under the rug.

A Daily Reader—"Please tell me how to make the old-fashioned tomato preserve, very sweet, with lemon in it, like mother used to make. I haven't been able to find it in any cook book."

Answer—This is a very old recipe: Six pounds green tomatoes, 8 pounds granulated sugar, 4 lemons, 2½ dozen peach leaves, 3 pieces ginger. Cover the tomatoes with water, put in the peach leaves and boil very gently until the tomatoes are quite soft but unbroken. Drain the water into another pan, add the sugar, and boil for five minutes. Strain and let cool; when cold put it back in the pan, put in the thinly-pared lemon rind and the ginger tied together in a piece of muslin, then add the lemon juice and the tomatoes. Boil gently until a little of the sirup jellies quickly when poured onto a cold plate, then fill into glasses.

G. M. F.—"Will you please tell me if there is any perfume suitable for use in giving a fragrant odor to the house? I have been in homes where, on entering, I was met with so pleasant an odor that I wished for something that would give my home a similar fragrance. I have tried using the atomizer with certain perfumes, but the smell does not last and it is such an expensive way.

"Here is another matter which puzzles me: I wish to have a small, dark upstairs sitting room repapered as well as my hallway and wall above the staircase. I have had a green-and-brown color scheme for the little sitting room; would you suggest anything else? The hall is also dark."

Answer—Growing flowers give the most exquisite odor to the home and I would advise you to have a "bower" of these—perhaps in your dining room. A rose jar also gives a delightful fragrance. I like these two ways of giving a sweet smell to the home because they do not seem artificial.

I would advise you to have a bright-colored paper in your little sitting room—I think I would make it a yellow room; I would have plain, almost yellow oatmeal paper on the walls and make valances for the windows out of cretonne with a yellow-rose pattern, using this cretonne for table covers, cushion covers, and wherever else I could find an excuse to use it. A yellow paper makes us forget that the sun is absent from a room.

A hall paper should be dignified in color and design; I think I would have this old-blue (which is light enough in color to brighten the hall, yet a suitable color from a standpoint of dignity), and I would have the door hangings downstairs, opening off from it, made of dark blue material, and also have dark blue rugs on the floor.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be inclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYLE H. HOLCOMB

THE KING SEES THE FOREST TERROR.

TINKER BOB and The Beautiful Creature of His Desire were not long on their way to the cave of the Forest Terror. Just outside the entrance Tinker stationed himself to watch for the Master of the cave. Things in the Forest develop in strange and peculiar ways. The King did not have to wait very long in his hiding place till he saw a large, shaggy creature approaching.

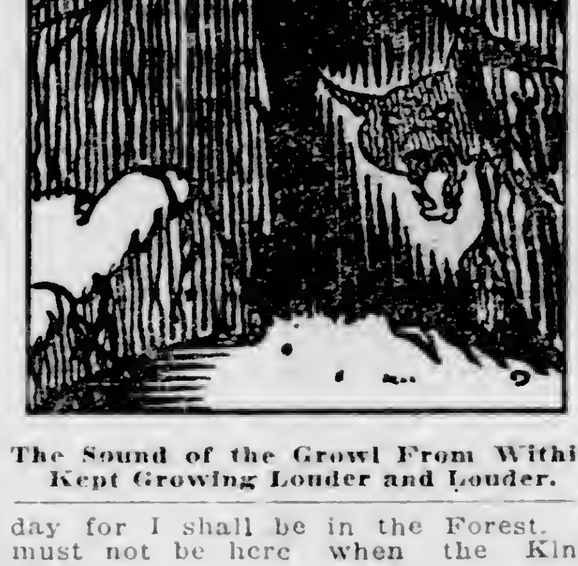
This shaggy fellow came to the entrance of the cave, sniffed a bit and whined a little, then began to paw the dirt about the entrance. His tail was long and bushy and dark gray in color. He showed his teeth every time he whined; but Tinker Bob was wise enough to find a hiding place where not even the Terror of the Forest could find him, yet he could see every movement of every creature that went in and out of the cave.

It wasn't long after the first whine from this creature, when there came an answer from inside the cave. It wasn't a whine—it was a growl. The creature outside paid little attention to this growl, but kept right on whining and pawing the dirt. The sound of the growl from within kept growing louder and louder as the creature inside came closer to the entrance.

"Now," said Tinker to himself, "we'll soon find out what the Forest Terror is about to do." It was true for the King had no more than spoken these words when Mr. Wolf thrust his nose out of the cave.

The fellow outside had been out looking about the Forest and had come back to tell Mr. Wolf what he had seen. Says he: "Mr. Wolf, there's a great fuss in the Forest. All of the creatures seem to be hurrying as fast as ever they can as quietly as possible."

"I'm afraid," said Mr. Wolf, "that something terrible will happen if the great spirit that I saw does not come to me again. I shall keep watch tonight in the open to see if the great spirit will come again. But if this King of the Forest comes to the cave to see me today, we must be ready to capture him so he cannot get into the Forest again. You must watch from the mountain side all day for I shall be in the Forest. I must not be here when the King comes."



The Sound of the Growl From Within Kept Growing Louder and Louder.

These words were enough for Tinker Bob, King of the Forest, and he decided at once to return to the palace that he might tell Chief Porky and Major Pole Cat what to do next. In his own mind he had decided to return to the cave again that very day. So he tapped the Stone of Knowledge and The Beautiful Creature of His Desire was soon carrying him on the way to the palace. Watch closely, for the King will soon return.

Eatmor Cranberries

If anything is delicious—it is Cranberry Meringue Pie

Here is the recipe:

One and one-half cups sugar, two cups cranberries, one-half cup cold water, one tablespoon flour, two eggs, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two tablespoons powdered sugar. Cook sugar and water to a syrup; add the cranberries. Cook until the berries have popped. Cool a little. Mix smoothly in a bowl the flour and yolks of the eggs; add three tablespoons of the juice of the cranberries; add this to the berries and simmer for three minutes. Stir in butter and vanilla and set aside to cool. Turn filling into deep pie crust previously baked; cover with meringue made from stiffly beaten whites of eggs and powdered sugar. Place in cool oven to set and slightly brown the meringue.

There is a real difference in Cranberries. Insist on getting "Eatmor" brand.

EMPRESS STEEL CUT COFFEE

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman in "The Actor's Wife;" other acts.
NEW GRAND—"My Dream Girl," musical novelty; other acts.

NEW GRAND—When Johnny Clark & Co decided to name their act, one of the features of the current show at the New Grand, "Daring Prohibition," they had a happy thought, for if such nerve-tingling stunts are brought about by an overabundance of "wetness" then the more timid souls will have cause for self-congratulation that the days of "dryness" are upon us. How any man could tumble from the heights which he falls from while simulating a "drunk" will be an unsolvable problem for all who see the act, as it was for the crowds which attended yesterday. The scene is a cafe and when the curtain rises, Johnny Clark is shown asleep at one of the tables. A pretty girl in attempting to arouse him pulls him to the floor where he does a surprising stunt. Then follows some tumbling in which the tables are cleared by means of having their contents dumped on the floor as Clark tumbles about. Finally he spies a bottle dancing on top of a table. It goes higher as he attempts to reach it and he keeps piling table on table until he is almost out of sight, and from this dizzy height he falls backward to the floor. The act is only one of many good things on the program, which is one of especial entertainment.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman is all things to the theater; actress, author, producer, stage director, manager and technical director. These various accomplishments have been applied with success in both the drama and vaudeville. Then Miss Wellman turned author and producer and went into vaudeville with a playlet of her own called "Young Mrs. Stanford," which created something entirely new in stage lighting as well as in producing. Her success was so great that she stopped acting entirely for a while and produced vaudeville playlets. An actress, however, is not happy unless she acts and so Miss Wellman has come back to the stage again to vaudeville, where supported by Richard Gordon and company, she is playing "The Actor's Wife," described as a theatrical storm in ten dramatic flashes, written and directed by Miss Wellman. The piece is an intense bit of drama novelly staged, utilizing Miss Wellman's creation in stageing and new lighting, affording not only an opportunity for the young actress' histronic talents but also for her talents as a producer.

NEW GARRICK—Tom Moore in "Officer 666."
ZELDA—William Farnum in "Drag Harlan."
STRAND—Jack Holt and Agnes Ayres in "Held by the Enemy."
NEW LYRIC—Dorothy Phillips in "Once to Every Woman."

ZELDA—The performance tonight of "Drag Harlan" at the Zelda theater marks the close of the latest of the William Farnum star series made in the schedule of William Fox. Apparently nothing has been overlooked that could make this picture intensely interesting. The action has the delightful tang of the old days of the Western plains when gun-fighting was both an indoor and an outdoor sport, when good men and bad ones "went out" with their boots on; when a quick trigger finger was a man's best life insurance; when a pretty girl was a treasure that all men coveted, and gold was something to be battled for.

Coming tomorrow will be Connie Griffith in "The Whisper Market," from the magazine story by W. E. Scutt.

STRAND—Quinine was a drug of which the Southern hospitals were very badly in need during the latter days of the Civil war. The lengths to which the Southern spies went to obtain the precious drug, are shown in the new Paramount picturization of William Gillette's play "Held by the Enemy," which will be shown at the Strand theater today and Wednesday only. Agnes Ayres is the charming heroine. She has an excellent role of which she makes the most. The cast includes Wanda Hawley, Lillian Leighton, Jack Holt, Lewis Stone, Robert Cain, Walter Hiers and others.

NEW LYRIC—Tonight's showings of Dorothy Phillips in "Once to Every Woman" are positively the last of a production which has more intensely interested patrons of the New Lyric than any seen here in some time. Starting tomorrow dainty Shirley Mason will be the featured attraction in "The Little Wanderer." It is the story of a poor girl, buffeted by fate, who finds happiness only after she has run away from home disguised as a boy. Unusual experiences in a big city culminate in her winning the love of a real man, who happens also to be wealthy. When she is dressed as a boy nothing is too daring for her to undertake and she provides a few thrills as well as many surprises. "Mr. Fatima," a Christie comedy, with the best of the Christie fun-makers, is an added feature that will help to make the bill a notable one.

GRIDDLE CAKES and WAFFLES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

THERE is an art in making flapjack pancakes, griddle cakes or wheats, call them what you will. But it is an art very easily and quickly acquired if you follow the right recipes.

Here are some recipes for a variety of breakfast cakes that will make grandmother envious. The secret, of course, is Royal Baking Powder.

Royal Hot Griddle Cakes

3 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening

Mix and sift dry ingredients; add milk and melted shortening; beat well. Bake on slightly greased hot griddle.

Griddle Cakes with Eggs

1¾ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
2 eggs
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon shortening

Mix and sift dry ingredients; add beaten eggs, milk and melted shortening; mix well. Bake immediately on hot griddle.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

Buckwheat Cakes

2 cups buckwheat flour
1 cup flour
6 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1½ teaspoon salt
2½ cups milk or milk and water
1 tablespoon molasses
1 tablespoon shortening

Sift together flours, baking powder and salt; add liquid, molasses and melted shortening; beat three minutes. Bake on hot greased griddle.

Waffles

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon melted shortening

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; add milk to yolks of eggs; mix thoroughly and add to dry ingredients; add melted shortening and mix in beaten whites of eggs. Bake in well greased hot waffle iron until brown. Serve hot with maple syrup. It should take about 1½ minutes to bake each waffle.

The secret of many a famous Southern dish lay in the plantation-made molasses

Penick & Ford's
Brer Rabbit
Molasses

The mellow flavor of old-time plantation molasses

THAT haunting flavor of old-fashioned plantation-made molasses! Time was when home-made molasses was a popular delicacy. It was the secret of many a famous Southern recipe! And then for years real sugar cane molasses practically ceased to exist.

But today the famous old-time delicacy is yours again. Twenty-two years ago two Louisiana boys decided to restore to the world the famous Southern delicacy—fresh sugar cane molasses.

Spurred on by delicious memories of those autumn days in their boyhood when the air was heavy with the fragrance of boiling sugar cane and the whole plantation celebrated molasses-making time, they put up a molasses so fragrant, so full-flavored, so sweet and pure that the first taste carries you back to childhood joys. And they named it Brer Rabbit, in honor of the hero in the plantation stories of their childhood.

Today it is the most popular molasses in America.

One taste and you know the difference it makes in cooking. Try it and see the difference that plantation flavor makes in your baked beans.

Get Brer Rabbit, either the light molasses (gold label—for table use as well as cooking) or the dark molasses (green label—a stronger flavor for cooking), at your grocer's today. Penick & Ford, Ltd., New Orleans.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS WANT MORE STATE AID

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—State aid of $500,000 instead of the $250,000 granted at present will be asked of the legislature by the state board of vocational education, it was announced here today. A rapid increase in the number of industrial schools is given as the reason for the proposed increase.

The state has agreed to meet half of the expense of maintenance and teachers' salaries, while the cities are to bear the other expense. Since the special session of the legislature last June the number of vocational schools has jumped from thirty-two to forty-eight, with other cities about to start the training.

During this rapid growth the board says that it has pro rated its state aid to the schools rather than leaving any stipulated sum to any one city. It is its intention to continue this policy if a larger appropriation is voted by the legislature.

Smaller Places Want Schools.

The state law requires that all cities over 5,000 maintain a vocational school. While the census of this year does not bring any cities now without industrial schools into the class where they are required, several of the smaller places wish to establish the training. Among these cities are Sturgeon Bay, Sparta, Reedsburg, Plymouth, Medford, Ladysmith, Prairie du Chien and Algoma.

Programs for expansion have been adopted by a number of cities. Manitowoc has recently leased the buildings of a ship construction firm to house its school. Madison is erecting a new vocational high school to cost in the neighborhood of $400,000. Milwaukee has recently moved into a new $1,500,000 building and has started to clear the ground for a similar project to house girls taking vocational training. The Marshfield vocational school is now in new quarters, with Wausau considering a plan for a joint building to house both vocational and regular high schools. Sheboygan has been considering the erection of a new high school to cost around $1,000,000 and intends to use the old building for vocational training. Menasha recently built an addition to its high school to house vocational students.

PROHIBITION PARTY TO CONTINUE WORK

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Notice that the Prohibition party will continue in operation for the next two years at least for the purpose of guaranteeing a continuation of a bone-dry congress two years hence, is given by Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the Prohibition national committee here at national headquarters.

"We have a mission still," Mr. Hinshaw said. "If any one of the major temperance organizations were to stop now, it would give a chance to the wets to come back and possibly pass a beer and wine amendment to the Volstead law."

HARRISON'S TOMB NOW PROPERTY OF STATE

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 16.—The tomb of Gen. William Henry Harrison, "Old Tippecanoe," first of Ohio's presidents, has become the property of the state. It is situated on a knoll at North Bend, a suburb to the south of Cincinnati, commanding a magnificent view of the Ohio river.

Possession by the state became effective when State Representative Horace Bonser of Cincinnati filed with the county recorder fifteen quit claim deeds representing the interests of the Harrison heirs, scattered from New York to California, in the six acres of land involved in the transfer.

CARLETON STUDENTS WILL DO THEIR PART

Northfield, Minn., Nov. 16.—Earn, save and give is the slogan of the campaign among Carleton college students by which the college itself will do its part in the "Four Million for Carleton" drive now sweeping over Minnesota.

The student campaign begins today under the leadership of Arthur Whittermore, general chairman. The executive committee consists of Ford Hall, John Shaffer, Lindsay Hoben and Vernon Gallagher.

"We recognize the duty of the present students at Carleton to support this movement," said Arthur Whittemore in an address at the opening of the campaign. "Unless we do our part, we cannot expect other friends of Carleton to back the campaign which is depended on to pull the college out of the difficult situation in which it finds itself."

NEGAUNEE MAN IS LEAD POISON VICTIM

Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 16.—Lead poisoning contracted while working in mines in far Western states, was blamed for the death Friday of Matt L. Engstrom, 41, local shoe dealer, who was buried Sunday. His widow and five children, living in Finland, survive.

The members of the Swedish-Finnish Sick society, of which he was a member, had charge of the funeral and attended in a body. Services were conducted by the Rev. C. E. Lundgren of Marquette.

MISTAKEN FOR DEER, DETROITER IS SHOT

Munising, Mich., Nov. 16.—The first hunting accident of the Upper Peninsula occurred on Saturday, the day the deer season opened when William Rife of Detroit was mistaken for a deer by H. A. Van Auken, Munising jeweler, and shot through the hip. He is at the Munising hospital, where he will probably be confined for two or three months.

Rife, an ex-soldier, was dressed in olive drabs. He was following a fresh deer trail, the same animal that Van Auken, accompanied by Jack Lindquist and Howard Gattis of Chatham had been tracking. When the accident occurred, Rife was bending over behind a clump of bushes, only his hips showing. Van Auken mistook him for the deer they were tracking, and fired. The bullet entered Rife's left hip, shattering the bone, and emerged from the right leg. No vital organs were touched.

Tame Montana Session Forecast.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 16.—The coming session of the Montana legislative assembly which is to open Jan. 1 and continue for sixty days, promises to be from a political viewpoint, the tamest in several years. Never in the history of the state, it is said, has the legislature been so overwhelming on the one side. Democrats will have only a score of members in both house and senate.

Close Schools to Husk Corn.

Sac City, Iowa, Nov. 16.—One-third of the rural schools of Sac county are closed for two or three weeks to permit all pupils practicable to aid in husking corn. The step taken was due, it was said, to shortage of help.

First Minnesota Veteran Buried.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—"Taps" were sounded at Lake City this afternoon for another member of the famous First Minnesota regiment of Civil war fame, Erwin Alexander, native of Richmond, Me., who came to Lake City in 1854, served in the famous regiment through the war and returned to farming till a few years ago when he retired, coming here to live. He died here Sunday, aged 84. His widow and five children survive.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BADGER STATE TAX MAY BE NECESSARY

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—State operating expenses are likely to exceed provisions made for them from income and corporation taxes during the coming biennium, for the first time in years according to Miles P. Haugen, chairman of the tax commission. Increased expenses at a time when incomes are lessening and valuation of railroads is decreasing are given as the cause.

The state has in the past maintained its organization without going to the people for money from personal property taxes. It was said that although it might now be necessary for a state tax the increase would be so small as to be almost unnoticeable.

With the university and normal schools about to ask for extensive projects and with other expenses mounting, possibilities for a state tax in 1922 have become more probable. Mr. Haugen said that railroad valuations had failed to keep up with the progress of prices and that as a result taxes would be less in proportion unless they are increased by the coming legislature.

At the time of the last tax levy the commission increased its basis for valuation of Wisconsin property from $4,000,000,000 to $4,500,000,000. Increased taxes have resulted from the change.

School taxes and local taxes are the greatest factors in fixing the rate, according to Mr. Haugen.

MANY PUBLIC SERVICE NURSES IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—There are now 314 public service nurses employed in Wisconsin, forty-four of whom are engaged in thirty-five counties of the state to look after the health of school children, according to Mrs. Mary P. Morgan, director of child welfare and public health nursing. A state law passed by the 1919 legislature makes it compulsory for all counties to employ nurses before July 1, 1921.

County health workers in the northern part of the state are this month making hurried calls to the rural schools before winter makes highways impassable, Mrs. Morgan said. They are finding that throughout the state the school children are defective in many particulars and need attention by dentists or doctors, it was explained.

MOSTLY BANK STOCK.

Constitutes Bulk of Bonded Indebtedness of North Dakota.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 16.—The bonded indebtedness of the state of North Dakota, as shown by the annual report filed by Treasurer Obert Olson with the governor, is $2,442,300. The major portion of the bonded indebtedness consists of $2,000,000 bonds for the capital stock of the Bank of North Dakota; $120,000 for the mill and elevator association and $130,000 of 4 per cent bonds issued in 1905 and due July 1, 1925.

Total expenditures during the fiscal year ending June 30 were $13,207,037.38, according to the report. Total receipts were $14,070,056.38.

The balance of the workmen's compensation bureau is shown to be $425,837.41. Total receipts amounted to $534,852.46 and total expenditures for the fiscal year amounted to $109,015.05. The workmen's compensation bureau was shown to have $75,837.41 in the Bank of North Dakota subject to check and a certificate of deposit of the Bank of North Dakota of $350,000.

TRACTOR OPERATION COURSES IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—A three weeks' course in tractor operation and construction is to be given by the college of agriculture here Dec. 13 to 31. The course is said to be only a beginning of an effort to aid Wisconsin tractor owners to realize better returns from their expenditures in power machinery.

Short courses for a few days each are planned for various cities in the state this winter. Localities asking for the instruction will be provided for if there is sufficient demand, it was said.

A wide range of tractors is available for those who enroll for the training.

Many Badger Booze Cases.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 16.—Judge Landis of Chicago, convened United States court here Monday and swore in a grand jury which is expected to make an exhaustive investigation of violations of the prohibition act in Wisconsin. Two rooms in the Federal building are filled with confiscated stills and liquor and more seizures are arriving.

RED LAKE INDIANS TO GET PAY IN DECEMBER

All Indians under the jurisdiction of the Red Lake Indian agency will receive their annual payment of $17.50 per capita during the first two weeks in December from George W. Cross, superintendent. The agency includes the Fond du Lac, Grand Portage and Nett Lake subagencies. Mr. Cross's schedule follow:

Dec. 3—Cloquet.
Dec. 6—Grand Portage.
Dec. 7 (afternoon)—Duluth, McKay hotel.
Dec. 8—Superior.
Dec. 10—Nett Lake.

EVELETH AND OTHER TOWNS LACKING COAL

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—East Grand Forks, Eveleth, Sandstone, McIntosh, Lafayette and points in Northern Minnesota have complained to the railroad and warehouse commission that with the beginning of cold weather they are without supply of fuel.

Some of the complaints were addressed to Governor Burnquist and others to J. F. McGee, former fuel administrator, and were turned over to the railroad and warehouse commission.

Lafayette reports that the dealers in that village have been attempting to get coal since last March and have been unsuccessful.

LESS MILK CONDENSED.

Wisconsin Explanation for Declining Prices for Farmers.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Milk prices are tending downward with unsettled conditions existing throughout the market, according to a report of the division of markets. The outlook at present is not encouraging because of decreased activity on the part of condenseries.

The report points out that the increase on total stocks of condensed and evaporated milk in the country has been 102.7 per cent since a year ago. Unsold stocks held by the manufacturers on Oct. 1 were said to amount to 201,259,548 pounds, or an increase of 103.7 over a year ago. There is nothing to indicate how soon the condenseries can be expected to return to normal, it says.

MALT SYRUP MAKERS FEARING LARGE LOSS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—Large brewing interests which have been manufacturing syrups from which home brew could be made yesterday declared that if the recent ruling of John F. Kramer, national prohibition commissioner, making the sale of these extracts illegal, is enforced, they face a serious loss.

After the Eighteenth amendment went into effect the majority of the breweries here decided that the manufacture of near beer would be less profitable than making malt syrup, a combination of malt and corn in the proportion of 40 and 60, which could be used for making home brew. Approximately 800,000 pounds are said to be used every day in Milwaukee for the manufacture of home brew mixtures. Breweries have installed special machinery for the manufacture of malt syrup because of the increasing demand.

TILL PARDON BEING STOUTLY RESISTED

Cumberland, Wis., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to word from Barron, the county seat, John Till, the so-called "plaster doctor" of Turtle Lake, who has been placed in the county jail to serve six months for practicing medicine without a license, is pinning his hope on securing a pardon or at least a change in his sentence that he may be released on paying a fine.

This is being bitterly opposed by District Attorney J. L. Dahl and also the county board of supervisors, and it is probable Till will have to serve his time. He informed the sheriff that he has already paid out to lawyers who have defended him in various legal actions $36,000.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Civil service examinations for rural mail carriers will be held at the East Grand Forks postoffice on Saturday, Nov. 27. There are a number of vacancies in this territory, Miss Hanah Thorson, postmistress, said.

Thief River Falls—Roy M. Brazen, of this city, a student at Marquette university, Milwaukee, has received distinct recognition from the student body of that institution, being recently elected vice president of the Minnesota club, formed among the twenty-seven men from this state who attend Marquette.

St. Cloud—Frank Lahr ran his automobile into a pig which crossed the road in front of his machine as he was coming down the incline approaching the Plum creek bridge on the road from Clearwater to St. Cloud. In his attempt to avoid the pig Lahr swerved his machine, which landed in the water of the creek. He was not hurt.

Warren—B. R. Hauser arrived at Warren Friday to take up the work as county agent of Marshall county. Mr. Hauser comes from Wisconsin, where he has been engaged in similar work.

Mahnomen—A. L. Thompson's new residence is rapidly approaching completion. The grounds were graded before the freezeup. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will have one of the attractive homes in this part of the state.

Brainerd—The re-election of John Dewing of Roosevelt township as county commissioner of the First district in Crow Wing county has been contested by Herbert V. Flansburg of St. Mathias, who has asked for a recount. It was a close election in the district and the winner was not announced until the last precinct gave Dewing 406 and Flansburg 403.

East Grand Forks—The younger girls of the Royal Neighbors lodge will give a leap year party in Giese hall Tuesday evening.

St. Cloud—W. E. King, St. Paul, architect, viewed and accepted the completed basement and foundation of the new Stearns county courthouse. The construction work on the unit was done by Ed Hirt & Son, at a cost which was over $2,000 less than the architect's estimate.

Albany—Mrs. Anna Meier, a pioneer resident of Albany, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John T. Brinkmann, on Thursday morning, was laid to rest Saturday in the Catholic cemetery here. Funeral services took place from the Seven Dolors church.

St. Paul—Henry Rines, state treasurer, left Saturday night for New York city to dispose of $6,300,000 bonus bonds. Part of this amount already has been sold.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—Over $500,000 will in all probability be spent in Dane county during 1921 for road work and the paying off of deficits from the present year.

Green Bay—Mrs. Emily Deland, who died on Saturday at Bay Settlement, lived there eighty years. She was born in Bay Settlement in 1836. She was one of the very oldest pioneers of this vicinity.

Milwaukee—Former service men and women who have not yet reinstated their government insurance must act by Dec. 31, it was announced here Monday by William Glassner, representative of the war risk insurance bureau in Milwaukee. Mr. Glassner stated that ex-service men and women who desire to reinstate their insurance should make application at once to any post of the American Legion, any office of the Red Cross or any other welfare organization co-operating with the bureau or by writing to his office here.

Merrill—The heaviest fines imposed by the county court during the last year are for violations of game laws and the lightest fines for assaults. Nine violations of game laws netted the county $525.01, while five charges of assault netted but $28.

Milwaukee—Police have started a search throughout the city for the driver of an automobile which drove through a crowd of children at the corner of Twenty-seventh and Galena streets late on Sunday, seriously injuring Frank Wittkamp, Jr., and then fled without giving assistance to the injured boy.

Green Bay—The Green Bay Association of Commerce sent to President Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury Houston a resolution favoring the immediate payment of the government's indebtedness from the wartime management of the roads.

Milwaukee—Herbert Hoover, head of the national drive to raise funds for underfed children of war stricken countries will be in Milwaukee on Nov. 23, according to word received by Judge A. C. Backus, heading the local division of the campaign.

Fond du Lac—The expense for the site of the proposed tri-county sanatorium to be built by Fond du Lac, Washington and Dodge counties, has been figured upon the total assessed valuation of each county, as Dodge, $9,860.48; Fond du Lac, $7,965.02; Washington, $4,371.50. The building expense will be figured on the same proportion.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Wakefield—The first steps in the organization of night school classes has been taken by Supt. Reed and members of his staff in the announcement that the work will begin on Nov. 29 at 7 p. m. at the Wico school and at the high school proper.

Ironwood—By unanimous vote, the city council at a special meeting passed the resolution to designate the maturity of the $150,000 municipal building bonds recently ordered sold to a Chicago bonding house, with the clause that "the remaining $150,000 shall not be executed or issued until further order of the city council."

Houghton—Night school in Portage township will start on Nov. 23, meeting on Tuesday and Thursday for a four-month term.

Calumet—The Keckonen hardware store and building on Fifth street were damaged by fire, causing a loss estimated at from $60,000 to $75,000. Besides the damage to the building and stock, four families occupying the apartment portion of the building on the second floor, lost practically all their furniture and clothing.

Houghton—Mrs. Harry Cohodas, 29, for many years a resident of Houghton, died at the family home from blood poisoning, and the body was sent to Chicago. Mrs. Cohodas was born in Chicago, but came to Houghton when a young girl and grew up here. She was a graduate of the Houghton high school. She is survived by her husband, three children and by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levine.

Calumet—W. Henry, state inspector of factories, workshops, hotels and stores in the Copper country for the annual inspection of local institutions, reports conditions generally good and so far he has not issued any orders to owners of buildings here to have their premises cleaned up.

Houghton—Word has been received of the death in Boston, Mass., of Mrs. Humphrey W. Chadbourne, formerly Miss Elizabeth Sturgis. Mrs. Chadbourne was prominent socially during her residence here, and is remembered by all of the older residents.

Ishpeming—Charles H. La Vigine of Gilbert, Minn., chief of police for the Republic Iron & Steel company, was here Friday. Mr. La Vigine is a former resident of Champion, where he was deputy sheriff and officer for the Oliver Iron Mining company for a number of years.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Funeral services for Harold E. Williams, who was killed in 1918 while serving in the United States army overseas, were held Sunday afternoon at Reynolds. The deceased was a member of the Reynolds lodge of Masons and of Kem temple, A. A. O. N. M., and the funeral was conducted by the Masons, T. B. Elton having charge.

Lakota, N. D.—The jury in the case of the state of North Dakota against William Blake of this place, charged with shooting with intent to do bodily injury, returned a verdict of guilty. The case arose out of the alleged attack on a man named Stautz, a quarrel having arisen between the two men over the taking up of some hogs.

Minot, N. D.—Moody O. Eide, Minot attorney, has purchased the Elsberry dairy farm, located just east of Minot, from South Dakota parties. Mr. Eide announced today that the price paid for the 240 acres was $105 per acre. He will make his home on the farm during the summer months, but live in Minot during the winter.

Bismarck, N. D.—Conrad Smith, an old Gros Ventre Indian scout of Van Hook, N. D., in a letter to Governor Frazier, asks the assistance of the people of the state in raising $250 needed to complete the construction of a community building that is being erected on the Fort Berthold reservation by the Indians.

Wilton, N. D.—Ethel Brooks and Ruby Findley were injured when the buggy in which they were riding was overturned. The horse took fright at an automobile, turned the buggy into a ditch and dragged it for some distance before the girls could get free of the wreckage.

Fargo, N. D.—The new $250,000 subway under the Northern Pacific railroad tracks at Tenth street south will be ready for traffic by Dec. 1, according to T. A. Gregory, engineer in charge for the Northern Pacific railroad.

Cooperstown, N. D.—The Cooperstown waterworks system is nearly completed, all pipes having been placed and covered and all hydrants set. Only about three blocks of sewer trenching remains to be done.

Bismarck, N. D.—John Lief of Coleharbor has been appointed Standard Oil company agent in Wilton and adjacent territory, succeeding C. I. Regnier.

Five Things Happen

When you brush teeth in this way

All statements approved by authorities

Dental science has produced a new teeth-cleaning method. Millions of people have already adopted it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it.

In effective ways it combats the film on teeth. And it deals with this tooth wrecker as was never done before.

The fight on film

Modern dentistry finds that most tooth troubles are caused by film. The film at first is viscous. You can feel it now. But it clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Very few people have escaped these film-caused troubles.

Ordinary methods do not end this film. So millions who brush teeth daily find they still discolor and decay.

A multiple attack

Now new ways have been found to fight film. Careful tests have proved them. High dental authorities approve them.

They are all combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. It meets every modern requirement. And this new tooth paste is fast coming into world-wide use.

You'll know in a week

Some results of Pepsodent appear rapidly. Within one week the good effects will be amazing to you.

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

Two factors directly attack the films. One of them keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling. In all these ways it brings and maintains whiter, safer teeth.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how the teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Compare the results with your old methods. Then let those evident results tell you what is best. Cut out the coupon now.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BADGER STATE TAX MAY BE NECESSARY

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—State operating expenses are likely to exceed provisions made for them from income and [illegible] taxes during the coming biennium, for the first time in years according to Miles P. Haugen, chairman of the tax commission. Increased [illegible] at a time when incomes are [illegible] and valuation of railroads is [illegible] given as the cause.

The state has in the past maintained [illegible] without going to the people for money from personal property taxes. It was said that although [illegible] now be necessary for a state [illegible] the increase would be so small as [illegible].

With the university and normal [illegible] about to ask for extensive projects and with other expenses mounting, possibilities for a state tax in 1922 have become more probable. Mr. Haugen said that railroad valuations had failed to keep up with the progress of [illegible] and that as a result taxes would be less in proportion unless they are increased by the coming legislature.

At the time of the last tax levy the commission increased its basis for valuation of Wisconsin property from $1,[illegible]000,000 to $4,500,000,000. Increased [illegible] have resulted from the change.

School taxes and local taxes are the greatest factors in fixing the rate, according to Mr. Haugen.

MANY PUBLIC SERVICE NURSES IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—There are now 314 public service nurses employed in Wisconsin, forty-four of whom are engaged in thirty-five counties of the state to look after the health of school children according to Mrs. Mary P. Morgan, director of child welfare and public health nursing. A state law passed by the 1919 legislature makes it compulsory for all counties to employ [illegible] before July 1, 1921.

County health workers in the northern part of the state are this month making hurried calls to the rural schools before winter makes highways impassable, Mrs. Morgan said. They are finding [illegible] throughout the state [illegible] school children are defective in [illegible] and need attention by dentists or doctors, it was explained.

MOSTLY BANK STOCK.

Constitutes Bulk of Bonded Indebtedness of North Dakota.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 16.—The bonded indebtedness of the state of North Dakota, as shown by the annual report filed by Treasurer Obert Olson with the governor, is $2,147,300. The major portion of the bonded indebtedness consists of $2,000,000 bonds for the capital stock of the Bank of North Dakota; $120,000 for the mill and elevator association and $130,000 of 4 per cent bonds issued in 1905 and due July 1, 1925.

Total expenditures during the fiscal year ending June 30 were $13,207,037.38, according to the report. Total receipts were $11,070,056.38.

The balance of the workmen's compensation bureau is shown to be $425,837.41. Total receipts amounted to $531,852.46 and total expenditures for the fiscal year amounted to $109,015.05. The workmen's compensation bureau was shown to have $75,837.41 in the Bank of North Dakota subject to check and a certificate of deposit of the Bank of North Dakota of $350,000.

TRACTOR OPERATION COURSES IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—A three weeks' course in tractor operation and construction is to be given by the college of agriculture here Dec. 13 to 31. The course is said to be only a beginning of an effort to aid Wisconsin tractor owners to realize better returns from their expenditures in power machinery.

Short courses for a few days each are planned for various cities in the state this winter. Localities asking for the instruction will be provided for if there is sufficient demand, it was said.

A wide range of tractors is available for those who enroll for the training.

Many Badger Booze Cases.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 16.—Judge Landis of Chicago, convened United States court here Monday and swore in a grand jury which is expected to make an exhaustive investigation of violations of the prohibition act in Wisconsin. Two rooms in the Federal building are filled with confiscated stills and liquor and more seizures are arriving.

RED LAKE INDIANS TO GET PAY IN DECEMBER

All Indians under the jurisdiction of the Red Lake Indian agency will receive their annual payment of $17.50 per capita during the first two weeks in December from George W. Cross, superintendent. The agency includes the Fond du Lac, Grand Portage and Nett Lake subagencies. Mr. Cross's schedule follow:

Dec. 3—Cloquet.
Dec. 6—Grand Portage.
Dec. 7 (afternoon)—Duluth, McKay hotel.
Dec. 8—Superior.
Dec. 10—Nett Lake.

EVELETH AND OTHER TOWNS LACKING COAL

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—East Grand Forks, Eveleth, Sandstone, McIntosh, Lafayette and points in Northern Minnesota have complained to the railroad and warehouse commission that with the beginning of cold weather they are without supply of fuel.

Some of the complaints were addressed to Governor Burnquist and others to J. F. McGee, former fuel administrator, and were turned over to the railroad and warehouse commission.

Lafayette reports that the dealers in that village have been attempting to get coal since last March and have been unsuccessful.

LESS MILK CONDENSED.

Wisconsin Explanation for Declining Prices for Farmers.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Milk prices are tending downward with unsettled conditions existing throughout the market, according to a report of the division of markets. The outlook at present is not encouraging because of decreased activity on the part of condenseries.

The report points out that the increase on total stocks of condensed and evaporated milk in the country has been 102.7 per cent since a year ago. Unsold stocks held by the manufacturers on Oct. 1 were said to amount to 201,259,518 pounds, or an increase of 103.7 over a year ago. There is nothing to indicate how soon the condenseries can be expected to return to normal, it says.

MALT SYRUP MAKERS FEARING LARGE LOSS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—Large brewing interests which have been manufacturing syrups from which home brew could be made yesterday declared that if the recent ruling of John F. Kramer, national prohibition commissioner, making the sale of these extracts illegal, is enforced, they face a serious loss.

After the Eighteenth amendment went into effect the majority of the breweries here decided that the manufacture of near beer would be less profitable than making malt syrup, a combination of malt and corn in the proportion of 40 and 60, which could be used for making home brew. Approximately 800,000 pounds are said to be used every day in Milwaukee for the manufacture of home brew mixtures. Breweries have installed special machinery for the manufacture of malt syrup because of the increasing demand.

TILL PARDON BEING STOUTLY RESISTED

Cumberland, Wis., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to word from Barron, the county seat, John Till, the so-called "plaster doctor" of Turtle Lake, who has been placed in the county jail to serve six months for practicing medicine without a license, is pinning his hope on securing a pardon or at least a change in his sentence that he may be released on paying a fine.

This is being bitterly opposed by District Attorney J. L. Dahl and also the county board of supervisors, and it is probable Till will have to serve his time. He informed the sheriff that he has already paid out to lawyers who have defended him in various legal actions $36,000.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Civil service examinations for rural mail carriers will be held at the East Grand Forks postoffice on Saturday, Nov. 27. There are a number of vacancies in this territory, Miss Hanah Thorson, postmistress, said.

Thief River Falls—Roy M. Brazen, of this city, a student at Marquette university, Milwaukee, has received distinct recognition from the student body of that institution, being recently elected vice president of the Minnesota club, formed among the twenty-seven men from this state who attend Marquette.

St. Cloud—Frank Lahr ran his automobile into a pig which crossed the road in front of his machine as he was coming down the incline approaching the Plum creek bridge on the road from Clearwater to St. Cloud. In his attempt to avoid the pig Lahr swerved his machine, which landed in the water of the creek. He was not hurt.

Warren—B. R. Hauser arrived at Warren Friday to take up the work as county agent of Marshall county. Mr. Hauser comes from Wisconsin, where he has been engaged in similar work.

Mahnomen—A. L. Thompson's new residence is rapidly approaching completion. The grounds were graded before the freezeup. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will have one of the attractive homes in this part of the state.

Brainerd—The re-election of John Dewing of Roosevelt township as county commissioner of the First district in Crow Wing county has been contested by Herbert V. Flansburg of St. Mathias, who has asked for a recount. It was a close election in the district and the winner was not announced until the last precinct gave Dewing 406 and Flansburg 403.

East Grand Forks—The younger girls of the Royal Neighbors lodge will give a leap year party in Giese hall Tuesday evening.

St. Cloud—W. E. King, St. Paul, architect, viewed and accepted the completed basement and foundation of the new Stearns county courthouse. The construction work on the unit was done by Ed Hirt & Son, at a cost which was over $2,000 less than the architect's estimate.

Albany—Mrs. Anna Meier, a pioneer resident of Albany, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John T. Brinkmann, on Thursday morning, was laid to rest Saturday in the Catholic cemetery here. Funeral services took place from the Seven Dolors church.

St. Paul—Henry Rines, state treasurer, left Saturday night for New York city to dispose of $6,300,000 bonus bonds. Part of this amount already has been sold.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—Over $500,000 will in all probability be spent in Dane county during 1921 for road work and the paying off of deficits from the present year.

Green Bay—Mrs. Emily Deland, who died on Saturday at Bay Settlement, lived there eighty years. She was born in Bay Settlement in 1836. She was one of the very oldest pioneers of this vicinity.

Milwaukee—Former service men and women who have not yet reinstated their government insurance must act by Dec. 31, it was announced here Monday by William Glassner, representative of the war risk insurance bureau in Milwaukee. Mr. Glassner stated that ex-service men and women who desire to reinstate their insurance should make application at once to any post of the American Legion, any office of the Red Cross or any other welfare organization co-operating with the bureau or by writing to his office here.

Merrill—The heaviest fines imposed by the county court during the last year are for violations of game laws and the lightest fines for assaults. Nine violations of game laws netted the county $525.01, while five charges of assault netted but $28.

Milwaukee—Police have started a search throughout the city for the driver of an automobile which drove through a crowd of children at the corner of Twenty-seventh and Galena streets late on Sunday, seriously injuring Frank Wittkamp, Jr., and then fled without giving assistance to the injured boy.

Green Bay—The Green Bay Association of Commerce sent to President Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury Houston a resolution favoring the immediate payment of the government's indebtedness from the wartime management of the roads.

Milwaukee—Herbert Hoover, head of the national drive to raise funds for underfed children of war stricken countries will be in Milwaukee on Nov. 23, according to word received by Judge A. C. Backus, heading the local division of the campaign.

Fond du Lac—The expense for the site of the proposed tri-county sanatorium to be built by Fond du Lac, Washington and Dodge counties, has been figured upon the total assessed valuation of each county, as Dodge, $9,860.48; Fond du Lac, $7,965.02; Washington, $4,374.50. The building expense will be figured on the same proportion.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Wakefield—The first steps in the organization of night school classes has been taken by Supt. Reed and members of his staff in the announcement that the work will begin on Nov. 29 at 7 p. m. at the Wico school and at the high school proper.

Ironwood—By unanimous vote, the city council at a special meeting passed the resolution to designate the maturity of the $150,000 municipal building bonds recently ordered sold to a Chicago bonding house, with the clause that "the remaining $150,000 shall not be executed or issued until further order of the city council."

Houghton—Night school in Portage township will start on Nov. 23, meeting on Tuesday and Thursday for a four-month term.

Calumet—The Keckonen hardware store and building on Fifth street were damaged by fire, causing a loss estimated at from $60,000 to $75,000. Besides the damage to the building and stock, four families occupying the apartment portion of the building on the second floor, lost practically all their furniture and clothing.

Houghton—Mrs. Harry Cohodas, 29, for many years a resident of Houghton, died at the family home from blood poisoning, and the body was sent to Chicago. Mrs. Cohodas was born in Chicago, but came to Houghton when a young girl and grew up here. She was a graduate of the Houghton high school. She is survived by her husband, three children and by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levine.

Calumet—W. Henry, state inspector of factories, workshops, hotels and stores in the Copper country for the annual inspection of local institutions, reports conditions generally good and so far he has not issued any orders to owners of buildings here to have their premises cleaned up.

Houghton—Word has been received of the death in Boston, Mass., of Mrs. Humphrey W. Chadbourne, formerly Miss Elizabeth Sturgis. Mrs. Chadbourne was prominent socially during her residence here, and is remembered by all of the older residents.

Ishpeming—Charles H. La Vigine of Gilbert, Minn., chief of police for the Republic Iron & Steel company, was here Friday. Mr. La Vigine is a former resident of Champion, where he was deputy sheriff and officer for the Oliver Iron Mining company for a number of years.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Funeral services for Harold E. Williams, who was killed in 1918 while serving in the United States army overseas, were held Sunday afternoon at Reynolds. The deceased was a member of the Reynolds lodge of Masons and of Kem temple, A. A. O. N. M., and the funeral was conducted by the Masons, T. B. Elton having charge.

Lakota, N. D.—The jury in the case of the state of North Dakota against William Blake of this place, charged with shooting with intent to do bodily injury, returned a verdict of guilty. The case arose out of the alleged attack on a man named Stantz, a quarrel having arisen between the two men over the taking up of some hogs.

Minot, N. D.—Moody O. Eide, Minot attorney, has purchased the Elsberry dairy farm, located just east of Minot, from South Dakota parties. Mr. Eide announced today that the price paid for the 240 acres was $165 per acre. He will make his home on the farm during the summer months, but live in Minot during the winter.

Bismarck, N. D.—Conrad Smith, an old Gros Ventre Indian scout of Van Hook, N. D., in a letter to Governor Frazier, asks the assistance of the people of the state in raising $250 needed to complete the construction of a community building that is being erected on the Fort Berthold reservation by the Indians.

Wilton, N. D.—Ethel Brooks and Ruby Findley were injured when the buggy in which they were riding was overturned. The horse took fright at an automobile, turned the buggy into a ditch and dragged it for some distance before the girls could get free of the wreckage.

Fargo, N. D.—The new $150,000 subway under the Northern Pacific railroad tracks at Tenth street south will be ready for traffic by Dec. 1, according to T. A. Gregory, engineer in charge for the Northern Pacific railroad.

Cooperstown, N. D.—The Cooperstown waterworks system is nearly completed, all pipes having been placed and covered and all hydrants set. Only about three blocks of sewer trenching remains to be done.

Bismarck, N. D.—John Lief of Coleharbor has been appointed Standard Oil company agent in Wilton and adjacent territory, succeeding C. [illegible] Regnier.

MRS. M. C. CROWLEY of Los Angeles, who says Tanlac completely restored her health after everything else, even a change of climate, failed to help her in the least.

"I came to Los Angeles trying to regain my health, but I didn't get any better, even in this wonderful climate, until I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. M. C. Crowley, who lives at 1641 South Hill St., Los Angeles, the other day.

"I was so weak and broken down that I was hardly able to get about at all. I suffered terribly after my meals on account of my food souring and gas forming on my stomach, and I would feel so tight that I could hardly get a good breath. My appetite left me and I was so nervous that I couldn't stand the least noise and I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep.

"I tried dieting for more than two years, but that didn't help me any, for I was continually getting worse all the time and actually lost [illegible]-five pounds in weight.

"All the different treatments and medicines I took failed to do me the least bit of good, and I finally came to the conclusion that my condition would never be any better.

"I know from my personal experience with it that Tanlac is a good medicine, for as soon as I began taking it, I began to improve. Why, it is perfectly wonderful the way I have gained in strength, weight and every other way, and I now feel like a different woman entirely.

"I have a fine appetite and my nerves are in such perfect condition that I sleep soundly every night. I never suffer from sour stomach and gas forming after meals and, in fact, all my troubles have just gradually disappeared since taking Tanlac.

"I feel so thankful for my improvement that I am glad to have the opportunity to recommend Tanlac to everybody."

GRID SEASON NEARING END

Final Western Conference Games to Be Played on Saturday.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—With the exception of the Cornell-Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh-Penn State and Nebraska-Washington games, scheduled for Thanksgiving day, and the Army-Navy battle in New York city on Nov. 27, the curtain will drop on the 1920 football season with the playing of next Saturday's games.

From every standpoint the season has been one of the most successful in the history of the colleges' greatest sport. The contests were seen by capacity gatherings, and in some cases the struggles were not decided until the final whistle.

In other words football came into its own as the country's leading amateur sport. Dyed in the wool baseball fans, disgusted over the scandal following the close of the regular playing season, have turned their attention to football, with the result some are more ardent admirers of the college game than those who have followed it for years.

Observe the Rules.

The successful season may be attributed partially to the coaches and players. The mentors instructed their charges to play according to rules, and in most cases this was done. There was little wrangling between officials and players, a feature so disgusting to spectators. Most teams took the penalties with the proper spirit, a feature of sport seldom seen.

Coaches and players also disclosed a better knowledge of possibilities of the game, which is not yet developed to its highest point. The open and close attack was combined for desired results by most teams, and the kicking game resorted to as the best weapon of defense. The ball was handled cleanly in most cases, and when catchers of punts were in doubt the oval was permitted to strike the ground. In many other ways the game was played safe in a strategic manner.

Wind Up With Fine Games.

In the Middle West Chicago and Wisconsin will clash in their annual battle on Stagg field. Maroons and Badgers suffered midseason defeats, but the old time rivalry will assert itself in this contest. Despite other setbacks, the teams will go into the battle confident of victory, which is the surest sign of a stubborn contest.

While the Maroons and Badgers are settling their question, Illinois and Ohio State, two evenly balanced and well coached elevens, will clash. Both have played consistent football all season, and nothing will be held in reserve. It will be the final college game for a number of men, and they are certain to play to the point of exhaustion.

Ohio and Illinois have used the forward pass with greater success than other conference teams. The Buckeyes won from Wisconsin through the play in the closing minutes, while the Orange and Blue scored both their touchdowns against Minnesota in the same way. Ohio also worked the play successfully against Chicago for the gain which placed it within easy scoring distance.

Notre Dame Powerful Team.

Notre Dame, rated one of the strongest aggregations in the country, will meet Northwestern at Evanston, in what should be an interesting struggle. The Hoosiers' decisive defeat of Nebraska and the Army, two elevens of note, stamps the team as one of great offensive and defensive power.

Northwestern has done remarkably well this season under the tutelage of Elmer McDevitt, the former Yale linesman. The Purple opened its season in auspicious fashion by winning from Minnesota in one of the biggest surprises of the West. Northwestern then succumbed to Wisconsin and was beaten by Indiana after a great battle.

Indiana and Purdue, two defeated conference elevens, will meet at Lafayette in a game of keen interest to fans in the Hoosier state. Indiana has played consistent football all year, while Purdue went down in defeat at the hands of Chicago and Ohio State. Like the other battles, it will be keenly contested, and the rivalry which always has existed between the two institutions will show itself.

Michigan Against Minnesota.

Minnesota and Michigan will close their season at Minneapolis. The former showed poor early season form, but improved as the season wore on. The Wolverines lost a 7-to-6 verdict to Illinois, but this defeat would be erased by a victory in next Saturday's encounter. Michigan certainly made great improvement over the eleven of a year ago, and showed Yost still is a crafty mentor if given the material.

In the East the Yale-Harvard battle at New Haven will overshadow all others. Regardless of other results, the outcome of this game will be awaited by alumni of both institutions with intense interest. The Army will taper off its preparations for the Navy game on Nov. 27 by playing Colby, and the Annapolis midshipmen will tackle George Washington on their gridiron.

FIGHT PROMOTERS FORM CORPORATION

New York, Nov. 16.—Tex Rickard, Charles Cochran of London and William A. Brady, co-promoters of the Dempsey-Carpentier championship contest, have combined their interests in staging bouts in this country, it was learned last night through the granting of a charter at Albany yesterday to the "Dempsey-Carpentier Contest company."

The three promoters are the only directors of the corporation, which will hold contests under the name of the "American Sporting club," a representative of Mr. Rickard declared. Mr. Cochran, it is understood, will look after European interests.

GIANTS TO GET ON WITHOUT HORNSBY

New York, Nov. 16.—Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants indicated today that the reported offer of $200,000 for Roger Hornsby, hard-hitter of the St. Louis Cardinals, made last season, will not be repeated.

"It isn't our policy to keep driving after a man in a way to break up another owner's ball club," he said.

JUDGE LANDIS, PROBABLY BASEBALL HEAD, AS A FAN

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the same Federal judge who imposed the $29,000,000 Standard Oil fine and has now been offered the job of directing the destinies of organized baseball, is a baseball fan of the first water. This photograph shows him during a tense moment of a game in Chicago.

MERKLE IS BOSS OF NEW CIRCUIT

Former Cub Now Promoting Baseball in Florida.

Daytona, Fla., Nov. 16.—Fred C. Merkle of the Chicago Cubs, who is wintering at his Daytona home, has undertaken the promotion of a Florida East Coast baseball league, the various clubs to be composed of major league players who spend the winter in this state.

It is Merkle's plan to organize clubs at Daytona, Palm Beach, Miami, Orlando, Deland and other points. The players themselves would finance the league, putting up the slight expense necessary and taking all the receipts. A majority of the cities in the proposed circuit already have ball parks, and clubs of the Florida State league have offered to loan Merkle suits and equipment for his winter league.

Material to Draw From.

A number of major league pastimers already are identified with the winter life of this community, Max G. Carey of the Pittsburgh Pirates and George Cutshaw, also of Pittsburgh, having winter homes here. Merkle believes that the proposed league would draw many players to this section to play for expenses and keep in condition during the off-season.

Merkle already has commenced a lining up of various cities of the circuit, and has gotten into communication with players of both the National and American leagues. He is daily receiving promises to join his winter circuit.

As many big league clubs train in Florida in the spring, it is Merkle's opinion that a large number of them will line up with him and be "on the job" for the spring training season.

TRAP SHOOTING AVERAGES DROP

Westerners Cop All Prizes Among Both Amateurs and Professionals.

New York, Nov. 16.—Compared with the averages made by the American amateur trapshooters last year, this season has not been productive of as much skill. In 1919 twenty-two amateurs had averages of 96 or better, seven showing 97 per cent or a little over.

According to the official list issued by the American Trapshooting association, only two of the twelve leading amateurs have shown 97 per cent and the other ten have 96 or better.

Among professionals, three made 97 and over while nine others had averages better than 96.

Frank M. Troeh, Vancouver, Wash., led the amateurs. He shot at 8,880 birds for an average of .9752. Frank Hughes of Mobridge, S. D., was sixth on the list, having shot at 6,755 birds for average of .9655; T. W. Harker, Billings, Mont., seventh, 2,400 birds, average .9650; E. W. Renfro, Butte, Mont., ninth, 2,100 birds, average .9647; and twelfth, Frank G. Fuller, Mukwonago, Wis., 2,130 birds, average .96.

Guy Ward, East Alton, Ill., led the professionals with an average of .9726.

CATHEDRAL GETS FIVE OF ELEVEN

Superior Football Fan Names All-Star High School Eleven.

Center—Watts, Duluth Central.
Right end—Gronseth, Duluth Central.
Quarterback—Stack, captain Superior Central.
Fullback—Hancock, Superior Central.
Substitutes—Linemen, Gow, Duluth Central; Camp, Superior Central. Backs, Anderson, Duluth Central; Conroy, Superior Central; Bratt, Denfeld; Walsh, Cathedral.

A Superior football fan, who says he has seen every high school team at the Head of the Lakes in action this past season, takes exception to some of the all-star elevens which have been named and sends in to The Herald a lineup of stars which he feels certain will meet with the approval of the close observers of the pastime.

The Badger expert gives excellent reasons for picking the men he has named. In his letter to The Herald he says:

The local scholastic football season has come to a close, and local football experts (?) are busy picking a team that would be representative of the best in the conference. I have been an interested spectator at nearly every game this season and have seen every team play at least two games and after reading the selection of all-stars by Louis Gollop of the News Tribune staff, and that of the editor of the Wisconsin Sunday Times, I feel that there is a grave injustice being done to some of the players. It is the idea of righting this wrong that inspires this communication.

I have been a football player of no mean ability myself at one time and have coached football teams successfully.

I picked Watts for center because of his experience and speed. Kelly of Cathedral gave him his hardest game. I picked Gallagher of Cathedral and McIntyre of Superior for guards because of their experience and aggressiveness. Gallagher is one of the best offensive linesmen I have seen since Matt Brown's days.

I picked two Cathedral tackles because I think they so far outshone any other two I have seen that there can be no comparison.

I think everyone will agree with me in selecting Gronseth and Nelson for ends. It was Gronseth's ability to go down on punts that won for Duluth Central over Cathedral, while Nelson was the whole mainstay of his side of the line for Superior.

I selected Stock of Superior as quarterback and captain because of his great generalship and punting. His ground-gaining ability is also to be considered.

Hancock, I think, is the greatest fullback ever turned out at the Head of the Lakes and, with the exception of Fiske of La Crosse, the best in the state.

It was a much harder job selecting halfbacks because of the wealth of good material. Conroy, Bratt, Anderson and Walsh are all excellent ground gainers, but I believe Cameron outshines all of them. I believe McRae is the best end runner and open field man in the conference. He has a deadly stiff-arm that never fails to down two or three men in the course of a run.

Hoping, Mr. Sporting Editor, that you will publish this selection, and would like to hear from others in regard to this. Thanking you in advance, I remain respectfully yours,

A CLOSE OBSERVER.

FEDERAL LEAGUE GETS THE BLAME

Cal Ewing Says "Jumpers" Started Fixing in Baseball.

Federal league baseball, which put such a nick in the bank roll of the magnates, was the breeding place of the scandal that has rocked baseball for the last season.

Cal Ewing, owner of the Oakland club, who has been connected with baseball for twenty-six years, makes that claim.

"The Federal league gathered most of the discontented element in baseball and signed them to ironclad contracts. Of course, there were a number of good players in the league.

Gambling Rampant Then.

"These players were assured of their places. They could not be disciplined and the result was that gambling was rampant in the old Federal league.

"If organized baseball had refused to take back the men who jumped to the Feds the game would have been that much better off today.

"When these players went back into organized baseball they continued their tactics and this is the result.

"I will not say they got in touch with gamblers. It was the ace-in-the-hole men with whom they hooked up and that resulted in a so-called gambling syndicate.

Gambling Player a Liability.

"I have been told that there is evidence of a syndicate that has been operating on the Pacific coast and which has players on every club in the league doing its bidding.

"If there is a player on my club who has been working with the 'ace' men he must go. I don't care how big a star he is. He no longer is an asset; he is a liability.

"Club owners also should take notice of things. Let them cease making side agreements and have them live up to all the baseball laws."

STARRED IN TWO GAMES DESPITE BROKEN JAW

If plain pluck will gain a football player a place on the All-American team "Red" Barron, Georgia Tech's halfback, ought to have a backfield position. His jaw, broken in a game with Vanderbilt, was set and strapped with wire connected with his teeth. Never the less he played against the rough Pittsburghers and Centre college and starred in both games. During all this time it was necessary to feed him with liquid foods through tube.

MITCHELL MAY MEET LEONARD

Milwaukee Lightweight Is After Another Crack at the Crown.

New York, Nov. 16.—Billy Gibson and Tex Rickard had another conference last week in an endeavor to obtain an opponent for Benny Leonard to fight in Madison Square Garden, but the only thing definitely settled as a result of the meeting was that the fight between Leonard and some one will take place in the garden on the night of Nov. 26. This is one night sooner than the date originally agreed upon. The switch was necessitated because the big structure has been engaged for another purpose on the twenty-seventh.

"We will decide upon Leonard's opponent soon," said Gibson. "According to Rickard, none of the men mentioned—Dundee, Welling, Mitchell, Tendler or Jackson—is out of the running and Benny will meet any one selected."

From the developments it looks as if Ritchie Mitchell will be the man selected to fight Leonard. Mitchell has started an intensive publicity campaign, but George Lawrence, who is acting for Mitchell in New York, was not at the meeting yesterday, although he was expected to be present. He will sit in at the conference this afternoon, after which the selection will be announced.

Leonard continues training at the Commonwealth Sporting club in Harlem, where he is to meet Eddie Kelly in his first bout in New York under the Walker Law on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

Tom McArdle, matchmaker of the Commonwealth, made an offer to Paddy Mullins, manager of Mike O'Dowd, for the ex-middleweight champion to box Silent Martin some time next month. Mullins said he probably would accept the offer if he could not tempt Johnny Wilson into a return match with Mike, but as Martin is scheduled to meet K. O. Jaffe in one of the three ten-round bouts at the Commonwealth on Saturday night, Mullins declined to give McArdle an answer pending this fight.

Bobby Lyons will meet Charley Pitts, a newcomer from Australia, and Jack Stone is to take on Jimmy Paul in the other ten-round bouts.

SOUTHERNERS CALL FOR "BABE" RUTH

New York, Nov. 16.—Many Southern towns whose baseball fans are anxious to see "Babe" Ruth pound out home runs have urged the New York Americans to consider them in the selection of a training camp. The decision is expected to be made at a meeting of club officials here next Thursday. Several Texas cities, including Dallas, have sent in requests, besides New Orleans, Hot Springs, Ark., and Jacksonville, Fla.

SUPERIOR TEAM MAY PLAY HERE

Badger Pro Eleven to Meet Duluth Sunday If Weather Is Fair.

Superior and Duluth City football teams will meet next Sunday at Hislop park in Superior in their second game of the championship series, providing weather and gridiron conditions are favorable, according to a statement given out this morning by Art Olson and Joe Feakes, managers of the Superior and Duluth elevens respectively.

Feakes and Olson held a conference last evening when it was agreed to defer their final decision until Wednesday. If the weather tomorrow gives indications of continued favorable temperature and no more snow falls, the teams will get together next Sunday.

The gridiron at Athletic park in this city is in much better condition right now than Hislop park, across the bay, and Manager Olson has agreed to bring his team over here if conditions next Sunday show the Duluth field to be the more advantageous place to perform.

"Both teams will need several evenings of practice to get in shape for the promised struggle and if we are going to play we will have to reach a decision by tomorrow," said Feakes. "However, if conditions are not favorable we will cancel and ring down the curtain on the professional season at the Head of the Lakes."

Duluth fans had their hearts set on another big game between Duluth and Superior when the weather took a severe change from bright, balmy autumn to snow and ice. The gridiron at Athletic park is now frozen and there is a little ice on the field, but unless the temperature takes a drop the teams will be able to play without much danger of injury to the members of the elevens.

PARK POINTER CHAMPION SHOT

John Harrison Brings Home to Duluth First Deer of Season.

John J. Harrison, 3422 Minnesota avenue, district engineer of St. Louis county, claims the unique distinction of being the first Duluth big game hunter to bring home a deer carcass. Mr. Harrison slew a fine big buck near his farm at Culver yesterday morning and last evening came wheeling home with the prize. He says that deer are plentiful in various parts of St. Louis county and that the slaughter this year should be large.

Several returning hunters claim they were successful in knocking over deer yesterday, but did not bring back any carcasses, saying they left their game hanging tagged in the woods and will bring it in later.

With the great number of local hunters who are tramping through the forests in search of big game, it would not be surprising if many deer carcasses will have reached this city by this evening. No moose carcasses are expected until near the week-end at the earliest for the reason that the big fellows are far back in the woods and their great bulk makes it difficult to get them out of the forests to the roads after they are shot.

Several parties of Duluth hunters will spend their entire time looking for moose and have gone way up to the Canadian border country in their quest. A majority of the local hunters who have gone after deer will return home as soon as they have killed one while others will stay up in the forest and enjoy at least a week's outing.

FULTON KNOCKS OUT CALIFORNIA BOXER

WRESTLERS ARE COMING TO LIFE

John Hill, "Iowa Tiger," Will Visit Duluth This Fall.

With frost snow and the breath out of the North comes the awakening of the heavily-muscled wrestlers in every part of the country who are beginning to get action. Challenges are flying thick and fast across the United States and Canada, and it will be but a short time before bounding bodies will be heard in most of the large arenas of the land.

Comes a letter this morning from George Hill of Des Moines, Iowa, known throughout the Middle West as the "Iowa Tiger," in which he states that he is coming to Duluth to issue a defi to all of the heavyweight grapplers in this neck of the woods. He is booked to wrestle at Appleton, Wis., late this month and after that match he will invade the Head of the Lakes. Hill, who tips the beam at 190 pounds, says he is ready to meet any grappler in the Northwest. If he cannot get any game around Duluth, he says he will drill on to Winnipeg and from there to Vancouver, B. C.

Right at present the mat sport is an idle issue in this city for the very good reason that there are no local mat stars. Fans in the western part of the city, who favor wrestling more than boxing, are anxious to see a mat tussle and it is possible that they may dig up someone to go against Hill.

RAPS STREET CAR SERVICE

Council Considers Complaints; Commissioners to Meet Traction Officials

Dissatisfaction with the service of the Duluth Street Railway company came to a head yesterday when an appeal was made to the city council for relief. The complaint was made in regard to service during the morning hours on the East end lines, where, it was declared, school children were unable to find room on the cars. A request was made of the council through Commissioner W. F. Murnian, for permission to run a bus line between Lake avenue and Twenty-fourth avenue east without the expense of paying the license, which amounts to $1.50 a passenger per year, although the proposed owners of the bus would provide the necessary bonds.

Service Severely Criticized.

The request introduced by Commissioner Murnian brought forth considerable criticism of the service the company is now giving and not only was the East end service criticized, but virtually every line in the city came in for its share of censure. The company was severely criticized and charges of bad faith with the city were made. Drastic action on the part of the council was averted by a majority of the council favoring a conference with General Manager Herbert Warren and President A. M. Robertson with the council tomorrow afternoon to consider what steps should be taken to relieve the present condition of the service.

Commissioner P. G. Phillips suggested that the council should order a survey of the system to see if the company could not give better service than it is doing. He declared that Herbert Warren, general manager, shortly after the recent election, at which the appeal for an increase in fares was turned down by the voters, had declared he was going to give Duluth what it had insisted upon, a 5-cent service. Commissioner Farrell said the company had shipped back to Minneapolis five cars, which, it had announced through the press, it had no further use for here, as the service had been cut.

Commissioner Farrell asked a legal opinion of Assistant City Attorney Leonard McHugh as to whether the council could demand better service of the street railway company and "get anywhere with it." Mr. McHugh gave as his opinion that it was within the province of the council to order improvement on different lines as well as to order extensions. In the event of failure to comply with the demands of the council, a writ of mandamus could be obtained to force the company to improve the service. Mr. Farrell suggested that the council should proceed along these lines at once as the service given the city was "rotten."

Commissioner Murnian expressed opposition to any drastic action without first considering the question with officers of the company and an effort being made to obtain improvement in the service that way first. He was supported in this by Commissioners Fred J. Voss and Mayor T. W. Hugo.

Doubts Value of Conference.

Commissioner Phillips said he believed such a conference would come to naught as Mr. Warren was "too smooth for this council" and that the meeting would result in another case of "passing the buck." Previous questions taken up with officials of the company had brought forth a nice letter filled with bunk, couched in fine phrases, but telling the council in polite language "to go to hell," he said. The question for the time being was settled by Mayor Hugo setting Wednesday afternoon for a meeting with the officials of the street railway company. Commissioner Phillips agreed to introduce a resolution calling on Mr. Warren to be present and if he saw fit, to invite President Robertson to attend.

An ordinance to provide for a survey of the water plant and the sewer system of the city to be made by the Minnesota state board of health, as suggested by The Herald, was introduced by Commissioner Phillips and carried unanimously. Commissioner Phillips informed the council that there had been considerable agitation over the condition of the water supply and the sewer system and that it was desired a survey be made to determine the condition of the water and to learn what steps would be necessary to safeguard the supply in the future.

The commissioners expected John Murphy, former chief of police, would put in an appearance at the council meeting to press his claims for reinstatement, but he failed to appear. However, a petition signed by a majority of the policemen asking that he be reappointed was submitted to Commissioner Murnian at the close of the council meeting. The question of the appointment of a chief of police did not come before the council.

Fahey to Convention.

Dr. E. W. Fahey, director of health, was authorized to attend the convention to be held at the institute of venerial diseases at Washington, D. C., Nov. 22. Expenses to the amount of $275 were allowed by the council.

W. C. Munk appealed from assessments for a sanitary sewer to be put in near his property in Oakland park addition.

A motion to appropriate $500 for additional repairs to the aerial bridge was given a first reading, as was a motion to appropriate $12,000 from the public utilities fund for the purchase of cast iron pipe.

The ordinance granting the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad the right to lay and maintain tracks over the crossing at Forty-ninth avenue west was passed.

Two claims for damages were settled by the council. Clara Johnson was allowed $75 for injuries sustained when she tripped and fell over a loose plank in the sidewalk. T. F. Olson was given $10.25 for damages to his machine caused by the alleged faulty condition of Superior street.

The city council voted yesterday to extend water and gas mains in Quince street from end of Orange street to a point 800 feet easterly. In Brookline street from end of mains in Melrose avenue to Carver avenue and in Carver avenue from Brookline street to Gold street and in Gold street to Carver avenue on Montrose avenue.

To Construct Sewers.

Sanitary sewers will be constructed in Sixty-ninth avenue west from Natchez street to Freemont street with outlet at Sixty-fifth avenue west, at an estimated cost of $3,060.31, the city council decided yesterday. In Huntington street from Sixty-first alley west at an estimated cost of $1,066.01. In Gold street from opposite block 1, lot 7, to a sewer in Midway avenue, at an estimated cost of $241.43.

The commissioner of public works will advertise for bids for one team of heavy draft horses. The recreational director will be permitted to employ a caretaker for the Harrison park house at $125 a month and a check room assistant when needed at 50 cents an hour. The plats of Duluth Heights garden tracts and Chester Place division were approved.

Washburn Property Sold.

Washburn, Wis., Nov. 16.—J. E. and Ralph Pirnie, who have been operating a large farm near Sanborn, have purchased the Eastabrook-Downs building here and will remodel it into a garage, implement store and auto salesroom. The dry goods store occupying the place is seeking other premises.

Sells Stamp Collection.

Rural Pastors Short Course.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Scholarships are being offered rural pastors by the University of Wisconsin this year by which they are enabled to attend classics in sociology and agricultural economics. The program was begun with a nucleus of nine pastors who live within a radius of sixty-six miles of Madison. Each week they come here to receive instruction in subjects that will better train them for their work. It is emphasized that the rural field offers a big opportunity worthy of specialized training to fit the pastor for conditions under which he must work.

DELIGHTFUL HAIR WASH

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

Quick Lemon Pie
Real Lemon at its best

Now comes Jiffy-Pie—real lemon pie, made by the makers of Jiffy-Jell.

It comes in a package, almost ready-made. The sugar is there, the egg yolk, powdered milk, corn starch and tapioca.

The real lemon essence is there—derived from lemon peel. It comes sealed in glass so it cannot deteriorate.

Add water, cook a little, and the filler is ready. You have the utmost in a lemon pie.

Perhaps you also make good lemon pie. But think of the time and the trouble. Think how rarely you serve it—the finest pie that's made.

Jiffy-Pie saves most of that trouble. It makes lemon pie convenient, quick and economical. You will serve it twenty times as often when you let us make it for you.

It is made by the same people as make Jiffy-Jell desserts. You know those fruity dainties, with the real-fruit sealed in glass. The same high ideals are back of Jiffy-Pie.

We will pay your grocer for the first pie if you are a Jiffy-Jell user. Present the coupon to him—get the package. See how easily and quickly you can make the pie.

Compare it with your own pies. Ask how your people like it. Then remember that Jiffy-Pie is ever at your call. It costs only a few cents to serve it. It is little work to make it.

You'll be glad to know of Jiffy-Pie. Cut out the coupon now.

FATHER HENNEBRY GOING TO GRAND RAPIDS CHURCH

Rev Fr. Thomas Hennebry, pastor of St. Michael's church at Lakeside, will leave this week for Grand Rapids, Minn., where he has been transferred by Bishop J. T. McNicholas. Rev. E. J. Walsh of Proctor will take charge of the Lakeside church.

Members of Father Hennebry's parish last night paid him a surprise call at the parochial residence to express their appreciation for his work here. M. E. Louisell made the farewell address on behalf of the congregation. Father Hennebry was presented with a purse collected from the members of the parish. Following his speech of acceptance, the women of the congregation served lunch.

Kills Lion With .22 Rifle.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 16.—Otto Synne, a rancher, shot a mountain lion measuring eighty-one inches from tip to tip. He trailed it for three days in the gate of the mountain country and finally cornered the huge beast. One shot in the head brought it down. The weapon was an ordinary .22 caliber highpowered rifle.

Keeper of Archives.

Rome, Nov. 16.—Pope Benedict has appointed Cardinal Gasquet as keeper of the archives of the holy church.

Aged, Wrinkled Faces Easily Rejuvenated

An aged face is often only a mask to a comparatively youthful person. Beneath is a countenance young and fair to look upon. It's a simple matter to remove the mask. Ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any drug-store, gradually absorbs the worn-out surface skin; in a week or two the user has the loveliest pinky white complexion imaginable. An ounce of the wax usually is sufficient to complete the transformation. It is put on at night like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water.

This remarkable treatment is invariably effective, no matter how muddy, sallow or discolored the complexion. Freckles, moth-patches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads and other cutaneous blemishes naturally vanish with the discarded skin.

To remove wrinkles and flabbiness, here is a recipe that cannot be too highly recommended: Powdered saxolite, one ounce; dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Use as a wash lotion.—Advertisement.

N.M.D.A. WILL HOLD MEETING

Sessions Wednesday; Vital Problems to Be Discussed.

The annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held in Duluth tomorrow. Election of officers and selection of the executive committee will take place at the evening session as will the report of the resolutions committee, it was announced today. The meeting will be held in the assembly room of the Duluth Commercial club.

The program will open at 10 o'clock a. m. Vice President A. P. Silliman will preside in the absence of President E. E. McDonald, who is in California. Following the address of welcome and the reply, the annual report of the secretary will be read and committees appointed. The following program of speakers and their subjects has been arranged:

James Arneson, "Land Clearing and Its Relation to Immigration"; Henry H. Hindshaw, "The Value of Peat"; Daniel E. Weigle, "Co-operation Between City and Country"; Prof. C. G. Selvig, "Agricultural Problems in Northern Minnesota"; Bentley P. Neff, "Lakes to the Ocean"; W. B. Getchell, "Pittsburgh Plus"; R. W. Hitchcock, "Tonnage Tax"; P. H. McGarry, "Highways Everywhere"; W. T. Cox, "The Status of Forestry."

It is expected that this program will be completed by holding an evening session, to which the general public is invited. During the evening it is expected that the association will take stock of the accomplishments of the last year and outline the program of activities for the coming year.

An invitation is extended to all having the interests of Northern Minnesota at heart, and a special invitation has been extended to county boards, farm bureaus, farmers' clubs, Commercial clubs and similar associations.

Haugen Funeral Thursday.

The funeral of John Haugen, aged 16, 2966 Exeter street, who died Sunday of heart disease while on a hunting trip near Grand Lake, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday from the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church. Rev. Mr. Kluxdahl will officiate and interment will be in Park Hill cemetery. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Ada, aged 17, and a son, Lloyd, aged 14.

Central Baptist Notes.

Great interest is manifested in the West End Prophetic Bible class, which meets every Tuesday night at 7:45. This class is open for all who wish to attend.

Wednesday afternoon the Woman's Missionary society will be entertained by Mrs. W. B. Patton, 1101 East Fourth street. Mrs. E. E. Churchill will be the leader.

Thursday evening at 7:45 the midweek prayer service will be held. The subject is "Personal Evangelism."

The pastor will be out of the city for a couple of days, called away by a funeral service in the northern part of the state, but will be back in time for the Thursday evening service.

East Meets West.

The rapidly growing habit of East end residents to purchase among the West end stores has proven the fruitfulness of advertising in The Herald to a great majority of the West end merchants. Daily many of the West end shops are making deliveries to fill orders from Herald advertisements read by families living east of the center of the city.—Advertisement.

TWO ESTATES FILED.

Charles E. Lanigan and Chisholm Man Leave Property.

Charles E. Lanigan, Duluth restaurant proprietor, who died Nov. 12 last, aged 38, left an estate valued at $5,300, according to a petition for letters of administration filed in probate court yesterday afternoon by his brother, J. T. Lanigan, one of the heirs. The others who will share in the estate are two sisters, Mrs. Annie Blackwood and Harriett Lanigan.

Mike Haydukovich of Chisholm petitioned the probate court yesterday for appointment as administrator of the estate of his half-brother, Steve Haydukovich, who died May 12 last, aged 31, at Chisholm. The heirs are the parents who reside in Jugo-Slavia. The estate consists of property listed at $200.

MUNICIPAL CHRISTMAS TREE, ETC. AT ARMORY

Duluth kiddies will have a Christmas party with a mammoth Christmas trees and all the trimmings, lots of candy, nuts and fruit, on Christmas day at the Armory, according to Mayor T. W. Hugo. The party will be arranged by the city recreational department and be under the direction of J. R. Batchelor, recreational director. According to Mayor Hugo the party will be held early in the afternoon so as not to interfere with any other plans for the day.

Capt. Guy Eaton has promised the Armory for the kiddies, but as it is to be used for a dance during the evening the party will have to close early to allow time to clean up. Capt. Henry Cleveland has been instructed to obtain a large tree that will be one of the biggest ever seen here, and will reach almost to the roof of the Armory.

There will be a large program of games and a band will be on hand to furnish the music. A real live Santa Claus will look after the tree and distribute the Christmas presents to the kiddies.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NORTHLAND COUNTRY CLUB

The annual meeting of the Northland Country club will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the clubhouse. A large attendance of the members is desired, as business of importance will be discussed.

Knife River Man Dies.

Leo Clifford Doughty, aged 32, died early this morning at St. Mary's hospital after a long illness. He was formerly a resident of Duluth. Surviving him are a widow, two children, Raymond, aged 9, and Lois, aged 3; his mother and father, and two sisters, Mrs. Clark Wilbur of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. C. R. Fesline, 2713 West Second street.

Injured Lad Improving.

Everett Matthews, age 13, who was hurt Saturday night while coasting down Twentieth avenue west, was reported improving at St. Mary's hospital today. He collided with a truck at the Second street intersection.

Would Confer With Council.

The Woman's Council committee on correctional institutions has requested a conference with the city council, which has been set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, according to Mayor T. W. Hugo. What the committee wishes to discuss with the commissioners was not communicated to the mayor, and is not announced, although he believed it might have to do with the position of a police woman or law enforcement, and probably the question of moving the industrial home to a new location will come up for consideration.

Missionary Society to Meet.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. John Macleod is the speaker. All women of the church and community are cordially invited.

JAP STUDENTS TALK OF FIGHT

To Hold Big Meeting to Discuss "Shall Japan Fight America?"

Tokio, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The students' societies of three of Tokio's private universities have organized a meeting to be held tonight to discuss the question, "Shall Japan Fight America?" The police have twice summoned committeemen from the students and tried unsuccessfully to persuade them to change the subject. The present arrangements are that the meeting will be held, with many student orators participating. Applications to speak have been received from labor and Socialist representatives and members of patriotic societies.

The striking character of the subject announced for discussion and the news of the unsuccessful police interference appear to have insured a large audience at the meeting, and forecasts of the probable character of the utterances indicate that the majority of the orators are expected to take a bellicose view.

Attack Hara's Speech.

The anti-ministerial press today prints attacks on Premier Hara's recent speech on the international situation. The Yomiuri Shimbun declares the premier's statement that the Americans never violated Japan's rights to be untrue, and expresses the view that such an attitude can only lead to a humiliating and unsatisfactory settlement with the United States.

The Kokumin Shimbun questions the premier's statement that anti-Japanese feeling is confined to California. It asserts that it is becoming nation-wide, the causes being the American supposition that Japan is an "Eastern Germany" and the misunderstanding of her policy toward Shantung, Korea and Siberia. The Japanese people, it adds, are prepared for any emergency.

Letter by Roosevelt.

There recently appeared in the newspapers here a translation of a letter by the late Theodore Roosevelt on the policy of the United States toward Japan. The letter was issued by Viscount Eiichi Shibusawa, president of the American-Japanese association, and bore a preface by Viscount Kentaro Kaneko, member of the house of peers.

The Hochi Shimbun, which published the letter, welcomed it as evidence of American friendship toward Japan and points out that Roosevelt fifteen years ago foresaw that the immigration question would lead to a crisis.

WATCHMAN FIRED ON FROM RACING MOTORCAR

That a party in an automobile tearing madly along Grand avenue at 2:30 this morning opened fire on him with a rifle was the story that Frank Cullen told the West Duluth police today. Cullen, who is employed by several of the West Duluth merchants as a watchman, said that he was standing on the corner of Fifty-seventh and Grand avenue when someone opened fire on him from a car which was coming along Grand avenue so fast that it was hardly able to make the turn on to Fifty-seventh.

Expect Decision in R. R. Case.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 16.—Decision on the application of a stockholders committee of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for an order for a sixty-day postponement of the date for the sale of the road under a judgment in favor of the Equitable Trust company of New York was expected to be handed down in Federal court late today. Federal Judge R. E. Lewis of Denver and W. H. Sanborn of St. Paul planned to leave Omaha tonight and it was said a decision would be given before they left.

GUARDSMAN IS SENTENCED

Tank Corps Man Must Go to Jail for Insubordination.

Failure to attend drills and to obey the orders of his superior officers in Company M., Minnesota Tank corps, National Guard, will probably cost 19-year-old Levy Lovick his liberty for the next twelve days.

Lovick was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Bert Duff on a committment from the summary court of the local tank corps.

Lovick enlisted with the new tank company during the latter part of May of this year. He took the oath of enlistment at that time. When ordered to report for duty he refused to appear. At his trial before Lieut. W. A. Abbett, Jr., summary court officer, on Oct. 28 last, the young man pleaded guilty to both counts against him, one for failing to report for drill and the other insubordination, but claimed that he was physically unfit for the service. He was given a physical examination at the time and declared by the medical officer to be fit.

Becomes Obstinate.

The summary court officer then sentenced him to pay a fine of $12 or spend twelve days in the county jail. The sentence stipulated that the fine must be paid within a period of five days. Lovick did not pay and upon orders of Capt. L. J. Moerke, commanding officer, the time was extended two weeks. Lovick, however, it is claimed, maintained that he was not amenable to the state military code under which he was tried, and refused to pay. He was picked up by the sheriff's office this morning and taken to the jail.

The maximum sentence for the infractions of the code to which he pleaded guilty is twenty-five days on each charge, or a total of fifty days in jail.

NEWSPAPER TELLS HOW BOY WAS SAVED FROM LUNG TROUBLE

Read what the Altoona Times-Tribune says about the case of Paul McCartney. Reporter interviewed his parents and saw the boy.

Altoona (Pa.) Times Tribune, March 26, 1920

HEALTH COMES TO LAD THROUGH ADVERTISING

Despairing Parents, As the Last Resort, Choose Remedy Heard of Through This Newspaper—Boy Is Now Well and Robust

It would hardly occur to you that a miracle could be worked through advertising—one that saved to doting parents the life of their only son? Strange as it may seem, that is just exactly what has been accomplished in a specific instance right here in Altoona. We all have heard volumes about the value of advertising, but that the great results achieved by it, should save life, almost passes our belief. However here are the facts in the case.

Paul McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon McCartney, residing at 2922 Walnut avenue, this city, and who on October 10 last, celebrated the 14th anniversary of his birthday, took sick July, 1918, his illness rapidly assuming such a critical aspect that his life was despaired of. The parents in their frantic efforts to save his life, called in different medical practitioners and at different times had him admitted to both city hospitals.

DIAGNOSED TUBERCULOSIS

The malady was diagnosed by the physicians as tuberculosis and it was suggested that the parents keep the boy out of doors, day and night and feed him entirely on a milk and egg diet. In compliance, the parents had an army cot placed on the back porch, had it properly screened and there, the sufferer reduced to a mere skeleton, lay day and night, his life ebbing. From August 1 until October the patient was unable to take nourishment of any kind except in occasional insignificant quantities sufficient to sustain the waning life. The stomach would not retain the food.

Finally, the attending physician told the despairing mother that he could do nothing more that the child must die. Fortunately Mrs. McCartney's father, A. T. Rigg, residing at 2925 Pine avenue, brought to his daughter a copy of the Altoona Times, containing an advertisement of Milks Emulsion "Nature's Remedy" prepared and sold by The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind., and advised her to try it as a last resort.

EFFECT MARVELOUS

The effect was marvelous. In an interview granted to a Times Tribune reporter last evening, pursuant to an inquiry from the Milks Emulsion Co. to whom Mrs. McCartney had sent a letter of appreciation, she said that in three days after taking the remedy, her boy was able to walk with her aid. After taking ten bottles, he was wholly restored to health. In substantiation of her story the reporter was shown a snap shot of Paul after he had used the emulsion three days—he was a mere bag of bones, as the saying goes, a pitiful figure with skin drawn taut over the bones.

Then in contrast, the mother called to her son who was engaged in strenuous play on the street, and in came a lad, vibrant with health and cheeks glowing like the rose. All this in spite of the ultimatum by a physician, "that he might as well take so much lard," according to the mother's statement!

Mrs. McCartney sent her letter to the company in the hope that other mothers could learn of this remedy, what it did for her son, and perhaps receive from it the same invaluable boon. She called the attention of the reporter to a bottle of the emulsion which ever has the place of honor on the buffet, and to which she says, recourse is had every time any member of the family complains of not feeling well. Paul is attending school regularly, being enrolled at the Curtin building. Mr. McCartney is a well known machinist in the Juniata shops.

This news article from the Altoona Times-Tribune is reproduced by the Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Milks Emulsion is offered, on a liberal trial plan, to anyone suffering from stomach trouble, constipation, lack of flesh or appetite, stubborn coughs or the weakening effects of wasting diseases. Take 6 bottles home and use it as directed. If not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

"See you next week"

THERE'S no doubt about it, when you have a 1900 Cataract Electric Washer, with its magic figure 8 movement, you will want to see it this week, next week, and every week!

It's all because of that figure 8 which makes the 1900 the perfect washing machine. For because of it, the water is forced back and forth through the clothes in a figure 8 movement four times as often as in the ordinary washer!

There are all sorts of special features about the 1900. There's the gleaming copper tub—not a single part in it to cause wear and tear on the clothes. Nothing to pull off buttons or rip your finest pieces! And there are no heavy cylinders to lift out and clean after your wash is finished.

The wringer works electrically, too, and is movable. You can swing it from the washer to the rinse water, to the blue water, to the clothes basket without moving or shifting the washer an inch!

It costs less than 2c an hour to operate the 1900, and you can wash a tubful of clothes snowy-white and clean in 8 to 10 minutes.

Our Special Offer

We will gladly bring a 1900 Washer right to your home and demonstrate it, wash the clothes in it. Then when you have seen what it will do, you may start paying for it on terms to suit your convenience.

FARMER SUCCORS BOY JAIL BREAKER

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Knowing nothing of the escape of Edward Carlson, 16, from the local county jail last week where he was being held on a thieving charge, Peter Martinsen, farmer living at Brain lake, says that last Saturday when a youth corresponding in description to Carlson appealed to him and his hired man for permission to sleep in a shack there permission was granted. After refreshing himself with a nap the boy departed.

Hunters are asked to keep on the lookout for the boy whose description is brown hair, blue eyes and medium complexion, wears new sheepskin lined canvas coat, green cap, new high topped boots, gray flannel shirt without necktie, and either army breeches or new trousers, is short and rather stout.

EVELETH ROTARIANS GOING TO FARGO, N. D.

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Rotary club of this city will have a good showing at the convention of the Fifteenth district clubs to be held at Fargo next March and a committee has been named by President J. C. Hartness to have charge of arrangements. The plans are to attend in a body with the Rotary organizations of Virginia and Duluth, going to Fargo in a special train. The club expects to be represented by at least 75 per cent of its membership.

EVELETH SECURES CLOQUET EX-PASTOR

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being without a pastor for the past few months, the Presbyterian church has secured Rev. Edward Williams, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church at Cloquet and moderator of the Duluth presbytery, and he has already assumed his duties.

During the war he was engaged in furnishing entertainment and lectures for the soldiers, with whom he went through the battle of Belleau wood.

EVELETH WINTER SPORTS RAPIDLY LOOKING UP

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Skaters, hockey enthusiasts and curlers are interested in progress which is being made at the recreational building in the way of getting a foundation started for the freezing of ice. Robert H. Dunbar, city recreational director, says that the skating floor is now in readiness and that as soon as the weather becomes sufficiently frigid ice will be made.

Curlers are beginning to match their rinks for the season and the hockey team is endeavoring to secure a schedule of exhibition games to be played before the regular league schedule is started on Jan. 4 with the Duluth team.

LAWYER, EX-SOLDIER IS HIBBING LEGION HEAD

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The executive board of the American Legion, the main governing body, was elected last night at a meeting of Cobb Williams post as follows: Israel Sher, Bennett Congdon, Lee Spanner, John Gannon, William Furlong, Giles Shea, Floyd Farnand, Larry McCabe, Dom Alexander and Robert Hansen.

VIRGINIA INSTITUTE PLANS ARE PERFECTED

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for the institute on mass athletics to be held Thursday afternoon in Elks' club are completed. During the afternoon speakers will be Ralph C. Tapp, director of physical education of the Minneapolis public schools; Miss Catherine Carey, director of girls' physical education, Virginia, and A. K. Jackson, director of physical education and coach in the Virginia schools.

The dinner session at which M. A. Murphy will act as chairman will be held at the St. Paul's guild hall. J. R. Batchelor, recreational director of Duluth, and Dr. H. P. Kallenberg, international committee of the Y. M. C. A., will speak.

The evening session will be held at the Elks' club with W. J. Archer acting as chairman. Dr. Kallenberg and J. R. Batchelor will speak and also L. W. Brown, recreational director and scout executive of the village of Hibbing.

HIBBING JUNIORS WILL PLAY SUPERIOR

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing Junior college basketeers will open their season Friday, Dec. 10, meeting the Superior normal quint at Superior, it is announced by Harvey Lehman, coach, who has just completed the negotiations. Two games with the Superior school have been arranged, the second to be played at Hibbing Jan. 8.

The college team will play the Marble city team Dec. 17 if arrangements can be made.

Two games with Northland college of Ashland, Wis., have been arranged. The first will probably be played at Ashland and the second at Hibbing.

The candidates for berths on the college quint are practicing regularly every afternoon. James Darlington, Dennis Murphy, Tom Kaiser and Frank Hall, letter men of last season, have already reported for practice.

WINTER SPORTS FOR VIRGINIA IN MAKING

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winter sport followers are making plans for the season, and Virginia curlers are planning one of their most successful winters. Last winter the Barrett Brothers company made use of the Virginia curling rink for warehouse purposes and local curlers were not afforded their usual opportunity for practice and games.

The usual school yard and park rinks will be maintained by the city.

Virginia will probably attempt to organize a hockey team.

Basket ball practice begins at the high school this week. A promising bunch of candidates will report for practice.

The younger skiing enthusiasts are getting busy already. Skiing will enjoy its usual popularity.

Hibbing K. C. Dances.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Knights of Columbus winter social activities will begin with a dance in the K. C. hall the first week in December. The committee in charge of the affairs, which will be held semi-monthly during the winter, follows: Harold Friday, Joseph Daley, Floyd Farnand, Clarence Wring and Jack Brose. Preparations are being made for the initiation of a class of seventy-five late in January or early in February.

SOLDIER IS HONORED BY WESTERN MESABA

CLARENCE BENNETT.

Coleraine, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of the returned soldier, Clarence Bennett, held at Taconite this afternoon and the funeral cortege from that village through Bovey and Coleraine to Lakeview cemetery, was the largest ever held in this mining district. The funeral exercises were in charge of the Whittey-Bennett post of the American Legion at Taconite, assisted by representatives from posts from the neighboring villages of Keewatin, Nashwauk, Marble, Bovey, Coleraine and Grand Rapids. The sermon was delivered by Rev. P. A. Schwarz and the Coleraine Presbyterian choir sang. The village hall at Taconite could not contain the people who wished to attend.

In the funeral procession there were scores of automobiles. The former service men from overseas acted as an escort, and marched through the villages of Taconite, Bovey and Coleraine. In Coleraine the entire student body and teachers of the Greenway high school, of which the deceased and his widowed wife are graduates, stood by the line of march with lowered flags while the flag above the high school building floated at half-mast.

At the cemetery the services were impressive. The open grave was literally banked with flowers. A squad of ex-service men from the post named in honor of the dead soldier fired a salute and a bugler sounded taps, and the last sad rites were ended.

All the business houses in the three villages through which the funeral passed were closed from 2 to 4 o'clock. Deputations from the Masonic and Odd Fellow lodges, of which the deceased was a member were in attendance.

The late Clarence Bennett's death was most untimely. He had served his country in France with the A. E. F. during the great war, and was joyfully on his way home to see his young wife and infant daughter whom he had not seen, when his life was snuffed out in a fatal accident when riding on an auto bus or truck. The body arrived at Coleraine Sunday noon, accompanied by a noncommissioned officer from the American army. It has been positively identified by those who knew him best.

PASTORS AND WOMEN INVITED TO BOUTS

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every local minister and priest has been invited to attend the Elks' stampede at the Armory Friday night.

Johnny Nichols, who will meet Terrin in the main bout, arrived yesterday, looking in the proverbial pink of condition and confident that he will be returned the winner against the fighting tailor. Tony Matchefts of Virginia will meet Billy Emke of St. Paul and this bout should also be a thriller. Champagne of Duluth will referee all of the bouts.

The entertainment is announced as high class and women are expected to attend. There will be no smoking and no boisterous talking.

FORMER SALOONS OTHERWISE USED

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-six different kinds of stores now occupy the buildings formerly used by saloons. A survey made by the social class of the Virginia high school, under the instruction of Roy Goddard, developed that of the 48 places that were once saloons 5 are now clothing stores, 4 billiard halls, 4 garages, 1 jewelry shop, 2 electrical stores, 2 soft drink parlors, 1 of which is a soft drink factory, 2 meat markets, 2 reading rooms, 1 candy kitchen, 2 printing offices, 1 steam bath house, 2 restaurants, 2 drug stores, 1 theater (this takes up the space occupied by two former saloons); 1 shoe shining parlor, 1 variety store, 1 bakery, 1 sheet metal work shop, 1 wholesale fruit place, 1 cigar store, 1 carpenter shop, 1 bank (formerly 2 saloons); 1 army goods store, 1 grocery, 1 tailor shop and 1 is left vacant.

How Strange Things Sometimes Happen

"I want to write you to let you know that I have taken two more doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and have gained 10 lbs. in the last two weeks, although I am thinner around the waist than before, because the bloating in my stomach has all gone and I am feeling like a boy again. There never was anything in this world half as good as this medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Boyce Drug Co., 331 West Superior street, and druggists everywhere.

Gets 28 Eggs A Day Now, From 34 Hens

C. C. White, Well-Known Breeder, Tells How. Costs Nothing to Try.

"I gave Don Sung to 34 utility Buff Orpingtons and the egg yield increased from 7 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly."—Chas. C. White, Mgr., Cherry Hill Farm, Flackville, Ind.

Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. He wrote the above letter in December, after his test had shown a gain of 21 eggs a day from 34 hens. We will make you the same offer we made him. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

FAIR; RISING TEMPERATURE

The mild conditions still continue, and the promise is for still better temperature tomorrow. It's winter all right, but scarcely a winter of discontent so far as weather is concerned. The sun rose this morning at 7:13 and will set this evening at 4:32, giving nine hours and nineteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures have moderated somewhat throughout the Rocky mountains, the Northwest and plains states, and have fallen over the Mississippi valley and most of the South. Freezing weather extends southward to including Eastern New Mexico and most of Texas and Louisiana. Abilene, Tex., reported 18 deg. at 7 a. m. today. Snow or rain fell in most districts east of the Mississippi valley and to the westward of the Rocky mountains during Monday or last night. The barometer is high from Quebec southwestward to Texas, while low pressures are centered off the Northeastern Florida coast and over Southern Saskatchewan and Northwestern Washington."

LOCAL FORECAST

For Duluth and vicinity: Fair tonight and probably Wednesday. Rising temperature tonight with minimum near 20 deg. at Duluth, Superior and Two Harbors, and 15 to about 20 deg. inland and on the iron ranges. Moderate winds, mostly southerly.

NEXT DISTRICT LEGION MEETING IN GILBERT

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Campaign for new members of J. Burt Pratt post of the American Legion will continue until Thursday and it is expected by that time that nearly every ex-service man qualified for membership in the organization will be enrolled.

Plans are made for the reorganization of a women's auxiliary.

The next meeting of the district board of the legion will be held in December at Gilbert. The last meeting was held at Hibbing.

FOURTEEN CARLOADS OF COAL FOR TWO HARBORS

Two Harbors, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—James H. Daly of the department of justice, who came here to look into the allegation that the municipal coal dock was discriminated against in the sales of coal, has returned to St. Paul without making any statement as to his finding. The council is advised by W. H. Groverman that he has obtained, through several coal companies, promise to send fourteen cars of anthracite here. The Lehigh Valley Coal company has denied the claim of Judge McGhee that it has 175,000 tons surplus coal in Minneapolis it can ship here.

Clear Land Near Nashwauk.

Nashwauk, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 150 acres of land were cleared or broken in the Cloverdale district this fall. Some of the farms have as much as twenty acres ready to plant in the spring and it is believed that the productive value of the land will be much greater next spring than in the last. A large amount of building has also been going on in the farms north of Nashwauk the last few months. Several barns as well as a number of houses are under construction and are almost ready for occupation. Some of the farmers who have a large tract of land cleared for planting next fall are: I. Kumpula, M. Ranttala, G. Dahl, Wirtz Bros., D. McLeod, Tweed & Meyers, L. Mert and W. Le Claire.

Nashwauk Church Affair.

Nashwauk, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bake sale and a sale of fancy work will be held at the village hall next Thursday under the auspices of the Methodist aid. The sale of fancy work will be held both in the morning and afternoon. The bake sale will be held during the afternoon and evening and lunch will be served during this time. A candy booth will be maintained all during the day. Mrs. McMasters and Mrs. Murry will be in charge of the fancy work sale, Mrs. Harry Olson will have charge of the bake sale. Mrs. A. Plaisted is president of the aid.

Butler Bros'. Clubhouse.

Nashwauk, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The clubhouse which Butler Bros. are erecting at their location at the Harrison mine is nearing completion and it will soon be ready for occupation. It is a very fine new building, having clubrooms, reading rooms and a gymnasium.

Building School Garage.

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of education has advertised for bids for the installation of the electric wiring, plumbing and heating work in the new garage building which is being erected by the district on the campus of the junior and senior high school and manual training buildings. Work is progressing in good shape and is expected to be completed by the first of the year. R. Englund is the contractor.

Eveleth Masonic Ball.

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elaborate scheme of decorating is being carried out by the local Masonic lodge for the annual ball which will be given on Friday evening. Invitations have been sent to all Masons on the range.

Hibbing Book Sale.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joining the national movement to promote a greater interest in children's reading, the children's department of the Hibbing public library will have an exhibit and sale of selected juvenile books for two weeks preceding Christmas. These books have been selected by Miss Celia Frost, children's librarian, who will also be in charge of the exhibit and sale.

City Team to Disband.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A game with the Marines to determine the state championship in semi-professional football which seemed likely for a while will not be played and the city football team will shortly disband.

Hilton Thanks Hibbing Voters.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton has written to D. D. McEachin, member of the state central Republican committee, thanking him for work done during the recent campaign in his behalf. Appreciation of the women's support is especially expressed by Attorney General Hilton. "I would much appreciate it if, when occasion permits, you would convey my sincere thanks to those who were personally interested in my behalf," he writes.

Virginia Community Gathering.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first of a series of community gatherings will be held this evening in Finnish Temperance hall, under the leadership of Dr. H. F. Kallenberg of the Y. M. C. A. international committee, who had charge of athletic camps during the war. There will be a program of home talent music.

SUES BONDSMEN OF EVELETH SALOONIST

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mary Miles, administratrix of the estate of James P. Miles, who died in Eveleth several years ago from injuries alleged to have been sustained when hit over the head by a beer glass in the hands of John Shalki in the then saloon of Frank Steblaj, today filed suit in district court against the National Surety company and others, the saloonman's bondsmen, to recover $2,000.

Paul Kato, also of Eveleth, started suit against John L. Rock to recover $448.50 for injuries to an auto in a collision in Eveleth Aug. 13 last.

William S. Fisk started suit against the Range Mercantile company to recover $500 on a note given to the Criterion Food company, and J. Strickler started suit against the same defendant to recover $200, also on a note.

Knute Nelson of Eveleth started divorce proceedings against Johanna Nelson, alleging infidelity.

DULUTH ARCHITECT MAY BE SELECTED

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is said to be the possibility of a Duluth architect being chosen by the board of education tonight to draft plans in the important building campaign proposed by the board as three well known architects of that city, Nystrom, Kelly and Bray are being prominently mentioned as tentative selections. Architect Kerr of this city is also being boomed for the position and much interest centers around the meeting tonight to settle the all-important question.

Importance of the selection is shown when it is realized that several buildings are to be erected.

Balkan Books Examined.

Chisholm, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. O. Cedarberg, deputy state examiner, who has completed the examination of the books of Balkan township as petitioned by twenty-nine taxpayers, has returned to St. Paul without making a public statement, leaving that to the head office, after which, it is expected, the public will be informed of his findings.

Mountain Iron Study Class.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Nov. 16.—The following program was rendered last evening at the meeting of the Study club in the library: The first half of "The Courtship of Miles Standish," Mrs. Paul Erickson; "The Pilgrim Fathers," Mrs. Mahon. Mrs. M. Larson was hostess.

Report Deer Scarce.

Two Harbors, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local nimrods who have been out after deer do not return very enthusiastic, claiming that the animals are unusually scarce in this section, attributing this condition to the late partridge hunting, during which the woods flocked with hunters.

Less Ore Being Hauled.

Two Harbors, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth & Iron Range has only nine ore trains hauling to the local docks today, the smallest number in months, but no announcement has been made as to when the shipping season will conclude.

Former Virginian Married.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Marie Lofback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lofback of Virginia, who has been employed in the office of the Ford Motor company at Detroit, Mich., was married in that city Saturday to Charles Newell Hoon of Detroit. Miss Jean Lofback of Virginia, a sister, was bridesmaid.

Duluthian to Attend.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Dacey, Duluth, will be an out-of-town guest at a bridge party to be given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Clarence Michaelson, Fifth avenue west, when three tables will be played and Thanksgiving decorations will be used.

Many Infants Smothered.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Six babies were smothered to death in bed in Minneapolis homes last year, Dr. F. E. Harrington, city health commissioner, announced. Ignorance and carelessness on the part of parents is to blame in the opinion of Dr. J. P. Sedgwick, head of the department of pediatrics at the University of Minnesota.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

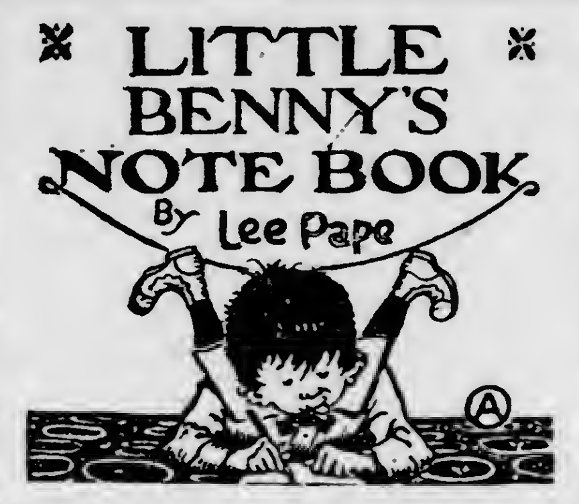
It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By Lee Pape



He and Puds Simkins was wawking along wondering if enything would happin, and something did, being a little short man with a big bag full of little packidges coming up to us and saying, Boys, do you wunt to have some fun? Help me give out these sample packidges of Corn Droplets. All you haff to do is ring the bell and hand a packidge to whoever opens the door and say, Accept this with the compliments of the Corn Droplets company.

And he gave us each a hole armful of packidges, Puds saying, Well wat do we get for doing it, mister?

You get the satisfaction of doing a good deed, wat more do you wunt? sed the man. Me and Puds not saying, and we started to give out the packidges, me ringing one bell and Puds ringing the one rite next store, and some lady opened the door and I handed her a packidge, saying, Accept this with the compliments of the Corn Droplets compinny.

This dinky thing? sed the lady. And she slammed the door and jest then another lady opened the door next store and Puds sed, Accept this with the compliments of the Corn Droplets compinny.

And me on the 3rd floor dusting, well of all the ignorant ugly looking fat brats, sed the lady. Meening Puds, and she slammed her door even harder than mine slammed hers. Puds saying, Holey smoaks, you mite think it was the insults of the Corn Droplets compinny insted of the compliments.

And we went up on the next 2 steps and rang the bells, my door opening ferst and me saying, Accept this with the compliments of the Corn Droplets compinny, and the lady sed, Those miserable things, I bawt a packidge once and the hole family neerly choaked to deth trying not to waste them, get down off of there you snub nose peenut. Meening me, and she slammed the door as if it was a habit in that block, and Puds sed, I aint going to wait for mine, wat do you say we run like heck?

Wich we did, with the rest of the packidges, me giving mine to ma saying, Accept all these with the compliments of the Corn Droplets compinny. And me and pop tried them for brekfist this morning, jest trying them for about one spoonfull and wishing we hadnt even tried them that much.

MARINE

WINDBOUND FLEET ARRIVING IN PORT

More than sixty big freighters which have been windbound on their way up the lakes have reached the Duluth-Superior harbor since Sunday evening. Most of the vessels came in light for ore, but quite a number had coal cargoes, nine of the latter tying up at local docks since yesterday noon.

This unusual rush of boats has caused a congestion at the Missabe ore docks and several of the boats have gone to anchor in the harbor basin to await their turns to load.

Coal Steamer Sinks.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 16.—The coal and sand steamer Dolphin sunk in the Menominee river after having stove in her hull while trying to break a channel through the ice in an effort to reach the docks of the Central West Coal company. Attempts will be made, it is said, to raise the vessel.

BECAME NERVOUS AND LOST WEIGHT

Iowa Man Tells How He Regained Health and Strength After Months of Discouragement.

If you are nervous and melancholy and are losing strength and energy you will find the story of Mr. Anton Patrick of No. 684 West 24th street, Des Moines, Iowa, encouraging and interesting.

"I am a coal miner," explains Mr. Patrick, "and I believe that the close confinement in the mines was partly the cause of my condition. I was badly run down in health and my strength was leaving me very fast. I could just do my work and that was all. I lost weight and became so nervous that I could not get all the sleep I needed and felt as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. My blood was so thin that I did not have any color. I became discouraged. My appetite was good sometimes and at other times I didn't care to eat anything. I was troubled with shortness of breath and heart flutterings.

"A friend told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I began to take them. I felt a little better after the first box so I kept on. I have regained my strength and have taken on more weight. My color has improved and my appetite is as good as ever. My nerves are stronger, too, and I have more ambition for my work. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have helped me greatly and I can honestly recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a strengthening medicine. Surely and effectively they build up the blood, invigorate the appetite, tone up the digestion, give brightness to the eye, color to cheeks and lips and quickness to the step.

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 60 cents a box. Write for the booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

RHEUMATISM

Torturing Pains and Swollen Joints Vanish When Rheuma Is Used or Money Refunded.

If there are any rheumatic sufferers who have not availed themselves of this generous offer they should do so at once.

If Rheuma, the guaranteed prescription for rheumatism in any form, does not give quick and joyful relief the cost, small as it is, will be gladly returned without any quibbling or red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease, and anyone who has the slightest sign of it should drive it from the system as quickly as possible. This is what Rheuma did for many. It should do as much for you.

"I have been laid up for one year with chronic arthritis," says one sufferer. "I had doctors galore, also spent four months in a sanitarium, but had practically no relief. Then I started taking Rheuma. Now I can go without crutches or other aid, which I could not do for the last nine months. I highly recommend it, and would gladly answer any questions asked on receipt of stamp for postage."—Thomas H. Eddy, Schuylerville, N. Y.

Rheuma is absolutely harmless and thoroughly reliable because it is one discovery that has forced rheumatism to yield and disappear. It is recommended and sold on the no-cure-no-pay plan by Lyceum Pharmacy, and good druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

GOOD BULGES IN WHEAT PRICE

Market Closes Higher on Better Eastern Bidding—Flax Trade Dull.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 16.—Wheat was slightly easier around the close, with some offerings. December spring closed 3c up at $1.77 asked; March, 3c up at $1.78 asked; December winter, 3c up at $1.76; December durum, 3½c up at $1.85½, and March, 3¾c up at $1.84 asked.

Spot rye closed 2½c up at $1.63½; December, 2½c up at $1.56½ asked, and May, 2½c up at $1.46 asked. Oats closed ½c up at 45¼@46¼c for spot and barley unchanged at 67@88c for spot.

A reversal of form was shown in the wheat market today, prices scoring sharp advances. The strength was brought about through reported export buying at the seaboard, and the reported working of a substantial tonnage. Offerings were light, with small receipts at country elevators in the Northwest and Southwest.

December spring wheat advanced 3⅜c up till the noon hour at $1.77¾ and March 3¾c at $1.78¾. December durum gained 4½c at $1.86½ and March 4¼c at $1.81½. Specialists in the durum market here were busy after a quiet period going back over some time. Vessel space was reported to have been taken for some durum for Buffalo delivery and two cargoes of it are being loaded at the elevators here today. The spot market in wheat was good, and all the offerings on the tables were cleaned up at around yesterday's basis. Fair bidding also came in rye. The December future gained 2½c at $1.56½ and May 2c at $1.45½.

There were on track here for the day 307 cars of all grains, including: Spring wheat, 29; durum, 172; corn, 1; oats, 5; rye, 61; barley, 22; and flaxseed, 17. The movement of wheat was better at Winnipeg today, there being 915 cars on track, against 546 last year. Minneapolis reported 518 cars against 234 last year.

Flax Trade Dull.

Trading in flaxseed was dull in the absence of bidding by crushers and moderate declines were recorded. A bearish factor came in weakness at Buenos Aires, the December future opening there at $1.69. Trading was in limited volume during the session. The close was strong and prices showed fractional gains. November flax closed unchanged at $2.32 bid, December unchanged at $2.32½ bid, January ½c up at $2.36 bid, and May 1c up at $2.47 bid.

At Winnipeg November flax closed 1½c off at $2.33 bid, and December 5¼c off at $2.31½ bid.

Broomhall claims 1,000,000 bu. of wheat was taken for export Saturday, principally on Italian account.

Russell's News, New York, said: Advices to large exporters say United Kingdom needs 24,000,000 bu. wheat before Australian or Argentine crop is available, and France, including colonies, about 50,000,000 bu.

A Topeka, Kan., wire to Logan & Bryan said: "Covered all points on the main line of Union Pacific west of Russell to Winona, and all points on the St. Francis branch of the Burlington far east as Oxford, Neb., and all points on the Rock Island from Flager, Colo., to Goodland, Kan., and with very few exceptions I found little or no wheat in country elevators, and farmers' deliveries practically stopped. All farmers are holding for market advance, but a number would sell at $2 per bu on their tracks. A sufficient amount of the crop has been moved, to take care of pressing demands."

Simons, Day & Co. wired: "Wheat opened up a couple of cents on generally better feeling as indicated yesterday and opening strength in stocks and cotton. The trading in wheat has been light and unimportant. Pit crowd is trying to go with the market either way."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today, owing more or less to indications of European purchases overnight, presumably Canadian wheat. Bullish sentiment was also stimulated by the scarcity of cash grain here. Besides, country offerings were meager. Opening quotations, which ranged from ¼ to 3 cents higher, with December $1.85 to $1.86¾, and March, $1.76 to $1.76½, were followed by a moderate reaction and then by new upturns.

Talk of possibility of enlarged exports to Germany counted in some degree toward still higher prices. Furthermore, it was said Belgium had bought 1,000,000 bushels today. The market closed unsettled, 1¾@4c net higher, with December $1.87½@1.87¾, and March $1.77½@1.77¾.

Corn hardened with wheat, despite considerable selling pressure of a speculative character. After opening ⅛c to ⅜c up, including December at 75⅛c to 75⅜c, the market sagged a little, and then rose again.

Profit-taking led subsequently to slight declines. The market closed nervous, ¼c net lower to ⅜c advance, with December 74½c to 74⅝c.

Oats paralleled the action of corn, starting ⅛c to ⅜c higher, May 53½c to 53⅝c, then declining somewhat, and later going up grade once more.

Weakness in the hog market had a depressing effect on provisions.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Further recovery from the recent drastic break was registered in wheat futures today. Pressure was off temporarily and there was a better feeling in the trade as a result of that fact and fair export sales. Futures opened 1½@2½c higher with pit offerings light and an irregular advance to levels 4¼@4½c over yesterday's close followed. On the way up setbacks were frequent, reactions from the high point taking December fractionally below $1.75. Premiums on top grades of spring wheat were 1c higher.

Rye futures sympathized with wheat and December gained 3@3¼c at best. Oats advanced ¾c with a better tone in cash markets here and elsewhere. Barley futures gained ½@1¼c. May leading. Bulge in grains helped flax, with futures 4@4¼c up at best. Corn in the leading markets lagged behind but finally gained in sympathy with the rest of the market.

Cash: Wheat—No. 1 dark northern, $1.85@1.90; No. 2, $1.80⅝@1.86¼; No. 3, $1.65½@1.81; No. 4, $1.64@1.77½; No. 5, $1.61½@1.65; No. 1 northern spring, $1.85½; No. 3, $1.74⅝@1.74¾; No. 1 amber durum, $1.95½@1.97½; No. 2, $1.92@1.95½ No. 1 mixed, durum, $1.92; No. 2, $1.87. COPPERS WEAKEN AROUND CLOSE

Quotations in mining stocks at New York scored fair gains in some issues during the early trading today. The gains were nearly all lost, however, in fresh selling later. The close was weak throughout the list. Anaconda sold around the close 37c off at $41.62, Chino 25c up at $21.25, Great Northern Ore 62c up at $31.12, Kennecott 37c off at $20.12, Inspiration 25c up at $35.75, and Utah 37c up at $53.

Strength in Northern Pacific stock and the fact that it sells at a higher basis than Great Northern in spite of paying the same dividend, is attributed to the fact that the road's earnings have shown a larger surplus than the latter, going over a period of many years. Last year the Northern Pacific's excess of surplus over Great Northern was $865 a mile. In 1918 it was $2,267 and going back to 1910 it was $1,234. A helpful factor in the future of Northern Pacific is its large land holdings, about 4,500,000 acres, against practically nothing by Great Northern. Proceeds from land sales are used to retire prior lien bonds, and that helps to bring down fixed charges.

Germany is estimated to need 400,000,000 pounds of copper for use in the transmission of electricity, and it is estimated that Italy requires millions of pounds of copper for the development of hydro-electric power plants to offset the high cost of coal. American trolley roads and heat, light and power plants now require enormous quantities of copper to take care of deferred replacements, experts assert.

The passing of the Copper Range company's quarterly dividend yesterday was attributed by the directors to the low price of copper and the belief that the resources of the company should be conserved for the present.

A dividend of 3 per cent has been declared by the Atlas Powder company on common capital stock payable in cash, and an additional dividend of 5 per cent on the common capital stock payable in common stock of the company at par value. Both dividends are payable Dec. 10, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Nov. 30.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "Asked regarding dividend policy and general position of U. S. Rubber, Col. Colt, chairman of the board states: Officials of U. S. Rubber see no reason to change the policy of the company, adopted over a year ago when the common stock was placed up to 8 per cent dividend basis. Profits for year will substantially exceed all regular dividend requirements, notwithstanding falling prices."

The Shattuck-Arizona Copper company for the quarter ended Sept. 30 showed a deficit after charges of $19,109, against a profit of $24,303 in the same period in 1919."

Logan & Bryan wired Robinson-Macaulay company from New York: "On technical grounds the market seems to be entitled to a fair-sized rally, but generally speaking, the commercial or monetary conditions have not altered in a degree that would warrant the expectancy of a general upward movement at this juncture."

CANADIAN WHEAT IN CHICAGO ELEVATORS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Every bushel of wheat of contract grade in Chicago public elevators is Canadian grown, except 2,000 bushels, according to official figures made public here today. The total stock is only 86,000 bushels, and of this amount 84,000 bushels is Canadian. The supply decreased 168,000 bushels in the last week.

Lack of accumulation of stocks of wheat not only here but at other Western markets is general, and in this connection the present small movement from the hands of farmers is attracting special attention.

London, Nov. 16.—Although the admiralty has issued no orders except that British warships in the Black sea observe strict neutrality, it was officially stated today that British ships would assist in rescuing noncombatants if they were really in danger. Rescue work is left to discretion of officers on the spot. No troops will be transported, it was added.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Market Has Advance But Reacts During the Noon Hour.

New York, Nov. 16.—Sentiment was decidedly more cheerful at the opening of today's stock market, this condition being manifested not only by higher prices, but by the strength of foreign exchange as well. The money market also gave promise of greater ease, especially for demand loans. Early gains ranged from 1 to 1½ points in Reading, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive and United States Rubber. Other leaders trailed along at substantial fractional advances. The few exceptions included Bethlehem Steel and several of the obscure specialties.

Trading reflected the more confident undertone of the session, many leaders increasing materially early gains. This was especially true of the better-known industrials and equipments. Baldwin Locomotive was in active demand at an overnight gain of almost 3 points. Unfavorable conditions in the leather trade as indicated by the reported suspension of quarterly dividends on Brown Shoe common stock exerted little effect. Call money opened at 8 per cent as compared with yesterday's initial rate of 8½ and the final quotation of 7 per cent, and exchange on London continued to strengthen.

The market reacted during the noon hour, a drive against General Electric, which has been under pressure since the recent announcement of new financing, effecting moderate reversals in the general list. Lower prices were quoted for such commodities as refined sugar, lead and other base metals.

Several of the shippings, the cheaper motors and obscure specialties gave way to pressure later, but leaders of the railway and industrial groups were little changed. The closing was irregular.

Liberty bonds: 3½s, $93.10; first 4s, $87.50; second 4s, $85.54; first 4¼s, $87.54; second 4¼s, $85.66; third 4¼s, $88.08; fourth 4¼s, $86.20; Victory 3¾s, $95.76; Victory 4¾s, $95.80.

ELECTION FRAUDS TO BE INVESTIGATED

New York, Nov. 6.—Judge John F. McIntyre of the court of general sessions ordered the August grand jury to begin an investigation today of a number of complaints of election frauds on Nov. 2.

Among those summoned to appear before the jury were John B. Voorhis, president of the board of elections, who was asked to produce ballot boxes and tally sheets from the Fourth assembly district, and a number of persons who claimed to have witnessed irregularities at several polling places.

ASSISTANT STATE'S ATTORNEY RESIGNS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Hartley L. Replogle, assistant state's attorney, who conducted the recent baseball scandal investigation which resulted in the indictment of thirteen ball players and alleged gamblers on charges of "fixing" the 1919 world's series, resigned today.

The special grand jury which returned the baseball indictments recommended that Mr. Replogle be retained as special prosecutor when the cases come to trial. He declined to say whether he would accept the position if it is offered him.

Saint G[illegible]s to Giants.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—Joseph "Goldie" Rapp, infielder, has been sold by the St. Paul American association baseball club to the New York National club for $15,000. The local club will receive a pitcher and an infielder as part payment. St. Paul purchased Rapp from the Cincinnati club for $1,000 last spring.

BIG BREAK IN FLAXSEED

Prices Fall 28c in Week; Big Shipment Causes Firming Up.

Flaxseed prices broke 28 cents during the last week under a wave of liquidation prompted to a great extent by the sharp slumps in the general grains list. The market during that period appeared to be friendless, with crushers backing away, and the situation weakened by persistent offerings. At the minimum basis of quotations set on Wednesday, the market became stabilized through support attributed to crushers' interests for the first time in weeks and recoveries to the extent of 7 cents were set up until the close on Saturday.

One of the linseed oil houses loaded out over 300,000 bushels of seed during the week for Buffalo delivery, the largest lot sent East in a year. That contributed to a more optimistic feeling, and expectations that the large supplies in the elevators will be cut down shortly by additional shipments.

Trade Sentiment Better.

Sentiment in building trade circles was also reported to be improved with the undertaking of new construction projects predicted on a large scale the beginning of the new year. That would of course involve increased consumption of linseed oil. It was noted also in trade circles that country marketings of seed have fallen off materially as a result of the extended declines in the market. Receipts at the elevators during the week were 123,977 bushels, against 34,228 bushels last year and stocks were reported at 1,671,000 bushels.

Closing Prices.

Closing prices of flaxseed on the Duluth market on Saturday, as compared with the previous Saturday and last year, were:

JAP POPULATION IN CALIFORNIA 70,196

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Japanese population of California was announced today by the census bureau as 70,196, an increase of 28,840 or 69.7 per cent, compared with 1910.

The Japanese population of Washington was announced at 17,114, an increase of 4,185 or 32.4 per cent.

The Japanese population of Oregon was given as 4,022, an increase of 607 or 17.7 per cent.

SUPREME COURT MAY ACT ON MORIN REMOVAL CASE

The case of Henry L. Morin, who was ordered by the postal authorities to show cause why he should not be discharged for taking a too active part in the recent elections in Minnesota, may be brought before the United States supreme court if the plans of the Duluth Postal Clerks' union are carried out. At a meeting of the local union, it was decided to draft resolutions to the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, asking that organization to appeal the case to the supreme court.

Mr. Morin's actions during the campaign could result in no other action on the part of the postoffice authorities, members of the local union observe. His activities on behalf of Henrik Shipstead and the Workingmen's Nonpartisan league have brought about the order. Mr. Morin has not been relieved from duty yet and declares he does not know when he will be. He has been in the employ of the local postoffice for seven years and is now drawing a salary of $150 a month.

To Sell Milk at 10 Cents.

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 16.—The Equity Milk exchange announced today it would sell milk at 10 cents a quart. The milk is to be sold at election booths. Milk dealers here are receiving 13 cents a quart.

To Handle German Cablegrams.

New York, Nov. 16.—The Western Union Telegraph company today announced completion of arrangements with the German telegraph administration for the handling of cable traffic between Germany and the United States.

Investigating Attempted Escape.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Officials at the state penitentiary today were conducting an investigation, following the attempted escape of four convicts last night. The men were captured in the prison yard after a fight, in which a guard and a convict were shot.

A SCOTTISH FORTRESS.

Detroit News: Few places conjure up so vivid an impression of the old turbulent days of Scottish history as does Tantallon catle, for centuries the lair and fortress of the Douglases. It is built on a promontory of rock, three sides of which drop in sheer cliffs to the sea. Across the fourth side, the base of the promontory, stands the castle itself, its back to the air and sea, with no land or neighbor nearer than the Bass rock. No wonder that its strength passed into a Scottish proverb, so that to "ding doun Tantallon" was an image of the impossible, as who should say, "beat down the Himalayas."

It was dinged doun at last, at least so far as to make it untenable as a fortress, by Monk in 1650. In the days when the castle was built there was little reason to think of guns. Later, when cannon came upon the scene, the place was strengthened against them. Stairways were filled in with masonry and made solid, and one may see rooms now which are no longer rooms, but heaped stone and mortar from wall to wall, so that hte whole depth of the building became one block.

But the middle of the seventeenth century the guns had won. After besieging Tantallon fruitlessly for five months, Monk brought up artillery which slowly battered the two flanking towers to bits.

The grasshopper does not use the throat in producing its shill note. It is produced by the wings. One of the ribs of each wing resembles a file, while another part of the wing is drawn tight like a drum. When the grasshopper draws one file over the other it causes the drum to vibrate.

KING OF SIAM IS REAL CHAP

Minister Hunt Tells of Presentation at the Bangkok Court.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 16.—A colorful pageant attends the presentation of a foreign diplomat to the king of Siam, according to a letter received here from G. W. Hunt, United States minister to Siam, who described his own presentation Sept. 6 last. The American minister said he was one of forty-seven Americans in Bangkok, a city of 800,000. Of his presentation at the royal palace he wrote:

"We started across an immense paved court to the royal entrance. There was a fanfare of trumpets and two bodies of household troops stood at attention. The royal colors were displayed, and with uncovered heads we passed on to the stone staircase, which for the occasion was laid with a heavy red plush carpeting. Along each side were stationed guards with ancient looking halberds.

Knights in Armor.

"We were ushered into a large rotunda. Our hats were left on a table. Then we turned to the right, mounted a few more stairs and came into another long room with lofty windows along one side. Between the windows were niches in which stood knights in armor (without the knights themselves, of course). Along the other side of this long room or passage there was a row of beautiful marble pillars, and beyond them a large room. At the end of the corridor stood nine chamberlains, rather great nobles, resplendent in rich dress and ablaze with orders on their breasts.

"Suddenly folding doors opened as if by unseen hands and I walked into the presence of the only despotic monarch left in this world. And, as if befitting the reception of an envoy from the greatest republic on earth, he was dressed very simply in a long frock coat.

"The Prince D, who is at the head of the foreign office, presented me and retired to the rear of the room while I read to the king, as etiquette requires, my brief speech, and he replied in Siamese in like manner.

"When this ceremony was done he smiled and we sat down and had our little talk, for the king, you should know, speaks perfect English. He is short of stature, like all Siamese, is quite plump and impresses one as being a real chap."

WARNINGS UP FOR THREE STORMS

Washington, Nov. 1.—Warnings of three storms—one on the Atlantic coast, one on the Gulf coast and another on the Great Lakes, were issued today by the weather bureau.

Increasing east to north winds with snow tonight on Lakes Erie and Ontario were forecast, warnings being ordered up there at 2 p. m.

FRENCH ADMIRAL WARNS BOLSHEVIKI

Constantinople, Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The French admiral of the Black sea forces sent a wireless to the Bolsheviki after the evacuation of Sebastopol by Gen. Wrangel's troops, threatening reprisals if the town were looted or the population molested.

A panic is reported to have occurred at Yalta during the evacuation, and remarkable scenes to have been witnessed in Sebastopol and Feodosia.

The French have officially assumed protection of the Crimean refugees in Constantinople and have provided accommodations for 2,000 of them in the military camps on the Bosphorus. The refugee ships anchored in the Bosphorus are awaiting orders from Paris as to their movements. The Russians are being fed by American and French soup kitchens.

WOUNDED BELLBOYS' STATUS IS QUESTION

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 16.—S. S. McDonald, member of the employers' compensation bureau, is in Grand Forks today to investigate the accidental shooting of two bellboys at the Hotel Frederick. He is to determine whether or not they come under the compensation act. If accidentally hurt while on duty, the boys come under the act, and it is to determine this question that Mr. McDonald came to Grand Forks.

GOOD BULGES IN WHEAT PRICE

Market Closes Higher on Better Eastern Bidding—Flax Trade Dull.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 16.—Wheat was slightly easier around the close, with some offerings. December spring closed 3c up at $1.77 asked; March, 3c up at $1.78 asked; December winter, 3c up at $1.76; December durum, 3½c up at $1.85½, and March, 3¼c up at $1.84 asked.

Spot rye closed 2½c up at $1.63½; December, 2½c up at $1.56½ asked, and May, 2½c up at $1.46 asked. Oats closed ¼c up at 45¼@46¼c for spot and barley unchanged at 67@88c for spot.

A reversal of form was shown in the wheat market today, prices scoring sharp advances. The strength was brought about through reported export buying at the seaboard, and the reported working of a substantial tonnage. Offerings were light, with small receipts at country elevators in the Northwest and Southwest.

December spring wheat advanced 3¾c up till the noon hour at $1.77¾ and March 3¾c at $1.78¾. December durum gained 4½c at $1.86½ and March 4¼c at $1.81½. Specialists in the durum market here were busy after a quiet period going back over some time. Vessel space was reported to have been taken for some durum for Buffalo delivery and two cargoes of it are being loaded at the elevators here today. The spot market in wheat was good, and all the offerings on the tables were cleaned up at around yesterday's basis. Fair bidding also came in rye. The December future gained 2½c at $1.56½ and May 2c at $1.45½.

There were on track here for the day 307 cars of all grains, including: Spring wheat, 29; durum, 172; corn, 1; oats, 5; rye, 61; barley, 22; and flaxseed, 17. The movement of wheat was better at Winnipeg today, there being 915 cars on track, against 546 last year. Minneapolis reported 518 cars against 234 last year.

Flax Trade Dull.

Trading in flaxseed was dull in the absence of bidding by crushers and moderate declines were recorded. A bearish factor came in weakness at Buenos Aires, the December future opening there at $1.69. Trading was in limited volume during the session. The close was strong and prices showed fractional gains. November flax closed unchanged at $2.32 bid, December unchanged at $2.32½ bid, January ½c up at $2.36 bid, and May 1c up at $2.47 bid.

At Winnipeg November flax closed 1½c off at $2.33 bid, and December 5¼c off at $2.31½ bid.

A Topeka, Kan., wire to Logan & Bryan said: "Covered all points on the main line of Union Pacific west of Russell to Winona, and all points on the St. Francis branch of the Burlington far east as Oxford, Neb., and all points on the Rock Island from Flager, Colo., to Goodland, Kan., and with very few exceptions I found little or no wheat in country elevators, and farmers' deliveries practically stopped. All farmers are holding for market advance, but a number would sell at $2 per bu on their tracks. A sufficient amount of the crop has been moved, to take care of pressing demands."

Simons, Day & Co. wired: "Wheat opened up a couple of cents on generally better feeling as indicated yesterday and opening strength in stocks and cotton. The trading in wheat has been light and unimportant. Pit crowd is trying to go with the market either way."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today, owing more or less to indications of European purchases overnight, presumably Canadian wheat. Bullish sentiment was also stimulated by the scarcity of cash grain here. Besides, country offerings were meager. Opening quotations, which ranged from ¼ to 3 cents higher, with December $1.85 to $1.86¾, and March, $1.76 to $1.76½, were followed by a moderate reaction and then by new upturns.

Talk of possibility of enlarged exports to Germany counted in some degree toward still higher prices. Furthermore, it was said Belgium had bought 1,000,000 bushels today. The market closed unsettled, 1¾@4c net higher, with December $1.87½@1.87¾, and March $1.77½@1.77¾.

Corn hardened with wheat, despite considerable selling pressure of a speculative character. After opening ⅛c to ¾c up, including December at 75⅛c to 75⅜c, the market sagged a little, and then rose again.

Profit-taking led subsequently to slight declines. The market closed nervous, ¼c net lower to ⅜c advance, with December 74½c to 74⅝c.

Oats paralleled the action of corn, starting ⅛c to ¾c higher, May 53½c to 53⅝c, then declining somewhat, and later going up grade once more.

Weakness in the hog market had a depressing effect on provisions.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Further recovery from the recent drastic break was registered in wheat futures today. Pressure was off temporarily and there was a better feeling in the trade as a result of that fact and fair export sales. Futures opened 1½@2½c higher with pit offerings light and an irregular advance to levels 4¼@4½c over yesterday's close followed. On the way up setbacks were frequent, reactions from the high point taking December fractionally below $1.75. Premiums on top grades of spring wheat were 1c higher.

Rye futures sympathized with wheat and December gained 3@3¾c at best. Oats advanced ¾c with a better tone in cash markets here and elsewhere. Barley futures gained ½@1¼c, May leading. Bulge in grains helped flax, with futures 4@4¼c up at best. Corn in the leading markets lagged behind but finally gained in sympathy with the rest of the market.

Cash: Wheat—No. 1 dark northern, $1.85@1.90; No. 2, $1.80⅝@1.86¼; No. 3, $1.65½@1.81; No. 4, $1.64@1.77½; No. 5, $1.61½@1.65; No. 1 northern spring, $1.85½; No. 3, $1.74¾@1.74¾; No. 1 amber durum, $1.95½@1.97½; No. 2, $1.92@1.95½; No. 1 mixed, durum, $1.92; No. 2, $1.87. Corn—No. 5 yellow, 86c; No. 6, 85c, No. 1 mixed, 90c. Oats—No. 2 white, 47½c. Barley, No. 4, 72@82c. Flax, No. 1, $2.31@2.37.

Flour, 20c to 25c higher; in carload lots, family patents quoted at $9.45@9.75 a bbl in 98-pound cotton sacks; shipments, 85,176 bbls. Bran, $33.

COPPERS WEAKEN AROUND CLOSE

Quotations in mining stocks at New York scored fair gains in some issues during the early trading today. The gains were nearly all lost, however, in fresh selling later. The close was weak throughout the list. Anaconda sold around the close 37c off at $41.62, Chino 25c up at $21.25, Great Northern Ore 62c up at $31.12, Kennecott 37c off at $20.12, Inspiration 25c up at $35.75, and Utah 37c up at $53.

Strength in Northern Pacific stock and the fact that it sells at a higher basis than Great Northern in spite of paying the same dividend, is attributed to the fact that the road's earnings have shown a larger surplus than the latter, going over a period of many years. Last year the Northern Pacific's excess of surplus over Great Northern was $865 a mile. In 1918 it was $2,267 and going back to 1910 it was $1,334. A helpful factor in the future of Northern Pacific is its large land holdings, about 4,500,000 acres, against practically nothing by Great Northern. Proceeds from land sales are used to retire prior lien bonds, and that helps to bring down fixed charges.

Germany is estimated to need 400,000,000 pounds of copper for use in the transmission of electricity, and it is estimated that Italy requires millions of pounds of copper for the development of hydro-electric power plants to offset the high cost of coal. American trolley roads and heat, light and power plants now require enormous quantities of copper to take care of deferred replacements, experts assert.

The passing of the Copper Range company's quarterly dividend yesterday was attributed by the directors to the low price of copper and the belief that the resources of the company should be conserved for the present.

A dividend of 3 per cent has been declared by the Atlas Powder company on common capital stock payable in cash, and an additional dividend of 5 per cent on the common capital stock payable in common stock of the company at par value. Both dividends are payable Dec. 10, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Nov. 30.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "Asked regarding dividend policy and general position of U. S. Rubber, Col. Colt, chairman of the board states: Officials of U. S. Rubber see no reason to change the policy of the company, adopted over a year ago when the common stock was placed up to 8 per cent dividend basis. Profits for year will substantially exceed all regular dividend requirements, notwithstanding falling prices."

The Shattuck-Arizona Copper company for the quarter ended Sept. 30 showed a deficit after charges of $19,109, against a profit of $34,303 in the same period in 1919."

Logan & Bryan wired Robinson-Macaulay company from New York: "On technical grounds the market seems to be entitled to a fair-sized rally, but generally speaking, the commercial or monetary conditions have not altered in a degree that would warrant the expectancy of a general upward movement at this juncture."

CANADIAN WHEAT IN CHICAGO ELEVATORS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Every bushel of wheat of contract grade in Chicago public elevators is Canadian grown, except 2,000 bushels, according to official figures made public here today. The total stock is only 86,000 bushels, and of this amount 84,000 bushels is Canadian. The supply decreased 168,000 bushels in the last week.

Lack of accumulation of stocks of wheat not only here but at other Western markets is general, and in this connection the present small movement from the hands of farmers is attracting special attention.

London, Nov. 16.—Although the admiralty has issued no orders except that British warships in the Black sea observe strict neutrality, it was officially stated today that British ships would assist in rescuing noncombatants if they were really in danger. Rescue work is left to discretion of officers on the spot. No troops will be transported, it was added.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Market Has Advance But Reacts During the Noon Hour.

New York, Nov. 16.—Sentiment was decidedly more cheerful at the opening of today's stock market, this condition being manifested not only by higher prices, but by the strength of foreign exchange as well. The money market also gave promise of greater ease, especially for demand loans. Early gains ranged from 1 to 1½ points in Reading, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive and United States Rubber. Other leaders trailed along at substantial fractional advances. The few exceptions included Bethlehem Steel and several of the obscure specialties.

Trading reflected the more confident undertone of the session, many leaders increasing materially early gains. This was especially true of the better-known industrials and equipments. Baldwin Locomotive was in active demand at an overnight gain of almost 3 points. Unfavorable conditions in the leather trade as indicated by the reported suspension of quarterly dividends on Brown Shoe common stock exerted little effect. Call money opened at 8 per cent as compared with yesterday's initial rate of 8½ and the final quotation of 7 per cent, and exchange on London continued to strengthen.

The market reacted during the noon hour, a drive against General Electric, which has been under pressure since the recent announcement of new financing, effecting moderate reversals in the general list. Lower prices were quoted for such commodities as refined sugar, lead and other base metals.

Several of the shippings, the cheaper motors and obscure specialties gave way to pressure later, but leaders of the railway and industrial groups were little changed. The closing was irregular.

Liberty bonds: 3½s, $93.10; first 4s, $87.50; second 4s, $85.54; first 4¼s, $87.54; second 4¼s, $85.66; third 4¼s, $88.08; fourth 4¼s, $86.20; Victory 3¾s, $95.76; Victory 4¾s, $95.80.

ELECTION FRAUDS TO BE INVESTIGATED

New York, Nov. 6.—Judge John F. McIntyre of the court of general sessions ordered the August grand jury to begin an investigation today of a number of complaints of election frauds on Nov. 2.

Among those summoned to appear before the jury were John B. Voorhis, president of the board of elections, who was asked to produce ballot boxes and tally sheets from the Fourth assembly district, and a number of persons who claimed to have witnessed irregularities at several polling places.

ASSISTANT STATE'S ATTORNEY RESIGNS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Hartley L. Replogle, assistant state's attorney, who conducted the recent baseball scandal investigation which resulted in the indictment of thirteen ball players and alleged gamblers on charges of "fixing" the 1919 world's series, resigned today.

The special grand jury which returned the baseball indictments recommended that Mr. Replogle be retained as special prosecutor when the cases come to trial. He declined to say whether he would accept the position if it is offered him.

Saint Goes to Giants.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—Joseph "Goldie" Rapp, infielder, has been sold by the St. Paul American association baseball club to the New York National club for $15,000. The local club will receive a pitcher and an infielder as part payment. St. Paul purchased Rapp from the Cincinnati club for $1,000 last spring.

BIG BREAK IN FLAXSEED

Flaxseed prices broke 28 cents during the last week under a wave of liquidation prompted to a great extent by the sharp slumps in the general grains list. The market during that period appeared to be friendless, with crushers backing away, and the situation weakened by persistent offerings. At the minimum basis of quotations set on Wednesday, the market became stabilized through support attributed to crushers' interests for the first time in weeks and recoveries to the extent of 7 cents were set up until the close on Saturday.

One of the linseed oil houses loaded out over 300,000 bushels of seed during the week for Buffalo delivery, the largest lot sent East in a year. That contributed to a more optimistic feeling, and expectations that the large supplies in the elevators will be cut down shortly by additional shipments.

Trade Sentiment Better.

Sentiment in building trade circles was also reported to be improved with the undertaking of new construction projects predicted on a large scale the beginning of the new year. That would of course involve increased consumption of linseed oil. It was noted also in trade circles that country marketings of seed have fallen off materially as a result of the extended declines in the market. Receipts at the elevators during the week were 123,977 bushels, against 34,228 bushels last year and stocks were reported at 1,671,000 bushels.

Closing Prices.

Closing prices of flaxseed on the Duluth market on Saturday, as compared with the previous Saturday and last year, were:

SUPREME COURT MAY ACT ON MORIN REMOVAL CASE

The case of Henry L. Morin, who was ordered by the postal authorities to show cause why he should not be discharged for taking a too active part in the recent elections in Minnesota, may be brought before the United States supreme court if the plans of the Duluth Postal Clerks' union are carried out. At a meeting of the local union, it was decided to draft resolutions to the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, asking that organization to appeal the case to the supreme court.

Mr. Morin's actions during the campaign could result in no other action on the part of the postoffice authorities, members of the local union observe. His activities on behalf of Henrik Shipstead and the Workingmen's Nonpartisan league have brought about the order. Mr. Morin has not been relieved from duty yet and declares he does not know when he will be. He has been in the employ of the local postoffice for seven years and is now drawing a salary of $150 a month.

To Sell Milk at 10 Cents.

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 16.—The Equity Milk exchange announced today it would sell milk at 10 cents a quart. The milk is to be sold at election booths. Milk dealers here are receiving 13 cents a quart.

To Handle German Cablegrams.

New York, Nov. 16.—The Western Union Telegraph company today announced completion of arrangements with the German telegraph administration for the handling of cable traffic between Germany and the United States.

Investigating Attempted Escape.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Officials at the state penitentiary today were conducting an investigation, following the attempted escape of four convicts last night. The men were captured in the prison yard after a fight, in which a guard and a convict were shot.

A SCOTTISH FORTRESS.

Detroit News: Few places conjure up so vivid an impression of the old turbulent days of Scottish history as does Tantallon catle, for centuries the lair and fortress of the Douglases. It is built on a promontory of rock, three sides of which drop in sheer cliffs to the sea. Across the fourth side, the base of the promontory, stands the castle itself, its back to the air and sea, with no land or neighbor nearer than the Bass rock. No wonder that its strength passed into a Scottish proverb, so that to "ding doun Tantallon" was an image of the impossible, as who should say, "beat down the Himalayas."

It was dinged doun at last, at least so far as to make it untenable as a fortress, by Monk in 1650. In the days when the castle was built there was little reason to think of guns. Later, when cannon came upon the scene, the place was strengthened against them. Stairways were filled in with masonry and made solid, and one may see rooms now which are no longer rooms, but heaped stone and mortar from wall to wall, so that hte whole depth of the building became one block.

But the middle of the seventeenth century the guns had won. After besieging Tantallon fruitlessly for five months, Monk brought up artillery which slowly battered the two flanking towers to bits.

The grasshopper does not use the throat in producing its shill note. It is produced by the wings. One of the ribs of each wing resembles a file, while another part of the wing is drawn tight like a drum. When the grasshopper draws one file over the other it causes the drum to vibrate.

KING OF SIAM IS REAL CHAP

Minister Hunt Tells of Presentation at the Bangkok Court.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 16.—A colorful pageant attends the presentation of a foreign diplomat to the king of Siam, according to a letter received here from G. W. Hunt, United States minister to Siam, who described his own presentation Sept. 6 last. The American minister said he was one of forty-seven Americans in Bangkok, a city of 800,000. Of his presentation at the royal palace he wrote:

"We started across an immense paved court to the royal entrance. There was a fanfare of trumpets and two bodies of household troops stood at attention. The royal colors were displayed, and with uncovered heads we passed on to the stone staircase, which for the occasion was laid with a heavy red plush carpeting. Along each side were stationed guards with ancient looking halberds.

Knights in Armor.

"We were ushered into a large rotunda. Our hats were left on a table. Then we turned to the right, mounted a few more stairs and came into another long room with lofty windows along one side. Between the windows were niches in which stood knights in armor (without the knights themselves, of course). Along the other side of this long room or passage there was a row of beautiful marble pillars, and beyond them a large room. At the end of the corridor stood nine chamberlains, rather great nobles, resplendent in rich dress and ablaze with orders on their breasts.

"Suddenly folding doors opened as if by unseen hands and I walked into the presence of the only despotic monarch left in this world. And, as if befitting the reception of an envoy from the greatest republic on earth, he was dressed very simply in a long frock coat.

"The Prince D, who is at the head of the foreign office, presented me and retired to the rear of the room while I read to the king, as etiquette requires, my brief speech, and he replied in Siamese in like manner.

"When this ceremony was done he smiled and we sat down and had our little talk, for the king, you should know, speaks perfect English. He is short of stature, like all Siamese, is quite plump and impresses one as being a real chap."

WARNINGS UP FOR THREE STORMS

Washington, Nov. 1.—Warnings of three storms—one on the Atlantic coast, one on the Gulf coast and another on the Great Lakes, were issued today by the weather bureau.

Increasing east to north winds with snow tonight on Lakes Erie and Ontario were forecast, warnings being ordered up there at 2 p. m.

FRENCH ADMIRAL WARNS BOLSHEVIKI

Constantinople, Nov. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The French admiral of the Black sea forces sent a wireless to the Bolsheviki after the evacuation of Sebastopol by Gen. Wrangel's troops threatening reprisals if the town were looted or the population molested.

A panic is reported to have occurred at Yalta during the evacuation, and remarkable scenes to have been witnessed in Sebastopol and Feodosia.

The French have officially assumed protection of the Crimean refugees in Constantinople and have provided accommodations for 2,000 of them in the military camps on the Bosphorus. The refugee ships anchored in the Bosphorus are awaiting orders from Paris as to their movements. The Russians are being fed by American and French soup kitchens.

WOUNDED BELLBOYS' STATUS IS QUESTION

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 16.—S. S. McDonald, member of the employers' compensation bureau, is in Grand Forks today to investigate the accidental shooting of two bellboys at the Hotel Frederick. He is to determine whether or not they come under the compensation act. If accidentally hurt while on duty, the boys come under the act, and it is to determine this question that Mr. McDonald came to Grand Forks.

PRIZES AWARDED DRIVE LEADERS

The awarding of prizes to the winners in the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A. membership drive in West Duluth was the feature of the regular weekly meeting of the Denfeld high school boys' club at the Denfeld school last night. Serona McComber and Roy Norsted, who were tied for highest individual honors, drew lots for the prize, a jersey sweater, given by Swanstrom & Erickson. Harold Hess won the next prize, a camera, given by the Olander Drug store. Verner Granquist received the fountain pen awarded by the Swanson Drug store. A safety razor put up by the Nelson Hardware store was awarded to Dallas Wakeman. Robert Curtis won the fishing reel donated by the Wieland Hardware store. The silver buckled belt given by Solberg & Berglund was awarded William Erdahl. Serona McComber won the flashlight awarded by the Baker Electric company.

Members of the winning team, captained by Chris Larson and Gunnard Holt, will be guests of the West Duluth branch at Camp Miller for one week next summer. Other members of this team are: Mervin Roberts, Roy Norsted and William Erdahl. Miss Myrtle Welander, accompanied by Miss Rose Plows on the piano, sang several songs, which were well received. Chris Larson, president of the club, then laid the matter of sending delegates to the older boys' meeting to be held at Faribault, before the meeting. The matter of sending delegates to this meeting, which is to be held early in December, was placed in the hands of a committee.

Previous to the supper served by Mrs. Charles H. Mathews, Mrs. Oliver Buell and Mrs. Thomas Burnside of the Holy Apostles Episcopal guild at the Ely school, classes led by Judge Lanners, Ralph Nichols and Irving Ault met and took up a discussion of the work they outlined at the meeting a week ago. Nearly all the upper classmen of Denfeld are members of the boys' club and the club is going out to get these few this week, according to its officers.

ECZEMA CAUSED YEARS OF INTENSE AGONY

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me."—Geo. C. Talbot, 27 Penfield Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

I've got a hundred testimonials, says Peterson of Buffalo, just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago, when I first started to put out PETERSON'S OINTMENT, I made up my mind to give a big box for 35 cents, and I am still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows.

I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that it is rigidly guaranteed for eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blind, bleeding and itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, chafing, burns, scalds and sunburn, and if not satisfactory any druggist will return your money."—Advertisement.

RIVER WATERWAYS ASSOCIATION MEETS

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 16.—Delegates from cities in the Upper Mississippi river valley embracing the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri, were in attendance at the first convention of the Upper Mississippi Waterways association here today.

Traffic experts and representatives of commercial organizations were included in the representations. The association was formed for the primary purpose of establishing through navigation from Minneapolis and St. Paul to New Orleans on the Mississippi river.

Governor Burnquist of Minnesota and Edward A. Coltra, president of the Mississippi Iron company of St. Louis, were the principal speakers today. W. P. Trickett of Minneapolis, president of the association, explained the purpose of the convention, which will continue through tomorrow.

WILL NOT END FIGHT AGAINST BOLSHEVIKI

Paris, Nov. 16.—The defeat of Gen. Baron Wrangel, commander in chief of the Russian volunteer army in the Crimea, will not end the fight against the Bolsheviki, Basile Maklakoff, special envoy in Paris for Gen. Wrangel, declared here today.

"We will never give up the struggle against Bolshevism," he said. "There are other ways besides the use of arms and munitions in which the Bolshevists can be put down, and perhaps the fight will continue along bloodless lines."

Gen. Wrangel's Third army is still intact in the Ukraine, M. Maklakoff explained, and this could form the basis of a new military movement. No decision will be made by the leaders of the anti-Bolshevist movement until Gen. Wrangel reaches Constantinople and a careful survey of the situation is made, he declared.

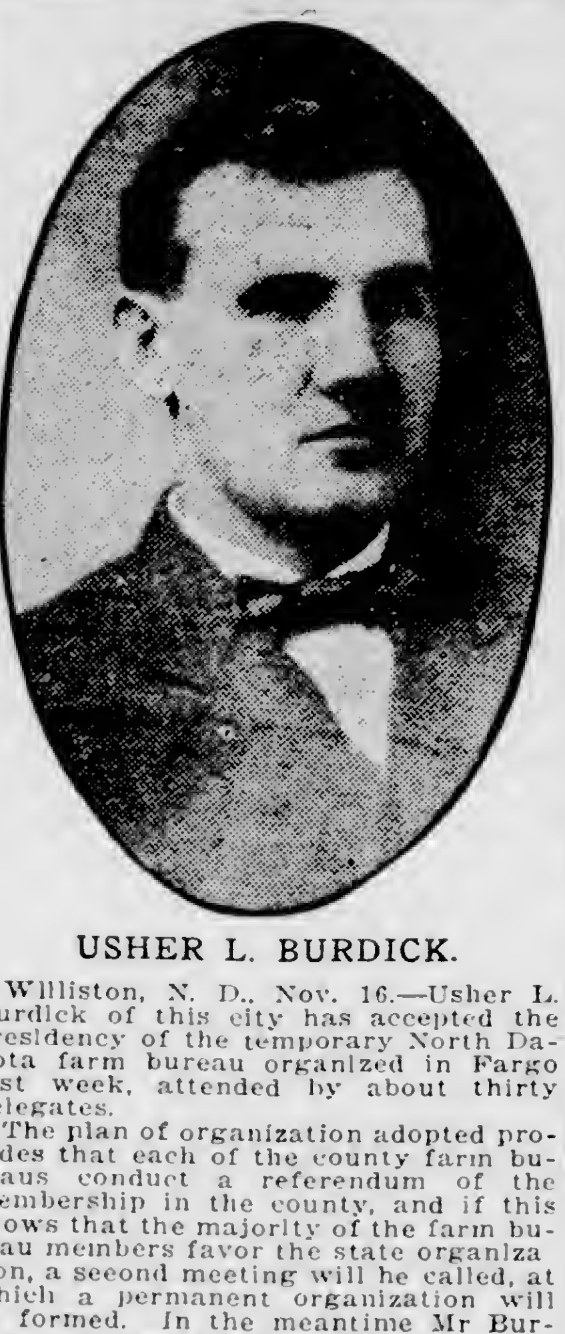
M. Maklakoff declared the attitude of the Russian peasants was daily becoming more actively antagonistic to Bolshevism, giving much encouragement to those waging war against the soviets.

SAYS WORLD CANNOT BUY WHEAT AT $3

Waterloo, Iowa, Nov. 16.—"The world has not the purchasing power to buy $3 wheat," E. G. Nourse, head of agricultural economics, state agricultural college at Ames, Iowa, told the farmers-bankers conference of Northeastern Iowa today, discussing the farmers' strike and market conditions.

Deliberate marketing to keep pace with the fall of prices of things farmers must buy is a better remedy than the strike, he said. Farmers must accept the general price level, he said, but are not obliged to accept all the cut in the deflation prices.

HEAD OF NORTH DAKOTA'S FARM BUREAU FEDERATION



USHER L. BURDICK.

Williston, N. D., Nov. 16.—Usher L. Burdick of this city has accepted the presidency of the temporary North Dakota farm bureau organized in Fargo last week, attended by about thirty delegates.

The plan of organization adopted provides that each of the county farm bureaus conduct a referendum of the membership in the county, and if this shows that the majority of the farm bureau members favor the state organization, a second meeting will be called, at which a permanent organization will be formed. In the meantime Mr Burdick will head the organization.

GREEK TROOPS USE GUNS ON RIOTERS

Athens, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Troops fired from a number of points on several occasions today to disperse after election trouble makers. Tonight there are fears of further trouble which may lead to martial law.

The stores, banks and theaters were closed today and soldiers patrolled the streets. Tonight the population was keeping close, not taking the risk of leaving their homes.

The disorders began, with a parade of opposition adherents to attack the Liberal club. Troops stationed within the club quarters fired upon the marchers.

The military later attacked the opposition headquarters, from which a few shots came. For two hours the headquarters were besieged and bombarded by the troops. A number of bystanders were wounded.

Troops are guarding the public places and the homes of the leaders of both sides.

CALL HURLEY MEN IN BOOZE QUIZZES

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six Hurley men were served subpoenaes Monday to appear in Milwaukee and La Crosse today in connection with the grand jury hearings resulting from the exposure of a whisky "ring" in Milwaukee and the men summoned are Sheriff Mike White, Undersheriff Vincent Flateau, Frank Miley, liveryman; Anton Varda, saloonkeeper; Caesars Castagna, saloonkeeper; August Castagna, saloonkeeper; Peter Vorich, saloonkeeper. The sheriff and undersheriff were summoned to appear at La Crosse and the others at Milwaukee. Miley and Varda are said to have been connected with the whisky running between Hurley and Milwaukee and Miley is alleged to have driven the first automobile held up by Leo J. Grove and his men when John Chapuzio was mortally wounded.

FIVE CONTESTS FILED FOR SEATS IN HOUSE

Washington, Nov. 16.—Notice of five contests for seats in the next house of representatives already have been filed with William Tyler Page, clerk of the house, and Mr. Page said today he expected that at least fifteen seats would be contested.

The contests already filed involve the seats of five Democrats; Representatives John W. Rainey of the Fourth Illinois district and Sabath of the Fifth Illinois district; Stanley H. Kunz of the Eighth Illinois district; John J. Kindred of the Second New York district, and F. B. Swank of the Fifth Oklahoma district.

A revised list of members of the new house of representatives show 302 Republicans, 132 Democrats and one Socialist. First reports to the clerk a week ago indicated that the next house would be composed of 307 Republicans, 127 Democrats and one Socialist.

Liquor Cases at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 16.—One hundred cases involving alleged violations of the prohibition law are listed for hearing before the United States grand jury which convened here yesterday, according to announcement of Federal officials. A majority of the cases are actions in which making and selling of moonshine whisky is charged. It is expected the grand jury session will occupy three weeks.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

PAID TOO MUCH FOR ASBESTOS, 'TIS SAID

New York, Nov. 16.—Asbestos cylinder rings used on engines of United States shipping board vessels entered into the congressional committee inquiry into shipping board affairs today.

Stewart Dickinson, president of the Stewart Dickinson & Co., Inc., testified asbestos was purchased by the board last February and March at prices 50 per cent higher than they should have been.

He said there were five bidders for the contract, four being virtually the same and averaging about $1.60 a pound. His bid was $1.20.

In explanation, he said he was informed the engineers had complained against his product.

STUDENT'S STRIKE AT ST. JOHN'S STILL ON

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 16.—The "strike" of the students of St. John's college, who left the institution in a body yesterday because of dissatisfaction with the governing board, continued today.

"Inefficiency of the board of governors and visitors to satisfactorily adjust and direct the movement of the college," was the reason given by the students for their action.

The board of governors and visitors will meet tonight and according to its president, Judge Robert Moss, "will deal with the question expeditiously."

In Memoriam

MADDEN—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Michael Bernard Madden, who died one year ago today, Nov. 16, 1919.

Our hearts are bowed down in grief;
Void is our life since you left us;
gone is our joy.
God bless you, dear, you were kind and good to us.
Your reward you have found at last,
Where no sorrow or care can ever reach you,
And no parting will ever be thine,
When our turn has come, you will be there to meet us again.

Sadly missed by his wife and son.
MRS. MARIE MADDEN,
JAMES MADDEN.

ENGQUIST—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Peter Engquist, who passed unto eternal rest one sad year ago today, Nov. 16, 1919.

He bid no one a last farewell
He said good-by to none
His loving heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew he was gone.
He's gone but not forgotten
May his soul rest in peace.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.

LAMBERT—In sad and loving memory of our dear husband and father, William A. Lambert, who passed away two years ago today, Nov. 16, 1918, at Pine City.

Sadly missed by his wife and daughters,
MRS. W. A. LAMBERT,
MRS. C. F. BRECKENRIDGE,
MRS. H. F. METHOD.

HOUSES FOR SALE

$5,900 At no other time during the past year could you have purchased such a desirable home under such favorable conditions as these. It is a BRAND NEW home and located on the central hillside one block from the car line. To come out whole, but with no profit, the man who built it should obtain at least $7,000. Instead of that he is forced to sell at a heavy loss in order to meet other obligations. It is a very attractive stucco home of modern design with a splendid view of the lake. Six fine large rooms and not a dark corner in the whole house. The downstairs is beautifully finished in oak and the upstairs in white enamel. Hardwood floors throughout. Full basement and heating plant. Just ready for occupancy.

$7,500 With a thousand dollar cash payment on this property, we can give you absolute proof of a 60 per cent return on the investment. No further outlay of cash is necessary—the income of the rents are ample to take care of that. The property consists of a three-family brick and frame flat building on the east hillside. Each flat consists of six fine rooms hardwood floors throughout, and all modern conveniences except heat—glassed-in porches.

$3,500 Here is another good paying proposition in a duplex on Fifth st. Stone foundation. Two five-room flats each renting for $20 per month. Hardwood floors, water, sewer, gas, electric lights and toilet room. A $500 cash payment is all that is necessary and the monthly payments, taxes, insurance and upkeep will be taken care of by the rents.

$4,900 You will have to admit that this little semi-bungalow at Lakeside is about as unique and cozy a home as could be desired. It typifies all the new ideas in modern construction and has a dozen or more time convenient and money saving features which we cannot stop to enumerate. The fact, in itself, that it has the best hot water heating plant in the market, clear maple floors, oak woodwork and white enamel in bedrooms and bathroom, sun porch and full sized corner lot makes it easily worth half again the price asked, but besides it is equipped with beautiful electric fixtures, wall plugs and electric power plugs on every hand and all wiring laid in conduit. The house is practically brand new and contains five dandy rooms. You simply can't go wrong if you buy this property.

FARM LANDS

in California, away from the cold and snow, in the sunshine and among the flowers and orchards in January, is known only to the happy families who have made the move. Many of your old friends and neighbors are located at Rio Linda, on our ten and twenty-acre poultry and fruit farms, in the suburbs of beautiful Sacramento, where they enjoy fresh vegetables and fruits from their own orchards and gardens, and best of all, a daily cash income from their large flocks of white Leghorn hens. Your opportunity is there with them. Read our new book, "Poultry and Orchards," telling all about these little farms, with prices and terms of payment. We mail it to you on request.

VOLUME XXXVIII—NO. 185. WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 17, 1920. THREE CENTS.

N. M. D. A. OPENS ELEVENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

Will Outline Activities to Be Promoted Next Year.

Forty Delegates From Outside of City at Commercial Club.

Silliman of Hibbing Presides in Absence of President McDonald.

With vigorous discussions of problems vital to the welfare of a million residents in the upper section of the state, the Northern Minnesota Development association opened its eleventh annual conference this morning at the Commercial club. A complete program of activities which the association will promote during the coming year will be formulated before the sessions close tonight.

Forty delegates, representing the agricultural, commercial and industrial interests which make up the economic life of the state, were in attendance this morning. Each speaker before the convention is an authority in his field. Following each address, the delegates are discussing all aspects of problems presented that they may better understand the direction of the guidance needed to insure the district's proper development.

Speakers and Subjects.

The principal speakers at the early sessions were Bentley P. Neff, who spoke on the topic, "Lakes to the Ocean," and Otto I. Bergh, whose topic was "Agricultural Problems in Northern Minnesota." Other speakers and their subjects on the program for this afternoon and tonight are W. B. Getchell, "Pittsburgh Plus;" R. W. Hitchcock, "Tonnage Tax;" P. H. McGarry, "Highways Everywhere;" H. G. Weber, "The Status of Forestry;" C. P. De Laittre, Aitkin, "State Aid for Settlers in Land-Clearing;" R. K. Doe, "Night Schools for Foreigners;" Dan Wallace, St. Paul, "Back to the Land Movement for Soldiers;" Judge Frank T. Wilson, St. Paul, "Co-operation;" Daniel E. Weigle, St. Paul, "The Relation Between City and Country."

All citizens interested in the association's problems are invited to attend tonight's sessions. In addition to the addresses scheduled, land clearing pictures will be shown by L. B. Arnold. Before adjourning, the association will hear the report of the resolutions committee, select the place of the summer meeting, and choose their officers for the ensuing year.

Silliman Presides.

Vice President A. P. Silliman of Hibbing opened the meeting this morning in the absence of President E. E. McDonald of Bemidji who is now in California. He mentioned briefly the accomplishments of the association during its eleven years of existence. New members, he urged, are needed to put even more enthusiasm in the work in view of the tremendous number of activities in which the organization could

WARDEN RUSSELL OF MARQUETTE PRISON DIES OF APOPLEXY

Mackinac City, Mich., Nov. 17.—James Russell, warden of Marquette prison since 1902 and prominent newspaper publisher and political leader of Northern Michigan, died here last night after having been stricken with apoplexy on a car ferry crossing the straits. Mr. Russell was 72 years old.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEES

Assembly of League of Nations Begins Speeding Up Work.

Geneva, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.) A plenary session was held by the assembly of the League of Nations today to consider a report from the council of the league relative to its activities since its formation.

The assembly meeting began speeding up today with the organization of six committees appointed Monday and the election of chairmen. It has been decided these committees will work in private, but that minutes of their meeting will be published. Subjects will be referred to them by the assembly without debate.

Open Discussions.

How far the principle of open discussions might apply to the work of the assembly was a question which furnished the feature of yesterday's sessions. It brought into contest for the first time in a sharp debate two of the chief figures among the delegates. Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, contended for open meetings of the committees as well as of the full assembly. Rene Viviani of the French delegation stoutly defended the parliamentary tradition of private committee work, with subsequent publication of the minutes. His view prevailed after a prolonged discussion.

Lord Robert pleaded strongly that the assembly make a stand in favor of full openness of discussion when the question of committee work came up.

Precedents to Contrary.

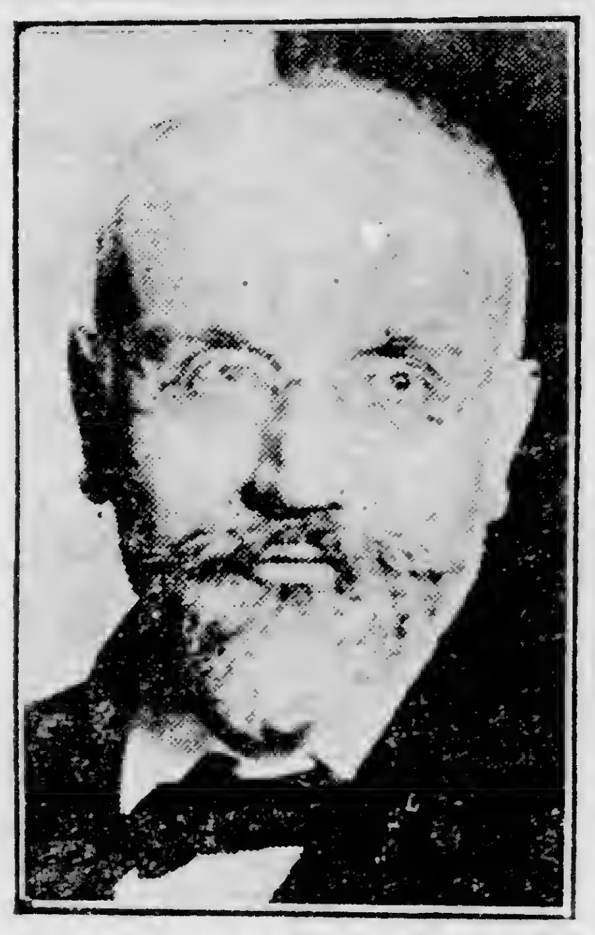
M. Viviani pointed out that precedents were to the contrary. In the dispatch of a mass of business before them, committees he said, were obliged to talk questions over privately.

Lord Robert said that British precedents differed from the French.

A compromise was finally reached between the two by which the committees will be permitted to open sessions when they see fit, the minutes of the deliberations to be published as soon as possible after the sessions.

A lengthy debate occurred on the election of vice presidents. This brought Viscount Ishii of the Japanese delegation to his feet for the first time to question the right of the president to withdraw a proposition by Dr. Nansen of Norway that at least three of the twelve vice presidents to be elected should be non-European. Everyone agreed that non-Europeans should obtain proper consideration, Viscount Ishii withdrew his objection.

GREEK STATESMAN TELLS WHY HE WAS DEFEATED



FORMER PREMIER VENIZELOS.

Athens, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reasons for his defeat are said by Former Premier Venizelos to be the weariness of the people with politics, their desire for a rest and for the return of soldiers from the front, and emphasis placed by opponents on the charge that he was putting Greece into the hands of foreign nations. M. Venizelos declares this charge aroused fears of protracted wars in connection with his greater Greece policy, and he says popular jealousy played a part in his reversal at the polls last Sunday.

To these, he declares, may be added various grievances against the internal administration and the feeling that he himself was the victim of his own ideas of aggrandizement. M. Venizelos is taking his defeat calmly.

Suggested New Cabinet Officers Become Familiar With Work.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—If President-elect Harding will select his cabinet by Feb. 1 or thereabouts and will send his ten associates to Washington, they will find the ten cabinet officers of the Wilson administration glad to familiarize the new cabinet officials with all the routine of the government departments.

This suggestion, which is not prompted by the Wilson administration, but has been talked about in official circles by persons who want to see the transfer of government accomplished with the least annoyance and inconvenience to the American people, really emanates from those who constantly have business before the government departments and who fear that, if the ordinary procedure is followed, it will be April or May before action can be obtained on pending matters.

Usually it takes a new cabinet officer at least a month to learn the routine of his department. During that period he is dependent upon subordinate officials whom he does not know. They put documents before him to sign, and he must either give his approval or take the responsibility for delay. In some cases decisions are urgent and there is no other course but

WOULD CHECK PROFITEERING

State Court to Check Unfair Trade Practices Is Proposed.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Establishment in Minnesota of a state court with powers to compel testimony, render judgment and pass sentence in cases of unfair trade practices and profiteering in the necessities of life will be recommended to the next session of the Minnesota legislature in a report prepared by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, Mr. Hay said yesterday.

Powers of the court, he said, would be similar to those possessed by the Kansas industrial court, but in a different field, as labor questions are entirely outside the jurisdiction of the department of agriculture. Bills embodying the proposal for the court and other recommendations in the report are being prepared in the office of the state attorney general.

The Housing Condition.

Remedying the housing condition in Minnesota, and particularly in the large cities, is the main purpose of the legislation Mr. Hay's report recommends, he said.

Besides the court to remedy unfair practices in handling necessities of life, the report will recommend:

A state law requiring that 25 per cent of the deposits of savings banks and the savings departments of commercial banks be set aside by the banks to be loaned exclusively for the financing of home building, in a way now being worked out in the preparation of the bills in the attorney general's office.

Legislation remedying minor abuses, particularly in the relations between landlords and tenants, and striking especially at unfair clauses in leases and failure of landlords to perform their share of the bargain, such as furnishing satisfactory heating.

UKRAINIANS FLEE BEFORE RUSS TROOPS

Evacuate Kiev and Other Towns Before New Soviet Offensive.

Bolshevik Cavalry Sweeps Through Ukrainian Line at Many Points.

Warsaw, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Ukrainians have evacuated Kiev and other towns they had occupied and are fleeing defeated before the new Russian soviet offensive. The Bolshevik cavalry has swept through the Ukrainian lines at various points.

Batum Reported Captured.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—Reports that Batum has been captured by the Russian Bolsheviki have been received here, but thus far they have not been confirmed. Supplies collected in the city were removed some time ago and a Georgian division was sent to the south for the purpose of checking an advance by Turkish nationalists.

The confusion existing in the Caucasus region cannot be described and trains running between Tiflis and Batum are badly overcrowded. Great Bolshevik demonstrations were held in Batum and Tiflis on the anniversary of the soviet revolution in Russia, which was solemnly celebrated throughout the Caucasus district.

News from Armenia is badly confused. It would appear that neither the Bolshevik element or the active Armenian government has control of the situation.

Simferopol and Feodosia Occupied.

London, Nov. 17.—A military communique dated Monday and received by wireless from Moscow confirms the report of the occupation of Simferopol, and announces the occupation of Feodosia. The communique says the Reds took prisoners from thirty different regiments and enormous booty, adding: "The enemy is demoralized and retreating in a panic."

It is further declared that Gen. Wrangel issued an order dissolving his army, owing to the Allied refusal to render further assistance and every soldier was granted the right to surrender to the Reds or be evacuated.

"In the Litinsk region," the communique continues, "the Reds are successfully advancing. In the direction of Proskurov fierce fighting is proceeding on both sides of the railway on a front of thirty-three miles, the balance being in our favor."

TRAIN CREW SHOOTS AT BANDIT GANG

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—Police are searching today for armed men who last night attempted to hold up and rob Union Pacific passenger train No. 104, eastbound, at Sandow, six miles east of Denver. Eighteen shots were fired by the bandits and members of the train crew who, since the Carlisle train robbery in Wyoming, have been armed.

One of the bandits is believed to have been wounded. They escaped in an automobile which was waiting near the siding.

Three of the bandit party, believed to have numbered six men, flagged the train and as it pulled to a stop they approached the baggage car. A brakeman, armed with a shotgun, jumped from the train and when the bandits opened fire, he replied. Others of the train crew also opened fire.

In the meantime Rock Island train No. 6, bound for Kansas City and Chicago, over the same tracks, came up behind. A flagman stopped the train in time to avert a collision. The Rock Island train's rear coaches were derailed as it passed the Sandow switch. Railroad officials believe the switch was pulled while the train was passing over it.

The Union Pacific train left Denver at 9 o'clock.

GREEKS MAY CREATE REPUBLIC OF SMYRNA

Athens, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—There are rumors that it is possible the Greek army, which is supposed to be loyal to Former Premier Venizelos, may create the republic of Smyrna in Asia Minor.

The present regency of Admiral Coundouriotis has been recognized by the opposition. It is probable the cabinet selected by the leaders of the dominant party in Greece will hold office temporarily until a plebiscite is held at which the people will vote upon the return of Former King Constantine. It is also believed the opposition will make efforts to determine the views of the outside world relative to the results of the election.

There was a panic on the bourse when it became certain that the Venizelist government had been defeated, the United States dollar doubling in value. The city is quiet and the parliament house is occupied by troops.

SHEBOYGAN SOCIALISTS OPPOSED TO PRIZE GUN

Sheboygan, Wis., Nov. 17.—A big siege gun used by the Germans in the recent war and secured for Sheboygan by Congressman Edward Voigt and Mayor Herman Albrecht will remain in the city toolhouse instead of finding a place as an ornament in one of the city parks, following a majority report by nine Socialist members of the common council.

The Socialists declared that they were "of the opinion that the citizens of Sheboygan are better served without such field guns and that the public display thereof fosters and inspires a war spirit in the mind of the coming generation," which they feel "should be hampered rather than encouraged."

YOUNGEST MAN EVER ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17.—The distinction of being one of the youngest men ever elected to the national house of representatives is claimed by Clarence J. McLeod, Detroit attorney, who was elected from Detroit in the Thirteenth Michigan district at the recent election to fill a vacancy.

Mr. McLeod became 25 years old July 3 this year. In the primary election on Aug. 31, or less than two months after he became eligible to seek congressional honors, he defeated three other Republicans for the short-term nomination to fill the vacancy created by the death of Representative Charles E. Nichols of Detroit. Mr. McLeod will be retired from congress on March 4 next by Vincent M. Brennan, elected congressman from the same district for the long term.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING FOR FARMERS APPROVED

Should Own Retail Stores Under State Supervision, Says Report.

Agricultural Department Reports on Investigation Ordered by Legislature.

Local Co-operative Elevators for Selling Agency Also Recommended.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—State supervision of machinery for marketing and co-operative ownership of retail agencies by farmers are recommended in a report by Hugh J. Hughes, director of the Minnesota department of agriculture, made public today. The report deals with the result of an investigation by the department into conditions affecting the marketing of farm products, which was ordered by the 1919 legislature.

Co-operative ownership by the farmer of the machinery of marketing, at least as far as a point where the farm product loses its identity or where it reaches retail distribution, is offered as the best available solution of the farmers' marketing problem, says the report.

Co-operative ownership of retail agencies, such as grocery stores, meat markets, milk depots and similar places is suggested by Mr. Hughes as a "practical solution of the unnecessary expenses of living borne by the consumer."

State Supervision Essential.

Mr. Hughes recommends that local co-operative elevators create a central selling agency. Such agencies should hold membership in any grain exchange to which it can find a marketing outlet, continues the report, and the board of directors of the central organization should be empowered to constitute itself a corporation to deal in grain, to comply with rules of various boards of trade in order to obtain membership in them. As an alternative plan, the report suggests creation of a central association to act independently of existing grain exchanges and in connection with like sales agencies in other states.

"A problem before such an organization is that of commanding a sufficient volume to create an active year's market—in other words to insure profitable sale for the crop consigned to it, upon a market at least as wide as that provided by existing agencies," the report adds.

Discussing the proposition as to the farmer becoming a middleman, Mr. Hughes writes:

Farmers as Middlemen.

"The substitution of Federal co-operation for the services rendered by the jobbers or the wholesaler is a matter that must be determined in each line of farm production strictly on the business merits of the proposition. The normal sales period of wheat was, only a generation ago, but little more than a month. Conditions today, including car shortage and greater ability of the farmer to finance his crop, have spread this period of wheat sale to practically the entire year. It has been the function of the middleman to handle the crop. This is a highly speculative undertaking, involving risk that necessitates a somewhat wide margin of profit in order to protect the buyer against losses due to price fluctuations. If the farmer takes over this phase of distribution, he automatically assumes the risks

AGRICULTURAL DIRECTOR WHO REPORTS ON FARM MARKETS

HUGH J. HUGHES.

JUDGE BERATES MINISTER WITH WIFE AND FIVE CHILDREN WHO SEEKS DIVORCE IN CLEVELAND COURTS

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 17.—It is extreme cruelty for a minister to remain in his pulpit at $93 a month when he has a wife and five children to support, Judge Frank C. Phillips declared in an opinion handed down in a divorce suit filed by Rev. Benjamin Sherwin against his wife yesterday.

Judge Phillips refused to grant Rev. Mr. Sherwin a divorce and ordered that he pay his wife $60 a month alimony. Custody of the five children was given to Mrs. Sherwin.

"I consider it extreme cruelty for a man with a wife and five children to remain at his job, even though it be that of a minister, which pays only $93 a month. An able-bodied man such as you are should have taken up some other profession," Judge Phillips declared.

Sherwin now has secured employment as a machinist.

QUEEN MOTHER TO BE REGENT

Olga Expected to Assume Regency of Greece at Once.

Athens, Nov. 17.—Queen Mother Olga of Greece will probably assume the regency today, it was learned here this forenoon. (The queen mother is the widow of the late King George, who was assassinated at Saloniki in 1915. Admiral Coundouriotis is the present regent).

It is believed here the Allies will make known to Greece their intention not to recognize Constantine should the ex-king be restored to the throne.

Expect Constantine Back.

Athens, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Constantine is our rightful king," Former Premier Gounaris, leader of the successful party in the Greek elections, told the correspondent today, "and we expect him back as soon as a plebiscite is held showing that the people want him."

"We expect to assume the government in a day or two," continued M. Gounaris, "when the results of the elections become official. Then we shall quickly call the chamber and have a plebiscite.

"It was the intention of Constantine to return after the plebiscite and I have no message from him that he is coming earlier."

Brothers Pleased.

Rome, Nov. 17.—Princes Andreas and Christophoros, brothers of Former King Constantine of Greece, who are here, learned with great satisfaction of the defeat of Premier Venizelos in elections held last Sunday. They declared the result was a victory for King Constantine or his son, Prince George, duke of Sparta. They added the verdict registered at the polls was sufficient to show the attitude of the Greek people toward their sovereign.

Rhallis Forms Cabinet.

Athens, Nov. 16.—George Rhallis, former premier, has succeeded in forming a cabinet to succeed the Venizelos government and the new ministry will be sworn in Wednesday, it was announced today.

M. Rhallis, who is 80 years old, will, besides the premiership, assume the portfolio of foreign affairs.

M. Rhallis previously had informed Admiral Coundouriotis, regent, that he would accept the task of forming a cabinet, but only after the resignation of the old government had been definitely announced.

There is much interest in the vote cast by the army, which has not been returned, and which it has been thought might affect the Venizelos cause favorably. The opposition's press bureau, however, is quoted as declaring the voting at the front would be annulled.

HOLD GRAIN FOR ADVANCE

Sentiment Among the Organized Farmers in the Middle West.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—While not favoring a grain "strike" for any set price, sentiment among organized farmers in the great agricultural states of the Middle West runs strongly toward holding back grain as far as practicable for better prices, according to canvass made here. This survey of sentiment was taken by the Illinois Agricultural association.

Reports were received by secretaries of state farm bureau federations in Missouri, Minnesota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kentucky. In no case did a state federation report it had advised a "strike."

Need of credit facilities to enable farmers to hold their wheat if they want to was pointed out from several states. One state secretary wrote he was "using the present conditions as an argument in favor of the farmers getting into the big marketing game in such a way that they will be able to finance it and to store considerable of the grain as it is offered."

Wrong to Set Arbitrary Price.

"The attitude I have taken in the matter is this," wrote H. D. Lute of Lincoln, Neb., secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation, "that it is wrong to set an arbitrary price of $3 a bushel, and that it is hardly advisable to ask the farmers to hold their wheat unless we are in a position to help them on the financial and storage ends of the game. But I do tell the farmers that I believe wheat will

HARDING IS UNDECIDED

President-Elect Has Not Acted on Invitation to Visit Mexico.

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.) — President-elect Harding's reply to the invitation to visit Mexico during his Southern trip probably will be determined upon during the next twenty-four hours as he travels by special train from Brownsville to New Orleans.

Leaving here this morning at the end of a nine-day vacation, Senator Harding was to reach New Orleans at 10 o'clock tomorrow and during a five-hour stay was to deliver an address before the New Orleans association of commerce. If his steamer's course is to be changed to permit a call at Vera Cruz, an announcement is expected before he reaches the Louisiana port. There were no indications before his departure, however, whether he would accept the invitation, which came to him yesterday from Mexican officials.

Brought By Torres.

The invitation was brought to Brownsville by Elias L. Torres, who said in urging its acceptance, that he spoke both for the Mexican foreign office and for Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the Mexican president-elect.

In an hour's conference with the senator, Mr. Torres made a special plea that the senator be present at Obregon's inauguration in the Mexican capital on Nov. 30.

Mr. Harding is represented by his friends as weighing carefully two considerations before making a decision. It is declared that he is anxious to take every step to cement relations between the two republics, but that on the other hand he is determined to do nothing that might be construed as an international impropriety.

As Private Citizen.

He has told his friends that if he sets foot on soil of any foreign country during his trip, he will do so solely as a private citizen and not in any sense of official representative of the United States government.

Aside from these two forces remains the question of whether the arrangement made by the president-elect can be so modified as to permit a call on the Mexican coast.

Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who was chairman of the senate subcommittee which investigated Mexican affairs, came to Brownsville with Mr. Torres and was present at the conference between the Mexican envoy and Mr. Harding. Mr. Fall said the talk had been a most friendly one and that it was his understanding that an effort would be made to change the sailing schedule as to permit a short stop at Vera Cruz or some other Mexican port.

35 CENTS TOO MUCH FOR A BAKED APPLE; REDUCTION ORDERED

Carson City, Nev., Nov. 17.—Thirty-five cents is too much for a baked apple, the Nevada public service commission held in an order to the Southern Pacific railroad yesterday, directing rates in its dining cars be reduced. The commission cited as other instances of excessive prices charged, 25 cents for a glass of milk or a cup of coffee and 25 cents for a dish of prunes.

TEN ALIVE, FIVE DEAD

Fifteen Miners Removed From Burning Coal Mine in Kentucky.

Earlington, Ky., Nov. 17.—Ten miners were rescued today from the burning Arnold coal mine near here. Bodies of five others were recovered. One other person, trapped in the mine, was still missing.

The rescue, effected by tunneling around the fire which had shut off the single entry of the mine, came twenty-four hours after the flames broke out.

The men were trapped three miles back in the mine when fire broke out yesterday afternoon and cut their escape from the entrance.

Dug Around.

After all other attempts at rescue had failed, a tunnel was dug around the burning entry and a start made for the miners. The rescue party, after forcing into the mine for a good distance, however, were forced to come out because of the denseness of the smoke and gas. Later this morning, another rescue party was organized, and armed with gas masks propose to go to the end of the mine in an attempt to find the men who are trapped there.

Those entombed in the mine were three white men and thirteen negroes. One other negro in the mine was working close to the entrance and discovered the fire soon enough to make his escape. He spread the alarm and mine rescue teams from nearby coal mining cities were called on for assistance. The rescue teams worked tirelessly all night in the meager hope that the men would still be alive when reached.

Race Lines Banished.

Huddled together in a little group near the blazing entrance of the mine this morning were the wives and families of the entrapped men. They had kept a sorrowful and tireless vigil throughout the night in the faint hope their loved ones would be spared them. The whites and blacks are drawn together in the disaster affecting them both. Grief-stricken and weeping they stand watching the smoke pour out of the burning mine forming an incentive urging the rescuers to greater efforts.

POLAND DOTTED BY BABYLESS TOWNS

New York, Nov. 17.—Babyless towns thickly dot the forlorn landscape of Poland and in many of them there are no longer any births, declared Dr. Herschel C. Walker, chief of the American Relief Administration, who recently returned from that country. He supervised the distribution of American food to Polish sufferers.

All of the infants born in the stricken areas in the last two years succumbed to starvation and the diseases it introduces, or they have been removed to places where they can be properly fed, Dr. Walker said.

Hundreds of houses that once echoed a baby's laugh are gone, and whole families live in squalid dugouts without light or ventilation.

Some mothers have kept their children alive on grasses and roots made into thin, tasteless soup. Hunger brought the slaughter of cows by the wholesale, and milk can be had now only by the wealthy.

These conditions precluded maintenance of the ordinary birthrate, but other sufferings have obliterated it almost entirely in parts of Poland, said Dr. Walker. Homes have passed away with the departure of both men and women for service in the army. Emaciation of the women and the prevalence of misery on every side has made impossible or forbidden the bringing of children into a world in which only hunger, sickness and early death appear to await them.

IRISH HEARING MEETS BRITISH DISAPPROVAL

Embassy at Washington So Notifies Committee of One Hundred.

Believes Only Outcome Would Be the Spread of Propaganda.

American Association for Recognition of Irish Republic Formed.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The British embassy today notified the committee of one hundred investigating conditions in Ireland that it did not approve of the purposes to be served or the methods to be followed in the committee's hearings to begin here tomorrow and that therefore it could not accept the committee's invitation to be represented.

The embassy's reply, addressed to Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, who appointed the committee, declared the only outcome of the inquiry would be the spread of propaganda and that there was nothing in the composition of the committee itself to remove from it the idea that it was not impartial or prejudiced in advance.

Association Formed.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic was organized here today by Irish leaders from over the country who were summoned to Washington by Eamonn De Valera, president of the provisional Irish republic.

The new organization is designed to supplant the Friends of Irish Freedom and to absorb the membership of that organization and to give Mr. De Valera a vehicle for working out his plans and those of the Irish representatives.

Edward L. Doheny of Los Angeles, who presented the minority resolution for recognition of Ireland at the Democratic national convention San Francisco last June, was elected president of the new organization. The vice presidents are: Judge John W. Goff of New York; John J. Castelline of Cincinnati, and Maj. Eugene Kinkead of Jersey City. John J. Hearn of Westfield, Mass., is treasurer, and Daniel C. O'Flaherty of Richmond, Va., secretary.

The commission has been advised that numerous witnesses will make the trip from Ireland to tell of conditions. Some have already sailed. Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork, will sail Nov. 24. Most of the others, however, were expected to start the ocean voyage at earlier dates.

MYSTERY IN DEATHS OF ACTRESSES MADE CLEAR BY CONFESSION

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Confessions from the two men held in connection with deaths of two actresses, Maree Ramey and Lillian Thompson, found in Grant park Sunday morning, have cleared up nearly all the details, police said today, and have established that the girls died from alcohol and exposure and without violence.

Police still are searching for two other men who are said to have been with the girls early Saturday evening. According to the confessions, given out by the police, the two men being detained met the girls after the latter had secured the liquor which played the chief part in causing their death.

These two men, their confessions declare, left the girls at their own request in Grant park, and it is believed by the police that the girls wandered there until overcome by exposure.

No Trace of Poison.

It was said that the girls had partaken of lemon extract purchased near their home Saturday night besides the other liquor which chemical examination disclosed in their stomachs. No traces of poison were found, the police said.

The two 19-year-old youths, held in connection with the two women's deaths, are Marcus Bromberg and Harry Jorganson.

Told of Joy Ride.

Jorganson told his part in the Saturday night "joy ride" to a friend of his employer in explaining the damaged condition of an automobile belonging in his employer's garage, which he had borrowed for a ride.

Police indicated today that they accepted the story of the two youths who declared they had not given the young women any intoxicants.

MAY CANCEL ALL PERMITS

Government Makes Veiled Threat to Western Union Telegraph Company.

Washington, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A veiled threat that the permits granted for the landing of Western Union cables in the United States will be revoked unless the company continues to accord the American government the same privileges that it accords the British and other governments in handling cable messages is contained in a formal statement issued today by the state department.

The Western Union Telegraph company, says an announcement issued today by the state department, not only has refused to accept any government cable messages without prepayment of tolls, but also has refused to carry at the reduced government rate messages originating outside of the United States.

"Obviously," said the department's statement, "the United States could not be expected to allow the Western Union company, an American corporation, to charge for its messages twice the rate charged, for example, the British government, nor to accede to a requirement that the ordinary practice of business with respect to periodical settlement of accounts, shall be set aside in dealings with our government."

Kenosha Farmer Found Dead.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 17.—With two bullet holes in his right breast, William Gitzlaff, a prominent farmer of this section, was found dead not far from his home. According to members of the family he had been despondent over ill health.

VOLUME XXXVIII—NO. 185. WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 17, 1920. THREE CENTS.

N. M. D. A. OPENS ELEVENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

Will Outline Activities to Be Promoted Next Year.

Forty Delegates From Outside of City at Commercial Club.

Silliman of Hibbing Presides in Absence of President McDonald.

With vigorous discussions of problems vital to the welfare of a million residents in the upper section of the state, the Northern Minnesota Development association opened its eleventh annual conference this morning at the Commercial club. A complete program of activities which the association will promote during the coming year will be formulated before the sessions close tonight.

Forty delegates, representing the agricultural, commercial and industrial interests which make up the economic life of the state, were in attendance this morning. Each speaker before the convention is an authority in his field. Following each address, the delegates are discussing all aspects of problems presented that they may better understand the direction of the guidance needed to insure the district's proper development.

Speakers and Subjects.

The principal speakers at the early sessions were Bentley P. Neff, who spoke on the topic, "Lakes to the Ocean," and Otto I. Bergh, whose topic was "Agricultural Problems in Northern Minnesota." Other speakers and their subjects on the program for this afternoon and tonight are W. B. Getchell, "Pittsburgh Plus;" R. W. Hitchcock, "Tonnage Tax;" P. H. McGarry, "Highways Everywhere;" H. G. Weber, "The [illegible] of Forestry;" C. P. De Laittre, Aitkin, "State Aid for Settlers in Land-Clearing;" R. K. Doe, "Night Schools for Foreigners;" Dan Wallace, St. Paul, "Back to the Land Movement for Soldiers;" Judge Frank T. Wilson, St. Paul, "Co-operation;" Daniel E. Wright, St. Paul, "The Relation Between City and Country."

All citizens interested in the association's problems are invited to attend tonight's sessions. In addition to the addresses scheduled land clearing pictures will be shown by L. B. Arnold. Before adjourning, the association will hear the report of the resolutions committee, select the place of the summer meeting, and choose their officers for the coming year.

Silliman Presides.

Vice President A. P. Silliman of Hibbing opened the meeting this morning in the absence of President E. E. McDonald of Bemidji who is now in California. He mentioned briefly the accomplishment of the association during its eleven years of existence. New members, he urged, are needed to put more enthusiasm in the work in view of the tremendous number of activities in which the organization could

WARDEN RUSSELL OF MARQUETTE PRISON DIES OF APOPLEXY

Mackinac City, Mich., Nov. 17.—James Russell, warden of Marquette prison since 1902 and prominent newspaper publisher and political leader of Northern Michigan, died here last night after having been stricken with apoplexy on a car ferry crossing the straits. Mr. Russell was 72 years old.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEES

Assembly of League of Nations Begins Speeding Up Work.

Geneva, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A plenary session was held by the assembly of the League of Nations today to consider a report from the council of the league relative to its activities since its formation.

The assembly meeting began speeding up today with the organization of six committees appointed Monday and the election of chairmen. It has been decided these committees will work in private, but that minutes of their meetings will be published. Subjects will be referred to them by the assembly without debate.

Open Discussions.

How far the principle of open discussions might apply to the work of the assembly was a question which furnished the feature of yesterday's sessions. It brought into contest for the first time in a sharp debate two of the chief figures among the delegates. Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, contended for open meetings of the committees as well as of the full assembly. Rene Viviani of the French delegation stoutly defended the parliamentary tradition of private committee work, with subsequent publication of the minutes. His view prevailed after a prolonged discussion.

Lord Robert pleaded strongly that the assembly make a stand in favor of full openness of discussion when the question of committee work came up.

Precedents to Contrary.

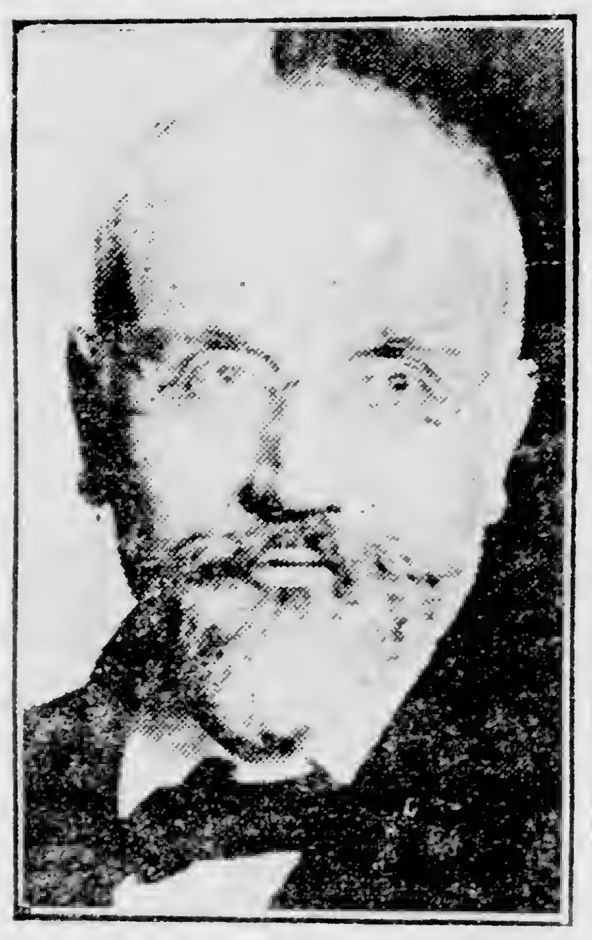
M. Viviani pointed out that precedents were to the contrary. In the dispatch of a mass of business before them, committees he said, were obliged to talk questions over privately.

Lord Robert said that British precedents differed from the French.

A compromise was finally reached between the two by which the committees will be permitted to open sessions when they see fit, the minutes of the deliberations to be published as soon as possible after the sessions.

A lengthy debate occurred on the election of vice presidents. This brought Viscount Ishii of the Japanese delegation to his feet for the first time to question the right of the president to withdraw a proposition by Dr. Nansen of Norway that at least three of the twelve vice presidents to be elected should be non-European. Everyone agreed that non-Europeans should obtain proper consideration. Viscount Ishii withdrew his objection.

GREEK STATESMAN TELLS WHY HE WAS DEFEATED



FORMER PREMIER VENIZELOS.

Athens, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reasons for his defeat are said by Former Premier Venizelos to be the weariness of the people with politics, their desire for a rest and for the return of soldiers from the front, and emphasis placed by opponents on the charge that he was putting Greece into the hands of foreign nations. M. Venizelos declares this charge aroused fears of protracted wars in connection with his greater Greece policy, and he says popular jealousy played a part in his reversal at the polls last Sunday.

To these, he declares, may be added various grievances against the internal administration and the feeling that he himself was the victim of his own ideas of aggrandizement. M. Venizelos is taking his defeat calmly.

SHOULD GET ACQUAINTED

Suggested New Cabinet Officers Become Familiar With Work.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—If President-elect Harding will select his cabinet by Feb. 1 or thereabouts and will send his ten associates to Washington, they will find the ten cabinet officers of the Wilson administration glad to familiarize the new cabinet officials with all the routine of the government departments.

This suggestion, which is not prompted by the Wilson administration, but has been talked about in official circles by persons who want to see the transfer of government accomplished with the least annoyance and inconvenience to the American people, really emanates from those who constantly have business before the government departments and who fear that, if the ordinary procedure is followed, it will be April or May before action can be obtained on pending matters.

Usually it takes a new cabinet officer at least a month to learn the routine of his department. During that period he is dependent upon subordinate officials whom he does not know. They put documents before him to sign, and he must either give his approval or take the responsibility for delay. In some cases decisions are urgent and there is no other course but

State Court to Check Unfair Trade Practices Is Proposed.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Establishment in Minnesota of a state court with powers to compel testimony, render judgment and pass sentence in cases of unfair trade practices and profiteering in the necessities of life will be recommended to the next session of the Minnesota legislature in a report prepared by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, Mr. Hay said yesterday.

Powers of the court, he said, would be similar to those possessed by the Kansas industrial court, but in a different field, as labor questions are entirely outside the jurisdiction of the department of agriculture. Bills embodying the proposal for the court and other recommendations in the report are being prepared in the office of the state attorney general.

The Housing Condition.

Remedying the housing condition in Minnesota, and particularly in the large cities, is the main purpose of the legislation Mr. Hay's report recommends, he said.

Besides the court to remedy unfair practices in handling necessities of life, the report will recommend:

A state law requiring that 25 per cent of the deposits of savings banks and the savings departments of commercial banks be set aside by the banks to be loaned exclusively for the financing of home building, in a way now being worked out in the preparation of the bills in the attorney general's office.

Legislation remedying minor abuses, particularly in the relations between landlords and tenants, and striking especially at unfair clauses in leases and failure of landlords to perform their share of the bargain, such as furnishing satisfactory heating.

UKRAINIANS FLEE BEFORE RUSS TROOPS

Bolshevik Cavalry Sweeps Through Ukrainian Line at Many Points.

Warsaw, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Ukrainians have evacuated Kiev and other towns they had occupied and are fleeing defeated before the new Russian soviet offensive. The Bolshevik cavalry has swept through the Ukrainian lines at various points.

Batum Reported Captured.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—Reports that Batum has been captured by the Russian Bolsheviki have been received here, but thus far they have not been confirmed. Supplies collected in the city were removed some time ago and a Georgian division was sent to the south for the purpose of checking an advance by Turkish nationalists.

The confusion existing in the Caucasus region cannot be described and trains running between Tiflis and Batum are badly overcrowded. Great Bolshevik demonstrations were held in Batum and Tiflis on the anniversary of the soviet revolution in Russia, which was solemnly celebrated throughout the Caucasus district.

News from Armenia is badly confused. It would appear that neither the Bolshevik element or the active Armenian government has control of the situation.

Simferopol and Feodosia Occupied.

London, Nov. 17.—A military communique dated Monday and received by wireless from Moscow confirms the report of the occupation of Simferopol, and announces the occupation of Feodosia. The communique says the Reds took prisoners from thirty different regiments and enormous booty, adding: "The enemy is demoralized and retreating in a panic."

It is further declared that Gen. Wrangel issued an order dissolving his army, owing to the Allied refusal to render further assistance and every soldier was granted the right to surrender to the Reds or be evacuated.

"In the Litinsk region," the communique continues, "the Reds are successfully advancing. In the direction of Proskurov fierce fighting is proceeding on both sides of the railway on a front of thirty-three miles, the balance being in our favor."

TRAIN CREW SHOOTS AT BANDIT GANG

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—Police are searching today for armed men who last night attempted to hold up and rob Union Pacific passenger train No. 104, eastbound, at Sandow, six miles east of Denver. Eighteen shots were fired by the bandits and members of the train crew who, since the Carlisle train robbery in Wyoming, have been armed.

One of the bandits is believed to have been wounded. They escaped in an automobile which was waiting near the siding.

Three of the bandit party, believed to have numbered six men, flagged the train and as it pulled to a stop they approached the baggage car. A brakeman, armed with a shotgun, jumped from the train and when the bandits opened fire, he replied. Others of the train crew also opened fire.

In the meantime Rock Island train No. 6, bound for Kansas City and Chicago, over the same tracks, came up behind. A flagman stopped the train in time to avert a collision. The Rock Island train's rear coaches were derailed as it passed the Sandow switch. Railroad officials believe the switch was pulled while the train was passing over it.

The Union Pacific train left Denver at 9 o'clock.

GREEKS MAY CREATE REPUBLIC OF SMYRNA

Athens, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—There are rumors that it is possible the Greek army, which is supposed to be loyal to Former Premier Venizelos, may create the republic of Smyrna in Asia Minor.

The present regency of Admiral Coundouriotis has been recognized by the opposition. It is probable the cabinet selected by the leaders of the dominant party in Greece will hold office temporarily until a plebiscite is held at which the people will vote upon the return of Former King Constantine. It is also believed the opposition will make efforts to determine the views of the outside world relative to the results of the election.

There was a panic on the bourse when it became certain that the Venizelist government had been defeated, the United States dollar doubling in value. The city is quiet and the parliament house is occupied by troops.

SHEBOYGAN SOCIALISTS OPPOSED TO PRIZE GUN

Sheboygan, Wis., Nov. 17.—A big siege gun used by the Germans in the recent war and secured for Sheboygan by Congressman Edward Voigt and Mayor Herman Albrecht will remain in the city toolhouse instead of finding a place as an ornament in one of the city parks, following a majority report by nine Socialist members of the common council.

The Socialists declared that they were "of the opinion that the citizens of Sheboygan are better served without such field guns and that the public display thereof fosters and inspires a war spirit in the mind of the coming generation," which they feel "should be hampered rather than encouraged."

YOUNGEST MAN EVER ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17.—The distinction of being one of the youngest men ever elected to the national house of representatives is claimed by Clarence J. McLeod, Detroit attorney, who was elected from Detroit in the Thirteenth Michigan district at the recent election to fill a vacancy.

Mr. McLeod became 25 years old July 3 this year. In the primary election on Aug. 31, or less than two months after he became eligible to seek congressional honors, he defeated three other Republicans for the short-term nomination to fill the vacancy created by the death of Representative Charles E. Nichols of Detroit. Mr. McLeod will be retired from congress on March 4 next by Vincent M. Brennan, elected congressman from the same district for the long term.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING FOR FARMERS APPROVED

Should Own Retail Stores Under State Supervision, Says Report.

Agricultural Department Reports on Investigation Ordered by Legislature.

Local Co-operative Elevators for Selling Agency Also Recommended.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—State supervision of machinery for marketing and co-operative ownership of retail agencies by farmers are recommended in a report by Hugh J. Hughes, director of the Minnesota department of agriculture, made public today. The report deals with the result of an investigation by the department into conditions affecting the marketing of farm products, which was ordered by the 1919 legislature.

Co-operative ownership by the farmer of the machinery of marketing, at least as far as a point where the farm product loses its identity or where it reaches retail distribution, is offered as the best available solution of the farmers' marketing problem, says the report.

Co-operative ownership of retail agencies, such as grocery stores, meat markets, milk depots and similar places is suggested by Mr. Hughes as a "practical solution of the unnecessary expenses of living borne by the consumer."

State Supervision Essential.

Mr. Hughes recommends that local co-operative elevators create a central selling agency. Such agencies should hold membership in any grain exchange to which it can find a marketing outlet, continues the report, and the board of directors of the central organization should be empowered to constitute itself a corporation to deal in grain, to comply with rules of various boards of trade in order to obtain membership in them. As an alternative plan, the report suggests creation of a central association to act independently of existing grain exchanges and in connection with like sales agencies in other states.

"A problem before such an organization is that of commanding a sufficient volume to create an active year's market—in other words to insure profitable sale for the crop consigned to it, upon a market at least as wide as that provided by existing agencies," the report adds.

Discussing the proposition as to the farmer becoming a middleman, Mr. Hughes writes:

Farmers as Middlemen.

"The substitution of Federal co-operation for the services rendered by the jobbers or the wholesaler is a matter that must be determined in each line of farm production strictly on the business merits of the proposition. The normal sales period of wheat was, only a generation ago, but little more than a month. Conditions today, including car shortage and greater ability of the farmer to finance his crop, have spread this period of wheat sale to practically the entire year. It has been the function of the middleman to handle the crop. This is a highly speculative undertaking, involving risk that necessitates a somewhat wide margin of profit in order to protect the buyer against losses due to price fluctuations. If the farmer takes over this phase of distribution, he automatically assumes the risks

JUDGE BERATES MINISTER WITH WIFE AND FIVE CHILDREN WHO SEEKS DIVORCE IN CLEVELAND COURTS

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 17.—It is extreme cruelty for a minister to remain in his pulpit at $93 a month when he has a wife and five children to support, Judge Frank C. Phillips declared in an opinion handed down in a divorce suit filed by Rev. Benjamin Sherwin against his wife yesterday.

Judge Phillips refused to grant Rev. Mr. Sherwin a divorce and ordered that he pay his wife $60 a month alimony. Custody of the five children was given to Mrs. Sherwin.

"I consider it extreme cruelty for a man with a wife and five children to remain at his job, even though it be that of a minister, which pays only $93 a month. An able-bodied man such as you are should have taken up some other profession," Judge Phillips declared.

Sherwin now has secured employment as a machinist.

QUEEN MOTHER TO BE REGENT

Olga Expected to Assume Regency of Greece at Once.

Athens, Nov. 17.—Queen Mother Olga of Greece will probably assume the regency today, it was learned here this forenoon. (The queen mother is the widow of the late King George, who was assassinated at Saloniki in 1913. Admiral Coundouriotis is the present regent).

It is believed here the Allies will make known to Greece their intention not to recognize Constantine should the ex-king be restored to the throne.

Expect Constantine Back.

Athens, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Constantine is our rightful king," Former Premier Gounaris, leader of the successful party in the Greek elections, told the correspondent today, "and we expect him back as soon as a plebiscite is held showing that the people want him."

"We expect to assume the government in a day or two," continued M. Gounaris, "when the results of the elections become official. Then we shall quickly call the chamber and have a plebiscite.

"It was the intention of Constantine to return after the plebiscite and I have no message from him that he is coming earlier."

Brothers Pleased.

Rome, Nov. 17.—Princes Andreas and Christophoros, brothers of Former King Constantine of Greece, who are here, learned with great satisfaction of the defeat of Premier Venizelos in elections held last Sunday. They declared the result was a victory for King Constantine or his son, Prince George, duke of Sparta. They added the verdict registered at the polls was sufficient to show the attitude of the Greek people toward their sovereign.

Rhallis Forms Cabinet.

Athens, Nov. 16.—George Rhallis, former premier, has succeeded in forming a cabinet to succeed the Venizelos government and the new ministry will be sworn in Wednesday, it was announced today.

M. Rhallis, who is 80 years old, will, besides the premiership, assume the portfolio of foreign affairs.

M. Rhallis previously had informed Admiral Coundouriotis, regent, that he would accept the task of forming a cabinet, but only after the resignation of the old government had been definitely announced.

There is much interest in the vote cast by the army, which has not been returned, and which it has been thought might affect the Venizelos cause favorably. The opposition's press bureau, however, is quoted as declaring the voting at the front would be annulled.

HOLD GRAIN FOR ADVANCE

Sentiment Among the Organized Farmers in the Middle West.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—While not favoring a grain "strike" for any set price, sentiment among organized farmers in the great agricultural states of the Middle West runs strongly toward holding back grain as far as practicable for better prices, according to canvass made here. This survey of sentiment was taken by the Illinois Agricultural association.

Reports were received by secretaries of state farm bureau federations in Missouri, Minnesota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kentucky. In no case did a state federation report it had advised a "strike."

Need of credit facilities to enable farmers to hold their wheat if they want to was pointed out from several states. One state secretary wrote he was "using the present conditions as an argument in favor of the farmers getting into the big marketing game in such a way that they will be able to finance it and to store considerable of the grain as it is offered."

Wrong to Set Arbitrary Price.

"The attitude I have taken in the matter is this," wrote H. D. Lute of Lincoln, Neb., secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation, "that it is wrong to set an arbitrary price of $3 a bushel, and that it is hardly advisable to ask the farmers to hold their wheat unless we are in a position to help them on the financial and storage ends of the game. But I do tell the farmers that I believe wheat will

HARDING IS UNDECIDED

President-Elect Has Not Acted on Invitation to Visit Mexico.

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—President-elect Harding's reply to the invitation to visit Mexico during his Southern trip probably will be determined upon during the next twenty-four hours as he travels by special train from Brownsville to New Orleans.

Leaving here this morning at the end of a nine-day vacation, Senator Harding was to reach New Orleans at 10 o'clock tomorrow and during a five-hour stay was to deliver an address before the New Orleans association of commerce. If his steamer's course is to be changed to permit a call at Vera Cruz, an announcement is expected before he reaches the Louisiana port. There were no indications before his departure, however, whether he would accept the invitation, which came to him yesterday from Mexican officials.

Brought By Torres.

The invitation was brought to Brownsville by Elias L. Torres, who said in urging its acceptance, that he spoke both for the Mexican foreign office and for Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the Mexican president-elect.

In an hour's conference with the senator, Mr. Torres made a special plea that the senator be present at Obregon's inauguration in the Mexican capital on Nov. 30.

Mr. Harding is represented by his friends as weighing carefully two considerations before making a decision. It is declared that he is anxious to take every step to cement relations between the two republics, but that on the other hand he is determined to do nothing that might be construed as an international impropriety.

As Private Citizen.

He has told his friends that if he sets foot on soil of any foreign country during his trip, he will do so solely as a private citizen and not in any sense of official representative of the United States government.

Aside from these two forces remains the question of whether the arrangement made by the president-elect can be so modified as to permit a call on the Mexican coast.

Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who was chairman of the senate subcommittee which investigated Mexican affairs, came to Brownsville with Mr. Torres and was present at the conference between the Mexican envoy and Mr. Harding. Mr. Fall said the talk had been a most friendly one and that it was his understanding that an effort would be made to change the sailing schedule as to permit a short stop at Vera Cruz or some other Mexican port.

35 CENTS TOO MUCH FOR A BAKED APPLE; REDUCTION ORDERED

Carson City, Nev., Nov. 17.—Thirty-five cents is too much for a baked apple, the Nevada public service commission held in an order to the Southern Pacific railroad yesterday, directing rates in its dining cars be reduced. The commission cited as other instances of excessive prices charged, 25 cents for a glass of milk or a cup of coffee and 25 cents for a dish of prunes.

TEN ALIVE, FIVE DEAD

Fifteen Miners Removed From Burning Coal Mine in Kentucky.

Earlington, Ky., Nov. 17.—Ten miners were rescued today from the burning Arnold coal mine near here. Bodies of five others were recovered. One other person, trapped in the mine, was still missing.

The rescue, effected by tunneling around the fire which had shut off the single entry of the mine, came twenty-four hours after the flames broke out.

The men were trapped three miles back in the mine when fire broke out yesterday afternoon and cut their escape from the entrance.

Dug Around.

After all other attempts at rescue had failed, a tunnel was dug around the burning entry and a start made for the miners. The rescue party, after forging into the mine for a good distance, however, were forced to come out because of the denseness of the smoke and gas. Later this morning, another rescue party was organized, and armed with gas masks propose to go to the end of the mine in an attempt to find the men who are trapped there.

Those entombed in the mine were three white men and thirteen negroes. One other negro in the mine was working close to the entrance and discovered the fire soon enough to make his escape. He spread the alarm and mine rescue teams from nearby coal mining cities were called on for assistance. The rescue teams worked tirelessly all night in the meager hope that the men would still be alive when reached.

Race Lines Banished.

Huddled together in a little group near the blazing entrance of the mine this morning were the wives and families of the entrapped men. They had kept a sorrowful and tireless vigil throughout the night in the faint hope their loved ones would be spared them. The whites and blacks are drawn together in the disaster affecting them both. Grief-stricken and weeping they stand watching the smoke pour out of the burning mine forming an incentive urging the rescuers to greater efforts.

POLAND DOTTED BY BABYLESS TOWNS

New York, Nov. 17.—Babyless towns thickly dot the forlorn landscape of Poland and in many of them there are no longer any births, declared Dr. Herschel C. Walker, chief of the American Relief Administration, who recently returned from that country. He supervised the distribution of American food to Polish sufferers.

All of the infants born in the stricken areas in the last two years succumbed to starvation and the diseases it introduces, or they have been removed to places where they can be properly fed, Dr. Walker said.

Hundreds of houses that once echoed a baby's laugh are gone, and whole families live in squalid dugouts without light or ventilation.

Some mothers have kept their children alive on grasses and roots made into thin, tasteless soup. Hunger brought the slaughter of cows by the wholesale, and milk can be had now only by the wealthy.

These conditions precluded maintenance of the ordinary birthrate, but other sufferings have obliterated it almost entirely in parts of Poland, said Dr. Walker. Homes have passed away with the departure of both men and women for service in the army. Emaciation of the women and the prevalence of misery on every side has made impossible or forbidden the bringing of children into a world in which only hunger, sickness and early death appear to await them.

IRISH HEARING MEETS BRITISH DISAPPROVAL

Embassy at Washington So Notifies Committee of One Hundred.

Believes Only Outcome Would Be the Spread of Propaganda.

American Association for Recognition of Irish Republic Formed.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The British embassy today notified the committee of one hundred investigating conditions in Ireland that it did not approve of the purposes to be served or the methods to be followed in the committee's hearings to begin here tomorrow and that therefore it could not accept the committee's invitation to be represented.

The embassy's reply, addressed to Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, who appointed the committee, declared the only outcome of the inquiry would be the spread of propaganda and that there was nothing in the composition of the committee itself to remove from it the idea that it was not impartial or prejudiced in advance.

Association Formed.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic was organized here today by Irish leaders from over the country who were summoned to Washington by Eamonn De Valera, president of the provisional Irish republic.

The new organization is designed to supplant the Friends of Irish Freedom and to absorb the membership of that organization and to give Mr. De Valera a vehicle for working out his plans and those of the Irish representatives.

Edward L. Doheny of Los Angeles, who presented the minority resolution for recognition of Ireland at the Democratic national convention San Francisco last June, was elected president of the new organization. The vice presidents are: Judge John W. Goff of New York; John J. Castellini of Cincinnati, and Maj. Eugene Kinkead of Jersey City. John J. Hearn of Westfield, Mass., is treasurer, and Daniel C. O'Flaherty of Richmond, Va., secretary.

The commission has been advised that numerous witnesses will make the trip from Ireland to tell of conditions. Some have already sailed. Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork, will sail Nov. 24. Most of the others, however, were expected to start the ocean voyage at earlier dates.

MYSTERY IN DEATHS OF ACTRESSES MADE CLEAR BY CONFESSION

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Confessions from the two men held in connection with deaths of two actresses, Maree Ramey and Lillian Thompson, found in Grant park Sunday morning, have cleared up nearly all the details, police said today, and have established that the girls died from alcohol and exposure and without violence.

Police still are searching for two other men who are said to have been with the girls early Saturday evening. According to the confessions, given out by the police, the two men being detained met the girls after the latter had secured the liquor which played the chief part in causing their death.

These two men, their confessions declare, left the girls at their own request in Grant park, and it is believed by the police that the girls wandered there until overcome by exposure.

No Trace of Poison.

It was said that the girls had partaken of lemon extract purchased near their home Saturday night besides the other liquor which chemical examination disclosed in their stomachs. No traces of poison were found, the police said.

The two 19-year-old youths, held in connection with the two women's deaths, are Marcus Bromberg and Harry Jorganson.

Told of Joy Ride.

Jorganson told his part in the Saturday night "joy ride" to a friend of his employer in explaining the damaged condition of an automobile belonging in his employer's garage, which he had borrowed for a ride.

Police indicated today that they accepted the story of the two youths who declared they had not given the young women any intoxicants.

MAY CANCEL ALL PERMITS

Government Makes Veiled Threat to Western Union Telegraph Company.

Washington, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A veiled threat that the permits granted for the landing of Western Union cables in the United States will be revoked unless the company continues to accord the American government the same privileges that it accords the British and other governments in handling other messages is contained in a formal statement issued today by the state department.

The Western Union Telegraph company, says an announcement issued today by the state department, not only has refused to accept any government cable messages without prepayment of tolls, but also has refused to carry at the reduced government rate messages originating outside of the United States.

"Obviously," said the department's statement, "the United States could not be expected to allow the Western Union company, an American corporation, to charge for its messages twice the rate charged for example, the British government, nor to accede to a requirement that the ordinary practice of business with respect to periodical settlement of accounts, shall be set aside in dealings with our government."

Kenosha Farmer Found Dead.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 17.—With two bullet holes in his right breast William Gitzlaff, a prominent farmer of this section, was found dead not far from his home. According to members of the family he had been despondent over ill health.

NEW BISHOP COADJUTOR OF DULUTH CONSECRATED

RT. REV. G. G. BENNETT.

Services consecrating Rev. G. G. Bennett, rector of St. Paul's parish, Minneapolis, bishop coadjutor of the Duluth diocese, were conducted in St. Paul's church, Franklin and Bryant avenue south, Minneapolis, this morning at 10:30.

Consecrators were Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, St. Louis, presiding bishop of the church; Rt. Rev. James D. Morrison, bishop of the Duluth diocese, and Rt. Rev. J. T. Tyler, Fargo, bishop of North Dakota. The presentors were Rt. Rev. Frank Arthur McElwain, bishop of the diocese of Minnesota, and Rt. Rev. William T. Remington, Rapid City, suffragan bishop of South Dakota. Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's parish, and Very Rev. E. W. Cooper, dean of the cathedral, Duluth, were the attending presbyters.

Rev. Dr. James E. Freeman of St. Mark's, Minneapolis, was the master of ceremonies. Following the consecration ceremonies a luncheon was served to the clergy and their wives. A reception to which all the Episcopal clergy of the state are invited will be given this evening.

HACKENSACK MAN IS SUDDENLY SUMMONED

Cass Lake, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jack Dean, an old resident of Hackensack, died suddenly yesterday morning while walking to his home near here. Heart trouble is given as the cause of death. Dean's relatives in Wisconsin have been notified and will arrive today to claim the body, which is at Walker's place.

MISSING MAN'S HORSES HAVE BEEN LOCATED

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Suspicion that Steve Dvorak, Iron Belt man, who has been missing many days, met with foul play is substantiated in the development that he carried $8,000 when he disappeared, according to local officials. He disappeared while on a business trip to Mercer where he went to purchase a team of horses. The horses were found by a friend who is still keeping them for the missing man. The sheriff is waiting word from Ashland county officials before arresting persons who may be charged with the man's disappearance.

WOULD EXTRADITE SIX DRY AGENTS

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Application for the extradition of the six Federal prohibition enforcement agents, wanted in connection with the shooting and death of John M. Chiapuzio, local saloonkeeper, will be filed with Governor Phillips at Madison sometime this week, District Attorney Marion F. Reed of Iron county said today.

If the governor honors the application and no unnecessary delay is occasioned, it is expected that Leo J. Grove, group chief, and his five assistants will be formally arraigned in Iron county court within the next few weeks.

FARMER FINDS SECRET.

Claims Burning Oil Causes South Dakota's "Burning Bluff."

Wheeler, S. D., Nov. 17.—The secret of "Burning Bluff" is at last discovered. Two miles north of Wheeler, on the eastern bank of the Missouri river, is a long, high bluff. Years ago the Dakota Indians told tales of a spirit which appeared there amid flames, told his will to the tribe, and vanished again amid flames. Old residents of this vicinity vouch for having seen the flames spring from the bluff. Hence the name.

Now comes a farmer to say that he has discovered oil seeping from the soft shale on his farm in the vicinity of "Burning Bluff," and that he has sent samples to an expert for examination.

ADDITIONAL SENTENCE.

Fugitive From Industrial Home Now Has Long Time to Serve.

Louise Grando, one of two girls who escaped from the Duluth Industrial home early in September, was apprehended in St. Paul and brought to Duluth this morning. In police court today she pleaded guilty to having escaped and was given another sentence of ninety days in addition to about seventy-five days which she has to serve on her other sentence.

She told the police that she had escaped by means of tying two blankets together and sliding out of the window at 1 o'clock in the morning. She then walked down Superior street and had lived four days in a flat with her husband, almost opposite the police station.

PREUS RECEIVED 134,403 PLURALITY

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Governor-elect J. A. O. Preus received a plurality of 134,403 votes in the Nov. 2 election, and President-elect W. G. Harding's plurality was 376,447 votes, complete returns tabulated today by Secretary of State Schmahl show.

Mr. Schmahl's compilation will be acted upon by the state canvassing board Nov. 23, when it will be made the official vote.

Amendments Nos. 1, 2 and 4 were approved by the voters and the third proposed amendment was defeated. Amendment No. 1 is the good roads amendment; No. 2 extends probate judge terms to four years, and No. 4 makes possible assessment of railroad property for adjacent improvements.

In the Seventh congressional district, Congressman A. J. Volstead received a plurality of 1,452 over Rev. O. J. Kvale, and in the Eighth Congressman W. L. Carss, Independent, was defeated by O. J. Larson by 1,023.

Attorney General C. L. Hilton's plurality was 195,248, and O. P. B. Jacobson, railroad and warehouse commissioner, led the Republican ticket with a plurality of 268,301 votes.

Total Vote Cast 797,945.

The total number of votes cast was 797,945. The number necessary for ratification of amendments was therefore 398,973. The official vote follows:

Amendment No. 1—For, 526,936; against, 199,603. Amendment No. 2—For, 446,959; against, 171,414. Amendment No. 3—For, 331,105; against, 217,558. Amendment No. 4—For, 488,497; against, 98,015.

MISSED GUESS BY HALF HOUR

Sum of $5,000 Reached Superior Bank Right After Robbery.

Had the robbery of the Superior State bank in the East end, Superior, occurred half an hour later than it did yesterday forenoon, the men would have got away with $5,000 more cash, according to information that came to light this morning. This additional sum of money was being carried in a bag on a street car by Sirill Gray, assistant cashier of the bank, from the First National bank of Superior to the Superior State bank, and reached that institution shortly after the robbery.

As yet no reliable clew as to where the robbers went has been obtained. A number of conflicting reports were given, among them that a big Cadillac car, which was said to have been standing in front of the bank, was seen going to Carlton, but authorities there say no Cadillac has passed through the village.

Missed Calculations.

Police and bank officials believe that the robbery had been planned with the view of getting the largest amount of money in the bank at one time, but that the robbers had been a day off in their calculations. Early in the month and shortly after the middle of the month this bank carries upwards of $40,000 in cash to meet checks issued for labor by various concerns in the East end, among which is the Daisy flour mill. This sum would have been on hand in the bank today to meet pay checks.

Every clew telephoned or reported in other ways is being investigated by Superior and Duluth police. The police are of the opinion that the men have placed a long distance between themselves and the Head of the Lakes and may be now in the Twin Cities.

Bank officials gave out the report today that an official of the National Surety company, which carried the insurance against bank robbery, made a settlement with the bank this morning for its loss. The amount of the settlement was $7,215.

DEAD MAN FOUND MAY BE SUICIDE

The body of an unidentified man was found lying under a tree beside the small creek running through Lake Shore park, whom the police and Deputy Coroner James McAuliffe believe committed suicide by hanging. The body was discovered by Earl Jacott, age 14, 210 East Second street, shortly before 11 o'clock. The boy was walking through the park for recreation.

A small strap, which had broken, was found tied to the tree and a piece of it was picked up on the ground alongside of the body. A mark on the neck indicated that the strap had been fastened about it. When the body was found it was lying face downward, the face being nearly frozen to a rock.

The man was evidently a laborer, about 35 years old, well dressed, having a new mackinaw and new overshoes. In his pockets was found $1 and a cheap watch. No papers to indicate who he was or where he came from was found.

COURT DENIES ALTERNATIVE MOTION IN DAMAGE CASE

Judge Cant in district court today denied the alternative motion of the defendant for judgment notwithstanding the verdict or for a new trial in the case of R. Emma Powell against the Great Lakes Transit corporation.

The case is one in which Mrs. Powell sued for $5,000 damages for injuries she received on Aug. 3, 1919, when she tripped over some baggage in one of the passageways on the steamer Tionesta. She had gone to the boat to bid friends good-bye. On March 18 last, a district court jury awarded her a verdict of $1,000 and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, attorneys for the corporation, asked for judgment notwithstanding the verdict or for a new trial. Charles E. Adams, attorney for Mrs. Powell, opposed the motion.

NEW RABBI WILL ADDRESS YOUNG PEOPLE

Rabbi Israel Lebendiger, who was recently elected to take charge of the Talmud Torah, will speak at a meeting of the Young Folks' league at the Duluth Hebrew institute at 8 p. m. Thursday.

The league will elect permanent officers further to direct the work of arousing interest in the proposed Duluth Jewish center. After the business meeting, there will be a dance.

Rabbi Lebendiger holds the degree of bachelor of arts from Columbia university. He also attended Talmudical academies in Russia and was graduated from the Jewish Theological seminary at New York city. He is the author of "The Minor in Jewish Law," published in the Jewish Quarterly Review of Dropsie college, Philadelphia.

Crookston Church Resolutions.

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a lecture here by Mrs. Marian Williams on "Mormonism," the churches of Crookston have adopted a resolution protesting against polygamy as alleged to be practiced by the Mormons in many parts of the United States. Mrs. Williams spoke here under the auspices of the Methodist church, one of her subjects dealing with her personal experiences in a Mormon harem. The churches have also gone on record, favoring a recent movement by the clerks in local stores protesting against the stores remaining open after 6 p. m. Christmas eve.

Get Rid of Your Fat

If you are needlessly burdened with superfluous fat, read the following carefully. See how easily others have reduced by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction. Some have reduced over a pound a day. All this has been accomplished without resorting to diet or tedious exercise.

MISS O. WHITLOW writes: "I have lost 76 pounds as result of your treatment and have never felt so well in my life as I do now."

MR. S. SANTEE writes: "I have lost 70 pounds as a result of taking your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now take long walks without becoming tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

MRS. J. G HEWITT writes: "I have taken your treatment faithfully and can say that it has also entirely relieved my rheumatism."

MRS E HORNER says. "Well, I am glad to inform you that I have lost 48 pounds in six weeks."

MISS C. FELKER says: "I thought I would let you know how I am getting along. I am feeling fine and have found the treatment pleasant to take at all times. I have not weighed, but my measurements show that I have reduced six inches from my bust, five inches from my waist, and 12 inches from my hips. Of course, I am pleased with the result."

I am a licensed practising physician and personally prescribe for each individual case, thus enabling me to select remedies that will produce not only a loss of weight harmlessly, but will relieve you of all the troublesome symptoms of overstoutness such as shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, rheumatism, gout, asthma, kidney trouble and various other troubles which often accompany overstoutness.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of your superfluous fat. My treatment is the only scientific treatment known that will produce a loss of weight without harm to the system.

You are not required to change in the slightest from your regular mode of living. There is no dieting or exercising that you have to follow. It is simple, easy and pleasant to take.

To all who are overstout I will send FREE a trial treatment and also my plan whereby I am paid only after reduction has taken place. If you so desire

Do not postpone, sit down right now and write your name and address clearly on the attached coupon or plain paper and so start on the road to the recovery of your former health and figure.

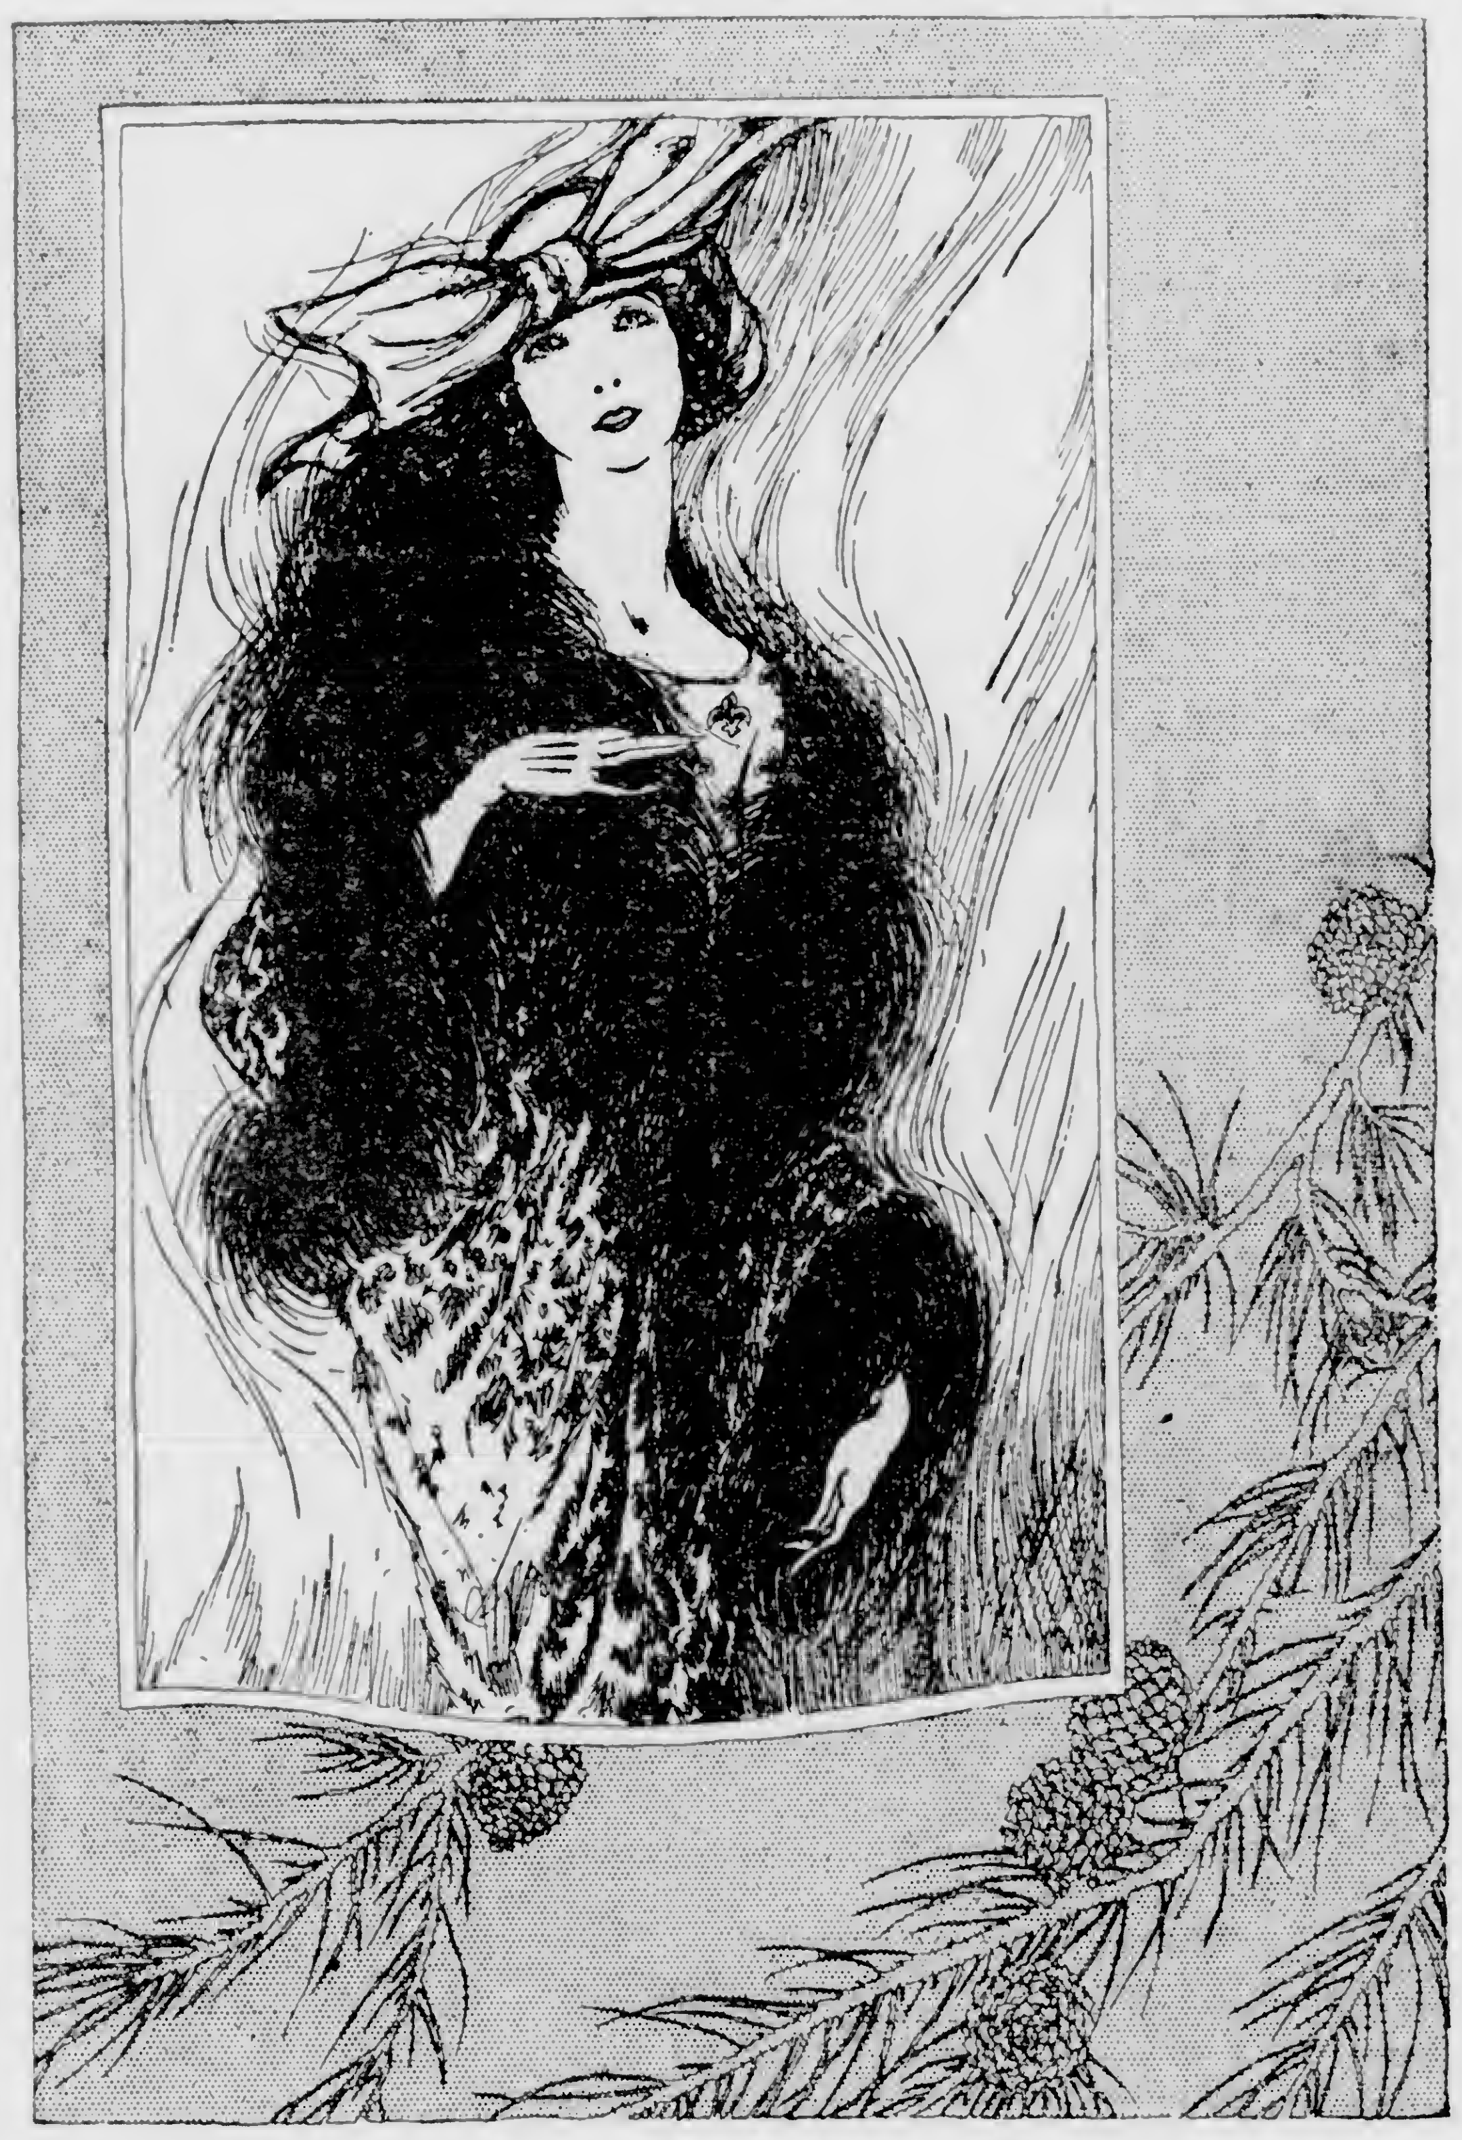
Already the Right Hand Is Wondering What the Left Is About

THE jingalingaling of Santa's SLEIGHBELLS can be heard BY those who have faithful EARS—the period of goodwill —THE heyday of the child— AND rekindled memories of BACK home! Your "Store of CHRISTMAS Gifts" is ready. ALL aisles have caught the YULETIDE spirit. And many FORWARD-looking shoppers ARE hiding away from day to DAY gifts selected from stocks WHICH show no gaps in the RANKS. Santa stops off here SATURDAYS to get his mail. SPREAD this news to all his DEVOTED little friends.



Furs of Refinement

New Furs.........Fashionable Exponents of Beauty and Worth

AT the last moment—when the woman who has long yearned for her own Fur Coat or Wrap had just about given up all hope—the clouds turned themselves inside out. The Glass Block's annual Thanksgiving selling of furs brought to Duluth a liberal quantity of the limited number of made-up garments and pieces in American stock—bought at a price which anticipated the lower prices of next year, due to the drop of pelts. Now selling on even a better basis than that.

1—It will be August of 1921 before as good a fur opportunity comes again.

2—Every fur is among all furs as sterling silver is among silver.

3—Special price concessions are placed on all Furs during this selling, making it as impossible as impossible can be to grant the wide-open privilege of exchanges and refunds.

No Exchanges No Refunds

The Gladdest Coat Tidings of the Year Shall Now Be Told.

A New Hundred Exclusive Coats and Coat Wraps.......

.....Which Fifth Avenue Thought Worth 110.00 .....to 150.00, and They May Have Been Right

The best coat purchase of years—a hundred sumptuous Coats and Coat Wraps which the designer knew full well would catch the affections of those who follow after dress distinction. What he didn't know was that they would falter at the price. We held our ear close to the ground and waited. Last week a Glass Block buyer was registered at one of the New York hotels. Tomorrow will show why.

Chamoistyn	Moleskin	Juniper

—The first column above tells the fabric story, the second indicates the fur trimming, the third suggests the colors.

—"Browns" means dryad brown, tobacco brown, beaver brown, taupe, and so on.

—Take a combination like Mole Fur and Chamoistyn, wrap mode, and you have a garment Fifth Avenue counted worth 150.00.

—Then think of full, luxurious modes, with wrappy outline, shawl or cowl collar, with acres of stitching.

—Think of loose panel backs which pretend they are blouses, or real blouse backs stitched in chenille.

—Think of Cape Wraps which add up wide ruffle upon wide ruffle, until the very top, where a big cowl-like collar talks Parisian.

—Feel that one Wrap of Mole Cloth, with a blouse back, full skirt, and mighty collar and cuffs of Australian Opossum.

—Line them all in plain or fancy silk, and you have the best hundred modes Duluth has seen for years at 89.50. First on sale tomorrow morning at 9:00.

Pioneering for Prosperity

A more healthful prosperity is about to dawn upon the nation.

With bountiful crops, better transportation, more efficient production, and an assured world market for American-made goods, pessimism is simply out of the question.

The primary markets have eased up. And whether The Glass Block advertises it or not, as better prices go into effect at these primary markets, they go into effect at The Glass Block.

For the new prosperity depends upon lower prices—increased demand—more orders—more employment—steadier incomes.

The response Duluth is giving to the better prices prevailing in practically every Glass Block Aisle shows that it is commonly understood that one's own prosperity depends greatly upon the other man's chances to be continuously employed.

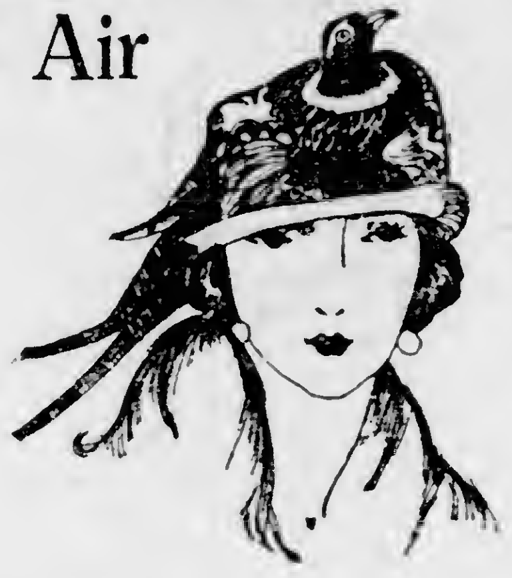
Holiday Millinery Wears a Festive Air



There's more than a little suggestion of holiday spirit about the new hats that are daily arriving.

Cellophane
Velvet
Duvetyn
Fur Combines

The new cellophane hats, or those that combine cellophane with other fabrics, are especially clever, and velvet hats wear many a gay trim of brocade, embroidery, fluffy ostrich and other trim. Duvetyn hats are entirely lovely, and the fur trimmed shapes wear their Mole, Squirrel, Marmot, Seal or Beaver very proudly.

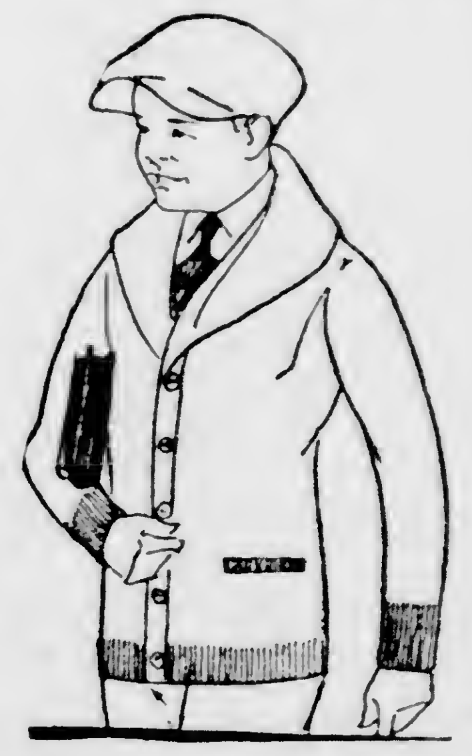
Boys' Sweaters Lately of the 6.00 Sort

3.95

JUST IN—and just in time. And it makes one wonder how much somebody lost in letting the Boys' Shop have these sweaters to sell for the rest of this week at 3.95.

For these weighty, wearing, coat and slip-on styles were supposed to sell for 6.00

SIZES
26 to 34



Some of these sweaters are in solid colors, and some in the combination effects so suggestive of sixty-yard dashes, and moments when a bit of swagger is relished by the best of young men.

The 3.95 is good for this week only, since it is below present-day regulation price.

READY TO FIGHT SNOW ON STREETS

With the close of paving and sewer improvements for the season the attention of the public works department is turned towards the combatting of snow during the coming winter. Streets and sidewalks must be kept open, and to do this a much larger equipment is necessary this winter than last. Larger plows and tractors and more of them will be used, according to J. A. Farrell, commissioner of public works.

Recently the city council authorized the purchase of a giant caterpillar tractor for use on the streets. It is a ten-ton tractor and will be equipped with two wide plows. It will be able to do three times the amount of work formerly done with the trucks, and in the summer it can be used to great advantage, as it can pull an enormous load.

The department has organized forty horse-drawn plows and three trucks with plows attached, in addition to the new tractor. The equipment with the men to handle it will be able to keep the streets and avenues clear, even during the worst storms of the winter. If a storm breaks during the night, the entire crew and full equipment will report for duty at 4 a. m., and by the time the people are starting downtown the walks and streets will be fairly clean. The crews are apportioned to different sections of the city and will continue their work until everything is open. If the storm continues, it is sometimes necessary to keep the men at work for a stretch of twenty-four hours. In the event of a protracted storm the men are divided into shifts, taking turns on the trucks and plows as long as the storm lasts.

Commissioner Farrell is confident there will be less congestion from snow in the city this winter than ever before.

DRAFT BILL FOR NEW ROAD BODY

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Minnesota's good roads law, to be enacted at the next legislature following success of Amendment No. 1 at the polls, probably will be in charge of a commission of five persons to be appointed for a term of not less than three nor more than five years and to serve without pay.

Preliminary work of drafting the enabling act was begun yesterday in the offices of the state highway commission. While nothing official has been announced it is understood that the suggestions will embody these fundamentals:

Commission to direct operation of the law.

Graduated motor license fee:

State motor law standardizing traffic.

Promises were made during the campaign "to keep this project out of politics." To do this it has been suggested that the commission serve without pay and that it be appointed to serve at least five years. The motor license fees will be so graduated that the gross average will not exceed $18 a car. The state motor traffic laws are expected to be so standardized by almost a dozen states and will be sufficiently broad to include modern transportation problems.

PREPARE FOR THANKSGIVING

Union Services Planned for Several Sections of City.

Churches throughout the city are planning union services in observance of Thanksgiving day. Definite programs are not yet fully outlined.

At the First Presbyterian church there will be a meeting of the congregations from the First Methodist, First Baptist Pilgrim Congregational, Endion Methodist, First Christian and First Presbyterian churches.

Services in the West end will probably be held at the Swedish tabernacle. Churches to be represented will include the Swedish Mission, Swedish Methodist, Swedish Baptist and Norwegian-Danish Methodist.

In West Duluth Rev. R. W. Adair of Merritt Memorial will preach at union services in the Holy Apostles Episcopal church where the congregations from Asbury Methodist, West Duluth Baptist, Westminster Presbyterian, Merritt Memorial Methodist and Holy Apostles Episcopal churches will meet.

Separate Services.

Among the churches which will hold separate services for their own congregations are Trinity Cathedral, St. Paul's Episcopal and the First Norwegian Lutheran. It is expected that other churches in the suburbs will also complete plans for union services within the next few days.

The Herald will run a church page of Thanksgiving day services in the issue of next Wednesday. All announcements must be in The Herald office by next Monday.

HALF MILLION LEFT TO CHURCH AND CHARITY

Chicago, Nov. 17.—More than half a million dollars is bequeathed to Catholic churches, hospitals, charities and schools by the will of the late Angela C. Gormully, who was the widow of Richard P. Gormully, bicycle manufacturer. The will was filed for probate yesterday and listed the total value of the estate at $700,000, all of it being left to charity except bequests to relatives and friends which totaled less than $200,000.

The largest bequests are $60,000 to the Roman Catholic North American college at Rome, Italy, and $100,000 to the Catholic bishop at Chicago for the benefit of the poor.

LUMBERMEN BENEFIT BY INDUSTRIAL SLUMP

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 17.—The industrial slump over the country that has thrown thousands of men out of work is not deplored by lumbermen who are planning on a busy season in the woods in this section as they claim there has been an increase in applications for woods jobs, many having left the mining towns for the woods, and wages are said to have experienced a corresponding drop.

Compensation for Domestic.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—Compensation for twelve years' service as a domestic was set at $4,200 here yesterday in the superior court when Elizabeth Bounds was awarded that sum in a suit against Minnie E. Galbreath. Mrs. Galbreath contended Miss Bounds had agreed to work for her room and board.

RINKS WILL OPEN SOON.

City Will Provide Skating Facilities at Nine Places.

Capt. Henry Cleveland, in charge of the park department, announced yesterday that he hoped to have the city skating rinks in condition for use by the first of December. It would be possible to have them ready sooner than that were it not for the fact that the ground is not frozen hard enough to warrant permanent ice, said Capt. Cleveland. The cold weather will determine just when the rinks will be opened, however.

Should a period of mild weather follow the past week of cold, it would postpone the opening date, he said. Nine rinks are planned for this winter and the workmen are busy getting them in shape to flood as soon as the ground is frozen sufficiently.

URGES HOMES FOR ORPHANS.

Private Families Can Reduce Delinquency, Says Miss Sill.

If Duluthians would take more orphans into their homes and give them the tender care to which childhood is entitled, instead of making it necessary to send so many into overcrowded orphanages, juvenile delinquency would be greatly diminished, Miss Corabelle Sill, executive secretary, told members of the St. Louis County Child Welfare board yesterday at its meeting at the Commercial club.

"The education of a child in a private family is far superior to that given at an orphanage," Miss Sill declared. "And it doesn't cost half as much to support a child in this manner. There are many Duluth families now caring for several orphans in addition to their own children."

Among those at the meeting, all of whom indorsed Miss Sill's statement, were Fred Ward, Harvey Hoshour, Dr. O. W. Rowe, Clyde Durgin, Mrs. Willard Bayliss of Eveleth, and Mrs. Peter Schaeffer of Ely.

MERRY CLOWN VISITS SCHOOLS.

Jo Jo Combines Amusement With Lessons in Hygiene.

Jo Jo, merry clown of the canvas top, is combining striking lessons in hygiene with his delightful entertainments in Duluth schools this week. He is visiting the county today and tomorrow, but he will return here Friday and will remain Monday and Tuesday.

Working under the direction of the American Red Cross, northern division, Jo Jo in his grotesque way impresses the little ones with the value of right living and proper exercises to preserve good health.

He is also somewhat of a musician, dancer and performer of magic tricks. Most of his tricks he learned while connected with theater and circus for the last twelve years. In 1918 he was manager of the municipal pier football team, which won the championship of America.

Yesterday Jo Jo visited the Liberty, Franklin and Jackson schools. C. H. Barnes, superintendent of the county system, is in charge of his visit to the rural schools. Jo Jo is planning to visit every school in Duluth before he leaves here.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY, OLD RESIDENT SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Flora McGinnis, aged 67, wife of Archie McGinnis, dropped dead of cerebral hemorrhage last evening as she was walking down town to attend an entertainment. She was accompanied by Mrs. Zimmerman of Maple, Wis., at the time.

A police ambulance was summoned but she had died before reaching the hospital. Her body was taken to Grady & Horgan's undertaking rooms, where funeral arrangements are awaiting word from out-of-town relatives.

Mrs. McGinnis had been a resident of Duluth for thirty-one years. In recent years Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis have been making their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barber, 420 East First street. Besides Mrs. Barber, she leaves one other daughter and two sons, Mrs. Frank A. Summers, and John and Frank McGinnis, of this city; five sisters, Mrs. Angus McDonald and Mrs. George Caven of Duluth; Mrs. Catherine McDonald of Minneapolis; Mrs. R. McPherson of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Nell McDonald of Lancaster, Ont., and two brothers, John McLachlan of Laido, B. C., and Ranold McLachlan of Lancaster, Ont.

Mrs. McGinnis was apparently in the best of heatlh yesterday and ate a hearty meal last evening.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN" TO BE READ AT HIGH SCHOOL

The expression classes of Duluth Central high school are bringing to Duluth, Miss Hortense Nielsen, a dramatic reader, who will give an interpretation of Drinkwater's play, "Abraham Lincoln," in the high school auditorium at 8:15, Friday, Dec. 3. Miss Gemmel, who is at the head of the English department of the school, urges all teachers and pupils of other schools to attend.

Mr. Hoffman Develops in Troco the flavor which made his butter famous

The process of making is essentially the same. Troco is churned from rich, snowy coconut fat instead of butter fat. Care and skill imparts the fine flavor which gives both Troco and butter their sweetness.

Thus the man who can make the finest butter knows how to make fancy Troco. Such a man supervises its production.

Famous in the butter world

He is A. E. Hoffman, for 30 years butter maker, judge and teacher.

Mr. Hoffman is famous in the butter world for the peculiar sweetness and delicacy of his butter. He puts the same sweetness and delicacy into Troco.

Finest plant in the country

We have built Mr. Hoffman a fine plant—of white tile and concrete—elaborate in equipment—perfect in sanitation.

This enables him to standardize the perfection of Troco and assure the user the unvarying deliciousness of every pound.

Overexertion Kills Boy.

Washburn, Wis., Nov. 17.—Overexertion is believed to have caused the death of Milton, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Daly of this city, as he dropped dead after returning from a run to and from a drug store. Rev. Mr. Brucki conducted funeral services.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

TAX SHOULD BE REPEALED

Collecting Taxes on Dividends at the Source Should End.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 17.—"The corporation income tax should be repealed; we should stop using corporations as collection agencies, and each individual should be permitted to pay his own income tax," said R. G. Elliott of Chicago, chairman of the committee on Federal taxation of the National Association of Credit Men, yesterday when he addressed the Ohio Bankers' association here. Mr. Elliott said in part.

"The present method of collecting taxes on dividends at the source should be discarded just as it was discarded several years ago with respect to salary, wages, rents and interest. Then, collect the proper income tax from each individual according to his ability to pay.

Ability to Pay the Basis.

"The only lasting foundation on which a system of tax on income can be erected is ability to pay. It must be borne in mind that every tax collected is paid ultimately from the income of individuals. Therefore, ability to pay rests with the individual and the individual should be used to the greatest possible extent as the unit to which income taxation is applied.

"Equality of distribution of the burden of the tax among individuals is essential. Unless this principle is followed, no system of taxation can endure. Under our present system of trying to tax large groups of individuals (corporate shareholders) en masse, we have the spectacle of individuals enjoying the same measure of prosperity bearing tax burdens vastly different in amount, often one bearing five or ten times the tax of his neighbor who is equally prosperous.

No Excess Profits Tax.

"The excess profits tax must go. Corporate shareholders must pay taxes just the same as partners and individuals now pay them.

"Income taxes should reach all the income of the country once and once only; therefore, the National Association of Credit Men has recommended that the corporation earnings which are not paid out in dividends (thus becoming subject to individual income taxes) should be taxed at rates corresponding to the rates of tax paid by an individual or partner on the earnings of his business which are saved and remain in the business.

"These corporate earnings once having paid their tax should not be taxed a second time if later distributed.

Could Pay Individually.

"These provisions should be coupled with a provision that corporate shareholders could elect to pay taxes individually on all the earnings just as partners do, for in this manner, full and complete equity would be accomplished.

"The graduation of the rate of tax on the saved income of the corporation could with much equity be based on the per cent of the total current net income for the year which is left free from tax in the hands of the individual shareholders, thus avoiding the complications of determining invested capital which has caused so much trouble, expense and inequity under the present law.

"These provisions would guarantee substantial equity for all and absolute equity for the larger portion of the earnings of industry."

DORMITORY MEN TO OPEN SEASON

The members of the Y. M. C. A. dormitory will initiate their social activities for the season tonight at 6:15, when they hold their first banquet of the year. About 140 men who live in the Y. M. C. A. building will be present.

A strong program has been arranged by the committee in charge. Music will be furnished during the banquet by several members of the Duluth Central high school orchestra, directed by their conductor, Carl Borgwall.

The general program will begin at 6 p. m., with a procession of a tin band through the hallways, beginning at the top floor and ending in the lobby. At 6:13 p. m. the attention call will be sounded in the lobby and promptly at 6:15 the chow and assembly calls will be heard.

The program includes a talk on the topic, "Life Is Just One Darn Thing After Another," by C. S. Mitchell of the Duluth News Tribune, who will leave soon to take charge of his new work in Washington, D. C., for Mr. Barnes and Mr. Hoover. Glen Schroeder of the American Exchange National bank, one of the old members of the dormitory, and John Samuel, educational director of the "Y" and a new addition to the dormitory, will each give a short toast to the "Old Line" and to the "New Line" respectively—referring to the line of dormitory men.

The musical program includes several numbers by O. E. Brown and L. Kevill Larson, who are members of the dormitory. They will be accompanied by P. R. Marshall.

James William Buel Dead.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 17.—James William Buel, journalist, author and editor, whose name appeared on the title pages of fifty-four works, some of which contained from ten to fifteen volumes each, died here yesterday. His books covered a wide range, from "Legends of the Ozarks" to a work on the history and mythology of music. His compilation of stories of the Bible is said to have reached a sale of more than 1,300,000 copies. Mr. Buel was born in Golconda, Ill., in 1849.

AN ENEMY TO GOOD HEALTH

Good health has no greater enemy than constipation. You cannot "keep fit" for work or play if the bowels are irregular or clogged with a decomposed mass of undigested food from which the blood picks up disease-causing impurities and carries them throughout the entire system. Foley Cathartic Tablets are mild but sure in action. They banish biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach and other ills caused by indigestion. DICKINSON SUCCEEDS CAL E. STONE ON G. N.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—A. J. Dickinson was yesterday appointed to succeed Cal E. Stone as passenger traffic manager of the Great Northern railroad, according to an announcement by William P. Kenney, vice president in charge of traffic. E. H. Wilde was appointed general passenger agent. Frank L. Hay, superintendent of dining and sleeping car service, resigned and will go with J. M. Gruber on the Cuba Railroad company system in Cuba. Wallace D. O'Brien was appointed general agent of the freight department to succeed the late P. O. Pheeney. The changes probably will be effective Dec. 1.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c-30c.

ELLIS LEWIS GARRETSON, Tacoma, Wash., Imperial Potentate.

CHARLES C. JONES, Duluth, Illustrious Potentate Aad Temple.

This is Shrine day in Duluth and scores of members of the mystic order are here from various points of the Northwest to see the ceremonial which Aad temple will put on tonight and to greet the imperial potentate of North America, Ellis Lewis Garretson of Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Garretson arrived last night with his suite and got his last good sleep for some days at the Spalding hotel. He is on his official tour of visitation to the various temples on the continent and is a very busy man. With him on the journey are other imperial officers, and here and there he adds to his retinue when locally or nationally noted Shriners join him for a brief part of the trip. Many are these satelites, but the imperial potentate continues to glitter as the bright particular star.

During his stay in Duluth Mr. Garretson is the special guest of Charles C. Jones, illustrious potentate of Aad temple of Duluth, and a rather busy morning was spent by them, accompanied by others from outside and from this city.

Parade and Ceremonial.

The chief thing this afternoon of public importance was the parade, which took place at 2:30. The local and visiting nobles, with the temple band and Aad patrol, formed in front of the Shrine auditorium at Second avenue east and First street, marched to Fifth avenue west, then down to Superior street to the Spalding, where the imperial potentate joined them and the parade resumed along Superior street, ending at the Shrine auditorium. The patrol and band, in their gaudy uniforms, and the other Shriners in their red fezzes, afforded a picturesque appearance and one worth while seeing.

This morning candidates for the initiation of tonight reported at the auditorium and a business session was held early this afternoon. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the first section of the ceremonial began and at 6 o'clock a buffet luncheon will be served in the banquet hall of the auditorium. At 7:30 a band concert will be given and at 8 o'clock Duluth's famous organization, the Imperial Shrine Girls, will give an entertainment under direction of Noble A. F. M. Custance. At 9 o'clock tonight the grand entry of the imperial officers and the temple divan will take place, which will be followed by an exhibition drill by the patrol, after which the ceremonial will be resumed. It will probably be a late hour before the final victim is properly subdued and the ceremonial ended.

MANY HORSEMEN ARE TO ATTEND MEETING

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Horsemen from many states will be personally present at the annual meeting and banquet of the Horse Association of America to be held Dec. 1 in Chicago during the International Live Stock exposition week.

Maj. Stanley Koch, United States army, the winner of the recent cavalry endurance test, covering 300 miles in five days' going, and Capt. Scott, United States army, head of the American Remount association, will be there. Harry Wooster Smith of international fame as a horseman will entertain the guests at the banquet with an illustrated talk on "The Artist and the Animal." Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for the province of Alberta, Can., will be a guest of honor and will also address the company assembled for the annual dinner. Wherever he is known in this country, Duncan Marshall is tremendously admired by horsemen and the general public alike.

NIVELLE IS GREETED AT MILWAUKEE SPEECH

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 17.—A rousing reception was given by Gen. Robert George S. Nivelle, French warrior of Verdun, who spoke here last night at the auditorium.

"The best League of Nations is the friendship between the great republics of America and Europe—the United States and France. Many of your children are lying under the soil of France. Their graves will never be forgotten. I cannot imagine a friendship founded on a stronger or more enduring basis. These bonds of friendship will ever hold us closer and closer for peace and justice," Gen. Nivelle said.

The French soldier spoke optimistically of the future of France, saying that the restoration of the republic would be completed within the next few years.

MORALITY CONSTABLE DIES FROM WOUNDS

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 17.—James Uttley, provincial morality constable, died yesterday from wounds received in a shooting affray last Thursday. This makes the second death, Inspector Alex McCurdy, leader of the morality squad, having been killed at the time. Jack Dineen, a third member of the morality squad, who was wounded, is recovering.

"Curley" O'Neill, who is alleged to have started the shooting, is being held at Moose Jaw and will be brought here.

"John Brown," who, according to evidence given at the inquest, shot McCurdy and Uttley, and who, police claim, is James Buller, alias Bullard, is being sought.

MOTHERS' CLUB ASKS STREET CAR EXTENSION

A conference between members of the city council and representatives of the Mothers' club of the Ensign school was held at the city hall this morning to discuss measures looking to an extension of the Piedmont avenue car line. This question has been presented to the city council twice before, but nothing has been done towards bringing it about. The appeal from the Mothers' club today was in an effort to arrive at something definite.

At the conference to be held with officials of the Duluth Street Railway company relative to the improvement of the service, it is expected this question will also be discussed and some definite reply made by Mr. Warren or President Robertson.

The conference that was to have been held this afternoon between the commissioners and the street railway officials has been postponed on account of Mr. Warren being called out of the city by the death of his mother. He will return tomorrow morning and will set a date when the conference can be held. President Robertson, who was expected to be present at the conference, is in the East and will not return for some time.

TRAIN ROBBERS GOT AT LEAST $3,500,000

"The loss in the Burlington mail car robbery here Saturday night will total at least $3,500,000, it was made known here today, when additional postoffice officials came to assist the local investigators and a check of the insurance on the pouches was made.

"The sack found, which had been ripped open, contained $800,000 in government bonds, the investigators said. The bonds were en route from San Francisco to Washington, D. C., and it is possible that a larger amount than that was contained in the bag. Officers made a thorough search, but no more sacks were recovered.

"Merle Phillips, the 20-year-old mail sorter on the train, sticks to his story that he merely stood watch on the locomotive while two others did the actual robbing. Officers, however, are convinced his story is partially untrue."

Fairly Accurate.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17.—An estimate that the amount of property stolen from a mail car in Council Bluffs Saturday night will total $3,500,000 is fairly accurate, in the opinion of L. J. Patterson, superintendent of mails at that place.

Mr. Patterson said the figure reported in the newspaper Nonpareil would "come pretty close" to the amount stolen.

Postmaster George Hughes, when questioned regarding the amount of the loss, said he thought the Nonpareil's information was correct, but that he was not in a position to go into details. Assistant Postmaster Fred Johnson at Council Bluffs said he "could not see where the newspaper got its figures," but that he was not in a position to contradict the Nonpareil's account.

WATER INVESTIGATION.

State Board Not Expected to Get at Job Before Next Spring.

Even though the city council has authorized the survey of the water plant and the sewer system, it is doubtful if the work can be started before spring. In the opinion of Commissioner P. G. Phillips of the public utilities department. The work will take a long time, but when completed the city will be in possession of facts that will show just what is needed at the time and what steps will be necessary to safeguard the water supply of the future.

The resolution, which was introduced as a result of the agitation for a survey by The Herald, provides for the Minnesota state board of health to make the survey, or to employ such experts as in their judgment are deemed necessary. City Clerk Fred D. Ash yesterday notified the state authorities of the council's action.

The survey to be made will include a complete investigation of the source of water supply, the currents, the quality of water furnished and whether there is any contamination. It will also determine whether there is any danger of the sewage which flows into the bay and lake reaching the intake pipe at the pumping station. The final report will outline just what will be necessary to make the water supply permanently safe, and what will have to be done relative to treating the sewage as advocated by The Herald.

DECISION CONTRARY TO RULING OF BUREAU

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—A decision by Federal Judge Anderson here giving a soldiers' insurance to his aged grandmother is contrary to the ruling of the war risk insurance bureau that insurance disposed of by a soldier will revert to the state unless another beneficiary is specifically designated in the policy.

Without the court's decision, payments on a $10,000 policy of government insurance would have gone to half brothers of the soldier. The decision also held that cousins are not within the permitted class of beneficiaries.

When the soldier, Warner Johnson, was stopped from making his grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Chappell, of Oakland City, Ind., his beneficiary on account of a bureau ruling that she was not within the permitted class, the evidence showed he made out his policy to his estate, and then willed all his property to his grandmother and a cousin.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 17.—Governor Lynn J. Frazier spent $200.08 in his campaign for re-election, according to his expense account filed with the secretary of state, listed as follows: Railroad transportation, $124.75, hotel and meals, $49.70, and gas, oil and telephone, $25.63.

Man and Livestock Burned.

Rochester, Minn., Nov. 17.—William A. Jones, aged 35, was burned to death and seven horses and thirty-one head of cattle cremated when the barn on the O. M. Ketchum farm, north of Eyota, burned to the ground.

Calumet Fire Blame.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 17.—Investigating of last Saturday's fire in the Keckonen building that caused an estimated loss of $50,000 reveals that the oil and furnace in the basement where the fire was first thought to have originated were not touched so the conclusion is that defective wiring started the blaze. Insurance Adjuster Wright of Marquette is here fixing the damage.

ELLIS LEWIS GARRETSON,
Tacoma, Wash., Imperial Potentate.

CHARLES C. JONES,
Duluth, Illustrious Potentate Aad Temple.

This is Shrine day in Duluth and [illegible] members of the mystic order are here from various points of the [illegible] to see the ceremonial which Aad temple will put on tonight and to greet the imperial potentate of North America, Ellis Lewis Garretson of Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Garretson arrived last night with his suite and got his first good sleep for some days at the Spalding hotel. He is on his official tour of visitation to the various temples on the continent and is a very busy man. With him on the journey are other imperial officers, and here and there he adds to his retinue when locally or nationally noted Shriners join him for a brief part of the trip. Many are these satellites, but the imperial potentate continues to glitter as the bright particular star.

During his stay in Duluth Mr. Garretson is the special guest of Charles C. Jones, illustrious potentate of Aad temple of Duluth, and a rather busy morning was spent by them, accompanied by others from outside and from this city.

Parade and Ceremonial.

The first thing this afternoon of public importance was the parade, which took place at 2:30. The local and visiting nobles, with the temple band and Aad patrol, formed in front of the Shrine auditorium at Second avenue east and First street, marched to Fifth avenue west, then down to Superior street to the Spalding, where the imperial potentate joined them and the parade returned along Superior street, ending at the Shrine auditorium. The patrol and band, in their gaudy uniforms, and the other Shriners in their red fezzes, afforded a picturesque appearance and one worth while seeing.

This morning candidates for the initiation of tonight reported at the auditorium and a business session was held early this afternoon. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the first section of the ceremonial began and at 6 o'clock a buffet luncheon will be served in the banquet hall of the auditorium. At 7:30 a band concert will be given and at 8 o'clock Duluth's famous organization, the Imperial Shrine Girls, will give an entertainment under direction of Noble A. P. M. Custance. At 9 o'clock tonight the grand entry of the imperial officers and the temple divan will take place, which will be followed by an exhibition drill by the patrol, after which the ceremonial will be resumed. It will probably be a late hour before the final victim is properly subdued and the ceremonial ended.

MANY HORSEMEN ARE TO ATTEND MEETING

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Horsemen from many states will be personally present at the annual meeting and banquet of the Horse Association of America to be held Dec. 1 in Chicago during the International Live Stock exposition week.

Maj. Stanley Koch, United States army, the winner of the recent cavalry endurance test, covering 300 miles in five days' going, and Capt. Scott, United States army, head of the American Remount association, will be there. Harry Wooster Smith of international fame as a horseman will entertain the guests at the banquet with an illustrated talk on "The Artist and the Animal." Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for the province of Alberta, Can., will be a guest of honor and will also address the company assembled for the annual dinner. Wherever he is known in this country, Duncan Marshall is tremendously admired by horsemen and the general public alike.

NIVELLE IS GREETED AT MILWAUKEE SPEECH

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 17.—A rousing reception was given by Gen. Robert George S. Nivelle, French warrior of Verdun, who spoke here last night at the auditorium.

"The best League of Nations is the friendship between the great republics of America and Europe—the United States and France. Many of your children are lying under the soil of France. Their graves will never be forgotten. I cannot imagine a friendship founded on a stronger or more enduring basis. These bonds of friendship will ever hold us closer and closer for peace and justice," Gen. Nivelle said.

The French soldier spoke optimistically of the future of France, saying that the restoration of the republic would be completed within the next few years.

MORALITY CONSTABLE DIES FROM WOUNDS

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 17.—James Uttley, provincial morality constable, died yesterday from wounds received in a shooting affray last Thursday. This makes the second death, Inspector Alex McCurdy, leader of the morality squad, having been killed at the time. Jack Dineen, a third member of the morality squad, who was wounded, is recovering.

"Curley" O'Neill, who is alleged to have started the shooting, is being held at Moose Jaw and will be brought here.

"John Brown," who, according to evidence given at the inquest, shot McCurdy and Uttley, and who, police claim, is James Buller, alias Bullard, is being sought.

MOTHERS' CLUB ASKS STREET CAR EXTENSION

A conference between members of the city council and representatives of the Mothers' club of the Ensign school was held at the city hall this morning to discuss measures looking to an extension of the Piedmont avenue car line. This question has been presented to the city council twice before, but nothing has been done towards bringing it about. The appeal from the Mothers' club today was in an effort to arrive at something definite.

At the conference to be held with officials of the Duluth Street Railway company relative to the improvement of the service, it is expected this question will also be discussed and some definite reply made by Mr. Warren or President Robertson.

The conference that was to have been held this afternoon between the commissioners and the street railway officials has been postponed on account of Mr. Warren being called out of the city by the death of his mother. He will return tomorrow morning and will set a date when the conference can be held. President Robertson, who was expected to be present at the conference, is in the East and will not return for some time.

"The loss in the Burlington mail car robbery here Saturday night will total at least $3,500,000, it was made known here today, when additional postoffice officials came to assist the local investigators and a check of the insurance on the pouches was made.

"The sack found, which had been ripped open, contained $800,000 in government bonds, the investigators said. The bonds were en route from San Francisco to Washington, D. C., and it is possible that a larger amount than that was contained in the bag. Officers made a thorough search, but no more sacks were recovered.

"Merle Phillips, the 20-year-old mail sorter on the train, sticks to his story that he merely stood watch on the locomotive while two others did the actual robbing. Officers, however, are convinced his story is partially untrue."

Fairly Accurate.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17.—An estimate that the amount of property stolen from a mail car in Council Bluffs Saturday night will total $3,500,000 is fairly accurate, in the opinion of L. J. Patterson, superintendent of mails at that place.

Mr. Patterson said the figure reported in the newspaper Nonpareil would "come pretty close" to the amount stolen.

Postmaster George Hughes, when questioned regarding the amount of the loss, said he thought the Nonpareil's information was correct, but that he was not in a position to go into details. Assistant Postmaster Fred Johnson at Council Bluffs said he "could not see where the newspaper got its figures," but that he was not in a position to contradict the Nonpareil's account.

WATER INVESTIGATION.

State Board Not Expected to Get at Job Before Next Spring.

Even though the city council has authorized the survey of the water plant and the sewer system, it is doubtful if the work can be started before spring, in the opinion of Commissioner P. G. Phillips of the public utilities department. The work will take a long time, but when completed the city will be in possession of facts that will show just what is needed at the time and what steps will be necessary to safeguard the water supply of the future.

The resolution, which was introduced as a result of the agitation for a survey by The Herald, provides for the Minnesota state board of health to make the survey, or to employ such experts as in their judgment are deemed necessary. City Clerk Fred D. Ash yesterday notified the state authorities of the council's action.

The survey to be made will include a complete investigation of the source of water supply, the currents, the quality of water furnished and whether there is any contamination. It will also determine whether there is any danger of the sewage which flows into the bay and lake reaching the intake pipe at the pumping station. The final report will outline just what will be necessary to make the water supply permanently safe, and what will have to be done relative to treating the sewage as advocated by The Herald.

DECISION CONTRARY TO RULING OF BUREAU

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—A decision by Federal Judge Anderson here giving a soldiers' insurance to his aged grandmother is contrary to the ruling of the war risk insurance bureau that insurance disposed of by a soldier will revert to the state unless another beneficiary is specifically designated in the policy.

Without the court's decision, payments on a $10,000 policy of government insurance would have gone to half brothers of the soldier. The decision also held that cousins are not within the permitted class of beneficiaries.

When the soldier, Warner Johnson was stopped from making his grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Chappell, of Oakland City, Ind., his beneficiary on account of a bureau ruling that she was not within the permitted class, the evidence showed he made out his policy to his estate, and then willed all his property to his grandmother and a cousin.

inherent to the middleman. These risks can be best absorbed and insured against by adopting the co-operative principle of marketing.

"A comparison of private business and co-operative business helps to make clear why co-operative organizations not infrequently find difficulties in securing needed banking assistance. In private business the basis of credit is the character of the individual and the performance of his business, his tangible assets and his volume. The bank loans, apparently on the basis of tangible assets.

"In co-operative business the same essential credit requirements hold. It is necessary for the co-operative association to give the banking interests reasonable assurance of permanence. This requirement is fully met by the co-operative association when it issues capital stock, establishes a place of business, and chooses a management in which men in general have confidence."

Similar programs are advocated for the handling of farm timber, eggs, hay and roughage, wool, dairy products and other farm products.

Taking up the matter of livestock marketing, Mr. Hughes says:

Livestock Marketing.

"At least 70 per cent of the livestock in Minnesota is shipped through co-operative associations. There is reason to doubt whether the present form of organization is sufficiently substantial as a basis on which to build a terminal selling agency. The need of such an agency, through which the farmer can come direct to the packer, is apparent, and from every standpoint desirable. It is suggested; First, that local associations incorporate under the co-operative law of 1919, with capital stock sufficient to make good any agreements entered into with the Central selling agency.

"Second, that, in order to insure a dependable volume of business, the local association contracts their business for a term of years to the central association.

"Third, that a central sales agency, representing local association, be created to receive and sell livestock.

"Fourth, that such sales agency be made, if desired by the farmers, a member of an existing livestock exchange, on terms assuring the farmer the maintenance of co-operative principle of profits distribution on the basis of patronage."

be higher and that it will be a good thing to hold it if they are in a position to do so."

Writing that the South Dakota Farm Bureau federation "does not believe a 'wheat strike' necessary or desirable for the country," Secretary P. J. Crandall of Huron said, "our method of handling the situation is to furnish farmers with accurate information regarding the wheat market to help them in determining what action is best for their needs. The farmers will hold their wheat off the market without a doubt if they are able to get credit which will allow them to carry their products. The credit situation is the key to the whole matter. We are advising that the world wheat situation warrants holding of the crop if credit allows and using our best efforts to help bring financial relief."

Urge Holding of Wheat.

Officially the Missouri Farm Bureau federation has made no recommendation. A. J. Meyer, at Columbia, executive secretary, wrote: "As individuals," he added, "all members of our executive committee take the attitude that where farmers can afford to hold wheat they should by all means do so. This is on the theory that present prices are about as low as we can reasonably expect them to go. Since we are not in a position to guarantee $3 wheat, we can hardly advise farmers to hold for $3."

The Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation does not endorse "strikes" as a means of controlling the price of farm products, wrote Secretary C. A. Peters of Rosendale, Wis. "According to the present situation in regard to wheat we believe that the low prices are unjustifiable and that it would be good business policy for the farmers to discontinue heavy marketing and allow the market to adjust itself."

From Iowa, E. H. Cunningham of Ames, secretary of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation, wrote, "We realize that it is the most difficult thing to hold grain and we do not recommend that it be held to arbitrarily force prices to unreasonable height. Of course we have no credit system whereby we can hold all the grains of the country, but we are advising our farmers to slow down in marketing for the present until this period of demoralization in prices has somewhat recovered."

to take the advice of departmental subordinates.

Many Vital Questions.

When President Wilson was elected in 1912, Secretary Knox recognized the importance of getting early co-operation between the outgoing and incoming administrations, especially on the Mexican situation, which was then acute. Huntington Wilson, assistant secretary of state, was selected to advise the new administration about pending matters. However, there is no comparison between the number of vital questions which as a consequence of the war are before the government departments today and the routine matters of eight years ago.

For instance, the treasury department is in many respects even more important than the department of state nowadays because the finances of the whole world bear a relationship to the action of the United States treasury. A month's time spent by the new secretary of the treasury before he actually assumes responsibility would be invaluable.

Would Furnish All Data.

Indeed, there is no reason why all the time between the November election and inauguration should not be employed by members of the new administration in studying closely the problems they are to tackle later on. The incumbent administration would have no objection to opening all files and furnishing all data. In fact in a good many cases the interests of the United States government abroad would be better protected if there were conference between the two American administrations. In several cases foreigners have attempted to take advantage of the transition period to further their own interests.

The whole thing is purely a matter of courtesy and is not covered by any particular precedent. In some cases cabinet officers have stayed on after their successors were appointed but, while assistance has been helpful, the responsibility of the new official dates from the moment he takes the oath of office and he has no time for research or investigation. A month or two before the inauguration affords a better opportunity to get hold of routine questions because it is a sort of slack period in government. When once a new administration is installed the avalanche begins.

In a Daze for Weeks.

Office seekers and political friends consume time that should otherwise be devoted to learning the ropes. Many a cabinet official has been in a daze for weeks after he took office simply because he has no time to get his bearings but must take immediate responsibility for everything in his own department.

NUXATED IRON

Increases strength of delicate, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time in many instances. Used by over 4,000,000 people annually and highly endorsed by former United States Senators and Members of Congress, well-known physicians and former Public Health officials. Ask your doctor or druggist about it. Avoid dangerous substitutes.

For RED BLOOD, Strength and Endurance

It is also suggested that President-elect Harding would be materially assisted if his ten cabinet officers were already familiar with the detail of pending questions when the first cabinet meeting is called. There is no political disadvantage in the scheme, as the Democratic administration is responsible for everything that is done in the name of the United States government until noon of March 4, but there is a decided advantage to the public at large because the transfer of government nowadays will not be as simple as it used to be before the war. Unless some such plan is adopted the government departments will practically stand still for many weeks while the new cabinet officers try to accustom themselves to their new surroundings and master the complexities of government business.

engage with utmost profit to the community.

Secretary M. N. Koll of Cass Lake reviewed in more detail the activities of the association during the past year. He mentioned specifically the many achievements accomplished despite the fact of an unusual lack of funds. He reported also that the finances of the organization showed a balance while in previous years it has been found impossible to avoid deficits.

Papers Are Read.

James Arneson, who was to have spoken on "Land Clearing and Its Relation to Immigration" could not be present. A letter on the value of peat production, written by Henry H. Hindshaw, was read to the convention. Mr. Hindshaw is now in Atlanta, Tex., and was unable to speak in person, as had been planned.

"The extent and rapidity of development of Northern Minnesota depends primarily on your fuel supply, both for heat and power," Mr. Hindshaw wrote. The 6,000,000,000 tons of Minnesota peat are capable of giving all the heat and power needed for many generations. The problem is only to put it on a commercial basis."

Mr. Silliman explained that the only obstacles to the program was the moisture and the bulk of the peat. He stated that chemists art now at work endeavoring to solve the problem.

Urges Farm School.

Otto I. Bergh, superintendent of the North Central experiment station at Grand Rapids, spoke in place of O. G. Selvig of the Crookston experiment station. His address was received with enthusiasm.

Mr. Bergh urged the necessity of a university farm school in Northeastern Minnesota on the ground that agriculture as taught at the St. Paul and Crookston schools is not applicable in this section. He urged concentrated efforts to help obtain cheaper dynamite so that farmers might be able to clear their lands. The land improvement law, he said, must be amended so that a farmer would be paid by the state for clearing lands he purchased from the state. Now the farmer must pay a contractor for doing the work. Mr. Bergh also told the convention of experiments wherein he had proved the value of various quantities of manure in the raising of potatoes.

Silliman for President.

A. P. Silliman of Hibbing, now vice president, will probably be the president of the association, according to the informal opinion of the delegates. L. W. Huntley, Grand Rapids, will probably be vice president. The names of E. H. Winter of Bemidji and C. H. De Laittre of Aitkin will probably be added to the executive committee which will later choose the secretary. George Munford is expected to be re-elected as treasurer. Members of the executive committee are E. E. McDonald, Bemidji; A. P. Silliman, Hibbing; R. R. Wise, Brainerd; G. W. Empey, Hinckley; L. W. Huntley, Grand Rapids; Oscar Barness, Bagley, and W. I. Prince, Duluth. Both Hibbing and Eveleth have asked for the June meeting.

One of the resolutions to be introduced will be brought forward by Mr. De Laittre. It will propose the enactment of a law permitting state aid for clearing land. The money would be loaned from the school fund and the state would get a first mortgage on the property.

Members of committees selected this morning follow:

Resolutions committee—Charles F. Mahnke of Carlton county, chairman; C. P. De Laittre of Aitkin county, R. W. Hitchcock of St. Louis county, P. H. McGarry of Cass county, Otto I. Bergh of Itasca county, Charles T. Kelley of Menagha county, E. H. Winter of Beltrami county.

Nominating committee—W. I. Prince of Duluth, C. R. Middleton of Baudette and James Reed of Bigfork.

Auditing committee—L. W. Huntly, J. S. Pardee and A. C. Goodell.

Secretary's Report.

M. N. Koll, secretary, made the following report:

"Fellow Boosters: One year ago here at Duluth you generously elected me president of the Northern Minnesota Development association. Up to that time I had never aspired to such a position in our organization. When I had been president for a short time Mr. Lincoln informed me that he contemplated resigning and accepting a more remunerative position in similar work in Montana. When Mr. Lincoln did resign, I had had time enough to think over the situation we were in financially, and I did that which I had thought I would never do, that is I asked the executive committee to appoint me secretary. I had in mind that the year would be a difficult one from the standpoint of raising money. There was the campaign for Amendment No. 1 which we wanted, being handled principally by another organization. They would need funds in much larger amounts than we had been getting, and they would tap all the same sources we had used and many others. There was the fair tax fight. This also was taken over by another organization while we were very much interested. The same sources for funds again would be used in large part. The county agents were asking for larger salaries. Farm bureau work was calling for more funds.

"The only fair thing, it appeared to me for our association to do, since we were backing in one way and another all these projects, was to retrench, do as much as we could with as little money as we could and get out of debt.

"The executive committee agreed. I was appointed secretary at the beginning of February. We found at that time considerably over $700 of known debts. The debts of which the committee then had no knowledge subsequently brought the amount up to just about $1,000. Since that date we have received $1,500. The debts have been paid. All bills to date have been paid except some possible minor items that have not been called to my attention by members of the executive committee for expense incurred by them. The treasurer's report will show just a very small balance in the treasury.

Have Done Their Best.

'On that statement we are willing to come before you, feeling that we have done the best that could be done under the circumstances. We feel that the association is in as good a position for future good work as it has ever been—if not better.

"It may fairly be said that more work could have been done by your present executive committee, had the financial situation been somewhat different. We have not done as much in some respects as has been done in some of the prior years in some respects. Let me call your attention to some of the things we have done.

"We assisted to a considerable extent in arousing interest in the Lakes to Tidewater project. We entered an appearance for the association at the hearing of the international joint commission for the territory represented by our association, and the chairman of the commission informed your secretary that the work we did was effective and good. We sent out much printed educational matter on the subject and gathered considerable data.

"We held the summer meeting at Bemidji at which the registered delegates attendance was ninety-six. At that meeting we showed to more than 5,000 people an ore exhibit which did very much toward educating the people of Northern Minnesota to a knowledge of what the iron ore industry is to Northern Minnesota. A food fish exhibit was shown on a scale never before attempted in Northern Minnesota and the same thousands of people were made aware of the existence in the lakes of Northern Minnesota, of the various species of food fish. Many hundreds of these people learned to know of species of which they had never before heard. There was also shown the largest private collection of bird and game bird eggs in the West, being the property of Dr. Longevin of Crookston. These exhibits were viewed not only by residents of Northern Minnesota, but by hundreds of tourists from other parts of the state and nation.

Alone for First Time.

"For the first time in several years we are meeting without having simultaneously meetings of one or two other organizations. A short explanation seems in order. A year ago the president of the Potato Growers' association informed me, the then president of our association, that the potato growers preferred to meet alone in 1920. This notion seems to have changed during the summer of 1920, but it was just too late to make other arrangements in our association.

"As I look through the old resolutions, I find that in days gone by we were hard workers for the county agent system. We did our share toward making the system a success. I hope that the county agents in our section of Northern Minnesota will never get so strong that they will think it the proper thing to pass us up when we have meetings. We should and will always be glad to have them with us to help us work out those things which are for the best interests of Northern Minnesota. I feel that they should always attend our meetings, for the good of Northern Minnesota.

"I have looked over the old records of the association. Let me enumerate a few of the progressive things we have done or assisted in doing in order that we may feel that our existence has been justified.

"There are: Reapportionment of legislative representation. The 1-mill (sometimes called Dunn) amendment for good roads. We helped pave the way for better drainage laws. We had the moneys that were invested in low interest foreign bonds brought back to the state for investment at home. Direct appropriations for state land in lieu of taxes to assist in making local improvements. We obtained monthly sales of state lands. Agricultural instruction in high schools was promoted. The present state forestry system was presented by this association and its adoption procured. The revolving fund amendment to the Constitution permitting the improvement of state lands before sale was our idea. We won the earlier opening of thousands of acres of Chippewa lands. We urged state aid for county agents and got it. Much game and fish legislation we advocated was procured. We were the first to advocate trunk line highway system legislation in various forms and we now have the Babcock plan as put through the legislature with the name of one of our members, Senator McGarry attached to it. We urged the establishment of a department of agriculture and we have it. We urged weed laws, and seed certification laws and we have them and they will be improved. We boosted consolidated schools so hard that it is sometimes questioned whether we did not overreach ourselves in some instances. Numerous others might be named.

More Things Necessary.

"There are many more things necessary. We must keep up the good work. We must continue to be fair, asking for those things always for Northern Minnesota which are fair to us and to other parts of the state. We must confer together regularly as we have in the past and present a united front and we will continue to win for Northern Minnesota its chance to develop and grow.

"Gentlemen, I am proud today. I am proud to have been since its organization in February, 1910, a member of an organization which has shown such excellent work for its part of the state. I am proud to think that we were able to build an organization on a plan which made it a permanent working organization, one which has weathered all the storms of the past ten years, has always been fair, and that promises always to continue to be an organization which will help Northern Minnesota."

Deep Waterways Report.

This afternoon Bentley P. Neff of Duluth spoke on "Deep Waterways From the Lakes to the Ocean."

Mr. Neff said in part:

"This is a progress report on the lakes-to-ocean movement; it is a report of magnificent progress that I am able to lay before you. The Northern Minnesota Development association has consistently supported this project from the beginning. It was one of the first bodies to go on record for it, and it has supported this movement in every way.

"There were three necessary stages in this project for connecting the Great Lakes with the ocean by the natural St. Lawrence route: one—diplomatic, accomplished in 1919; two—investigation, in progress in 1920; three—development of public sentiment, culminating in 1921.

"As you all know, the diplomatic stage brought out some remarkable evidence. I shall not attempt to review the evidence brought out in the hearings which have been held during the current year. You are all familiar in a general way with the situation. For eighteen months the country has suffered from a transportation famine. If this way had been open to the sea, the famine would have been relieved so far as the Great Lakes region is concerned. If this route had been opened last summer, the evidence brought out at these hearings showed that it would have paid for itself in one year's operation on any probable estimate of the cost.

"At the New York hearing, Julius Barnes—and he is good enough authority on transportation matters for us—showed that in the first saving alone on the grain movement in any ordinary year, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence route would be worth to the farmers of the country between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000. Not only in such an emergency as that which we suffered last year, but every year, this great improvement will save more than its cost, and will save it on the basis of the grain product alone.

Opposition Argument Poor.

"The hearing in New York last month brought to a focus the whole proposition, both from an economic and political standpoint. The opposition put forth its greater strength there, and not a single argument made would stand analysis, nor was there a single relative statement made that has not been refuted.

"On the other hand, the facts favoring this undertaking were marshaled by an array of witnesses, who include our own Julius Barnes and Watson Moore, Herbert Hoover, Admiral Benson (who is head of the shipping board), W. C. Redfield (who was head of the department of commerce), Dr. R. S. MacElwee (who is at the head of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce at Washington), George Otis Smith (who is at the head of the geographical survey), W. S. Murray (who is one of the most eminent electrical engineers in the United States and is now chairman of the government committee on super-power survey), and more like that.

"At the end of the day the opposition was left gasping, and the only thing they could do was to plead that they had only had a year in which to get ready, and that they must have more time to prepare.

"But that does not say they are done for. They may be weak in economic arguments but they have all sorts of political strength.

Vital to West.

"Now, this matter is coming within a few weeks or months before congress for determination. It is vital to the development of the West that this movement succeed. It is of vital importance that the improvement of the lakes-to-ocean route be undertaken and completed at the earliest possible moment. The opposition can hinder us as things stand today, and from our standpoint delay is defeat. They have New York practically solid; they have lined up on the basis of their theories and prejudices strong interests in the Atlantic ports in the seaboard states; they are trying to effect an alliance on the Pacific coast. There is just one way to succeed, and that is to invoke the irresistible power of a thoroughly awakened public opinion. It is for that reason, as I said in the beginning, that the success of this movement now depends on the activity of such bodies as the Northern Minnesota Development association. When every man, woman and child in this region understands what is involved in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater movement, and every man, woman and child in the state of Minnesota, and every man, woman and child in all the fifteen states between the Rocky mountains and the Alleghenys in the Upper Mississippi valley, you may be sure that no member of congress from this region will dare to return to his home and report that he has failed to bring this matter to a successful issue; for shall we succeed.
we shall succeed.

Foreign Trade and Farmers.

"What foreign trade actually means to the farmers is now coming home to them with full force. The lack of markets in Europe for their surplus crops is responsible for the depreciation in the value of farm products to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars. Now the farmers are crying to the government for relief, and proposing remedies, some of which are of doubtful feasibility. What the farmers should and must do is to help themselves. Let them give their support to all legislation that will help secure for America its full share of the markets of the world. Let them support this great tidewater movement, which is vital to them, as they now must realize. It is time that farmers understood that what helps America helps them individually, and that America understand that what helps Europe helps America.

"What the West wants is full economic freedom, its right-of-way to the sea. Nations and tribes of Europe have fought for generations to win this right-of-way. If we were hemmed in by hostile powers, we would be fighting now to win our way to the sea. It is our good fortune to be part of one country that embraces the seaboard and the interior. It is our good fortune that we shall not have to combat the opposition by violence but only by the weapons of reason and persuasion. The liberty that is and ought to be ours, the freedom that the people of a landlocked continent everywhere seek is to be ours without the clash of arms. Our sole task is to inform ourselves throughout the entire community of states so that the irresistible force of assured knowledge may win for the West its way to the world markets."

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advertisement.

CONSUMPTION OF MEAT IS REDUCED

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Something has reduced the per capita consumption of meat in this country in the past year, M. J. Carmichael, secretary of the National Swine Growers' association, said here, discussing the "Eat More Meat" movement he is endeavoring to set under way. He has called a meeting of livestock producers, livestock exchanges and packers for Chicago Dec. 2.

At this conference he proposes to enlist all interested in establishing a national organization to act as a clearing house for meat men's difficulties of this nature. Among these is what Mr. Carmichael terms unfair propaganda against meat.

"Vegetarianism is making some headway in certain sections," Mr. Carmichael said, "but a large part of the decrease in meat eating appears due to the use of meat substitutes. These have been encouragd by advertising. We don't object to people using substitutes, but we feel it very unfair for them to be led to do so, as in some cases, by misleading comparisons with meat values."

Reports of working men receiving high wages developing into large meat eaters, Mr. Carmichael said, held true only in some districts, such as Gary, Ind. Meat consumption for the country as a whole fell off 8 pounds per individual in the last year, he said.

THE PROPER STEP.

The city commission having unanimously adopted Commissioner Phillips's resolution to request the state board of health to make a thorough investigation of Duluth's water supply and sewage system, this question is fairly on its way to the needed solution.

The investigation thus invoked is precisely what The Herald had in mind when it brought the subject up for public discussion. The Herald does not believe that there is anything materially wrong with the water supply at present. The fact that treatment with chlorine is necessary shows that it is not as pure as it might be, but there is a complete absence of evidence that there is anything in the water that is causing illness, or that is likely to cause illness in the immediate future. The fact that the colon bacillus is more frequently found in water from a downtown tap than it is at the pumping station indicates the need of a very careful examination of the reservoirs.

Such an examination as the state board of health is in a position to make will give conclusive answers to these questions: Is the water at all contaminated from sewage? If not, is there likely to be such contamination as the sewage output increases with the growth of the city? If there is danger from sewage, is it from Duluth's sewage only, or also from that of Superior? Is treatment of the sewage necessary? If not, is it likely to become necessary, and how soon? Would treatment of Duluth's sewage alone be complete protection, or would the protection necessarily have to cover the Head of the Lakes? What treatment, if any, is necessary for the reservoirs?

The state board of health has the facilities to make this investigation, or knows where to get them. It is a non-political body, and its only interest is in the health of the community. If it finds nothing wrong, it will so report. If it finds anything wrong, it will say so. If it finds that nothing serious is the matter now, but that there is danger in the future, its experts will tell us how to guard against it.

The city council took a wise and timely step in adopting this resolution.

NEW YORK'S QUAINT LOGIC.

We are always prodigiously intrigued by the arguments New York interests put up against the Duluth-to-Tidewater project.

For a diverting example, here is the Record newspaper of Troy, New York, discussing—to condemn—the plan of making a real waterway to the heart of the continent by removing the relatively trifling obstacles in the St. Lawrence river:

> The proposed St. Lawrence ship canal should be a very valuable part of Canada's waterway scheme. No American can deny its real advantage to the Middle West OF CANADA.

And then it goes on to condemn the scheme because it would hurt New York interests.

No American, says this opponent, can deny the real advantage of the plan to the Middle West of Canada. Very well, then; what American can deny its real advantage to the great Middle West of the United States? Can it help the Middle West on one side of the international boundary without helping the Middle West on the other side? If it helps the Middle West of comparatively small and comparatively undeveloped Canada, will it not help very much more the great and thriving and populous Middle West of the United States?

Self-interest usually is blind; and that is why the Eastern opponents of this great project seem unable to see that every time they attempt to make a point against it they leave great gaps in their arguments that any disinterested child can see through.

POSTAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

The discussion of his plan for postal employment bureaus under government direction which F. W. Fitzpatrick contributes to this page today is timely.

For already there is unemployment, and no ordered means of coping with it.

We go to extremes in this country. We are almost as bad sometimes as the passengers on a steamship years ago who rushed pell-mell from one side to the other until they turned the boat over. A little while ago there were more jobs than men, and in business the buyer was the solicitor instead of the seller. Now, suddenly, there are more men than jobs, and the seller has to relearn the art of salesmanship.

The case for a government employment service is almost axiomatic. In ordinary times there are men without jobs in some places, and jobs without men in other places, with nobody to effect the proper distribution. Since it is a nation-wide problem, nobody could do it except the government, because no private service could profitably operate on a nation-wide basis.

> What is the first business of one who studies philosophy? To part with self-conceit. For it is impossible for anyone to begin to learn what he thinks that he already knows.
> —Epictetus.

The man without a job and the job without a man are both against society's interests, and society needs something to prevent the anomaly. It wants the services of the man looking for work, and it wants the production due from the job without a man. Moreover, the mass of unemployed, which exists always except in such an extraordinary condition as the war produced, is too fruitful of human waste through crime and discouragement and pauperism to be neglected.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, we believe, has the right idea: postal employment bureaus. The post office is everywhere, and affords a handy medium for a nation-wide effort to get the man and the job together.

Moreover, in case unemployment becomes more acute than it is now, government agencies should plan public works to take up the slack in the labor supply until industry hits its normal pace again.

WELCOME, N. M. D. A.

The Northern Minnesota Development association, and every one of its members from near or far, are heartily welcome to Duluth, which wishes them a pleasant and productive convention and pledges them its heartiest co-operation in all their plans and works for the common welfare of the northern counties and of the state at large.

It is unfortunate, of course, that there needs to be anything in this state that savors of sectionalism, or any kind of development association except an all-Minnesota development association. But the organization of this association was a necessary act of self-defense by a minority section, differing in its interests and problems from the rest, against the tremendous weight of indifference, ignorance and too often active hostility that characterized the majority sections.

And though the balance has been to some extent adjusted by the legislative reapportionment which was the first task and the first great achievement of the Northern Minnesota Development association, unhappily the deplorable condition of state division that made this association necessary still persists, and makes it essential to keep the N. M. D. A. at work.

The association has to its credit many constructive works of the highest importance to Northern Minnesota and everyone who dwells there. But it has other work yet to do, and the coming session of the legislature offers the field for that work. In its plans for action during this session the N. M. D. A. should have the hearty support of every county, every community, every newspaper and every individual in the northern part of the state.

Duluth is honored by being made the host for this meeting, and wishes the association a most successful convention and a profitable year of work for the freedom and advancement of the great empire which it represents.

Evils of Early Rising

Manchester Guardian: Gladstone might well figure in the list of famous men who disliked the practice of early rising. "I hate getting up in the morning," he once told Sir Henry Lucy, "and I hate it the same every morning. But one can do everything by habit, and when I have had my seven hours' sleep I get up." Li Hung Chang held the same views. At the close of his visit to Petrograd in 1896 the Chinese statesman wrote in his diary: "I have learned that we start early tomorrow morning. This is not to my taste. I would much prefer to begin the journey now and sleep on the train. To rise so early in the morning seems to be a foolish Western practice—foolish especially among statesmen, who could so much better transact their affairs at night, when all is quiet and the mind is most alert. But from all I can learn these statesmen and lawgivers look for their pleasures at night, going to banquets, theaters and parties. To this I attribute much of the intrigue known to all these courts. Women cannot enter the council chamber or make speeches in parliament, but they work their wiles at the parties and operas."

E. V. Lucas has also written against early rising. "The day rightly begins after breakfast. Now and then, for worthy purposes, such as bathing in a Thames backwater or intercepting the postman, early rising is desirable. But in the main it leads to self-conceit, intolerance, and dullness after dinner. The old poet was right:

When the morning riseth red
Rise not thou, but keep thy bed;
When the dawn is dull and gray
Sleep is still the better way.
Beasts are up betimes! But then
They are beasts, and we are men.

What Caused Cox's Defeat

Editorial in the Augusta, Georgia, Herald.

Cox was defeated April 6, 1917. The date America declared war? Yes.

Weren't Americans justified in declaring war? Undoubtedly.

Didn't the American people support the war loyally, enthusiastically, whole-heartedly, non-partisanly? All true.

Yet America didn't want to go to war. America had convinced herself she could keep out of war. In the national election of 1916, no party stood for war, no candidate committed himself to the position that we ought to go to war. And so, although in 1917, Americans knew they were justified in making war and practically every American convinced himself that we ought to be at war, as we were, just the same there was this underlying psychology of the year before and just as soon as the war was over, it re-asserted itself, even though no one gave it utterance.

The war, as far as America is concerned, was fought for an ideal, but even though man achieves his ideal, it is hard for him to realize it.

France knew she had won the war, because the Germans were driven from her soil and she put in a claim for a large indemnity. England knew she had won the war, because her ships again sailed the seas and brought the sorely needed food and supplies to save her people. But America had no material symbol that she had won anything.

War prices, war taxes, war restrictions still prevailed and it was chiefly by those that the great bulk of Americans realized the war.

Comparatively few were touched by the actual grime and sweat and blood of the mighty struggle, so that when Americans looked for release from something, or for a reward for something, behold, there was none.

"All the more glory to Amercia, then!" the patriot exclaims, and he is right, but man is so constituted that he cannot live in a state of high exaltation for a long time.

America blazed with an idealism during the war. As soon as the war was over, a psychical reaction had to come. It is human nature.

The aftermath of war was irksome to nearly everyone. Nearly everyone hoped to escape this irksomeness through a change. This change they have made by an overwhelming majority.

Not at this election has America registered opinion of the great war or the Wilson administration. That must come later.

Don't Dodge Difficulties

Forbes Magazine: A. T. Stewart, the famous dry goods merchant, liked to engage men who had failed in business. He reasoned that their difficulties had probably taught them much.

Difficulties test.

Difficulties develop character.

Difficulties help to make a man, just as blows help to make steel.

Mothers' darlings who are shielded and petted and pampered rarely amount to much.

Examine the careers of the hundred foremost business men in America and you will find at least 90 per cent of them had to battle their way against extraordinary difficulties.

Any $20-a-week clerk can discharge easy, routine duties.

We ought to pray—at least during the first half of our life—not for ease and opulence, but for a full measure of obstacles and pitfalls and character-testing experiences.

Coleman du Pont, whose achievements have been unusually many-sided, once explained to the writer that his interest in any enterprise waned immediately he had overcome all the difficulties of organizing it and putting it on a smoothly-working, successful footing. When one undertaking reached the easy stage, then he turned to something beset with new and difficult problems.

Edward L. Doheny, now perhaps the foremost oil figure in the world, is similarly constituted. When he had developed a property to the money-making stage—when, as he once remarked, "There was nothing left to do but draw in the profits"—then he sold out and started on a new quest, eager to pit himself against some new and difficult situation.

There is more joy in putting forth effort than in gloating over easily-won profits.

Difficulties make men.

Ease makes mollycoddles.

It is harder to climb than to stroll along level roads or dawdle down hill.

Difficulties are stepping-stones leading to the top.

Therefore, do not dodge them, do not run away from them.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON.

Lingering Flies

The flies should all be dead when bleak November comes, but some are on my head, a-twiddling of their thumbs. And when, for some repose, I to my couch repair, they climb around my nose, and make me rise and swear. They're out of season now, and so have no excuse for camping on my brow and tickling like the deuce. In summer we expect a plague of bugs and flies; things wouldn't seem correct if none should greet our eyes; but when November brings the frost we've long desired, the buzzings and the stings of insects make us tired. The flies I'd gladly teach, if I had half a chance, that there's a time to preach, and there's a time to dance; and there's a time to crawl upon a mortal's head; and there's a time to fall and slumber with the dead. All things, when out of date, are trying to the soul; in summertime we hate to blow ourselves for coal. We do not love the guy who jests when jokes are wrong, nor do we like the fly that sticks around too long. Leaves have their time to fall, and roses to depart; the fly upon the wall should take this truth to heart.

Postal Employment Bureaus

By F. W. Fitzpatrick.

Few things are more important in our social economy than the proper distribution of labor. Employment bureaus are necessary, but comparatively few exist, and those often are very badly managed. There is no general exchange of information, the fees are heavy, the service rendered is not especially good, and very many such bureaus have been proven frauds of the worst kind.

Workmen have been exploited and defrauded. Bands of thousands have been steered to alleged railroad work only to be dumped upon the prairies of the West, jobless, hungry and forlorn, to become tramps and I. W. W.'s. At best the service is ineffective and extremely local.

The distressing lack of a general and speedy exchange of information about employment needs is apparent at every turn. At certain seasons we know that the farmers, for instance, need all kinds of help and are willing to pay for it, but can't get it; at the same time we see men walking the streets of our cities able and willing to work at anything, but not knowing where to go for it. And who among us has not wanted something done and wondered how he could secure the service, while just the man for the job might have been passing the door anxiously in quest of employment?

Some years ago the department of labor was empowered to establish employment bureaus throughout the country, a great labor exchange. Later it was also directed to act through the postoffice, for it was realized that the latter, with over 7,000 existing branches in the country, (established and where people naturally gravitated, for in most places the postoffice is the center of all activities and everyone meets everyone there) was the department best fitted for long usage to work in intimate relationship with all the people. So the machinery for operating these labor exchanges was started in every postoffice in the land.

Then came the war, the depletion of our labor ranks, the massing of our young men in government service and there was no further work for these bureaus and they fell into disuse. Labor was not gettable, there was no emigration to fill the gaps. There was no labor.

Just now conditions are changing again. There is scant building, skilled mechanics are seeking common labor jobs, the orgy of high wages and wild spending is over. We're in rather hard times. Thousands of immigrants are coming in to share what work there is to be done. In Detroit, and in the textile cities of the East men are walking the streets jobless, some dinnerless. Some of our pessimists are prophesying bread-lines before Christmas.

It is time that the government revive its aids to employment. Let the work be directed by the labor department, of course, the general clearing-house work, but the postoffice is the vehicle through which this work should be done in its contact with the people.

It can do it at negligible expense to employer and prospective employe, and be doing a magnificent service to the people and to the country at large. Make every postoffice in the land an employment bureau, too. Anyone wanting work may then register there and the people requiring labor can do likewise. I am not seeking to pauperize any class of people by having the government do things for them for nothing. A system of stamp payments could easily be arranged by the postoffice experts and the few pennies required for such registration can be fished up by any man, somehow, some way, however hard up, down-and-out he may be. Access could be had to these registers of employment offered or wanted upon the payment for and cancellation of certain stamps. If local employment only is desired the postoffice work would end there, but if a man wants to find work at some other place, or if an employer wanted men from such and such particular district, the postoffice, for the requisite fee in stamps, would place that "want" in the postoffice of the locality desired. It would serve as a great clearing house for labor. Even when no particular desire is expressed for work in any other locality, the postoffice department would soon become expert in "feeling" the conditions about the country and would hasten of its own initiative in seeking to forestall the demands that would naturally be made and to place the offered labor where it was most needed.

The possibilities of the scheme are vast and far-reaching, its handling can readily be done by a department already admirably equipped to do the work, and at no cost to the country. It is desirable, commendable, necessary, and we can have it by hammering for it. So let us begin hammering. We have learned how to do it and it's up to us, if we want it, to get good and busy, and we'll have it.

Are You Headed in the Right Direction?

Forbes Magazine: Ambition can be fiend or angel.

It can ennoble or ruin.

It can be a blessing or a curse.

Money can be put to high or base purposes. So can ambition.

Every man above the level of animal has in him some ambition, worthy or unworthy.

Webster thus defines ambition: "An eager, and sometimes an inordinate desire for preferment, honor, superiority, power, or the attainment of something.

The individual or the race without vigorous, impelling ambition stagnates, sinks and decays.

Few there are in this country without some ambition.

To be without ambition is to be mentally dead.

But supreme care must be taken that our ambition is not such as to kill us morally and spiritually. Ambition may be likened to a spirited, speedy horse: It can carry us over much ground quickly if we keep a proper rein on it and guide it along the right road; but if given too much rein, it is in danger of landing us in the ditch.

Once having selected a creditable, useful, worthwhile aim in life, then ambition can become invaluable in helping us to achieve that aim.

First make sure you have mapped out a worthy path, and then start full steam ahead and keep up full steam, permitting no bumps or boulders to thwart you in your course. An ounce of energetically-applied ambition is worth a whole headful of unused genius.

Almost every one of America's most notable enterprises are the fulfilment of some dynamic, far-seeing man's ambitions.

Life without ambition would be as tasteless as meat without salt.

It's Service That Measures Success

It isn't the cut of the clothes that you wear,
Nor the stuff out of which they are made
Though chosen with taste and fastidious care,
And it isn't the price that you paid;
It isn't the size of your pile in the bank,
Nor the number of acres you own,
It isn't a question of prestige or rank,
Nor of sinew, and muscle and bone;
It isn't the servants that come at your call,
It isn't the things you possess,
Whether many, or little—or nothing at all,
It's service that measures success.

It isn't a question of name, or of length
Of an ancestral pedigree,
Nor a question of mental vigor and strength,
Nor a question of social degree;
It isn't a question of city or town,
Nor a question of doctrine or creed,
It isn't a question of fame or renown,
Nor a question of valorous deed;
But he who makes somebody happy each day,
And he who gives heed to distress,
Will find satisfaction the richest of pay,
For it's service that measures success.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

The Red Noses

Here's a round robin from four amazing girls:

"We four girls here in the market all have red, red noses. You had a piece in the paper ten or twenty years ago telling how to remove 'em—we are uncertain whether you said to use a scissors or file 'em off. But we want to know, and just to show how much we love you we've put our noses together, instead of writing you four tedious letters, and we are not saying a word about whisky or rum, which is something we de'say you seldom encounter in letters from red-nosed readers."

Seldom? Bless you, children, it's the first time since 1802.

Meat markets are usually chilly and young women perverse. On a hot, sweltering summer day they (the young women) sport furs, and on a bleak fall day they wear something like evening dress. This is absolutely hygienic, even if it does brighten up the nose. A young woman, like anyone else, may put on or leave off whatever she wishes, whenever she likes, provided she is perfectly comfortable. She may be comfortable under all circumstances if she will wear wool or wool and silk next the skin.

Wool and silk are slow heat conductors; cotton and linen are fast heat conductors. Wool or silk or both combined conserve the vasomotor function. There we go—always have to spoil good work by dragging in some utterly meaningless medical term. It merely betrays the writer's incapacity. Big words always do that.

The vasomotor portion of the involuntary nervous system, with a controlling center in the brain, regulates the distribution of the blood. If these busy nerves slept at the switch one would just freeze to death every time one went outdoors on a cold day or indulged in a cool bath. They are the warming-up nerves, and also the cooling-off nerves, but the warming-up function is positive and the cooling-off is merely negative.

Think of the tremendous strain the so-called civilized, and particularly the mollycoddled life, places upon the vasomotors! Scores of times daily we plunge suddenly from a tank filled with respiratory fluid at a temperature of, say, 70 to 75 or even 80 deg. if we are badly coddled, out into the open sea of air at perhaps 40 or 20 deg. Then in a little while suddenly back into the hot tank again, and so on ad finitum. We need protection, not against cold, but against the terrific gymnatic strain on the vasomotor nerves. In wool or silk or both combined we have it in a form second only to the hairy coat we wore before we adopted the civilized or mollycoddle life.

Now, girls, do not throw the paper down in disgust. You needn't wear those famous flannels of grandpa's time. In fact, I warn you against any tightly woven material; the artificial skin or underwear should be light and porous, not air or water proof. For example, so-called fleece-lined material is an abomination for anyone to wear. Wear 'em as you wish, but let 'em be wool or silk or both, and knitted, not woven. And stockings of similar material.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

St. Vitus' Dance.

Should a girl, now 20 years old, who had St. Vitus' dance from the age of 7 to the age of 13 years, but has been all right since, marry? Would she be likely to go insane or to have feeble-minded children? (A. R.)

Answer: There is no reason why she should not marry, and no reason why she should ever go insane or bear defective children. St. Vitus' dance is an infectious condition, not a defect of the nervous system.

Lemon Juice.

My husband has been told that lemon juice taken in large doses will cure rheumatism. Will it cause emaciation? Will it thin the blood? (Mrs. T. B.)

Answer: Your husband apparently enjoys fairy stories. Lemon juice will not cause emaciation or thin the blood, and probably will do no harm, though I know of no joint disease which it would be likely to cure.

Milk and—

Please tell me something one can take with milk so that the milk will not cause constipation. (L. M. S.)

Answer: Milk does not cause constipation. Take baked apples, wheat bran, whole wheat (as it comes from the threshing machine), or any fruit or undenaturized cereal with the milk. The idea that milk is "binding" arises from the fact that an exclusive milk diet leaves little unabsorbed residue in the intestine.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinius, the Sunshine Man, Dayton, Ohio.

Our Heavenly Father, we acknowledge Thee as the Author and Giver of all truth. We bless Thee that Thou hast attuned our souls to its music, and that when with conscious life we touch its strings covering the universe we feel harmony with the Divine. We thank Thee for the truths of our sonship in Thee and for the assurances of Thy Fatherhood. We bless Thee for Jesus who was the truth made life, and who is our daily guide to its blessings. We thank Thee for the truth of immortality, with its encouragement to eager life today and its assurances of endless joyful tomorrows. Make us seekers of truth, lovers of truth and examples of truth as it is in Jesus our Savior. Amen.—Fred A. Dillingham.

My voice shalt Thou hear in the morning, O Lord.—Ps. v, 3.

I would ever awake with God; my first thoughts are for Him who hath made the night for rest, and the day for travail, and hath blessed both. If my heart be early seasoned with His presence, it will savor of Him all the day.—Bishop Hall.

Mr. Street's Liquor

New York Herald: "If we had some ham we'd have some ham and eggs—if we had some eggs." To most persons who still hanker for the rum pots of Egypt the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the case of Street is a mockery. They haven't any liquor in storage and they don't know anybody who has.

Talk about the decision setting free the 46,000,000 gallons of whisky now in bonded warehouses is little more than talk. The opinion of the court is in effect that a man may have access to whatever liquor he bought for his personal use before the passage of the Volstead act, whether the stuff is in his home or in storage.

The ocean of intoxicants in the bonded warehouses might be released by a decision based on the unconstitutionality of any confiscation. But the decision in the Street case seems to apply only to liquor stored for the personal consumption of the owner and his household.

No Wonder Mona Smiled

Boston Transcript: If Whistler's conceit was a pose, he assumed it quite early in his career. We are told that as an art student he used to copy famous paintings at the Louvre, and on one occasion a brother artist came upon him as he was finishing a copy of "Mona Lisa."

"You've done a fine thing there," said the other.

"Yes, I'm quite pleased with it," agreed Whistler, and then in his quizzical way he added, "I wonder what they'll do with the poor old original now?"

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Breezy Comments on Current Topics by State's Live Newspapers.

They'll Make No Mistake

Hokah Chief: Reports from the iron range show that men are coming in by the hundreds from Detroit and other industrial centers as a result of the letting out of factory hands in those places. The lumber country also reports an influx of labor from the same source and for the same cause. In Northern Minnesota thousands of acres are being cleared for the sake of the turpentine in the stumpage and several large turpentine factories have been started. Much new farm land will be available in a year or two in Northern Minnesota as a result, and it is said that many of these city laborers have already expressed their intention of entering the land to take up farming.

Of Course

Mahnomen Pioneer: Eight years ago one of the popular pastimes of most of the Republican papers was to have a little fun about the "hungry horde" of office seekers who were besieging the president-elect, after being kept away from the feeding trough so long. Of course this horde that is now camping on the trail of President-elect Harding is not hungry—just a bunch of patriots willing to volunteer their services for the good of the country.

Long Distance Hoping

Stillwater Gazette: How about it? Why don't we get relief? The report comes from Washington that the soft coal supply has been increased and that the price has been cut 25 to 50 per cent. This being true, why is it that we learn nothing about it around this vicinity. We would rather enjoy a 25 per cent cut in price than be greatly elated over 50 per cent reduction. We hope the good news proves a reality in a few short days.

And Will Think Out Loud, Too

Hibbing News: The state tax commission, which hasn't any more soul than a john rabbit, has increased the ad valorem tax rate in Hibbing about 35 per cent, without notice, and follows up with the advice that we haven't any kick coming and that it will do us no good to make one.

But we shall kick, just the same, because we are built that way, and the commission will listen, respectfully.

It is quite evident that the commission has it figured out that insomuch as the mining companies pay one-half of the taxes of the state the people of the range communities should pay the other half.

We have a far better think than that.

Profitable Fighting

St. Cloud Journal Press: William Langer, attorney general of North Dakota, and who has an intimate knowledge of the Nonpartisan league, warns the people of Minnesota against the delusion that Townley has quit fighting. According to Langer the big boss will keep on the job as long as he can continue to get coin from the followers he fools.

The War's Over---Forget Him

Mankato Free Press: The former kaiser—beast of Berlin—has just been handed another large sum of money by Prussia. Meanwhile, what is the fellow doing for the starving children of Germany that America is helping support?

All Extravagance Is Not Feminine

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of This Date, 1900

Chinese Minister Wu has received a cablegram from Sheng, director of telegraphs and railroads, stating that an imperial decree deprives Prince Tuan and Prince Chwang of their ranks and offices and orders them to be imprisoned for life, and several others prominent in the Boxer outrages to be imprisoned or deprived of rank. Governor Yu Hsien has been arrested at Punan, and an edict is expected condemning him to death.

The word from the bedside of United States Senator Davis at St. Paul today was that he was slightly better, but not enough to increase the hope for his recovery.

Another fatal accident occurred at the Drake & Stratton works at the Biwabik mine, when James Gunderson, stripping boss, was run over and instantly killed, three dump cars passing over his body. While coupling up the cars he slipped and fell just as the train started suddenly. He was a native of Sweden and about 35 years of age.

The new pulp mill which is being erected at Cloquet for the Northwest Paper company will be ready to start soon. It has a capacity of about twenty tons a day. The other pulp mill has a capacity of fifty tons.

Robert W. Wilcox, the independent royalist candidate, has been elected delegate to congress from Hawaii by a small majority over Samuel Parker, the Republican candidate. Wilcox made an anti-white campaign, and the result of the vote shows the native bitterness over annexation to be still alive.

It is reported on good authority that the Bessemer Steamship company has transferred the big fleet of whalebacks purchased last year to the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines.

Hay has taken a scoot upward and has reached the highest point for November in at least ten years. Timothy is now $17 per ton in Duluth, and upland is quoted at $15.

At the cabinet meeting yesterday Attorney General Griggs made the formal announcement that on March 4 next, he will retire from the cabinet. Mr. Griggs will leave President McKinley's official family for purely business reasons.

Martin Madson has returned to West Duluth from Eveleth, where he went to trim the windows of Kastriner & Neuman's new store.

Miss Jane Early, one of the teachers at the Longfellow school, is on the sick list.

Mrs. C. C. Warner and children left West Duluth last evening for Chicago, where they will be joined in about a month by Mr. Warner.

At a meeting of the Electrical Workers' union last evening, Clifford L. Higgins, a well-known Duluth electrician, was indorsed for the position of state labor commissioner. He has the indorsement of a large number of other unions.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian, religious differences is barred. Letters must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

All letters must be written on one side of the paper only.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

The Herald has no objection to the discussion of the question of Irish freedom in the Open Court so long as it remains within the bounds of proper and reasonable argument. That is what the Open Court is for. But because some of the debaters on both sides have shown a tendency to overstep those bounds it has become necessary to announce these rules governing this discussion and to say that communications not complying with them will not be published:

1. Letters must not be abusive, either of the opposing writers or of any individuals.

2. They must not be such as to stir up racial or religious antagonisms between Americans. The Irish are good people, and the English are good people. Letters based on any other presumption are not suitable for publication and will not be published.

Letters that do not comply with these simple regulations can do no good to the cause they attempt to support, but they do contribute to dissensions and hatreds that are not good for America. This or any other question can be argued in good temper and without rancor, and no question can effectively be argued otherwise.—The Editor.

THE ABODE OF HAPPINESS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

May I as one of the many that I believe feel the same, express my appreciation of the editorial in last Saturday's Herald headed, "For Behold, the Kingdom of God Is Within You." This editorial is one of a kind that one seldom finds among the editorials of a daily newspaper, because newspaper editorials deal practically wholly with the mere material phases of life—the getting or amassing of worldly possessions.

And these worldly possessions—together with all their concomitants, whether they be fame, worldly honor, or commercial gain—are, as you say, "as elusive and as evanescent as a vapor before the sun." They do not give happiness.

There is nothing "preachy" about it, there is no "sermonizing" to it—but the fact of the matter is that true happiness can only be attained by the realization that you in the mentioned editorial try to bring forth, namely, that "the kingdom of God is within you." If people would more generally try to attain this realization and would couple with it an attempt at the realization that "the kingdom of God is at hand," the spirit of mere sordid materialism would tend to vanish, and this world would be a better and happier place to live in. JOHN SKADBERG.

RAILROAD STOCK DIVIDENDS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The interstate commerce commission has recently been petitioned by the Burlington railroad for permission to issue $60,000,000 of common stock to be distributed to its stockholders as a dividend and $80,000,000 of bonds to be likewise distributed to stockholders, and to restore funds already taken from its surplus, together with about $29,000,000 in bonds, to be held for financing new improvements. This is of importance to the Northwest because it vitally affects railroad rates. In this connection I wish you would reprint the statement recently made by Glenn E. Plumb, who has made a study of railroad finance. He may be wrong, but the subject is worth looking into. In part, he said:

"This is the first attempt of the railroads to capitalize their surplus. It adds $169,000,000 to the fixed charges of the C., B. & Q. against the public in Western states, at a time when the books of the company show a surplus of $200,000,000.

"As a matter of fact, the railroads have spent their book surplus for improvements and now want to get it back again by charging it up to original investment. They piled up $2,000,000,000 of surplus since 1910, because had they drawn the profits as cash dividends they would have drawn 16 per cent in place of 8 per cent, and that would have defeated their claims for higher freight and passenger rates.

"If the interstate commerce commission grants this petition, after the hearing on Nov. 22, the other railroads will follow suit. It is up to the people of the states who must pay this tribute to stop the levy. Every state should be represented in protest there." SHIPPER.

CROSSING PROTECTION URGED BY "JAYWALKER"

To the Editor of The Herald:

An automobile driver recently was quoted in the papers complaining of the so-called "jaywalkers," and asserting that on downtown streets pedestrians should be made to walk on the crossings or take the consequences. That may be all right and may have to be done, but what is fully as important is that the pedestrian be furnished protection when he is on the crosswalk. As it is now people who do confine themselves to the crossings have to jump for their lives on Superior street in Duluth every hour of the day.

With a "jaywalkers" ordinance the city should adopt an ordinance similar to the one in effect in Seattle, Wash. That city gives the pedestrian the right of way at crossings and forbids automobiles to travel over crosswalks at more than eight miles an hour in any case, or four miles if there are persons thereon. Corners also must be rounded at not more than four miles an hour.

The operation of this law, which I understand has been in effect for some time, is that any driver who strikes a pedestrian crossing the thoroughfare is considered the guilty party and the courts out there have held that the pedestrian, having glanced both ways to assure himself that he is safe in crossing, need not be expected to look again while in transit. It is therefore up to the automobile drivers to have their cars under such control that the pedestrian's safety while he is on a crossing is a fact.

Duluth needs a law along these lines. It is about time to call a halt to the theory that everything on wheels is of superior importance.

A. JAYWALKER.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallable. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person asking it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

C. B., Duluth: Will you please state through the Question and Answer column if Thomas Jefferson actually wrote the Constitution of the United States, or was it only just the Declaration of Independence he wrote?

Ans.: The Constitution of the United States was not written by any one man. James Madison of Virginia, later president, is credited with having largely drafted the working plan and Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania with finally writing much of the measure in its clear English. Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, but was not a member of the Constitutional convention.

Interested, Crosby, Minn.: Can you tell me where I can get information concerning the tonnage tax and also concerning the question of closed and open shops?

Ans.: For matter relating to the tonnage tax, write R. W. Hitchcock, Fair Tax association, Hibbing, Minn.; for arguments on the labor question, write E. G. Hall, president Minnesota Federation of Labor, on the closed shop, and to L. C. Harris, Providence building, Duluth, for facts concerning the open shop.

ELEVEN GOVERNORS ARE ON PROGRAM

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17.—Eleven governors are on the program of the thirteenth annual governors' conference for formal addresses, according to announcement here of Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, which meets this year at Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1-3.

On "Decentralization of Governmental Functions and Activities," Governors R. A. Cooper of South Carolina, Robert D. Cary of Wyoming, Frank C. Lowden of Illinois, and Percival W. Clement of Vermont have consented to prepare material, Mr. Riley said.

Governor Albert A. Smith of New York will give an address on "Housing Problems and Ways and Means of Promoting Home Ownership." Governor Peter Norbeck of South Dakota will consider home ownership from the rural point of view in a paper dealing with the South Dakota rural credits law which provides for state loans for prospective farm owners.

The Kansas industrial court in its working form is to be discussed by Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas.

"State Income and Disbursements" will be considered by Governor William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania, host to the governors. Governor John C. Townsend of Delaware will discuss "The Budget and State Business Methods." Specific phases of the present agricultural situation will be taken up by Governor John M. Parker of Louisiana.

RED VALLEY BOYS AND GIRLS TO STATE SHOW

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Accompanied by A. J. Kittleson, assistant state club leader, some Red River valley boys and girls left here yesterday for South St. Paul to attend and place exhibits at the state junior livestock show which opens today. Those making the trip were winners and exhibitors at the Red River valley junior livestock show held here last week, and were as follows: Elmer Schjeldrup, Plummer; Alfred Kilen, Kratka; Francis Welsch, Grygla; Herbert Munson, Climax; William Whalen, Stephen; Teddy Carlson, Hallock; Earl Nicholson, Orleans; Clifford Marshall, Crookston; Amos Kasberg, Eldred; Evelyn Sheldrew, Grygla; Stephen S. Easter, Humboldt; Edith Alexander, Humbolt; Berdie Olberg, Clearbrook; Alvin Hanisch, Stephen; Orton Olson, Thief River Falls; Carl Ash, St. Vincent, and Martin Anderson, St. Vincent.

Crookston Bowlers Busy.

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the first of a series of bowling matches to be held here this winter the Capitols won over the Mineralites, winning two out of three games. Six city teams are entered in a league contest and a schedule has been arranged for the fight for a silver trophy. The next game will be tonight, when the Kiwanis and Crescents will fight it out. In the game between the Capitols and Mineralites only one score of 200 or over was reached, that of Bert Wade, a Mineralite player, who rolled 200 even in the first game of the match.

Zenith Made Mackinaw $9.50.

A regular $15 coat. Bergstein Clothing Co., West Duluth.

Tuber Car Shortage Acute.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—The potato car shortage situation is becoming more serious and applications for cars have been received by the railroad and warehouse commission from Grandy, Garfield, Ada, Bowlus, Pillager, Swanville, Darling, Pine City and Fertile, G. F. Kruse, rate clerk in the office of the commission, said.

Recipe to Make a Gray Hair Remedy

A. L. Paulson, M. D., who has practiced medicine in New York City for many years, gave out the following recipe for a home-made gray hair remedy: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 2 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box.

"It is safe, does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

All Fat People

Easily Reduce

The world owes a debt of gratitude to the author of the now famous Marmola Prescription, and is still more indebted for the reduction of this harmless, effective obesity remedy to tablet form. They are so convenient to take, and as pleasant as candy. One after each meal and at bedtime will quickly reduce your weight, two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no evil effects such as loose, flabby skin and unsightly wrinkles. Just go on eating what you like—leave exercise to the athletes—take your little tablet as directed and soon you will be your natural self, cloaked in firm flesh and trim muscles. Marmola Prescription Tablets may now be obtained at all drug stores, or by writing direct to the Marmola Co., 92 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich., and their reasonable price—one dollar for a good size box—leaves no excuse for dieting or violent exercise for the reduction of the overfat body to normal proportions.

Society and Women's Clubs

As THE cold weather approaches, when we shall not be able to venture out of doors without a heavy all-enveloping cloak, our attention becomes concentrated more and more upon the models shown of these garments. The shops also, realizing that the psychological moment has come for women's thoughts to turn to winter cloaks, are displaying them in all their windows.

Many of the new cloaks differ very little from those worn the last winter or two. Brown and tan continue to be the most popular colors, and all shades of brown fur are still seen on every variety of wrap. But other furs, new, and for that reason interesting, are making their appearance, and gray opossum seems to be used with charming effect on coats and suits of all shades of blue.

The county board of the ladies' auxiliary of the A. O. H. of St. Louis county held its regular business meeting Sunday at Gilley's hall, 223 Central avenue, West Duluth. Plans were made for an active campaign for members to begin Feb. 1. It was also decided to have a mass said for Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, the mass to be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsigneur Lynch, county chaplain of the ladies' auxiliary, at St. James' church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Kinnear place, on Sunday, Nov. 28, at 8 o'clock.

The general subject for the First National bank budget tomorrow afternoon is foods—the planning of well-balanced meals will be considered, meals which shall represent the right amount of nourishment and which shall bring the right return in energy and strength for the money expended.

Special attention will be given to the amount of money for the different kind of food—what it should cost per person, per month, for a family for food.

The fireless cooker, which has been made and very successfully used by the city home bureau, will be shown.

These meetings at 3:30 each Thursday afternoon are free and all women are welcome.

Seventeen new members were initiated when the Philomatheon club of senior girls entertained at supper Monday evening at the Central high school at 6:30 o'clock. The club colors of black and gold were carried out effectively at the dining table, where covers were laid for fifty girls. Miss Margaret Hemenway, the club president, gave the address of welcome which was followed by a program of original stunts and interpretative dancing by Miss Hedwina Idzorek by candle light. Misses Mildred Sanders, Neva Rowe, and Vivian Benson sang some pleasing solos, and the remainder of the evening was given over to dancing.

Announcement that Miss Perle Reynolds, soprano soloist, was indisposed and would not appear before members of the Matinee Musicale at the bimonthly meeting of that society, held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Masonic temple, was the occasion for keen disappointment among the many friends of the talented young musician, who had anticipated much pleasure in her group of four numbers.

The disappointment was offset, however, by Mrs. C. S. Mitchell who spoke briefly of events in the world of music at home and abroad, in which she visualized activities chiefly in the younger school of music, pointing out measures which in many instances were decidedly revolutionary, in the sense that they are a direct antithesis of the established rule of musicians, but which for all proved very interesting as well as entertaining.

The artists presented were Mrs. Paul Van Hoven, who in her usual charming way offered three numbers for piano, and Dr. Otto Peterson of Virginia, tenor, who gave two groups of songs in Finnish, except the last, Tosti's "Good-by" sung in English. The visiting artist was given generous applause in both of his groups.

Mrs. Fanny Bay Panaanem, a recent acquisition to local musical circles, and who has but recently returned from abroad, where she made special study in Finnish music, accompanied Dr. Peterson, displaying her mastery of the piano in a manner wholly complimentary to her art.

WOMAN WILL BE UNIVERSITY REGENT

A woman will be appointed to the board of regents of the University of Minnesota when Governor-elect J. A. O. Preus takes office, he told members of the Minneapolis G. O. P. Women's club at their victory celebration Monday night, expressing his conviction that other Minnesota institutions need the influence of a woman on their governing boards.

"I am going to appoint a woman on the board of regents to make the University of Minnesota a better institution," he said. "I believe you women should have further obligations put upon you. I don't want to appoint a woman to office just because she is a woman; but I believe that many of our penal, charitable, educational and correctional institutions need woman's influence, and appointments on such boards may come later."

Graduation of St. Luke's Nurses on Nov. 30 at St. Paul's

Commencement exercises for St. Luke's Hospital Training School for Nurses will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 30, it is announced by the board of managers, which is just now sending out invitations to the affair. A reception will follow the graduation exercises, and will be held at the Kitchi Gammi club. At the commencement, an address will be given by Rt. Rev. G. G. Bennett, newly consecrated bishop coadjutor of the Duluth diocese. Diplomas will be presented by Rev. A. W. Ryan and the badges will be presented by the superintendent of nurses at St. Luke's, Miss Clara A. Ostby. The students who will be graduated as nurses at that time are:

Misses Pearl R. Jacobson, Hazel G. Wright, Signe C. Hendre and Lydia M. Olson of Duluth, Adelaide G. Thompson, Anna M. Thompson and Minnie M. Nelson of Alexandria, Minn., Elsie E. Newquist of Ashland, Wis., Nellie I. McDonald of White Bear, Minn., Della P. Keehn of Hibbing, Olga A. Swanson of Rice Lake, Wis., Ada C. Johnson of Negaunee, Mich., and Signa G. Kangas of Chisholm.

Editor of Bulletin Calls for Material

The livest thing about every newspaper is its morgue. This is true because it is always the human interest element which puts "pep" into a publication. The News Bulletin, published by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, being a live paper, wants a morgue, which, to the uninitiated, is merely a record of Who's Who, arranged alphabetically for instant reference.

This then is a notice to every "Who" in the general federation that the News Bulletin editor wants "not exactly your obituary but at least your life history in as brief form as may be, provided it includes something concerning your personal life and everything concerning your altruistic activities," by which are meant your achievements for the public good through organized or personal effort. A photograph should accompany the life-sketch and both will be kept on file to use in federation press and publicity work whenever needed.

The appeal for morgue copy is made to all G. F. W. C. officers, state directors, state presidents (incoming and outgoing), department, division and committee chairmen and past officers, directors and chairmen.

Employed Girls Home To Open Saturday

Bridge and five hundred will be played at the housewarming and formal opening of the employed girls' home, located at 231 Fifth avenue east, to be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock and to which all persons interested in the home, friends of work of that nature or persons interested in seeing the newly fitted home where girls who do not make their residence at their own or parents' home will be given the comforts and atmosphere of something very closely akin to home life, will be welcome. Table reservations can be made by telephoning Mrs. W. H. Magie, Hemlock 716, or through Mrs. E. L. Tuohy at Hemlock 2529. Prizes will be awarded and during the hours refreshments will be served.

The purchase and fitting of the home marks the realization of a dream conceived by the Rt. Rev. John T. McNicholas, bishop of Duluth, and undertaken in the early spring by a committee of women appointed to carry out the plans. Purchase of the home was made recently by the diocese. The house has been remodeled, redecorated and attractively furnished and presents a wholly cheerful as well as attractive appearance.

Simultaneously with announcing the housewarming, the women in charge of the Saturday afternoon party state that the affair will have a second and equally important significance, as it is the hope of those in charge that sufficient money will be realized from the afternoon's entertainment to provide fuel for heating of the home during the cold season. It is planned to make the home a self-supporting institution.

Leave Your Order for Christmas Book List

Announcement is made at the library clubrooms that the list containing hundreds of the best books from an educational standpoint, as well as for such qualities as develop a taste for the better things in literature, and which tend to inspire growing minds with the loftiest ideals and morals, has been delayed in coming from the printer, and that all persons desirous of having one will, if they leave their addresses with the person in charge, together with 5 cents to cover cost of mailing and getting the list out, receive same at the earliest date possible after they are received at the library.

Yesterday, the second day of the exhibit, witnessed the visit of 117 grown-ups and more children than it would be easy to count. In the remaining days of the exhibit a talk will be given at 3:30 each afternoon by some person of authority on the best in reading for the young people. This afternoon Miss Mary Lucas, children's librarian at the public library, spoke.

MINNESOTA LEGION WOMEN LEAD STATES

Convention in Minneapolis Nov. 18 and 19 First of Its Kind in America.

In calling together the women's auxiliary of the American Legion for a state convention in Minneapolis tomorrow and Friday the Minnesota organization is the first of all the states to sponsor such a meeting, and Commander A. H. Vernon, Little Falls, has been extended the congratulations of the officers of the national body. The Mill City gathering will be held for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization and for the transaction of such other business as may seem important to the delegates.

In their message of congratulation to Commander Vernon, the national officers declare that the Minnesota auxiliary is in the limelight and that it is blazing a new trail for women of other states to follow. For that reason all activities of this meeting will be watched closely throughout the country.

Sessions of the convention will be held at the Curtiss hotel. The program as outlined in advance follows:

Thursday Session.

9 a. m.—Registration of delegates, alternates and guests.

10:30 a. m.—Convention called to order by A. H. Vernon, department commander, American Legion of Minnesota.

Election of temporary officers.

Appointment of credentials and rules committees.

Report of credentials and rules committees.

Naming of various committees by district caucuses.

1:30 p. m.—Convention session. "Attitude of the American Legion National Convention Toward the Women's Auxiliary," by Dr. J. A. Hielscher.

"National Headquarters and the Women's Auxiliary," speaker to be announced later.

"The Women's Auxiliary and the Minnesota Department, American Legion," by A. H. Vernon.

"The Women's Auxiliary and the Public Health Service," by Dr. L. A. Walker.

7:30 p. m.—Reports of committees.

8:30 p. m.—Reception at Curtiss hotel.

9:30 p. m.—Dancing, auspices Lydia Whiteside post, 1217 Hennepin avenue. Dancing, auspices Lawrence Wennell auxiliary at the Calhoun Commercial club, 711 West Lake street, Minneapolis.

Friday Session.

9 a. m.—Committee reports continued.

1:30 p. m.—Committee reports continued, election of officers, adjournment.

Throughout the convention a desk will be open at Curtiss hotel where delegates and others desiring to visit hospitals in the Twin Cities may register and indicate which hospital they prefer to visit. Transportation will be provided by Twin City auxiliary units.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

THE ONE-FACTOR FOLK.

THERE is a great desire in the human mind to boil things down and unify them. I overheard three people on the street car in front of me recently talking about a relative of theirs who had broken down.

"It's because he never took enough exercise," said one. "I always said he would break down if he did not take more exercise."

"Nonsense!" said another. "It's nothing at all but the way he worried over that wild son of his—enough to break anyone down."

"I don't think either of those things have anything to do with it," asserted the third person. "It's in the blood. His father and his grandfather went just that way before him."

A Single Panacea for the World's Illness.

You see, each one had to have a single cause. The possibility that all three factors they had named, and maybe some more, might have entered into the case didn't seem to occur to one of them.

It's the same way with any political, financial or social situation. Almost everyone who talks about such things has a single panacea for the ills of the universe.

When prices obstinately refused to come down after the armistice, everyone had a favorite reason for the painful situation. One blamed it all on the greed of capital, another on the unreasonable demands of labor, another on the fact that stocks had been too much watered, a fourth on extravagant buying.

It was easy enough to discover a man who could tell you of a single factor which caused the whole trouble—they were to be found on every street corner—but much harder to find a man who realized that the high prices were the result of many complex factors and could not be changed by a single law or even by an alteration in some single line of conduct.

Wouldn't This Be Wonderful?

Of course the various schools of medicine and the various new lines of treatment are a strong example of this desire to unify. It is discovered that pus-producing teeth cause certain bodily ills, whereupon the enthusiastic promoters of this discovery feel sure that almost every ill can be traced to this source. The osteopath wants to cure all ills by rubbing, the surgeon thinks the knife is the only efficient remedy, the specialist on diets blames everything on wrong diet.

I have a friend who has just begun at 34 to study to be a doctor. Her great dream is a clinic of specialists in every line who, instead of having each insist on diagnosing and treating by his pet theory, shall all work together to diagnose and cure by the sum of all their skill and art. Wouldn't that be wonderful!

"And Both Are Very Impolite."

Another example of the desire to unify is in our tendency in any quarrel or dispute to think that one party is wholly right (quite especially if that party be ourselves) and one wholly wrong. Whereas, ninety-nine times out of 100, both are wrong and both right (and, according to the old rhyme my mother used to quote to us when we appealed to her in some childish dispute, "both are very impolite"). To be sure, one may be more wrong than the other, but seldom is all right on one side and all wrong on the other.

Life is not simple. It is distinctly complex. Into almost every situation many factors enter. Anyone who remembers this has a breath of vision that the one-factor folk never attain.

Efficient Housekeeping

SOME ONE-EGG RECIPES.

The two following home supper menus containing four one-egg recipes, will be found deliciously satisfying on a cold evening:

Mock Hamburg Steak
Cocoa Steamed Raisin Pudding

Mock Hamburg Steak—Run 3 cups left-over beans through the meat chopper, season with salt and pepper to taste, add 1 cup of bread crumbs and 1 beaten egg. Mix well and form into balls. Dip each ball in flour and fry in olive oil or butter-substitute. Serve hot.

Steamed Raisin Pudding—Chop ½ cup of suet, add ¼ cup bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 cup milk, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 beaten egg, and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Mix these ingredients well and pour into a greased mold, cover with a greased paper and steam for 2 hours. Serve with a hard sauce made by creaming ½ cup of butter with 1 cup of brown sugar and flavoring with vanilla.

Egg-Nut Roll
Cocoa Warwick Cake

Egg-Nut Roll—Soak 2 cups bread crumbs in 1 cup water until soft, then add 1 chopped onion, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 1 cup ground roasted peanuts, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon each sage and sage, 2 teaspoons melted butter and 1 beaten egg-yolk. Mold with hands and put in a well-greased baking tin; let it bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven, then add 1 cup of water and 1 tablespoon butter to the pan and baste frequently with this liquid for 45 minutes. Garnish with the egg-white hard-boiled and finely chopped. Serve with a brown sauce if desired.

Warwick Cake—Mix 1 cup brown sugar with ½ cup molasses, ½ cup milk and ¼ cup coffee, then add 1 well-beaten egg. Mix and sift 2 cups of flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon each ground nutmeg and ginger, then add 1 pound of seeded raisins and combine the two mixtures. Turn into a greased and floured round cake-tin and bake for 1 hour in a moderate oven. Dust with sugar when you take it from the oven.

Dinner Pail Filler—"I received your list of 'The Carried Lunch for All Seasons,' with the page of recipes, and find them very helpful. But I would like to know how to make deviled eggs, which you mention in the lists but do not give a recipe for."

Answer: Deviled Eggs—Boil the eggs hard, cut them in half crosswise, and scoop out the yolks. Mash these yolks in a bowl with half their bulk of canned deviled ham, moistening it with a little milk and seasoning it to taste. Then stuff the eggs with this mixture and put them together again, wrapping each stuffed egg in oiled paper. You will have some of the stuffing mixture left over if you have used all the yolks, and you can use this for sandwich filling.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

THE KING'S VISITORS.

TINKER BOB was not long in making all things ready for returning to the place where he had first seen the great Terror of the Forest. Major Pole Cat had done all that he had been told to do. Jerry the Jay Bird had been telling this story to all of the forest dwellers, and they were beginning to come to the king's palace in great numbers. For everyone in the forest seemed to be ready to do all that could be done to save the king from being harmed by such a hated creature as Mr. Wolf.

Bobby Hoot Owl was first to come to the call of the king. He was not anxious to fly in the daylight either, for it was hard for him to see. He had heard from Mr. Wolf and was ready to tell Tinker Bob all that he heard, and it was worth telling.

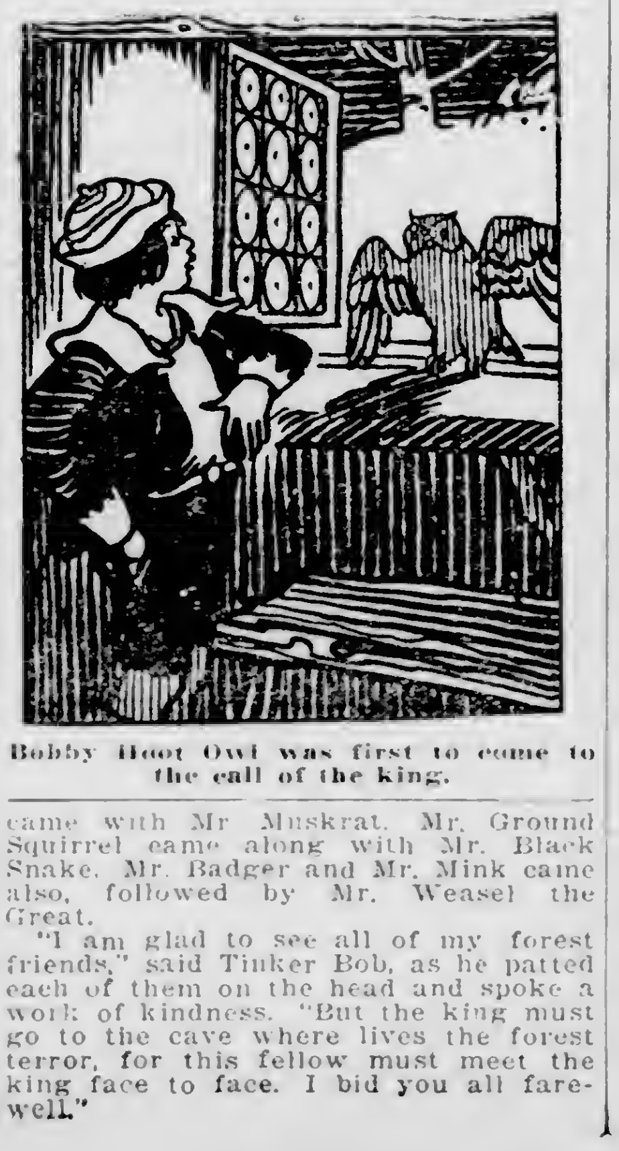
"Oh King, as I was perched just above the Pack of Terrors as they came through the forest last night," said Bobby, "I heard Mr. Wolf say the great spirit came to him while he was calling his mate that had run away. But he also said that he was going to fool even the great spirit, for if the king of the forest ever dared to come into the cave in the mountain he would never get out."

"Then one of his followers asked him what the great spirit would do to him if he harmed the king of the forest, and he said that the Great Spirit would never know it, for he would keep the king of the forest in the cave till all of the forest creatures had forgotten that there was ever a king in the land. Then I was angry."

"Don't be angry, oh king," said Major Pole Cat, "at the words of Bobby Hoot Owl, for I have heard a story also. I heard Mr. Wolf say that he was not going to harm the king himself, but was going to have one of his followers do the work for him so the great spirit will not know who did the king harm. Then there was almost a fight between Mr. Wolf and his pack. He bit one fellow by the leg and that ended the fight, for the others knew that he was a fierce fellow and didn't want to to take any chances. But he is a dangerous creature, oh king."

There came to the king creatures great and small. Rufus the Tree Mouse brought all of his friends. Dr. Coon came with Mr Muskrat. Mr. Ground Squirrel came along with Mr. Black Snake. Mr. Badger and Mr. Mink came also, followed by Mr. Weasel the Great.

"I am glad to see all of my forest friends," said Tinker Bob, as he patted each of them on the head and spoke a word of kindness. "But the king must go to the cave where lives the forest terror, for this fellow must meet the king face to face. I bid you all farewell."



Bobby Hoot Owl was first to come to the call of the king.

A WOMAN'S BURDENS are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by weaknesses and painful disorders, she will find relief from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's an invigorating tonic and nervine for "woman's complaints" and weaknesses, and for young girls just entering womanhood.

Baked Apples with Marshmallows

6 apples ½ cup boiling water
½ box Campfire Marshmallows
1 tablespoon butter

Wipe apples, remove core, cut through skin half way down to make points and place in baking dish. Remove six Campfire Marshmallows, cut remainder in pieces and put in center of apples. Put bits of butter on top. Surround apples with water and bake in hot oven until soft, basting frequently. Be very careful that they do not lose their shape. Remove from oven, put a whole marshmallow in the top of each apple, and return to oven until slightly brown. Surround with the syrup from the pan and serve hot or cold with cream.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

AS THE cold weather approaches, when we shall not be able to venture out of doors without a heavy all-enveloping cloak, our attention becomes concentrated more and more upon the models shown of these garments. The shops also, realizing that the psychological moment has come for women's thoughts to turn to winter cloaks, are displaying them in their windows.

Many of the new cloaks differ very little from those worn the last winter or two. Brown and tan continue to be the most popular colors, and all shades of brown fur are still seen on every variety of wrap. But other furs, new, and for that reason interesting, are making their appearance, and gray opossum seems to be used with charming effect on coats and suits of all shades of blue.

The county board of the ladies' auxiliary of the A. O. H. of St. Louis county held its regular business meeting Sunday at Gilley's hall, 223 Central avenue, West Duluth. Plans were made for an active campaign for members to begin Feb. 1. It was also decided to have a mass said for Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, the mass to be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Lynch, county chaplain of the ladies' auxiliary, at St. James' church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Kinnear place, on Sunday, Nov. 28, at 8 o'clock.

The general subject for the First National bank budget tomorrow afternoon is foods—the planning of well-balanced meals will be considered, meals which shall represent the right amount of nourishment and which shall bring the right return in energy and strength for the money expended. Special attention will be given to the amount of money for the different kind of food—what it should cost per person, per month, for a family for food.

The fireless cooker, which has been made and very successfully used by the city home bureau, will be shown.

These meetings at 3:30 each Thursday afternoon are free and all women are welcome.

Seventeen new members were initiated when the Philomatheon club of senior girls entertained at supper Monday evening at the Central high school at 6:30 o'clock. The club colors of black and gold were carried out effectively at the dining table, where covers were laid for fifty girls. Miss Margaret Hemenway, the club president, gave the address of welcome which was followed by a program of original stunts and interpretative dancing by Miss Hedwina Idzorek by candle light. Misses Mildred Sanders, Neva Rowe, and Vivian Benson sang some pleasing solos, and the remainder of the evening was given over to dancing.

Announcement that Miss Perle Reynolds, soprano soloist, was indisposed and would not appear before members of the Matinee Musicale at the bimonthly meeting of that society, held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Masonic temple, was the occasion for keen disappointment among the many friends of the talented young musician, who had anticipated much pleasure in her group of four numbers.

The disappointment was offset, however by Mrs. C. S. Mitchell who spoke briefly of events in the world of music at home and abroad, in which she visualized activities chiefly in the younger school of music, pointing out measures which in many instances were decidedly revolutionary, in the sense that they are a direct antithesis of the established rule of musicians, but which for all proved very interesting as well as entertaining.

The artists presented were Mrs. Paul Van Hoven, who in her usual charming way offered three numbers for piano, and Dr. Otto Peterson of Virginia, tenor, who gave two groups of songs in Finnish, except the last, Tosti's "Good-by" sung in English. The visiting artist was given generous applause in both of his groups.

Mrs. Fanny Bay Panaanem, a recent acquisition to local musical circles, and who has but recently returned from abroad, where she made special study in Finnish music, accompanied Dr. Peterson, displaying her mastery of the piano in a manner wholly complimentary to her art.

WOMAN WILL BE UNIVERSITY REGENT

A woman will be appointed to the board of regents of the University of Minnesota when Governor-elect J. A. O. Preus takes office, he told members of the Minneapolis G. O. P. Women's club at their victory celebration Monday night, expressing his conviction that other Minnesota institutions need the influence of a woman on their governing boards.

"I am going to appoint a woman on the board of regents to make the University of Minnesota a better institution," he said. "I believe you women should have further obligations put upon you. I don't want to appoint a woman to office just because she is a woman; but I believe that many of our penal, charitable, educational and correctional institutions need woman's influence, and appointments on such boards may come later."

Editor of Bulletin Calls for Material

The livest thing about every newspaper is its morgue. This is true because it is always the human interest element which puts "pep" into a publication. The News Bulletin, published by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, being a live paper, wants a morgue, which, to the uninitiated, is merely a record of Who's Who, arranged alphabetically for instant reference.

This then is a notice to every "Who" in the general federation that the News Bulletin editor wants "not exactly your obituary but at least your life history in as brief form as may be, provided it includes something concerning your personal life and everything concerning your altruistic activities," by which are meant your achievements for the public good through organized or personal effort. A photograph should accompany the life-sketch and both will be kept on file to use in federation press and publicity work whenever needed.

The appeal for morgue copy is made to all G. F. W. C. officers, state directors, state presidents (incoming and outgoing), department, division and committee chairmen and past officers, directors and chairmen.

Employed Girls Home To Open Saturday

Bridge and five hundred will be played at the housewarming and formal opening of the employed girls' home, located at 231 Fifth avenue east, to be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock and to which all persons interested in the home, friends of work of that nature or persons interested in seeing the newly fitted home where girls who do not make their residence at their own or parents' home will be given the comforts and atmosphere of something very closely akin to home life, will be welcome. Table reservations can be made by telephoning Mrs. W. H. Magie, Hemlock 716, or through Mrs. E. J. Tuohy at Hemlock 2529. Prizes will be awarded and during the hours refreshments will be served.

The purchase and fitting of the home marks the realization of a dream conceived by the Rt. Rev. John T. McNicholas, bishop of Duluth, and undertaken in the early spring by a committee of women appointed to carry out the plans. Purchase of the home was made recently by the diocese. The house has been remodeled, redecorated and attractively furnished and presents a wholly cheerful as well as attractive appearance.

Simultaneously with announcing the housewarming, the women in charge of the Saturday afternoon party state that the affair will have a second and equally important significance, as it is the hope of those in charge that sufficient money will be realized from the afternoon's entertainment to provide fuel for heating of the home during the cold season. It is planned to make the home a self-supporting institution.

Leave Your Order for Christmas Book List

Announcement is made at the library clubrooms that the list containing hundreds of the best books from an educational standpoint, as well as for such qualities as develop a taste for the better things in literature, and which tend to inspire growing minds with the loftiest ideals and morals, has been delayed in coming from the printer, and that all persons desirous of having one will, if they leave their addresses with the person in charge, together with 5 cents to cover cost of mailing and getting the list out, receive same at the earliest date possible after they are received at the library.

Yesterday, the second day of the exhibit, witnessed the visit of 117 grown-ups and more children than it would be easy to count. In the remaining days of the exhibit a talk will be given at 3:30 each afternoon by some person of authority on the best in reading for the young people. This afternoon Miss Mary Lucas, children's librarian at the public library, spoke.

MINNESOTA LEGION WOMEN LEAD STATES

Convention in Minneapolis Nov. 18 and 19 First of Its Kind in America.

In calling together the women's auxiliary of the American Legion for a state convention in Minneapolis tomorrow and Friday the Minnesota organization is the first of all the states to sponsor such a meeting, and Commander A. H. Vernon, Little Falls, has been extended the congratulations of the officers of the national body. The Mill City gathering will be held for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization and for the transaction of such other business as may seem important to the delegates.

In their message of congratulation to Commander Vernon, the national officers declare that the Minnesota auxiliary is in the limelight and that it is blazing a new trail for women of other states to follow. For that reason all activities of this meeting will be watched closely throughout the country.

Sessions of the convention will be held at the Curtiss hotel. The program as outlined in advance follows:

Thursday Session.

9 a. m.—Registration of delegates, alternates and guests.

10:30 a. m.—Convention called to order by A. H. Vernon, department commander, American Legion of Minnesota. Election of temporary officers.

Appointment of credentials and rules committees.

Report of credentials and rules committees.

Naming of various committees by district caucuses.

1:30 p. m.—Convention session. "Attitude of the American Legion National Convention Toward the Women's Auxiliary," by Dr. J. A. Hielscher.

"National Headquarters and the Women's Auxiliary," speaker to be announced later.

"The Women's Auxiliary and the Minnesota Department, American Legion," by A. H. Vernon.

"The Women's Auxiliary and the Public Health Service," by Dr. [illegible]

7:30 p. m.—Reports of committees.

8:30 p. m.—Reception at Curtiss hotel.

9:30 p. m.—[illegible] Whiteside post [illegible] Dancing, auspices [illegible] Women's Auxiliary at the [illegible] club, 711 West [illegible] street, Minneapolis.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

THE ONE-FACTOR FOLK.

THERE is a great desire in the human mind to boil things down and unify them. I overheard three people on the street car in front of me recently talking about a relative of theirs who had broken down.

"It's because he never took enough exercise," said one. "I always said he would break down if he did not take more exercise."

"Nonsense!" said another. "It's nothing at all but the way he worried over that wild son of his—enough to break anyone down."

"I don't think either of those things have anything to do with it," asserted the third person. "It's in the blood. His father and his grandfather went just that way before him."

A Single Panacea for the World's Illness.

You see, each one had to have a single cause. The possibility that all three factors they had named, and maybe some more, might have entered into the case didn't seem to occur to one of them.

It's the same way with any political, financial or social situation. Almost everyone who talks about such things has a single panacea for the ills of the universe.

When prices obstinately refused to come down after the armistice, everyone had a favorite reason for the painful situation. One blamed it all on the greed of capital, another on the unreasonable demands of labor, another on the fact that stocks had been too much watered, a fourth on extravagant buying.

It was easy enough to discover a man who could tell you of a single factor which caused the whole trouble—they were to be found on every street corner—but much harder to find a man who realized that the high prices were the result of many complex factors and could not be changed by a single law or even by an alteration in some single line of conduct.

Wouldn't This Be Wonderful?

Of course the various schools of medicine and the various new lines of treatment are a strong example of this desire to unify. It is discovered that pus-producing teeth cause certain bodily ills, whereupon the enthusiastic promoters of this discovery feel sure that almost every ill can be traced to this source. The osteopath wants to cure all ills by rubbing, the surgeon thinks the knife is the only efficient remedy, the specialist on diets blames everything on wrong diet.

I have a friend who has just begun at 34 to study to be a doctor. Her great dream is a clinic of specialists in every line who, instead of having each insist on diagnosing and treating by his pet theory, shall all work together to diagnose and cure by the sum of all their skill and art. Wouldn't that be wonderful!

"And Both Are Very Impolite."

Another example of the desire to unify is in our tendency in any quarrel or dispute to think that one party is wholly right (quite especially if that party be ourselves) and one wholly wrong. Whereas, ninety-nine times out of 100, both are wrong and both right (and, according to the old rhyme my mother used to quote to us when we appealed to her in some childish dispute, "both are very impolite"). To be sure, one may be more wrong than the other, but seldom is all right on one side and all wrong on the other.

Life is not simple, it is distinctly complex. Into almost every situation many factors enter. Anyone who remembers this has a breath of vision that the one-factor folk never attain.

SOME ONE-EGG RECIPES.

The two following home supper menus containing four one-egg recipes, will be found deliciously satisfying on a cold evening:

Mock Hamburg Steak
Cocoa Steamed Raisin Pudding

Mock Hamburg Steak—Run 3 cups left-over beans through the meat chopper, season with salt and pepper to taste, add 1 cup of bread crumbs and 1 beaten egg. Mix well and form into balls. Dip each ball in flour and fry in olive oil or butter-substitute. Serve hot.

Steamed Raisin Pudding—Chop ½ cup of suet, add ¼ cup bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 cup milk, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 beaten egg, and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Mix these ingredients well and pour into a greased mold, cover with a greased paper and steam for 2 hours. Serve with a hard sauce made by creaming ½ cup of butter with 1 cup of brown sugar and flavoring with vanilla.

Egg-Nut Roll
Cocoa Warwick Cake

Egg-Nut Roll—Soak 2 cups bread crumbs in 1 cup water until soft, then add 1 chopped onion, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 1 cup ground roasted peanuts, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon each sage and sage, 2 teaspoons melted butter and 1 beaten egg-yolk. Mold with hands and put in a well-greased baking tin; let it bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven, then add 1 cup of water and 1 tablespoon butter to the pan and baste frequently with this liquid for 45 minutes. Garnish with the egg-white hard-boiled and finely chopped. Serve with a brown sauce if desired.

Warwick Cake—Mix 1 cup brown sugar with ½ cup molasses, ½ cup milk and ¼ cup coffee, then add 1 well-beaten egg. Mix and sift 2 cups of flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon each ground nutmeg and ginger, then add 1 pound of seeded raisins and combine the two mixtures. Turn into a greased and floured round cake-tin and bake for 1 hour in a moderate oven. Dust with sugar when you take it from the oven.

Dinner Pail Filler—"I received your list of 'The Carried Lunch for All Seasons,' with the page of recipes, and find them very helpful. But I would like to know how to make deviled eggs, which you mention in the lists but do not give a recipe for."

Answer: Deviled Eggs—Boil the eggs hard, cut them in half crosswise, and scoop out the yolks. Mash these yolks in a bowl with half their bulk of canned deviled ham, moistening it with a little milk and seasoning it to taste. Then stuff the eggs with this mixture and put them together again, wrapping each stuffed egg in oiled paper. You will have some of the stuffing mixture left over if you have used all the yolks and you can use this for sandwich filling.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

THE KING'S VISITORS.

TINKER BOB was not long in making all things ready for returning to the place where he had first seen the great Terror of the Forest. Major Pole Cat had done all that he had been told to do. Jerry the Jay Bird had been telling this story to all of the forest dwellers, and they were beginning to come to the king's palace in great numbers. For everyone in the forest seemed to be ready to do all that could be done to save the king from being harmed by such a hated creature as Mr. Wolf.

Bobby Hoot Owl was first to come to the call of the king. He was not anxious to fly in the daylight either, for it was hard for him to see. He had heard from Mr. Wolf and was ready to tell Tinker Bob all that he heard, and it was worth telling.

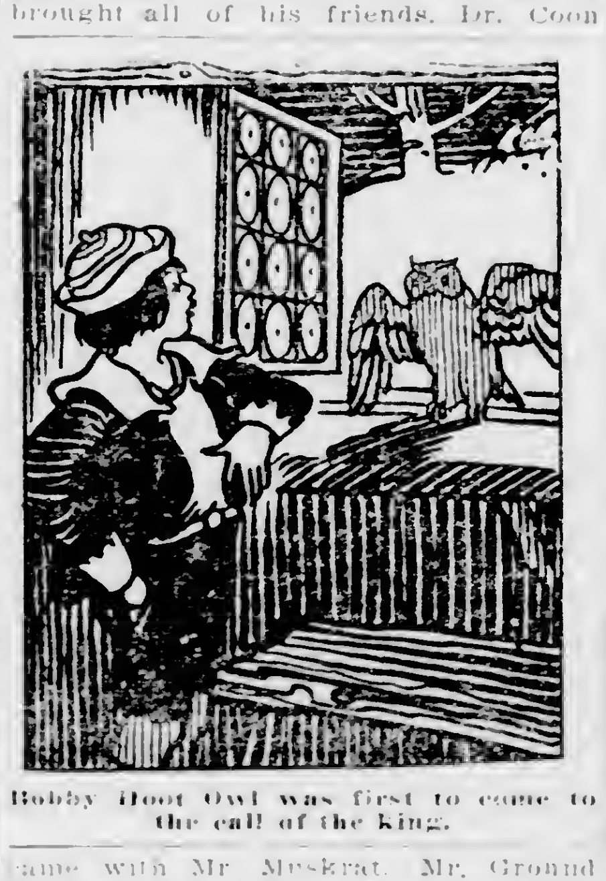
"Oh King, as I was perched just above the Pack of Terrors as they came through the forest last night," said Bobby, "I heard Mr. Wolf say the great spirit came to him while he was calling his mate that had run away. But he also said that he was going to fool even the great spirit, for if the king of the forest ever dared to come into the cave in the mountain he would never get out.'

"Then one of his followers asked him what the great spirit would do to him if he harmed the king of the forest, and he said that the Great Spirit would never know it, for he would keep the king of the forest in the cave till all of the forest creatures had forgotten that there was ever a king in the land. Then I was angry."

"Don't be angry, oh king," said Major Pole Cat, "at the words of Bobby Hoot Owl, for I have heard a story also. I heard Mr. Wolf say that he was not going to harm the king himself but was going to have one of his followers do the work for him so the great spirit will not know who did the king harm. Then there was almost a fight between Mr. Wolf and his pack. He bit one fellow by the leg and that ended the fight, for the others knew that he was a fierce fellow and didn't want to to take any chances. But he is a dangerous creature, oh king."

There came to the king creatures great and small. Rufus the Tree Mouse brought all of his friends. Dr. Coon came with Mr. Muskrat. Mr. Ground Squirrel came along with Mr. Black Snake. Mr. Badger and Mr. Mink came also, followed by Mr. Weasel the Great.

"I am glad to see all of my forest friends," said Tinker Bob, as he patted each of them on the head and spoke a word of kindness. "But the king must go to the cave where lives the forest terror, for this fellow must meet the king face to face. I bid you all farewell."



Bobby Hoot Owl was first to come to the call of the king.

A WOMAN'S BURDENS are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by weaknesses and painful disorders, she will find relief from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's an invigorating tonic and nervine for "woman's complaints" and weaknesses, and for young girls just entering womanhood.

Baked Apples with Marshmallows
6 apples ¾ cup boiling water
½ box Campfire Marshmallows
1 tablespoon butter
Wipe apples, remove core, cut through skin half way down to make points and place in baking dish. Reserve six Campfire Marshmallows, cut remainder in pieces and put in center of apples. Put bits of butter on top. Surround apples with water and bake in hot oven until soft, basting frequently. Be very careful that they do not lose their shape. Remove from oven, put a whole marshmallow in the top of each apple, and return to oven until slightly brown.
Surround with the syrup from the pan and serve hot or cold with cream.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation
Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.
When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.
TRY IT FREE
Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Thanksgiving Cantata At St. Paul's Sunday

A Thanksgiving cantata, "Festal Song," by the well-known English composer Edmund Turner, will be given by St. Paul's choir on Sunday afternoon at 5 p. m. The work is melodious and musicianly, containing three chorus numbers, a duet for soprano and tenor, a quartet and a baritone solo. The words, taken from the psalter and church hymnal, are very seasonable.

The full chorus choir will be in attendance and the solo numbers will be rendered by Miss Elizabeth I. Richardson, V. Rudolph Burquist and George E. Suffel.

Bethel to Plan For Thanksgiving Day

An interesting women's meeting will be held at the Bethel, Mesaba avenue and West First street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It will be a preparation for the observance of Thanksgiving day. Dr. William F. Seoular, pastor of Glen Avon Presbyterian church, will speak. Mrs. H. F. Gibson will sing. A social half hour will follow the service. This meeting is for all women interested in the work of the Bethel.

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman in "The Actor's Wife;" other acts.

NEW GRAND—"My Dream Girl," musical novelty, other features.

ORPHEUM—Lillian Price is Georgie Price's little sister. The Price family, theatrically, is worth almost any price. They stand very high in the younger set of players and it is of course, from this set that the stars of tomorrow must come, so it is very likely that some day not very distant the Prices are going to be elevated to stellar rank. Lillian Price has entered into a vaudeville agreement with Bud Bernie. Mr. Bernie has had several vaudeville associates. He is a musician closely approaching the virtuoso type. There are few players more at home at the piano than he is. Miss Price and Mr. Bernie call their combination of songs fun and music, "Tunes and Laugh Fashions of 1920." They are of a decidedly up-to-date assortment of songs, patter and music.

NEW GRAND—Tonight's showings will be the last of the entertaining current bill of vaudeville and pictures at the New Grand, where an entire new show will open tomorrow headed by "The Pearl of Hawaii," Jonia, and her Tropical Serenaders. "My Dream Girl," a spectacular musical and dancing playlet, with a company of seven, two of them girls, headlines the present program. Other acts include Johnny Clark and company in a comedy oddity, "Touring Prohibition;" Alf Grant, a popular entertainer in "Songs and Smiles;" Charles Darby and Hazel Brown in their musical flirtation, "Back Home," and Lou and Grace Harvey in "Songs of the Hour." The show has been making an immense hit since opening, playing to satisfied crowds at every performance.

PHOTOPLAYS

NEW GARRICK—Tom Moore in "Officer 666."

STRAND—"Held by the Enemy," with Jack Holt and Agnes Ayres.

ZELDA—Corinne Griffith in "The Whisper Market."

NEW LYRIC—Shirley Mason in "The Little Wanderer."

STRAND—When a story is based upon a woman's spirit of self-sacrifice brought about by dishonoring her name to protect the home of a man who once loved her and whom she holds in the highest esteem, it is always certain of carrying sufficient appeal to enlist the sympathy of the average reader. When it is depicted upon the screen with its dramatic possibilities realized to the utmost, it takes on an interest, the force of which cannot be denied.

Ethel Clayton's new starring vehicle, "The Ladder of Lies," by Harold Vickers, which will come to the Strand theater for three days beginning tomorrow, is interpreted as the ladder upon which man climbs to happiness. It is shown that this ladder must be founded upon truth, for if it rests upon a lie, it will surely fall ere man has reached the top. This is one of the most powerful themes which Miss Clayton has interpreted for some time. "The Ladder of Lies" may be defined as the old story of woman's sacrifice for a man, but done with an entirely new twist. In this tale, the heroine doesn't love the man for whom she is risking her good name, but is just his good friend, anxious to shield him from the fact that the woman he married is unfaithful.

When her own honor is impugned, as the result, in the eyes of the man she loves, the heroine is silent, until the way is unexpectedly opened to her happiness. Miss Clayton was never more attractive than in "The Ladder of Lies" and never has she revealed such a mastery of her art. The picture presents ample opportunities for the display of her talent. It is also well fortified with a splendid moral. The star's support is praiseworthy, including such favorites as Charles Meredith, Irving Cummings and Clyde Fillmore.

William Gillette's powerful stage success, "Held by the Enemy," will close tonight. Coming Sunday will be Norma Talmadge in her latest production, "The Branded Woman."

NEW GARRICK—Is it cruel to deceive when the deception is for a good end? Which is better—to leave a blind girl blind, believing her friends good and beautiful, or to give her sight, with the bitter shock of finding them common crooks? This is the double-edged problem unfolded—and answered—in "Eyes of the Heart" in which Mary Miles Minter comes to the New Garrick tomorrow on a program, the added attractions of which include "One Best Pet," a Chester comedy with the same actors, human and animal in "Foiled by Four" and other hits. The feature is this popular little star's latest picture, adapted from the Ladies' Home Journal story, "Blindness," by Dana Burnett. Tonight is the last chance Tom Moore admirers and others who like good comedy-drama on the screen, will have to see "Officer 666," a picturization of the Cohan & Harris' farce comedy success by Winchell Smith, which is funnier and better than the stage production.

NEW LYRIC—Petite, charming Shirley Mason is back again, this time in "The Little Wanderer," featured at the New Lyric with "Mr. Fatima," a special Christie comedy starring Eddie Barrie. The little star is seen as a friendless girl, who flees from a hard taskmaster, and disguised as a boy beats her way on a coal train to New York. Forced by circumstances to admit she is a girl the romance which is prettily woven into the story begins and is carried on to the accompaniment of one adventure after another to the final climax that is as unexpected as it is logical. The supporting cast includes such notables as Raymond McKee, and many others. "Mr. Fatima" is one of the most delightfully funny Christies seen here this season, according to report, as high a mark as the others have hit. There will be the usual short subjects, including the Lyric News Events, and special music by the New Lyric concert orchestra.

ZELDA—"The Whisper Market," opening at the Zelda today, the new vehicle provided for Corinne Griffith by Vitagraph, is an admirable example of an interesting story, well worked out for the screen, expertly directed, produced with extraordinary care and acted by an all-star cast—in other words, a typical photoplay of the kind the public has learned to expect from Vitagraph. The original magazine story which forms the basis of "The Whisper Market" was written by W. E. Scutt and has all the elements of a modern story of adventure and intrigue, with novel twists. Miss Griffith as Erminie North, a leader of society in the American colony, acts with vigor and makes her role a splendid portrayal of American womanhood—resourceful, beautiful, brilliant and devoted. George Howard plays opposite the star as Basil North, Erminie's husband and American vice consul. Burke, the mysterious adventurer, is in the capable hands of George MacQuarrie.

STEENERSON IS MENTIONED AS POSTMASTER GENERAL

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—News from Washington received here containing mention of the name of Congressman Halvor Steenerson as postmaster general under President-elect Harding's administration is of special interest to the Ninth congressional district of Minnesota, which Mr. Steenerson represents. Mr. Steenerson's home is in Crookston and his political friends here say there are strong possibilities in favor of the congressman being given the post of postmaster general.

Mr. Steenerson is one of the ranking members of the house of representatives, having represented this district for the past eighteen years. He has been and still is chairman of the committee on postoffices and postroads and as a member of that committee he has been in close touch with the postoffice department.

POLK COUNTY FARM BUREAU WORK PRAISED

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the Polk County Farm bureau was held here yesterday afternoon. President E. G. Eklund of Fosston, chairman of the meeting, pointed out the work of the farm bureau during the past year. He told how the farm bureau met the demands for farm labor by bringing hundreds of laborers to Polk county and he showed how $5,000 was saved to the potato growers when the farm bureau purchased a huge quantity of paris green and sold it at cost. Other speakers were Carl Berg of Erskine, W. E. Morris, state farm bureau leader, and O. K. Berget and C. G. Selvig of Crookston.

Two committees were appointed by President Eklund: Constitution, T. A. Sullivan, East Grand Forks, W. E. Morris and Carl Berg, and nominating, H. E. Sorvig, Winger; William Osterloh, Angus; T. E. Kjelhaug, Dan Supernant, Gentilly, and L. M. Bond and John Perry of Crookston. The latter committee was expected to report later on nominations for new officers of the farm bureau.

Crookston Booze Arrests.

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two Crookston men, Cecil Casey and Clifford Sawyer are held in the county jail following a search of their rooms in which several bottles of liquor are alleged to have been found. It is understood that Casey, who was under suspended sentence of thirty days, will be required to serve that time. Palmer Saterno and Carl Swanson were bound over to the district court on liquor charges yesterday by Municipal Judge N. B. Moran. They are alleged to have sold liquor at a dance at Climax recently. Both are now out on bonds.

Beltrami Citizenship Applications.

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fourteen applications have been made by persons who desire to become citizens at the February term of court which opens on Feb. 9. R. K. Doe of Duluth, naturalization officer, will be in charge of the examinations.

Worn Out Women

Many Women Feel Tired All The Time, And Sleep Fails To Refresh Them.

They feel languid, faint and weak, the appetite becomes variable, digestion impaired, they often have headache and pain in the back, hips and loins, cold hands and feet. The blood becomes thin, the nerves lacking in strength, the complexion sallow, the cheeks sunken, the bust reduced and the disposition irritable. The purpose of Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets is to make rich, red blood, which improves the complexion and strengthens the nerves, making life a joy instead of a daily misery. These tablets have been used by women, with much success, for over a quarter of a century. Try them and see how much better you will feel and look. Price 60 cents. HOME-COMING AT STATE "U"

"Better Minnesota" Week Being Observed at Gopher Institution.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Homecoming week at the University of Minnesota started in earnest today with observance of "William Watts Folwell Day," in honor of the first president of the institution.

"Better Minnesota" week is the formal title given the five-day celebration, which was inaugurated last year by President Marion Le Roy Burton, now president at Michigan, and fostered again this year by the new president, Lotus D. Coffman.

The formal program got under way today, after a successful "button sale day" yesterday, the first day of the observance. Homecoming badges were sold to thousands of students and alumni, flocking here for the big event, which will culminate Saturday in the football game between Minnesota and Michigan.

Today's program started with a convocation in the Armory, at which President Emeritus Folwell spoke. President Coffman presided and the glee clubs sang. In the evening a student dinner will be held to welcome President Coffman as the university's new executive.

Thursday, Cyrus Northrop Day.

Tomorrow will be "Cyrus Northrop" day. In the morning there will be an all-university convocation in the Armory, at which President Emeritus Northrop and President Coffman will speak. The convocation will be presided over by Fred Ossanna, chairman of Better Minnesota week. W. F. Webster will deliver the principal address. Orrin Safford, Minnesota football center 1905, 1906 and 1908, and Louis L. Collins, lieutenant governor-elect of Minnesota, will speak briefly. The university band, under the direction of Michael Jalma, formerly director of the One Hundred and Fifty-first artillery band, will play.

Friday will be known as "Loyalty" day. Fred Ossanna will preside at a convocation at 4:30 p. m., at which Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of University of Chicago, will speak. Marion L. Burton, until recently president of the University of Minnesota, and now president of the University of Michigan, will speak. The oath of loyalty will be read by President Coffman and students and faculty members will take the pledge.

NEW BADGER LIBRARY SYSTEM NOW PROPOSED

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17.—Establishment of a new system of libraries in certain counties of the state is to be recommended by the free library commission to the legislature when it convenes, according to B. C. Lester, its secretary. The proposal calls for a reorganization of the county plan of distribution.

Rural library extension, especially in the northern districts of the state, is considered by the commission in presenting its proposal, it is said. Direct taxation will be asked as support for the new libraries, with units which already give adequate financial support exempted, according to Mr. Lester.

County boards are to create, establish and maintain a public library system for the state under the plan. They are to appoint a board of not more than five, including a county superintendent, to direct the work. Under the proposed plan, it is said, they may also erect or purchase necessary buildings and may take over the existing libraries. The county board would provide for the appointment by the library board of library employes and for fixing their pay.

Librarians in the employ of the county boards would be required to hold first-grade certificates under the proposed plan, it is said.

S. D. Highway Completed.

Deadwood, S. D., Nov. 17.—The Custer Peak section of the Deadwood-to-Denver highway has just been completed by the engineering department of the forestry service. The cost of the seven miles of highway was $50,000. Work on the seven miles of highway from Custer to Sylvan Lake is to cost $35,000. This is the section known as the Willow Creek highway.

Bottle Explosion Costs Eye.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 17.—Throwing a corked empty bottle into boiling water, to see if the cork would blow out, George Youngs, the 9-year-old son of Mrs. William Youngs of Cedar, Wis., lost one eye when the broken bottle exploded. A piece of the broken bottle became lodged in the eyeball, and the boy was brought to the St. Joseph's hospital, where the surgeons found it necessary to remove the eye.

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Subacute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally I found a treatment that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from such forms of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

SAYS STATE COURTS DODGE BOOZE CASES

Winona, Minn., Nov. 17.—"Passing the buck" to the United States courts in cases of alleged violation of the prohibition laws, where arrests are made by local authorities, was condemned by Judge Wilbur F. Booth in Federal court here yesterday.

Judge Booth, in a sharp comment from the bench, after he had heard evidence presented by United States District Attorney Alfred Jaques in a case against a local saloon man, declared that the state laws were ample to cover infractions of the prohibition enforcement law and that a greater proportion of such cases should be brought into the state courts.

"There is no intention on the part of this court to shirk its duty," said Judge Booth, "but neither should there be a shirking of duty on the part of the state courts. When arrests are made by local authorities the cases should be brought into state courts."

NOT SPECIFIC ENOUGH.

Charges Against Hennepin Board Members Must Be Amended.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Charges filed with Governor Burnquist by Alfred Stringer, Minneapolis taxpayer, who is seeking the removal of Frank W. Cook, Henry B. Chase, Barney Anderson and C. B. Waddell from the Hennepin county board of commissioners, are not specific enough to warrant official investigation, the governor notified Stringer. The complaint, said the governor, must be amended and the charges be made more clear cut by Dec. 1 or the case will be dismissed.

SOUTH DAKOTA ELECTS BANKER AS GOVERNOR

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 17.—Banking is the calling of William H. McMaster, governor-elect of South Dakota, who was born on a farm near Ticonic, Iowa, May 10, 1877.

When he was 3 years old his father died, and William and his mother moved to Sioux City, Iowa, where William received his early education. He graduated from high school in 1895.

The next fall he entered Beloit college, Beloit, Wis., and graduated in 1899. Then he returned to Sioux City, Iowa, and obtained a position in a bank. After several months in this institution William decided to establish a bank of his own.

In 1901 he opened his bank in Gayville, Yankton county, South Dakota. Six years later he opened a similar institution at Mission Hill, a few miles from Gayville.

He was elected to the state legislature in 1910. Two years later he became a state senator, and was reelected to this office in 1914. In 1916 he was elected lieutenant-governor and re-elected in 1918.

In December, 1919, the South Dakota Republican convention nominated him for governor, and after successfully running the gauntlet of the primaries in March of this year, he was elected in November.

Mr. McMaster is an orator and is frequently in demand at holiday celebrations and other occasions.

CHARGED WITH BRIBERY.

Milwaukeean Alleged to Have Offered Federal Man Big Sum.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 17.—Joseph A. Budar, proprietor of a local cafe, was arrested Tuesday by Deputy United States marshals on the charge of trying to bribe H. H. Stroud, head of the Milwaukee office of the department of justice.

It is understood illicit liquor traffic figured in the case. An alleged bribe of $10,000 is said to have been offered.

Mr. Budar was arraigned before a United States commissioner and his case continued to Nov. 26. Bail was fixed at $25,000.

Hunter Drops Dead.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 17.—Frank Hager, 63 years old, Fife Lake, Traverse county, Mich., dropped dead while hunting deer in the woods five miles east of Sagola. Heart trouble was said to be the cause of his death. Mr. Hager's brother, Gardner, and his nephew, Morris Hager, were with him at the time.

Flickertail Killed in Wisconsin.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 17.—Funeral services for Rudolph Christian Bertsch, 18 years old, who was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident at Kenosha, Wis., Thursday, were held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the German Baptist church.

WILLIAM E. LEE OF LONG PRAIRIE DIES

Long Prairie, Minn., Nov. 17.—William E. Lee, candidate for governor in 1914 and speaker of the state house of representatives in the twenty-eighth legislature in 1893, died at his home here at midnight last night. Mr. Lee's death was due to cancer of the liver. He was taken ill last spring and had been ailing since. His condition became critical ten days ago. A widow and three sons survive him. Mr. Lee, running on the Republican ticket for governor in 1914, was defeated by the late Governor W. S. Hammond, Democrat.

WILLIAM E. LEE.

William Edwin Lee was born in Alton, Ill., on Jan. 8, 1852. He came to Minnesota with his parents in June, 1856. After attending public schools he became a millwright and, while still a boy, invented a wheat-cleaning machine that was used extensively in flour mills. For many years he had been connected with business enterprises here, including several banks. He was elected to the state legislature in 1885 and served through 1893. Later he became superintendent of the state reformatory at St. Cloud and was a member of the first state board of control.

Menomonie Hospital Fire.

Menomonie, Wis., Nov. 17.—Twenty-five patients were carried to safety when fire, resulting, it is believed, from a defective chimney, destroyed the second and third stories of the municipal hospital here. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Ishpeming—Arrangements are completed for the county Sunday school convention to be held on Friday afternoon and evening in the Presbyterian church. Every Sunday school in Marquette county is expected to be represented. Rev. John T. Anderson of this city, recently appointed Upper Peninsula superintendent of Sunday schools, is in charge of arrangements.

Ironwood—A deal was closed for the sale of the Norrie market, owned by Joe Anderson, to Fred E. Williams of Duluth and Ernest E. Carlson of Ironwood. The consideration was not made public.

Bessemer—Mayor Andy Byrne and John Holland have been named by James A. O'Neil, chairman of the county committee, to arrange for the sale here of the bonds issued by the new republic of Ireland.

Hancock—Miss Florence Girard and Joseph Rostellan were married in St. Ignatius' church Monday by the Rev. Fr. Rezek. They were attended by the bride's sister and brother, Emma and Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Rostelan will make their home in Saxon, Wis., the home of the groom.

Ironwood—Mr. and Mrs. William Pearson and daughter, Miss Ida Pearson, arrived here from their home at Two Harbors, Minn., for a visit of several days here with relatives and friends. They will visit with relatives of Mr. Pearson at Milwaukee before returning home.

Houghton—Secretary William Duffney of the Houghton chamber of commerce has received an acknowledgment of the receipt of a package of the association's folders from Houghton and the Copper country from the chamber of commerce at Manila, Philippine islands.

Hancock—Mrs. Edithe Anthony and daughters, Lorraine and Eloise, of Ripley have left for Duluth, where they expect to locate for the winter.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

St. Cloud—Victor Bardelli, a former resident of St. Cloud and member of the St. Cloud military band, has written Director Gans from Milan, Italy, inviting all of the band boys to attend his wedding on Dec. 2 at Milan. Bardelli enlisted in the engineer corps of the United States army at the outbreak of the war and after the armistice was signed moved to Italy.

East Grand Forks—The furniture for the new school has been ordered and is expected to arrive in the city within a few days, Supt. M. C. Hayes said.

International Falls—Conrad A. Holm, a plasterer by trade, aged 38 years, died Sunday. The funeral arrangements await receipt of word from relatives in Seattle.

St. Cloud—Funeral services have been held for Edward Goerger, aged 76, a veteran of the Civil war and pioneer of Stearns county, died Sunday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Weyrens. Several children survive.

Bemidji—The county road from Grace lake west to State Road No. 2 has been graded and leveled and is now in good shape. Two miles of road-running north from the county line to the Carter farm has also been put in excellent condition.

International Falls—Pat Lynch and Alderman Joseph Keyes have returned from Grand Forks, where they bought sixteen head of horses which were shipped here for woods' work.

Crookston—Of the teachers in attendance at the Polk county institute held here Friday, the majority favored raising funds for a county club leader. An almost unanimous vote of the teachers were in favor of increasing their dues for next year to $2.25 to cover membership dues in the Northwestern Minnesota Education association and the Minnesota Education association.

Brainerd — James Dibble, charged with being one of two men taking $1,360 worth of cigarettes from the Brainerd Wholesale Grocery company, pleaded guilty in district court to the charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

Moorhead—Military funeral rites were held here Tuesday over the body of Burton R. Hansen, a Moorhead soldier who died in France during the war, which arrived Sunday from New York. The body was escorted by Private Charles Heade of the Forty-ninth infantry, Company B. A delegation from the Melvin T. Hearl post of the American Legion met the train.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Dr. E. P. Robertson of Wesley college went to Edgely, N. D., as a member of a committee appointed by the conference to investigate plans for a hospital which the Commercial club of Edgely contemplates erecting.

Fargo, N. D.—Seven Grand Forks men were held to the Federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to violate the Federal prohibition law, following a hearing here. Bail for the seven men was fixed at $2,000 each. Reports on Saturday night indicated that Al Forseth was the only one who furnished bail. The men under arrest are Henry Harris, Selmer and Martin Hagness, Felix, Richard, Gus and Al Forseth.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Grand Forks will have an inclosed ice skating rink this winter. R. W. Johndahl of this city has leased the building directly opposite the Swift company's plant on South Fifth street and the work of getting the structure in shape for the winter has progressed rapidly for the last few days.

Carrington, N. D.—Burglars who raided the Carrington Mercantile company obtained only $6 in cash and less than $25 worth of merchandise.

Hillsboro, N. D.—Lloyd Dietz pleaded guilty in the district court to the charge of arson and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary by Judge N. J. Englert.

Dickinson, N. D.—Application for the pardon of Adolph Lehmann, who on May 20, 1917, shot and killed M. Wetzstein of Richardton, has been made to the state pardon board. The murder was the result of long-standing bitterness between the men.

Underwood, N. D.—Plans and specifications prepared by W. D. Gillespie, architect at Fargo, for a new $100,000 high school for Underwood have been approved by the board of education which is making arrangements now for a bond flotation. Bids will be called for in about thirty days.

Fargo, N. D.—Irving Eugene Nord, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nord of Drake, N. D., died Saturday in a local hospital after a short illness caused by an abscess. He was born in Drake and educated in the Drake schools. Besides his parents he is survived by six sisters and two brothers. The body was taken to Drake.

Dependability In Business

Every merchant is dependable—in spots. A department store may be noted for its silks and weak in housewares; another may be strong on notions and weak in dress goods. A butcher who sells excellent sausage may sell tough beef.

Dependability is the power to maintain excellence in every line undertaken.

Dependability used to be an ideal with Julius Andrae & Sons Co.: today it is a reality. Every line of electrical merchandise this Company now handles is thoroughly good and reliable. There are no weak spots.

The reason is simple; being the foremost wholesale distributors of electrical merchandise in this territory, the best manufacturers seek to place their goods in our hands. We are in position to pick and choose the lines we carry. We pick all lines to pieces and choose the best.

It follows that the retail electrical dealers who buy from us are dependable. For, having chosen the best lines of merchandise, we have gone another step and have chosen the best merchants to represent these lines.

So when you find an electric store that sells any of the electrical goods listed below, deal there with confidence. That merchant is dependable.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."—Elizabeth Weaver, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—Mrs. A. L. Miller, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE AND STATE TITLES TO BE DECIDED SATURDAY

Illinois Will Play Ohio; Macalester to Meet Carleton.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—The Big Ten conference football championship and that of the Minnesota college conference will be decided next Saturday, the result of last week's play leaving the outcome still in doubt in both cases.

Ohio State, leader in the percentage column, was not in action, but the remainder of the Big Ten teams battled for a claim to the championship or position in the race.

The Wisconsin-Illinois game was the most spectacular game of the schedule and served to muddle the dope to some extent. Illinois went into the game at Madison without a defeat. During the first two periods of play there was every indication that the Suckers would start against Ohio State next Saturday wit ha clean slate.

In the third period Wisconsin opened a passing game, which, combined with line smashes and end running, brought two touchdowns in ten minutes of super-football, the score being 14 to 9. Both teams came through the game without serious injury and are expected to be in top form for the closing games of the schedule Saturday. Illinois will battle Ohio State and the result of this game will either muddle the championship, or give Ohio State a clear claim. Wisconsin will meet Chicago in a battle for position.

Wisconsin Is Favored.

Michigan won its first conference game Saturday, defeating Chicago, 14 to 0, in a hard-fought game. The Chicago game, without the help of its best backfield men, was unable to gain against the defense of the Michigan team. Michigan's showing makes her a favorite over Minnesota in the closing game of the season for both teams, to be played at Northrop field, Minneapolis. Unless Coach Stagg is able to get his backfield in better working shape than it was last Saturday, Wisconsin is favored to win in the annual battle between the two teams.

The showing made by the Minnesota team against Iowa gave the Minnesota followers little hope to win from Michigan. Michigan showed a strong line against Chicago, while Minnesota's line broke under the Iowa attack, and showed little strength except in the first period, when their only points of the game were scored. A win for Minnesota against Michigan is the only hope the followers of the Maroon and Gold have as the result of the loss of five straight conference games.

Northwestern Coming Back.

Northwestern climbed a notch higher in the percentage column by defeating Purdue, 14 to 0, showing some of the form which was developed early in the season. Indiana was out of the conference Saturday, taking a trimming from Notre Dame, 13 to 10, in one of the hardest played games of the week-end.

Minnesota conference colleges cleared the stage for the final battle of the season to be played between Macalester, the one conference team without a defeat, and Carleton college, defeated last Saturday by Hamline, 10 to 6. The game is to be played at Northfield.

Hamline Showed Strength.

Saturday's games showed the conference contenders to be even matched. Hamline's 10-to-6 victory over Carleton was deserved. The Hamline line outcharged and outplayed the Carleton line, and the local backfield showed more punching power than that developed by Hunt's men. Barnes, of the Hamline team, furnished thrills with open field running, which was the best seen on a college field this season. Hard sure tackling by the last Carleton defensive man stopped him on his wild dashes. Carleton showed smashing power in their drive for the six points they made.

In the Macalester-St. Thomas game, the inability of the St. Thomas men to make a goal from touchdown resulted in a 7-to-6 victory for Macalester. The four conference teams in action Saturday proved to be most evenly matched. The deciding game of the season, between Macalester, the only conference team without a defeat, and Carleton, the short-enders in Saturday's play with Hamline, will either give Macalester a clear claim to the title or Carleton, with a standing of 750 against 667 in the event of a Carleton win. In case of a tie, Macalester will have the advantage.

Other members of the college conference closed their playing season Saturday.

The standing of the Minnesota conference teams are:

	W.	L.
Macalester	2	0
Carleton	2	1
Hamline	2	1
St. Olaf	3	2
St. Thomas	1	3
Gustavus Adolphus	0	3

The University of South Dakota won the state championship in the annual contest against South Dakota State by a 7-to-3 score. The game, played at Sioux Falls, a neutral field, developed the best football seen this season in South Dakota. The driving power of the university team resulted in a touchdown, while the state players had to content themselves with an air attack which resulted in one attempt at goal sailing true.

CICOTTE TO TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE

White Sox Pitcher Promised Immunity in Trial of Teammates.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Eddie Cicotte, Chicago White Sox pitcher whose confession resulted in numerous indictments by the special Cook county grand jury in connection with the 1919 world series scandal, probably will not be punished for his part in the game throwing, according to officials of the states' attorney's office. Cicotte will turn state's evidence when the men indicted are tried and his only sentence will be banishment from organized baseball, it was said last night.

D. P. Cassaday of Detroit, Cicotte's attorney, conferred yesterday with state's attorneys over the pitcher's confession and possible testimony. At this conference, according to state officials, Mr. Cassaday promised that Cicotte would tell the court the same story he told the jury. As a result, it was arranged for the pitcher to furnish bonds without personally appearing.

While no official announcement was made by the state's attorney's office, an official let it become known that but for Cicotte's testimony the jury never would have had sufficient evidence to indict more than one or two persons and that there would be little chance for conviction without the pitcher as a state witness.

The ball players and gamblers indicted by the jury probably will be brought to trial in January, it was said.

LANDIS TO DEVOTE SPARE TIME TO JOB

Figures That Few Hours Weekly Will Earn His $42,500.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—All disputes in professional baseball will be settled in Chicago, Federal Judge K. M. Landis said yesterday in reply to queries as to how he planned to retain his position on the bench and still find time to perform his duties as baseball commissioner, the position to which he recently was appointed.

"When baseball matters come up, the participants will come to me in Chicago to plead their cases," said the judge.

"I have nothing to do on Saturdays and Sundays and Federal court also is closed during much of the baseball season."

A. A. U. TO PROBE OLYMPIC CHARGES

New Orleans, La., Nov. 17.—Insurgent forces scored a victory last night when the Amateur Athletic union elected the entire insurgent ticket and adopted a resolution providing for investigation of charges made by American Olympic athletes that they were badly treated at Antwerp in the way of accommodations and transportation to and from the Olympic games there.

Sam Goodman, president of the Pacific Coast association, was sponsor of the resolution calling for an investigation of the American Olympic committee. A committee was named to conduct the inquiry which will deal also with the method followed in the selection of the team sent abroad.

CHAMPION TROTTING COLT BRINGS $50,000

New York, Nov. 17.—W. E. D. Stokes has sold Peter Volo, world's champion trotting colt, to Walnut Hall farm for breeding purposes, it was learned today. The price was not made public, but it was said to have been "about $50,000."

Peter Volo was a champion yearling, set brilliant marks as a 2 and 3-year-old and as a 4-year-old made the world's record of 2:02.

K. O.'s British Champion.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 17.—Bob Martin, heavyweight champion of the A. E. F., knocked out Bandsman Rice, holder of the British army heavyweight title, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout last night.

OPENS FIGHT ON FOOTBALL WAGERS

Ticket Speculators Also Under Ban at Illinois University.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 17.—Director Huff of the University of Illinois board of athletic control today began a special campaign against gambling and ticket speculation. Steps were taken to assure football against the infringement of the monopoly of tickets by unscrupulous seat exploiters and to keep the Illinois-Ohio State football game this Saturday and future Illinois contests free from professional sporting interest.

As a measure to keep the university's football atmosphere pure, Director Huff requested today that the university council of administration expel any student found guilty of speculation.

The board has agreed to blacklist for ticket purchasing hereafter persons known to have wagered money on the contest.

Phillies to Train in Florida.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Gainesville, Fla., has been selected as the training grounds of the Philadelphia National league baseball team next spring, it was announced here today. The team expects to leave for the South in the latter part of February.

CENTRAL HIGH SEEKS COACH

Basket Ball Quint Has Many Stars—Football Men to Get "Ds."

Duluth Central high with the finest material it has had in years is looking for a first-class basket ball coach to take charge of the squad. Present prospects indicate that the D. C. H. quint will have no trouble in copping the Head of the Lakes championship. There are four first team men back and one first team substitute. The lineup will probably include Billy Anderson and Johnny Gronseth, forwards; Capt. "Boots" Watts, center, and Johnny Marshall and Champion, guards.

With plenty of money in the athletic treasury to defray every expense the team will open practice under most favorable conditions. Efforts are now being made to sign up a high class coach.

The awarding of the "D" sweaters to the members of the football team will probably be made this week. The players who will be honored with them are: Anderson, Gow, Gronseth, Larson, Todd, Crawford, Erstling, Palmer, Boyles, Watts, Tenbrook, Marshall, Prince, Alexander, Grannis and Toback.

Most of these players are eligible to play next season and it is understood they will all be back in school. Capt. Billy Anderson, one of the best high school players at the Head of the Lakes, will graduate in June.

STATE BASKET BALL TEAMS TUNING UP

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Basket ball in Minnesota conference colleges will come to the front after this week. All the conference colleges except Macalester and Carleton have completed their football schedules, and the players have come through the season in good shape.

Hamline, St. Olaf, Gustavus Adolphus and St. John's are ready for the preliminary work in basket ball. St. Thomas has yet to play its annual game against St. Mary's college of Winona, the game scheduled to be played Friday. Macalester and Carleton will be ready for the season following Saturday's game at Northfield, which will decide the conference championship.

With the exception of St. John's, which was not represented by a football team this season, the athletic directors have given little attention to basket ball. In the majority of instances the bulk of the basket ball material is represented in the football squads. Until the conference championship is definitely decided the winter sport will not receive serious consideration by players.

Game Declared Off.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 17.—Notre Dame will not meet Penn State in a football game in New York on Dec. 4, it was announced here yesterday by Notre Dame athletic officials. The announcement did not state whether a formal invitation for the game had been received from Penn State.

NATIONAL HEAD FOR ALL SPORTS

Prominent Men Suggested for Places on Governing Board.

By JACK SKELLY.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Many times during the last year or so I have strongly advocated adding to the president's cabinet a special secretary of athletics, who should have absolute control of boxing, baseball, horse racing and all other sports in this country. This would not only place all games on a higher basis, but would prevent such scandal as has been exposed in Chicago by the present investigation of the big baseball leagues.

Some of the prominent factors in baseball now propose to abolish the national commission, which is now the supreme body that controls the sport. They suggest that a national tribunal composed of such high-class, upright men as Gen. Pershing, Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, Former President William Howard Taft, Senator Hiram Johnson, Judge K. M. Landis and William Gibbs McAdoo be selected to rule and control baseball.

Good Suggestion.

The suggestion looks quite fine and rosy in print, but I'm quite sure that hardly any one of these distinguished gentlemen would become a member of the "high tribunal," no matter how large their compensation or salary would be.

It would be much more practical and logical, in my humble opinion, to pass a measure through congress creating a special secretary of athletics as an addition to the president's cabinet.

This secretary should be a man of national reputation, who is fully competent to administer with rare knowledge and ability over all sports and see that they were conducted in the fairest and most legitimate manner possible.

U. S. Greatest in Sport.

America today is the greatest athletic nation in the world, and year by year we are advancing in all manly sports. We have more world's champions than any other country on earth at present. But our young athletes need encouragement and fostering by our government at Washington.

The most powerful nations of the ancient days, like Rome and Greece, were those which fostered and encouraged sports and athletics, not only by hanging up big prizes and laurels for competition, but by having grand institutions for the instruction and welfare of every red-blooded youth who sought to be a gladiator, jumper, runner, swimmer, or take part in any other sport.

Success in France.

Quite recently I called attention to France having created a minister of athletics to look after, control and help to advance all worthy sports. The war taught France a very severe lesson in physical training and development, and now that country realizes the immense importance of encouraging athletics among all classes.

ATTELL READY TO GIVE HIS TESTIMONY

New York, Nov. 17.—Abe Attell, ex-pugilist, mentioned in connection with investigation of "fixing" of the 1919 world's series, voluntarily appeared yesterday at the office of Acting District Attorney Talley. Attell, who recently returned from Montreal, declined to make any formal statement but said he was available at any time he was "really wanted" by authorities.

"I certainly will not be the goat," Attell was quoted as saying, "but there is a case pending in Chicago, with lots of indictments against different parties, and I don't want to talk while that matter is still unsettled."

Well, What of It?

New York, Nov. 17.—Joe Stecher, heavyweight titleholder, will be matched against the winner of the wrestling match here next Monday between Wladek Zbyszko and Strangler Lewis, it was announced today.

NORTHLAND CLUB MEMBERS TO HAVE BUSY SESSION

Several matters of more than ordinary importance will be brought up at the annual meeting of the members of the Northland Country club which will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the clubhouse. This announcement was made this morning by John L. Mullin, secretary, who urges that every member who possibly can be present. The annual election of officers will, of course, be one of the chief matters of importance to come before the meeting.

CENTRAL GRADS GETTING READY

Alumni Association Will Be Formed to Boost School Athletics.

Much interest has been aroused in downtown circles in the recent announcement of plans to organize a Duluth Central High School Alumni Athletic association. The purpose of this organization will be to raise funds by popular subscription in order that a professional athletic coach might be hired for the school. Such a man Central has never had and, although several smaller high schools in this vicinity have had athletic coaches for years, the school board in this city has never thought it necessary to give the biggest school in the Northwest a high-class athletic master.

Old-timers and ex-football and basket ball men have been chafing under the string of defeats Central has been handed of late and are determined to see that the boys from Central have a chance. There should be no reason why Central, with its 1,500 enrollment, cannot produce A-No. 1 athletic teams. There is plenty of good material, but no one to teach the game or even the fine points to the squads.

In the last five years Central's football teams, from crack championship squads, have come down to be of mediocre and even poor standing and the fault does not rest with the teams themselves. The fact is this: Every year a new coach is procured and every year the boys go under a new system and, with the amount of money that has been appropriated for the coach's salary, the best in that line cannot be even approached. However, with the plans for an alumni association well under way, followers of athletics at Central are in hopes of procuring ways and means to get a professional man to accept a permanent position as athletic director.

OFFER $5,000 CUP TO BOOST RACING

New Trophy for 1921 Season Just Accepted by Promoters.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17.—A new $5,000 gold cup, offered to promote racing of displacement type of boats by Garfield A. Wood and Carl Fisher is expected to put new "pep" into the racing of model hull craft during the 1921 racing season. The new trophy has just been accepted by the American Power Boat association and will be raced for the first time at the gold cup events in Detroit next season.

G. A. Wood, is well known as owner of "Miss America" which won this year's international races for the Harmesworth trophy. He has owned most of the world champions, in fact, for the past two or three years, and is said to have plans for invading not only the displacement and world champion classes next season, but the little limited power class races as well. Mr. Fisher became famous as promoter of the automobile racing events and later as doner of the $5,000 Fisher trophy for racing boats. Both of these men are expected to be in the competition again next season for the highest honors in motor boatdom.

A meeting of officials of the American Power Boat association will be held in New York next month, during the national motor boat show which is to be held at Grand Central Palace, Dec. 10 to 18. At this time plans for the various 1921 racing events will be worked out in detail. Many of the big racing motors to be used in the 1921 champions will be on display at the national exhibition, as well as the famous hulls which won this year's honors.

GOPHER SQUAD IS CUT.

Coach Cook Trims Basket Ball Recruits From Sixty to Thirty.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Dr. Cook, University of Minnesota basket ball coach, has cut his squad of basket ball candidates from sixty to thirty men, in preparation for the first serious workouts of the season.

Following the close of the football season next Saturday, several members of the football squad, including Arnold Ose, basket ball captain, will report to Dr. Cook.

No effort has been made to pick the first string members of the basket ball team, and none will be attempted until the preparations for the season are further advanced.

Lack of veteran center material is causing the coach to scan his material closely for a find.

BENNY DEMANDS TOO MUCH COIN

World's Champion Lightweight Fixes Guarantee Up in the Clouds.

Plans which were being made by the Duluth Athletic club to bring Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion to this city next month, have been dropped for the reason that Benny wants all the money in the world for showing here. The club was willing to give the champion 40 per cent of the gross receipts and a reasonable guarantee but Ben began talking about amounts ranging between $8,000 and $10,000 for his end and when he whispered thusly all ropes were cut and the proposition was allowed to drift.

There is no question but what Leonard would pack 'em in if he came here but his demands are so high that the club would have to charge exorbitant prices in order to come anywhere near breaking even.

Leonard will probably box Clonte Tait of Winnipeg, lightweight champion of Canada, in Minneapolis next month and many Duluth fans are planning on going to the Mill City to see the champion in action. Tait has been coming along strong in all of his recent fights and is anxious to meet Leonard, believing he can give the latter a good argument.

Harry Boyle, veteran Philadelphia lightweight, who is making Duluth his home for the present, signed articles yesterday for a return bout with Ed Franti. The mill will headline a bill which will be staged by the American legion post of Bovey on Thanksgiving day. Ted O'Reilly of that city, a middleweight, will also be on the card and the post is now looking for an opponent for him.

Quite a number of Duluth boxing fans are planning on taking in the Elks' stampede which will be featured at Hibbing this coming Friday evening. Johnny Nichols, the St. Paul welterweight, will meet Sammy Terrin, the "fighting tailor" of Minneapolis in the main event and Billy Emke, Twin City middleweight, is booked to step through ten rounds with Tony Machefts of Virginia. There are three promising preliminaries on the card.

The Duluth Athletic club had planned a big benefit entertainment for the Duluth orphans for Dec. 3, but the officers of the club cancelled when they learned that the big annual Charity Ball, the receipts from which go to the orphans, will be held on Nov. 23. As many of the patrons of the latter entertainment would be among the number asked to support the boxing show it was believed best not to burden the fans too heavily and the athletic bill was cancelled.

M'GRAW SHIFTS INFIELD OF GIANTS

New York, Nov. 17.—A shift in the infield of the New York Nationals for next season was announced today by Manager John J. McGraw, previous to his departure with President Charles A. Stoneham to Cuba for the racing season. Joe Rapp, purchased yesterday from St. Paul American association team, will be used at third base, McGraw said, and Frank Frisch will be switched to second, where the Giant manager believes he will be more valuable.

Combined with Shortstop Bancroft and First Baseman Kelly, the infield will be the strongest he has had since New York won the pennant three times in a row, he claimed.

FIGHT PROMOTER SAILS FOR ENGLAND

New York, Nov. 17.—Charles B. Cochran, English theatrical manager and co-promoter with Tex Rickard and William A. Brady for the forthcoming Dempsey-Carpentier boxing bout to decide the world's heavyweight championship, was a passenger today on the steamship Adriatic, sailing for England.

Before his departure Mr. Cochran said he had hoped to stage the big fight in England, but that he acquiesced in the decision of the two American co-promoters.

"I shall return early in 1921 to help arrange details for the fight," he said, "or sooner, if my services are needed."

THE ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA
IS GREATER THAN EVER BEFORE

The Britannica Goes Hand in Hand With the Awakened World

THE PAST TWO YEARS have brought a tremendous stimulus into every field of human thought and activity. In science, medicine, engineering, chemistry, physics, agriculture and aviation there have been epoch making discoveries and inventions. Art, painting, sculpture, music, literature and the drama have received their share of this new vigorous interest. There has been a marked renaissance of reading. The industries have felt the stimulus in the demand for greater production, although business has had to contend with serious problems of labor and finance. There has come a new and intensified interest in social service, education and a new spirit in religion. People are taking a greater interest than ever before in athletics, in sports and games. As a direct result of the war and the participation of the United States in world affairs, there has been aroused a great incentive to the study of history and of foreign countries, their peoples, government, products, resources, customs and commerce. The tremendous quickening of thought and activity puts upon every man and woman a great responsibility to understand the meaning of the present day developments in science, art, industry, economics and politics. The necessity for authoritative, comprehensive and unprejudiced information has never been so great. The Encyclopaedia Britannica, known for 150 years as the standard authority and the greatest guide to accurate information among English speaking peoples, furnishes the foundation of knowledge most needed by the business man, the manufacturer, the worker in the industries, the scientist, exporter, importer, student of world affairs, the social worker and teacher.

Are You Keeping Abreast of the Times?

What are you doing to keep abreast of these vigorous times? Do you understand the significance of these great discoveries and inventions and the tremendous progress being made in all branches of science? Can you read about these new discoveries and inventions—the new movements in art, religion, literature and drama with intelligence based on a general knowledge of these subjects?

Business and the industries of the nation have expanded tremendously during the past few years. Business has been facing new and strange conditions endeavoring to get back to a normal basis. In this tremendous readjustment it has been the men with the broad foundation of knowledge who, as executives and workers in our industries, have been able to take the responsibility and have risen speedily to positions of greater power and greater remuneration. To the business man, manufacturer, the worker in the industries, the Britannica will furnish information of practical, helpful and comprehensive character, and to furnish a knowledge which will give to the man a broader insight into his work and the problems of today.

Gives You Information on Everything

No matter what you want to know—it may be information about your business or other businesses related to yours—it may be information you want as a result of discussions at your club or lodge, or information wanted in your home by your wife or children. Many subjects come up in the day's news in the papers and magazines, or in books you are reading. The Encyclopaedia Britannica will give you just the information you want on every subject you can think of.

A Treasure Chest of Knowledge

The Britannica is a complete library of knowledge on every subject. It discusses in a way that you can understand every branch of science, industry, literature, art, religion, inventions and engineering, history and race development, war and peace, architecture, astronomy, chemistry, sociology, education, steam, electricity, geology and geography, biography, law and physics. You and your family will find in the Britannica a liberal education. In answer to the hundred questions which every day come to your mind, and to your wife's and children's minds, it will tell you more about everything than you can get from any other source.

What Is to Come?

Is America on the brink of a panic? Will under-production and lack of labor prevent a panic? Will the cost of living fall abruptly? Will wages continue high? Is the fall of the Bolshevist regime in Russia imminent? Will Germany fulfill its peace treaty obligations? Will the world eventually become a vast socialist state?

By means of the extraordinary articles in the Encyclopaedia Britannica on economics, industries, politics, government, labor and capital you will be able to obtain a clear insight into the problems of today. The Britannica will aid you to understand the issues brought up in the recent campaigns for President, on prohibition, on suffrage, on tariffs, on currency, waterways, transportation and on government ownership.

The Most Authoritative Work in the World

The Britannica has had a long and enviable career, and has grown in authority and esteem from generation to generation until it occupies the position today as the great reference book, ahead of any other in any country or any language. It was published first in three volumes in 1768 and has appeared in eleven editions. It has had as its contributors a host of the greatest experts in the entire world throughout these 150 years. When you read an article in the Britannica, therefore, you feel confident that the information is reliable and authoritative, for the Britannica is the product of the wisest minds of the day, each a great specialist in the particular subject on which he is furnishing an article in the Britannica. These writers are either professors in our great universities here or abroad, or men and women who have acquired far advanced knowledge in their subjects, or, again, the great workers of the world who have achieved extraordinary success in their particular lines of work. You will be surprised how interesting and fascinating are the articles in the Britannica and you will have many hours of recreation and pleasure from a set of this great work.

The Britannica in Women's Affairs

The Encyclopaedia Britannica gives to the woman fundamental information on politics, on economics, child welfare, domestic science, on foods and their relative values, on hygiene, sanitation, home decorations, furniture, rugs and furnishings. As an educational influence the Encyclopaedia Britannica is supreme. As an aid to children in school it is indispensable to supplement, interpret and broaden their knowledge on the subjects which they are studying.

RIVER TRAFFIC WOULD SAVE MANY MILLIONS

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—States that would be served by boat and barge traffic on the Upper Mississippi river would save $8,000,000 a year on Illinois and Indiana coal alone if river navigation became a fact, E. A. Merrilly, vice president of the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery company, told members of the Upper Mississippi Waterways association at their convention here today. The amount of coal coming north from Illinois coal fields, he said, has increased from 1,000,000 tons seven years ago to 8,000,000 tons this year, with the prospect of further increases in the movement.

Mr. Merrilly declared the average freight per ton from these fields by rail is now $3.85, while it could be brought up by water for about $2.50, saving at least $1 on each of 8,000,000 tons.

A definite program for crystallizing sentiment in communities along the Upper Mississippi river in favor of restoring navigation on the river was developed today by the delegates of the convention.

The immediate object of the association, as outlined by the organization and finance committee and reported by J. C. McCarthy, Davenport, chairman, is to promote the immediate establishment of a dependable barge line in the Upper Mississippi river, to aid in making a success of the government barge line and cooperate with municipalities and private interests in the construction of river terminals.

The Herald prints today's news today.

MRS. CABLE BADLY INJURED BY AUTO

Mrs. J. J. Cable, aged 50, 326 South Sixteenth avenue east, is at St. Luke's hospital unconscious with a fracture of the skull and only slight hopes are held out for her recovery. She was struck by an automobile at Fifteenth avenue east and London road yesterday afternoon. The machine was driven by Edward Johnson, 4707 Jay street, city salesman for the Peyton Paper company.

According to the story told the police by Johnson, he was driving east with his car running between fifteen and twenty miles an hour alongside of another car when the intersection was reached. Mrs. Cable, in company with Mrs. A. J. Anthony, 1510 Jefferson street, started to cross London road and when almost directly in front of Johnson's machine, Mrs. Anthony stopped, but Mrs. Cable started to run across. Johnson says he applied the brakes and attempted to turn up Fifteenth avenue to avoid hitting either woman, but his car skidded, the rear end of the machine striking Mrs. Cable, knocking her down.

An ambulance was called and the woman taken to the hospital. She was operated on by Dr. Harry Klein, police surgeon, at midnight after her husband, who was at Highland, and her son, William Enew, who was at Two Harbors, were located and reached the city. Dr. Klein said today that Mrs. Cable has a chance of recovery.

FINNISH WORKERS' HALL COMPANY WOULD DISSOLVE

The Duluth Workers' Hall company, a Finnish Socialist organization, formed in 1910, and which has had its headquarters in the building formerly occupied by the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. at 314 Sixth avenue east, wants to go out of business and has petitioned the district court for an order dissolving it and winding up its affairs.

The Finnish Workers' Socialist association, which owned 1,032 out of the 1,227 shares of the company's capital stock, has taken over all of the company's obligations and the corporation has ceased to do business since Nov. 15, 1919. It is represented that there is a balance of $1,950 to be distributed among the 195 individual stockholders other than the Finnish Workers' Socialist association.

SCULLIN LEFT $3,500 ESTATE; FILED IN PROBATE COURT

Roy Francis Scullin, who died in this county on June 19, 1918, aged 40, left an estate valued at $3,500, consisting of an interest in a partnership, according to a petition for letters of administration filed this morning in probate court by his widow, Sarah Scullin, of Mankato, who asks appointment as administratrix. One son will share the estate with the widow.

R. B. Burnett of Sanger, Cal., petitioned the court this morning for appointment as administrator of the estate of his wife, Sophia A. Burnett, who died Sept. 1, 1919, at Fresno, Cal., at the age of 60 years, leaving among other property, real estate in this county valued at $1,300. Besides her husband, Mrs. Burnett's heirs are four sons and two daughters.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

TERMINAL DOCK CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 17.—The recent decision of Judge Bisjord of Ashland in the terminal dock case, if upheld by the supreme court, affects Ashland, Superior, Milwaukee, Washburn and other cities having railroad docks on the lakes.

After years of attempted legislation, a terminal dock tax law was passed by the Wisconsin legislature giving the proceeds of the taxes from this kind of property to the communities where the docks are located, instead of to the state treasury. Under this law, Ashland, Superior and other cities collected the taxes annually, which in the case of Ashland amounts to about $70,000 yearly. The contention was then raised by the counties that the valution of these dock properties should be added to the city valuation, which meant that the city would have to pay over to the county, annually a portion of this tax, which in the case of Ashland amounts to about $12,000 and in Superior much more. Judge Bisjord has decided in favor of the city's contention, which means that the city retains the entire tax.

Rock Slide Derails Engine.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—A rock slide early today struck a Great Northern west bound fast mail train at Katka, Idaho, and derailed the engine. All the cars remained on the track. Engineer Landis and Fireman McKnight were injured slightly. Three west bound passenger trains were delayed six hours by the wreck.

Production CurtailedOne-Half.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 17.—Curtailment of production which began some months ago in New England textile industries employing 300,000 operatives has reached a point where the total output is less than one-half that of one year ago, according to estimates made from a canvass today of great mill centers. In some instances the curtailment runs as high as 80 per cent. A few mills have shut down entirely. The majority have adopted a working schedule of three or four days a week.

SPEED PROVES HER UNDOING

Mrs. Judnick Married Again Too Soon; Husband Takes No Chances.

Mrs. Tillie Currier Judnick, aged 29, mother of four and divorcee, who lost only fifteen days between the time she divorced Charles Currier, aged 51, carpenter, and remarried John Judnick, aged 29, switchman, today finds herself defendant in a double-barreled marriage annulment and divorce suit filed in district court by her second spouse, Judnick.

The second husband asks the court to annul the marriage on the grounds that when Mrs. Currier became his wife at Superior Feb. 6, 1918, fifteen days after she had procured a divorce from Currier in Duluth, she broke the Wisconsin laws and thereby voided the marriage. The statutes of Wisconsin provide that divorcees shall not remarry until a period of one year has elapsed. In Minnesota the statutory requirement is six months.

But Judnick is not relying altogether on the prospect of getting his marriage annulled. He does not charge fraud on the part of his wife in concealing the fact that she had been divorced but recently before they were married and as there may be some doubt as to which way the court might rule in the matter he has taken the precaution to ask also for a divorce, in the event that the court should determine the marriage valid.

Not Complimentary to Her.

In the divorce complaint Judnick charges his wife with cruelty. He alleges that on numerous occasions she has threatened to kill him and that she has been given to the use of vile language. He recites one instance when he had returned to his home in a location near Eveleth from a visit to his mother at Eveleth. Mrs. Judnick, he alleges, met him at the train and, without provocation, began to heap abuse upon him and threatened to blow out his brains.

There were no farewell kisses when Judnick left for his work mornings. Instead, she used to send him away to his day's work with such cheerful remarks as "I wish they would bring you home in pieces" or "I wish the train would run over you," Judnick alleges. According to his story, he would have been dead long ago if her wishes were realities.

Judnick further alleges that she has taken his automobile and driven to Eveleth with some of her male friends and that on one occasion she spent the night there with them at a house of disreputable character.

Mrs. Judnick was married to Charles Currier on March 17, 1905, but she got a divorce from him on Feb. 1, 1918, on the grounds of cruelty. She claimed at that time that he threatened to kill her and that he used vile language. The same allegations are now made against her by her second husband. Currier, who was a carpenter at the Leonidas mine two years ago, was ordered by the court to pay his former wife $25 a month for the support of their four children.

Park Appraisers Named.

In district court yesterday, Judge H. A. Dancer appointed C. F. Colman, George H. Claypool and H. R. Kohagen as appraisers for land sought by the city for park purposes under condemnation proceedings against property in Duluth Heights, Third division, Grand View addition, Willard & Pipers' division, and sections 28 and 33, 50-14. The commissioners will appraise the damages to each owner. For their work they will receive a salary of $15 a day.

Mayor Talks to Realtors.

Members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange yesterday adopted resolutions opposing the licensing of plumbers as provided by the proposed plumbers ordinance which is to come before the city council Dec. 6 for final action. Mayor T. W. Hugo was the principal speaker and outlined some of the problems which confront the city officials at this time. Mayor Hugo told of real estate values now as compared with those of forty years ago. He told of the way the city looked at that time and how the city received its water supply and the progress the city had made since then. He declared he had an opportunity of purchasing the property on which the Spalding hotel now stands for $800.

Johnson pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was granted a continuance for sentence until April 1, 1921.

Swanstrom Gains in Recount.

The recount of the ballots in the recent election between Walter A. Swanstrom and Earl W. Griffin, candidates for commissioner of the Third district, is expected to be finished tonight with little change in the results as found by the election judges. At noon today with eight districts yet to count it was found that Swanstrom had gained eight votes and Griffin four. The official returns of the Third district as filed with the city clerk and county auditor was 3,128 for Griffin and 3,183 for Swanstrom.

Would Reclaim Maiden Name.

When Edna Evendine Thompson was granted a divorce from Myrle A. Thompson two years ago she neglected to ask the court to permit her to take her maiden name. The divorce was granted on Dec. 9, 1918.

Goes to Mother's Funeral.

Herbert Warren, vice president and general manager of the Duluth Street Railway company, and Mrs. Warren left yesterday for Minneapolis, where they were called by the death of Mr. Warren's mother, Mrs. Mary Speed Warren, aged 78. The funeral was to be held this afternoon. Mrs. Warren leaves two other sons, one residing at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and one residing in Minneapolis, and a daughter residing in Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Warren are expected back to Duluth tomorrow.

School, State Lands Sold.

Twenty-eight descriptions involving approximately 1,150 acres, were sold at the monthly sale of school and other state lands conducted this morning by S. C. Bailey, deputy state auditor, at the courthouse. All but ten of the pieces were unimproved properties and the prices ranged from $5 to $10 an acre.

Will Change Offices.

The passenger and freight offices of the Canadian National railroad and of the Northern Navigation company, in the Spalding hotel building, will be moved to 430 West Superior street, the offices formerly occupied by William L. Tull. No new lease has been made for the offices which the railroad people will vacate.

Pleas Make Term Easy.

Federal Judge Page Morris returned today from Fergus Falls, where he has been holding court since last Saturday. Although thirty-two men were indicted by the grand jury, only one pleaded not guilty, necessitating a trial. Practically all of the cases involved violation of prohibition enforcement laws. Judge Morris will remain in Duluth until next Monday, when an adjourned term of court opens at Minneapolis.

SENATE AUCTIONS OFF ITS OLD FURNITURE

Washington, Nov. 17.—The senate went into the salvage business yesterday by the sale at auction of accumulated fixtures and furniture of the senate dating back to the days of the Sixty-first congress.

A lemonade bowl from which tired senators quenched their thirst in the cloakroom went for $3, a champagne cooler, its senatorial function not specified, brought $1. A sofa and five big leather chairs were knocked down for $140. Two of these chairs formerly adorned the marble room. Four old oak sideboards realized from $5 to $18.50. An icebox formerly a regular attendant at finance committee deliberations, went for a song. An electric runabout, once the property of the late Senator Elkins of West Virginia, and which had stood for years in the senate garage, brought $6.50. Altogether the sergeant-at-arms collected $1,200.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER PLACED ON TRIAL

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 17.—August Pasquale, self-confessed kidnaper and slayer of 13-month-old Blakely Coughlin, was placed on trial today in the Montgomery county court. He is also charged wit hextortion and burglary.

In his written confession, according to police, Pasquale, known as "the crank," said the child was smothered under his coat and that he threw the body in the Schuylkill river. Efforts to locate the body have been unsuccessful.

Pasquale is alleged to have confessed he obtained $12,000 from George H. Coughlin, the boy's father.

SEVERE SNOWSTORM HITS BUFFALO, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Buffalo is snowbound today in one of the worst November storms in its history. From 4 a. m. to 7 a. m. more than a foot of snow fell.

Manitowoc to Cut Milk Price.

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 17.—Effective Dec. 1, price of milk here will be 11 cents per quart, a reduction of 1 cent from the price prevailing the last ten months. This was the decision of milk dealers at a meeting here following the action of a local restaurant, which sold the product at 11 cents a quart on a cash and carry basis.

Badger Liquor Raids.

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 17.—Silver Lake and Rapids, summer resorts, three miles west of here, are "dry" today following a raid by eight department of justice officers who seized large quantities of moonshine liquor and alcohol. Later these officials raided six saloons here.

Fire on White Flag.

Warsaw, Nov. 17.—Lithuanian troops fired on members of the League of Nations control commission as they were crossing "No Man's Land" from Gen. Zeligonski's lines to those of the Lithuanians, according to dispatches received today. The members of the commission were carrying a white flag.

CHECK FORGERS KEEPING BUSY

Gang of Professionals at Work Here, Says Merchants' Official.

There is an epidemic of check forgeries in Duluth.

Thousands of dollars have been lost by Duluth merchants within the last few weeks, George M. Peterson, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association, said today.

"I believe there is a gang of professional forgers working the city," Mr. Peterson said. "My advice to all merchants is to stop cashing checks for strangers. There is no other way to stop it. This is the worst epidemic of forgeries we have had in the history of the city."

In many cases the forgers have been posing as laboring men, Mr. Peterson said. There have been several instances where they have obtained indorsements of Duluth citizens. The checks have ranged as high as $300.

A similar epidemic, on a smaller scale, was experienced here several weeks ago. That the same men are now at work is indicated by the fact that handwriting of checks turned in during the last few days bears a strong resemblance to that on checks received before.

"It has proved possible to catch some amateurs who tried this game," Mr. Peterson said. "But it's a good deal more difficult to catch the professionals."

AAD TEMPLE CASE IS ABANDONED

In district court yesterday the case of the state fire marshal against the Aad Temple Building association, owners of the Shrine auditorium, was dismissed on the motion of A. E. Bjorklund, attorney for the state in the proceeding. The dismissal was agreed to by William E. Tracy, attorney for the building association.

The case was one in which the state fire marshal attempted to prevent the Shrine auditorium from being used for public meetings while the first floor of the building is being used for garage purposes on account of the fire risk. The attorney for the fire marshal admitted the objection to the order, particularly on the ground that the deputy fire marshal was without authority to issue an order of that character. The questions involved have been submitted to the attorney general for an opinion.

Judge L. S. Nelson of Worthington, Minn., who is holding court here now, today considered several other cases involving appeals from orders made by the fire marshal. The case against the Lake Avenue hotel property on Lake avenue south, owned by Anna Fitzpatrick, was concluded this morning and was taken under advisement by the court.

No appearance was made on the part of the appellant in the case of the T. W. Hoopes property at 206 Lake avenue south and the court ordered findings for the fire marshal, which means that the building will have to come down. The court also ordered the Dean S. Goodrich property at 220 Lake avenue south torn down and this afternoon will consider the cases of the five buildings owned by William Craig, also in the 200 block of Lake avenue south.

TWO JUDGES WILL ASSIST IN TRYING CASES HERE

Two outside district court judges will be in Duluth Monday to assist in the work of the November term of court while the five local judges, William A. Cant, Bert Fesler, H. A. Dancer, Martin Hughes and Edward Freeman, are engaged at the trial of the Moose Lake group of fire cases. The visiting judges will be Judge C. C. Haupt of St. Paul and Judge A. E. Giddings of Anoka.

Three witnesses were on the stand this morning for the plaintiffs in the Moose Lake fire cases. Gust Peterson, Olof Anderson and R. L. Hill, all farmers in the Moose Lake-Kettle River district, who described the forest fire of Oct. 12, 1918, which swept through the lower portion of Carlton county.

S. D. PRIMARY LAW HAS UNIQUE POINT

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 17.—The next political campaign in South Dakota will begin next November. Under the provisions of the Richards primary, a candidate running on an independent ticket who receives a certain percentage of the total votes cast becomes the minority candidate of his party (whatever it may be) at the next election. Another provision of the primary law makes it mandatory that preliminary meetings in any campaign be held twelve months before the election, and that the campaign continue for the twelve months up to election.

R. O. Richards, author of the primary law, polled the required percentage of votes in the recent election, and thus automatically becomes the Republican minority candidate for governor, the office for which he ran, at the next gubernatorial election in 1922.

SNOW FOOTPRINTS PROVE FORBES' MAN'S UNDOING

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Footpints in the snow are wrecking the best laid plans of Minnesota violators of the prohibition law, according to Paul D. Keller, divisional chief. His agents reported that while following a fresh trail through the snow near Forbes, Minn., they came face to face with Oscar Maki.

They promptly confiscated Maki, and took him along on the hunt. The footprints lead straight to a still in full operation, and to 300 gallons of fig and raisin mash, the agents said. Close by in the woods they found twelve cases of figs.

The still was only a few hundred feet from Maki's farm, but he disclaimed all knowledge of it, and was released.

After N. D. Championship.

Grafton, N. D., Nov. 17.—Grafton and Williston high schools will compete for the North Dakota high school football championship as a result of Grafton's victory yesterday over Valley City, 27 to 7. The Williston team is coached by Joe Cutting, former Minnesota university star The final game will probably be played next Saturday.

Steamer Calls for Help.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Spanish steamer Yute, bound for Dunkirk from Baltimore, and 240 miles east-southeast of Cape May, N. J., sent out a wireless call for help early today, the naval communications office has announced. No news on her condition was available at 9:45 a. m.

Storing Badger Potatoes.

Cumberland, Wis., Nov. 17.—Hoping for better prices many of the farmers of this section are storing their potatoes in roothouses or in covered pits. Yields averaged nearly 150 bushels per acre, some running as high as 200, prices for No. 1 stock being between $1 and $1.25 per hundred pounds. Scab is reported by some farmers.

Old Homestake Miner Retires.

Lead, S. D., Nov. 17.—Mene Voigt for forty-two years in the employ of the Homestake Mining company, has retired. Voigt came to the Black Hills in 1878, when Lead was one of the wildest camps in the old West, and had been continually in the service of the Homestake company since.

ON THE IRON RANGES

TOO LATE FOR TAX RATE HEARING NOW

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless action can be secured in the courts it looks as though the increase of 33 1-3 per cent in local real estate values made by the state tax commission will stand this year as the commission replying to the city's protest, according to a letter read at the council meeting last night, says there is not sufficient time left for a hearing and to make any changes.

Because of Virginia's slowness in submitting its report this fall the commission declares that there is no time for a hearing on the question this year, but promises that if Virginia's assessor complete his work early enough next fall and a hearing is wanted it will be allowed.

The communication states that careful record of real estate sales in Virginia during the past four years has been kept and on this basis the commission is firmly convinced the increase of a third in valuation is necessary to place the property at its proper figure. Denying the contention that this may be a blow directed at the range towns, the commission declares that more careful consideration has been given this district than any other part of the state, and expresses the belief that the increases ordered on all range cities is entirely fair.

It is questionable what further action will be taken by the council. Other range towns affected are showing little interest, and following the reading of the letter last night it was merely voted to accept and file.

WOULD EXTERMINATE VIRGINIA'S RODENTS

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.) — A representative of a pasteur institute urged the city council last night to purchase his rat exterminator, his attention to the local rat pest having been attracted by articles in papers telling of the council doubling the rate bounty to 5 cents. He gave a lengthy talk on the extermination of the pests, the menace they offer and the danger of offering a head prize. The speaker reported that a large number of local business houses have already purchased supplies of the remedy. The councilmen showed keen interest but did not take any action.

"YOUR MEDICINE IS O. K."

Mrs. Charles Rule, New Diggins, Wis., writes: "Your medicine is O. K. I think Foley's Honey and Tar is the best for coughs. I think your medicine is all you say it is. I know I would never be without it. You may use my name." Foley's Honey and Tar acts quickly, checks coughs, colds and croup, cuts the phlegm, opens air passages and allays irritation. It stops sleep-disturbing coughing at night. Children like it. Contains no opiates.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Final estimate on the Virginia-Eveleth road at last night's city council meeting was introduced, showing that the grading of Virginia's share of the road cost $39,943.53. They included the removal of 40,513 cubic yards of earth, 407 cubic yards of rock, 510 feet of culverts, and excavation and concrete covering for two of the culverts, where it was feared the weight of the fills would crush the unprotected culvert. The final estimate of about $6,000 was allowed.

The Armistice day celebration committee presented bills, amounting to $316.05, about $50 less than the original estimate, which does not include the cost of the barbecue. A vote of thanks was extended the city band for donating its services.

Joseph Carhart of the Rotary club asked what progress has been made toward securing an aviation landing field here. The council committee was instructed to secure definite answer as to the possibility of securing the field desired, which is the Oliver ground back of the Detention hospital.

The committee appointed to seek a suitable comfort station reported that the Odd Fellows' hall can be secured. The council, however, favored securing one or more places on the main street. It was suggested that suitable rooms could be excavated under the sidewalk or pavement, and two or three such places could be made at a small expense. As there are a number of empty basements, the committee was instructed to investigate the opportunity offered by these.

The health department protested against farmers coming into the city and peddling meat that has not been inspected. As this is against the ordinance, the health department was instructed to use its own powers and start action against breakers of the ordinance. It is planned to make the city market the headquarters in distributing farm meat.

Report was made that the curling rink is now being put in shape to be turned over to the Curling club. A few repairs are yet to be made and it will then be ready for the ice makers.

EVELETHIANS TO GET WATER AND SIDEWALKS

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—If estimates of the city engineer show that the cost will be permissible, the people living on South Court street will, in the near future, have access to a street which they have not heretofore had, a water line which they are going without, as well as a sidewalk. That portion of the city has been built up only recently and circumstances are such that the construction of a street and sidewalk as well as the installation of a water main has not been attended to because of the high cost. At the meeting of the city council last evening the engineer was instructed to make an estimate of the cost and report at the next meeting when action will be taken.

Give Humane Society $100.

Upon a request of the St. Louis County Humane society the commissioners donated to that body $100. The election payroll, amounting to $728, for judges and clerks was passed and reports of councilmen and heads of departments were accepted. The council also voted to assist the civic improvements committee of the Eveleth Commercial club in having a union depot erected here and instructed the city clerk to write a letter to the railroad companies interested asking that such a depot be established here, if within reason.

Mayor Essling announced the following appointments to the library board to succeed those whose terms expire within the next meeting of the board: Mrs. Gust Peterson, Miss Hilma Berg, George McCormick, H. J. Coleman. Retiring members of the board are: D. W. Freeman, J. S. Wilson, C. B. Barnes, Victor Essling.

PIKE RIVER BOY IS KILLED BY RELATIVE

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sam Ketola, age 19, of Pike river was shot and instantly killed yesterday afternoon while deer hunting eight miles west of Orr, the fatal bullet being fired by his brother-in-law, Anton Saapola, age 25, of Orr.

According to the report reaching Virginia Ketola and Saapola were about 200 yards apart when a deer suddenly ran between them. Saapola brought his gun to bear on the animal and fired, but the bullet missed its mark and hit Ketola in the heart.

The Ala undertaking place was notified and the body was brought to Virginia shortly after midnight.

The shooting was held to be accidential.

FOOD AND CLOTHES SENT TO GERMANY

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty boxes of foodstuffs, clothing and goodies for people in Germany have been sent from the American Express company office here this week, also two boxes for the Philippine islands. According to Manager Schafer the number of packages being sent to European countries is unusually large. Boxes are also going to Czecko-Slovakia, Greece, Italy, Finland, Sweden and to France.

HIBBING'S CLUB HAS SECURED ROAD WORK

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The assured improvement of the Meadowlands road is one of the most substantial things that the Hibbing Commercial club has accomplished in years.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the club a year ago. Delegations waited on the county board and secured its promise that it would immediately improve the road. More than $100,000 was spent on widening and gravelling the road the past season. Still the road is far from being in condition to meet the demands of present day transportation and the club again sent a delegation to the county board this fall urging an appropriation sufficient to completely widen, ditch and gravel the entire road from the town of Stuntz line south through Meadowlands to the junction with the Duluth-St. Vincent highway (Floodwood road), a distance of twenty-nine and one-half miles.

The appropriation made by the county board at its last meeting calls for a special levy of $157,000 for the Meadowlands road in the Fifth commissioner district and $30,000 in the Seventh district. This will give Hibbing and Chisholm at the end of the coming season a fine, wide highway all the way to the Floodwood road, one of the county's roads to be paved.

The Meadowlands road is of the utmost importance to Hibbing, Chisholm and their immediate territory. It opens up and makes directly tributary to Hibbing and Chisholm some of the finest and best developed farming lands in the county. It gives the shortest route to Duluth.

TELEPHONE OFFICERS LOOKING OVER RANGE

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Head officers of the Northwestern Telephone company were here yesterday from Omaha, Neb., and other places looking over the local system and today are viewing other range plants. They are: W. B. T. Belt, president; A. A. Lowar, vice president and general manager; R. A. Gantt, chief engineer; Frank Bacelin, Minneapolis, commercial superintendent; H. P. Storkerson, superintendent of plant; Vance Oathout, superintendent of traffic; F. A. Lister, Minneapolis, district commercial manager, and A. S. Kelly.

Buyck Farmers Meet.

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Mary Stillwell and August Neubauer, local county agents, have returned from Buyck, where they attended the Vermilion River Farmers' club meeting, when buying provisions by the carload and buying of butter for each member of the association were discussed. Seven new members were admitted, making the total, twenty-seven. The club accepted the invitation extended by the St. Louis County club to become affiliated with that association. The next meeting will be held at the home of the secretary, Martin Hanson on Dec. 12.

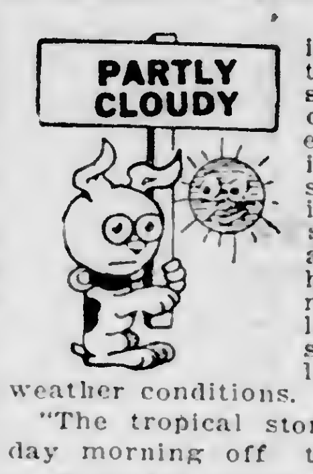
PARTLY CLOUDY



The only change in weather conditions is that the sun is not so much on the job, but otherwise everything is acceptable. The sun rose this morning at 7:15 and will set this afternoon at 4:31, giving nine hours and sixteen minutes of sunlight. Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions.

"The tropical storm centered Tuesday morning off the north Florida coast moved northwest and somewhat inland yesterday, but this morning this disturbance is off the New York coast attended by very low barometric pressures. During the last 24 hours light to heavy rains fell in most districts east of the Mississippi river, heavy rainfalls occurring all along the Atlantic coast from Florida to New England states. Another depression centered over British Columbia is causing rain or snow in Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Except for a rise in the Northwest the temperature changes were generally unimportant. Freezing weather is the rule in most interior districts and south to including New Mexico, Central Texas, North Louisiana, North Mississippi and Alabama. The barometer is high over west gulf states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; rising temperature Thursday; warmer in southeast portion.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; rising temperature Thursday and in west and central portions tonight.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; moderate temperature.

Upper Lakes—Moderate variable winds; fair weather on Lake Michigan and Superior; strong northwest winds and snow followed by clearing tonight; fair Thursday on Lake Huron.

LOCAL FORECAST

For Duluth and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Lowest temperature tonight near 20 deg. at Duluth, Superior and Two Harbors, and 15 to about 20 deg. inland and on the iron ranges. Moderate southerly winds, shifting to easterly Thursday.

ME and Leroy Shooster each bawt 2 sourballs for a cent erround at Mommy Simminses and started to wawk back with them, Puds saying, G, they used to be 3 for a cent.

Wat good does that do us? I sed.

Wich wat good did it? and we sat on my frunt steps to suk them, me saying, Lets have a sourball sucking contest, lets each put both our sourballs in our mouth at the same time and no fair taking them out agen till the contest is over, and whoever makes theirs last the longest wins.

Wich we started to do, sucking them slow without saying enything on account of it would take a pritty big of a mouth to tawk throo 2 sourballs, and the contest hadent hardly started wen some lady stopped wawking past and sed, Can you boys tel me ware the Hoffstetters live?

Wich they live about 2 blocks away next to the churtch, ony we couldent tawk on account of not being allowed to take the sourballs out, so we jest sat there looking at her as if we thawt we was deef and dum, the lady saying, Well, do you know ware the Hoffstetters live or dont you?

Wich me and Puds shook our heds up and down, meening we did, and the lady sed, Well then for mersey sake tell me and dont sit there like a cupple of half witted idiots. Me and Puds jest keeping on looking at her on account of neither of us wunting to lose the sourball sucking contest by taking them out, and the lady sed, O shut up, I never saw sutch stupid children in all my life.

Being a thin lady looking as if she was getting even thinner, and she wawked away mad and me and Puds finished the sourball sucking contest, me winning by about 15 seconds.

STEAMER WILPEN DAMAGED WHEN IT STRIKES DOCK

The steamer Wilpen, a large freighter, owned by the Shenango Furnace company, struck the Northwestern Coal company's No. 4 dock this morning while heading into the slip to take on fuel. The boat's stem was badly damaged and several of her plates were knocked off. She went to the Superior dry dock to have repairs made.

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS IS SOLD TO JERRY MUGIVAN

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—H. H. Tammen and F. G. Bonfils of Denver quit the circus business yesterday, when they sold the Sells-Floto circus, which they have owned many years, to Jerry Mugivan of Denver, owner of several other shows. The consideration was not made public.

Explains South Dakota Quake.

Madison, S. D., Nov. 17.—Prof. L. A. Stout of Dakota Wesleyan university, in explaining what probably caused the earthquake felt in Madison and Lake county early on Nov. 8, declares that in this section the earth underneath the surface is stratified, and the gradual cooling of the outer crusts of the earth (which is continually going on) probably caused a vacuum underneath the surface. The filling in of this vacuum, with its consequent lowering of the actual surface, in this case was so sudden as to cause the "quake" or shock to be quite noticeable.

Milwaukee Woman Says Tanlac Has Restored Her to Health.

Gains Eighteen Pounds and Is Wonderfully Built-Up; Suffered Six Years.

"Although it has been two years now since Tanlac relieved my suffering and built me up, I'm still feeling fine," said Mrs. Mary Koehler, 125½ Howell avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

"For nearly six years I suffered dreadfully from stomach trouble. After eating I'd bloat all up with gas, and lots of times felt like I was smothering, and would actually gasp for breath. I had rheumatism in my arms and shoulders till they would swell and hurt me fearfully. I was badly constipated all the time, and so nervous I couldn't get any restful sleep.

"I had lost weight, was very weak, and my whole body seemed tired and worn out. Then I heard of Tanlac, and it was a godsend to me. I got better fast, and in just a little while my stomach was all right, my appetite was fine, the rheumatism and constipation gone, I gained eighteen pounds, and have been a well and happy woman ever since.

"I can never praise Tanlac enough for what it did for me. I keep a bottle in the house all the time and never intend to be without it."

Tanlac is sold in Duluth at the W. A. Abbett drug stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Also the leading druggist in every town throughout the Northwest. Wm. Isaacson, Gowan; Geo. W. Swanson, Culver; Floodwood Merc. Co., Floodwood; Wilfrid Longtin, Grand Lake, P. O. Saginaw; Fairbanks Store Co., Fairbanks; George Lestic store, McKinley.—Advertisement.

WASHBURN TO TRY AGAIN TO ACQUIRE UTILITIES

Washburn, Wis., Nov. 17.—For a third time this city will endeavor to acquire the local water works and the Washburn Electric Light & Power company's system, the people having recently voted by a large vote to take over the plants. Attorney C. F. Morris, retained by the council to take the necessary steps, says he will start court proceedings to that end. The people decided in 1895 to take over the plants for $125,000, but nothing came of it, and again during Mayor Hering's administration similar action was decided upon, but not carried out.

WHEAT PRICE AT LOW LEVEL

Market Slumps Under Heavy Selling; Rye Breaks; Flaxseed Off.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 17.—Wheat braced up around the close under covering operations. December wheat closed 4c off at $1.73 asked; March, 4¼c off at $1.73¾ asked; December winter, 4c off at $1.72 nominally; December durum, 3½c off at $1.82, and March, 4c off at $1.80 asked.

Rye closed 3c off at $1.60½ for spot; May, 4½c off at $1.40¼ asked. Oats closed ⅞c off at 44⅜@45⅜c for spot, and barley, 3@7c off at 67@85c for spot.

Wheat prices broke to new low levels today under a wave of selling and absence of demand from any quarter. The slump was attributed to the cutting off of Eastern support owing to inability to get messages through as the result of storms. There was asserted to be absolutely no demand from millers for spring wheat, as flour buyers are backing away from the market in its present unsettlement.

Some durum was taken on account of Eastern macaroni flour interests, and it did not share in the decline to the same extent. December spring wheat broke 3¾c up till the noon hour at $1.73¼ and March 4c at $1.74. December durum broke 2½c to $1.83, and March 2¾c at $1.81¼.

Rye was also weak from the start on reported reselling in the East. A fair amount of rye was said to have been bought locally during the morning to cover contracts for Eastern shipment. December rye eased 1c at $1.55½, and March broke 3½c at $1.42½.

There were on track here for the day 191 cars of all grains, including: Spring wheat, 10; durum, 93; winter, 1; corn, 1; oats, 4; rye, 39; barley, 21; flax, 10; screenings, 2, and bonded spring, 13.

Reports from all the markets showed a material falling off in receipts and expectations now are that the fresh drops in prices will lead to a further falling off in marketings from country points.

New Loss in Flax.

Moderate declines were registered in flaxseed and its market was featureless. Offerings were light, but what there were led to a persistent sagging tendency. Linseed oil demand was reported dull by crushers. November flax closed 1c off at $2.31 bid, December 1½c off at $2.31 bid, January 2c off at $2.34 nominally and May 1c off at $2.46.

At Winnipeg, November flax closed 2c off at $2.31 bid and December 2½c off at $2.29 bid.

Logan & Bryan wired from New York: "Copper is being sold at 14¾c for delivery up to the end of January which does not suggest that the chances are very bright for an early improvement in the market. Talk in trade circles intimates that it is more than likely some copper mines will be closed down entirely in the near future."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Wheat underwent a setback in price today largely as a result of aggressive selling on the part of speculators. The selling appeared to be based on opinions that bullish factors had been well discounted by recent upturns. Declines, however, met with rather persistent commission house buying. Initial quotations, which varied from 1¼c lower to ½c advance with December, $1.87½ to $1.88 and March $1.76½ to $1.77, were followed by a material sag all around, and then something of a rally.

Subsequently, purchasing supposed to be for the East absorbed the surplus in the pit, and with strength in sterling exchange helped to lift prices, but the effect failed to last, the market descending lower than before. The close was nervous, 3 to 5c net lower, with December $1.84¼ to $1.84½ and March $1.72¾ to $1.73.

Corn gave way with wheat. After opening ½c to 1¼c lower, including December at 73¾c to 74c, the market fell a little further and then reacted somewhat.

General selling set in later and prices dropped to the lowest point yet this season, closing heavy at 2½c to 3½c net decline with December 72@72¼c.

Oats were governed by the action of other grain, starting unchanged to 1¼c down, and continuing weak.

Provisions lacked support, except November lard which was in demand from shorts.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17. — Firm cash markets and Eastern buying of futures gave wheat a strong start, but after an advance of 2c over yesterday's close, dullness ensued and the market began to drag. December was halted at $1.73½ for a time, 1c under yesterday's close, but shortly after noon it slipped to $1.70½ after a mild rally. Scattered sales of medium and lower grades of spring wheat were 1c and 2c higher compared with December. Winter and durum wheat were relatively unchanged.

The head of one of the largest worsted mills in the East says his company has received more inquiries for goods during the last two weeks than in the preceding four months. He said that if it were not for the cancellation evil mills would not today be shutting down in all directions. That is a trade abuse which manufacturers are determined to stamp out, if possible, when conditions are again approximately normal.

The copper metal surplus of the country is now estimated at approximately 850,000,000 lbs., of which more than 500,000,000 pounds are refined. Directors of Kennecott, Utah, Ray, Chino, Nevada, Inspiration and Anaconda will meet for quarterly dividend action next month and some reduction in disbursements is looked for. Copper stocks are selling at the lowest level in years and it is said to be no secret that insiders are buying stocks on all recessions.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "The Utah copper report for the quarter ended Sept. 30 showed a total net profit of $502,953, as against $2,240,470 in the preceding quarter and a deficit after disbursements to stockholders, of $1,933,782, compared with a deficit of $196,265 in the second quarter of 1920.

"The gross production of copper contained in concentrates for the quarter under consideration amounted to 24,740,734 pounds against 28,697,127 pounds in the previous quarter. In addition to this, there was produced a total of 59,277 pounds in precipitates from the leaching plant. The net production of marketable copper derived from this gross output for the quarter, after allowing for smelter deductions, was 24,103,161 pounds, as compared with production of 27,793,114 pounds for the quarter ended June 30 and 26,057,667 pounds for the first quarter of 1920."

STOCKS HAVE SHARP BREAK

Short Selling and Further Liquidation Cause Severe Declines.

New York, Nov. 17.—Assurances of leading banking interests that the domestic financial situation is fundamentally sound and another brisk advance in British exchange stimulated a moderate demand for stocks at the opening of today's session. Investment rails scored the most substantial gains, Northern Pacific rising 1¼ points and Southern Pacific a large fraction. Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive, General Electric, Crucible Steel and American Sugar comprised the other firm to strong issues. Rubber and copper shares were again inclined, however, to reflect adverse conditions in their respective industries.

Early morning gains were canceled when shorts began a series of drives against Crucible Steel, shipping and various specialties. Crucible was attacked on rumors of an indefinite postponement of the long deferred stock dividend. American International reacted on the lower prices reported for ship charters, rubbers became heavy on the reduced Ajax dividend and Coca Cola was under pressure of the sort that accompanied the recent suspension of the dividend. Leaders among rails, industrials and oils fell back 1 to 2 points but rallied variably before noon. Call money opened at 8 per cent and exchange on London advanced.

Prices broke sharply at midday, further liquidation and short selling effecting severe declines in special stocks. The break soon embraced industrials and rails, some of which fell under recent low records.

The 6 per cent rate for call loans failed to check the market's reversal, the general list falling to lower levels later. There were no appreciable rallies at the weak close.

Liberty bonds: 3½s, $92.98; first 4s, $88.20; second 4s, $85.24; first 4¼s, $87.70; second 4¼s, $85.90; third 4¼s, $88.50; fourth 4¼s, $86.34; Victory 3¾s, $95.96; Victory 4¾s, $96.00.

Another Crisis for Portugal.

Lisbon, Nov. 16.—President Almeida has declined to accept the resignation of the cabinet of Antonio Grango, who resigned yesterday after a defeat in parliament. Meanwhile another crisis seems inevitable.

Marquette Convict Escapes.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 17.—One hundred dollars reward is offered for the arrest and detention of Raymond Ray, a convict who escaped late Monday afternoon from the lumber yard of the Marquette branch prison. He had been working in the prison sawmill and before his transfer to the sawmill had worked on the prison farm. Ray was sent to prison from Flint, Genesee county, on Nov. 8, 1918, for larceny of an automobile for from two and one-half to five years.

Boy Hunter Kills Four Bears.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 17.—Albert Forney, 20, of White Rapids, shot four bears yesterday. While out hunting he discovered a cub in what proved to be a winter den. He shot the cub and brought the mother charging down upon him. Another shot finished her. Forney then dispatched the two remaining cubs. Father Bruin escaped by flight.

Four Shot Dead.

White Gate, County Clare, Ireland, Nov. 17.—Four of six men arrested last evening under the restoration act were shot dead this morning while trying to escape from their escort, according to an official report.

Mexican Captured.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Nov. 17.—Joe Torreas, Mexican, wanted on a charge of killing Archie Martin, was captured five miles south of here shortly after 10 o'clock last night. He is being rushed to Fort Worth to prevent mob violence.

Strategy in Investing

Putting a thousand dollars to work for a long term of years to earn 7% to 8% means, not merely that the income will purchase $70 to $80 worth of goods each year for the life of the investment, but $70 to $125 worth, as commodity prices get back to normal.

There is perhaps no stronger argument for investing in long-term bonds now. Especially strategic, therefore, is the action of exchanging shortly maturing bonds for sound, long-term issues.

Our pamphlet, "Prices and Values," analyzes the strategy of bond exchanges from the standpoint of intrinsic values and the effects of conditions on prices. It points out many specific issues still low in price and gives comparisons helpful in passing judgment.

A copy will be sent free on request and without obligation. A representative will call to discuss the general market conditions with you, if you desire it, or you may accomplish satisfactory results by calling at our office.

MITCHELL DAY IN KIWANIA

Giving Editor Farewell Party Proves Quite a Lovefeast.

"This isn't a swan song or a rooster's crow. I am not going to say goodby or hello, but I do want to say that when I leave Duluth, I shall take with me the realization that there are many who have given me their respect and love and that I have found I have a greater love for you and the people of the city than I have before realized," declared C. S. Mitchell, who will leave for Washington, D. C., next week, to members of the Duluth Kiwanis club today noon. Mr. Mitchell was the guest of honor at the meeting of the club.

Mr. Mitchell paid a high tribute to Duluth and its citizens, and expressed the hope that he would eventually return to this city. Washington is no place for a man, he said. "It's 'no man's land,'" he declared and he hoped it would not be long before he could see his way to come back and make his home here again. "Duluth has a vision and it is one of the most progressive of cities," he said. "It can see what is in the future. In no other city is there a higher grade of citizenship than is to be found in Duluth."

Mr. Mitchell was introduced by Judge Fesler, who humorously touched some of the characteristics of the honor guest. He declared everyone who knew him had a real affection for him. "All who know Charlie socially love him," he said.

Superior Man's Tribute.

Clough Gates, representing the Superior Telegram, paid a high tribute to Mr. Mitchell and told some humorous anecdotes of his acquaintance with him. He declared it was high time the people were showing some appreciation of newspaper men and that he was gratified to see such an evidently intelligent gathering doing honor to a man in that profession. He had hopes that ultimately he could sit where "C. S." was sitting and be honored in a like manner. Salary mattered nothing beside such honor, he said.

Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker also was a guest of the club. Introduced by George H. Peterson, he gave a brief talk on the passage of Amendment No. 1 and what it means to the state. He sounded a warning to the people of Minnesota against the Babcock plan getting into the hands of politicians.

"There is only one thing that can rob us of our victory," he said, "and that is to drag the work into politics. If we are not careful it will be 85 cents politics and 15 cents roads. I want to urge every one of you to keep your eyes open and forestall any such movement. Let us have $1 worth of roads for every $1 spent; then we can say to other states, 'Come to Minnesota where we have the finest system of roads in the country without a cent of land tax for them.'" He complimented the three largest cities in the state for the large majorities they gave to the amendment.

Mrs. George S. Richards on behalf of Luisa Tetrazzini, presented to the Kiwanis club a framed autographed portrait of the great singer. In making the presentation, Mrs. Richards explained that Tetrazzini had heard through her manager of the Kiwanis club and its activities and its interest in her appearance in Duluth, and in appreciation of the cordial invitation to her to be its guest, she was presenting this portrait.

W. A. McGonagle, introduced by Leonard Young, spoke in behalf of the Red Cross roll call and urged the support of every member of the club. The club voted a protest against the passage of the proposed plumbers' ordinance as recommended by the civic council. W. S. McCormick directed attention to the revision of the by-laws which would be submitted to the club at its next meeting.

LOUIS KRUEGER, SOUGHT FOR TWO YEARS, CAUGHT

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 17.—Louis Krueger, for two years sought by Federal authorities as a draft evader, was arrested today. The district attorney in Eau Claire was notified and it was understood a formal charge of draft evasion would be preferred against Krueger late today.

Leslie and Frank Krueger, brothers of the man arrested today, are serving life sentences in the Waupun prison for the slaying of Harry Jensen, a member of a posse that sought to arrest the Krueger brothers at their farm home near Owen, Wis. Louis Krueger was not involved in this shooting, the authorities say.

Oshkosh Navigation Closes.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 17.—Although no official notification of the closing of navigation has been received, all vessels making their home port here have stopped running on account of ice in the upper waters of the Fox and Wolf rivers.

NO RECORD SHOWING THE DISBURSEMENT OF OVER $2,500,000,000

New York, Nov. 17.—The Walsh congressional committee, investigating the United States shipping board, was told at today's hearing that when Alonzo Tweedale was made treasurer of the board and Emergency Fleet corporation in August, 1919, no record existed in either office showing how $2,500,000,000 expended up to that time had been disbursed.

This testimony was given by Martin J. Gillen, former executive assistant to John Barton Payne, when he was chairman of the board.

Gillen added that neither was there any record of $240,000,000 worth of securities belonging to the fleet corporation. These later were found deposited with a Philadelphia trust company, he said.

RUSSIAN CHILDREN HELD UP BY FINNS

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Only 135 of the 781 Russian children brought from Vladivostok by the American Red Cross and landed at a Finnish port have been permitted to enter Russia, according to Col. E. W. Ryan, director of the Red Cross work in the Baltic states, who passed through Berlin en route to Paris today. The children are being held in Finland until proper papers are presented showing that parents or other responsible relatives will receive them.

Duluthian at Negaunee.

Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 17.—L. L. Wilcox, superintendent of the Republic Iron & Steel company's mines at Hurley, Wis., and E. W. R. Butcher of Duluth, chief engineer for the company, are spending a few days here.

PENALTIES.

Boston Transcript: He was looking over the family bills for the month, while his wife glanced through the evening paper.

"Oh, John," she said, "it tells here of a young fellow who was fined $25 for flirting."

"He got off a blame sight cheaper than I did," retorted her husband, his eye still on the bills.

One Hundred Investment Bargains in Railroad Bonds

In a circular prepared by one of the greatest bond authorities in this country, which we have just had printed, the bond situation is not only thoroughly covered, but there is a list of one hundred bargains in high grade railroad bonds yielding as high as

Ten Per Cent

Among this list are many unusual investment opportunities, and inasmuch as underlying factors are now favorable to rising bond prices, a selection of these bonds would unquestionably result in excellent market profits, in addition to an attractive income return.

The circular will be sent without obligation, together with a booklet describing a convenient method of purchasing the bonds.

VICTIM OF BANDIT.

Mrs. John D. Gerard Held Up on Way to Duluth.

Mrs. John D. Gerard, 24 North Fifty-third avenue west, was the victim of a highway robbery late yesterday afternoon, according to her story to the West Duluth police. Mrs. Gerard said that she was walking into Duluth from Proctor when a man stopped her and ordered her to hand over her pocketbook. She said that the robber took the pocketbook and jerked it out of her hands and disappeared.

The robbery occurred on the Duluth-Proctor road at a point about half way between the two towns about 3 p. m. yesterday. Mrs. Gerard was unable to give any description of her assailant. The pocketbook contained $37.

Third Boiler in Use.

The third boiler of a battery of three used in heating the Ely and Denfeld schools was put in operation yesterday. Repairs on this boiler has kept it out of commission until yesterday. By placing the third boiler in commission it is not necessary to maintain the pressure of heretofore and results in an evener heat.

DIES FROM INJURIES BY FALLING IN ORE POCKET

Gust Ekholm, aged 57, an employe of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore docks, who was injured Monday by falling into an ore pocket, died yesterday afternoon at the Missabe hospital at Proctor. The accident happened while Mr. Ekholm was punching ore on top of one of the cars and fell through, landing in the pocket pit. A large quantity of ore fell on him, crushing him badly. He was picked up unconscious and hurried to the hospital at Proctor.

Mr. Ekholm had been a resident of West Duluth for thirty-two years. He was single and made his home at 2515 West First street. He leaves one brother, Frank Ekholm of this city. The body was taken to Bell Brothers' undertaking rooms, from where the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. Carl Selszerten, pastor of Bethel Swedish Lutheran church, will officiate.

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE IS SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

To Lester Park, Woodland or West Duluth passengers who feel that East end or West end patrons should not ride on through cars during the evening rush hours, we make the following suggestion:

To avoid riding in the Lester Park, Woodland and West Duluth cars at the time when they are most crowded, board an East end or West end car. Ask for a "Continuation Transfer" when you pay your fare and ride in comfort to Twenty-fourth avenue east or Thirty-second avenue west. Then continue your ride on the first Lester Park, Woodland or West Duluth car and you will find that you can get home with least discomfort and often find a seat all the way.

This special transfer privilege is allowed during the evening rush.

ASK SANTA CLAUS FOR ARTIFICIAL LEG

Boy of 6 Years Tells Troubles in Letter; Asks But a Few Things.

The determination shown in the grim humor of the following letter makes the writer appear to be one that will make good if given the opportunity and an unusually worthy object of any charity. Here is a little fellow, 6 years old, who, although he lost a leg last September and has been in bed ever since, has not forgotten how to smile if someone will give him half a chance and this half a chance is in giving him the train, jack-in-the-box and the artificial leg. This letter is one of the many Santa Claus letters which is reaching The Herald every day and, along with others, has been turned over to the Associated Charities, at the courthouse.

The letter reads: "Dear Santy—I suppose you come around this year too. Please let me have some little story book, jack-in-the-box and a little train. A train which I can practice jumping on. If you know my record for this year. I lost my right leg by a Canadian Northern railway, the 18th of September. Still laid up. Expect to be all right by Xmas. An artificial leg will come in handy. Am 6 years old and in first grade in school. Yours truly.

PRESIDENT REPLIES TO MESSAGE FROM LEAGUE

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson, in a message sent today to Paul Hymans, president of the League of Nations assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, extended his personal greetings to the assembly and expressed the "hope and belief that their labors will be of immense value to the whole civilized world."

The message was an acknowledgment of one from President Hymans conveying an expression of sympathy voted President Wilson unanimously upon the opening of the assembly of the league last Monday. M. Hymans' message said:

"The assembly of the League of Nations by unanimous vote has instructed me to send you its warmest greetings and to express its earnest wishes that you may speedily be restored to complete health. The assembly recognizes that you have done perhaps more than any other man to lay the foundation of the league. It feels confident that the present meetings will greatly advance those principles of co-operation between all nations which you have done so much to promote."

The reply of President Wilson was as follows:

"The greeting so graciously sent me by the assembly of the League of Nations through you has gratified me very deeply indeed. I am indeed proud to be considered to have played any part in promoting the concord of nations with the establishment of such an instrumentality as the league to whose increasing usefulness and success I look forward with perfect confidence. Permit me to extend my personal greetings to the assembly, if they will be gracious enough to receive them, together with an expression of my hope and belief that their labors will be of immense value to the whole civilized world."

BANDITS SOUGHT BY KOOCHICHING OFFICERS

International Falls, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Hugh Van Etten and deputies are seeking some bandits, who recently turned tricks in this section, but it is feared they have fled across the line into the wilds of Ontario. Two men wearing masks and handling two ugly-looking revolvers entered the hotel at Ranier, lined up the guests and forced them to hand over quite a sum of money and some jewelry. One victim is said to have saved $200 by secreting it just before being searched. The bandits fired a few shots into the air before leaving the hotel then proceeded to hold up a gambling place, getting, it is reported, several hundred dollars. They also visited what proved to be a blind pig, helping themselves to liquor. It is also reported that three men held up a restaurant man at Flanders, first asking him for money after telling a hard luck story, then as he started to comply, grabbing his whole roll, some $200. Ray, a nearby village, is also said to have been visited by bandits, but how much they got is not known.

SECOND INDICTMENT IN BUILDING TRUST CASE

New York, Nov. 17.—A second indictment was handed down today by the additional grand jury investigating New York's alleged building trust, on evidence supplied by the joint legislative committee inquiring into it.

The name or names of the person or persons indicted today were not made public, although it was stated that "the defendants may appear in court this afternoon."

On the first indictment handed down more than a week ago George Backer, millionaire builder and real estate man, was one of "at least three persons" named.

Martin Littleton, counsel for Robert P. Brindell, president of the building trades council, said that he had been notified to produce his client at the criminal courts building this afternoon and that Brindell would appear as directed.

Indicted for attempted extortion, Brindell was arraigned before Judge Mulqueen in the general sessions court and held in $100,000 bail.

BOY RIVERITE DROWNS.

Too Much Dandelion Wine Blamed for Cass County Tragedy.

Cass Lake, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Hasedy, a resident of the Boy river country, was drowned in Boy river while attempting to cross the lake with two companions. The men had been over on an island nearby and, it is said, got a quanitity of dandelion wine which proved too strong for their mental power and instead of taking the safe road home crossed the river in a dangerous place. His two companions were too intoxicated to lend aid and the man drowned, being later taken out of the river by village people. The body was brought to Cass Lake.

NO CORPORATION TO DELIVER RECOGNITION

Washington, Nov. 7.—No corporation, no group of corporations, and no group of individuals is going to "deliver American recognition to Mexico," it was stated authoritatively today at the state department.

It was stated that as a preliminary to recognition the American government did not insist upon the abrogation of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution provided the operation of the article did not infringe upon the rights of Americans in Mexico.

Officials added, however, that if the operation of the laws enacted under Article 27 were confiscatory or retroactive, the United States could not accord recognition. The United States, it was declared, is actuated solely by a desire to protect all valid interests of Americans in Mexico.

WESTERN WISCONSIN BOOZE CASES PROBED

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 17.—The Federal grand jury which is investigating liquor traffic in the western district of Wisconsin, is proceeding slowly with the disposition of 100 cases cited for investigation. United States District Attorney A. C. Wolff said today no indictments will be returned until Judge Landis returns to try cases here early in December.

Holm Resigns Judgeship.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—Mike Holm, who was elected secretary of state in the November election, today resigned his office as probate judge of Roseau county. The resignation was accepted by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist. Roger J. Bell of Roseau was appointed as probate judge to succeed Mr. Holm.

CAN BORROW MONEY TO PAY FOR ASHLAND WORK

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court of Wisconsin has decided in the case of J. J. Miles, local taxpayer, against the city of Ashland, that a city may borrow money for public improvements, instead of issuing bonds therefore. This city contracted with Rasmussen Bros. of Green Bay to do a job of paving, amounting to nearly $95,000. No provision had been made in the budget to pay the contractor, and there was not sufficient money in the treasury to cover the expense. The city therefore borrowed some $43,000, issuing certificates of indebtedness. Mr. Miles attacked this method, claiming that the only method under the circumstances would have been to issue bonds. The supreme court has decided in favor of the city.

CROOKSTON BODY IS TO HAVE ELECTION

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual banquet and business meeting of the Crookston Association of Public Affairs will be held at the association rooms this evening. The main item of business will be the election of seven new directors to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of one-third of the twenty-one directors. The new board of directors is expected to go into executive session immediately after election to decide upon a president.

In addition to a musical program by local talent the principal address will be made by George W. Dowrie of Minneapolis, dean of the University of Minnesota's department of business. A review of the activities of the association during the year will also be made by President W. T. Carlisle.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR RELATIVES and many friends, neighbors and Royal Neighbors of America, camp, No. 627, Old Settlers' association, S. U. of N. A., No. 28, Trinity lodge, No. 282, A. F. & A. M., also the Soo Line employes of Duluth and Superior for their kind sympathy and beautiful floral offerings during the illness and sad bereavement of our dearly beloved mother.

THE ELLIOTT FAMILY,
904 Garfield ave.

In Memoriam

WHITNEY—In sad but loving memory of our dear daughter and sister Esther Elizabeth, who died one year ago today, Nov. 15, 1919.

Sad and lonely are our hearts today
For you have passed away.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant which never can be filled.
We think of you in silence
We can not help but weep,
Dear Esther, as you sleep
God has called you to eternal rest
For He knows best.

Sadly missed by your parents, sisters and brothers.

MR. AND MRS. F. J. ANDERSON,
MRS. L. H. GAUTHIER,
MRS. I. E. McGREGOR,

FARM LANDS

THE JOY OF LIVING

In California, away from the cold and snow, in the sunshine and among the flowers and orchards in January, is known only to the happy families who have made the move. Many of your old friends and neighbors are located at Rio Linda, on our ten and twenty-acre poultry and fruit farms, in the suburbs of beautiful Sacramento, where they enjoy fresh vegetables and fruits from their own orchards and gardens, and best of all, a daily cash income from their large flocks of white Leghorn hens. Your opportunity is there with them. Read our new book, "Poultry and Orchards," telling all about these little farms, with prices and terms of payment. We mail it to you on request.

NEW PREMIER OF GREECE TAKES OFFICE; ORDERS REGENT TO GO

VENIZELOS GOES AWAY SECRETLY

Night Demonstration at Athens in Favor of Ex-King Constantine.

No Attempt Made to Halt Outbursts of Mob at Capital.

Britain and France to Act in Concert Regarding Constantine.

Athens, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—George Rhallis, the new premier of Greece, with three members of his cabinet, took the oath of office before Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Those who qualified in company with the premier were M. Gounaris, minister of war; M. Baldaris, minister of interior, and M. Callogeropoulos, minister of finance.

M. Rhallis will hold the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs. Immediately after he had qualified for office, M. Rhallis demanded the regent's resignation. The other members of the cabinet will take the oath before Queen Mother Olga.

Former Premier Venizelos left Athens today. Bands of civil guards, and men from many military units, went through the city during the day, acclaiming Former King Constantine and firing revolvers as a token of rejoicing.

Pictures of Constantine.

A demonstration occurred in the city today, but the number of persons taking part in it was not large. There were motor cars and carriages carrying large flags, and portraits of Former King Constantine were prominently displayed. During the demonstration shots were often fired, but no attempt was made to maintain order.

As night settled over the city, the streets were resounding with a pandemonium of yells and shouts, and pistol and rifle shots. Gangs of soldiers walked the city tooting horns and blowing whistles. The offices of the various ministries were illuminated and the wild parade continued until late in the evening.

Shortly after sunset sentinels who had been stationed at the home of Former Premier Venizelos were removed and the building was left dark and deserted.

M. Venizelos left the city secretly at 3 o'clock this afternoon on his way to Nice. The Greek yacht Narcissus was waiting for him and was escorted by three British war vessels.

Prisoners being detained in jails have been released.

Countries to Act Together.

Paris, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Conversations over the situation in Greece created by the defeat of Venizelos are in progress between France and Great Britain, it was stated at the foreign office today. Neither country, it was explained, will act without the other.

The expectation is that an understanding will be reached taking the form of a declaration of policy as to the new Greek government, which it is forecast, will reiterate opposition by France and England to the return of ex-King Constantine to the throne.

No action will be taken, it is believed, until some definite indication has been received from the Greek government to the effect that Constantine will be asked to reascend the throne.

The foreign office has received no confirmation of reports that Queen Mother Olga has been named regent of Greece. The unofficial report to that effect, however, was regarded as authentic, it was said.

AWAIT SPADE OF EXCAVATOR

Birthlands of Civilization Opened By Collapse of Turkey.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Recovery of the "lost chapters in the career of man" hidden in the ancient buried cities of Western Asia, is an imminent possibility and an American responsibility, Dr. James Henry Breasted of the University of Chicago reports. Dr. Breasted, who is professor of Egyptology and Oriental history there, has recently returned from a survey of most of the important buried cities of the Near Orient.

The collapse of the Ottoman empire has opened the birthlands of civilization to unrestricted investigation, Dr. Breasted said. "It is evident," he added, "that there rises before us an opportunity unprecedented in the history of humanistic research.

Treasuries of Records.

"The great centers of human life in the ancient world, the mighty cities and capitals of Babylonia, Assyria, Persia, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor and Egypt, the region where the earliest civilized societies arose out of savagery and barbarism to bring civilization to barbarian Europe—all these treasuries of human records which are rapidly perishing in the whole region about the eastern end of the Mediterranean lie there silently awaiting the spade of the excavator."

It will be possible to clear up the leading ancient buried cities of Western Asia within the next twenty-five or thirty years or perhaps a generation, given sufficient funds and adequate personnel, according to Dr. Breasted. The task rests with American Orientalists, he said, because no other country [illegible] the available resources.

DECLARES LEAGUE NOT DEAD, HARDING TO THE CONTRARY

LORD ROBERT CECIL.

Lord Robert Cecil addressing the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva Wednesday commanded the greatest attention, particularly when alluding to the statement attributed to Senator Harding that the league was dead. He said that the report of the council showed it was very much alive.

ULTIMATUM IS REJECTED

Armenia Declines to Establish Soviet as Ordered By Turks.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Armenia has rejected the ultimatum recently presented by the Turkish Nationalists demanding that the Armenians establish a soviet government under Turkish protection.

The Armenians declare acceptance of the conditions would be equivalent to the loss of Armenia's sovereign rights.

Capture Capital of Podolia.

London, Nov. 18.—The Russian Bolsheviki in their campaign against the Ukrainians captured Kamenetz-Podolsk, capital of Podolia, on Nov. 16, it is announced in Wednesday's official statement from Moscow, received by wireless today.

The communique announces the extension of the Bolshevik occupation of the Crimea.

"In the region of Feodosia," it reads, "[illegible] touched along the entire front [illegible] coast in the direction of Kertch. [illegible] occupied Kertch without [illegible] and took enormous booty there."

20,000 Taken From Sebastopol.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—About 20,000 men who fought in the anti-Bolshevik army of Gen. Baron Wrangel in Crimea were taken out of Sebastopol after the victory of the Bolsheviki. Transports which brought refugees from the Crimean city are still anchored in the Bosphorus, and no definite decision has been reached relative to their disposition. The Jugo-Slav government has undertaken to provide a refuge for several hundred.

Only sick and wounded refugees, numbering about 5,000, have been allowed to land. It is not yet known where the Russian army will be reorganized. Eighteen Russian organizations met at the consulate here yesterday and adopted the following resolution:

"Representatives of all Russian organizations feel that the struggle against the Bolsheviki must continue, and consider Gen. Baron Wrangel as their leader."

It was decided to create a Russian national committee.

VIEW DECISION AS TRANSITORY SOLUTION

Aix la Chapelle, Nov. 17.—Konstantine Fehrenbach, German chancellor, and Dr. Simons, foreign minister, concluded here today a tour of the Rhineland districts, and delivered addresses in which they discussed domestic and foreign issues. Dr. Simons, referring to the allocation of the districts of Eupen and Malmedy to Belgium, declared Germany viewed the decision of the council of the League of Nations as only a "transitory solution."

"We do not desire to enter the League of Nations," he said, in referring to the meeting of the assembly of the league at Geneva, "unless there is an intention, plainly indicated, to receive us as equals. It would be imprudent to force ourselves into a society which contains people who declare they will walk out in the event certain other folk enter."

Dr. Fahrenbach, reiterating that the peace of Versailles did not deserve the designation of a "peace," declared Germany, nevertheless, would live up to it and had already demonstrated her determination by her work in making coal deliveries and in disarmament.

"Notwithstanding that our army now is shrunken to proportions which would not suffice it to become master of internal confusion," he declared, "we are going forward in carrying out the provisions of the treaty."

TO PLACE "DRY" BAN ON JAMAICA GINGER

Washington, Nov. 18.—Jamaica ginger came under the prohibition ban today. Orders issued by Commissioner Williams of the internal revenue bureau, effective in ninety days, classes tincture of ginger, whether sold as Jamaica ginger, extract of ginger, or by whatever name known, is an alcoholic preparation fit for use for beverage purposes, and subject to prohibition regulations.

HARDING TO CONFER WITH ELIHU ROOT

Coolness Between the Two Temporarily Due to Misunderstanding.

Doesn't Want Few Rich Men to Make Up Campaign Deficit.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—President-elect Harding may be far away from the politicians and the factions inside the Republican party, geographically speaking, but there are some things going on, nevertheless, during his absence which indicate clearly the determination of Warren Harding to keep the party harmonious and to keep himself free from entanglement in the matter of campaign funds.

In the first place, it became known here today that Elihu Root had been invited to come to Marion on Dec. 10 to discuss questions of foreign policy and particularly the League of Nations. The president-elect has also asked other distinguished Republicans to confer with him at Marion, but the significance of the Root visit is that it reveals Mr. Harding as anxious to obtain the advice and counsel of the former secretary of state.

The Campaign Deficit.

In the second place, Senator Harding has let it be known through his friends that he doesn't want the Republican campaign committee to accept contributions of extraordinary size in making up the deficit of $1,600,000 incurred during the last campaign. He wants to be absolutely free from obligation implicit or explicit. And thereby hangs a tale.

It is no secret that there have been serious differences of opinion inside the Republican party concerning the management of the last campaign, and particularly with regard to its financing. Will Hays, Republican national chairman, hasn't had as an easy time preserving harmony inside the ranks as the outside world may have supposed. He has been the object of considerable criticism by the original Harding men, who seem to bear a grudge against him for his alleged activities at the Republican national convention at Chicago. They insist that when the recess was taken on Saturday after the drift toward Harding had begun, Hays made an effort through his friend, William Boyce Thompson of New York, to have himself nominated. They also declare that in the period preceding the convention, Hays was advancing his own candidacy.

Much Feeling Exists.

Whatever foundation there may be for the story, the fact is feeling does exist, and one encounters it in talking with various Republican leaders. It crops out in questions of policy and bears a relationship to the question of the finance. For example, it is insisted by some Republicans close to Harding that the original scheme of placing $1,000 limit on contributions suggested by Mr. Hays was both impractical and unwise, since the Demo-

FAST MAIL ROBBER CONFESSES TO DEED

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 18.—Orville Phillips, 17, younger brother of Merl Phillips, has surrendered to the government authorities and has confessed to having participated in the $3,500,000 robbery of fast mail No. 8, on the Burlington railroad here Saturday night.

Orville's confession is a dramatic incident in the story of the crime and his surrender was made, he says, when he discovered that his brother, Merl, was perjuring himself in an effort to save him. Orville Phillips says Merl had nothing whatever to do with actual robbery and in fact did all that he could to persuade the other boys from carrying out the robbery.

Orville's confession resulted in the finding of five more of the stolen registered mail sacks but all were empty. Orville says the contents were burned and that a third man whose name he refused to tell got the other four missing sacks.

Four sacks were found under the ice in a lake and one was found in a local park.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FACED BY PASCALE

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—Life imprisonment is the maximum penalty that can be imposed upon August Pascale, the "crank," self-confessed abductor and slayer of 13-month-old Blakely Coughlin, who yesterday pleaded guilty in the Montgomery county court to second degree murder and kidnaping for extortion. The commonwealth accepted the plea of second degree murder, which carries a penalty of twenty years imprisonment because of its inability to produce the body of the child or a witness who had seen the body. Under a Pennsylvania law this is necessary in order to obtain a conviction of murder in the first degree. The penalty for kidnaping is life imprisonment.

Judge Swartz, before whom the case was heard, said he would pronounce sentence Saturday. Owing to the prisoner's plea of guilty no jury was empaneled.

CALLS NEW SHIPPING BOARD TO DUTIES

Washington, Nov. 18.—The new shipping board appointees have been called by Chairman Benson to meet Dec. 1 and take up their duties. Allocation of the various functions of the board to the commissioners, the chairman said, would be taken up with a fairly definite plan already prepared for their approval.

Present policies of the board are to be discussed for amendment or approval, the chairman said, as full harmony is desired in developing and carrying out the provisions of the shipping act. The board also will consider suggestions to be made to the coming session of congress.

CONFESSED ABDUCTOR AND MURDERER PLEADS GUILTY

AUGUSTE PASCALE.

Slayer of Coughlin boy will be sentenced Saturday. Life imprisonment is maximum penalty.

HARDING TALKS ON AFTER-WAR READJUSTMENT

Says Plain Living and Square Dealing Nation's Strongest Reliance.

President-Elect Makes Address Before New Orleans Commerce Association.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—President-elect Harding will not stop at a Mexican port on his voyage to the canal zone, as he had been urged to do by Mexican officials.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—Plain living and square dealing were invoked by President-elect Harding in a speech here today as the nation's strongest reliances during the coming period of after-war readjustment.

"Sanity, clear thinking, common sense, honesty and co-operation," were among the qualities he named as prime necessities in meeting the demands of the new world order, and he declared material interests and national happiness both would benefit if the United States became a "simple living people once again."

"Whatever discouragements and reserves there have been," he declared, would be only temporary in character.

Senator Harding's speech, delivered at a luncheon of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, also contained a message of assurance for the industrial development of the South and an expression of hopes that the ties of commercial co-operation with Latin America would be strengthened by every possible means.

The address was a part of his five-hour visit to New Orleans. He said in part:

Must Face Momentous Problems.

"I believe the American people have come to realize that we must face momentous problems, and must face them with resolute courage and practical wisdom and patriotic determination. There must be no reason for pause, or excuse for despair, nor place for pessimism. If we are effective in solving our problems at home, we shall be better able to help solve those of the world as befits our part in modern civilization.

"The world has never witnessed such an upheaval as that which came with the great war. Its civilization was never so sorely tried. Inevitably there must be reconstruction. Unavoidably there will be readjustment. And the old order will never return. The incalculable sacrifice would be vain. But there must come stability and dependability. We must put aside the debris of war and continue to build on solid foundations.

Sure to Be Reverses.

"We cannot escape all the consequences of fevered war or the unsettled conditions of its aftermath. There are sure to be reverses. There will be endless discouragements, but a confident America will face them with good courage. And we will win. Surely we are going to be called upon nationally,

NEW CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF MAKES GOOD

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris made his first arrest early today after having been in office a few days. James Royle and James Brennan, sought for three weeks in connection with the $265,000 robbery of a messenger of the Hyde Park State bank, were arrested.

Many favorable comments were being made about the city today and especial prominence given the arrest as it was said to have been the failure of the police to apprehend the robbers which brought much protest against Former Chief of Police John J. Garrity, who recently resigned.

Liberty bonds to the amount of $8,687.40 were recovered together with coupons. This recovery, with the $257,000 in checks found two weeks ago by President John A. Carroll of the bank, comprises the entire loss.

Secured Confessions.

President Carroll elicited a confession from Edward Royle, a brother of James, naming his brother, Brennan, and a man named Doherty. Chief Fitzmorris said today Doherty would be arrested shortly. Edward Royle was traced to a farm by the bank president after the latter said he had sought aid from the police in vain. He sighted the other three at a football game at Stagg field recently, but said the police laughed at him when he endeavored to have them arrest the robbers.

The two arrested today were about to flee to Canada. Chief Fitzmorris announced to newspaper reporters that he would have a "story" for them three hours before he made his arrest.

MAJ. WARREN E. PUGH NAMED CHIEF OF POLICE FOR DULUTH

WILL LEARN CONDITIONS IN IRELAND

Irish Commission Plans to Send Mission to Learn Facts.

Committee of One Hundred Hears Witness Direct From Thurles.

Washington, Nov. 18.—"Only the direst necessity" can justify a resort to arms for the adjustment of disputes in Ireland, Frederick C. Howe, chairman of the commission from the committee of 100 investigating the Irish question, declared today at the opening of the commission's hearing. He added that conditions in Ireland "have created and are creating a widening rift in the friendly relations of English speaking people not only in America, but all over the world."

Mr. Howe said the commission had determined to ascertain the facts and to learn as nearly as possible what conditions are in Ireland and the reasons for them.

"The commission plans to send a mission to England and Ireland to make an inquiry into conditions in the latter country," Mr. Howe explained.

Judge Witness Called.

Dennis Morgan of Thurles, Ireland, was the first witness called. He said he was a college teacher in Thurles and that he had been elected chairman of the town council as the labor candidate, winning over Sinn Fein and Independent candidates.

The witness described what he termed the shooting up of the town of Thurles by government constabulary. He testified that after a constable had been shot last Jan. 20, the constabulary in reprisal made a midnight raid upon the homes and stores of townsmen prominent in the Irish independence movement. Houses and stores were riddled with bullets and hand grenades, he said.

"Was it apparent these places were picked out?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

Leaders in Movement.

"Yes," Morgan replied. "They were all of people known to be associated with the movement for the independence of Ireland—leaders in this movement."

Mr. Morgan said he was told that the constabulary was practically acting

HEAR COMPLAINTS OF LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission today is conducting a hearing on three complaints filed by the Minnesota Central Co-operative Livestock Shippers' association, which officially represents a large number of associations.

One of the contentions of the shippers is that the prewar regulations giving the livestock shippers return fare when shipping one car of stock should be restored. At present the railroads require the shippers to ship two carloads in order to obtain free return fare. Other regulations before the hearing concern minimum wage and rate on mixed carloads of stock.

H. L. Halvorson of Litchfield, president of the associtaion; A. P. Bartsch of Owatonna, a director; S. E. Peterson of Waconia, treasurer of the association; W. A. McKerrow of the university farm, and H. J. Diehl of St. Paul, attorney, represented the shippers.

R. J. Hagman, Great Northern attorney, appeared as counsel for all of the railroads. George C. Wright of the Omaha, M. F. Moffat of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad and P. B. Beidelman of the Great Northern, traffic experts, attended the hearing to represent the traffic departments of the railroads.

PLAN TO SAFEGUARD LABOR'S INTEREST

Washington, Nov. 18.—Facing an increasingly serious problem in unemployment and conditions contributing to it, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor continued its session here today looking to the formulation of a policy of action to safeguard labor's interests in the present industrial situation.

While threats of radical elements to undermine conservative leadership in the organized labor movement are understood to have been the primary concern of the executive council on convening last week, its attention has been more and more claimed during the sessions by the increase in unemployment consequent upon industrial readjustment. Although it became known yesterday that direct steps to eliminate radicalism from any control in labor councils and to meet the menace of increasing unemployment has been determined upon by the labor leaders, there has been no definite revelation of the measures and policies thus far agreed upon.

CLOTHING PRICES NOW ARE ON STABLE BASIS

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Clothing prices now are on a stable basis, according to a statement issued last night by the board of directors of the National Association of Retail Clothiers. "Readjustment of prices has well run its course," the statement said.

"Without taking into consideration costs or material values the retail merchant has passed to the consumer price concessions that would have been delayed several months if the ordinary processes of trade trend were followed."

THREE NEGROES SHOT BY MOB IN GEORGIA

Douglas, Ga., Nov. 18.—Two negro men and one negro woman, accused of implication in the killing of Pearly Harper, a young planter of this county, were shot early today by a mob of more than 150 men who overpowered Sheriff Tanner and two deputies who were attempting to get the negroes to Fitzgerald for safekeeping.

IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION

Controversy Between United States and Japan Has Brighter Outlook.

Tokio, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—There is a distinct improvement in the situation between Japan and the United States relative to the California controversy, and officials evidently believe real progress is being made in the negotiations between the two countries. Hitherto there has been a somewhat pessimistic attitude, which has been created by the many delicate points involved.

Members of the house of peers are showing their interest in the international cable conference being held in Washington. A deputation of all parties in the upper house of parliament waited upon Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, today, and discussed the cable connection between Japan and the island of Yap. Later representative members of the upper chamber met and decided to urge the government to protect Japan's interests in this line.

Students About Equally Divided.

Tokio, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two thousand university students met here tonight to discuss the question, "Shall Japan Fight America?" The debate lasted four hours and was marked by vehement oratory, but the audience remained in good humor during the evening. The managers of the meeting out of deference to the police, decided not to take a vote on the merits of the question as disclosed by the speakers and apparently the audience was equally divided as to the expediency of war between the two countries.

Speakers taking part in the debate agreed that the action of California in legislating against Japanese owning property in that state furnished a sufficient cause for hostilities, but they differed concerning the expediency of going to war. Many pointed out that the fact of America's wealth and preparedness contrasted against Japan's weakness. One student thought that if Japan attacked America over this question, other white races might combine against Japan. The orators freely praised America's past friendliness for this country, but added:

"Now that Japan is grown up, America is tired of us."

THREE ELECTROCUTED AS THEIR AUTOMOBILE PLUNGES OVER BRIDGE

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Nov. 18.—Three persons were electrocuted here at 7:30 o'clock last night when their automobile plunged over a bridge and struck an electric wire carrying 23,000 volts. The dead are Miss Louise Zanders, 21 years old, a school teacher of Gardner, Wis.; Arthur Delwiche, 27, driver of the machine and Clements Denll, 22, both of Gardner.

The automobile driven by Arthur Delwiche plunged over the bridge while they were going to Sturgeon Bay to attend a movie. As the car went over the bridge it struck an electric wire carrying a 23,000 voltage and the occupants were electrocuted. The car dropped fifteen feet into two feet of water.

The bodies were taken from the creek by coast guards and rushed to a hospital where doctors worked for about an hour with a pulmotor without success.

Coast guards who examined the machine after they had pulled it from the creek said that nothing defective was found with the steering device. Nobody witnessed the accident.

DEMAND FOR WAGE INCREASE REFUSED

New York, Nov. 18.—Demands for an increase of $1 a day presented by the Building Trades council, have been refused by the Building Trades Employers' association, it was announced today. Robert P. Brindell, who was indicted yesterday for attempted extortion in connection with the investigation here of the alleged "building trust," is president of the labor organization, which has about 115,000 members.

The present wage scale of the men is $10 a day for bricklayers, $9.50 for plasterers and $9 for members of inside trades.

Radical Cannot Have Auditorium.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—Robert Minor, radical lecturer, will not speak at the Auditorium here Sunday afternoon. The city council refused the use of the building by a four-to-three vote this morning when St. Paul citizens appeared before the council, protesting Minor's appearance as a public speaker in the Auditorium.

Former Chief John Murphy Withdraws His Claims to Reappointment.

Maj. Warren E. Pugh, now a detective on the city's police force, has been named as chief of police, Commissioner Murnian making the announcement to The Herald this morning.

Coincident with this determination comes a full resignation of John Murphy, former chief of police. Mr. Murphy sent his withdrawal of claims to reappointment to Commissioner Murnian yesterday. He bases his withdrawal on the fact that rumors derogatory to his reappointment and embarrassment to the city commissioners have been roused by his request for recognition and he wishes to settle them once and for all.

Maj. Pugh is one of the youngest chiefs of police of any of the large cities in the country. He was born in Superior, Feb. 19, 1893. He joined the Duluth police force in July, 1916, as a "plain clothes" man on special duty in connection with medical work. Contracting diphtheria he took a lay-off and was regularly appointed under civil service examination on Jan. 27, 1917.

Meteoric Career in Army.

On May 11 he was granted a leave of absence for the duration of the war and enlisted. He received his first appointment as second lieutenant of infantry and was assigned to Camp Dodge, with the One Hundred and Sixty-third depot brigade. Later he was promoted to senior lieutenant of Company A, Seventh regiment and served in that capacity until November, when he was assigned to the rank of adjutant of the First depot brigade.

In January, 1918, he received a first lieutenancy in the national army and in July was promoted to a captaincy and assigned to camp headquarters. A few days afterwards he was made acting camp adjutant and later camp adjutant. The following August he received his majority as an infantry officer and in October was made acting camp executive officer, which assignment he retained until his discharge in September, 1919. At the present time he holds the rank of major of infantry in the reserve corps.

After spending a few weeks at home he accepted a position as night supervisor of the emergency ambulance at Minneapolis, resigning to accept a position as a detective on the Duluth force Oct. 4, 1920.

Effective Immediately.

A conference between Commissioner Murnian and Chief Pugh was held this morning and it was decided that the appointment should take effect immediately, Chief Pugh expressing himself as ready to take up his new duties at once. What his plans are and what changes he would make, if any, in the

MORE WOMEN PREACHERS

Fifteen Licensed in Methodist Episcopal Church Since May.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Fifteen women have been licensed as preachers in the Methodist Episcopal church since this right was granted last May by the general conference of the church, Miss M. Southard reported here today. Miss Southard is president of an association of women preachers in the United States and Canada that represents fifteen denominations. She is director of evangelism of the Epworth league.

"The first woman preacher to be licensed in the Methodist Episcopal church under this ruling," Miss Southard said, "was Miss D. Willia Caffrey of Wenatchee, Wash. She came from a family of preachers and at the age of 9 wanted to preach. She had been acting as associate pastor of the First Methodist church at Wenatchee. Her pastor, who was at the general conference, telegraphed word of its decision, and she was licensed as a local preacher within two hours.

Licensed Same Evening.

"The same evening Miss Winifred Willard was licensed by the First Methodist Episcopal church of Denver. At the time she was 2,000 miles away in the East, but the enterprising Denverites called a meeting as soon as they heard the news and took action.

"The first woman licensed in New England was Mrs. Kate Morrison Cooper. For the past three years she had been pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Portsmouth, R. I. She was licensed June 10.

"Ten days later Miss Mabelle H. Whitney was licensed at Pittsfield, Vt. She was a supply pastor and previously had served as pastor of a Congregational church in Maine. Ten days after that Miss Capitola B. Lochner was licensed by the Proctorsville, Vt., M. E. church, and in a week another Vermont woman, Miss Ellen H. Wagner, a public school teacher, was licensed at Nulton."

Miss Southard herself was the seventh woman preacher licensed.

"It is not an easy task to keep informed on how many women have been licensed," she said, "when they are being licensed right along in so many sections."

"There is no doubt," Miss Southard added, "that ordination will be granted Methodist women when the next general conference meets in 1924."

NEW PREMIER OF GREECE TAKES OFFICE; ORDERS REGENT TO GO

VENIZELOS GOES AWAY SECRETLY

Night Demonstration at Athens in Favor of Ex-King Constantine.

No Attempt Made to Halt Outbursts of Mob at Capital.

Britain and France to Act in Concert Regarding Constantine.

Athens, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—George Rhallis, the new premier of Greece, with three members of his cabinet, took the oath of office before Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Those who qualified in company with the premier were M. Gounaris, minister of war, M. Tsaldaris, minister of interior, and M. Calogeropoulos, minister of finance.

M. Rhallis will hold the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs. Immediately after he had qualified for office, M. Rhallis demanded the regent's resignation. The other members of the cabinet will take the oath before Queen Mother Olga.

Former Premier Venizelos left Athens today. Bands of civil guards, and men from army military units, went through the city during the day, acclaiming Former King Constantine and firing revolvers as a token of rejoicing.

Pictures of Constantine.

A demonstration occurred in the city today, but the number of persons taking part in it was not large. There were motor cars and carriages carrying large flags, and portraits of Former King Constantine were prominently displayed. During the demonstration shots were often fired but no attempt was made to maintain order.

As night settled over the city, the streets were resounding with a pandemonium of yells and shouts, and pistol and rifle shots. Gangs of soldiers walked the city tooting horns and blowing whistles. The offices of the various ministries were illuminated and the wild parade continued until late in the evening.

Shortly after sunset sentinels who had been stationed at the home of Former Premier Venizelos were removed and the building was left dark and deserted.

M. Venizelos left the city secretly at 3 o'clock this afternoon on his way to Nice. The Greek yacht Narcissus was waiting for him and was escorted by three British war vessels.

Prisoners being detained in jails have been released.

Countries to Act Together.

Paris, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Conversations over the situation in Greece created by the defeat of Venizelos are in progress between France and Great Britain, it was stated at the foreign office today. Neither country, it was explained, will act without the other.

The expectation is that an understanding will be reached taking the form of a declaration of policy as to the new Greek government, which it is forecast, will reiterate opposition by France and England to the return of ex-King Constantine to the throne.

No action will be taken, it is believed, until some definite indication has been received from the Greek government to the effect that Constantine will be asked to reascend the throne.

The foreign office has received no confirmation of reports that Queen Mother Olga has been named regent of Greece. The unofficial report to that effect, however, was regarded as authentic, it was said.

AWAIT SPADE OF EXCAVATOR

Birthlands of Civilization Opened By Collapse of Turkey.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Recovery of the "lost chapters in the career of man" hidden in the ancient buried cities of Western Asia, is an imminent possibility and an American responsibility, Dr. James Henry Breasted of the University of Chicago reports. Dr. Breasted, who is professor of Egyptology and Oriental history there, has recently returned from a survey of most of the important buried cities of the Near Orient.

The collapse of the Ottoman empire has opened the birthlands of civilization to unrestricted investigation, Dr. Breasted said. "It is evident," he added, "that there rises before us an opportunity unprecedented in the history of humanistic research.

Treasuries of Records.

"The great centers of human life in the ancient world, the mighty cities and capitals of Babylonia, Assyria, Persia, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor and Egypt, the region where the earliest civilized societies arose out of savagery and barbarism to bring civilization to barbarian Europe—all these treasuries of human records which are rapidly perishing in the whole region about the eastern end of the Mediterranean lie there silently awaiting the spade of the excavator."

It will be possible to clear up the leading ancient buried cities of Western Asia within the next twenty-five or thirty years or perhaps a generation, given sufficient funds and adequate personnel, according to Dr. Breasted. "The task rests with American Orientalists," he said, "because no other country has available resources."

DECLARES LEAGUE NOT DEAD, HARDING TO THE CONTRARY

LORD ROBERT CECIL.

Lord Robert Cecil addressing the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva Wednesday commanded the greatest attention, particularly when alluding to the statement attributed to Senator Harding that the league was dead. He said that the report of the council showed it was very much alive.

ULTIMATUM IS REJECTED

Armenia Declines to Establish Soviet as Ordered By Turks.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Armenia has rejected the ultimatum recently presented by the Turkish Nationalists demanding that the Armenians establish a soviet government under Turkish protection.

The Armenians declare acceptance of the conditions would be equivalent to the loss of Armenia's sovereign rights.

Capture Capital of Podolia.

London, Nov. 18.—The Russian Bolsheviki in their campaign against the Ukrainians captured Kamenetz-Podolsk, capital of Podolia, on Nov. 16, it is announced in Wednesday's official statement from Moscow, received by wireless today.

The communique announces the extension of the Bolshevik occupation of the Crimea.

"In the region of Feodosia," it reads, "[illegible] marched along the entire front [illegible]east in the direction of Kertch. [illegible]ly occupied Kertch without [illegible] and took enormous booty [illegible]."

20,000 Taken From Sebastopol.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—About 20,000 men who fought in the anti-Bolshevik army of Gen. Baron Wrangel in Crimea were taken out of Sebastopol after the victory of the Bolsheviki. Transports which brought refugees from the Crimean city are still anchored in the Bosphorus, and no definite decision has been reached relative to their disposition. The Jugo-Slav government has undertaken to provide a refuge for several hundred.

Only sick and wounded refugees, numbering about 5,000, have been allowed to land. It is not yet known where the Russian army will be reorganized. Eighteen Russian organizations met at the consulate here yesterday and adopted the following resolution:

"Representatives of all Russian organizations feel that the struggle against the Bolsheviki must continue, and consider Gen. Baron Wrangel as their leader."

It was decided to create a Russian national committee.

VIEW DECISION AS TRANSITORY SOLUTION

Aix la Chapelle, Nov. 17.—Konstantine Fehrenbach, German chancellor, and Dr. Simons, foreign minister, concluded here today a tour of the Rhineland districts, and delivered addresses in which they discussed domestic and foreign issues. Dr. Simons, referring to the allocation of the districts of Eupen and Malmedy to Belgium, declared Germany viewed the decision of the council of the League of Nations as only a "transitory solution."

"We do not desire to enter the League of Nations," he said, in referring to the meeting of the assembly of the league at Geneva, "unless there is an intention, plainly indicated, to receive us as equals. It would be imprudent to force ourselves into a society which contains people who declare they will walk out in the event certain other folk enter."

Dr. Fahrenbach, reiterating that the peace of Versailles did not deserve the designation of a "peace," declared Germany, nevertheless, would live up to it and had already demonstrated her determination by her work in making coal deliveries and in disarmament.

"Notwithstanding that our army now is shrunken to proportions which would not suffice it to become master of internal confusion," he declared, "we are going forward in carrying out the provisions of the treaty."

TO PLACE "DRY" BAN ON JAMAICA GINGER

Washington, Nov. 18.—Jamaica ginger came under the prohibition ban today. Orders issued by Commissioner Williams of the internal revenue bureau, effective in ninety days, classes tincture of ginger, whether sold as Jamaica ginger extract of ginger, or by whatever name known, is an alcoholic preparation fit for use for beverage purposes, and subject to prohibition regulations.

HARDING TO CONFER WITH ELIHU ROOT

Coolness Between the Two Temporarily Due to Misunderstanding.

Doesn't Want Few Rich Men to Make Up Campaign Deficit.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—President-elect Harding may be far away from the politicians and the factions inside the Republican party, geographically speaking, but there are some things going on, nevertheless, during his absence which indicate clearly the determination of Warren Harding to keep the party harmonious and to keep himself free from entanglement in the matter of campaign funds.

In the first place, it became known here today that Elihu Root had been invited to come to Marion on Dec. 10 to discuss questions of foreign policy and particularly the League of Nations. The president-elect has also asked other distinguished Republicans to confer with him at Marion, but the significance of the Root visit is that it reveals Mr. Harding as anxious to obtain the advice and counsel of the former secretary of state.

The Campaign Deficit.

In the second place, Senator Harding has let it be known through his friends that he doesn't want the Republican campaign committee to accept contributions of extraordinary size in making up the deficit of $1,600,000 incurred during the last campaign. He wants to be absolutely free from obligation implicit or explicit. And thereby hangs a tale.

It is no secret that there have been serious differences of opinion inside the Republican party concerning the management of the last campaign, and particularly with regard to its financing. Will Hays, Republican national chairman, hasn't had as an easy time preserving harmony inside the ranks as the outside world may have supposed. He has been the object of considerable criticism by the original Harding men, who seem to bear a grudge against him for his alleged activities at the Republican national convention at Chicago. They insist that when the recess was taken on Saturday after the drift toward Harding had begun, Hays made an effort through his friend, William Boyce Thompson of New York, to have himself nominated. They also declare that in the period preceding the convention, Hays was advancing his own candidacy.

Much Feeling Exists.

Whatever foundation there may be for the story, the fact is feeling does exist, and one encounters it in talking with various Republican leaders. It crops out in questions of policy and bears a relationship to the question of the finance. For example, it is insisted by some Republicans close to Harding that the original scheme of placing $1,000 limit on contributions suggested by Mr. Hays was both impractical and unwise, since the Demo-

FAST MAIL ROBBER CONFESSES TO DEED

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 18.—Orville Phillips, 17, younger brother of Merl Phillips, has surrendered to the government authorities and has confessed to having participated in the $3,500,000 robbery of fast mail No. 8, on the Burlington railroad here Saturday night.

Orville's confession is a dramatic incident in the story of the crime and his surrender was made, he says, when he discovered that his brother, Merl, was perjuring himself in an effort to save him. Orville Phillips says Merl had nothing whatever to do with actual robbery and in fact did all that he could to persuade the other boys from carrying out the robbery.

Orville's confession resulted in the finding of five more of the stolen registered mail sacks but all were empty. Orville says the contents were burned and that a third man whose name he refused to tell got the other four missing sacks.

Four sacks were found under the ice in a lake and one was found in a local park.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FACED BY PASCALE

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—Life imprisonment is the maximum penalty that can be imposed upon August Pascale, the "crank," self-confessed abductor and slayer of 13-month-old Blakely Coughlin, who yesterday pleaded guilty in the Montgomery county court to second degree murder and kidnaping for extortion. The commonwealth accepted the plea of second degree murder, which carries a penalty of twenty years imprisonment because of its inability to produce the body of the child or a witness who had seen the body. Under a Pennsylvania law this is necessary in order to obtain a conviction of murder in the first degree. The penalty for kidnaping is life imprisonment.

Judge Swartz, before whom the case was heard, said he would pronounce sentence Saturday. Owing to the prisoner's plea of guilty no jury was empaneled.

CALLS NEW SHIPPING BOARD TO DUTIES

Washington, Nov. 18.—The new shipping board appointees have been called by Chairman Benson to meet Dec. 1 and take up their duties. Allocation of the various functions of the board to the commissioners, the chairman said, would be taken up with a fairly definite plan already prepared for their approval.

Present policies of the board are to be discussed for amendment or approval, the chairman said, as full harmony is desired in developing and carrying out the provisions of the shipping act. The board also will consider suggestions to be made to the coming session of congress.

CONFESSED ABDUCTOR AND MURDERER PLEADS GUILTY

AUGUSTE PASCALE.

Slayer of Coughlin boy will be sentenced Saturday. Life imprisonment is maximum penalty.

HARDING TALKS ON AFTER-WAR READJUSTMENT

Says Plain Living and Square Dealing Nation's Strongest Reliance.

President-Elect Makes Address Before New Orleans Commerce Association.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—President-elect Harding will not stop at a Mexican port on his voyage to the canal zone, as he had been urged to do by Mexican officials.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—Plain living and square dealing were invoked by President-elect Harding in a speech here today as the nation's strongest reliances during the coming period of after-war readjustment.

"Sanity, clear thinking, common sense, honesty and co-operation," were among the qualities he named as prime necessities in meeting the demands of the new world order, and he declared material interests and national happiness both would benefit if the United States became a "simple living people once again."

"Whatever discouragements and reserves there have been," he declared, would be only temporary in character.

Senator Harding's speech, delivered at a luncheon of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, also contained a message of assurance for the industrial development of the South and an expression of hopes that the ties of commercial co-operation with Latin America would be strengthened by every possible means.

The address was a part of his five-hour visit to New Orleans. He said in part:

Must Face Momentous Problems.

"I believe the American people have come to realize that we must face momentous problems, and must face them with resolute courage and practical wisdom and patriotic determination. There must be no reason for pause, or excuse for despair, nor place for pessimism. If we are effective in solving our problems at home, we shall be better able to help solve those of the world as befits our part in modern civilization.

"The world has never witnessed such an upheaval as that which came with the great war. Its civilization was never so sorely tried. Inevitably there must be reconstruction. Unavoidably there will be readjustment. And the old order will never return. The incalculable sacrifice would be vain. But there must come stability and dependability. We must put aside the debris of war and continue to build on solid foundations.

Sure to Be Reverses.

"We cannot escape all the consequences of fervered war or the unsettled conditions of its aftermath. There are sure to be reverses. There will be endless discouragements, but a confident America will face them with good courage. And we will win. Surely we are going to be called upon nationally,

NEW CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF MAKES GOOD

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris made his first arrest early today after having been in office a few days. James Royle and James Brennan, sought for three weeks in connection with the $265,000 robbery of a messenger of the Hyde Park State bank, were arrested.

Many favorable comments were being made about the city today and especial prominence given the arrest as it was said to have been the failure of the police to apprehend the robbers which brought much protest against Former Chief of Police John J. Garrity, who recently resigned.

Liberty bonds to the amount of $8,687.40 were recovered together with coupons. This recovery, with the $257,000 in checks found two weeks ago by President John A. Carroll of the bank, comprises the entire loss.

Secured Confessions.

President Carroll elicited a confession from Edward Royle, a brother of James, naming his brother, Brennan, and a man named Doherty. Chief Fitzmorris said today Doherty would be arrested shortly. Edward Royle was traced to a farm by the bank president after the latter said he had sought aid from the police in vain. He sighted the other three at a football game at Stagg field recently, but said the police laughed at him when he endeavored to have them arrest the robbers.

The two arrested today were about to flee to Canada. Chief Fitzmorris announced to newspaper reporters that he would have a "story" for them three hours before he made his arrest.

WILL LEARN CONDITIONS IN IRELAND

Irish Commission Plans to Send Mission to Learn Facts.

Committee of One Hundred Hears Witness Direct From Thurles.

Washington, Nov. 18.—"Only the direst necessity" can justify a resort to arms for the adjustment of disputes in Ireland, Frederick C. Howe, chairman of the commission from the committee of 100 investigating the Irish question, declared today at the opening of the commission's hearing. He added that conditions in Ireland "have created and are creating a widening rift in the friendly relations of English speaking people not only in America, but all over the world."

Mr. Howe said the commission had determined to ascertain the facts and to learn as nearly as possible what conditions are in Ireland and the reasons for them.

"The commission plans to send a mission to England and Ireland to make an inquiry into conditions in the latter country," Mr. Howe explained.

Judge Witness Called.

Dennis Morgan of Thurles, Ireland, was the first witness called. He said he was a college teacher in Thurles and that he had been elected chairman of the town council as the labor candidate, winning over Sinn Fein and independent candidates.

The witness described what he termed the shooting up of the town of Thurles by government constabulary. He testified that after a constable had been shot last Jan. 20, the constabulary in reprisal made a midnight raid upon the homes and stores of townsmen prominent in the Irish independence movement. Houses and stores were riddled with bullets and hand grenades, he said.

"Was it apparent these places were picked out?" asked Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

Leaders in Movement.

"Yes," Morgan replied. "They were all of people known to be associated with the movement for the independence of Ireland—leaders in this movement."

Mr. Morgan said he was told that the constabulary was practically acting

HEAR COMPLAINTS OF LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission today is conducting a hearing on three complaints filed by the Minnesota Central Co-operative Livestock Shippers' association, which officially represents a large number of associations.

One of the contentions of the shippers is that the prewar regulations giving the livestock shippers return fare when shipping one car of stock should be restored. At present the railroads require the shippers to ship two carloads in order to obtain free return fare. Other regulations before the hearing concern minimum wage and rate on mixed carloads of stock.

H. L. Halvorson of Litchfield, president of the associtaion; A. P. Bartsch of Owatonna, a director; S. E. Peterson of Waconia, treasurer of the association; W. A. McKerrow of the university farm, and H. J. Diehl of St. Paul, attorney, represented the shippers.

R. J. Hagman, Great Northern attorney, appeared as counsel for all of the railroads. George C. Wright of the Omaha, M. F. Moffat of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad and P. B. Beidelman of the Great Northern, traffic experts, attended the hearing to represent the traffic departments of the railroads.

PLAN TO SAFEGUARD LABOR'S INTEREST

Washington, Nov. 18.—Facing an increasingly serious problem in unemployment and conditions contributing to it, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor continued its session here today looking to the formulation of a policy of action to safeguard labor's interests in the present industrial situation.

While threats of radical elements to undermine conservative leadership in the organized labor movement are understood to have been the primary concern of the executive council on convening last week, its attention has been more and more claimed during the sessions by the increase in unemployment consequent upon industrial readjustment. Although it became known yesterday that direct steps to eliminate radicalism from any control in labor councils and to meet the menace of increasing unemployment has been determined upon by the labor leaders, there has been no definite revelation of the measures and policies thus far agreed upon.

CLOTHING PRICES NOW ARE ON STABLE BASIS

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Clothing prices now are on a stable basis, according to a statement issued last night by the board of directors of the National Association of Retail Clothiers. "Readjustment of prices has well run its course," the statement said.

"Without taking into consideration costs or material values the retail merchant has passed to the consumer price concessions that would have been delayed several months if the ordinary processes of trade trend were followed."

IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION

Controversy Between United States and Japan Has Brighter Outlook.

Tokio, Nov. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—There is a distinct improvement in the situation between Japan and the United States relative to the California controversy, and officials evidently believe real progress is being made in the negotiations between the two countries. Hitherto there has been a somewhat pessimistic attitude, which has been created by the many delicate points involved.

Members of the house of peers are showing their interest in the international cable conference being held in Washington. A deputation of all parties in the upper house of parliament waited upon Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, today, and discussed the cable connection between Japan and the island of Yap. Later representative members of the upper chamber met and decided to urge the government to protect Japan's interests in this line.

Students About Equally Divided.

Tokio, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two thousand university students met here tonight to discuss the question, "Shall Japan Fight America?" The debate lasted four hours and was marked by vehement oratory, but the audience remained in good humor during the evening. The managers of the meeting out of deference to the police, decided not to take a vote on the merits of the question as disclosed by the speakers and apparently the audience was equally divided as to the expediency of war between the two countries.

Speakers taking part in the debate agreed that the action of California in legislating against Japanese owning property in that state furnished a sufficient cause for hostilities, but they differed concerning the expediency of going to war. Many pointed out that the fact of America's wealth and preparedness contrasted against Japan's weakness. One student thought that if Japan attacked America over this question, other white races might combine against Japan. The orators freely praised America's past friendliness for this country, but added:

"Now that Japan is grown up, America is tired of us."

THREE ELECTROCUTED AS THEIR AUTOMOBILE PLUNGES OVER BRIDGE

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Nov. 18.—Three persons were electrocuted here at 7:30 o'clock last night when their automobile plunged over a bridge and struck an electric wire carrying 23,000 volts. The dead are Miss Louise Zanders, 21 years old, a school teacher of Gardner, Wis., Arthur Delwiche, 27, driver of the machine and Clements Denil, 22, both of Gardner.

The automobile driven by Arthur Delwiche, plunged over the bridge while they were going to Sturgeon Bay to attend a movie. As the car went over the bridge it struck an electric wire carrying a 23,000 voltage and the occupants were electrocuted. The car dropped fifteen feet into two feet of water.

The bodies were taken from the creek by coast guards and rushed to a hospital where doctors worked for about an hour with a pulmotor without success.

Coast guards who examined the machine after they had pulled it from the creek said that nothing defective was found with the steering device. Nobody witnessed the accident.

DEMAND FOR WAGE INCREASE REFUSED

New York, Nov. 18.—Demands for an increase of $1 a day presented by the Building Trades council, have been refused by the Building Trades Employers' association, it was announced today. Robert P. Brindell, who was indicted yesterday for attempted extortion in connection with the investigation here of the alleged "building trust," is president of the labor organization, which has about 115,000 members.

The present wage scale of the men is $10 a day for bricklayers, $9.50 for plasterers and $9 for members of inside trades.

Radical Cannot Have Auditorium.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—Robert Minor, radical lecturer, will not speak at the Auditorium here Sunday afternoon. The city council refused the use of the building by a four-to-three vote this morning when St. Paul citizens appeared before the council, protesting Minor's appearance as a public speaker in the Auditorium.

MORE WOMEN PREACHERS

Fifteen Licensed in Methodist Episcopal Church Since May.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Fifteen women have been licensed as preachers in the Methodist Episcopal church since this right was granted last May by the general conference of the church, Miss M. Southard reported here today. Miss Southard is president of an association of women preachers in the United States and Canada that represents fifteen denominations. She is director of evangelism of the Epworth league.

"The first woman preacher to be licensed in the Methodist Episcopal church under this ruling," Miss Southard said, "was Miss D. Willia Caffray of Wenatchee, Wash. She came from a family of preachers and at the age of 9 wanted to preach. She had been acting as associate pastor of the First Methodist church at Wenatchee. Her pastor, who was at the general conference, telegraphed word of its decision, and she was licensed as a local preacher within two hours.

Licensed Same Evening.

"The same evening Miss Winifred Willard was licensed by the First Methodist Episcopal church of Denver. At the time she was 2,000 miles away in the East, but the enterprising Denverites called a meeting as soon as they heard the news and took action.

"The first woman licensed in New England was Mrs. Kate Morrison Cooper. For the past three years she had been pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Portsmouth, R. I. She was licensed June 10.

"Ten days later Miss Mabelle H. Whitney was licensed at Pittsfield, Vt. She was a supply pastor and previously had served as pastor of a Congregational church in Maine. Ten days after that Miss Capitola B. Lechner was licensed by the Proctorsville, Vt., M. E. church, and in a week another Vermont woman, Miss Ellen H. Wagner, a public school teacher, was licensed at Milton."

Miss Southard herself was the seventh woman preacher licensed.

"It is not an easy task to keep informed on how many women have been licensed," she said, "when they are being licensed right along in so many sections."

"There is no doubt," Miss Southard added, "that ordination will be granted Methodist women when the next general conference meets in 1924."

BRAINERD COURT CASES

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge McClenahan in district court today will sentence James Dibble, self-confessed wholesale cigarette theif, who turned state's evidence. The grand larceny case against John Radul, alias Radulovich, charged with grand larceny, was dismissed, settlement having been approved by the court, whereby Radul is to pay into court $2,600, which he had in safety deposit boxes in Wisconsin and Michigan banks, and the court is to attend to its distribution to the parties rightfully entitled to it under the workmen's compensation law. The money is to go to Mila Radulovich and Vidna Radulovich, related to two men killed in industrial accidents.

FIRST TO GO 100 PER CENT

Kresge's Hits That Mark in Red Cross Roll Call.

Kresge's 10-cent store has the distinction of being the first business house in Duluth to turn in 100 per cent response to the Armistice day-to-Thanksgiving roll call of the Red Cross. Every employe from the general manager down to the youngest bundle wrapper has enrolled.

Chairman W. A. McGonagle of the rall call organization this afternoon told the members of the Rotary club that he hoped every business man in Duluth will make it a point to see that their employes renewed their membership in the Red Cross and he appealed to the heads of all families represented in the meeting to see that all the members of their families were enrolled.

The need for a big showing in memberships in the Red Cross today is greater than it ever has been. The work that the Red Cross is doing in Europe is of equal importance to the work that was done during the war. Healing the scars of the terrific conflict that engulfed Europe for four years is peculiarly the duty of the Red Cross organization, Mr. McGonagle said. "The Greatest Mother in the World" is more sorely needed by her children than ever before, he declared.

The work that is being carried on here in Minnesota and particularly by the Duluth chapter calls for a full membership. Mr. McGonagle said, and he asked the Rotary club to make every effort to bring about a 100 per cent response.

Has Direct Bearing.

Dispatches from St. Paul regarding action that is to be taken at the next session of the legislature for the purpose of increasing the public health work appropriations has a direct bearing on the work of the Red Cross, the roll call managers said today. The work the organization is doing is of a high educational value and is backing up the efforts of the state and local health authorities. It is this work that the membership fees will particularly aid. Half of the membership fee goes to the local chapter and half to the national organization. The local chapter uses this money in carrying on the work that is being done by the chapter.

Roll call headquarters reports an increasing interest in the work of the Red Cross. Many inquiries are received at 507 Alworth building, local chapter headquarters, and at the special roll call headquarters, Third avenue west and Superior street. Memberships will be received throughout business hours at these places or at any of the roll call stations in the hotels, clubs and department stores.

GOOD EVENING: We expect the weather tomorrow to be partly cloudy; no change in temperature.

DAMAGED COAL TO BE KEPT APART

Legislation to protect the coal consuming public of Minnesota and Wisconsin from being forced to accept deteriorated coal is planned by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, according to a dispatch from St. Paul. The coal and dock companies which unload cargoes at Duluth and Superior sell thousands of tons of coal which has been damaged by dock fires, mixing this coal with good fuel, according to information obtained by Mr. Hay. He plans to have this matter brought to the attention of the legislatures of Wisconsin and Minnesota this winter and will seek to have laws passed compelling the separation of the deteriorated coal from the good product, so both will be sold at true value.

This statement is denied by Duluth dealers.

"The trade practice is to sell fire damaged coal for steam purposes only and then at prices in accordance with its fuel value," said a Duluth official of one of the dock companies today.

He asserted that fire-damaged coal turns gray and that it would be impossible to miss it in shipments of good coal. It also has an odor that can be detected immediately wherever it is stored. He mentioned that no coal was damaged on any Duluth dock through fire during the last year. A severe conflagration occurred at one of the Superior coal docks a year ago, but none of the other companies over there sustained any damage.

DORMITORY MEN AT MERRY BANQUET

The Y. M. C. A. dormitory men held their first banquet of the season last night, and the program was spirited and entertaining from beginning to end. The merrymaking was started with a tin band procession, and from that time on there was something doing every minute. Charles S. Mitchell, editor of the News Tribune, who will leave for Washington, D. C., in a few days, gave the chief address, discussing the topic: "Life Is Just One Darn Thing After Another."

C. M. Schroeder gave a toast on "The Old Line," telling some of the pranks that the dormitory men of a few years ago pulled off in the building. John Samuel gave a follow-up toast on "The New Line," in which he showed that the new line is in a way comparable to the old, except that possibly the new line is more inclined to sit and think and think deeply before action occurs.

Musical numbers were rendered by O. E. Brown on the violin and vocal solos were given by L. Keevil Larson. Both were accompanied by P. M. Marshall. The musicians were repeatedly encored, but time had to be called finally in order that the program might continue on time.

The women of the Delta Alpha class of the First Presbyterian church assisted in the serving of the banquet and several members of the Duluth Central high school orchestra furnished the music.

The banquet for new members will be held Friday evening at 6:30, when new recruits of the central department of the Y. M. C. A. will meet for the first time at the "Y." These are the men who came into the association membership during the recent campaign, when more than 1,000 were added to the roster of the association.

GOLD INDUSTRY FACED BY CRISIS

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—The Black Hills prospector, that unique character who has furnished many a theme for novels built around man's quest for gold practically has disappeared from South Dakota, B. C. Yates of Lead, S. D., declared today in an address before the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining congress.

Passing of the prospector has been due primarily to the fact, according to Yates, that "the gold taken from the mines does not have sufficient value to pay the cost of production." He described the gold industry in the Black Hills as being "in a state of disintegration."

"In every mining community of the hills are to be found empty houses and deserted prospectors' cabins," he said.

"The gold industry," he continued, "is face to face with a grave crisis, brought about by the World war and the shortsighted policy adopted by the government of breeding without feeding the one industry absolutely essential to the life of any civilized nation at all times."

MINN. FARM BUREAU FEDERATION MEETS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—Laws compelling county supervisors to set aside funds for county agents may be asked by the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, which opened its second annual convention in St. Paul this afternoon. A special committee is to be appointed to confer with members of the state legislature to obtain legislation which the farmers have long desired. Substitution of the word "shall" for "may" in the law empowering supervisors to set aside funds for county agent work will possibly be asked.

The conference opened with a business meeting of county directors, the governing body. Six hundred farmers from every nook and corner of the state are in attendance, and plan to outline an agricultural program for Minnesota to be followed out in 1920-21 before they adjourn Saturday.

LEGION AUXILIARY OPENS CONVENTION

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—The first annual state convention of the American Legion Women's auxiliary of Minnesota, which also is the first of its kind to be held in the United States, opened today in Minneapolis.

Three hundred delegates and alternates from the 113 units making up the state auxiliary were represented.

The convention room resembled in miniature one of the national political conventions. The room was profusely decorated with the national colors and each woman wore a corsage bouquet which was presented to her upon registration.

The morning session was spent largely in the formation of a temporary organization, including the election of temporary officers and committees.

A. H. Vernon, Little Falls, state commander of the American Legion, presided at the formation of the temporary organization.

MONEY STORY UNTRUE.

Missing Iron Belt Man Had No $8,000 on Person as Claimed.

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A motive that remains to be determined prompted Steve Dvorak, missing Iron Belt man to leave suddenly for parts unknown and he has not met with foul play, in the belief of George Merrill, district attorney of Ashland county, who made an investigation at Mellen, Wis., where Dvorak was last seen ten days ago.

The report that Dvorak had $8,000 in cash on his person when he disappeared is entirely without foundation, according to Iron county officials who investigated and found that Dvorak deposited $900 in a Hurley bank several months ago and had drawn out on checks all but $13.25 of that amount. The investigation is being continued by local authorities in the hope of clearing up the mysterious disappearance.

GRILLER WILL ASK CHANGE OF VENUE

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A change of venue in the notorious James Griller murder case will be asked by counsel for the defense when the case comes up for trial in circuit court Nov. 29.

Griller is the man charged with fatally shooting Lee V. McClaren, traveling salesman of St. Paul, when McClaren is said to have tried to take a girl from a house of ill-fame in Hurley.

HEARS QUEEN MOTHER TO BECOME REGENT

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 18.—Ex-King Constantine of Greece has received a dispatch from Athens stating that Queen Mother Olga had been appointed regent of Greece and would take the oath today, it was announced today by Georgios Streit, former Greek foreign minister, who is with the ex-king here.

Constantine expressed himself as greatly pleased at the news, considering the action of the government in this respect constituted another triumph for the dynasty.

ALBERT LEA CALF WINS GRAND PRIZE

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—Verne Stellil of Albert Lea carried off the grand championship prize in the dairy class at the junior livestock show at South St. Paul today. He exhibited a Guernsey calf which also won first place in the Guernsey class.

The champion lamb was shown by Gerald Sullivan of Le Sueur county. Second prize in this class was taken by Donald McMartin of Dodge Center.

N.M.D.A. PLANS ACTIVE YEAR

Resolutions Urge Legislative Action on Vital Problems in State.

After framing resolutions totalling the scope of the activities to be promoted during the coming year, the Northern Minnesota Development association closed its eleventh annual meeting last night at the Commercial club.

A. P. Silliman of Hibbing was elected president; L. W. Huntley, Grand Rapids, vice president; M. N. Koll, Cass Lake, secretary, and George Munford, Two Harbors, treasurer. Members elected to executive committee were A. P. Silliman, L. W. Huntley, R. R. Wise, Brainerd; C. P. De Laittre, Aitkin; E. H. Winter, Bemidji; W. I. Prince, Duluth, and A. L. Kaiser, Bagley. The association voted to meet at Eveleth in June.

The resolutions adopted yesterday were as follows:

That legislation to put into effect the trunk highway system amendment be framed with care so that it will not become a political question. A highway commission of high grade men without salaries was urged.

"That the actual settler on unimproved lands be helped by first mortgage loans on his lands at low rates of interest from state school funds.

That a farm school for Northeastern Minnesota be erected on the plan of the Crookston school. The problems there were declared much different from those of the cut-over and uncleared araes.

Frown on Tonnage Tax.

"That no law be passed favoring any form of tonnage or profits tax which would single out any given industry.

"That concerted action toward getting the balance of the soldiers' bonus paid be begun, but that it would not be fair to previous investors to adopt a higher rate of interest for the remaining unsold bonds.

"That two different lines of railroad from Littlefork to Deer River be given the connection of a few hundred feet which is needed to make better facilities for passengers and freight and connection.

"That, since Wisconsin has completed a soil survey and several other tributary states have more or less complete soil surveys in the making, the legislature be again asked to arrange for a comprehensive soil survey.

"That a closed season of three years on deer be adopted.

"That increased appropriations for peat soil experiments and for the state immigration and the land and lakes attractions board be urged upon the legislature.

"That continuous progress in forestry legislation be favored.

"That farm bureau work again be indorsed and commended.

"That the lakes-to-tidewater project be indorsed again and co-operation in the agitation against 'Pittsburgh Plus' rates on steel be pledged anew.

"That a resolution be passed, expressing sorrow and the loss through death of a fellow worker in the cause of Northern Minnesota, John Dwan of Two Harbors."

Deplores Factionalism.

Judge Frank T. Wilson of St. Paul, speaking yesterday afternoon, decried the antagonism which has been aroused between city and country. He declared that the sort of political campaigns carried on lately will lead to further trouble and will benefit no one except the mail order houses.

R. W. Hitchcock of Hibbing declared that a tonnage tax would end mining activities on the range. He stated that most of its advocates are ignorant of its actual dangers to every resident of Northern Minnesota.

P. J. McGarry, whose subject was "Highways Everywhere," urged that road work be carried on when other industries are slacking down. He advised enlisting the aid of the farmer.

W. B. Getchell outlined the history of the "Pittsburgh Plus" controversy and explained the importance of having steel fabricating industries in Duluth. He predicted victory in the fight now before the Federal trade commission.

Urges Loans for Farmers.

C. P. De Laittre of Aitkin urged support for his resolution calling for state loans from school funds to aid the farmer in clearing his land. R. K. Doe spoke on the need of night schools for foreigners. A letter from W. T. Cox, state forester, stressed the fact that there should be no antagonism between the agricultural and forestry interests of the state. Congressman W. L. Carss spoke briefly on the chances of getting the tidewater proposition through the next session of congress. He stated that he intended to fight for the matter long as it was possible.

At the evening session, Mayor T. W. Hugo spoke reminiscently on his brief experiences in farming. L. B. Arnold showed slides illustrating the process of subduing peat lands for agricultural purposes.

Short talks were also given during the session by George D. McCarthy, a former secretary, who urged support for a reapportionment bill; George L. Brozich of Ely; S. D. Patrick of Grand Rapids; C. T. Kelly of Menagha, and Charles Moody of Warroad.

Sault Gamblers Fined.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 18.—Suspecting that the great American game of poker was thriving in a local cigar store, known as the "Dugout," sheriff's deputies swooped down on the place, broke up a small game with only $16 on the table and arrested six who pleaded guilty. Charles Stevenson, who received the heaviest fine, was fined $25 or forty days. George Edwards was given a fine of $20 or thirty days. William Belanger and Lawrence Sullivan were given fines of $15 each or twenty days and Harry Harrison and Elmer Sterling were fined $10 each with a penalty of ten days for failure to pay their fines.

Mentho Laxene

Cold, Cough and Catarrh Medicine for Young and Old. 4,000 Barrels Were Used Last Year! Why? Because It's the Best and Cheapest. First Dose Relieves.

You buy it of any well stocked druggist in 2½ oz. bottles and take in ten-drop doses, or better yet, mix it with simple sugar syrup, made by dissolving ¾ of a pound of granulated sugar in a half-pint of boiling water. It is so easy to make a whole pint of cold and cough syrup that tens of thosands of mothers make it every year for their loved ones.

All agree that this home-made cough syrup is free from harmful drugs, and that only a few doses are required for each case, so that a pint may last a family throughout the winter season.

For colds, catarrh, cough, sore throat, hoarseness and bronchitis, there is nothing superior for prompt, lasting relief. Guaranteed by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, to please or money back.—Advertisement.

WAS BADLY RUN-DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Washburn Quickly Regained Her Strength and Flesh.

"I had grippe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning.

"One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, am doing all my own work again and feel like a new person.

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is so pleasant to take. It is a food as well as a medicine and builds up the blood and tissues. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had." —Mrs. M. Washburn, El Centro, Cal.

It costs nothing to try Milks Emulsion. It will build you up more quickly, more surely than anything else.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are quickly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

D. C. H. S. CLUB HOLDS BIG MEETING AT "Y"

Program Is Given and Other "Y" Bodies Outline Work for Early Winter.

The D. C. H. S. club of the "Y" boys' department met last night with an attendance of sixty. Seventy-one members are now enrolled, and when 100 are enrolled the club will close it membership. The membership committee will endeavor to fill up the quota by next Wednesday. The program included songs around the table, a talk by Stephen McGiffert, and the organization of the classes. Officers were elected in four different classes. A membership, entertainment and service committees were appointed, and they will meet the latter part of the week to outline their programs.

The Sunday club, Knights of Sir Galahad and the clubs and social committee met last evening and outlined their work for the next few weeks. The clubs committee will publish "Duluth Boys" and the first issue will appear in December. John McCoy was elected editor-in-chief and Herbert Ketcham business manager. Thanksgiving day will be observed with a full day's program opening at 9 o'clock with a short Thanksgiving service. This will be followed with a treasure hunt and a swim at 2:30. The social committee will put on a championship game tournament, using four games. The champions will each be awarded a box of candy at 4:30. The program will be in charge of the athletic committee, which will feature a half-mile relay race with an out-of-town team, also a basketball game with an outside team. This will be followed by a volley and cage-ball event for everyone at 5:30. A game with some novelty events will be held at 6:30. The social committee will serve a cafeteria lunch and at 8 o'clock the entertainment committee will give a program.

Next Sunday Herbert Lee will be the speaker for the Knights of Sir Galahad and Sherman Kasmir will be the soloist. This meeting is at 3 o'clock and is open to all boys in the city over 12 years of age. The Sunday club will meet at 4 o'clock and G. A. Giyer will talk. He will speak on "The Science of Holding a Position." The music committee will present a musical program and the committee will serve lunch at [illegible]. This meeting is open to all boys in the city over 15 years of age.

The outing committee will form its 500-mile club Saturday. A record will be kept of the miles taken on every hike and in addition the members of this club may keep a record of the miles they walk, counting every ten blocks a mile. As soon as a member walks 500 miles he will be decorated with the hikers' "C." William Watson is chairman of the committee and he will have charge of the first hike. Boys are asked to meet at 2 o'clock sharp.

MONDAY'S MEETING FOR CARLETON COLLEGE IMPORTANT

The coming of Governor Burnquist to Duluth on Monday will be his first visit to Duluth in some time and will probably me his last before his term of office expires. The governor will be accompanied by Dr. Donald J. Cowling, president of Carleton college, Northfield. Both will give addresses at a men's luncheon at the Spalding hotel next Monday at noon.

Dr. Cowling, who will also preach at Pilgrim Congregational church Sunday morning, will tell of the wonderful opportunity now coming to Carleton college, especially since the Baptist denomination is also adopting Carleton for its young people and contributing $1,000,000 to give this action effect.

The general education board of New York has also offered $400,000 on certain conditions and the members of the board of trustees has subscribed $750,000. From those three sources alone about $2,200,000 has been procured. Though Carleton needs considerably more to fulfil certain specified conditions, no solicitation of funds will be made at Monday's meeting.

ALONE WITH BODY OF WIFE FOR THREE DAYS

Midland, Ont., Nov. 18.—Chained to his post by the menacing storm which raged on Lake Huron, though nearly prostrated by the death of his wife, for twenty-two years his sole companion, Alfred H. Griffiths, keeper of the lighthouse on "Giant" tomb, stood solitary vigil over his lights and his dead for three days and nights.

Yesterday, the storm having subsided, he summoned help from the mainland twelve miles away. The body of the woman, who died suddenly on Friday night, was brought ashore for burial.

H. C. OF L. DECLINES DURING OCTOBER

Washington, Nov. 18.—Price studies given out by the department of labor, show marked declines in October in practically all items entering into the cost of living, except house furnishings. Clothing, it was said, had dropped 18 per cent below figures compiled to represent 1919 costs, and farm products 21 per cent.

In some lines, October prices were still above those of a year ago, but all were quoted as below September, 1920, figures.

The index figures of prices for the month was placed at 225 against 242 in September, and 223 in October, 1919.

COAL DEALERS WOULD CUT DOWN 'MIDDLEMEN'

New York, Nov. 18.—Wholesale anthracite coal dealers yesterday rounded out a program which they asserted would "drive out of the coal business the elements which have tended to restrict distribution and increase prices to consumers."

Meeting here, they adopted recommendations of their fair price committee restricting to two the number of middlemen between the mine and the retailer and providing that no wholesaler should take more than 10 per cent maximum gross profits on any transaction. It was decided that the sale of coal by a mine agency or representative should be considered one of the permissible transactions. The recommendation that the maximum gross profit to wholesalers "should not exceed 10 per cent should not be taken as an invitation to wholesalers to take that profit," a statement issued by the Wholesale Coal Trade association said.

Other resolutions seeking to cut down the number of middlemen and thwart "brokers and wholesalers who have no established business and clientele, to the end that outlaw buying and consequent fictitious and artificial prices" might be prevented, were adopted.

Mine Foreman Shot.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 18.—George J. Moore, American foreman of the Puerticitios mine of the Cananea Consolidated Copper company, Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, was shot yesterday by a Mexican known as Manuel Falz, according to information obtained from Naco, Ariz. Physicians said Moore would recover.

SOME ADVICE FOR DAIRYMEN

Badger Farm University Experts Urge Proper Feeding and Judging.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—The necessity for proper feeding of dairy cows and for judging of herd animals to eliminate the poor producers is emphasized by A. J. Cramer and R. T. Harris of the university college of agriculture in a bulletin released today. The register of production is recommended as an agency to promote better and more profitable dairying.

The use of milk is increasing, the bulletin says, in explaining that when customers find how much better and more cheaply they can live by a more liberal consumption of dairy products, new methods will have to be followed by producers to keep pace with the demand.

The dairy farm is the manufacturing plant in which the first step toward supplying the city need is met, it states. As a business man the dairyman finds his cost of business mounting and like others he must ask more for his products, with the result that milk will cost more and more until food, labor and materials are cheaper.

Cannot Shift All Cost.

The writer says that like other manufacturers he cannot shift all the increased cost of the product. A part must be met through efficient management. A simple plan of work, labor saving machinery, silos, and co-operation in purchasing supplies and marketing are suggested. The testing association is providing more definite and reliable information concerning production, it is said. The main dependence of dairy production is declared to be the grade cow. As a means of the measurement of the production of these animals the Babcock test, the advanced register and the register of production are recommended.

The register of production is part of the co-operative project of the Dairymen's association and the University of Wisconsin. Through its machinery every cow registered has its production tested and recorded so that the owner knows just where his cow stands in his business. Thus he can detect the cow which is not paying for its keep and rid himself of these animals. He is also able to tell by experiment the food ration which is best suited.

LADD WILL BOOST BETTER MARKETING

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 18.—Dr. E. F. Ladd, first United States senator elected as a candidate of the Nonpartisan league, announced here that his first aim in congress will be to promote a better system for marketing the grain and other food products of the farm.

"It is a serious problem that faces congress," Dr. Ladd said. "Something must be done and within the next few years if we are to save the farming industry from demoralization. Even now the most of the men left on the farm are middle-aged and elderly—the younger men are looking for greater opportunities.

"I believe that dealing in futures on shorts—selling grain in which the seller never had an equity, which never existed and which will never be delivered—is a species of gambling which does not stabilize prices or benefit the producer or consumer. It is a matter which every legislator ought to study until he has a just comprehension of it and then consider whether it is not worthy of his attention.

Co-operative Movement.

"The co-operative movement must go hand in hand with helpful legislation in improving the situation. Farmers must come to own their buying and selling organizations.

"If legislation is passed making funds from Federal reserve banks and Federal land banks available to these organizations, farmers will be able to hold their grains until they are needed instead of dumping them on the market at the end of the harvest."

Dr. Ladd added that effort should be made to bring a better school system into rural districts and give the farm children the same chances for education as hold in towns and cities.

ASSOCIATION HELPS LIVESTOCK BREEDERS

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—In resigning as secretary of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association, Prof. W. A. Hopkins of the University of Wisconsin has outlined the accomplishments of the organization from the time of its founding in 1901.

Leading stockmen met and formed their association for the purpose of advancing and protecting the livestock industry of the state, Prof. Hopkins points out. The 1911 legislature in recognition of its work appropriated $4,000 and has since increased this amount to $9,000. Professor Hopkins said:

"One of the first ways of using these funds was to operate 'more and better livestock' demonstration trains. Out of this grew the display at county fairs of exhibits of profitable and unprofitable farm animals, emphasizing the need for pure bred sires.

"The association banks on the young people of the state in their campaign for better livestock. The junior livestock exposition and the state-wide high school judging contests are the outgrowth of this attempt to interest the youth in livestock husbandry."

Prof. Hopkins declares that the work among the young people has brought big returns, mentioning especially the junior exposition to show how much it has meant to the state.

Former Hurleyite Weds in India.

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to word received here from Lahore, India, Rev. George B. Thompson, formerly local pastor, was married there recently to Miss Vivian Shute of Lahore. He left the charge at Hurley to go to India in mission work. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Shute of Lahore. They will make their home at Basim Berar, India.

Health Authorities Alarmed At Increasing Death Rate From Kidney Diseases

60% of 100,000 Deaths Each Year Are Due to Neglect

In our pursuit of the mighty dollar, we too often are absorbed in the topics of the day, pleasure, etc., to stop and consider our health. Stop now—think—kidney diseases caused 100,000 deaths last year. Are you going to be included in this year's toll? Why, you will exclaim, do so many die, why are the health authorities so concerned; the answer is, we bolt down our food, take no exercise, neglect our sleep and otherwise subject our system to all sorts of abuse. Is it any wonder then the kidneys become diseased and fail in their duties of poison elimination.

Poisons are constantly being created in our bodies and if the kidneys fail to carry them off they are absorbed by the blood causing ill health and misery in the form of headaches, backaches, tired feeling, indigestion, etc.

You may avoid considerable suffering if you heed nature's warnings and assist the kidneys. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy is a reliable preparation made from herbs and other beneficial ingredients that has been used with excellent results for 40 years. It assists the kidneys in their important duties, strengthens and helps repair the wasted tissues. It is very effective and is used in thousands of homes. Read what this grateful woman says:

"I wish to say that your remedies have been used in our family for about fifteen years. We are never without a bottle of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver remedy in our home, and it has saved many a doctor's bill. It is a wonderful medicine for all diseases of the kidneys and liver."—Florence E. Schmidt, R. F. D., No. 1, Dunkirk, Ohio.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The Facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic inflammation and displacement. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up, and it hurt me to walk or go up or down stairs. I was going to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

I felt relief after taking two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to turn sour on my stomach and the Liver Pills relieved that."—Mrs. A. Rogers, 593 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sacramento, Calif.—"I had organic trouble and had such terrible pain and swelling in the lower part of my side that I could not stand on my feet or even let the bed clothes touch my side. I gave up my work thinking I would not be able to go back for months. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had saved her life at one time, and it put me in a wonderful condition in a couple of weeks, so I can keep on working. I work in a department store and have to stand on my feet all day and I do not have any more pains. I surely recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Bertha J. Parker, 3320 M St., Sacramento, Calif.

Can your file clerk find a letter in two seconds?

PROBABLY not—in fact two minutes would be nearer the average time in most filing departments.

Yet in a number of nationally known offices (names on request) the "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System enables file clerks to find or file a letter in as little as two seconds!

Hundreds of time-tests have been made throughout the country in offices equipped with this system. The average is under ten seconds!

Filing speed such as this is possible in your office.

POWER equal to any demand is an economy, since it prevents delays in rough-going and on steep inclines, means more trips, more work. Dual valves increase power by providing purer, fuller gas charges. Every bit of fuel is converted into driving power, yielding more miles per gallon.

SHOP time eats up profits beyond the actual money it costs. Trucks earn only while they are running. Experience shows Pierce-Arrows rarely go to the shop. Right designing, sturdy building insures that. Easy accessibility of parts gets them back on the job quickly, when repairs are needed. It cuts down labor charges and restores earnings.

CHARGED WITH UNFAIRNESS

Action of Minerals Separation Company Discussed at Mining Congress.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—Alfred A Cook, chief counsel for Minerals Separation North American corporation yesterday defended his company on charges of unfairness before a flotation conference in connection with the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining congress here.

Mr Cook was opposed by Gilbert H. Montague of New York, counsel for the American Mining congress, and George L. Nye, Denver attorney, in an animated debate, which held chief interest for delegates yesterday.

Answering charges that the corporation through "excessive royalties" for the use of inventions for ore separation through the flotation system, "hindered the industry," Mr. Cook said Minerals Separation "had been forced to surround itself with every safeguard to protect its rights."

He denied an assertion by Mr. Montague that the corporation had been "driven to the wall" by the Federal trade commission's proceedings.

Fight Will Continue.

"Then there will be a fight until Minerals Separation or the mining industry is driven to the wall," Mr. Montague returned.

Minerals Separation, speakers said today, owns and controls sixty-eight patents covering every phase of the development of the process.

The life of license agreements between flotation users and Minerals Separation was one of the chief points of contention. Mr. Montague asserted these agreements would be prolonged from year to year by the addition of new patents and that miners must continue paying royalties.

Discussion of "blue sky" legislation came before delegates at the regular convention's session yesterday afternoon.

New legislation to supplant varied state "blue sky" laws was recommended to the resolutions committee for consideration.

Favor Withholding Farm Products.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18.—The Farmers' National union, with representatives from twenty-seven states, went on record here yesterday in favor of withholding farm products from the market "until prices are restored to a profit-making level." Officials of the union said it represented 800,000 farmers.

BETTER MINNESOTANS HONOR OLD PREXIES

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—Yesterday was Folwell day at the Better Minnesota week celebration by students, faculty and alumni of the university honors being paid President Emeritus William Watts Folwell who spoke at the convocation.

A banquet last night at Minnesota union with President and Mrs. L. D. Coffman as honor guests was one of the big events of the gathering as it was their first appearance before the university students.

At 5:30 p. m. President Coffman received his first official student welcome in the ball room of the Minnesota union. For half an hour, the president was busy meeting personally many students.

W. F. Webster, local author and orator, and Louis L. Collins, lieutenant governor-elect, will speak at the convocation today, "Cyrus Northrup" day. Although he will attend, Prof. Northrop will not speak.

"Loyalty" day is the name given to Friday. Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago, will speak at that day's convocation. Following a band concert Friday evening, Governor-elect J. A. O. Preus, Dr. H. L. Williams, Former President Marion Le Roy Burton, Fielding H. Yost and President Coffman will all speak briefly. A dance, pepfest and glee club numbers also are on the program.

The height of the week's activities will take place Saturday with a huge parade Saturday morning and the Minnesota-Michigan football game in the afternoon. The parade will be made up of the Rooters' club, 1,500 members of the R. O. T. C., the band and other fraternities.

FISH AND GAME LAWS ARE BEING OBSERVED

Bemidji, Min., Nonv. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Warden John Cline, who has been very active in enforcing the game and fish laws since being appointed to that office several months ago, reports that the violations of the laws this year have been very few in comparison with other years. His trips have taken him into every part of the district and he is well pleased with the conditions in each section.

He reports an exceptional number of mallards this year and a shortage of bluebills and other varieties of ducks. Smaller lakes in almost every part of the district are now frozen over. On a trip to the vicinity of Kelliher and Waskish, he discovered that pin tail grouse are very plentiful, having seen several flocks of at least 100 birds.

Woman Hunter Has Deer to Credit

At 11 o'clock last Tuesday, less than twenty-four hours after the deer season had opened, Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Fifty-ninth avenue west, had a deer to her credit, and merits the distinction of being the first Duluth woman to accomplish this feat this season. The animal was shot near a lodge a few miles out of Twig. The huntress, accompanied by a lad who witnessed the shooting, tracked the deer a half mile through the woods to the spot where he had fallen with a bullet wound in the left side.

American Legion Auxiliaries Meeting

Representing the Duluth auxiliary to the American Legion, which convened today in St. Paul in the first convention of American Legion auxiliaries, were Mrs. J. R. McGiffert, Mrs. C. C. Beeth, Miss Rose Kraski and Mrs. Herbert Graff, who went down last night.

The 110 auxiliaries to the state organization are represented by approximately 300 delegates, who will attend the two days' session.

Among the business to come before the convention is that of electing officers for the ensuing year and plans will be presented for the erection of a memorial to be dedicated to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who gave up their lives in the late war.

Salvationists Will Aid in Seal Sale

Every Salvation Army member in Minnesota, and in every other state, will actively participate in the nation-wide Christmas seal sale which starts Dec. 1, according to an announcement received here today by local seal sale directors from the Minnesota Public health association.

The annual sale of Christmas seals, through which are raised funds to fight tuberculosis and other preventable diseases in every community, is conducted under the general supervision of the National Tuberculosis association. Direction of the fight against the great "White Plague," and the Christmas seal sale which sustains it, is in the hands of 1,200 local public health agencies. In Minnesota this work is conducted by public health associations in every county under the supervision of the Minnesota Public Health association.

Members of the Salvation Army will aid the Christmas seal sale by devoting the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 8, and all of the following day to the sale of the "Health Stamps," the announcement states. Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army has issued instructions to territorial, state and local commanders to immediately mobilize the 50,000 Salvationists throughout the country for this activity. Commander Booth, herself, plans to man one of the selling stations to be opened in New York city. It will be known as the "Booth Booth."

"Of the 1,300,000 active and suspected cases of tuberculosis in this country," says Miss Booth in explaining the readiness of her organization to assist, "by far the larger number are among the poor—the very classes to which the Salvation Army has been ministering for forty years. We Salvationists well know of the terrible ravages caused by tuberculosis amongst the poor. For their sakes we want to help stamp out this national menace. Moreover, remember that no one is really safe so long as our slums and poor districts remain veritable breeding places of tuberculosis."

Minnesota needs at least $250,000 to wage the fight against disease effectively during the coming year. This amount is the goal of the 1920 Christmas seal sale. County and local quotas are on the basis of 10 cents per capita.

Public Health Nursing Course Begins Jan. 4

The second course in public health nursing will begin at the state university Jan. 4 and will continue four months. New students may be admitted at this time or those who have taken the first four months' training may continue their studies through the second period. A four years' high school course is a prerequisite for admission. Applicants may be graduates of recognized schools of nursing or senior students in such schools who are recommended by the superintendent in charge.

Applications for entrance should be made, as soon as possible, to Miss Louise M. Powell, superintendent school of nursing, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

First State Auxiliary Meet in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—The first state convention in the United States of women's auxiliaries of the American Legion was held here today, when the American Legion Women's Auxiliary of Minnesota opened a two-day meeting for the purpose of perfecting a permanent state organization. The convention is expected bring more than 500 women delegates to the sessions.

There are now 110 women's auxiliaries in the state, which have been granted charters.

The call for the convention was sent out by A. H. Vernon, state commander of the American Legion. Mr. Vernon will be one of the principal speakers on the program.

A visit to all hospitals in the Twin Cities in which incapacitated soldiers of the World war are being cared for, will be one of the features of the women's meeting.

Members of women's posts in the Twin Cities are hosts for the visiting delegates and prepared the entertainment program.

Meetings

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Nettleton school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. Kent will address the meeting. All members and friends are urged to attend.

The Monroe Parent-Teachers' association will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow at 3 p. m., in the auditorium of the school building. Miss Maud Holman will address the meeting and musical numbers and dramatization by pupils of the school, refreshments and a social hour following.

Garfield circle, No. 4, Ladies of the G. A. R., will hold their annual sale of fancy articles, home cooking and dinner on Tuesday in Memorial hall, courthouse. The public is invited.

* * *

The Lester Park Methodist church tomorrow evening at 6:45 will have a booster dinner and entertainment. The object of the meeting is to get the friends and members of the church together, get better acquainted, learn the work and needs of the church and raise the budget for the coming year. All adult members and friends of the church are especially invited to come and boost the work of the church.

* * *

The Madison Parent-Teachers' association will hold its next meeting at the school tomorrow at 7:30. An especially interesting program has been arranged for this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

* * *

The women of S. H. & E. F. No. 2 will hold their annual sale of fancy articles tomorrow evening at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street. Proceeds of the sale will go to a benefit fund to cover expense of those of the order who need medical attention.

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman in "The Actor's Wife;" other acts.

NEW GRAND—Jonia and Her Hawaiians; other features.

NEW GRAND—Most theater goers might have difficulty in explaining why an Hawaiian musical act always makes a hit with them and of the few who could do so each probably would assign a different reason. It nevertheless remains a fact that a singing, dancing and instrumental music offering by natives of "The Paradise of the Pacific" are always an immense hit. Jonia and Her Hawaiians, who come to the New Grand today in "A Tropical Serenade," are said to have one of the best acts of its type to be seen here. Jonia, often called "The Pearl of Hawaii," is noted for her dancing of native steps, and the other members of the troupe of five are splendid instrumentalists, harmony singers and entertainers in general. The act has an elaborate spectacular scenic investiture.

Roach and McCurdy will occupy second position in "Originalities in Rural Comicalities." They appear in "rube" makeup, and spring all sorts of comedy talk, with songs and laughable stunts.

Charles Deland and Kathryn Blair will appear in what is said to be their best comedy playlet, "Breaking It Gently." The name gives an idea of the plot, which they insist be not disclosed.

Adelaide Boothby and Charles Everdean are travesty artists and they mix much of this sort of funmaking in their combination of original songs and sayings with a pianologue. Miss Boothby is an eccentric comedienne of ability.

Kramer and Pattison, famous exponents of physical culture, preesnt the one gymnastic offering of the show. Astonishing muscle-posing, hand-to-hand balancing and sensational feats of equilibrium are included in their series of unusual stunts. Mr. Kramer gives a short talk telling how to attain physical perfection which will be of special interest to parents, men and boys.

"The Tank's Secret," the eleventh of the "Hidden Dangers" stories; a two-reel Western drama; a Bruce scenic, "The Land of Silence," and the Grand News Weekly, composing the photoplay program, complete the show.

A new bill headed by "Overseas Revue" comes Sunday.

ORPHEUM—"A Slight Interruption" is the billing Ralph C. Bevan and Beatrice Flint give their own private blend of comedy, talk and song. The songs are interrupted by talk, and the talk interrupted by song and both interruptions result in ten minutes of most palatable entertainment. Bevan and Flint are thoroughly likable players. They have that personality that wins on sight and their voices succeed in doing the rest for them and the rest invariably means a big hit.

Leather Vests $9.75.

Regular $12.50 value. Bergstein Clothing Co., West Duluth.

PHOTOPLAYS

NEW GARRICK—Mary Miles Minter in "Eyes of the Heart."

STRAND—Ethel Clayton in "The Ladder of Lies."

ZELDA—Corinne Griffith in "The Whisper Market."

NEW LYRIC—Shirley Mason in "The Little Wanderer."

NEW GARRICK—A drama that proves "handsome is as handsome does" is "Eyes of the Heart," which brings dainty and charming little Mary Miles Minter to the New Garrick today, featuring a program which includes, in addition to the special orchestral program, the Chester comedy feature, "One Best Pet," a production said to be as good if not better than "Four Times Foiled," with the same animal and other performers. Mary Miles Minter is seen as a girl blind from birth brought up by three crooks. They are so kind and unselfish that she believes them all noble, handsome and good. Then an operation restores her sight and she finds that their devotion to her was the only fine and true thing in their lawless existence. Stunned she shrinks from them only to discover later that goodness is goodness no matter where it is found, and that the "eyes of her heart" had seen more truly for her than her real eyes.

NEW LYRIC—Winsome Shirley Mason gives a delightful performance in "The Little Wanderer" in which she opened a week-end engagement at the New Lyric yesterday to capacity crowds on the same bill with Eddie Barry in an exceptionally funny Christie comedy special, "Mr. Fatima." She pleases the eye with her beauty and the understanding with her talent, first as the ill-treated member of a medicine show troupe, then as a "boy" tramp riding a train to the city, as a waitress, a wealthy lady's companion and finally as the fiancee of a rich man's son. Raymond McKee has the leading male role, and the supporting cast is exceptional. Refined humor and delicious romance as well as surprises and thrills in large number feature the production which will please as well if not better than any picture in which the star has been seen here.

ZELDA—The opulent beauty of Rio de Janeiro, the South American wonder city, forms a fitting background for the enactment of "The Whisper Market," the Vitagraph screen production, starring Corinne Griffith, which will be shown at the Zelda theater.

And through all the scenes moves Edminie North, played by Miss Griffith. The leader of the American colony, and, secretly, partner in a modiste's establishment, she is the battledore tossed about by fate, brought almost to her ruin through devotion to her husband, but later saved by that very devotion.

STRAND—Have you ever climbed a ladder and stubbed your toe on one of the rungs? Have you ever climbed one that rested in soft earth and felt it sway under you as you climbed upward? This same illustration can be applied to the ladder of life. Before humanity starts climbing upward the ladder should first be inspected. This, briefly, is the theme of Ethel Clayton's newest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Ladder of Lies," which is playing at the Strand theater today, tomorrow and Saturday. Miss Clayton is said to contribute some of the finest work she has ever flashed on the screen and her supporting cast is entirely adequate. Tom Forman, erstwhile leading man makes his debut here as a director. The story was written by Harold Vickers, and scenarioized by Edith Kennedy. It presents the tale of woman's sacrifice in a new way.

Norma Talmadge in "The Branded Woman" will come Sunday.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

HOW A CHILD FEARS.

HOW LARGE a comparatively small thing may loom in a child's mind, how a child may brood over minor events until they assume proportions that are absurdly magnified in the scheme of existence, is seldom realized by grown-ups.

A striking example of this tendency appeared recently in the day's news. A little boy had been sent to the dentist to have some work done and given a dollar to pay for it. He spent the dollar for candy and then, horrified at his own act, fearing discovery, and not feeling adequate either to confess or to be found out, he actually tried to commit suicide by turning on the gas!

One Is So Sorry for Their Suffering.

How his mother and father must have felt!

And yet it was doubtless not so much a reflection on their undue severity as on the prevalent adult inability to recognize the poignancy of childish emotions.

Queer, too, when most of use have been children ourselves, once upon a time. (I am sure some people never were, though).

It's just that we don't stop to remember, isn't it?

I don't imagine there are many of us who, if we tried, could not bring back the disproportionate terror we felt over some mistake or wrong doing on our own part.

An Opportunity to Cover My Crime.

I can remember one perfectly absurd experience of this sort which left an impression in my brain cells that will, I am sure, be there when I die. When we had drawing at school we used to begin by ruling a square on the drawing paper. The teacher would give orders, first the top line, then the bottom, then the right, then the left. And one day I drew the left line first when she had called for the right. She was walking up and down the aisles casting glances at our papers, and I can even now feel the poignant anxiety that possessed me lest she reach my aisle before the order for the left line was given and I had had opportunity to cover my crime.

Again, when I was about 15, my sister hired a bicycle which I was allowed to ride. While riding it an accident befell me. On examining the bicycle I found a small crack in the rim. Horror of horrors, a man had been killed not long before in our town when the rim of his bicycle gave way on a hill and he fell on his head!

Of Course Confession Is the Way Out.

I shall never forget the mental anguish I went through over that crack. Should I say nothing and let it go unnoticed? Perhaps I had not done it anyway. But if I said nothing, my sister might suffer the fate of the man whose rim broke. Or, if I let it go back to the shop, the fate might come to someone else who hired it and I would be the murderer. I used to wake up in the middle of the night terrified over the whole affair. Of course, I ultimately confessed and was forgiven—as all children are.

To be sure, children must be punished and rebuked if they are not to be let run entirely wild. But it would be well if elders remembered that some children are more sensitive than others, and that almost all children are subject to these disproportionate terrors. One can combine tenderness with discipline and mercy with justice, you know. A child can be taught to turn to his parents or to turn away from them, according to the relation that exists between them.

Efficient Housekeeping

READERS' DISCOVERIES.

Mrs. T. V. C.: "I am sure other women will be glad to share my little recent discovery with me. This fall, in making fruit butters and apple sauce, I had the idea of buying one of the heavy wire, three-cornered sink strainers and pressing the fruit through this instead of through my ordinary sieve. I found that this strainer was better than my old sieve for two reasons: It was wider-meshed (and my sieve is the widest-meshed I can buy), thus making the work easier; and I could press as hard as I wanted on the wire without fearing that the wire would give way, as it so often does on a sieve."

* * *

A Bride Reader: "My husband and I tried out your recipe hint about painting an ugly-colored rug with oil and paint and naptha mixed to make it the color we wished it, and found it most successful. But this is what I am writing to tell you; We also tried painting some old buff-color shades in this way and found it worked splendidly! I thought your readers might like to know that oil paint and naptha would work on shades as well as on rugs."

Old-Timer: "I was much interested in your recent article on flowers in the home. For many years I have had an indoor winter garden, using one of the old-fashioned wire plant stands to hold the flower pots. This stand is placed in a sunny dining room window and contains only geraniums and begonias and it is a gorgeously brilliant corner of my home. Everybody asks the secret of my success in making the plants flourish as they do, and here it is: I keep a small stick lying in each flower pot at the root of the plant and with this stick stir up the dirt in each pot frequently. I believe that loosening the dirt in this way and permitting the air to get to the roots of the plants, does more good than perfect watering. Here is how I water them: I keep the dirt around the geraniums quite wet, but I water the begonias only when the dirt beings to look rather dry."

Bridesmaid: "I want to tell other women how we announced the engagement of my dearest friend recently: We had small placecards made of crepe paper which folded like a book, and inside these cards were pasted a snapshot of the happy couple—the girl on one 'cover' of the book and the man on the other 'cover.' I had taken the snapshots with my own camera and had simply had six prints of each picture struck off. It made a tremendous hubbub of surprise and excitement when the first guest opened her placecard. The cards also were appreciated as souvenirs to keep."

Mrs. C. McF: "It is getting near Christmas and I want to tell some of your other readers who perhaps, like me, cannot afford to spend much on Yuletide decorations, how I made my dinner table pretty last Christmas day without spending a cent. I cut out pictures of Christmas trees, Santa Clauses, holly, mistletoe, toys and stockings from old greeting cards and magazines and pasted these all over my table china—on the outside of the cups, on the bottom of the water glasses and on the cake plates (on the cake plates I brushed them over with picture varnish to make them waterproof). For favors I took a two-by-two-inch piece of shingle, brushed it over with glue, sprinkled on some moss, then stuck a small evergreen branch in a hole in the middle of each of these shingle-pieces. A little talcum powder made some snow. I made a large 'snowball' of cotton batting for the centerpiece and inside this were hidden the presents I had for my relative-guests, a ribbon going to each person's plate from the present which was meant for him or her."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

TINKER BOB IN THE CAVE.

TINKER BOB was brave. There never was any one any braver than he. He was not afraid of the dark, and no creature of the forest ever frightened him. But of course he learned not to be afraid from Old Man Experience. It was Experience that told him that no one could be king who was afraid. So Tinker had learned the lesson well, and that is just the reason why he was not afraid to go to the cave of the Forest Terror. Not long after he left the palace he came to the cave.

The forest dwellers were terrified to think the king would do such a thing as that so they decided to go to the cave themselves to see what would happen. If it was necessary, they would fight for their king together, and they felt sure that Mr. Wolf would put his tail between his legs and run if he saw all of them coming after him at one time. So away they went toward the cave.

But the night came on before they arrived so they didn't get a chance to see what the king was doing, or what Mr. Wolf did to the king. Well, this is what happened to the king of the forest. He came to the mouth of the cave and he knew that Mr. Wolf was at home so he went right in without knocking. When he had gone some distance in the cave he called to Mr. Wolf:

"Mr. Wolf, come out, I want to see you."

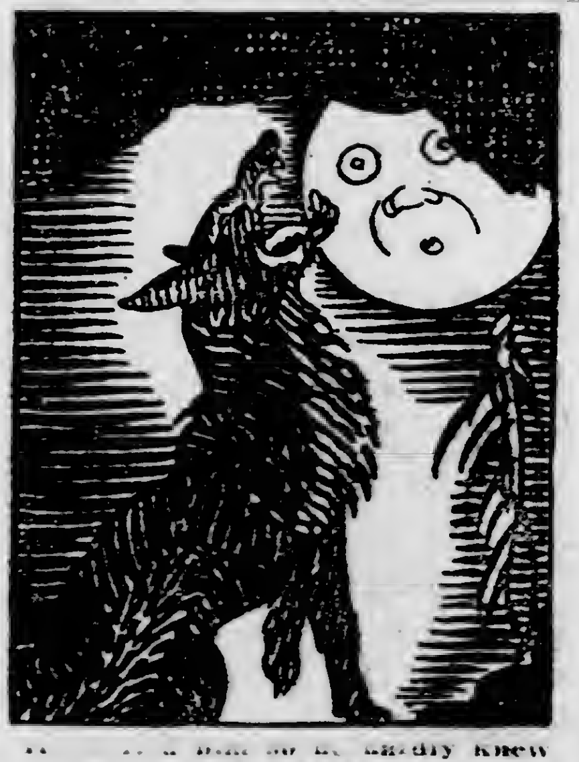
Then Tinker Bob tapped the Stone of the Unseen against the Stone of Knowledge—and then Mr. Wolf could not see him, but Tinker could see all that Mr. Wolf did, or anyone else.

When Mr. Wolf heard that voice he was so frightened that he knew not what to do. He came forth from his hiding place in the cave and crept toward the front. Tinker could see his eyes sparkle and hear him growl.

"You don't need to growl at me just because that is the way you [illegible] all of your friends," said Tinker Bob, as Mr. Wolf came closer. But he did growl and kept on growling for he didn't know how to do anything else. He looked and he looked but he could not see the king, and it worried him so he hardly knew what to do.

"Who is in my cave?" growled Mr. Wolf, as he came closer to the entrance. "Anyone that comes in here never goes out alive."

"Oh, your voice sounds very strange and ugly, but I am inside and you can't find me, and what is more I will go out alive," said Tinker.



[illegible] hardly knew what to do.

Mr. Wolf began to think it was another spirit and if it was he would run away and never enter his own cave again. "Is it another spirit?" asked Mr. Wolf.

"A spirit!" cried Tinker, and he pulled Mr. Wolf by the tail. Then something happened.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Today it is the most popular molasses in the world

FOR years a favorite Southern delicacy had almost ceased to exist. Then two Louisiana boys, inspired by memories of wonderful sweets of cane-crushing time on the old plantation, decided to revive that unforgetable flavor—sugar-cane molasses.

One taste of their molasses carries you back to childhood joys. They called it Brer Rabbit, after the hero of the plantation stories of their youth. Today it is the most popular molasses in America. Get Brer Rabbit, either the light molasses (gold label) or the dark molasses (green label).

Have Brer Rabbit Gingerbread tonight

¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup Brer Rabbit Molasses
½ cup sour milk
4 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups flour

Cream butter, add sugar and well beaten eggs, molasses and sour milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients and combine them with the first mixture. Bake in a moderate oven.

Iridescent mauve spangled net is much used for evening gowns.

Some veils of Chantilly lace fall below the waist in both front and back.

For the younger women taffeta is a favorite evening frock fabric and bouffant lines are in high favor.

Little handkerchiefs of gaily colored linen, often the product of the hand loom, are seen in stores.

Accordion-pleated skirts appear in many youthful little dance frocks. The petal skirt is also a favorite.

In the color range for children rose is a great favorite. It appears in dresses for day-time wear as well as in many of the charming little party frocks.

Tailored blouses of heavy silks and fine wool fabrics are among smart models recently brought out, duvetyn being one of the favorite materials.

The severe sailor hat is being worn quite extensively this season. When it is becoming no type of hat is really smarter. The favorite is the fine beaver. It is worn well over the forehead.

Woman Hunter Has Deer to Credit

At 11 o'clock last Tuesday, less than twenty-four hours after the deer season had opened, Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Fifty-ninth avenue west, had a deer to her credit, and merits the distinction of being the first Duluth woman to accomplish this feat this season. The animal was shot near a lodge a few miles out of Twig. The huntress, accompanied by a lad who witnessed the shooting, tracked the deer a half mile through the woods to the spot where he had fallen with a bullet wound in the left side.

American Legion Auxiliaries Meeting

Representing the Duluth auxiliary to the American Legion, which convened today in St. Paul in the first convention of American Legion auxiliaries, were Mrs. J. R. McGiffert, Mrs. C. C. Beeth, Miss Rose Kraski and Mrs. Herbert Graff, who went down last night.

The 110 auxiliaries to the state organization are represented by approximately 300 delegates, who will attend the two days' session.

Among the business to come before the convention is that of electing officers for the ensuing year and plans will be presented for the erection of a memorial to be dedicated to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who gave up their lives in the late war.

Salvationists Will Aid in Seal Sale

Every Salvation Army member in Minnesota, and in every other state, will actively participate in the nation-wide Christmas seal sale which starts Dec. 1, according to an announcement received here today by local seal sale directors from the Minnesota Public health association.

The annual sale of Christmas seals, through which are raised funds to fight tuberculosis and other preventable diseases in every community, is conducted under the general supervision of the National Tuberculosis association. Direction of the fight against the great "White Plague," and the Christmas seal sale which sustains it, is in the hands of 1,200 local public health agencies. In Minnesota this work is conducted by public health associations in every county under the supervision of the Minnesota Public Health association.

Members of the Salvation Army will aid the Christmas seal sale by devoting the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 8, and all of the following day to the sale of the "Health Stamps," the announcement states. Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army has issued instructions to territorial, state and local commanders to immediately mobilize the 50,000 Salvationists throughout the country for this activity. Commander Booth, herself, plans to man one of the selling stations to be opened in New York city. It will be known as the "Booth Booth."

"Of the 1,300,000 active and suspected cases of tuberculosis in this country," says Miss Booth in explaining the readiness of her organization to assist, "by far the larger number are among the poor—the very classes to which the Salvation Army has been ministering for forty years. We Salvationists well know of the terrible ravages caused by tuberculosis amongst the poor. For their sakes we want to help stamp out this national menance. Moreover, remember that no one is really safe so long as our slums and poor districts remain veritable breeding places of tuberculosis."

Minnesota needs at least $250,000 to wage the fight against disease effectively during the coming year. This amount is the goal of the 1920 Christmas seal sale. County and local quotas are on the basis of 10 cents per capita.

Public Health Nursing Course Begins Jan. 4

The second course in public health nursing will begin at the state university Jan. 4 and will continue four months. New students may be admitted at this time or those who have taken the first four months' training may continue their studies through the second period. A four years' high school course is a prerequisite for admission. Applicants may be graduates of recognized schools of nursing or senior students in such schools who are recommended by the superintendent in charge.

Applications for entrance should be made, as soon as possible, to Miss Louise M. Powell, superintendent school of nursing, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

First State Auxiliary Meet in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—The first state convention in the United States of women's auxiliaries of the American Legion was held here today, when the American Legion Women's Auxiliary of Minnesota opened a two-day meeting for the purpose of perfecting a permanent state organization. The convention is expected bring more than 500 women delegates to the sessions.

There are now 110 women's auxiliaries in the state, which have been granted charters.

The call for the convention was sent out by A. H. Vernon, state commander of the American Legion. Mr. Vernon will be one of the principal speakers on the program.

A visit to all hospitals in the Twin Cities in which incapacitated soldiers of the World war are being cared for, will be one of the features of the women's meeting.

Members of women's posts in the Twin Cities are hosts for the visiting delegates and prepared the entertainment program.

Meetings

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Nettleton school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. Kent will address the meeting. All members and friends are urged to attend.

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Emily Ann Wellman in "The Actor's Wife;" other acts.
NEW GRAND—Jonia and Her Hawaiians; other features.

NEW GRAND—Most theater goers might have difficulty in explaining why an Hawaiian musical act always makes a hit with them and of the few who could do so each probably would assign a different reason. It nevertheless remains a fact that a singing, dancing and instrumental music offering by natives of "The Paradise of the Pacific" are always an immense hit. Jonia and Her Hawaiians, who come to the New Grand today in "A Tropical Serenade," are said to have one of the best acts of its type to be seen here. Jonia, often called "The Pearl of Hawaii," is noted for her dancing of native steps, and the other members of the troupe of five are splendid instrumentalists, harmony singers and entertainers in general. The act has an elaborate spectacular scenic investiture.

Roach and McCurdy will occupy second position in "Originalities in Rural Comicalities.' They appear in "rube" makeup, and spring all sorts of comedy talk, with songs and laughable stunts.

Charles Deland and Kathryn Blair will appear in what is said to be their best comedy playlet, "Breaking It Gently." The name gives an idea of the plot, which they insist be not disclosed.

Adelaide Boothby and Charles Everdean are travesty artists and they mix much of this sort of funmaking in their combination of original songs and sayings with a pianologue. Miss Boothby is an eccentric comedienne of ability.

Kramer and Pattison, famous exponents of physical culture, preesnt the one gymnastic offering of the show. Astonishing muscle-posing, hand-to-hand balancing and sensational feats of equilibrium are included in their series of unusual stunts. Mr. Kramer gives a short talk telling how to attain physical perfection which will be of special interest to parents, men and boys.

"The Tank's Secret," the eleventh of the "Hidden Dangers" stories; a two-reel Western drama; a Bruce scenic, "The Land of Silence," and the Grand News Weekly, composing the photoplay program, complete the show.

A new bill headed by "Overseas Revue" comes Sunday.

ORPHEUM—"A Slight Interruption" is the billing Ralph C. Bevan and Beatrice Flint give their own private blend of comedy, talk and song. The songs are interrupted by talk, and the talk interrupted by song and both interruptions result in ten minutes of most palatable entertainment. Bevan and Flint are thoroughly likable players. They have that personality that wins on sight and their voices succeed in doing the rest for them and the rest invariably means a big hit.

Side Talks

HOW A CHILD FEARS.

HOW LARGE a comparatively small thing may loom in a child's mind, how a child may brood over minor events until they assume proportions that are absurdly magnified in the scheme of existence, is seldom realized by grown-ups.

A striking example of this tendency appeared recently in the day's news. A little boy had been sent to the dentist to have some work done and given a dollar to pay for it. He spent the dollar for candy and then, horrified at his own act, fearing discovery, and not feeling adequate either to confess or to be found out, he actually tried to commit suicide by turning on the gas!

One Is So Sorry for Their Suffering.

How his mother and father must have felt!

And yet it was doubtless not so much a reflection on their undue severity as on the prevalent adult inability to recognize the poignancy of childish emotions.

Queer, too, when most of use have been children ourselves, once upon a time. (I am sure some people never were, though).

It's just that we don't stop to remember, isn't it?

I don't imagine there are many of us who, if we tried, could not bring back the disproportionate terror we felt over some mistake or wrong doing on our own part.

An Opportunity to Cover My Crime.

I can remember one perfectly absurd experience of this sort which left an impression in my brain cells that will, I am sure, be there when I die. When we had drawing at school we used to begin by ruling a square on the drawing paper. The teacher would give orders, first the top line, then the bottom, then the right, then the left. And one day I drew the left line first when she had called for the right. She was walking up and down the aisles casting glances at our papers, and I can even now feel the poignant anxiety that possessed me lest she reach my aisle before the order for the left line was given and I had had opportunity to cover my crime.

Again, when I was about 15, my sister hired a bicycle which I was allowed to ride. While riding it an accident befell me. On examining the bicycle I found a small crack in the rim. Horror of horrors, a man had been killed not long before in our town when the rim of his bicycle gave way on a hill and he fell on his head!

Of Course Confession Is the Way Out.

I shall never forget the mental anguish I went through over that crack. Should I say nothing and let it go unnoticed? Perhaps I had not done it anyway. But if I said nothing, my sister might suffer the fate of the man whose rim broke. Or, if I let it go back to the shop, the fate might come to someone else who hired it and I would be the murderer. I used to wake up in the middle of the night terrified over the whole affair. Of course, I ultimately confessed and was forgiven—as all children are.

To be sure, children must be punished and rebuked if they are not to be let run entirely wild. But it would be well if elders remembered that some children are more sensitive than others, and that almost all children are subject to these disproportionate terrors. One can combine tenderness with discipline and mercy with justice, you know. A child can be taught to turn to his parents or to turn away from them, according to the relation that exists between them.

READERS' DISCOVERIES.

Mrs. T. V. C.: "I am sure other women will be glad to share my little recent discovery with me. This fall, in making fruit butters and apple sauce, I had the idea of buying one of the heavy wire, three-cornered sink strainers and pressing the fruit through this instead of through my ordinary sieve. I found that this strainer was better than my old sieve for two reasons: It was wider-meshed (and my sieve is the widest-meshed I can buy), thus making the work easier; and I could press as hard as I wanted on the wire without fearing that the wire would give way, as it so often does on a sieve."

* * *

A Bride Reader: "My husband and I tried out your recipe hint about painting an ugly-colored rug with oil and paint and naptha mixed to make it the color we wished it, and found it most successful. But this is what I am writing to tell you; We also tried painting some old buff-color shades in this way and found it worked splendidly! I thought your readers might like to know that oil paint and naptha would work on shades as well as on rugs."

Old-Timer: "I was much interested in your recent article on flowers in the home. For many years I have had an indoor winter garden, using one of the old-fashioned wire plant stands to hold the flower pots. This stand is placed in a sunny dining room window and contains only geraniums and begonias and it is a gorgeously brilliant corner of my home. Everybody asks the secret of my success in making the plants flourish as they do, and here it is: I keep a small stick lying in each flower pot at the root of the plant and with this stick stir up the dirt in each pot frequently. I believe that loosening the dirt in this way and permitting the air to get to the roots of the plants, does more good than perfect watering. Here is how I water them: I keep the dirt around the geraniums quite wet, but I water the begonias only when the dirt belngs to look rather dry."

Bridesmaid: "I want to tell other women how we announced the engagement of my dearest friend recently: We had small placecards made of crepe paper which folded like a book, and inside these cards were pasted a snapshot of the happy couple—the girl on one 'cover' of the book and the man on the other 'cover.' I had taken the snapshots with my own camera and had simply had six prints of each picture struck off. It made a tremendous hubbub of surprise and excitement when the first guest opened her placecard. The cards also were appreciated as souvenirs to keep."

Mrs. C. McF: "It is getting near Christmas and I want to tell some of your other readers who perhaps, like me, cannot afford to spend much on Yuletide decorations, how I made my dinner table pretty last Christmas day without spending a cent. I cut out pictures of Christmas trees, Santa Clauses, holly, mistletoe, toys and stockings from old greeting cards and magazines and pasted these all over my table china—on the outside of the cups, on the bottom of the water glasses and on the cake plates (on the cake plates I brushed them over with picture varnish to make them waterproof). For favors I took a two-by-two-inch piece of shingle, brushed it over with glue, sprinkled on some moss, then stuck a small evergreen branch in a hole in the middle of each of these shingle-pieces. A little talcum powder made some snow. I made a large 'snowball' of cotton batting for the centerpiece and inside this were hidden the presents I had for my relative-guests, a ribbon going to each person's plate from the present which was meant for him or her."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. "TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

TINKER BOB IN THE CAVE.

TINKER BOB was brave. There never was any one any braver than he. He was not afraid of the dark, and no creature of the forest ever frightened him. But of course he learned not to be afraid from Old Man Experience. It was Experience that told him that no one could be king who was afraid. So Tinker had learned the lesson well, and that is just the reason why he was not afraid to go to the cave of the Forest Terror. Not long after he left the palace he came to the cave.

The forest dwellers were terrified to think the king would do such a thing as that so they decided to go to the cave themselves to see what would happen. If it was necessary, they would fight for their king together, and they felt sure that Mr. Wolf would put his tail between his legs and run if he saw all of them coming after him at one time. So away they went toward the cave.

But the night came on before they arrived so they didn't get a chance to see what the king was doing, or what Mr. Wolf did to the king. Well, this is what happened to the king of the forest. He came to the mouth of the cave and he knew that Mr. Wolf was at home so he went right in without knocking. When he had gone some distance in the cave he called to Mr. Wolf: "Mr. Wolf, come out, I want to see you."

Then Tinker Bob tapped the Stone of the Unseen against the Stone of Knowledge—and then Mr. Wolf could not see him, but Tinker could see all that Mr. Wolf did, or anyone else.

When Mr. Wolf heard that voice he was so frightened that he knew not what to do. He came forth from his hiding place in the cave and crept toward the front. Tinker could see his eyes sparkle and hear him growl.

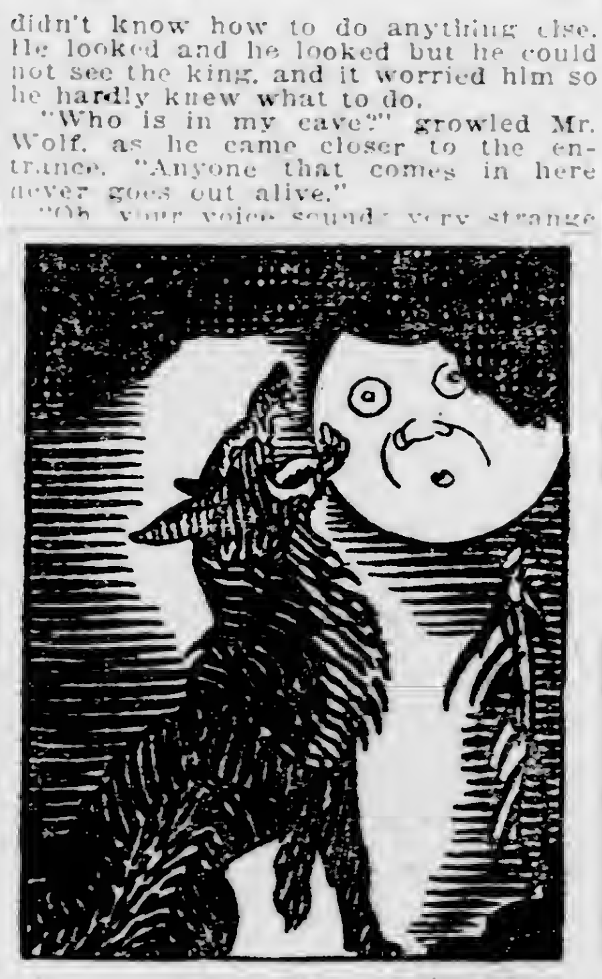
"You don't need to growl at me just because that is the way you [illegible] all of your friends," said Tinker [illegible], as Mr. Wolf came closer. But he did growl and kept on growling for he didn't know how to do anything else. He looked and he looked but he could not see the king, and it worried him so he hardly knew what to do.

"Who is in my cave?" growled Mr. Wolf, as he came closer to the entrance. "Anyone that comes in here never goes out alive."

"Oh, your voice sounds very strange and ugly, but I am inside and you can't find me, and what is more I will go out alive," said Tinker.

Mr. Wolf began to think it was another spirit and if it was he would run away and never enter his own cave again. "Is it another spirit?" asked Mr. Wolf.

"A spirit!" cried Tinker, and he pulled Mr. Wolf by the tail. Then something happened.



[illegible] he hardly knew what to do.

NEW GARRICK—Mary Miles Minter in "Eyes of the Heart."
STRAND—Ethel Clayton in "The Ladder of Lies."
ZELDA—Corinne Griffith in "The Whisper Market."
NEW LYRIC—Shirley Mason in "The Little Wanderer."

NEW GARRICK—A drama that proves "handsome is as handsome does" is "Eyes of the Heart," which brings dainty and charming little Mary Miles Minter to the New Garrick today, featuring a program which includes, in addition to the special orchestral program, the Chester comedy feature, "One Best Pet," a production said to be as good if not better than "Four Times Foiled," with the same animal and other performers. Mary Miles Minter is seen as a girl blind from birth brought up by three crooks. They are so kind and unselfish that she believes them all noble, handsome and good. Then an operation restores her sight and she finds that their devotion to her was the only fine and true thing in their lawless existence. Stunned she shrinks from them only to discover later that goodness is goodness no matter where it is found, and that the "eyes of her heart" had seen more truly for her than her real eyes.

NEW LYRIC—Winsome Shirley Mason gives a delightful performance in "The Little Wanderer" in which she opened a week-end engagement at the New Lyric yesterday to capacity crowds on the same bill with Eddie Barry in an exceptionally funny Christie comedy special, "Mr. Fatima." She pleases the eye with her beauty and the understanding with her talent, first as the ill-treated member of a medicine show troupe, then as a "boy" tramp riding a train to the city [illegible], a wealthy lady's companion and finally as the fiancee of a rich man's [illegible] mond McKee has the leading [illegible] and the supporting [illegible]. Refined humor and [illegible] as well as surprises [illegible] number feature the production [illegible] will please as well if not [illegible] any picture in which the star [illegible] seen here.

ZELDA—The [illegible] de Janeiro, the South American [illegible] city, forms a fitting background for the enactment of "The Whisper Market," the Vitagraph [illegible] starring Corinne Griffith, which will be shown at the Zelda theater.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Today it is the most popular molasses in the world

FOR years a favorite Southern delicacy had almost ceased to exist. Then two Louisiana boys, inspired by memories of wonderful sweets of cane-crushing time on the old plantation, decided to revive that unforgetable flavor—sugar-cane molasses.

One taste of their molasses carries you back to childhood joys. They called it Brer Rabbit, after the hero of the plantation stories of their youth. Today it is the most popular molasses in America. Get Brer Rabbit, either the light molasses (gold label) or the dark molasses (green label).

Have Brer Rabbit Gingerbread tonight
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup Brer Rabbit Molasses
½ cup sour milk
4 teaspoons [illegible]
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups flour

Cream butter, add sugar and well beaten eggs, molasses and sour milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients and combine them with the first mixture. Bake in a moderate oven.

MARITAL YOKE TOO GALLING

Court Petitioned for Relief By Several Disgusted With Matrimony.

Patrick J. Welch, aged 32, although a soft drink dispenser by trade is a "hard" drink consumer by inclination and habit, according to charges made by his wife, Esther Welch, aged 30, plaintiff in a divorce action filed today with the clerk of the district court. The Welchs live at 415 Fourth avenue east.

Mrs. Welch claims that her husband has come home in an intoxicated condition on numerous occasions and has brought liquor—real liquor—with him. She complains that on Oct. 6 last, he threw a glass of whisky in her face and temporarily blinded her. In 1919 during a "malicious fit of temper," she alleges, "he poured a pail of beer over the buffet in order to harass the plaintiff and wound her feelings and sensibilities."

At the present time the proprietor of the soft drink and restaurant establishment where he is employed is paying him $40 a week and his board, she alleges.

Mrs. Welch also charges her husband with continual fault finding, the habitual use of vile language and with frequent association with women of questionable character. She claims that on one occasion he threatened to kill her.

They were married in Superior on Jan. 5, 1909, and are parents of one child, of whom the mother asks custody. Welch has been cited to appear in court Saturday and show cause why he should not be restrained from visiting her at the house pending trial of the action.

Was Sentenced Once.

Mary Kero, aged 45, began suit today in district court for a limited divorce from Carl Kero, aged 57, on the grounds of cruelty. She alleges among other things that he has beaten her and that once he was sentenced to three months at the county jail for wife assault. They were married April 3, 1900, at Chisholm ,where they lived until last February, when she took their seven children and moved to Duluth, where she is now supporting the family.

Kero has been ordered to appear in court Saturday and show cause why he should not be required to give her temporary custody of the children, temporary alimony and attorney's fees and why he should not be restrained from molesting her during the pendancy of the divorce action.

Judge Dancer in district court today filed amended findings and an order for an amended judgment in the divorce case between Hermina J. Jolicoeur against Fred M. Jolicoeur. The court originally ordered the three children left in charge of relatives, Jolicoeur to pay for their support. Recently Jolicoeur applied to the court for an order amending the judgment so that he would have the sole, unconditional and unrestricted custody of the children, subject to the rights of his former wife to visit them at his home whenever she saw fit.

Father Gets Children.

The court granted his petition and the children are now with their father at 3832 Minnesota avenue. The court stipulates that they shall be sent to the public schools and shall also attend the proper church and Sunday schools. Jolicoeur in his petition to the court stated that he was in the draying business and that his net daily income was $18. His wife procured a divorce from him several months ago on the grounds of cruelty.

Ida K. Chase, who was granted a divorce from Delos K. Chase on Nov. 6 last, today obtained an order from Judge Fesler permitting an amendment to her divorce decree giving her the right to resume her maiden name, that of Ida K. Walker.

OUTPUT LIMITED TO KEEP UP COST

Washington, Nov. 18.—Steel producers by agreement have limited production in the Chicago district as a means of maintaining the "Pittsburgh plus" system of fixing prices, it was charged by H. G. Pickering, attorney for the Western Association of Rolled Steel Consumers, before the Federal trade commission.

Mr. Pickering declared if natural economic conditions had been allowed full play the steel industry at Chicago and adjacent territory would have developed to a much greater extent. He contended that only by keeping production of rolled steel slightly below consumption in the Chicago district are the producers able to charge the freight rate from Pittsburgh in addition to the basic Pittsburgh price.

With production greater than consumption, Mr. Pickering pointed out, the effect would be made to enable producers at distant points to ship their steel to Chicago, forcing the Chicago producers to cut prices in order to keep control of the market. He quoted from statements by R. V. Lindabury, general counsel for the United States Steel corporation, at the previous hearings to the effect that eventually the development of Chicago as a steel producing center would force the abolition of the Pittsburgh basing system.

Mr. Pickering declared that the steel industry at Chicago has lagged behind the development of manufacturers, production being artifically controlled in order to maintain the bonus of $5.60 freight rate from Pittsburgh to Chicago, which is added to the Pittsburgh basic price of $47 per ton."

IMPROVEMENT IN RAILS IS NOTED

Chicago, Nov. 18.—A great improvement in rails now in use in the United States is reported by the American Railway Engineering association. Some years ago the number of rails that failed to give normal service or broke under moving train became alarmingly large, the worst condition being reached about 1905. This led to investigation by the American Railway association and later by the Railway Engineering association.

"A drop in the rail failures from almost 400 per 100 track miles for five years' service in 1908 rails to seventy-four in the 1914 rails is a decrease of over 80 per cent," writes M. H. Wickhorst, engineer of tests of the Engineering association's rail committee, in his report just issued here. "We may well feel elated over this good performance and congratulate the mills and railroads that brought about the result.

"A close study of the detail reports indicates that a further decrease of over 80 per cent of the failures of the 1914 rails is possible."

FARMERS CO-OPERATE IN BUYING SUPPLIES

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Co-operative purchase of supplies by farmers running co-operative grain elevators is now under way in a number of Middle Western states and the movement is rapidly developing, according to headquarters of the Farmers' National Grain Dealers' association here. Its officers say there is likelihood that a national co-operating purchasing organization will be formed here in December at the association's first national convtion.

Ohio farmers who have organized a $100,000 purchasing company are reported to have contract for the output of a coal mine and feed mill and to be buying other materials, such as fencing and sugar, by the carload. In Iowa formation by farmers of a $1,000,000 corporation having purchase of farm supplies as one of its chief functions is reported.

The general plan is stated to be to pool purchases and sell by mail order

THE ONE THING UNTRIED.

Wrangel has vanished, swept off the face of the earth by a Bolshevik storm of war. This is the end of Wrangel and of the hopes of restoration of sanity in Russia through his military efforts.

And the end of Wrangel is precisely like the end of Denikine, and before that the end of Kolchak. Probably the end of any like general hereafter will be the same.

The world, especially France and to a lesser degree Great Britain, has for more than two years invested cargoes of hope for Russia in the military enterprises of Kolchak and Denikine and Wrangel. They have all been wrecked, utterly and hopelessly. Bolshevism endures—endures not only despite outward attacks by Russian generals and Allied blockades, but despite inward corrosion from deprivation, disease, hardships innumerable caused by the utter breakdown of production in Russia.

Kerensky, in an interview with Blasco Ibanez published in the New York World, utters an appeal for a new and untried remedy. His remedy, startling as it seems, begins to sound like common sense.

What is his remedy? What would this quondam ruler of Russia do now for Russia's pathetic plight? Nothing less than this: LEAVE RUSSIA ALONE!

Kerensky rests his hope for the future of Russia upon "the democratic republic voted by the constituent assembly in 1917." His sole condition for the fulfillment of that hope is that reactionary attempts to conquer Lenine's "Red Paradise" shall cease.

Russia, he says, will take Bolshevism or anything else sooner than the restoration of a czar; and it is the restoration of a czar that Russia has feared from Kolchak, from Denikine, from Wrangel.

"No general," he declares, "will ever put an end to Bolshevism. The blockade has been a stupidity from the start. When Russians don't have to resist a Polish invasion or a 'white' raid in the interest of reaction, they will cease rallying to the Moscow government, which, taken at its worst, is still the representative of Russian independence and the defender of Russian territory."

Is this good sense? Blessed if it doesn't sound like it! It is the one cure for Russia's ailment which the outside world has not yet tried, and all others have failed.

Long ago The Herald said of the blockade that it bolstered Bolshevism by enabling Lenine to blame the failure of his Red Paradise upon the handicap of the blockade. It has been very plain indeed that the Russians feared reaction if Kolchak, Denikine and Wrangel succeeded. It was clear enough that Russians rallied against the Polish invasion in the same spirit that Americans would rally against a foreign invader, and that Poland's ambitious effort simply concentrated Russian strength under the Bolshevik leaders.

Kerensky thinks that if Bolshevism can no longer blame the blockade for its failure, and that if Russians are no longer forced to rally to Bolshevism to protect them against invasion and the fear of czarism, Bolshevism must stand upon its own merits and therefore will fall.

Meddling so far has produced nothing but mischief. Certainly it seems worth while to think of trying Kerensky's plan of leaving Russia alone for awhile.

IS IT WELL WITH THE FARMER?

The cities are growing, the country is dwindling. Rural discontent, where it does not take the form of migration to the cities—out of the frying pan into the fire, in many, many cases—takes the form of Townleyism, a spreading evil not yet conquered by any means, and likely to prove in the end a poorer choice than migration to congested cities.

It is worth while finding out what the trouble is; finding out what is shifting population from country to city, and what is feeding full the ranks of Townleyism. Indeed, it is more than worth while—it is vitally necessary.

The Nation's Business, the spokesman for the United States chamber of commerce, in a recent issue presents some striking figures based on a study by the department of agriculture of 194 farms in Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin. In Ohio the studies cover seven years, and in Wisconsin five.

The conclusions reached are as follows: That few of the farmers in the groups studied have been making large profits during the recent years of high prices; that their average return on investment increased from about four per cent in 1912 to seven per cent in 1918; and that most of them are making less than five hundred dollars in cash per year.

> How shall I be able to rule others, that have not full power and command of myself?
> —Rabelais.

Of course this last is not so bad as it seems. The farmer and his family got their living out of it besides the cash surplus, and a good living. But in a time of extraordinarily high prices that rate of profit is not enough to make conditions safe in ordinary times.

Such figures help to show that there is more for the country to do for the farmers than to call them names if they follow Townley. They show that something needs to be done to improve the farming business, and especially the marketing of farm products. It is not surprising that, when they see no other hands offering remedies, the farmers reach out for the hand of Townley that does come offering remedies; nor is it surprising that they do not at first see the pewter beneath the shiny plating of the remedies he offers.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

You saw the potato show at the Armory? Probably not.

If you did see it, did you realize that you were seeing anything more than a lot of pretty good potatoes? Probably not.

But if you didn't see it you missed something, and if you did see it but saw only some good potatoes you missed the whole point of it.

For the point of it is that this region has developed to be a great potato section; a section that produces potatoes unexcelled anywhere, if not the best potatoes on earth.

It sometimes helps to get the view of a qualified outsider on such a thing as this. In fact it always helps. As a prophet is not without honor save in his own country, it is to be feared that even yet most Duluth people have failed to realize how much St. Louis county is distinguishing itself abroad not only for fine cattle but for fine potatoes.

Professor C. L. Fitch of the Iowa state agricultural college at Ames saw the Duluth show. As an authority on potatoes he is nationally recognized. His books are acknowledged to be among the best and most authoritative works on potato culture. In a letter written to William C. Sargent since he saw our potato show he says:

> You had the highest average of potatoes I have seen yet. Your St. Louis county soil seems unexcelled for Irish Cobblers and Early Ohios. We shall hope soon to have carload lots to sell.

From such an authority, this simple message speaks volumes. We pass it on because Duluth seems to need such outside testimony to bolster up its faith in its situation.

NOT FREE DIVORCE, BUT LESS FREE MARRIAGE.

A Brooklyn physician, Dr. James P. Warbasse, is quoted by the Brooklyn Eagle in some different and rather startling views on divorce. His idea is that the increase in the divorce rate is a good thing, and a beneficient result of the emancipation of women. He urges that divorce be made free and marriage difficult, reversing the present process.

"The emancipation of women has caused a considerable and beneficent increase in the divorce rate," he declared, "because it has tended to free women from the psychology of servitude and prompted her not to suffer overwhelmingly. Free divorce would bring good results. Man would not then keep together those whom God hath put asunder. Marriage should be surrounded by every restriction and obligation to hold up to men and women its deep responsibilities and sacredness; but divorce should be free."

Probably he means well enough. What he has in mind about "emancipation" is that now that there are so many avenues of employment open to women that used to be closed, women need no longer remain under a galling yoke of matrimony, but can shake it off and become self-supporting. That is true, and doubtless it has much to do with the increase in divorces.

"Free divorce" is altogether too suggestive of primitive methods and primitive sexual relations to be very popular. The home is the foundation of stable society. The home is undermined by divorce. Therefore divorce is an evil, even where it is a necessary evil.

But the doctor is entirely right at one end, anyway: marriage ought to be made a more difficult and more solemn engagement than it is now in many cases. The root of the divorce evil is a marriage evil—too easy marriages under circumstances that give it little solemnity, and that leave no deep sense of the obligations it entails.

If marriage were made more difficult, or at least necessarily more leisurely so that those entering it would have to take more time to think it over, and to reflect upon its sacred meaning and vital responsibilities, there would be fewer hasty and heedless marriages and therefore fewer marital bankruptcies and hence fewer divorces.

No Hurry

The Home Sector: "Has you got a dark-complected man named Johnson what's been shot in this hospital?" he inquired.

The nurse replied that there was such a person, adding, "But he's convalescing now."

"Ah beg yo' pardon," said Nap perplexedly, scratching his wool.

"He's convalescing now," she repeated.

"Well," said Napoleon, "if yo' don't mind, I'll set right here and wait till he gets through."

What Children Really Like to Read

From the Children's Book Week Committee.

In the last half century the child has come into his own. His elders have finally realized that he has tastes, emotions, a logic and a psychology that are distinctively his and as different as can be from those of the grown-ups—so different that only people of rare sympathy and imagination can think back into the child's point of view.

This effort to explore the child's life and discover what he actually likes and what he does not, has also wrought a revolution in children's literature. The amazing thing that parents, teachers and librarians learned was that children rarely found so-called juveniles with their carefully pointed morals and heroic examples half as entertaining as books which were not written for them at all. Take a glance at the immortal juveniles beginning with "Robinson Crusoe" and coming down through Scott and Dickens to "Treasure Island," the jungle books, "Captains Courageous," "Huckleberry Finn" and "Penrod." Not one of these was written primarily for boys and girls. But each of them possesses an element which makes an undying appeal to children; swift action with plenty of romance and a certain idealistic truth. There is nothing about which children are more discriminating and exacting than that a story should ring true.

Herbert Hungerford, the editor of the "Boys' Magazine," the leading spirit in the Square Fellows' Republic and perhaps as closely in touch with boy life as anyone in America, says: "The votes of our boys cast in enrolling as members of the Square Fellows' Republic indicate that the old types of books for boys are by no means as popular as real, thrilling books written for people of all ages. For instance Booth Tarkington, and next him Zane Grey, have been voted the most popular modern authors by our boys."

Joseph Hergesheimer is one of those rare people who can recreate his own childhood and it is his belief that a child's taste is far less fallible than its parents. "I was as a child," he says, "sick a great deal of the time—both sick and timid—and if it had not been for the enormous amount of reading I was able to find, I am certain that I should never have survived the long drawn inhibited time. My own impression is that children's minds are more mature than it is generally supposed; and a great many books, held to be beyond their comprehension, are far nearer the mark than the sentimental slush they are fed. Personally, I like romantic pages, I never cared particularly for fairy stories, but prefer adventures which, because of the familiarity of the characters, had a double reality for me. The important thing, of course, particularly with children, is truth; I do not believe in the good of stories where injustice and wrongs are miraculously and easily upset in an optimistic ending. Children to whom I have spoken have a curiously double attitude toward their reading—in the first place they readily reflect such things as are forced on them by their elders, and parrot-like praise the stories selected by an indifferent parental sentimentality; in the second place, quite aside from this they have astonishingly accurate and entertaining tastes of their own. This is beautifully proven by the number of things lately written by children, I am sure, not so exceptional as they seem. The thing to do is to discourage parents, who are practically always wrong and uphold the taste of children nearly always right."

Booth Tarkington himself, who, in Penrod unintentionally created one of America's greatest juveniles, is singularly hazy in his impressions of children's books. "I'm up a stump on them," he wrote to a friend, "probably because my experience as a young reader was singular. After the infant books, read to me, I think my first reading was 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' when I was 7—then 'Don Quixote,' 'Ivanhoe,' and when I was 8 and 9, Guizot's 'History of France,' all of Dickens, 'Tom Sawyer,' various Waverly novels. Indiscriminate reading, including Beadle's Dime and Beadle's Half-Dime library (which I liked about as well as I did Guizot), followed—and I have a hazy recollection of the two 'Tom Brown' books—of St. Nicholas serials and of three of four Oliver Optic books, Jules Verne, Mark Twain's books—all of his there were—Shakespeare, Thackeray, James, Daudet, Howells, Miss Murfree, 'Beulah,' a mixed up lot; and the books for youngsters scattered through left no impression (except these just mentioned) if I read any others. I read the 'new novels of the day' from the time I was 10, I think, until I was about 45, when I couldn't any more. Now, I haven't the slightest idea what sort of books are published for boys today."

The list is a "mixed lot," but it is remarkable for another reason. With one or two exceptions he escaped the dull thinly story-coated sermons on all the virtues which used to be presented to children by their fond parents and aunts and uncles as nice books for little boys to read.

And so, as those who are interested in children have been learning to give their boys and girls stories which will really hold their interest and teach them to love good books instead of what their elders think they ought to have, there has been a gradual revolution in the type of juveniles. Writers no longer write down to children. Indeed it ought to be said that they write up, for their public is very exacting. They have discovered that there is no type more fascinating or more difficult to create. Authors of distinction such as Frances Hodgson Burnett, Josephine Daskam Bacon and Selma Lagerlof, Sweden's most eminent author, have been attracted to the practically new field. The question now is not will the story point a moral, but is it so attractively and artistically done, so interestingly written, that it will appeal to people of all ages? All those who have had occasion to look at the beautifully written and presented juveniles which publishers are now offering cannot doubt that children's books as well as children themselves have come into their own.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON.

The Zoo

I sometimes go to see the Zoo, where shelfworn Bruin rages, and moldy lions, grim and blue, look forth from rusty cages. And there are wolves from forests dark, and monkeys, ten or seven; and weary critters howl and bark and send their wails to heaven. All day they pace the sodden floor (save when the keepers feed 'em) and stick their noses through the door, and yearn and yelp for freedom. They're dreaming of the jungles deep where once they gayly gamboled, or of the mountains wild and steep where in their youth they scrambled. They're thinking of the forest dense, of wood lore strange and clever; and now behind an iron fence they're doomed to pace forever. No more for these unhappy beasts the hunting call and rally; no more for them the outlaw feasts in desert, swamp or valley. No more in some vast silent land will their swift feet be racing; and idle human beings stand, and watch their tireless pacing. We've put these sad-eyed brutes in jail, without a writ or warrant, in musty cages foul and stale, with atmosphere abhorrent. They did not booze or beat their wives or do some speed law sinning; they merely tried to live their lives as planned in the beginning. And now the poor moth-eaten wrecks behind the bars must languish, that idle, snooping rubbernecks may view their endless anguish.

Bryan's Regularity

By Savoyard.

Washington, Nov. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Jennings Bryan has again broken out on the first page of the metropolitan dailies and has set up claim to the Democratic party which he is thoroughly persuaded is his personal asset. A slacker in the quadrennial political war just ended, as soon as the result was announced, Mr. Bryan advanced to the footlights and confessed to the surprised audience that he had "voted for Cox." Now Mr. Bryan proclaims from the housetops that he has as much civic virtue, and all the personal integrity, as the law allows one man to tote. He pretends to be immaculate in principle and infallible in wisdom. And the man is sincere in that egotism.

Can Mr. Bryan place his hand upon his heart and fix his eye upon his God and say that his vote for James M. Cox, Nov. 2, was an honest vote? Did he desire the election of Mr. Cox? Is there a Republican between the two oceans better satisfied with the result of the election than William Jennings Bryan is?

• • • (Whittier)

A vote in a free country is a solemn and a precious thing, expressive of a responsible idea. In its purity it is what honor is to man, what chastity is to woman, what valor is to the soldier, what honesty is to the tradesman. Some poet has writ of it thus:

There is a weapon better yet,
And stronger than the bayonet,
A weapon that comes down as still
As snowflakes falling on the sod,
But executes a freeman's will
As lightning does the will of God.

That is an honest vote; but a ballot that does not express the will of the voter is a fraud and a sham and it is impossible to excuse such a ballot. Ay, better a ballot intimidated by force than a ballot corrupted by bribery or depraved by selfishness. I do not know whether Mr. Bryan holds to the dogma that it is given to the elect to do evil that good may be the fruit of it, but if he voted for Mr. Cox he did it solely to maintain party regularity and to promote his absurd and impossible ambition to take charge of the Democratic conscience and seize the command of the Democratic army. Mr. Bryan's swift announcement that he voted for Cox sounds mighty much like the practice of a zealous Jesuit or a fanatic Puritan, each of whom holds that abundant harvest of good may come from a field of evil.

Of course Woodrow Wilson is responsible, for Henry Cabot Lodge himself is not more envious of Wilson's transcendent abilities than is William Jennings Bryan.

On the face of the returns the Democratic party has just received a terrible drubbing. Mr. Bryan seems to think that defeat of his party a personal vindication of himself and he gloats over it, and his purpose is to again seize the boss-ship of the Democratic party. The Democratic party has done a heap of idiotic things in its day, but it never has been guilty of such a blunder as that would be. In the campaign just closed Mr. Bryan was in precise accord with Henry Cabot Lodge touching the paramount issue at stake. If he had been gifted with the courage of his convictions he would have voted for Harding, the man he preferred to the man he says he voted for.

I believe that James M. Cox, defeated as he is, is more to be envied than William J. Bryan, exultant as he is. History sometimes repeats itself. In 1890 the country regretted that it did not reelect Grover Cleveland president in 1888. The job before Ben Harrison's administration was child's play compared with the job Harding's administration will be saddled with. It will not be strange if in 1922 the country regrets that it did not elect James M. Cox president in 1920. Cleveland was invincible in 1892. And there is a mighty fine chance for Cox to be invincible in 1924.

The political pot, hot as it has been for four years, has not boiled as it will the next four years. And the G. O. P. has undertaken to please a heap of folks who cannot and will not be pleased.

English Make Heroes of Enemies

Preston Slosson in the Independent: I have come to the conclusion that the three favorite characters in history of the average Englishman are George Washington, William Wallace and Joan of Arc. Now the remarkable thing is not that all three were enemies of the British, for any generous spirit can forgive a vanquished enemy. But they were victorious enemies, and it requires an almost superhuman virtue to forgive a triumphant foe.

The Virginia rebel who took from the British empire its most valuable colonies; the fierce Scotch borderer who made possible Scottish independence and inflicted most humiliating defeats on the proud armies of King Edward; the French peasant girl who frustrated the whole purpose of a hundred years of war and made for ever vain the dream of an empire on the continent of Europe—such are the heroes of British fiction and British verse.

I cannot find that other nations have shown a similar appreciation of those who triumphed over them, no matter how noble their characters might be. In Vienna they do not sing ballads in praise of Garibaldi. The Louvre does not contain many paintings of Andreas Hofer, the Tyrolese hero who fought Napoleon. Kosciusko has had some kind words from Russians and Germans, but he does not rank as highly with them as with the Poles. The Spaniards are resigned to the independence of Holland, but they are not quite so enthusiastic about William of Orange as the Dutch. The Germans do not sing the "Marseillaise" (save for Socialist purposes) or the French "The Watch on the Rhine," but an Englishman will always join in "Scots Wha Hae" or "The Wearing of the Green."

"Liberty, What Crimes, Etc."

Kenneth L. Roberts in the Saturday Evening Post: Freedom is a matter which is not rightly understood by Central Europeans. They have it confounded with license to a great extent, and those who emigrate to America are greatly in need of instruction as to the true meaning of freedom as understood by Americans. We misinterpret oppression in the same way. Never having known oppression, Americans think that to be oppressed a man must be bashed on the head and thrown in jail. We cannot understand it when we discover that a European's idea of oppression is the inability to get a high school and college education in some particular language. In the same way, many Europeans think that freedom means license to do anything at all—to shoot songbirds within city limits or take fruit from the nearest fruit tree or hit an enemy over the head with a stockingful of iron filings.

Making It Homelike

Answers, London: On Dolly's birthday she was presented with a baby bulldog, and her delight was delicious to behold.

It was very young, and she insisted upon taking it to bed with her, but the next morning she was looking very tired.

"Haven't you slept well, darling?" asked her mother.

"No, mummy," said Dolly. "Nelson was crying in the night for his mumsey, so I kept awake with him for company, and I made awful faces all night to make him fink I was his bulldog muvver to comfy him!"

Health Talks

The Twin Dental Delusions

Some people still imagine it is "dangerous to have an ulcerated tooth extracted." And a few old fossils still manage to do a little dental practice in spite of the fact that they agree with this dangerous delusion. An "ulcerated" tooth is one with an abscess at its root, and if a competent dentist thinks the tooth is damaged beyond saving, then certainly the safest course for the victim is immediate extraction of the tooth. It is precisely like a sliver in a festering wound—and surely no one would hesitate about having the sliver extracted. Yet hundreds of deluded human beings suffer for days and days with "ulcerated tooth," waiting for the "inflammation to go down" before they even consult the dentist; or, if the dentist happens to be one of the rare mossbacks mentioned, waiting until the ignoramus can screw up sufficient moral courage to extract the offender. The suffering thus unnecessarily endured is but a minor matter. The danger of such neglect is that the inflammation may spread, the infection travel deeply into the jaw bone, producing a grave condition indeed. This very thing now and then happens just before the victim, in desperation, finally seeks dental treatment; and the extraction having been too long delayed, the infection is not overcome, but progresses unrelieved. It is in such a case that the ignorant patient is inclined to blame the dentist for his plight! And because public opinion is unreasonable and juries are composed of all kinds of people, some dentists refuse to extract an "ulcerated tooth" if they think the patient is of inferior intelligence. This is not good surgical practice, to flinch in the path of duty, yet one can hardly blame them.

Another delusion that is twin to the "ulcerated tooth" delusion is the one that helps many a quack dentist out of a bad situation. The dupe patronizes the dental charlatan who blows his horn and tells the world of a "painless" method all his own. The quack injects the same local anesthetics that any other dentist would use, but with this difference: The quack dentist is uneducated, unskilled, and he is careless or ignorant about surgical cleanliness, asepsis. His victim, a few days after the "painless" extraction, suffers a swollen face. What is the matter? Oh, "caught cold!" The poor dupe accepts that explanation as the truth. The truth is, however, that the jaw has been infected, and in most such cases the infection is attributable to plain neglect of the essential principles of surgical cleanliness.

The "catching cold" delusion lets many a quack dentist out of a bad situation, just as it helps many an incompetent doctor over a doubtful diagnosis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Beards Are So Coarse.

Would you advise the use of the electric needle for removing the whole beard of a young man aged 22? About how long would the operation take, and what would be the cost, estimated? (L. K. S.)

Answer: Not unless he were to be Queen of the May.

Tea and Coffee.

I love coffee, my worser half loves tea. Each thinks the other's favorite beverage the more harmful by reason of containing the more poison. Please settle the argument for the sake of peace in the family. (Mrs. C. R.)

Answer: Neither contains any poison, if not boiled.

Blood Purification.

Is it necessary to take a blood purifier once a week, such as———Tea? (A. S.)

Answer: Such herb "teas" are decoctions of various crude drugs, some mere flavors and some cathartics. It is unnecessary and unwise to take any physic habitually.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinius, the Sunshine Man, Dayton, Ohio.

Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.—Eph. vi, 11-12.

The daily life of every one of us teems with occasions which will try the temper of our courage as searchingly, though not so terribly, as battlefield, or fire, or wreck; for we are born into a state of war, with falsehood, and disease, and wrong, and misery, in a thousand forms, lying all around us, and the voice within calling us to take our stand as men, in the eternal battle against these. And in this lifelong fight, to be waged by every one of us, single-handed, against a host of foes, the last requisite for a good fight—the last proof and test of our courage and manfulness—must be loyalty to truth—the more rare and difficult of all human qualities. For such loyalty, as it grows in perfection, asks ever more and more of us, and sets before us a standard of manliness always rising higher and higher; and this great lesson we learn from Christ's life, the more earnestly and faithfully we study it.—Thomas Hughes.

Wilson and Mexico

The New Republic: But for the steadfast opposition of President Wilson, we should almost certainly have invaded Mexico, on one occasion or another. We are not a people patient of the inevitable bloodshed and destruction of revolution, the ebb and flow of revolution and reaction, the factional chaos, the public flaunting of egoistic ambitions. We expected despotism to give way to constitutionalism almost overnight and business to go on as usual. And when our expectations were defeated, we felt something of a moral obligation to go in and hold the ring while the opposing parties struggled for mastery in civil fashion. That predisposition of the American people to misjudge the revolutionary process was something a relatively small group eager for loot and power could play upon. Another president might easily have been beguilded into taking the first step that would have set us definitely on the road of intervention, subjugation, imperialism, which would never have stopped abruptly with the southern border of Mexico. President Wilson's Mexican policy may have erred in details, but it has left us uncompromised with imperialistic projects, free to work for international peace with clean hands.

Getting Practical

Richmond Times-Dispatch: "You know Boobins, the tenor who used to sing to Miss Skeezicks that every morn he would bring her violets?"

"Yes; did he?"

"That's what he did, and they got married; and now they're living in the country where every morn he has to bring her two buckets of water and help wipe the dishes!"

No Gambling, But Pricss Fall

Grand Forks Herald: Wheat prices during the week have touched the lowest level reached since the upward trend immediately after the beginning of the war. Naturally those who insist that grain prices are fixed by gamblers through the medium of the grain exchanges are certain that the continued decline is due to the malignant influence of the exchanges. With singular unanimity they ignore the fact that there has been in progress a similar decline, in many cases much more marked, along practically the whole line of commodities, without assistance from any exexhange whatever.

Today a bushel of wheat in the local market will pay for thirteen pounds of sugar. Sugar has taken a tremendous drop, and in the handling of sugar there is nothing that corresponds even remotely to the grain exchange with its provisions for buying and selling for future delivery.

Sugar, of course, is but one commodity. But the price shrinkage is general. And in nearly all cases the decrease has been brought about without the possibility of trading in futures.

Only the Blind Doubted It

New England Herald: Do not run away with the idea that the women do not know how to vote. We watched the count of the vote in New England and the ballots marked by the women showed more intelligent markings than those of men voters. Whether the lady was a Nonpartisan or an independent voter she knew the ticket and made few mistakes. There were a few blank ballots, of course, but there were fewer uninformed women than men voters.

Human Nature

Bismarck Tribune: America blazed with an idealism during the war. As soon as the war was over, a psychical reaction had to come. It is human nature.

The aftermath of war was irksome to nearly everyone. Everyone hoped to escape this irksomeness through a change. This change they have made by an overwhelming majority.

These Would Help

Fargo Forum: What this country really needs, according to Vice President Marshall, is "a good 5-cent cigar."

Indubitably, but why stop there?

We need so many other things if we are to get "back to normalcy" as Mr. Harding wants us to do.

We need an old-fashioned lemon pie which is not manufactured in a chemical laboratory out of old automobile tires.

We need a good 5-cent cup of coffee.

We need half a dozen real actors, to offset the tailor's dummies with oiled hair.

We need an old-fashioned boy who will run an errand for 10 cents and who isn't afraid of a woodpile.

We also need the woodpile.

We need some children who would rather spend an evening at home making taffy and playing games than in watching the latest filmed adventure of "The Silent Avenger."

We need more family pews in the churches and more families in them.

We need another Pastor Wagner to preach "the simple life."

We need—but you can continue the list indefinitely for yourself.

A Good Place For the Recall

Jamestown Alert: The recall law was passed to be used only when some real emergency or necessity was apparent. It is a law that cuts both ways, and if exercised without due discretion, could be made to do as much harm as good. But in the matter of a member of the legislature, who is alleged to swear, before he becomes a candidate, that he will at all times vote and work for measures approved by the caucus of the Nonpartisan league beforehand, and places this oath before the oath of the constitution, a recall certainly seems justified.

Why Not?

Dickinson Press: In McHenry county, where Townleyites swept everything in the general election, the Appeal to Reason was one of the papers voted on for official county newspaper.

In a hard-fought battle on a very fast field at Minneapolis yesterday afternoon, Minnesota's football team again made good its claims to championship form by defeating Northwestern by 21 to 0. At no time during the contest was the goal of the home team in the slightest danger, and three-quarters of all the playing was done in Northwestern territory. The game was called on account of darkness, with the visitors played to a standstill and in a groggy condition. As far as comparative scores can be relied upon, the Minnesota men are the champions of the West this year.

IT HAS MADE HER LIFE WORTH LIVING, SHE SAYS

Minneapolis Woman's Life Was Made Miserable for Six Years—Tanlac Ends Troubles.

"Tanlac has not only relieved me of troubles which made my life miserable for six years, but has built me up ten pounds in weight besides," said Mrs. Ella Bradford, 601 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., recently.

"For six years I suffered with stomach trouble and gradually went down hill. I got to where I could hardly eat anything, and what little I did eat always fermented and bloated me until I could scarcely breathe. I suffered terribly with heartburn and a heavy feeling in my stomach for hours after each meal, and sometimes at night I just had to walk the floor because I suffered so much worse while lying down. Nervousness also interfered with my sleep, and in day time I would jump at the least little unusual noise. I also had to be taking something for constipation constantly, and finally I got in such a bad condition it looked like I couldn't stay up much longer.

"But Tanlac has made a wonderful change in my condition. I have a fine appetite now, and I never suffer the least bit with indigestion. My nerves are calm and steady, I sleep like a child every night, and, in fact, all my troubles are gone, and I always feel just fine. Tanlac has made life worth living for me, and I want other sufferers to know about it."

SUGGESTS WAR FUNDS FOR THE RED CROSS

To the Editor of The Herald:

Among your very interesting editorials in Saturday evening's issue of The Herald, two of them "set me thinking." To be specific the editorials were captioned "Two hundred thousand troops march past" and "The coal trade in bad odor."

An accredited instrument in the hands of this government is the Red Cross. During our active participation in the war semi-public institutions were given immense sums of money by public contribution and, as I understand, to work in conjunction as subsidiaries of the Red Cross. Some of them were unable to use up all of the funds at their disposal during the war and I understand they still have in their possession immense sums which they are now unable to use for the purpose it was given them. It is intimated that said funds are being diverted to other uses. I am not aware that returns have been made to any constituted authority, but if not, I am quite sure that the original donors and the 200,000 referred to in your editorial would much prefer that the funds be placed in the hands of a permanent accredited agency of the government, such as the Red Cross, through which a humane method of helping the 200,000, instead of spending this money on schools and monuments and other things. The latter cannot clothe and feed them and the former is already provided for by our state and city institutions.

What shock it must be to those 200,000 wrecks who went 3,000 miles and more to fight the battle of democracy and idealism and were taught to believe in the might of right. While they were gone the elements of evil found expression in various ways and one of the imps of darkness came into being in a more virulent form, now known as the profiteer. It became a malignant carbuncle on the face of the whole earth and the United States in particular. No business was or is yet free from its malicious tendencies; its tentacles reach into every avenue of trade, until the statement of revelation become literally true, "That no man could buy or sell, except he had the mark of the beast or the number of its name."

As in Europe our brave boys fought and partly destroyed the belligerent attitude of selfishness and autocracy, so the same elements here have to be fought on a slightly higher plane only because it is more complex, more crafty and subtle in its expression. May we hope that its day will soon be over, and there will be no coal dealer who will say "Pay our prices or freeze," or any other who under the guise of some legitimate business will forget the golden rule and prey on the helpless public.

These are the conditions that are creating general discontent, which of necessity will result in a general overturning of our present methods of doing business, even to the nationalizing of the sale of every necessity.

THE FARMERS' PROBLEMS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Now that "The Irish Question" and "The Mother-in-Law" have been laid to rest, let us start a new topic for conversation. I saw an article in last night's Herald and the headlines were, "Urges Farmers to Hold Their Wheat." If they (the farmers) will hold for twenty days the price would go to nearly $3 and remain high. Abe Slaughter, national organizer for the Wheat Growers' Association of America, with his delegation of seven Oklahoma farmers, is in North Dakota to organize the farmers who are wheat growers.

Now will some one who is more intelligent then I please enlighten me? What I want to know is—why is the farmer the first one to complain about the H. C. of L.? He immediately wants a new form of government. When he is a capitalist, he hires men; he holds his wares for the highest price. I hope I live to see the day when the plain public have a voice in things. Instead of spending our time trying to cheat the farmer, we are trying to get rid of Townleyism, which is now a farmer's worst enemy. Those who do not agree with me read some good literature, use your own reasoning power, you have it. Don't let the other fellow do all the thinking and take his word for it.

Sorry I had to vote Republican, but it just had to be done at this time of radicalism. This is not meant for a knock for the farmers. I love them all—best people in the world, but some of them forget to dust their brains.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please give the suffering public a rest by refusing further privileged publicity in your paper of the Irish-English controversies, a privilege that is grossly misused by personal abuse, creating nothing but hatred among people formerly friendly. Someone is always taking the joy out of life.

FAIR PLAY.

Duluth, Nov. 16.

PRESIDENT WILSON.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am very much interested in the topics in the Open Court and hope you will kindly print the following:

President Wilson will be a great man after he is dead, I presume, just as some of our other countrymen were. To me it is a perfect shame the way he is ridiculed and jeered at. Can the more narrow-minded people be called real Americans that will do this to a man who has practically ruined his life for his country? He could not have done any more for his country than he has done unless he had been killed in battle for his country, because no president has been in office during a more strenuous, doubtful period. In 1913, when Mr. Wilson became president, he was apparently a healthy man, while today he is wheeled about in an invalid's chair.

Wake up, Americans! Give people credit for what they do and honor and praise them while they are living, not after they are dead.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person asking it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Reader, Bemidji, Minn.: Please state whether Jumbo, the largest elephant living years ago and traveling with the Barnum circus, is still living? (2) When was the first Duluth Herald published?

Ans.: No, killed years ago. (2) In 1883.

Veteran, Duluth: Does Massachusetts give soldiers who served in the late war a bonus and how much?

Ans.: Yes. $100 to all men who entered the service prior to Nov. 11, 1918.

Hunter, Duluth: (1) Does the deer season close Dec. 1 or Dec. 15? (2) What is the limit of deer or moose one person may shoot? (3) Is a license transferable when the person to whom it has been issued does not use it?

Ans.: (1) Neither of the dates are correct; the season closes Dec. 5 at midnight. (2) One of either, but not one of both. (3) No, it is specilicially forbidden.

H. O., Virginia, Minn.: Could you please tell me what Eugene O'Brien's, the movie star, address is?

Ans.: Players' club, New York city.

E. H., Eveleth, Minn.: To settle an argument, will you please tell me through the Open Court which color is for a baby girl, blue or pink?

Ans.: Blue for girls, pink for boys.

Interested, Duluth: I understand the law forbids hunting within three miles of certain cities; what cities are included in this prohibition? Will you please quote the paragraph in the law relating to the subject?

Ans.: This law applies only to cities having a population of 50,000 or more, which means St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. The text of the law reads: "No person shall hunt or have in possession for the purpose of hunting, within three miles of the corporate limits of any city having a population of 50,000 or more any gun, rifle or other firearm. Target practice on duly established and properly guarded rifle ranges, and trap shooting or gun practice by members of duly organized gun clubs on lands owned or leased or occupied for that purpose by such clubs, are excepted from the operation of this section."

J. M., Duluth: Please answer following questions: (1) How old is Jascha Heifetz, the violinist? (2) Are there any professional violinists in Duluth?

Ans.: (1) He will be 20 years old on Feb. 2 next. (2) Yes.

PRICE OF ROLLED OATS REDUCED 17 PER CENT

Chicago, Nov. 18.—A 17 per cent reduction in the wholesale price of rolled oats was announced yesterday by the Armour Grain company. The price of rolled oats has increased steadily since July, 1918, officials of the company said. Today's cut was made possible by the recent decline in oats.

Officials of the company said twenty-ounce packages, which have been retailed at 18 or 19 cents, should sell in a few weeks at 15 to 16 cents. Grocers and jobbers have not stocked up on package cereals, it was said, in anticipation of a decline, and therefore the reduction should reach the consumer within a short time.

PLAN GAS DEFENSE IN CASE OF ANOTHER WAR

Washington, Nov. 18.—More than 31 percent of all American soldiers admitted to hospitals overseas during the World war were gassed, according to a statement made public yesterday by the chemical warfare service. Excluding marines and sailors, the total of American soldiers gassed was 70,552, of which 1,221 died and 2,853, or 4.04 per cent, were discharged as having suffered some disability from gasing. Every effort to prepare this country with an efficient gas defense in the event of another war is being made by chemical experts, according to officials of the service. Fifteen thousand chemists have been enrolled to enter service at a moment's notice and are constantly engaged in research in order to perfect all kinds of gases for use in the event of hostilities.

At the same time, officials added, chemists are working out defensive measures by which America could meet an enemy's gas attack.

NAMED RECEIVER FOR STEAMSHIP COMPANIES

New York, Nov. 18.—George W. Sterling, assistant director of operations for the United States shipping board, today was appointed receiver for eight Atlantic steamship companies. The appointment was made by Federal Judge Mayer in an equity suit brought by Marsh and McLennan, New York insurance agents, claiming to be creditors of the companies.

The companies, said to be known as "Morse lines," were: The Pawnee, Englewood, Galesburg, Ascutney, Arcadia, Analusia, Pequot and the Atlantic Adriatic steamship corporations. The claim for the petitioner was for $27,325, for premiums of insurance on vessels owned by the defendants. Outstanding obligations were said to exceed $1,500,000. Assets were not given.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: NOV. 21,

Matthew x: The Twelve Sent Forth.

CONNECTION.

After that tour of preaching, teaching and healing all over Galilee Jesus made a selection of twelve men from the great multitude who followed Him, to be His helpers while He was here and His representatives after His departure from earth. He had been preparing them for months, in fact, some of them from the very beginning of His ministry. We saw how several had stayed with Him most of the time, like the two pairs of brothers, who now and then returned to their work of fishing, and we saw how He finally called them to spend their whole time with Him. He had added others from time to time and now He wants them with Him all the time—twelve of them. Their names are given here. He needs them and He uses them. Here is the story of their first efforts at work like His.

THE LESSON.

I.

Their Task Assigned. 5-23.

"These twelve Jesus sent forth and charged them, saying Go not into any city of the Samaritans, but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go preach, saying The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons. Freely ye have received, freely give."

1. WORK.—It was to be twofold, healing the body and healing the soul. They were to do it instrumentally, while He did it actually, His spirit being with them and in them, just as, after His departure, Paul said to a crippled man "Jesus Christ maketh thee whole." He had two reasons for sending them out to do this work—the work needed to be done, for He could only visit a few sections and they would thus multiply Him; and they would get training for the work He would entrust to them when He left the earth. He sent them to places He would afterwards visit and He could thus correct any mistakes they made. But He sent them only to their own people, not to the Gentile Samaritans. They were too prejudiced and immature to go to them.

2. FITNESS.—They were the best fitted men to do this, for He had selected them from all His followers, had given them much private instruction and conducted what we might call a clinic which they attended. He also forewarned them of all the discomforts and perils awaiting them but cheered them with promise of every needed help.

3. OUTFIT.—Read the omitted verses to see that He outfitted them completely, even as missionaries have to take everything they need today. They needed nothing, for they would be gone only a short time and unnecessary baggage would be useless and a hindrance. No purse for money, for they had no money and needed none, as the laws of hospitality provided for their entertainment, which they could receive with entire self-respect on account of their valuable work, but do not provide for the missionaries who go out today; no scrip or traveling bag, for they had no extra clothes to put in it, didn't need any; no shoes, for shoes were an indoor luxury and sandals were for travel.

4. METHOD.—They went two by two. Each would strengthen the other. There must be concentration on their business. To stop and greet each person they met, with all sorts of questions about his health and all the many members of the family separately, according to the invariable custom, would squander hours and hours of valuable time. So they were to greet no one by the way.

In accepting hospitality they must do personal rather than public work, bestowing a real blessing on each house in the "shalom" of Hebrew, "pax vobiscum" of Latin, "peace be with you" of English. If some churl who was not of a peaceful mind resented it, they themselves would get a reactive good out of it. They would not be able to meet the emergencies of the hot attacks and discussions out in public, but could get along in private conversation. Enemies of Jesus were in every crowd and they were great "hecklers."

They must be steady in their habits, remaining at one house during their stay in a given community and not being notional, running about from place to place. If the fare is not very good, they must live as the family lives. To ask for other food would lessen their influence, for it would make them appear finical and self-important. They must not accept money which grateful people might offer them for curing their loved ones, for that would put them on a level with the strolling workers of magic and would hurt their characters as well as their reputation. They were to remember that they were paying a debt to Him which He was collecting through them; they had been only receiving and now must do some giving.

II.

Their Great Incentives. 24-42.

"And be not afraid of them that kill the body but are not able to kill the soul, but rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father; but the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows. He that loveth father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of me. And he that doth not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me. He that findeth his life shall lose it and he that loseth his life shall find it. He that receiveth you receiveth Me and he that receiveth Me receiveth Him that sent Me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily, I say unto you he shall in no wise lose his reward."

1. COMPANY.—If they are mistreated they must cheer up, because He has been treated that way. It is to be expected that if they call Jesus a devil they will classify the disciple with Him. They are in good company. We learn this in omitted verses.

2. TRUTH.—The truth has a power of revealing itself, if they will only give it a voice. Though learned in secret it is to be proclaimed and the hidden will come to light. They have truth in their hands and will prevail. Verses 26, 27.

3. GOD.—God's power is with them and it is able to destroy the souls of those who can only injure the bodies of the messengers. God goes to the mission field with every messenger. And He is not only present with them but has minute and loving knowledge of them. That knowledge is as minute as knowing each hair of their heads and far more loving than His care of the sparrows, not one of which can fall to the ground without being seen with kindness by Him. Christ is so identified with the Father that, in the very nature of the case, to confess Him is to confess the Father, and therefore the disciple confesses Him. The gospel of Christ is a dividing principle and one has to put Christ above every one, even the nearest and dearest.

Here are some results they can expect—one who is right with God, set against all that is wrong, giving up what may interfere with Christ's hold on Him, denying himself what will lessen his true life, giving up the bodily for the sake of the spiritual.

4. REWARDS.—Not special rewards—identification with Christ, approval of the Father, success in winning people to Christ, finding value in the little ministries to those who cannot repay, association with Christ forever.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

When they say you are Puritanical and narrow, when you are pitied for your religious convictions, it hurts as much as if they were trying to burn you at the stake. But bear the cross bravely, triumphantly.—Manson.

Some have found bitterest opposition to their Christian lives in their own homes, but they are safe when they put Christ first.—Thomas.

Go to the people, get close to them, enter their houses and their hearts, make your mission domestic, be social and sociable, friendly and human; go not from house to house in a hurry, as though figures were redeemed souls, but stay long enough to win love; invite trust, and do nothing to thwart expectation; make men feel your tenderness is instinctive, and your desires real.—Clifford.

"End Your Rheumatism

Like I Did Mine" — Says Pastor Reed: Wife Also Rid of Neuritis

Suffered Tortures For Years—Now Telling Good News To Others

"Don't Believe That Old Humbug About 'Uric Acid' Being the Cause of Rheumatism — It's Not So!"

Emphatically asserting that thousands of unfortunate sufferers have been led into taking wrong treatments under the old and false belief that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism, Pastor H. W. Reed says:

"As do some of our highest medical authorities, I now know that 'Uric Acid' never did and never will cause rheumatism! But it took me many years to find out this truth. I learned how to get rid of my rheumatism and recover my health and strength through reading 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism,' a work written by an authority who has scientifically studied the cause and treatment of rheumatism for over twenty years. It was indeed a veritable revelation!

"I had suffered agony for years from rheumatism and associated disorders, and Mrs. Reed was tortured with the demon neuritis almost beyond endurance. We had read and talked so much about 'Uric Acid' that our minds seemed poisoned. But the 'Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' made it all clear to us and now we are both free from the suffering and misery we endured so many years. I believe I was the hardest man in the world to convert! For me to discard the old 'Uric Acid' theory and what I now know to be absolutely false, for the new, scientific understanding of the causes and cure of rheumatism, was like asking me to change my religious beliefs! But I did change, and it was a fortunate day for me and mine when I did so."

NOTE: "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" referred to above by Pastor Reed lays bare facts about rheumatism and its associated disorders overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past. It is a work that should be in the hands of every man or woman who has the slightest symptoms of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago or gout. Anyone who sends name and address to H. P. Clearwater, 332-F street, Hallowell, Maine, will receive it by mail, postage paid and absolutely free. Send now, lest you forget the address! If not a sufferer, cut out this explanation and hand it to some afflicted friend.

WOULD RESTORE WAR FINANCE CORPORATION

Washington, Nov. 18.—Senators from the Western and Southern states are considering urging legislative action to revive the war finance corporation. They said yesterday this was the only agency which could give immediate help to agricultural interests in the "appalling" situation resulting from the sudden fall in prices.

A conference of Western senators and representatives to discuss the matter will be called, it was stated, when Chairman Gronna, North Dakota, of the senate agricultural committee, arrives in Washington. One suggestion is that congress adopt a mandatory resolution, directing the immediate revival of the corporation.

In an appeal to President Wilson to restore the corporation, Senator Dial of South Carolina, wrote that he had discussed the matter with Secretary Houston and added:

"I must say that he does not comprehend in the least the situation, or he does not desire to assist the American producer, and I feel that it is useless for anyone to confer with him further on the subject.

"I have conferred with all the leaders of our party," the senator's letter continued, "and I have not found a man who does not agree that the war finance corporation should resume operations at once."

The executive committee of the national board of farm organizations will meet here next Monday to discuss possible relief measures.

Delegations named at the recent agricultural conference also asked Secretary Houston to rehabilitate the war finance corporation and were met with the statement that it was not necessary, the secretary quoting exports to show the amount of agricultural products which have moved overseas.

Passage of the Capper-Hersman-Volstead bill, legalizing collective marketing, will be urged by the farmers' representatives at the coming session of congress, it was said. They also will ask for congressional investigation of credit and rates of interest.

HUNTERS VERY THICK AROUND ITASCA PARK

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—"The hunters along the Itasca park game refuge are so close together that if a deer wished to get back into the park, it would have to hurdle the line of hunters—and that would be a safe attempt for the deer, as I know the ability of some of the hunters," W. T. Cox, state forester, said in commenting on the presence of a record number of big game hunters in the north woods.

FIRST FIRE CASE DECISION

Judge Cant Finds for Philip Hall of Cloquet, Awarding $7,400.

Judge Cant in district court late yesterday afternoon handed down the first complete and appealable decision which has been filed among the 278 Cloquet forest fire cases on which liability has been already fixed by the court.

The case was one in which Philip Hall of Cloquet is the plaintiff. Damages to the amount of $7,400 was proven up in this case and judgment against the railroad administration entered. The next move will be taken by the attorneys for the defense which will move the court for amended findings deciding the case against the plaintiff or for a new trial. If the court denies this, then the defendant will be in a position to appeal to the state supreme court.

On Sept. 16 last, a court of five St Louis county district judges handed down a decision fixing the liability of the government railroad administration, as represented by John Barton Payne, director general of railroads, for damages arising out of fires said to have been set by the Great Northern Railway company Oct. 12, 1918. These fires are claimed to have spread from the company's right-of-way at Milepost 62 to the city of Cloquet destroying $10,000,000 worth of property in its wake.

Affects Them All.

The 278 cases which a majority of the court decided, so far as the question of liability is concerned, involve claims aggregating approximately $2,500,000. The question of liability for all other losses in this district growing out of the same fire will probably be established, however, by this decision, if it is finally affirmed in the court of last resort.

The court did not go into the question of damages in each particular case. The damage features of the cases may be disposed of individually or may be tried out as a group at a hearing at Cloquet in the event that plaintiffs prevail in the Hall case before the supreme court.

Move for Hearings.

On Saturday, Arnold & Arnold, attorneys for the plaintiffs, will ask the court to fix the time and place for hearings on the damage features of the cases of T. Gilbert McWithey, Hannah Grip, Paul Pirho, Eli Gareeau and A. R. Peterson. The Peterson case is the one which was used as a title case for the Cloquet group at the trial last summer before the court en bloc. Damages in the sum of $28,000 are sought. Peterson formerly conducted a hotel at Cloquet.

Baldwin, Baldwin, Holmes & Mayall are attorneys for the railroad administration. The Great Northern Railway company, as a corporation, is not directly concerned in the case. If the courts eventually hold that the fire was of railroad origin, the railroad administration which was then operating the Great Northern and other railroads throughout the country, must pay the damages.

collectively and individually to renounce extravagances and learn the old and the new lessons of thrift and of providence. It will add to our power and emphasize our stability if we become a simple living nation once more. It will add to the sum total of our happiness.

"The big thing for all America to realize now and always is the dignity of productive labor. No matter how humble, the producers are the makers of the essentials of civilization and we must accept and discharge our duty of producing for the world or of ministering to the needs of comfort or progress of mankind.

Government But An Agency.

"There are certain fundamentals which are everlasting. Neither our own, nor the world's salvation is to be worked out through any patent nostrum, through any miracle of statesmanship, through any government panaceas. Government is but the agency to administer the collective, organized public service. Sanity, clear thinking, common sense, honesty, co-operation in official circles, in executive and legislative departments, will help mightily and bring us closer together and will promote our understanding, but government alone will not effect the whole solution. The greater task is that of the American people themselves. It is for them, under governmental leadership, to meet the great test.

"Ours are millions of broad acres eager to respond to man's cultivating touch. Millions more are awaiting reclamation. We have not half revealed our mines nor measured our water power. We are unmatched in genius and unexcelled in industry. We are progressive in education. We are free in religion and mean to stay free, and mean ever to be free in press especially. We have more than the beginning of an adequate transport system. We are awakened to the possibilities of inland waterways and tardily alert to the imperative need of a merchant marine to widen commerce, world influence and national safety.

Western Hemisphere Special Field.

"Here we are today at one of the great gateways of Latin-America. Somehow I feel that the Western hemisphere is our special field of influence and trade. Our trade routes by sea to the South ought to be as dependable as our railway routes at home and there ought to be sufficient and reassuring comity and concord among Americans—south, central and north. Bind our friendship with the ties of trade and we shall make it indissoluble.

"We have ships now, we have the commercial foundations, our future lies in policies and practices. We need the expanding trade policy, its efficient agents in salesmen and credits and the simple, practical understanding that commerce is the life blood of material existence. Our great assurance at home lies in a virile, intelligent, resolute people in a land unravaged by war, at enmity with no people, envying none, coveting nothing, seeking no territory, striving for no glories which do not become a righteous nation. This republic cannot, will not fail, if each of us does his part. If we but work and seek that understanding which reveals mutuality of interest no difficulties can long abide.

"It is this wonderful and incomparable United States of America which sets our hearts aglow with becoming aspirations and patriotic love—the America of the Constitution, free and confident of the morrow."

crats had placed no such limitation on themselves, and since the end of the campaign would surely find the party facing a deficit that would have to be made up by rich men. This, original Harding men insisted, would put Senator Harding in an awkward position. He would feel embarrassed if he appointed anyone who had contributed, for instance, as much as $25,000 or $50,000. Should any of the friends of such contributors approach him with a request that the aforesaid contributor be appointed, they said Warren Harding wouldn't feel comfortable in turning down the request, for he recognizes service to the party. The fact of the matter is, Senator Harding doesn't want a few rich men to make up the cabinet. He wants it made up somewhat as the campaign fund itself was collected. It is, therefore, understood to be his wish that all contributions of $500 or $1,000 should be doubled—or at least a request made for a duplicate sum from all who have already sent in checks for sums between those two amounts.

Due to Misunderstanding.

Incidentally from these same Republican sources that are not altogether frendly to Will Hays comes the report that the coolness which developed temporarily between Senator Harding and Elihu Root was due entirely to a misunderstanding on the part of Mr. Harding as to the motive of Mr. Root in sending his pro-league cablegram from Europe advising the senator that the league wasn't dead and that Republican policy should be to insist upon retaining the treaty but modifying it to square with the Republican reservations. It is insisted that Senator Harding did not know that Mr. Hays had asked Elihu Root not only to express his views by cable but to send them to a mutural friend who was stopping at Marion and who would show them to Senator Harding.

Senator Harding is credited with having remarked at the time he got the cablegram that it looked as if Mr. Root was borrowing trouble. From this incident has gone forth many an impression that Former Secretary Root would not occupy a position of importance in the Harding regime. Events of the last fortnight indicate a distinct effort on the part of mutual friends to put Mr. Root and Senator Harding in closer contact, and the meeting in Marion on Dec. 10 is expected to iron out all misunderstandings.

Trying to Keep Harmony.

Moreover, it will be noted that Senator Harding himself invited Will Hays to go to the Panama canal with him, and while the president-elect is cognizant of the factional feeling, he has shown every disposition to ignore it and keep harmony. The big test will come when the question arises of appointing Will Hays to the cabinet. The news from independents that Senator Harry New may go into the cabinet is interpreted as meaning that some friends of Will Hays are urging New for the cabinet because they believe the chances of Hays are not so good as they have been. The story comes as they have been. The story seems to be that if New resigns from the senate, the governor of Indiana would appoint Will Hays to the senate. There are always a lot of after the campaign revolts like the one going on against Will Hays. President-elect Wilson had a McCombs-McAdoo squabble to deal within 1912 as a result of campaign friction. Disinterested observers think Will Hays' services will ultimately be recognized by Mr. Harding, either in the cabinet or some other important office.

under orders. The witness described how he and his family lay huddled on a stone floor all night to escape the bullets flying through his windows and doors.

There were no religious differences between the Thurles inhabitants, Mr. Morgan said, and the town was law-abiding.

The witness testified he was arrested by constabulary when he left his home Jan. 30 to attend an organization meeting of the town council. He said he asked with what offense he was charged and the constabulary replied: "No charge, just government orders."

Remarkable Statements.

London, Nov. 18.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, stated in the house of commons today that during a recent raid in Ireland troops captured a document, sent by the commander-in-chief of the Irish Republican army to his chief of staff, containing a series of remarkable and horrifying statements regarding the spreading of typhoid among the troops and glanders among the cavalry horses.

MAJ. WARREN E. PUGH NAMED CHIEF OF POLICE department were not commented upon by the new chief, as he said these were questions that would have to be taken up later and would need consideration.

"It is the desire of Commissioner Murnian to have a clean city and an efficient police department," said Chief Pugh. "And it will be my object to carry out his desires in this respect. Further than that, at this time, I have nothing to say."

"I feel that a man with military training, and certainly one with the degree of efficiency shown by Maj. Pugh, will be a good disciplinarian," said Commissioner Murnian this morning, in announcing the appointment, "and I realize that the police department needs discipline as much as or more than anything. I regard Maj. Pugh as the best kind of an officer, and I believe that he will make an able and thorough chief of police.

Choice Is Commended.

Other city commissioners in commenting on the appointment were emphatic in commending the choice of Commissioner Murnian and many business men have declared that the city is to be congratulated on the caliber of a man that has been appointed.

The announcement of the appointment came as a complete surprise to members of the police department. According to many of the personnel of the force Maj. Pugh's name had not been considered as a possibility.

"The appointment of Mr. Pugh is a complete surprise to me," said A. G. Fiskett, who has been acting chief of the department since Former Chief John Murphy tendered his resignation in July. "Warren is a model young man and I have the highest regard for him. There is no other man in the department to whom I could give a better recommendation, because I know that he is thoroughly straight and clever."

Murphy Abandons Hope.

The full resignation of Former Chief of Police Murphy was filed with Commissioner Murnian yesterday and was brought about by knowledge that his reappointment would not be satisfactory to the citizens of Duluth in general. The resignation was as follows:

"Having learned of certain unfounded rumors which have gained circulation in this city, and the sentiment expressed both pro and con by various people as to the advisability of my being returned to office, I feel that by reason of the pleasant and congenial relations heretofore existing between us, that in justice to yourself, and to relieve you of any embarrassment or criticism, I do hereby tender to you my full resignation as chief of police of Duluth.

"Thanking you for the many courtesies heretofore extended and wishing you and your appointee success, I remain very truly yours,

"JOHN MURPHY."

TWO NEAR INJURIES FROM TRUCKS RECKLESSLY DRIVEN; GENERAL HABIT

A woman narrowly escaped injury, a mail box was damaged, the safety zone smashed and a truck owned by the Crescent Bakery company nearly wrecked as the result of a collision between the truck and another car which occurred just east of Fourth avenue west on Superior street. No one was injured.

Just after this accident another truck, tearing along the street at a high rate of speed, narrowly missed a man crossing Superior street at this intersection. A large number of complaints have been made because of what is termed reckless driving, particularly on the part of truck drivers. Some of these complaints have been called to the attention of the police and it is probable that an active campaign will be waged by members of the department to round up a few of the offenders.

People who have had narrow escapes call attention to the ordinance which is supposed to prohibit travel faster than ten miles an hour through the business district and not faster than six miles per hour across intersections. They claim that no driver lives up to this ordinance but that it is common to see trucks and autos going anywhere from fifteen to twenty-five miles per hour along the main street.

MOTHERSHIP OF "BABY IRENE" IS SETTLED

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18.—The last resource on which Mrs. Frederick Matters of Chicago pinned her hope of regaining possession of "Baby Irene," claimed by two mothers, was exhausted here yesterday when the appellate division of the supreme court upheld a decision of the lower court awarding the child to Margaret Ryan of Ottawa.

By the same process of law the child was excluded from falling heir to nearly a third of a million dollars which would have been hers as daughter of the rich American.

Ever since Mrs. Matters and Margaret Ryan were inmates of Misericordia hospital, the fight over "Baby Irene" has raged in the courts. Both had become mothers, but only one child had lived. Months of litigation, with both women claiming the living child, resulted in the decision of Justice Lenox last December that a substitution had taken place, and that Margaret Ryan was really the mother of the infant.

ARNOLD MINE SEALED AFTER REMOVAL OF MEN

Earlington, Ky., Nov. 18.—With the sealing yesterday afternoon of that part of the Arnold mine which has been burning since Tuesday afternoon, when seventeen men were trapped, the death toll of the disaster has been established at six.

Rescuers yesterday found the entombed group of miners, with the exception of a negro youth. A thorough search was made in all parts of the mine and when he was not found, the conclusion was reached that he had been buried under fallen slate in the fire-affected area or that he had burned to death. When all hope of finding him alive had been abandoned, the fire was sealed, to remain so for a period of from thirty to sixty days.

Navy to Sell Cloth.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The navy department announced yesterday that it would sell 500,000 yards of cloth now held as surplus war stock. Included are 210,000 yards of eighteen-ounce weight and 360,000 of thirty-ounce weight in melton and kersey finishes. Bids will be opened at the department Nov. 19.

Not Hanged As Reported.

New York, Nov. 18.—John Shishmanian of Fresno, Cal., former member of the Kentucky National Guard, who was reported to have been hanged by the French at Adana, has been released and is now in Damascus, it was announced yesterday by the Near East relief.

W. D. Washburn's Sister Buried.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—Funeral services were held here yesterday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Caroline A. NEWLYWEDS HAVE SETBACK

Girl on Parole Weds to Escape Police; Taken Back to Cities.

A wedding ceremony during the afternoon in the St. Louis county courthouse, the arrest of the bride and separation of husband and wife in the evening at a hotel at 724 Tower avenue, Superior, was the experience of Esther Francis, aged 16, the bride, and Orrin McWhortan, the groom, yesterday. The bride was arrested on a warrant from Minneapolis where she was wanted for breaking a parole.

Esther left Minneapolis recently, and two days ago the Minneapolis authorities located her in Superior. Yesterday morning the Superior police found her at the hotel under the name of Billea Murdauth. She came in shortly after the police left the hotel and was informed of the fact that they were looking for her.

She then communicated her trouble to McWhorton, between whom a love affair had sprung up and he suggested immediate marriage as a possibility of getting out of the trouble. The pair procured their license at the Duluth courthouse and a few moments later were united in marriage by Clarence E. Webster, probate judge of Itasca county, acting for Judge Gilpin.

They then returned to Superior. At 7:15 o'clock last evening the police arrived at the hotel. They were informed of the marriage but love and sentiment had no effect on the "cops," who carried off the bride. The Minneapolis authorities were informed and this morning the bride left for the Twin Cities where she will face her trial for violation of a parole. Esther gave her age as 19 years when she applied for the license.

Irvine Funeral Held.

The funeral of Charles Gore Irvine, who died Monday at his home, 429 Fourth avenue east, was held yesterday and interment was in Forest Hill cemetery. Private services were held at the residence at 11 o'clock in the morning, after which the body was taken to the Masonic temple, where Masonic services were held in the afternoon. Rev. W. F. Scoular of Glen Avon Presbyterian church officiated in place of Rev. C. N. Pace of the First Methodist church, who is ill. Pallbearers were Allen Trux, Phil Holgate, P. M. Cowen, Fred Levins, William Bergin and George T. Kermott. An uncle of Mr. Irvine, James Depew of Minneapolis, attended.

Rev. W. A. Weiss Buried.

Funeral services for Rev. W. A. Weiss, formerly of Minneapolis, who died Monday at Duluth, were conducted yesterday in the North Minneapolis German Methodist church of Minneapolis, of which he formerly was pastor. Interment was in Lakewood cemetery. Mr. Weiss was pastor of the First German Methodist church of Duluth for the past twelve years, and previously served ten years as pastor of the North Minneapolis church.

Loyal to Religion and Nation.

That Jews may best serve America by remaining loyal to the Jewish customs, religion and traditions, was the statement yesterday of Rabbi Israel Lebendiger, newly elected superintendent of Moses Montefiore school. He decried a tendency toward assimilation. Establishment of a Jewish homeland would be effective in arousing a more active Jewish spirit, Rabbi Lebendiger said. He speaks tonight at a meeting of the Young Folks' league at the Duluth Hebrew institute.

Suicide Is Identified.

The body of the man that was found in Lake Shore park yesterday forenoon where he had committed suicide by hanging, was identified as that of Jalmer Kiskinen, aged 38, son of Mrs. H. Kiskinen, 401 East Eighth street. The mother identified the body last evening at Crawford's undertaking rooms. Despondency due to ill health for a long period is thought to have been the cause of committing the deed, according to the mother. He leaves one brother, Apreil, residing at the same address. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon.

Is Still Unconscious.

Mrs. J. J. Cable, who was struck by an automobile Tuesday afternoon at Fifteenth avenue east and London road and who suffered a fracture of the skull, is still unconscious at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Cable was struck by a car driven by Edward Johnson, 4707 Jay street, while crossing the street. The car skidded when the driver attempted to avoid hitting the woman.

Theft at Y. W. C. A.

A sealskin coat and wrist watch valued at $50 was stolen from Miss Evereld Pyett, 301 East Third street, Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A., according to a report made yesterday to the police department. The coat and watch was stolen while the young woman was swimming in the pool.

No Clews to Bandits.

The two bandits who held up the Superior State bank Tuesday afternoon are still at large and police officials have no clews as to where they could be located, according to information given out today. Two men, strangers in Duluth, were arrested last evening at a local hotel, and were detained at police headquarters until bank officials from Superior arrived who positively stated they were not the men wanted. The description of the men tallied with that given by the bank officials.

Rotary Against Plumbing Ordinance.

Members of the Rotary club, on recommendation of the civic council, voted unanimously against the proposed ordinance requiring the licensing of plumbers, at their weekly meeting today at the Spalding. In observance of ladies' day, the wives of the members attended the regular business session. W. A. McGonagle spoke on the needs of the Red Cross. Dr. E. E. Braithwaite gave an address on "Higher Education, With Special Reference to the Needs of the Colleges."

Council Passes Payroll.

The city council met this morning to pass the payroll for the first half of November. The only other business was a discussion of the improvement of Central avenue between Roosevelt and Raleigh streets. Commissioner J. A. Farrell announced that this work would be brought before the council at its next meeting for authorization and that the work would be done next spring.

Sue for False Arrest.

Gust Fredriksen and Hjalmer Wilner, who were arrested a week ago today, charged by Elias Swenson of Hermantown with stealing chickens, and who were subsequently discharged in municipal court, announced today that they have begun suit against Mr. Swenson for $2,000 damages for false arrest. The summons and complaint have been served but the papers have not yet been filed in district court. Mr. Swenson did not appear at the hearing of their case in municipal court, and both men, residents of Duluth for more than twelve years, resent the reflection on their reputations and wish to have the facts brought out in court.

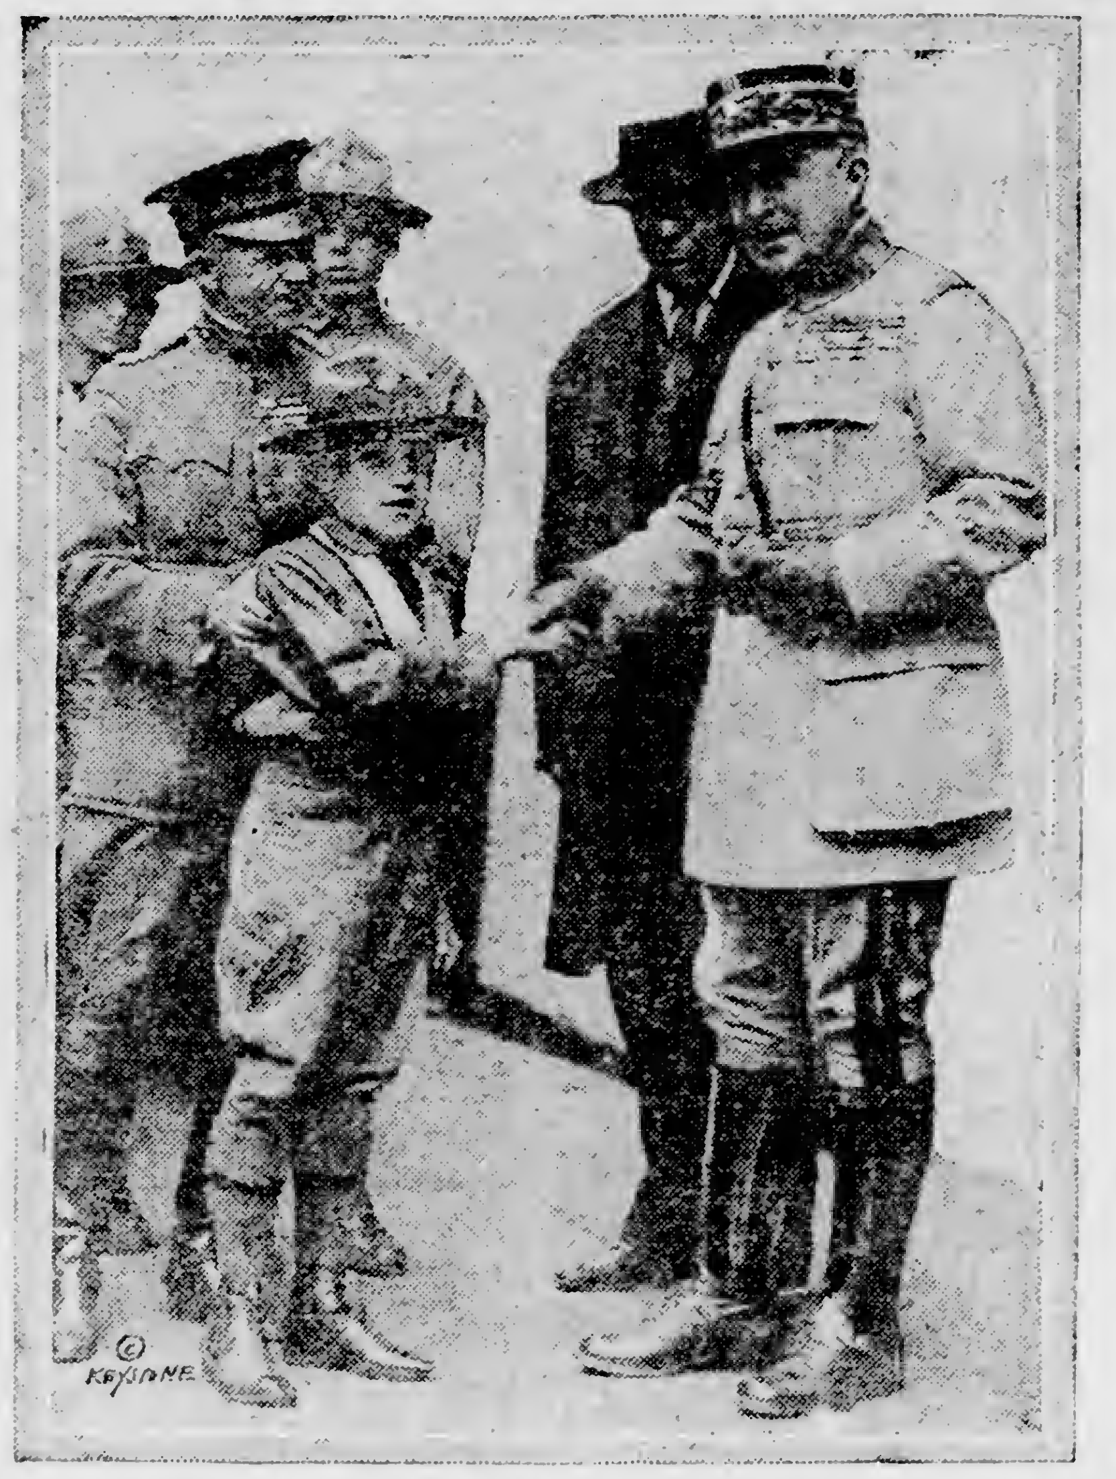
N. P. Peterson Will Filed.

An estate valued at $10,200 was left by the late Nils P. Peterson, 326 North Twelfth avenue east, who died Nov. 7 last, aged 70, according to papers filed with his will today in probate court. The will names Edward N. Nelson, 2001 Lakeview Drive, as executor, and provides that he shall convert the estate into income bearing property which will pay his widow, Christine Peterson, a quarterly income, and that after her death it shall pass on to his two children, Frank H. Peterson of Seattle and Hattie P. Ward of Phoenix, Ariz.

Auto Company Bankrupt.

The Virginia Auto company filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in United States court today. They list their assets at $53,917.12 and their liabilities at $28,312.58. Inability to convert the assets into liquid form is the cause of the bankruptcy. A petition asking that the company be adjudged bankrupt was filed by creditors several weeks ago.

GENERAL NIVELLE, HERO OF VERDUN, BEING WELCOMED TO NEW YORK BY BOY SCOUTS



Gen. Robert Georges Nivelle, hero of Verdun and for a time commander-in-chief of the French armies in the World war, has arrived in this country as a representative of the French government at the tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. Boy Scouts are seen here welcoming him when he arrived from the liner La Lorraine at his New York hotel. The proud little scout with whom the general is shaking hands is Frank Tobin, 13 years old.

PROCTOR RESIDENT IS FOUND DEAD

Mrs. A. A. Buckberry, aged 50, a resident of Proctor for a number of years, was found dead in her home this morning by friends of the family. Death is believed to have resulted last night from a hemorrhage. Her husband left three days ago to visit relatives in the East and telegrams to locate him have been sent by officials of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. Mr. Buckberry was employed by the company in the local yards. Deputy Coroner James McAuliffe was notified and is investigating the death this afternoon.

Friends of the family noticed that Mrs. Buckberry was not around as usual this morning and started an investigation. One peeped through the window and thought he noticed blood on the floor. The door was then broken open and the body found lying nearby.

Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. George Peterson, residing at Billings park, Superior.

LEAVENWORTH ONCE GATEWAY TO WEST

Frank S. Hastings in the Breeder's Gazette: Born in the historic old town of Leavenworth, Kan., in 1860, I have vague memories of what I now know as the Civil war, which, to a child's mind, meant only hanging over the gate to watch soldiers march by or fill canteens at our well, to hear the bugle call, or the hushed voice of my mother and her friends as they speculated on the fortunes of war and the threatened "Price's raid," or, as Bret Harte puts it in "Miss Blanche Says"—

"Still it was a stupid: Rat-a-tattat!
Those were the sounds of a battle summer,
Till the earth seemed a parchment round and flat,
And every footfall the tap of a drummer."

Kansas was abolition; Missouri, just across the Missouri river, was Confederate and largely guerrilla. Col. Jennison's celebrated abolition cavalry regiment was stationed at Fort Leavenworth. His men were "wildcats," every one a picked horseman, and consummate daredevil. It was said of that regiment that its men were on the guerrilla order and especially careless about the title to a horse; in fact, the usual pedigree of a horse was "by Jennison out of Missouri." Years afterward, as "Dan Quinn's old cattlemen" put it, the colonel reformed and started a saloon, with a faro bank attachment. His place became a famous resort for old-timers, and as it was more respectable in those days than now to drop into such places I often listened with mouth agape to stories and reminiscences which would make a wonderful history of the part "bleeding Kansas" played in the Civil war, and the gateway to the West, which Leavenworth formed for the years following.

Ox Team Transports.

Maj. Russell and Maj. Waddell, with their hundreds of ox teams and wagon trains, transported overland freight to all parts of the West. Scouts, guides, hunters, trappers, desperadoes and a great stream of fortune seekers to the great unknown poured through the gateway. Buffalo hunters marketed their hides, which filled great warehouses. My grandfather shot a wild turkey on our back fence. "Kit" Carson, "Wild Bill," Buffalo Bill (Col. W. F. Cody) were familiar figures on the streets as ordinary citizens. The Missouri river was another trail to the great West, and was alive with fine boats carrying their burdens of human and commercial freight to Fort Benton, Mont., the head of navigation, and from that point freight was scattered by bull teams over Montana and Utah.

When Fur Was Cheap.

Durfee and Peck Indian traders with frontier posts had their headquarters at Leavenworth. I still have some of the trade brass money which they issued for furs and only the other day in Chicago as I looked into a Michigan avenue shop window I ventured to ask the price of a wonderful mink garment. My mind harkened back to the absurd price at which the skins could be bought in the early days. John Bowles at the Chicago stockyards wore a beaver coat for which some friend paid $1500 and loaned him to wear while he auctioned off John Hubly's grand champion load of Aberdeen-Angus steers at the 1919 international show. "Tom" Todd Fort Benton, Mont., showed me a coat forty years ago made from selected Saskatchewan beaver skins which cost him including the making $58.

I slept out in the snow between Great Falls and Belt, Mont., in a bewildering storm thirty years ago wrapped up in a beaver coat which the driver offered to sell me the next day for $90. Still, look where sugar has gone in two years! Perhaps furs are still cheap!

ST. LOUIS COUNTY SPUDS WIN PRIZE LANDSLIDE AT DES MOINES EXHIBITION

St. Louis county potatoes have won another landslide of prizes. E. P. Gibson, county agricultural agent, in a telegram to A. P. Silliman, president of the St. Louis County club, yesterday, stated that potatoes shown at the recent show here won practically all the prizes offered at the Midwest Horticultural exhibit at Council Bluffs, Iowa. States throughout the Middle West competed.

Potatoes from St. Louis county won first, third and fourth prizes among Cobblers; first, second and fourth among Early Ohios; first and second among Rurals; second and third among Triumphs; first, second and third among Green Mountains, and first among the Burbanks.

SCHELDRUP SUCCEEDS BRADLEY AS DEPUTY UNITED STATES MARSHAL

Walter R. Scheldrup, 6307 Redruth street, was appointed deputy United States marshal today to succeed Frank L. Bradley who resigned following his trial and acquittal on the indictments charging conspiracy to transport smuggled liquor.

Mr. Scheldrup has been bailiff of the United States court for the last year. He has lived in Duluth for seven years. The appointment was made by Joseph A. Wessel of St. Paul, United States marshal for Minnesota.

THE MIRAGE.

Kansas City Star: One of the most celebrated mirages is that which is observed now and then from the neighborhood of Glacier bay, in Alaska, where, in the distance, above a vast sheet of glacial ice, a city is seen as if suspended in the air. It has buildings of beautiful and imposing architecture, tall churches with spires and buttresses and many streets of houses, plain to the view.

This is the so-called Silent City of Alaska. The duke of the Abruzzi saw it a few years ago, when he visited Alaska. Many attempts have been made to photograph it, but for some reason unexplained without success. Some persons have gone so far as to declare that it is a view of the city of Bristol, in England.

Irregularities of ice formation, plus imagination, doubtless account for the strange vision—an uplifting of the supposed scene being attributable to mirage. Optical illusions of this kind are not uncommon in Arctic and Antarctic regions.

There is a famous mirage called "Fata Morgana," which on occasions is seen from the neighborhood of Reggio, in Italy. Here the effect produced is due to a layer of heated air, which, by refraction of light, brings into view a distorted picture of the far-away Sicilian shores. To the Italian peasant it appears as a city, with palaces, towers and minrets—the mysterious home of the fairy Morgana.

William Scoresby, the Arctic explorer, describes a similar mirage which he beheld from off the coast of Greenland. He writes: "The general appearance of the coast, as viewed through a telescope, was that of an extensive ancient city, abounding in ruins of castles, obelisks, churches and monuments—a grand and interesting phantasmagoria."

A feature of Arctic geography which appears on all the maps is Crocker Land, which Peary thought he saw from a mountain peak in Grant Land.

As everybody knows, mirages are very common in hot desert regions. A layer of warmed and rarefied air serves as a mirror, reflecting objects above it. Thus, reflecting the sky, it may produce the effect of a sheet of water, the unsteadiness of the heated air lending ripples to help out the picture and render it more deceptive.

In some Portuguese towns the street numbering of houses often includes the groundfloor windows as well as the door. Thus a small house may occupy three numbers.

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream.—Advertisement.

RHEUMATIC PAIN
Rub It Right Out—Try This!

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly into your sore, stiff joints and muscles and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and cannot burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old-time "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.—Advertisement.

All Tubs Look Alike to This Winter Underwear

—You want that kind

If the average family man took over the job of doing the family wash for just one week he'd quickly find out that the real value in a piece of underwear does not come out in the wash—IT STAYS IN.

And incidentally he would also learn that the difference in men's underwear is more than skin deep.

What we set out to say was this: The underwear in this stock is as near waterproof—wearproof—and foolproof as it is possible to buy and to our knowledge there isn't a suit here that couldn't be safely thrown into any tub with a bottom and brought out as sound as it went in.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WANT LARGE SUM FOR GOPHER DISEASE WAR

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—Appropriations totaling approximately $1,000,000 will be asked of the next legislature to finance the fight against disease in Minnesota during the next two years, it was announced yesterday at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Public Health association.

The entire citizenship of the state will be mobilized through the state association and affiliated county public health associations to make such an emphatic state-wide demand for this aid that the legislators will realize the vital necessity of providing this aid and will enact the necessary laws early in the session, officers stated.

Members of the board of directors of the association late yesterday were elected officers as follows:

Officers Are Elected.

President, Dr. C. L. Scofield of Benson, re-elected; honorary vice presidents, Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, and Governor-elect J. A. O. Preus; first vice president, Mrs. H. A. Patterson, Mankato; second vice president, Dr. A. J. Chesley, Minneapolis; secretary, Mrs. A. H. Vernon, Little Falls; treasurer, W. A. Laidlaw, St. Paul, re-elected.

President Coffman in the position of honorary vice president, succeeds Marion L. Burton, president of the University of Michigan and former head of the Minnesota institution, and Governor-elect Preus will succeed Governor Burnquist as honorary vice president.

It was suggested that instead of holding the quarterly meetings in the Twin Cities, to hold them at other points throughout the state.

N. D. MINIMUM WAGE RULES NOW ENJOINED

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 18.—A temporary injunction against enforcement of the minimum wage rules of North Dakota's workmen's compensation bureau was granted by Judge Nuessle in district court here late Wednesday.

The injunction was granted on the ground that the board was not properly constituted because of the absence of L. J. Wehe, a member of the board who had been removed by the governor and who had contested the removal in court.

MANY HAIL LOSSES.

N. D. Auditor Says Counties Are Slow in Certifying Amounts.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 18.—A small portion of the hail losses of 1920 will be paid before Jan. 1, according to Auditor Carl Kositzky.

"The names of all who suffer hail losses and the amounts they are to be paid should have been certified to this office on Oct. 10," he said. "To date but three counties have been certified, Ward, Williams and Wells. These were in the last few days. We have already written warrants for Ward and Wells counties.

"There are about 22,000 warrants to be written this year, as compared to 14,000 last year. We will get the work out as quickly as possible after we get the warrants, but because the legislature reduced the appropriation for my office to a low figure and the emergency commission has allowed me only a part of the money necessary to obtain adequate help, the work of writing the hail warrants will be slow."

DROPS DEAD WHILE BUTCHERING CALF

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 18.—Funeral services have been held for Jeremiah Peterson, a farmer residing east of Tapiola, who fell dead Saturday while butchering a calf. He had just killed a calf and was leaning over to untie the rope from the animal's neck when he dropped dead.

Mr. Peterson, who was 57, is survived by a wife and several children, most of whom live in Minnesota.

GOVERNOR-ELECT BLAINE SAYS HE IS UNPLEDGED

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—Although he has more than two score offices to fill within the next year, John J. Blaine, governor-elect of Wisconsin, says that he has yet to receive the first request by an office seeker for any state position.

"One man has written in recommending a friend as eligible to appointment, but outside of that I have had no calls from citizens asking for positions," Mr. Blaine said.

"During the campaign I made no promises, and I am absolutely free to name who I will for any vacancy," he added.

Woods Labor Plentiful.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—The labor situation in the lumber camps of the Minnesota woods is much easier than it has been for several years, according to reports received by W. T. Cox, state forester. Wages have been reduced from the $75 a month scale in effect generally a year ago, to $60, and in some districts to $50, with large numbers of men available at even the lower figure.

New Gopher Tractor Concern.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—The Tedapul Tractor Manufacturing company of Breckenridge was incorporated here yesterday with a capital stock of $350,000 to engage in the manufacture of tractors and farm implements. C. B. Lillibridge and M. E. Wheeler of Breckenridge, James S. Jensen of Fergus Falls, J. W. Lillibridge of Oakes, N. D., and George D. Smith of Grand Forks, N. D., are the incorporators.

Badger Counties to Organize.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—Business and agricultural interests of seven Wisconsin counties are to participate in the organizing of this territory to form a subzone of the Mississippi Valley association at a meeting to be held in Madison on Nov. 30, according to Don E. Mowry, secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce, who is arranging preliminary plans for the meeting.

BONUS BOND SALES WILL STOP NOV. 25

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—"Banks of Minnesota have purchased sufficient bonds to keep the bonus board staff busy sending out checks from now until the first of the year. It would have been doing the former soldiers an injustice to allow them to have the banks discount their claims 3¾ per cent—an average of more than $10 a soldier—after that time as it would have been impossible to give them their money under the present discount plan before Jan. 1," Adjt.-Gen. W. F. Rhinow, chairman of the state bonus board, stated, when he announced that no more applications for purchases of bonds would be accepted from banks after Nov. 25.

"Checks will be sent to the veterans who have them due right up until Jan. 1. The legislature then will meet and I expect it to provide for the issuance of bonds at an interest rate that will attract investors so that the soldiers will be able to obtain their money in full and not have to accept less than is due them in paying a discount rate to a bank."

W. E. LEE'S FUNERAL WILL BE ON FRIDAY

Long Prairie, Minn., Nov. 18.—Funeral services for the late William E. Lee, a resident of Minnesota since 1859 and for many years prominent in Minnesota political and banking affairs, who died Tuesday night, will be held here Friday at 2:30 p. m.

The body will be taken from the home to the M. E. church and the services conducted by Rev. E. H. Blake, pastor of the church, which Mr. Lee had attended. Pallbearers will be chosen from the members of the Masonic fraternity.

Northwestern Boy Scout Program.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—Sixty Boy Scouts' councils in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, with a total enrollment of more than 30,000 scouts, is the five-year program outlined at the organization conference of the district committee and national Boy Scouts executives here yesterday.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd—E. F. Meyer and Oscar Meyer, owners of the St. Cloud laundry, have taken over the management of the Model laundry at Brainerd.

Minneapolis—An increase of 10 per cent in the real estate assessment of Hennepin county, exclusive of Minneapolis and the town of Orono, has been ordered by the Minnesota tax commission, County Auditor Al P. Erickson said. That was practically the only change of importance in the Hennepin county assessment.

Rochester—Leaving notes asking forgiveness of his mother, wife and four children, Louis Stanley, a well-known Olmsted county farmer, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

St. Cloud—Secretary H. A. Baxter of the Commercial club tendered his resignation to the directors Tuesday, to become effective on Dec. 1. The resignation was accepted. Frank E. Lee was named to succeed Mr. Baxter and has accepted temporarily.

Stillwater—At a meeting of the directors of the Minnesota Mercantile company L. E. Torinus was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Phillip McDermott. Mr. Torinus has spent his life in this city.

East Grand Forks—Edith Parent and Gordon Moore were united in marriage Monday at the Sacred Heart church. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left shortly after for an extended honeymoon trip.

International Falls—O. M. Pearson is the first local citizen to bring in a deer.

Brainerd—The school board accepted the recommendation made by the finance committee that $5,000 bonds due July 1, 1921, held by the state of Minnesota, be retired from the balance on hand in the sinking fund.

East Grand Forks—An auto truck belonging to M. Norman of Grand Forks Monday ran into a truck belonging to Westlund & Ryan, also of Grand Forks, on De Mers avenue in this city. The Westlund truck was dragged for some distance and when the two cars were finally disentangled it was found that the front part of the Westlund car was quite badly damaged.

Brainerd—Martin Halverson, well-known farmer of the Pelican lake country, died of pneumonia at his home. He was 48 years of age and a man of great size, standing 6 feet 5 inches in his stocking feet. He leaves a wife and two children. The remains were shipped to Iowa for burial.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—With the exception of deer, there is more game in Northern Wisconsin this year than ever before, according to Bill Gray, state conservation warden.

Marinette—George Ferris suffered serious injury to his spine, a fractured right hip and narrow escaped instant death on Tuesday when a car which he was driving turned over.

Beloit—Mayor J. A. Janvrin has been directed by the common council to appoint a waterworks commission. The duties of the commission will be to investigate into the feasibility of the city taking over the waterworks system which is now serving.

Madison—The Wisconsin supreme court has appointed Charles E. Buell, Madison, to take testimony in the case of Julius H. Geweke, a Watertown lawyer, against whom the Wisconsin Bar association has brought proceedings to revoke his license.

Green Bay—The Brown county insane hospital is no burden on the county. It more than paid for itself the last year, according to reports submitted to the county supervisors.

Marinette—The county board made the largest apportionment for good roads ever made by Marinette county, when $111,000 was set aside. The increase was made necessary to meet the Federal apportionment, the combined amount being $225,000. The greater part of the money will be expended on Trunkline 18, near Crivitz and Wausaukee.

La Crosse—Fire which started in the basement, supposedly from spontaneous combustion, caused a loss of $20,000 in the stockroom of the Disk Rubber company's district plant here. Fireproof walls saved adjoining structures.

Manitowoc—The body of Lieut. Vincent Dushek, aviator, who was killed a few days before the close of the war in 1918, arrived in this city and was taken to the home of his mother, Mrs. Barbara Dushek, then to Melnick for burial at the old home. While on scout duty over the enemy's lines his plane was shot down.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Active management of the Clifton hotel has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sams, formerly of the Beach inn at Munising, who purchased the hotel last week.

Ishpeming—The athletic committee of the Community council contemplates organizing a hockey league for boys from 12 to 16 or 17 years.

Iron River—H. O. Peterson, an Ishpeming young man, who recently was badly scalded when the boiler of the Northwestern locomotive on which he was a fireman blew up, is improving in an Iron River hospital.

Ishpeming—There is considerable agitation here for a municipal bob slide to be maintained during the winter on one of the hills within the city limits.

Calumet—Funeral services have been held for Simon Usitalo, 69 years of age, who died Monday at his home in Florida location, of pneumonia. He had been a resident of the Copper country for sixty-four years. Surviving are the widow and the following daughters: Mrs. Kate Amala of Florida, Mrs. A. Raatuna and the Misses Alina and Lempi at home.

L'Anse—Joseph Boyer, local blacksmith, has been awarded a contract by the Stearns-Culver Lumber company to build a dozen sets of new logging sleighs.

Calumet—Keweenaw county roads are now open and auto travel is possible as far as Mandan. The condition of the roads is good in spite of the storm of the last few days but in several places the banks are exceptionally high and these kept many hunters from going into the woods.

Hancock—Arrangements are being completed for the Thanksgiving ball to be given at the Lincoln hall under the auspices of the Ripley fire department on the evening of Nov. 24.

Bessemer—Favorable progress in the re-enrollment of memberships in the Red Cross chapter of Gogebic county is reported.

Escanaba—As Mrs. Alfred Williams was in a local hospital as the result of a fractured hip, her husband died in another hospital where he had been a patient.

Ironwood—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will give a dancing party Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 24, at the Scandinavian hall.

Hancock—Marvin L. Coon, who advanced to the rank of lieutenant, U. S. N., in the World war, is in receipt of a navy cross for exceptional service while in command of a mine sweeper in European waters.

Ironwood—The first debate in which the Luther L. Wright school will participate will be held in Stambaugh, Dec. 3. The debate will be held under the auspices of the Michigan High School Debating league of which Ironwood is a member.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Dell Rapids, S. D.—While suffering from a nervous breakdown, Tom Naughton, a farmer, leaped from a window of a hospital and, pursued by a nurse, fled through the streets and jumped into the Sioux river. He was rescued.

Fargo, N. D.—Funeral services for Miss Adelaide M. Kinnear, Fargo Christian Science practitioner and a resident of this city for thirty-six years, who passed away at Minneapolis Saturday night, were held here Tuesday.

Bismarck, N. D.—The legislature is asked by the railroad commission, in its report to the governor, to take cognizance of the phenomenal growth of the automobile industry. The expenditures of the commission for the biennial period are shown to be $19,850.29 for the railroad department and $21,391.11 for the division of utilities.

Bismarck, N. D.—This city is being visited by hundreds of men from both Eastern and Western centers now, in search for work. There has been more applications for employment, it is said, in the last two weeks than in many months.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Mrs. M. E. Day died here Tuesday. Mrs. Day who was 47 years of age, was a pioneer resident of Grand Forks, having made her home here for more than twenty-five years. She is survived by one son, Rolla Irwin of this city, and a niece, Mrs. John H. Nelson (Eva Elliott) of Minot.

Bathgate, N. D.—The body of a man named Herzog was found near his home at Neche. He apparently had been frozen to death, wandering into the Pembina river in the dark. Herzog and a companion made a trip from Bathgate to Neche in an automobile during a storm and Herzog became lost.

Grand Forks, N. D.—According to School Supt. Stebbins, the buildings and grounds of the Grand Forks school system represent $835,000, the buildings are valued at $695,000 and the grounds at $140,000. On the grounds and buildings there is a bonded indebtedness of only $186,000. Schools employ 115 persons, and there are 2,044 pupils in the grades and 612 enrolled in the high school. The annual payroll, covering the salaries of teachers, is $165,000.

Bismarck, N. D.—The discharge of Laureas J. Wehe from the workmen's compensation commission was upheld by the supreme court.

Hot Springs, S. D.—A consolidation of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches of Hot Springs has been effected and will remain in force during the coming year, at least. Rev. R. E. Tarleton, a Methodist minister will have charge of the united churches. The consolidation was effected with a view to saving in operating expenses.

Why a butter maker was needed to perfect Troco

Because the process of making is essentially the same. Dainty white coconut fat, appetizing and nutritious, replaces butter fat. What makes good butter flavor makes good Troco flavor.

Thus we employ A. E. Hoffman, a famous butter and milk expert, to supervise the making of Troco. He has spent 30 years making and judging butter and teaching butter making.

Scrupulous care and human skill

Mr. Hoffman has no secret process. Scrupulous care, beginning with the selection of materials and extending through every process, is the foundation of his great success.

No mechanical process can produce sweetness and delicate flavor. This depends on human skill. Mr. Hoffman's butter was famous for the wonderful flavor which he now puts into Troco.

We built a new plant

To give Mr. Hoffman proper facilities for his exacting work we built a new plant, up-to-the-minute in equipment and sanitation.

Here he can standardize production and insure the perfection of every pound.

Abundant Fruit
In bottles in each Jiffy-Jell Dessert

Let us help you serve Jiffy-Jell in a dainty way Thanksgiving. Get these free molds now.

Jiffy-Jell is a quick real-fruit dessert. The flavors are condensed fruit juice in liquid form in glass.

There's a wealth of fruit. We use, for instance, half a pineapple to flavor one dessert. The fruit is crushed in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship.

So with all fruit flavors. Each is the essence of much ripe fruit.

At little cost

Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. It comes acidulated with lemon or grape acid. Simply add boiling water, as directed on package, then the fruit essence from the vial, and let cool.

A package serves six in mold form, or 12 if you whip the jell. All for 15 cents—less than the fruit alone might cost.

This is the new-type quick gelatin dessert. It has brought to millions a multiplied delight.

Get an assortment—have these fruity dainties on call. Then send us the trade-marks for attractive ways of serving.

Do this now. Get the molds in time for your Thanksgiving dinner.

Lime-fruit flavor makes a tart green salad jell. Serve with the salad or make a salad loaf. Or mix in meat left-overs for a meat loaf. Mint flavor makes a mint jell to serve with roast meats, hot or cold.

Dessert Molds

All in pure aluminum. These Individual Molds come in sets of six, assorted styles as above, or all one style. They will serve a full package of Jiffy-Jell. Send 6 (JJ) trade-marks for the set of six.

U. S. TEAM WILL WIN DAVIS CUP

Tilden and Johnson, American Stars, Best in the World.

New York, Nov. 18.—The United States Davis cup team is now nearing Auckland, New Zealand, where the challenge round for the Davis cup will be played next month.

Davis Cup Team Sails.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 18.—Members of the American Davis cup team sailed from here yesterday aboard the steamer Niagara for New Zealand, where they will attempt to win the trophy. Tennis games will be played on the boat and strict training rules will be kept en route.

Will the American players succeed in wrestling the coveted trophy from its present holders? If they are in their top form on the world's championship tourney they will be the victors.

The results of the Wimbledon and Davis cup matches in England last summer led every tennis expert to believe that William M. Johnston and William T. Tilden, Jr., are capable of defeating any other players in the world in singles. O'Hara Wood, Patterson nor Norman Brookes at his best is capable of defeating either of these Americans.

Doubles Are Important.

If the unexpected should occur in the singles, however, the final test may come in the doubles. In selecting Samuel Hardy as captain of the team the American Davis cup committee made an excellent choice. Hardy is a veteran tennis strategist of the highest class. He can be relied upon to get absolutely the best out of the team. This is going to be an important consideration if the contest narrows down to the matches in doubles. Watson M. Washburn, the fourth member, is a dependable player.

When Tilden had to withdraw from his October matches in this country the leaders of tennisdom felt some anxiety, but he has received great benefit from his rest and has rounded into good condition again.

"Tilden is in excellent shape," one of his friends said a few days ago. "He is now ready for the game of his life."

Three Weeks' Practice.

After the arrival of the Americans at Auckland they will have about three weeks for practicing. During that time they ought to be able to overcome any climatic handicaps. Capt. Hardy will see to it that they keep fit and do not get overtrained.

The Americans are going to play a series of exhibition matches against Australian teams after the Davis cup match, and are unlikely to return to this country before March.

The Americans' triumph in England last summer greatly increased the general public's interest in tennis. Thousands of tennis clubs that were threatened with death because of lack of interest immediately took on new life. If the United States captures the Davis cup 1921 will be the greatest tennis year this country has ever seen.
